Alma's 1916 Football Season Closes

By HOMER M. DUNHAM

Last Saturday the Alma college football team fell before the onslaught of the Notre Dame university football team, conquerors of M. A. C. by a score of 46 to 0, in a battle on a snow covered field.

The heavier, faster and more experienced Catholic eleven had it over Alma in every department of the game, and scored almost at will, except in the last quarter, when the Maroon and Cream braced and held the Indiana team scoreless.

The defense of the Hoosiers was great at all times and not once during the entire game could the Maroon and Cream cover the needed ten yards for a first down. Harper's machine was working in splendid form, and certainly is ready for its big battle with Nebraska.

The Maroon and Cream was, because of her failures to advance the ball, compelled to resort to a punting game throughout, and it was Alma's superior punting during the final quarter coupled with a much better defense that kept the Hoosiers from scoring during the last period.

The Catholics scored within the first three minutes of play, when Slackford went over from the ten-yard line or an off tackle play. Slackford crossed the goal three times during the first half and Miller trotted over once. Fitzpatrick, the former Alpena lad, scored twice in the third quarter and O'Hara once.

Playing against one of the strongest teams in the middle west, Alma did well to hold the score to 46. Just a week ago Notre Dame defeated M. A. C. by two touchdowns, rolling up a score of five points larger than the University of Michigan was able to do against the Farmers. This just gives a slight idea of how strong the Notre Dame team is this year, and shows that Alma was playing a team that had every right to score a big number of points, now, when it is in the height of condition.

The Alma men played hard throughout the entire game, and frequently held their superior opponents for downs, which aided greatly in keeping the score under a half hundred points.

Review of the Season.

A review of the 1916 football season would not be complete without first showing that the season was not a failure, even though Alma failed to win the Michigan Intercollegiate championship.

There are two big reasons why. First, Kalamazoo college has a football team this year which is an exceptional team for the Michigan college circle, and it has been years since the M. I. A. A. has seen a team that could defeat the 1916 champions, with the lone exception of the all-star team that Alma put forth in 1912. Alma this year cannot compare with the exceptional team put forth by the champs.

Alma has a team that in an ordinary year would have won the championship. Alma was defeated by Albion that is true, but all observers still hold the belief that Alma has a better team than Albion, and should have defeated Albion by from three to five touchdowns. Comparative scores, throughout the M. I. A. A. will show that this belief, which has been held all year, is founded on something more tangible than hot air. That Alma didn't defeat Albion is football luck. Albion caught Alma on the one day, when she could turn the trick. Comparative scores, other than the one Albion game, show Alma to have been far the best of any team, excepting Kalamazoo college. It has been a season when dope has run true to form. Right from the start, it was certain that Kalamazoo college was the one team to be beaten. Albion was not considered at all as a team that would be a serious contender. The beating that Kalamazoo gave Albion shows that this consideration of Albion was not far wrong, as Kalamazoo defeated Albion the worst of all the M. I. A. A. teams.

Starting the season, things looked good for Alma. Ypsi Normal was walloped 6 to 0, and by the way the only other defeat that Ypsi suffered was at the hands of Kalamazoo college. Ypsi was strong and known to be strong, making Alma's stock climb.

At M. A. C., Alma held the Farmers 33 to 0, or seven points better than did Olivet. In past season M. A. C. had trimmed Alma far worse than Olivet, yet Alma managed to be a contender in the M. I. A. A. and give Olivet a good battle. It promised well for the Olivet game and dope held true to that extent again.

The Mt. Pleasant Normal, which had planned on defeating Alma, was given two rude shocks, when Alma tumbled their hopes 42 to 0 and 40 to 0 in two games.

Alma went to Albion and dope had it that Alma would win. Hardly a person would credit the report that came back, Albion 20, Alma 10. The men on their returned acknowledged that they had played their poorest game and that ordinarily Alma would have won from this same Albion team. It seemed that M. I. A. A. dope had suffered a big upset. Rather was it that Alma was far off form on that one particular day. Everything else during the season goes to show that this was true that Alma was capable of defeating the team that took second in the race.

