NUMBER THIRTY

ASSEMBLY GIVEN BY SAGINAW CLUB

EXCEPTIONAL MUSIC, DECORATIONS, AND FAVORS ADD GREATLY TO PARTY.

One of the finest social events of the year was staged Friday night when the Saginaw Club entertained the college with what they termed a May Assembly. The other "home-town" clubs on the campus have already been hosts at various parties, and it remained for the newest club to complete the social calendar. The affair was held in the gymnasium which was very tastily decorated. A profusion of lilacs was in evidence, the windows being decorated with beautiful garlands of them. Black and gold streamers made an arched ceiling which was a background for the central lighting fixture, a large black and gold "S". The remainder of the light was furnished by floor lamps which, although they furnished plenty of light, gave the room a subdued lighting effect which was very pleasing. A multitude of porch chairs smothered in pillows made convenient and cozy resting places, and completed the setting for the assembly.

The music was undoubtedly the best that has played at Alma. The Amsden-Martuch Orchestra of Saginaw was secured for the occasion, and it certainly added a great deal to the party. An unusual and agreeable diversion from the customary jazz style was interspersed in the program at various times when the orchestra played selections from classical operas. Indeed throughout most of the program the usual blare and shriek was lacking, and the orchestra confined itself to playing with a balance of instrumentation, a rhythm of movement, and harmony of chords that was really appreciated.

The May Assembly was such an elaborate affair that it could hardly have been put on within the reach of the average student's pocket book had not the business men of Alma generously cooperated and loaned their assistance. The Paris Cafe donated the punch, the Strand Theater and the European Cafe the pro-

Miss Stevens Gives Excellent Recital

Miss Onetia Stevens of Breckenridge who has spent the last two years studying piano at the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago, gave a recital in the College Chapel last Tuesday evening. As Miss Stevens was a student in the music department of Alma College for several years a large and enthusiastic audience greeted her.

The program was a test of both technical and interpretive ability. Miss Stevens takes her work seriously and put forth her best efforts in the heavier numbers.

The program opened with a Prelude and Fugue in B flat major which was played with clarity of tone and good rhythm. The Alligretto from Sonata Op. 54 by Beethoven was most commendable for its maturity of expression and careful analysis.

The Nocturne in F sharp and the Ballad in A flat by Chopin were her best work in tone and technical precision.

The modern group, Prelude by Hutcheson, Tango and Seguidilla by Albeniz were unusually interesting and were played with delicacy of tone and good style. The last number, Etude in G flat Major by Mowskowsky was a test of technical endurance which was met with little effort. The caprice by Leschetizky was given as an encore.

Almanian Officers For Year Elected

Tuesday evening the Almanian Board of Control met at the home of Dr. Brokenshire and elected the editor and business manager for the Almanian for the ensuing year. It is customary to elect these officers before the close of the year in order to give them some actual experience in directing the paper although they do not assume their official responsibilities until next fall. Last year the precedent was established of electing the editor from the Junior Class as it was thought that a Junior would be more familiar with college traditions and with the aims and policies of the college in general. The present Board of Control saw fit to continue this policy, and doubtless it will be adhered to from now on.

Two splendid candidates were nominated for the position of editor, both Mr. Fry and Mr. Gustafson being capable men and being highly recommended by the present editor. Mr. Gustafson received the majority of votes from the board and consequently will fill the editor's position next year. As an English student, Mr. Gustafson has been exceptionally good, and his natural ability combined with his college training has fitted him for the task he will undertake next year. Mr. Gustafson has filled the position of associate editor this year and has done very credible work in this capacity, having put out several editions of the paper and having had his editorial policy commented upon favorably by the Hope Anchor, a paper which enjoys an unquestioned preeminence from an editorial standpoint.

