TAKE TWO CLOSE GAMES

In the game with Hillsdale last Wednesday Alma took her usual slugging lead. Bach for the opponents pitched a good game, but was found for nine hits. Johnston pitched his usual game, but both pitchers should have had better support from their teams. Hillsdale made eight errors, while Alma made seven.

At the end of the ninth the game stood three to three. In the first of the tenth Hillsdale took one run before the side was retired and in the last half after Alma had filled the bases Worden and Williams made errors, letting in three runs, leaving the score 4 to 6 for Alma.

In one of the hardest fought games that has been fought on Winter Lau field for several years, Albion lost to Alma last Friday, 5 to 4. Blanchard made his first appearance for several weeks, and it was partly due to his wildness that Alma was given the decision.

Alma grabbed her first run in the opener when, with two men down, Wood knocked a two-bagger to deep center and McCloy followed with a three-bagger, which scored Schultz. The visitors' second run came unearned. Blanchard walked two men, Fox made a costly error which filled the bases. Blanchard then was wild and walked Wood, pushing in the run. This came in the fifth. In the sixth, Blanchard walked one and hit two, which coupled with a single by Vogt and a double by Johnston, scored two runs. Their last tally came in the last week.

MAY FESTIVAL

The Annual May Festival which began Tuesday evening with the production of "Hiawatha's Wedding Feast," and the concert given by the Alma College Orchestra, marked the launching of a movement in keeping with the ability and reputation of Alma musical talent.

The Alma College Orchestra gave the first part of the program consisting of four movements of the Luigini Egyptian dances, the Setette from Lucia, the Prize Song from Maester-singers, Brahms' Fifth Hungarian Dance and the Poet and Peasant by Suppe. The organization boasts some real musicians among the individual members and was augmented by several players from neighboring cities, making a very credible showing for even a larger school.

Part two, "Hiawatha's Wedding Feast," by Coleridge Taylor, was given by the Alma Choral Club and was also conducted by Mr. Veatch. In this cantata the principal characters of the well known poem are introduced in song and the dances of Pau-Puk-Keewis, the stories of Iagoo, and the songs of Chiobiabos are all told in distinctive rhythm. "Onaway! Awake," the beautiful tenor solo, was sung by Mr. T. A. Fannell with his usual characteristic ease and finish.

Wednesday afternoon the Artists' Concert was well attended and the following program was given:

- (a) Union (No. 2).....Guilmant
- (b) Prayer and Cradle Song.....Guilmant
- Miss Roberts
- Polonaise—Je suis Titani (Mignon).....Thomas

Wednesday night the chorus rendered "The Rose Maiden" in a remarkable manner. The crescendo work was especially well done. The whole affair was indeed a May Festival.

The two girl pedestrians, who are walking from Saginaw to San Francisco passed through Alma at 11:00 a. m. last Wednesday. Details of the trip or any further information may be had from Archie and Heime.

Miss Cornwall entertained friends at an afternoon tea at Wright hall Friday. About twenty women were present.

Mrs. Ward McCauley, of Detroit, visited her sister, Miss Ethel Moore, last week.

CHAPEL TALKS

Last Thursday John Bartlett Stevens, '98, missionary from Juneau, Alaska, gave an interesting talk to the students at chapel. He said that he could not tell much about the country in the neighborhood of Juneau, for people did not generally believe him. He told one fish story, however, that brought a flood of laughter though Mr. Stevens maintained it was true. He did, however, get the students to believe something about the geography and climate of those parts. At Juneau, he stated, the thermometer has not registered as low as four degrees below for years, due to the tempering influence of the Japan stream. Alaska has great mineral resources. Juneau is in the heart of the gold quartz lead that is just beginning to be opened up, and the Russians were doing fur trading there twenty-five years before the American revolution.

Miss Bernice Hunting, a missionary from Turkey, a member of the first class to graduate from Alma, and a daughter of Alma's first president, spoke to the students at chapel Friday. She made an effective appeal for the needs of the foreign fields. She urged for life in the present. "There are still visions ahead," she said. "We are here to meet them. Most of us see and live for the little circle around us which makes so much noise that we fail to see the real needs of the world." She said again, "We are still afflicted in this land with young people who think they will be famous. There are many calls today," she explained, "calls of opportunity, calls of people, and the call of God. 'For whosoever will save his life shall lose it; but whosoever will lose his life for my sake, the same shall save it.'—Luke 9:24."