The M. A. C. Scrubs taken on in place of Adrian had a good team, but could not stand the pace with Alma's eleven, a week after the Albion game and they fell by a count of 27 to 7, before the terrific Alma onslaught. The fans who saw this game, and the Albion game wondered at the team. It was hard to believe that it was the same eleven.

Olivet followed the Scrubs, in Alma's big game of the season. Alma smashed through the Crimson defense for the first victory since 1912, winning 27 to 0. This was enough to insure a good season, had Alma not won another game. Many an old student was back for the battle and it did his heart good to see Alma's slashing attack in this game.

Kalamazoo came to Alma the following Saturday with her famous team, and defeating Alma by the smallest score of the season, they won the M. I. A. A. title. The officiating was not of the best, but they have a

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

"No man liveth to himself alone." This declaration is so simple that a child can understand it. The whole world frequently contributes to the ingredients of a simple morning meal. The everyday comforts of life are the contribution of many minds and many hands. Literature, science, art, schools, colleges, universities and churches are the gifts of the people. Our own United States, the greatest and noblest nation on the earth, is of the people, as proclaimed in that matchless document, the Declaration of Independence. This charter of human rights recognizes the divine in the human. If it were adopted by the nations of the earth, it would bring abiding world peace, prosperity and happiness. God has given man the earth and its manifold riches.

This year, of all the years of this great Republic, is a fitting time for thanksgiving. No nation liveth to itself alone. May we on Thanksgiving Day, remember in our prayers and acts, the millions of widows and orphans, the millions of maimed and dying, the millions of prisoners of war in other lands. They are our kindred. May America become a beacon light of liberty to all the world.

Therefore, I, Woodbridge N. Ferris, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby join the President of the United States in designating Thursday, the thirtieth of November as a day for all of the people of this Commonwealth to celebrate in thanksgiving and prayer.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State this twenty-fourth day of November in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and sixteen, and of the Commonwealth the eightieth.

WOODBRIDGE N. FERRIS,
Governor.

CO-ED EDITION

The following girls were elected as the staff of a co-ed edition of the Weekly Almanian, which will appear December 11th.

Editor-in-chief—Miss Muriel Netzorg.

Associate editor—Miss Helen Baker
Athletic editor—Miss Pauline Markham.

Joke editor—Miss Florence Howe.

It will be remembered that last year, a splendid paper was put out by the women, and with the staff that has been elected there should be a good copy.

JOINT MUSICAL RECITAL

The joint recital given at the Wright opera house, last Wednesday evening, by Helen Brown Read, soprano, Alberto Salvi, harpist and Edith Harris, accompanist may well be listed as one of the musical treats of the season. Miss Read is the possessor of a fine soprano voice, well developed, and of exceptional quality. Her songs were well chosen and rendered with the understanding of an artist. Her renditions of "Dich, Theur Halle" from "Tannhauser" together with the groups of German and English songs displayed her interpretative ability. The accompanist, Miss Harris gave splendid assistance to the singer. Alberto Salvi, the Venetian harpist, is a fine artist. His program consisted of a Sonata by Grieg, a Fantasia by Saint-Saens and several original compositions. Each number was enthusiastically applauded, assuring the artist that his fine playing was appreciated. The Barcarolle from the "Tales of Hoffman" rendered by Miss Read and Mr. Salvi proved itself a fine closing number to a well presented program.

"Father, what is meant by the artistic temperament?"

"The artistic temperament, my boy, is a sort of a reserve alibi which usually saves the artist from prosecution on a charge of disturbing the peace."
—Puck.

Let Us Be Thankful

LET US GIVE THANKS

First of all for the great fact of God, the Infinite Father of us all, the "giver of every good and perfect gift," and without whom there would be only chaos, nothingness, darkness, oblivion, no sun or moon or stars—whirling worlds with their matchless and eternal beauty.

