KAPPA IOTA HOLDS INFORMAL DANCE

AFTERNOON VICTORY IS CELEBRATED IN JOYOUS SPIRIT AT ELK'S TEMPLE.

The first Kappa Iota dance of this season was given at the Elks' temple last Saturday night. The occasion was a joyous one, for it marked the end of the proverbial perfect day, and celebrated the defeat of Hillsdale.

Soon after dinner there was a period of uneasy suspense while the co-eds waited for the inevitable buzzes and when they did come, there was no unnecessary delay in responding. The brisk stroll downtown prepared the party-goers for the "danzante" and by the time they arrived at the hall, they had the party spirit to the full.

The hall was tastily arranged with pennants and banners and the musicians' corner was made doubly attractive with plants and shaded lights.

The first few couples who filtered in found that there were no programs, and secretly rejoiced in the knowledge that they would be able to enjoy several extra dances with the lady fair. Gallagher's orchestra mixed the melodies for the dance and soon the couples were swaying and gliding to the enticing strains. The programs made their appearance in a short time and there was an interval of searching for pencils and partners, and then, on with the dance with joy unconfined. The musicians were at their best, coaxing forth from their instruments the most languorous alluring melodies, interspersed with sparkling bits of syncopation.

It was with a startled air that each of the company heard the parting strains of "Home Sweet Home," and acknowledged with a regretful sigh that tempus surely does fugit. After a brief and not entirely successful scramble for wraps, the couples filed out expressing heartily their enjoyment and all voting a splendid time.

"PEP" MEETING

Friday night, before the Hillsdale game, a real old Alma "pep" meeting was held in the chapel. Everyone was there and tried to outdo his neighbor in seeing how much noise he could make. The Alma band did themselves proud. They responded with several encores so full of life and vim that it was all anyone could do to keep himself from jumping in to the air and prance madly around the chapel. "Bud" Campbell was the chief speaker, and he outdid his dad in making extemporaneous orations.

ALUMNI

Melvin R. Vender of the class of 1920, has been unanimously chosen by the Session to succeed the Rev. John A. Mundell as Assistant to the Pastor and Director of Religious Education, of the Fort Street Presbyterian Church of Detroit.

GAMES THIS WEEK

Only three games are listed for the Michigan Intercollegiate teams this week, but they will be bling-ers, with the Albion-Alma battle in the top row of the encounters of the week. Two of the games are strictly association tilts. Kalamazoo plays outside of the association meeting Valparaiso University in what will be a hot one. The frays of the week follow:
At Alma—Albion College vs. Alma College.
At Ypsilanti—Michigan State Normal vs. Olivet College.
At Kalamazoo—Kalamazoo College vs. Valparaiso University.

Prof. West Attends Alumni Luncheon

Late in the forenoon of Thursday Oct. 26, the writer found himself on an Ann Arbor motor car which was moving slowly northward and which was so far behind scheduled time that the very oaks along the way blushed their deepest crimson.

Cadillac was reached at about two o'clock and after a lunch at Busby's, the "Man from Alma" lost no time in getting cards posted and announcements made before the various sections to the effect that there would be an ALMA COLLEGE LUNCHEON at 5:30. Alma College, except for the omnipresence of the state normals, was the only college holding a banquet.

Dr. Johnstone gave us the use of his study and the ladies of the church arranged a table in one of the Sunday-School rooms. The table was neatly decorated with flowers.

Very soon after 5:30 the children of Alma College were seated at the table and grace was offered by that preacher-teacher, Mr. Roger Zinn. Mr. Zinn is Principal of the Mantion High-School and on Sunday he preaches in the same town and is using as a basis of his discourse the information secured from the chapel talks while in college. Emberson Ardis is teaching at Roscommon, chemistry being one of the subjects, and he states that the only thing he remembers about chemistry in college is the joke about the formula for borax. Margaret Ardis is teaching kindergarten at Cadillac, and "Bea" Harrington the same subject at Charlevoix. "Peg" Carpenter and Doris Law are doing the shorthand stunt for the Acme Truck Co. at Cadillac. The two "Mrs.", at the table were Mrs. Josephine Reiser Mapes and Mrs. Lauretta Chase Pepler, who, of course, are engaged in kindergarten work, one at Cadillac and the other in Traverse City.