PRESIDENT ENTERTAINS

President and Mrs. Blaisdell entertained the senior class for dinner at their home last Friday evening from six till half after eight. Four tables were daintily set, ornamented with tulips and forget-me-nots, and a five-course dinner was served. The place cards were of a rather humorous aspect, with a different application to each individual.

Four times during the dinner the seating order was changed so that each person enjoyed a course at the table with Mr. and Mrs. Blaisdell.

After the repast the President played a few grand opera records to the delight of the seniors.

At eight thirty the class gave their yell for "the Blaisdells" and departed, ending a very enjoyable occasion.

FRESHMAN NUMBER

The freshman class will have complete charge of the next number of the Almanian. Allen French with an able corps of assistants will be cleaning the campus for the next few days.

Monday evening Jenny Watterman was initiated into the good fellowship of Alpha Theta and now the membership list is full.

SECOND IN TRACK MEET

The Alma College track team met Olivet and M. A. C. in a triangular meet at East Lansing last Saturday and though badly defeated by the farmers succeeded in administering a good walloping upon the old enemy, Olivet. The locals, though showing very poor form for this time of the season, won twenty-six points to nineteen for Olivet.

Chisholm captured a first in the quarter-mile run and a third in the two-twenty dash. Harry Jackson easily won the high jump and other Alma men won seconds and thirds. Addison Wilson made a sensational finish in the two-mile run and nosed out all competitors but a solitary M. A. C. runner who defeated him by a scant two yards. Both he and MacAllister defeated the much touted Leavenworth who won this event in the Intercollegiate games last year. Capt. "Ole" Anderson won second in the shot-put, beating his old enemy, Rider of Olivet, by a good foot.

Beatty, of the Aggie squad, got away with the day's highest average. Three firsts in the 220 low hurdles, the high hurdles and the broad jump gave him a score of 15 points. Rider, of Olivet, was the second highest individual point getter, with 14 tallies.

The meet failed to afford any records, though Beatty in doing the high hurdles in 25 3-5 seconds, came within a fifth of a second of equalling the best mark ever made by an M. A. C. runner in this event.

Alderman, as usual, won the 100-yard dash, and the 220, though he was given a good run in the 100 by Peppard, of the M. A. C., the youth who made so favorable a showing in the state interscholastic of a year ago.

 Act of 1879, Alma, Mich.

One of the greatest privileges a college student has is perhaps the privilege of attending chapel, and yet it is necessary to make chapel attendance compulsory: even then it is an abused privilege. People come to a small college for the benefit derived from the association and personal contact with the professors, the heads of the departments. Through the daily chapel exercise the professors have a continual influence over the student that leaves impressions for life and occasionally a returned missionary, a minister or professional man comes along with a message of vital interest. Let us as Alma students give more thought and attention to the daily chapel and not take as many "cuts" as possible or go and study while the exercises are going on. It will mean much more in after life and will help to mold a more perfect character.

JUST OR UNJUST.

The girls at Alma got out a Co-ed number of the Almanian recently. We learned the fact not merely by reading the announcement thereof in the issue, but also by a perusal of a first page story of Alma's game with Bethany College. The co-ed who "covered" the game betrayed her sex in writing it up. Two long paragraphs were devoted to a description of the spring landscape and ten lines to the actual baseball itself.—Ypsilanti Normal News.

The Kalamazoo Index says: "The Albion Pleaid is the best college paper in the M. I. A. A. The rest of the schools have weekly publications but they fail to represent truly the college." The Index and the high school exchanges publish a monthly magazine containing literary efforts of the students, athletics, locals, etc.

It is not too soon to begin to cast about for an editor of the Almanian for next year. Some of the colleges have already chosen next year's staff, and an election will be called here soon.

ALPHA THETA DINNER.