LET US GIVE THANKS

For the infiniteness of His power, for the strength of His love, the tenderness of His mercy, the beauty of His holiness, the sweetness of His compassion, the measurelessness of His forgiveness and the transcendent glory of our hope through Him.

LET US GIVE THANKS

For the blessed fact that though the night is dark and the way is rough, love and hope, the twin angels of happiness, will help us o'er life's uneven ground and flood our path with light as sweet and refulgent as the smile of God.

LET US GIVE THANKS

For the holy truth that after all there is no death—only a quiet sleep and a glad awakening on that eternal shore where peace abides and parting has no meaning, when we again shall meet and clasp each other's hands and our hungered souls shall be filled with a love and joy unspeakable.

LET US GIVE THANKS

For the simple joy of loving, for moving and having our being, for the glory of the day and beauty of the night, for flower and fruit and garnered ripened grain, for busy marts of trade, for mine and forge and field, where toil reaps its just fruits and the curse of disobedience is lifted from the sweating face of labor by its conquering force and the joy of its achievement.

LET US GIVE THANKS

For the house of opportunity with its thousands doors, where we may enter in and find the place for which we were intended from the beginning, where we may use our talent for the good of man and the glory of the Creator, for the chance to labor in the field we love and the blessed assurance that when the task is ended and the day is done we shall hear the welcome plaudit "well done" and the gathering shadows shall bring us rest.

LET US GIVE THANKS

For all our homes where love sits at the gleaming fireside, and where the crooning of a mother over her prattling babe makes sweeter music than all the gathered symphonies since the world was born; for friendship's holy bonds which all the years can neither wear away nor corrode.

LET US GIVE THANKS

For all the things which come to us in life which make us stronger, purer and better, for tears that wash away the course clay of self, for griefs that mellow our hearts with the divine touch of sympathy, for the difficulties which make us strong, and finally, for the coming of the darkness through which we must pass to find the glory of eternal day.

LET US GIVE THANKS

For the peace that has settled over our favored land like a holy benediction, while other nations are drenched with blood, and the awful agony of a fratricidal war grips the hearts of their people, for the gracious promises that war and strife must soon have an end and the peace of God which "passeth all understanding" shall find its permanent abiding place in all corners of the world.—Selected.

DR. BARKLEY COMES TO ALMA

Rev. James Barkley, D. D., for thirty years a Detroit pastor, has resigned his pastorate and last Sunday preached his farewell sermon. Rev. Barkley is to be connected with Alma college.

A thronged church greeted the veteran Detroit pastor last Sunday evening when he gave his farewell address, which attested the great popularity of Rev. Barkley in that city.

Rev. James Barkley has been connected with Alma college in the past, having been a member of the board of trustees, and chairman of that board for years, but in the future his connection with the college will be much more than it has in the past, and it is expected that it will be productive of much resultant good for the Presbyterian institution.

Rev. Barkley is being secured to preach the endowment campaign of Alma college through the entire state of Michigan and to look for prospective donors for President Crooks. It is not expected that Rev. Barkley will take up his new work until the first of the year.

PROF. VEATCH'S CONCERTS

Professor Reese Farrington Veatch, director of music in Alma, assisted by Homer W. Grimes at the piano, has been giving several concerts throughout the state. Among the places recently visited are Freeport, and Ashley. The following is an item from the Freeport Herald:

"The Veatch concert Monday night was attended by a small but very appreciative audience. Lovers of good music who were absent for reasons best known to themselves, missed the treat of the season. Several of those present expressed the opinion that the concert was the best thing in a vocal way that had ever been heard in Freeport."

At Ashley, his singing met with great applause and the large crowd present was well pleased with the musical evening.

DR. BRUCE

Dr. Bruce, secretary of the Board of Church Election, of the Presbyterian church of America, visited Alma last week, and gave an interesting talk in chapel.