Mr. Elno McGlone was unanimously elected business manager the general consensus of opinion being that any man who can sell Fuller tooth brushes has the ability to handle the business end of the Almanian. Mr. McGlone has also served this year as assistant business manager under the competent tutelage of Mr. Hendershot, and thus is well qualified to assume the duties which will fall upon him in his new capacity.

The other members of next year's staff have not as yet been announced. These positions are appointive, and will be made known as soon as the new editor and business manager have definitely decided as to whom they wish to choose. At the close of the meeting Mr. Hendershot, the Alma's near Frosh track team defeated the Mt. Pleasant Normal tracksters Saturday morning on a heavy track on Davis field 70 to 52. The heavy going on the track made the time slow in the various events. Alma copped off eight firsts in winning. The only real feature of the meet was the two mile event in which Vreeland, Alma track captain, finished a full lap ahead of the entire field. The javelin was broken just before the meet started and this event went by the boards.

KAPPA IOTA

The regular meeting of the Kappa Iota Literary Society of May 15, was called to order by the president, Henrietta Parker. After roll-call was taken by the secretary, it was announced by the president that the new officers would treat the Society to the movie. A general good time was had by each member at the movie "Beyond the Rocks."

Debate Teams Lose Dual Fray to Hope

The Alma affirmative and negative debating teams went down to a double defeat by Hope, on last Thursday night.

The affirmative team from Hope journeyed here and engaged in a brilliant duel with the Alma negative team. The debate was held in the College chapel, and was well attended. Dr. Mac Curdy presided as chairman, announcing the question for debate as Resolved: That the principle of the closed shop is justifiable.

The Hope team was composed of Mr. Jacob Prins, Mr. Abraham Rynbrant, and Mr. Maurice Visscher. Alma was ably represented by Mr. Forrest Freeman, Mr. Russell Wilson and Mr. Frank Vreeland.

Hope stoutly defended its side of the controversy, basing their arguments upon the facts that the closed shop is the only logical means to furnish an equilibrium between capital and labor, that the closed shop is a necessity and that it is practicable.

The Alma team strove to counter these facts by showing that the closed shop is dangerous in that it is legally irresponsible, morally irresponsible, and uses methods of intimidation and violence; that the closed shop is un-American and undemocratic, and that it is economically unsound.

The Hope trio, as a whole was very good. Mr. Jacob Prins, the lead off man, proved to be a capable speaker. Mr. Abraham Rynbrant was also characterized by forcefulness of speech, ease of delivery, and a knack of getting his points to the audience. Mr. Maurice Visscher did well but was not as good as he had previously intimated.

ALBION IS EASY PREY FOR ALMA

CAMPBELL'S TEAM WALLOPS METHODISTS WITHOUT USING REGULAR PITCHERS.

Alma shoved Albion College down a notch in the M. I. A. A. race Friday with a 7 to 3 victory over the Methodist, but on Saturday the Maroon and Cream was unable to fathom the delivery of Rynearson and Michigan State Normal winning from Alma 6 to 0 took the Michigan Inter-collegiate championship.

Alma had little difficulty in defeating Albion 7 to 3 in the Friday tilt, the Methodist being unable to connect with the offerings of Johnston and Hickerson, hurling for the first time in college baseball, with an degree of consistency, while the Maroon and Cream pounded the pill in a most timely manner.

In Alma's half of the first after Ryan died, Hickerson rolled one towards first that he beat out. Wright smacked a drive to center, Hickerson going to third. Wright went to second on the first pitch and both scored when Shaver singled to left. Johnston singled to left, but was forced at second a moment later. Williams grounded out.

Another came in the second. With two down Ryan walked. Hickerson kissed one for two bases, Hickerson scoring. Wright flied out.

In the fifth Nagel was chased to cover. Hickerson opened the inning with his third hit. Wright singled to right field, Hickerson going to third on the blow. Wright took second on the first pitched, and Shaver again did the rescue act with a sizzling single to left. Coach Miller used the derrick at this point on Nagel and Smith took the box. The southpaw retired three men in order.