"Sandy" Duncanson was on hand and had much to tell us about athletics. When the work in athletics does not require all his time, he looks after the high-school work at East Jordan as Superintendent. He said we have the best coach in the state and that he knows our football team will finish the season at, or not far from, the top.

We were fortunate in having Mr. Abernathy with us and he told us how he is getting money for the future development of the college. He gets people to remember the college in their wills and this secures to be "cashing in" without any question.

The alumni and old students seemed to enjoy the latest news regarding the development of the college and all pronounced the meeting a great success.

LEADING THE PROCESSION

Alma's brilliant 36 to 7 victory over Hillsdale Saturday puts the Maroon and Cream aggregation in the lead for the Michigan Intercollegiate honors the standing of the teams show. If Alma expects to cop the title, and have a clear claim to the honors, she must still defeat Albion and Kalamazoo.

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Alma	3	0	1.000
Albion	2	0	1.000
Kalamazoo	1	0	1.000
Ypsilanti	0	0	.000
Hillsdale	0	2	.000
Olivet	0	3	.000
Adrian	0	0	.000

BETA TAU EPSILON

A short business meeting was held. It was decided to hold the society banquet on November 11, at the Wright House. Mr. Grover took charge of the program. Mr. Ruegsegger delivered a paper on David Lloyd George, Mr. Burke on Mr. Balfour. Both papers treated the subjects quite adequately. Mr. Patton gave the critic's report and the Meeting adjourned.

SATURDAY TO MARK ALMA HOME COMING

RETURN OF ALUMNI; ALMA-ALBION GAME; SOCIETY BANQUETS TO BE FEATURES.

Saturday, November 11th is to be Alma's big day. Home-Coming on-ly comes once a year, and therefore such an event is auspicious indeed. Many old-timers are expected to be back to help make this a banner and never-to-be-forgotten day.

In the afternoon of course the principal attraction will be the struggle between Alma and Albion for supremacy on the football gridiron. Albion comes with a powerful team, but Alma is also strengthened and has more than an even chance to win. However the football men will do their part in making the day a success, and they can be relied upon to make a fight to the finish.

The college band has been practicing conscientiously, and will be in fine fettle. They will lead the parade to leave Wright Hall at 1:45 p. m. A tour of the business district will be made, yells and songs given, and then a return to the field in time for the game. All students are expected to be in the parade, and after the game starts to be in the same section of the field.

In the evening, there will be the three society banquets. Zeta Sigma will hold its annual banquet-dance, and Phi Phi Alpha will have its annual stag. Beta Tau Epsilon also announces that they will give their first banquet which will become an annual event on Home-Coming day.

Everything is ready for the starting gong. Let us hope that the weather-man will co-operate and furnish a day in keeping with the fine plans that have been made.

EUROPEAN SERVES DINNER

Last Thursday the members of the Alma College football squad enjoyed a wonderful steak dinner at the European Cafe. Before the football season started the management of the European expressed a desire to show their appreciation of a good college team by some worthy act. So the fact was made known that they would provide a steak dinner for the team for every home game played. Holding true to their promise, they set forth the second dinner the other evening. It surely brought out the smiles.

Avis Lane and Mildred Nicholas spent the week end at their homes in Midland.

Cecil B. DeMille's "Manslaughter" coming to the Strand soon.

WEEK'S GAMES FURNISH SOME GOOD COMPARISONS

The week's contests of Michigan Intercollegiate teams furnish some interesting comparisons, although as has often been pointed out dope on comparative scores is a mighty unreliable way of getting at the relative merits of teams. It will be remembered, however, that Alma defeated Olivet and Michigan State Normal. Glance at the scores. It might furnish an idea of what may happen November 25 at Mt. Pleasant. The weeks' scores for the M. I. A. A. teams follow:

At Alma—Alma College 36, Hillsdale College 7.
At Cedar Rapids, Iowa—Coe College 21, Albion 7.
At Kalamazoo—Kalamazoo College 7, St. Viator (Ill) College 0.
At Detroit—Olivet College 0, Detroit Junior College 0.
At Ypsilanti—Michigan State Normal 0, Mt. Pleasant Normal 0.
At Adrian—Adrian 7, Highland Park Junior 0.