His text was, "The Secret of the Lord, is With Them Who Fear Him." The speaker said the aim of student life is to master the mysteries of the world. We can get the thoughts of God through studying the laws of nature, and the master of the mind. But we should especially study the Word of God, that we might get His covenant which is His love, fully expressed in His chief interpreter, Jesus Christ.

SCIENCE CLUB

The science club held its regular meeting, Saturday evening, in the biology laboratory. The meeting was called at 7:30 by President Beverly. A very instructive paper on "The Atom" was read by Mr. Bittner, after which Dr. Notestein gave a very interesting and instructive talk on snakes. There being no business the meeting then adjourned.

A Thanksgiving Puzzle

By GOODLOE H. THOMAS

Copyright, 1916, by American Press Association.

YOU'D think we could all quite agree
That the turkey is merely a bird,
But peruse this and quickly you'll see
That the species is merely inferred.

Uncle Jim, for example, will show
That our strutting, fat gobbler out there
Isn't properly classified so,
But is rather a "perfect old bear."

Sister Kate's view is odd, to say least,
For she claims, as Thanksgiving draws near,
She can see that for gracing a feast
Our old gobbler 'll be simply a "dear."

But my dad has that turkey enrolled
In a family that's noted for buttin'.
Though that turk wasn't raised in a fold,
Dad remarks, "You're my Thanksgiving mutton."

But the turkey has sized up his kind
In a way that's most worthy of note,
For he gobbles each time he has dined,
"They are fattening me—I am the goat."

Tubbs-Broek, '03

The marriage of the Rev. John Yonker Broek, minister of Trinity Reformed church, to Miss Florence Brewster Tubbs, daughter of Mrs. William Tubbs, of 101 West 72nd street, New York City, took place this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the West End Collegiate church, Seventy-seventh street and West End avenue, New York City.

The ceremony was performed by the minister of the church, Rev. Henry Everston Cobb, D.D., and the Rev. Albertus Theodore Broek, minister of the Clinton Avenue Reformed church, Newark, N. J., and a brother of the bridegroom.

The bride wore a traveling gown of sapphire blue velvet with hat to match and a corsage bouquet of lilies of the valley. She entered the church with her brother, William Arthur Tubbs, of Chicago.

The bride's only attendant was little Miss Mary C. Murray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Murray, of New York city, who acted as flower girl. She wore a white frock, a pink hat, and carried pink flowers.

The ushers were Walter D. Tubbs, brother of the bride, Dr. Winfred M. Harshorn, Donald Durana, all of New York city, and Rev. Burton J. Hotaling, of Albany, N. Y., a semi-nary classmate of the bridegroom.

The church was tastefully decorated with palms and yellow chysantheums, banked on either side of the beautiful carved pulpit.

Preceding the service, by invitation of the church, Henry Hall, of New York, played a program of classical music.

There was no reception, but after the wedding the two families gathered at the home of Mrs. Tubbs to congratulate the bride and groom.

The bride received many lovely and beautiful gifts, including a ring that had been in possession of the family for generations.

Rev. and Mrs. Broek, who have extended tour through the west.

Many guests were present from New York city, this city and vicinity where both the bride and bridegroom have many friends.

Y. W. C. A.

One of the best meetings of the year, was lead last Sunday afternoon, by Miss Edith Layer. She reminded us that it was nearly Thanksgiving time again and so we had a short song service before the regular meeting.

The topic was "The Master's Scale of Values," and Edith began by saying that all through the ages men had been trying to reconcile opposites, rushing always for health and self-indulgence and pleasures, and laziness cannot be reconciled with progress. One may have interests, many of them, and it is only right to be a many sided person, but sometimes one has to choose what things are of most interest to him. This is where the trouble lies, for so many people are apt to follow the lines of least resistance and allow the lesser immediate things and objects to occupy their time, losing sight of the larger and more important things of life. Someone has said that "Right living is right choosing" and here Edith told us of the parable of the man who made ready the big dinner, inviting several in, but each one gave some excuse. The tasks they were interested in were not in themselves to be condemned, it was the larger and better things which they were losing.

