PHI ENTERTAIN AT MASQUERADE

PHILOMATHEAN ARE GUESTS AT ANNUAL PARTY GIVEN BY PHI PHI ALPHA.

Phi Phi Alpha gave their annual party for Philomathean in the form of a Masquerade party. With the advent of Hallowe'en so near it was thought to be only appropriate to celebrate the event with a masked ball. Wright Hall had been transformed with the aid of corn-stalks and other accessories to resemble some eerie place, and with sprites and goblins darting hither and thither, all cares of a humdrum world were forgotten.

Never had there been assembled in the staid portals of Wright Hall such a gathering of nondescript characters, from whence they had come, no one knew. The wind seemed with every gust to blow in a still more ludicrous personage.

The first few minutes were spent in trying to guess who the other person was, and in some cases proved to be a tantalizing task. Anyway, Clare found it to be so, for she spent half an hour in trying to find out the identity of a certain young man.

Dick Boyd with his swallow-tail coat acted as master of ceremonies and paraded around the Hall as if he was the owner of a three ring circus. However, Dick was not quite happy for the main attraction was not there, and how could the show be a success without her. But the rest of the troupe seemed quite happy. Harry Williams provoked gales of laughter with the master make-up of the evening. "Prince" was so deftly padded that no one could come within twelve feet of him. "Peg" Poole trudged around on crutches with the sympathetic Ruth Grierson as a handy aid. But when the music started, lo and behold, the crippled "Peg" began to dance. Verily, wonders will never cease.

Manwaring proved to be a gay old deceiver. He was a veritable Nancy Prim as he cavorted around, and left masculine hearts trailing in the dust. Freeman gave a realistic impersonation of "Ikie." That perennial checkeder suit of Howard's proved to be the crowning touch. But the big question was concerning Kenneth Shrier's nifty looking vest-coat. Some assumed a knowing air as if they knew where he had obtained it. But Ken was sphinx-like concerning the matter.

When all had danced to their hearts content, a respite was ordered and games were resorted to. "Gossip" became the prevalent topic of the evening, and several guilty characters found their past, present and future raked over the coals. Smythe, Clarissa, "Gus" and Harris were forced to listen to their misdeeds as narrated by Manwaring before the whole assemblage. Clare fairly fumed as she vehemently refuted the remarks concerning her, and indignantly pointed out poor "Gus" and Ronald as the perpetrators of the yarn.

But luncheon put an end to all argument. Ice Cream and wafers were served, and these tempting morsels claimed their share of attention. After lunch, there was still time for dancing and "Gus" obliged by playing "The Sneak," "Deedle Deedle Dum" and several other persuasive numbers. Then came "Home Sweet Home", and one more Phi-Philo party became listed as a happy remembrance.

Miss Phyllis Bradley of South Haven visited Margaret Poole, the latter part of the week.

Edith Hughes spent the week end at her home in Royal Oak.

Upper Peninsula Club Forms Plans

The Upper Peninsula students have banded together again this year and have chosen officers for 1922-23. The list of officers is: President: Ewald Swanson, Newberry; Vice President, Roy Gustafson, St. Ignace; Secretary, Cecil Wallace, Rudyard; Treasurer, Harold Foster, Newberry.

The Upper Peninsula Club hopes to make this a banner year. They hope that through the club and its component members, many more students from the frozen north may be attracted to Alma College. It is realized that only through organization that such a project can be accomplished.

The club expects to put a football team in the field that will clean up on all other amateur class organizations on the campus. Tentative plans are also being made for a real banquet to be given in the near future, and it is whispered that venison will top the menu list. The hardy men of the North are going to make other clubs step lively if they intend to keep up with the Upper Peninsula club.

PHILOMATHEAN

The Philomathean Literary society held a short business meeting, Monday night. Plans for the annual Philo fair which takes place in December were discussed. A committee was appointed to arrange for an early date.

Ruth King and Ruth Wylson spent the week end in Saginaw, the guests of the former's parents.

M. I. A. A. GAMES FOR THIS WEEK END

Michigan Intercollegiate teams will face six bouts this week end, which of course means that as the seven teams of the collegiate circle will be in action only one of the contests will be a strictly association fray. That one, the Hillsdale-Alma go, will be staged on the local field and is holding wide interest because of the possibilities that it involves. The games follow:

- At Alma—Hillsdale College vs Alma College.
- At Cedar Rapids, Iowa—Albion College vs Coe College.
- At Kalamazoo—Kalamazoo College vs St. Viator (Ill.)
- At Ypsilanti—Michigan State Normal vs Central State Normal.
- At Detroit—Olivet College vs Detroit Junior.