In the eighth Alma got next to the offerings of Smith. Johnston laid a slow roller down the third base line and was safe, and took second on Shields's error. Carty walked Johnston was nailed off second. Williams was safe on an error, which put Carty on third and Williams on second. Kirker singled to right and both men cashed.

Albion counted in the second. Bullen walked with one down. Barnes Singled and Bullen went to third. Bullen was nailed flat of the sack. Phillips was safe on Carty's error, which let Barnes count. Phillips was forced by Nagel for the third out.

Kazoo Will Play Alma Here Friday

The Alma College baseball team will face two hard foes yet this week, before it becomes certain whether or not Alma will be able to get into the baseball finals at Albion June 2 and 3, and play for the tournament bunting. Alma must win both to place among the four teams going to the tournament.

Albion will give the local team a hard battle at Albion on Wednesday, but after the way Johnston and Hickerson turned back the Methodists here last Friday there is every hope by the locals that they will be able to again stop Miller's bunch of hitters.

Kalamazoo on Friday on the local field promises to give Alma a real battle. Kalamazoo is going much better now than earlier in the season when Ypsi and Albion handed the Kazooks defeats, and the going will not be of the easiest kind for Campbell's outfit. Kalamazoo is being given good hurling by her rookies, and with a veteran inner and outer garden to back up the work of the hurlers will furnish a good afternoon's entertainment.

RETROSPECTION

The American people have always been characterized by a spirit of hustle and bustle, of constant peering into the future, of impatient waiting upon the affairs of the present. They are restless, ever on the move, always looking ahead, yearning for the events of the future.

It is logical of course that this same restless spirit should invade the American colleges, and make its impress upon the younger generation. The college student, also, literally lives for tomorrow, for the hazy and indistinct dreams of the future.

While this in itself is to be commended, for there are undoubted benefits accruing from it, such as a desire for fame and glory, yet there is also a regrettable side to the same issue.

In the student's haste, the power of retrospection is being ingloriously pushed into the background. The average student does not take the time to indulge in retrospection, for he is too concerned with the immediate future. This student does not stop to realize the power and significance of retrospection. He forgets that delving back into the past will reveal to him the mistakes and errors that he has made. Retrospection will open to him the book of his past deeds, revealing to him the dross as well as the gold. What an infinite wealth of knowledge there is to be gleaned from retrospection then, and to what great value can it be put!

Now is the time for retrospection. The college year is near its close, and it is the wise student who will indulge in this contemplation, seek the failures of the past and resolve to benefit thereby. The future is built upon the past, so the wise student knows that if he wishes for success in the future he must have knowledge of the past. Haste and impatience must be discarded while time is given to the past.

Thus let us all cultivate the power of retrospection, for it will certainly prove to be a stepping stone for success in the future. —R. G.

PHI PHI ALPHA

The society met for a short literary program Monday night. Kenneth Schrier delivered an oration entitled "Tibet." His oration was very interesting as the average person knows little of the conditions in that immense plateau. In conclusion, Mr. Schrier made an appeal for men to fill the place of Dr. Sheldon who was the only missionary in that vast territory. Al Dawydoff was the next orator, and he became very enthusiastic as he told of the causes of the Russian Revolution. Mr. Dawydoff has an unusual command of the English language for his short acquaintance. Pratt, Rose, and Waggoner responded to the impromptu "Up-river Parties Over Night." Mr. Boyd gave the critics report. Adjournment.

Y. W. C. A. MEETING

A very definite idea of the good times to be had at Lake Geneva was conveyed in the "Y" meeting of May 17. Helen Brin opened the meeting by reading the one hundred and twenty-first Psalm known as the traveler's Psalm. Then she told of the beauties of the Lake, its memories and associations. Lucy Fellows, as her part, enumerated the various activities which went on during the stay. It was Mable Field's share, to speak of the worship and classes conducted there. The talks were most interesting and were augmented by stereopticon views of Lake Geneva. Each girl present felt that it was of the utmost importance for her to pay a visit to this celebrated summer camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Poole of Detroit, visited their daughter, Margaret, at Wright Hall over Sunday.