Ruskin has said, "Do you know if you read this book, you cannot read that?" which illustrates the point of this topic. One cannot choose everything, so take the worth-while ones, for comforts and help which come from our prayer life, and our trust in God will be choked out unless we take time to give to them.

Of course Christ is to be taken as an example. He never wasted time. He was interested in many things, did many things, but never lost sight of the one thing which it was His mission, to carry on "the work of His Heavenly Father," and it is only as we trust Him, and let Him control our choosing that our lives will count for the best and biggest things.

Eloise Carey sang a very fine solo and after a few short sentence prayers the meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer.

PHILOMATHEAN

Philomathean Literary Society held its regular meeting Monday evening. Freshmen girls responded to roll call by giving the society yell individually. They are to be congratulated on the ease with which they mastered the difficult words and phrases and the fluency with which it was recited was remarkable. The other girls gave current events for roll call.

The two impromptus were well given. "Knocking at Our Doors" was responded to by Florence Howe, and "Our National Parks," was given by Edith Layer. Following this Dr. McCurdy gave the girls a very interesting talk on "Individuality and Inherited Character." By way of introduction, Dr. McCurdy said that he had sometimes been accused of using words that were beyond the comprehension of some people, but after he had listened to the freshmen talking in an unknown language, he felt he was excusable. The talk was all that we looked for, very interesting and enlightening, and we are certainly grateful to Dr. McCurdy for coming to us.

ZETA SIGMA

In his paper on "The Freshmen," Roland Marsh by telling of the habits of the brassy Sophs, the sassy Juniors and the haughty Seniors, showed the humor which was set for the Freshmen. It is to be as humorous in writing as in speaking. "Stub" Warren gave a derivation on "Peace and Prosperity." The adventures of Miss Lavinia were ably told by Sister Edith French, Seeley and Sister Grace Adams gave a declamatory "Appeal for Temperance," showing the effects of temperance fifty years ago. Corbett gave an excellent report on a few more words emphasizing the importance of reading out loud would not be out of place.

FROEBEL

At the regular meeting of the Froebel society, last Monday evening, a "Mark Twain" program was given. Each girl answered to roll call with a quotation from Mark Twain, and Miss Helen Parsons read a very interesting paper on, "The Life of Samuel Clemens."

Miss Josephine Hall entertained the girls with an instrumental solo, "Nuit D' Ete," by Binet.

After the critics report, the Froebel prayer was recited and the meeting was adjourned.

ALPHA THETA

The regular meeting of Alpha Theta was held Monday evening. After the roll call, impromptus were given by LaReine McKinney and Mary DeRousie. This week we studied the Russian dramatist, Anton Tchekov. Catherine Goodwillie read a paper on "The Life an Criticism of Anton Tchekov," and Violet Elliott gave us a review of his masterpiece, "The Cherry Orchard." After a short business meeting, we adjourned.

PHI PHI ALPHA

The regular meeting of the Phi Phi Alpha was held and the following program was given:

"The Progress of the War," was reviewed by Charles Kennedy. Fulcher gave a paper on the life of John Knox.

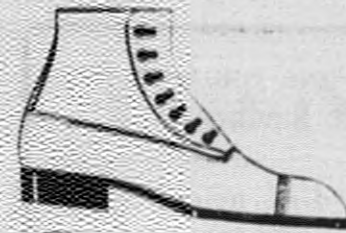

Dale VanDuzen read a good paper on the "Inferiority of America." A splendid talk on "Enthusiasm" was given by Titus.

A Coming Diplomatist.

"I am very glad, George," said the teacher, "to see that you are polite enough to offer the oranges first to your little sister."

"Yes'm," responded George, "cause then she's got to be polite, too, and take the little one."—Ladies' Home Journal.