ALMA TO ENROLL CHINESE STUDENT

MISS KWONG CHUING HSIEN IS EXPECTED TO ENTER HERE NEXT SEMESTER.

Rumors that Alma was to have a Chinese student this fall have elicited friendly interest and curiosity among college people. However, very little has been heard about when she will arrive. During the summer conference of 1921, at Lake Geneva, Mabel Field and Helen Brien became acquainted with the girl's sister and it was through the combined efforts of these two girls that the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. became interested. The girl's name is Kwong Chuing Hsien and she is about twenty years old. It is her intention to come to Alma for at least a year to prepare for medical work. When she has completed the work, she plans to return to her people in the capacity of a medical missionary.

All communication has been done through her sister, Emily who is attending the University of Iowa, and Avis Lane, president of the local Y. W. Miss Lane states that Emily asked that the Y. W. forward her the money for her passage. When she was told that the organization had not the money to lend she sent the Y. W. an assortment of laces to be sold in order to obtain the passage money. These laces are to be offered for sale at a tea, to be given the latter part of next week. It is the purpose of the local organization to pay the cost of tuition and board and room, and it was for this fund that the drive was made last semester. The quota of each of the local organizations was $87.50. Although the men oversubscribed, they have been somewhat dilatory about the payment of their pledges. The girls, on the other hand have paid their quota in full. Any unpaid money will be received either by Avis Lane or Ellen Laman, and it is hoped that when the Chinese girl enters next semester, all the money will be turned in.

"FLINT CLUB"

Dean Mitchell entertained the members of the Flint Club at lunch Sunday evening at his home on State street. Miss Montgomery poured and Doris Odle served, after which a social time was enjoyed.

Librarians Meet In Vital Session

The Michigan Library Association held its 32d annual meeting at Flint on October 24th and 25th. Alma was represented by Miss Ward. There were about two hundred members in attendance, and every session was of vital interest.

Among the speakers from outside the state were Mr. M. S. Dudgeon, of Milwaukee, whose address on The State's opportunities for service through libraries—in the field of education—showed the need of State Legislation in the upbuilding of this important work.

Mr. John T. Frederick, of the University of Pittsburgh, and editor of "The Midland," gave a very fine address on "Literary progress in the Middle West," proving that the eastern United States can no longer claim exclusive rights as a center of literary growth and culture.

A matter of urgent importance was presented for consideration and immediate action by everyone interested in libraries,—the reading public as well as library workers—namely, the necessity that Congress should vote an increase of salaries to the Staff Members of the Library of Congress. These librarians are still paid on the basis of salaries voted by Congress in the year 1863! It seems incredible! The libraries of the United States, public, college and business libraries have reached their high grade of efficiency largely through the splendid, scholarly work of the cataloguing, classifying and reference departments of the Library of Congress. Instead of having to duplicate this work at great expense of time and money, these libraries have reaped the benefit, at a very small proportional cost, in the use of the printed catalogue.

M. I. A. A. RESULTS OF THE PAST WEEK

Teams playing non-association games all won during the past week end except Ypsi who was held to a tie, and Alma and Albion playing association games each grabbed off their tilts. Albion, Kalamazoo and Alma are now leading in the title fight. Scores of the week follow:
Alma College 13, Olivet 0.
Albion College 14, Hillsdale 0.
Kalamazoo College 23, Marietta (Ohio) College 0.
Adrian College 19, Findlay (Ohio) College 0.
Ypsilanti Normal 0, Detroit Junior College 0.

MAROON & CREAM TROUNCES OLIVET

OPPONENTS ARE HELD SCORELESS AS ALMA BREAKS THRU FOR TWO TOUCHDOWNS.

The Alma College football team had little trouble in disposing of the Olivet collegian eleven on the Olivet field Saturday, winning 13 to 0, although the Maroon and Cream warriors failed to show the fight that marked their victory over Ypsilanti the previous week. The score was not as large as had been expected, but this was due in the main to the desire to keep Campbell's pet plays covered up for the Hillsdale, Albion and Kalamazoo games, little being used except straight football. A few simple forward pass plays were used, one of which went to Johnston just behind the safety zone and went as a touchback instead of a touchdown.