Junior Class To Give Play Soon

Following tradition, the Junior Class is planning to put on a play, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to the expenses of the Maroon & Cream, which this class is publishing. Desiring to put on a play which was really worth while and at the same time not too serious, the committee finally decided to give "Her Husband's Wife," written by Augustus Thomas. The author is a playwright of no little note and this was his first and best known work. Several years ago this play had a highly successful run in Philadelphia and New York and has been put on by many stock companies since that time, with great success.

The plot centers around the idle wife of a husband with too much money and too little to do. She imagines herself about to die and chooses to pick out a wife for her husband, when she is gone. She—but that would be revealing too much and you would not enjoy it as much when you see it on the stage.

Lee Sharrar has accepted the responsibility of coaching "Her Husband's Wife," thus assuring its success. The committee, with the help of Mr. Sharrar, picked the cast, all of whom seem to fit into their parts remarkably well.

Stuart Randolph—Lowell Hudson. Richard Belden—Kenneth D. Fry. John Belden—Richard Boyd. Irene Randolph—Pauline Strick. Emily Ladew—Gladys Fryxell. Nora—Margaret Poole.

When you see the entanglement into which Irene gets, you will sit on the edge of your seat, wondering just how she is going to get away with it—or get out of it. And then when Dick Boyd, as the genial and sarcastic uncle, appears, you'll be simply convulsed with mirth at the remarks he makes. He simply—but you'll have to see for yourself.

The class has not decided upon the date as yet but it will be the last of November or the first or second week in December. Get your tickets early and get them reserved because you'll surely want front seats. Come out and see the funniest and best staged play ever put on in the Strand.

STUDENT VOLUNTEER SPEAKER

On Wednesday, November 1, Alma had as her guest a man from the National Student Volunteer Band, Lyman Hoover, a late student of Yale and a pledged missionary. Though he announced no subject for his talk in chapel on that morning his words were essentially a discourse on the Abundant Life.

"Christ is the driving force which puts reality into the shell of life," he said. "I invite you to pick out the men on the campuses of the colleges of this country who are doing things, who are getting grades, who are quietly working at big things without applause and I can rest assured that the majority will be men whom love of God has inspired."

Mr. Hoover's view of life's potentialities was perfectly fair. Not all can be missionaries nor would care to be, but that on the other hand must not blind any man to the possibilities that such is his field of life work. But being assured of the wisdom of the choice of the foreign field as a life job that man should count himself more than blessed for while work with the material brings only material gain the work with and for the infinite brings infinite rewards, happiness, satisfaction and peace.

Mr. Hoover is soon to sail for his post in the Orient and if our opinion is worth anything the Church has a mighty fine recruit for her foreign service.

DR. HALL VISITS ALMA

Dr. Winfield Scott Hall, a man of more than national reputation in his field, visited Alma last week. He addressed the men on Wednesday morning, and the women in the afternoon, on matters of sex health and hygiene.

BLUE AND WHITE PROVES EASY PREY

ALMA RUNS WILD IN FIRST HALF; HILLSDALE STIFFENS DURING FINAL PERIOD.

The Alma College football team surprised even its most enthused supporters Saturday when the Maroon and Cream romped over the Hillsdale collegians 36 to 7, a real feat when it is considered that the Hillsdale eleven is the strongest that that school has shown in upwards of a decade. Alma was never in danger from the visitors having a score of 26 to 0 when the first half ended, up to which time the Blue and White had not even made a serious threat.

Playing the best brand of football shown so far this season the team went into the fray to demonstrate evidently to its supporters that it has championship capabilities and it showed them, picking off two touchdowns in each of the first two quarters. Alma started early, forcing Hillsdale to kick immediately after the kickoff. Alma took the ball on the Hillsdale 47 and marched back on linesmashing by H. Catherman and Beam to the 15 yard line, where McDonald attempted a field goal on the fourth down from a wide angle. The attempt failed. Hillsdale immediately punted out of danger and then following an exchange of punts Alma took the ball on her own 45 yard line and by linesmashing carried the ball down the field, Beam contributing 27 of the yards needed on a single linesmash. McDonald went the final three yards for the touchdown. He failed to kick over the extra point. Alma 6, Hillsdale 0.

Alma kicked to Hillsdale and following an exchange of punts, "Dud" Johnson glomed onto a Hillsdale fumble on the Hillsdale 33 yard line and raced to the goal for the second touchdown. McDonald droppicked the goal. Alma 13, Hillsdale 0. Soon after this touchdown the quarter ended with Alma in possession of the ball on the Alma 43 yard mark.