College Year Book of Good Quality

Some one has said that a college annual is a summary of our whole college year, and is it not true? As the years roll on, and we have left our Alma Mater never to return, then is when the value of our college year book asserts itself. Memories of our college friends and college pranks would oftentimes fade from our memory were it not for our college year book.

As the years pass on, the value of our college annual will increase beyond measure. At the present time you may be able to purchase all the annuals you desire for a very small amount, but some day money or jewels will not be bribes enough to cause you to part with your college annual.

From all indications this year's Maroon and Cream promises to be of unusual quality. It is to be printed on cameo colored paper with a maroon tint border on every page. The book in addition to being twenty-five pages larger than any former annual, will contain a Molley made University style cover of excellent quality. One section of the book will be scenic, featuring ten college scenes, and printed in sepia ink. Another section will be devoted entirely to the college alumni. Special articles contributed by the alumni themselves, will be one of the features of this section. Another specialty of the annual will be a scenic section of our pretty college co-eds.

The Maroon and Cream Staff has made definite announcement to the effect that the annual will be placed on the market ready for distribution before commencement. If you have not yet signed a contract for your annual you should do so at once, and by so doing assure yourself of a book.

present business manager, announced that in as much as there are some funds left over the Almanian would treat the Board of Control to a spread up the river. This suggestion was received very favorably and the Board of Control is awaiting the call at the present time. It is hoped that the business manager won't keep them waiting long. Dr. Brokenshire lived up to his reputation of being a good host by serving delicious refreshments of ice cream, wafers, and hot chocolate.

The Almanian extends its heartiest congratulations to the newly elected men, and wishes them a successful year.

BETA TAU EPSILON

After a short business meeting the program of the evening was given. Mr. Lane gave a talk, "Why Go to College?" He summarized all the reasons, financial, physical and moral, which ought to speak in favor of a college course. Readings were given by Messrs Grover, Patton and Apsey from "Letters of Father and Son During College Days" by John Douglas Adam. The book is worth careful reading. It consists of sensible answers by a father to the perplexing questions arising during college days, as expressed in the son's letters. The critic's report was given, and the meeting adjourned.

Mrs. Decker of Croswell, Mich., visited her daughter, Christine, at Wright Hall for a few days.

Alma Sluggers Take Hillsdale Into Camp by Score of 7 to 4

College Year Book of Good Quality

With Hickerson and Catherman working in the box Alma secured revenge on Hillsdale College Monday putting down the visitors 7 to 4 in an M. I. A. A. game. At the end of the first half of the fifth it looked like a Hillsdale contest, the visitors leading 3 to 0 at that time. Up to that time Alma did not have a thing that even closely resembled a hit.

In the final half of the fifth Alma broke loose, however, and chased Hart, the Blue and White star southpaw, to cover. Bryson succeeded him in the box. Bryson pitched to just three men before he followed the way of Hart, and the southpaw was recalled from the outfield to again take up mound work. Before the inning ended Alma was leading 4 to 3. Two more runs came in the sixth and one in the seventh, putting the fray on ice. Catherman went to the box in the sixth and pitched a strong game the rest of the route for the Maroon and Cream.

The feature of the contest was the hitting of Kirker, who had three pokes in four trips to the plate. He also counted two runs.

grams, Crandal and Scott and G. V. Wright the furnishings, and George Maier the tickets. In addition many of the business men donated the price of a ticket. The fact that the party was such a success is due to a great extent to these men whose friendly spirit towards the affair and their willingness to cooperate was appreciated fully as much as their financial aid.

The Saginaw Club has been organized but a short while. It is one of the several clubs organized at Alma for the purpose of keeping alive some of the home-town spirit, and of keeping in touch with the people in the various sections of the country who are interested in the college. It boasts of about fifteen members at the present time, and indications are that its ranks will be augmented considerably next year. Frank Whitney is president, and Henrietta Parker is the secretary-treasurer.