The bright and radiant little light from Marcelora Beam, was the big noise of the Olivet fray, with his line-smashing. McDonald and H. Catherman also looked good. "Watty" Beam smashed over both of the touchdowns for the Maroon and Cream.

The greater part of the play in the first quarter was in Olivet territory, although once the Crimson launched an offensive that carried the ball to the Alma 37 yard stripe before the team held the Congregationalists for downs. In the second period after a series of reverses in which penalties had a big part, McDonald heaved a pass to Johnston for 25 yards. From this on Alma smashed the line time and again and from the 3 yard line "Watty" tore through the Crimson defense and planted the oval behind the goal. McDonald failed in the attempted drop kick. The half ended with the ball in Alma's possession on the Alma 40 yard mark, after an Olivet punt.

In the third period Alma smashed her way well into Crimson territory and from the 20 yard line McDonald heaved a pass that Olivet knocked down just on the goal line and it was the Crimson's ball on her own 20. Olivet punted out of danger before the period ended.

Alma started another line smashing march in the fourth period and carried the ball almost to the goal line. McDonald heaved the oval to Johnston who pulled the ball into his arms just outside of the safety zone and it went to Olivet on her own 20 yard mark. Olivet launched a good offensive in the hope of counting, but it was killed when Waggoner intercepted a pass near midfield. Alma smashed back down the field on a steady march, Beam going the last few yards for the counter. McDonald kicked the field goal from scrimmage. Olivet kicked to Alma and just as the fray ended the Crimson intercepted an Alma pass on the Alma 40 yard line.

LYCEUM LECTURE

Bishop McConnell will open the Lyceum Course on Nov. 8, at the High School auditorium. He will speak on "The Problem of Mexico". Ever since troublous times came to Mexico in 1913, Bishop McConnell has spent much time in that country. He knows the people and understands what they are thinking about. The problem of Mexico is still unsettled and it still faces the United States. It therefore behooves us to keep ourselves as well informed about this subject as possible and this Lecture will offer us a fine opportunity to do so. Bishop McConnell is an authority on this subject, for in addition to his episcopal duties in the United States, he is bishop of the Methodist church in charge of Mexico.

ATTEND THE LYCEUM

With the Lyceum season about to begin, the question arises as to how well it is going to be supported by the student body this year. The students did not support the Lyceum last year in any great numbers. Whether it was through lack of funds, lack of interest, or lack of knowledge as to the worth of the program, is hard to state. But if it was due to any of these conditions, they can be remedied.

Naturally the first doubt that arises is to the question of finance. The student perhaps feels that he cannot afford to part with the price of a season ticket. But when the general worth of the program is taken into consideration, how useless seems the money that we have thrown away on lesser pleasures. One should then resolve to curtail all unnecessary expenditures and save the money that you otherwise would spend on some inconsequential vanities, and in no time you would have the price of a ticket.

Then as to lack of interest in the Lyceum. This is a deplorable state indeed, and should not be representative of the student body. The mere mention of the Lyceum should immediately stir a strain of interest, for is not the Lyceum a part of the college work? Indeed the Lyceum was organized primarily for the college, and through the co-operation of the citizens of Alma has made the yearly visit possible. This brings in another factor that the Lyceum brings the college and the town together. Here there is a Co-ordination of interests, and certainly it is the duty of every Alma student to further these relations as much as possible. This can be brought about by attending the Lyceum, and showing our interest in it.

Perhaps some stay away due to the fact that they are not acquainted with the worth of the program. But when one realizes that some of the best talent in the country is brought to Alma, comprising able and influential lecturers and speakers, musicians of the very highest order, dramatic readers, and famous plays presented by extremely capable casts, surely one is brought face to face with the realization that here is something tremendously worth while. This year a new element will be introduced in the fact that two numbers will be given by local talent. The college will present one number, and the High School will also furnish entertainment for one evening.

Take advantage of your opportunity, cast away all doubts and prejudices and turn out in full force to attend the Lyceum. Doing this you will prove conclusively that Alma students are interested in the finer, better things of life.

NEW STAFF ADDITIONS

Editor Gustafson has appointed three new men on the editorial staff, thus completing this branch of the Almanian. The election of these men comes as a careful survey of all the material in hand, as it is essential that the best of talent be secured. However, talent is not the primary consideration, for above all there must be the ability and willingness to work.