Alma opened the second quarter with passes, after an offside penalty. McDonald heaved one to Johnston for 22 yards, and then a short one to Beam for 3 more. Hillsdale interfered on the next and it was ruled complete on the visitors 12 yard line. A pass to Johnston over the goal failed and it was Hillsdale's ball. Hillsdale punted to Alma in midfield. H. Catherman ripped off a first down and a pass McDonald to Johnston gave 30 and it was Alma's ball 6 yards from the goal. On the third down Beam smashed through for the counter. Mac failed to get the goal. Score, Alma 19, Hillsdale 0. After the next kickoff Hillsdale soon punted to Alma and a fumble gave the visitors the ball on the Alma 19 yard line. On the second play Shaver grabbed a fumble and went 50 yards before being pulled to earth. Hillsdale then intercepted an Alma pass, but on the

A LONG TRIP IF ALMA GETS TITLE

IN THE M. I. A. A.

During the past week Coe College, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, has offered the Alma College football team a game for Thanksgiving at Cedar Rapids, with the Coe eleven provided the Maroon and Cream aggregation wins the Michigan Intercollegiate football honors. The Coe gridders form one of the strongest college elevens in Iowa, and represent a college of nearly 1,500 students. It is doubtful if the athletic authorities will consider the offer prior to the Kalamazoo game, and then only in case Alma wins the coming three M. I. A. A. contests.

WELCOME

To the Alumni, former students and friends of Alma College, who expect to be here on Saturday, we extend a hearty welcome. Home-Coming day is a red-letter event in the school year of any college, not only to the alumni, but also to the present student body and to the faculty. Alumni come impelled by the motive of renewing old acquaintances, of visiting familiar scenes once more, and to note the progress that their Alma Mater has made. Faculty are interested because it gives them a chance to see what impress the world has made on the former student body, what they have done and if they have lived up to previous expectations. The new students are interested because the alumni constitute a body of which some day they will be a definite part. They like to hear the viewpoints of the alumni and how matters stood when they were in college. Thus there is a bond of interest which draws alumni, new students and faculty together for Home-Coming day.

Make this a banner Home-Coming day, alumni and former students. Come and see what progress Alma has made. Come and get acquainted with the largest student body that Alma has ever housed, meet the new members of the faculty and again greet the old, view for yourself the changes on the campus, visit once more the old hallowed spots that treasure memories for you. Drop in at Pioneer and Wright Hall, you will find new faces perhaps, but they will all be cordial, for we will be expecting you.

It will be a gala day Alumni. With Albion's football squad to furnish stout opposition, the game in the afternoon surely will be one long worth remembering. And Alma has a football team that you will be proud of. Come and help cheer them on to victory over Albion. In the evening there will be the three big society banquets to top the victory of the afternoon. Three banquets, you say—yes there is to be three this year. For there is a new brother society on the campus which has come into being through the increasing number of students each year. They have already caught the spirit of Alma and along with Zeta Sigma and Phi Phi Alpha, the new society, Beta Tau Epsilon will also put on a banquet Home-Coming day.

Thus Alumni you cannot afford to stay at home this year, for so doing you will miss a day that should mean a great deal to you. If you have always decided to come some year and have continually put it off then make a firmer decision this year and stand by it. You will never regret doing so, and if you attend one Home-Coming, you will decide that it is an event which must be adhered to yearly. There will be others here who come perhaps in the expectation of seeing you and other old classmates, do not disappoint them, but come and join in a grand reunion. Alma will be ready and waiting to welcome you. Alma is very proud of her Alumni and their deeds. Come and let us show our appreciation of what you have done for us and what you mean to us. Let Saturday be such a Home-Coming that it will always stand out in the annals of Alma College.

Y. W. C. A. TEA

Thursday afternoon, in Wright Hall the Y. W. C. A. were hostesses at a tea at which Chinese laces were offered for sale to help defray the expenses of the Chinese student who is to enter Alma next semester. Candle and firelight lent a congenial atmosphere to the function. Miss Lanier and Miss Munger poured and several freshman girls served. A dainty Japanese lady, familiarly known as Pauline Strick, presided at the sale of the laces.

ZETA SIGMA

The literary program of the last meeting was shortened in order to care for the accumulating business matters that claimed the attention of the society. At the conclusion of the business meeting, Johnston and Hickerson were initiated into the society.