REVIEW OF THE SEASON

better team. There is no question as to that. They have every right to the title, with their exceptional eleven.

Last Saturday Alma closed the season with Notre Dame. Badly defeated Alma fought hard, and turned a bad defeat into a creditable showing, when during the last period the Catholics could not score.

During the entire season Alma has scored 32 more points than have been scored against her, a far better record than any M. I. A. A. team can show, except the champions from Kalamazoo. Alma also has played the longest and hardest schedule of any team in the Michigan college circle. Only the Olivet played M. A. C., and Alma played Notre Dame, one of the best teams in the middle west. A team that has been beaten once this year will that once by the Army.

The team has played a great game all year, and deserves all the credit that the students can give. Edwards and A. Foote at the ends, Cooner and Lott at the tackles, Allen and Baribeau at the guards, Smith and Hebert at the center, and Captain Johnston, Ed. Mahan, and Ed. Foote in the backfield are the men who have carried the heavy burden during the season.

Praise of the highest sort also should be given those hard working scrubs who have given their best to Alma during the season. Out night after night, week after week, fighting to make the Varsity team better, while many know that they could not make the team. These are men worthy of our best. They have done much to make the eleven what it was, and they go passing by, unnoticed, while the praises are given the team. Don't forget them. They are the team of tomorrow.

Our new Mentor, Coach Harry Helmer, is another to whom great credit should be given. He has worked hard and faithfully to turn out a winning team. He gave his best to the men under his charge. He has proven a success his first season back here at Alma, where he formerly starred on the team. He has had the eleven in better condition than in past years. Clean play has been his watchword. He has shown himself to be the one man of the type that Alma needs at the head of her athletic department. It might be mentioned that we believe him to be the best and cleanest of the coaches in the M. I. A. A., a man who will raise the standard of our athletics to the highest point. Whether Alma wins or loses, his teams will fight hard, but play clean.

A Bit Mixed.

One day a new pupil in a music settlement school came home and asked: "Mother, how many carrots are there in a bushel? Teacher wants to know."

"What?" answered the mother. "What has that to do with music?" "I don't know," replied the child.

The next day the mother went to the music school to inquire what kind of music her child was being taught.

The teacher laughed and said: "Well, that is hardly correct, madam. What we asked your child was how many beats there were in a measure."

DR. G. E. BARNES SPEAKS

In chapel on Monday morning, Rev. George E. Barnes, D. D., of Battle Creek, gave an interesting talk on "Loyalty."

He said in part, that loyalty is one of the highest qualities in life, being one of the main stays of our daily lives. Each individual is going to find the usefulness of his life according to the proportion of the size of the cause to which he can fix his loyalty, and that loyalty should be fixed unto a cause a good deal bigger than himself. It is very clear that it takes character to have loyalty,—patience, experience and the best that is in us. Loyalty is the thing upon which men and women build homes, and here is where we should find the greatest degree of loyalty, for here it multiplies greater than in any other place in a person's life. It is loyalty that lights the trenches of Europe because this has become the master of the passions of the men who are on the battlefield.

We must have loyalty to do a thing that is worth while, and the greatest thing to which we can attach our loyalty is to the great cause of the Kingdom of Jesus Christ."

GOSPEL TEAM WORK

The gospel team work for the year was started by one of the teams going out during the past week end. Services were conducted in the Ithaca Methodist Episcopal church on Friday and Saturday evenings, and on Sunday morning and evening. Rev. Peebe, the pastor, had been holding the series of meetings throughout the week. Mr. Vender was the leader of the team and delivered the sermon on Friday evening. Mr. Payne, Mr. Kruger, and Mr. Davies following in order and spoke at the other meetings. Mr. Halteman sang several solos, and assisted the local choir. Eight conversions were reported during the week, while nine persons responded to the invitation of the team to accept Christ.

The men were very cordially received and entertained by members of the congregation. All had a good time, and look forward to some effective work during the coming months when several teams will be working.