Harold Gay becomes one of the associate editors. Although Mr. Gay has had no experience in the newspaper line, his decided ability in English will be an important factor in making for success.

Due to the resignation of Berkeley Vaughn as Campus Editor, Mr. Fred Hartwick has been appointed to this position. Mr. Hartwick was Campus Editor on the freshman edition last year and turned out a very creditable piece of work.

The very important office of Printer's Devil will be filled by Ronald Harris. Mr. Harris was editor of the 1922 Flint High-School Annual, and therefore has had plenty of literary experience.

Henrietta Parker has returned from Saginaw, after spending ten days, the guest of her parents.

Miss Sadie Alderton of Ovid was the week end guest of her sister, Lucille.

Thelma Potter and Esther Smith spent Sunday in Flint.

College in His Will

The late Leonard Laurence of Detroit, a trustee of Alma college for many years, has remembered the college in his will which has just recently been made public, and which provides for an estate of $100,000 and upwards.

A brother and two sisters of the deceased are given the interest from the bulk of the estate during their lives, after which it is to be divided at which time Alma College is to receive twenty per cent of the estate.

The sum of $500 was provided in the will for the establishment of a scholarship at the college.

LIBRARY NOTES

The following is a list of new books for general reading which have been received by the library and will soon be ready for circulation. Any one desiring to read any of these in the near future may hand his name to the librarian for the reservation of a particular book.

Y. W. C. A. MEETING

The "Y" meeting of Thursday evening was one of the most interesting of this year. It was conducted by Irene Anguish, the topic being "The Housekeeping of the Ego." Miss Anguish showed that the body is a house which is divided into rooms, and one should make the walls of the basement strong so that sin cannot get through. A good personality should make up our living room and good memory shelves, our library. The tower room should be a room for prayer, the way to which should be kept open so that the inhabitant may go there for periods of prayer and meditation. The meeting was closed by the Mizpah benediction.

BETA TAU EPSILON

The business meeting was shorter and snappier than usual. The meeting was turned over to Vice-president Grover, and the following program was given: Mr. Baker read a paper on President Harding; Mr. Ross followed this by a paper on Woodrow Wilson. Mr. Mansfield then completed the program with a paper on Charles Evans Hughes. As Kemler indicated in the critics report, the papers were very well prepared and give promise of splendid programs in the future.

KAPPA IOTA

On account of the president's absence, the Kappa Iota literary society was called to order by the vice-president, Margaret Morrison. The following girls are wearing Kappa Iota colors:

LoReta Neely, Josephine Peavy, Ruth Wysong, Esther Smith, Thelma Potter, Vesta Ellicott, Thelma Fuller, Nettie Roberts, Georgina Dunster, Mary Campbell, Florabelle Lautner, Dorothy Lee and Winifred Porter.

On November 2nd at 6:30 at the Tuller Hotel in Detroit there will be a gathering of Alma Alumni and former students, who live in or near Detroit. A chicken dinner is planned. All alumni and former students are cordially invited to come. Rev. Mr. Bradford writes that the dinner will be $1.50 per plate.

PHI PHI ALPHA

Phi Phi Alpha was called to order by President Wilson. After a short business meeting, the program of the evening commenced.

Wallace Kemp gave an excellent paper on "The History of Turkey." Impromptus were given on the Fordney-McCumber tariff bill by Ronald Harris and Herbert Nesbitt. The critic's report was given by Roy Gustafson. The society then adjourned to the DeLuxe for janitor's treat, furnished by Mr. Wesley and Mr. Hennis.

ZETA SIGMA

A snappy debate on the subject, Resolved: "That prohibition is a failure," featured the meeting of Zeta Sigma for October 23. The teams were composed of Fry, West, and G. Kirker for the affirmative and Beam, Amendt, and Vaughan for the negative. The affirmative won by a close margin of 2 to 1.

Plans were discussed regarding the coming annual banquet and committees were put under way to carry out the details. After a short business discussion the meeting was adjourned.

Daisy Hollies and Mildred Forbes spent the week end with the former's parents in Saginaw.

Ernestine Desjardins visited her parents in Lapeer over the week end.

Miss Louise Hainline visited Mildred Gerow over the week end.