HOME COMING DAY SATURDAY.

Third play following Johnston evened it up by picking a Hillsdale toss out of the air and going to the goal 30 yards away. McDonald dropkicked the goal. Score Alma 26, Hillsdale 0. Half ended after the kickoff.

With half a dozen new men working in the Alma lineup and Hillsdale coming back in the third quarter with aerial work in the hope of scoring, the game took on a different aspect. Alma carried the ball straight down the field however to the 25 yard line, where Hillsdale stiffened. McDonald on the fourth down dropped back to the 33 yard line and booted over a pretty dropkick. Score Alma 29, Hillsdale 0. Hillsdale came back with a rain of passes and on her own 45 yard line Fairgreives shot a pass to Gettings who took the ball at top speed and kept going to the goal line. Guthman booted the goal. Alma 29, Hillsdale 7.

Hillsdale did not look exceptionally dangerous after this touchdown, several changes being made in the lineup that changed the looks of the game again, and in the final quarter Alma staged another march, and it ended by Brackenberry crashing through the Hillsdale line for a touchdown from the 3 yard line.

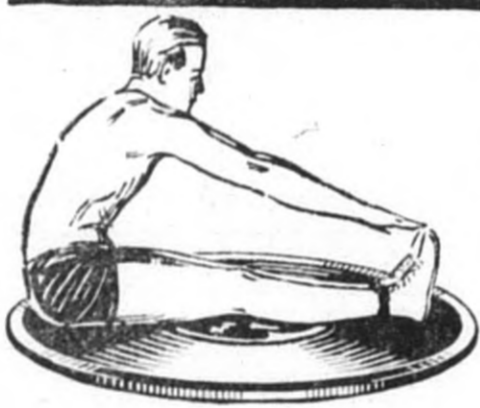

The entire Alma eleven played a stellar game, but to Johnston, McDonald, Beam, Shaver, and Stewart must be given the big share of the credit for the victory. Larson and Gettings were the big stars for Hillsdale.

There was much learning but little real knowledge in Galileo's time (1564-1642). Aristotle was swallowed in bad Latin translations. Iperse dixit. No one checked him by what seemed vulgar, coarse experiment.

Galileo fought against the dead hand of tradition. He did not argue about Aristotle, but put him to the test. Aristotle led his readers to believe that of two bodies the heavier will fall the faster. Galileo simply climbed to the top of the Leaning Tower of Pisa and dropped two unequal weights. The "heavy people" were horrified; they even refused to believe the result—that the weights reached the ground in equal times.

"Look at the world, and experiment, experiment," cried Galileo.

The biggest man in the 16th century was not Galileo in popular estimation, but Sulaiman the Magnificent, the Ottoman Emperor, who swept through Eastern Europe with fire and sword and almost captured Vienna. Where is his magnificence now?

Galileo gave us science—established the paramount right of experimental evidence. Sulaiman did little to help the world.

Hardly an experiment is made in modern science, which does not apply Galileo's results. When, for instance, the physicists in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company study the motions of electrons in rarified atmospheres, or experiment to heighten the efficiency of generators and motors, they follow Galileo's example and substitute facts for beliefs.

Y. W. C. A. MEETING

The Y. W. C. A. girls met before the cheerful fire in the living room of Wright Hall on Thursday evening. A very interesting meeting was led by Mildred Gerow. After the opening hymn she gave a short talk on the topic of the meeting: "Till the sands of the desert grow cold." Mildred Nicholas then read a letter from Mabel Field, formerly an Alma Student, who is now teaching the English department of Kobe College in Japan. Miss Field's enthusiasm for her work and her clear description of the Japanese girls in her classes made a very interesting letter. All the girls carried away a more intimate idea of life in Japan and the joys of missionary service there.

M. S. T. A.

The various Michigan State Teachers' Association meetings throughout the state were attended by some of the faculty. Prof. Hamilton and Prof. Ewing attended the gathering at Saginaw on last Monday and Tuesday. Prof. Ewing was chairman of the section on Classics and Prof. Hamilton, chairman of the section on English. On Monday night an Alumni banquet was held.

The week previous Prof. Mitchell was in attendance at Grand Rapids on Thursday and Friday. On Nov. 2nd and the 3rd President Crooks was to leave for a similar meeting in Detroit.

Reth Allen spent the week end at her home in Midland. She was accompanied by Lucille Alderton.