The May Assembly was a decided success, and every one of the fifty-five couples who attended attested to the fact that they had spent three hours and one half of most satisfying pleasure. It is hoped that the Saginaw Club will see fit to make this May Assembly an annual affair.

ODE TO ALMA

Oh Alma, Alma Mater
Our hearts go out to thee
In weal or woe
At ebb or flow
Of life's prosperity
We'll turn to thee.
We'll yearn for thee
In future joy or strife.
And true as steel
Each one we feel
We'll make for thee a life.

Hoping for no greedy measure
Of ill-gotten gold,
Nor for any tainted treasure
That this life may hold,
We'll strive, as thru this life we go,
To live by a code of love;
To live here so
With men below
We can face our God above.

PHILOMATHEAN

At the regular meeting of Philomathean held Monday, May 15, roll call was answered by present. After the minutes of the previous meeting had been approved, the program for the evening was announced.

A "who's who" contest, with Ruth Stewart and Louise Hainline as the two leaders of their respectively selected groups, was a novel event. As the names of prominent men and women in national and state affairs were announced, each member was forced to recall all she had ever read or heard about those persons. It hardly seemed possible that there could be such a large number of people of note in this country of ours with whose names we were unfamiliar.
But on the whole, the contest was an encouraging one, and Miss Hainline's forces were the proud winners. The president and two vice-presidents felt that we had deserved a reward for our faithful services, so they took us to DeLuxe's, and the Eskimo pies and ice cream cones consumed left nothing to be desired by either the givers or the receivers of this unexpected treat.

If you leave the canoe while up river, see that it is securely fastened —or you might have to walk home.

end.

Kid: Oh, yes, I have got a good job and I'm practically my own boss. You see, I can get to work any time before seven and I can quit any time after six o'clock.

HEARD IN WRIGHT HALL
"Do you believe that awful story they told about her?"
"Of course, I do! What is it?"

Ted: I have a good joke to tell you, but I'm afraid to tell it.
Florence: Why?
Ted: Because I'm afraid that when your face lights up, the powder will go off.

Never explain—your friends do not need it and your enemies will not believe you anyway.—Hubbard.

Life, for the average American citizen, is made up of a series of raids and radios.

In three weeks more our life will change.
On all the frosh, there'll be no pots
And Wright Hall hash is out of style.
Will we be glad? Well I guess "nots!"

In the fifth with two down Shields walked. Wilson doubled and Shields counted.

An attempted rally in the ninth was cut down by Alma after Albion had chased over a single run. With two down Smith singled to center. Tamblyn walked. Kresage laced one to center and Smith cashed a run. Shields lifted a long fly that Johnston got under for his sixth put out in center field and the fray was over.

The timely hitting of Hickerson, Wright, Shaver and Johnston and the work of Johnston and Hickerson in the box for the Alma team were the outstanding features of the contest.

LOSE TO YPSI

In Saturday's fray Michigan State Normal cinched the Michigan Intercollegiate championship defeating Alma 6 to 0, the infield blowing behind Crittenden nearly every time that men got on the sacks. Few runs were made by the Teachers, but the few earned runs would have been sufficient to win for Ypsi as the Maroon and Cream could not solve the delivery of Rynearson, the veteran Normal hurler, who turned Alma back inning after inning without a good scoring chance.

Just four blows during the entire game composed the liberties that Alma took with the delivery of Rynearson and only two occasions during the entire nine sessions did the Alma team get men as far around as third.

Ypsi scored first in the third, a hit batsman, a sacrifice, a base on balls, in infield hit, and two errors giving the visitors three runs, one of which was earned. Two came in the eighth, three singles, an error and a base on balls being mixed for the counters. The Teachers added another in the ninth for good measure on an error and two singles.