Thursday evening the Alpha Theta Society had the privilege and pleasure of entertaining Miss Bernice Hunting at dinner in the Wright Hall dining room. The table decorations were yellow tulips and candles. Several other Alpha Theta alumni were also present. After dinner Miss Emily Beach acted as toastmistress and first called on Miss Hunting who responded gladly—but just then the Fraebel girls gave a rousing cheer for the society and Miss Hunting laughed and confessed she had forgotten her speech and asked that she might hear some others talk. A program had not been planned but that did not prove to be a drawback to several toasts. Celia Creaser, our president, told how glad the society was to have Miss Hunting with it, then Mrs. Randalls told of the inspiration Miss Hunting's work had been to Alpha Theta in her day. Next Merle Seaver, Margaret Allen, Wilhelmina Ritter and Bernice Ireland spoke as class representatives and each had something nice to say about Miss Hunting. Mis Heaffliger responded in her usual charming way and Mrs. Blaisdell thanked the girls for making her the patroness of their society. By this time Miss Hunting had recovered and consented to talk again, not about Alpha Theta, but about her work in Syria. She told us how much religion meant to those hard working Syrian women, how after long days of toil and care they would go to the school and struggle with the difficult Syrian alphabet so that in time they would be able to read their Testaments themselves. She showed us that those women were our sisters and how much we could learn from them and how we should appreciate our refinement and advantages of a finer and nobler Christian life. She said her only regret was that more Alma students were not ready to enter the foreign field as Christian workers and teachers. Then how much her life in Alma had meant to her. The pictures from her walls were illustrations for her talks with the women. Her Alma friends were always in her subconscious mind and the love of those friends at home made her feel all the more the love and steadfastness of the Heavenly Father. This was the message she left with us. When she sat down—no girl spoke then—"What's the matter with Miss Hunting?" The reaction was strong. We yelled for the alumni, Mrs. Blaisdell and the honorary members—letty that we washed dishes with happy hearts and willing hands.—M. B.

LAEBEL NOTES

Mt. Pleasant-Alma day was pleasantly spent in Alma Friday, May 15.
The custom for several years past has been for the kindergarten girls of Alma and Mt. Pleasant to exchange visits one day in the year, this being the Alma kindergarten girls' turn to entertain.

The Mt. Pleasant girls came on the 7:20 A. M. train and were chaperoned by Miss Robinson and a number of the girls to Wright hall reception room, where a cheery grate fire and the reception committee met them and served a dainty breakfast lunch of sandwiches and coffee.

When all were served and greetings and names had been exchanged, the girls were ushered to the chapel to hear Miss Hunting. After chapel they were directed to the kindergarten.
This was the most interesting place to them. When kindergarten closed they were taken through the museum and the other buildings on the campus.

Lunch was served at twelve in in Wright hall dining room. After lunch the girls were taken through Wright hall and then to King's gardens. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in story telling in Wright hall and a track meet in the Jungle.

The girls went home on the 4:46
motor, tired, but each one assured us they had been pleasantly entertained.
B. W.

TRACK MEET

The track meet in the afternoon between the two kindergarten schools was won by Alma, 46 to 33. We are sorry not to publish the events, but some of the girls evidently were ashamed of their records. At any rate, our reporter was unable to get the desired information.

Mr. Charles Robinson was entertained by Grant Cook last week.
Charles is a brother to Margaret Robinson.

Mrs. Harvey Cornwall, of Detroit, recently visited her sister-in-law at Wright hall.

Mr. Frank Hurst, of Detroit, visited many friends on the campus last week.

Miss Mabel Robinson visited her sister, Margaret, last week.

seventh when McCloy led off with a two-bagger, was sacrificed to third by Goodrich, and scored on Prall's error.

Albion's big inning was the third, when two three-baggers by Young and Peperson and a two-bagger by Crosthwaite, coupled with an error by Johnston, scored three runs. The other tally came in the sixth as a result of a walk, a hit batsman, an error by Wood, and a stolen base by Field. Alma is now tied with Kalamazoo for first place, with Olivet second and Albion third, in the M. I. A. A.

CLASSICAL CLUB

Saturday evening the Classical Club had its last meeting of the year. It was held at the home of Dr. Ewing and proved to be most interesting. The following program was given: "Walls and Streets of Rome," Mr. Cole. "The Coliseum," Miss Huber. "Martial—The Roman Wit," Mr. S. P. Cook. Greetings from Mr. and Mrs. Ronald were read. The officers for the coming year were elected at this time.

Copsue, Mr. S. P. Cook.
Practor, Miss Dershem
Scriba, Miss Huber.
Quaestor, Mr. Cole.

Dr. Ewing showed some pictures of interest to classical students and the time passed all too quickly. Dainty refreshments were served which were decidedly "classy" if not classical. Another year's work is completed and the prospects are for a still better one under Dr. Ewing's ever efficient leadership.

ADRIAN GAME

The team took another long stride towards the championship bunting Saturday afternoon by defeating the Adrian crew for the second time, this game resulting in the score of 13 to 7. There was enough hitting throughout the fray to satisfy the most ardent fan and the work of neither of the hurlers was especially effective.

Led by Vogt and Schultz the Presbyterians garnered twenty hits, nearly every man capturing at least two. The locals started the cannonading early in the game and continued it in every inning until the seventh when the game was called to allow the visitors to catch their train.