ALBION SATURDAY

Saturday afternoon Alma football fans will have the opportunity of seeing what without a question will be the most hotly contested fray of the entire season when Albion and Alma colleges clash on Davis field in the fray that will see one of these elevens eliminated from consideration in the Michigan Intercollegiate championship race, leaving the title up to the winner of this game and Kalamazoo.

Since the game with Hillsdale which Alma romped off with easily 36 to 7 Saturday there has come a grave danger that the Maroon and Cream may suffer from over confidence on the eve of the big Armistice day, and "home coming" game of the season, as the Methodists on the previous Saturday could only stow away Hillsdale 14 to 0. Over confidence on the part of Alma right now might spoil any chance that Alma has at the title tag.

In this connection it is worthy of note that the Hillsdale eleven was pointed for the game with Albion which was regarded as the hardest of the two frays, and suffered a natural let-down during the week as a result, and undoubtedly did not show the strength against Alma that she did against the Miller men. It might also be pointed out that two of Alma's touchdowns against Hillsdale were of the lucky variety. No effort is attempted to discount the splendid victory over the Blue and White, but it is highly important that the Maroon and Cream realize that it has a real man-sized job on its hands in stopping Albion, which in view of the Hillsdale-Alma score will not be suffering from any over-confidence such as it has apparently had for some time. The Hillsdale-Alma score has probably acted as a dash of cold water on the Albion confidence and the Albionites will be looking for a real contest and Alma will not be able to inject any surprise element into the game as a result.

The team came through the Hillsdale game in fine shape and will be in the best condition to face Albion but it has been in during the entire season, and if the team does not suffer from over-confidence fur is going to fly.

PHI PHI ALPHA

In the absence of President Wilson, Vice-president Boyd took the chair and conducted the business of the evening. The literary program consisted of two papers: "Turkey Today" by Ernest Freeman, and "The Political Situation in England" by Howard Ainsworth. Mr. Lewis responded to the impromptu on the coat and railroad situation. Critic's report was followed by adjournment.

Campus Breezes

J. C. Foster driven to desperation by one of Dr. Brokenshire's examination questions wrote, "The Lord knows, I don't."

When he received his paper he found opposite the question, "The Lord gets the credit, you don't."

Like father, like son, but like daughter and you don't give a rap about the "old man."

Shiek—"There's an awful rumbling in my stomach, like a cart going over a cobblestone."

Ping—"It's probably that truck you ate for dinner."

Seasickness

First hour—"There is a peculiar feeling around the abdomen."

Second hour—"The feeling increases. You are afraid you are going to die."

Third hour—"You're afraid you're not going to die."

Here lies the body
Of William Jay,
Who died maintaining
His right of way.

"He was right all right,
As he sped along,
But he's just as dead
As if he'd been wrong."

"U. P." Wit

Lee Sharrar—Where was the Declaration of Independence signed?
Shadow (after a moment's hesitation)—At the bottom.

Brackenbury (riding on the train)—This tunnel cost millions of dollars.

Joe Peavy—An entire waste of money as far as you're concerned, isn't it?

Jack and Jill
Went to a still
And with a man did dicker.
When they came back,
They had no jack
And but a jill of licker.

Lowell in Detroit with his Ford—
Say, officer, where do you leave your car when you want to go to the theater?

Officer—Why don'tcha buy an extra seat for it?

Irene—"Broke as usual. Did you ever succeed in making both ends meet?"

Red—"Yes. When I was a baby I used to put my toes in my mouth."

ALPHA THETA

The Alpha Theta literary society was called to order by the president on Monday, October the thirtieth. Roll call was answered by the name of some important English woman and a fact about her life. The impromptu "Some English Women Novelists," was given by Elizabeth Williams. Norma Messecar in a paper "Women from English Literature" gave a brief but interesting summary of the lives of some of the most noted novelists. Beatrice Cottle sang "Morning" by Speaks. A short talk on Lady Astor was given by Marjorie Dunton.

KAPPA IOTA

Preceding the regular meeting of the Kappa Iota Literary Society, there was a brief meeting of the pledges. The regular meeting was called to order by the President. The roll call was answered by the name of a well known painting. The resignation of the president, owing to ill-health, was read and accepted. The vice-president, Margaret Morrison, now becomes president. A lengthy business meeting followed and the meeting was then adjourned.