Miss Harriet Davis was a Wright Hall visitor, Sunday.

MEET HILLSDALE
Not scored on since the opening fray of the season with the Michigan Aggies, which found Alma in poor shape for a hard go, the Maroon and Cream aggregation of footballers will attempt to keep up its brilliant record against teams of its own class this week end when the eleven clashes with the Hillsdale outfit on Davis field.

Hillsdale will come to Alma with the strongest lineup that the Blue and White has shown in years and it will not be an easy matter to stop Coach Ost's crack team, which has played a brilliant game since the opening of the football year.

Expectations are that the Alma College eleven will be far stronger for the game this week than it was for the Olivet game last Saturday and hopes are high that Alma can keep her goal line clean. The strength of the Hillsdale eleven is so well known here, however, that Coach Campbell and his huskies are not looking for an easy time, but rather are anticipating that the team will be pushed to the limit if it is to pull out the victory that it needs to keep up the pace in the M. I. A. A. race.

Athletic fans were highly pleased this week to learn that Vere Richards, a former star in the various sports at Alma College, has returned to his Alma Mater as an assistant coach under Roy Campbell, athletic director. Richards has already taken up his work at Alma and it is expected that working hand in hand with Coach Campbell that more rapid improvement will be seen in the Maroon and Cream football team and that it will forge to the front as a real honest to goodness contender for the M. I. A. A. gridiron honors.

Richards was also a star basketball man and a good baseball man during his college days and will be a big help to Coach Campbell in these sports, in which Alma will have teams that will be contenders for the Michigan Intercollegiate honors in these sports.

The Olivet team, as is its custom, played the best brand of football of the year against Alma, but had the Maroon and Cream opened up with its assortment of stuff the score would have climbed much higher. Alma made numerous substitutions during the game, one of which was the insertion of Stewart, the famed Detroit Eastern Star into the fray.
Stewart had had only two nights practice, and was in the game with a bad foot, but showed enough to indicate what things will be coming the way of Hillsdale, Albion and Kalamazoo.

Salaries have been so low in the Library of Congress that the efficient heads of departments and other skilled workers who have for years been acquiring special knowledge in their respective fields, have been obliged to leave the service of the government to accept a living wage elsewhere. The few who have loyally stood by hoping against hope thus far for recognition of their needs by Congress, are now breaking under the added strain of work which has fallen to them in the lack of sufficient skilled helpers.

The situation is critical and the whole system is in serious danger of collapse unless immediate relief is afforded.

Every citizen, every taxpayer, every student— all of whom are indirectly benefitted by the Library of Congress, altho they may not realize this indebtedness,— are urged to petition their Congressmen to forestall this collapse by prompt consideration and provision thru Congressional action.

Will not the student body of Alma College take an active part in this matter?

Miss Florabelle Lautner had as

Man is certainly a worm of dust; he comes along, wiggles about a while, and finally some chicken gets him

Berk Vaughan took the muffler off his Ford the other night, and the poor thing caught cold.

Lady collector—"I beg your pardon, but would you please help the Working Girls' Home?"
Oscoda—"Sure, where are they?"

Ken Manwaring—"You seem rather-distant this evening."
Peg Poole—"Well, you're not crippled, and your chair isn't nailed to the floor is it?"

Uncle Charlie—"I want you to feel perfectly free to ask questions."
J. C. Foster—"Who's your tailor?"

Weep and you're called a baby,
Laugh and you're called a fool,
Yield and you're called a coward,
Stand and you're called a mule.
Smile and they'll call you silly.
Frown and they'll call you gruff.
Put on a front like a millionaire.
And some guy calls your bluff!

Norma—"But are you certain you love him?"
Gladys—"My dear, you don't suppose I've been engaged three times without knowing the symptoms?"

A Rank Heathen.
Crit—"Did you ever read the book of Numbers?"
DesJardins—"Yes, I had to read it all over last night in order to find her telephone number."

An Art Exhibit In 1930
No 23—Moslem Family at Prayer, (Note the extra seat room in the Packard brougham at the worshiper's left)
No. 24—Muir Glacier From the Sea (The Ford roadster on the skyline is plainly not dismayed at the bumps).
No. 25—The Eternal Pyramids, (Heat and sands held no terror for this air-cooled Franklin).
No. 26—Innocence, (Even at this tender age she could easily shift the gears in a Cadillac 8).
