ALMA WINS OPENER AGAINST SAGINAW

Squad Takes Independents into Camp Saturday by 12-4 Count.

In several spots in the opening game of the season Saturday with the Saginaw Independents the Alma College baseball team had all of the earmarks of a real aggregation...

The game had all of the earmarks of a real struggle for the first few innings, with MacDonald for Alma and Elliott for the Independents...

There is little question but what Alma must show much stronger this Friday to tumble the Teachers than she appeared last week end against the Saginaw Independents.

MacDonald—4, by Catherman 4, by Elliott 12, by Stewart 1. Bases on balls—off MacDonald 2, off Elliott 3. Stolen bases—Cary 2, Hunter, Shaver. Sacrifice fly—Beverly. Umpire—Hickerson.

YPSI COMING FRIDAY

On Friday the Maroon and Cream diamond team will clash with the Teachers from Michigan State Normal on Davis field and a red-hot battle is being anticipated...

The Teachers are getting some real pitching from Lou of Ann Arbor, this year, and they have every confidence that they will show the stuff that is needed to repel the Alma hitters...

Just who Coach Campbell will elect to start against the Teachers is not known yet, of course, but it would not be the most surprising thing in the world if two of the local hurlers did duty against the Michigan State Normal outfit...

There is little question but what Alma must show much stronger this Friday to tumble the Teachers than she appeared last week end against the Saginaw Independents.

Home Concert Proves Highly Entertaining

A very large and appreciative audience gathered at the Strand Theater Wednesday evening for the annual home concert of the Glee Club. Numerous outbursts and unusual encores to which the Club and its various entertainers responded...

The vocal solos of Prof. Ewer and Lowell Hudson were very well rendered and well received. The solo work of Kenneth Wolfe on the violin, saxophone and clarinet was greatly enjoyed.

The quartet composed of Hughes, West, Hudson and Merriam in a host of harmonious selections were encored again and again until apparently their supply had been exhausted.

Credit should be given Hudson in his work because of his participation in the greater share of the program. As president of the Club, Hudson has worked hard and the realization of his endeavors should be of credit to him.

It would be indeed a difficult and arduous task to enumerate all of the functions of college life which bring the institution of learning before the public eye. But it would be a great mistake on the other hand if one should fail to give this year's Glee Club the place which they have won in helping to put Alma on the map.

In May the Club will take another trip and will sing in Grand Rapids before the Presbyterian General Assembly. It is probable that the Club will also appear at Albion about the same time.

It is probable that the Club will also appear at Albion about the same time. It is probable that the Club will also appear at Albion about the same time.

During the trip the men showed a marked ability in more lines than that of singing. To mention all of these would be tiresome but the warm praise which comes from out of the North for the fellows is not to be expressed in words.

OLD CABINET BANQUETS SUCCESSORS

Y. W. C. A. Officers Hold Entertainment Saturday Night.

The retiring members of the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet gave the annual banquet to their successors in the work on Saturday evening, April 12. The first course of the affair was served in the Wright Hall dining room where the banqueters were seated at tables arranged in a large "Y" in front of the fire-place.

Dorothy Flannegin, the retiring president, acted as toastmistress. In her introductory speech, Miss Flannegin spoke on the subject, "Embarassing." She was followed by Miss LoReta Neely, the new president with the topic, "Standing on the Prow."

Florence Leighton then rendered a piano solo, "Nocturne" by Myer Hallmand. Bernice Evans followed with an uplifting talk, untitled, "Unfamiliar Waters."

Miss Ethel West sang a very appreciative solo, "Ayla" by Carl Beecher. The program was closed with a talk by Mrs. Crooks on the "Chart and Compass and its application to the Y. W. organization."

STRAW VOTE

Last Wednesday morning after the chapel hour, a straw vote was taken on the Presidential candidates. The affair was sponsored by the Republican Club, and the results show that the "Grand Old Party" maintains a place in the hearts of college men.

The results are as follows: Coolidge, 134; Mac Adoo, 24; Hughes 14; Johnson, 10; Underwood, 10; La Follette, 4; Smith, 2; and Davis, 2.

Prof. Ewer to Take Charge of Tracksters

Announcement has been made that J. W. Ewer of the Music Department, a former track star at Morningside, Iowa college, will have charge of the track squad at Alma College this year, and he is now actively engaged with the cinderpath men who will represent the Maroon and Cream during the 1924 campaign.

This means of course that Coach Campbell will probably be able to devote more time to the base ball team, as he will be relieved of some of the worries of coaching two teams this spring. He will aid Coach Ewer, however.

Just what Alma's track prospects are is a matter that only the future can disclose. Bailey and Bently are apparently the only old track men back, who have won points in previous seasons and Coach Ewer must turn his attention to developing new men for the squad.

He has a number of men working out, some of whom are showing real possibilities. Of the two old men, Bailey is a pole vaulter and jumper, and Bently, a dash man.

Easter Breakfast Is Well Attended

On Easter morning was held the annual May-morning Breakfast at Wright Hall. The dining Hall, resplendent with added beautiful decorations made a very delightful and effective occasion of the annual affair.

Some two hundred participants made up of students, faculty, and guests sat down to the luncheon at nine o'clock, with Pres. Crooks responding grace.

Following the breakfast the guests adjourned to the Reception with Prof. Ewer rendering solos appropriate to the occasion.

Send the Almanian home.

MANY GUESTS OVER WEEK END

Many guests were entertained during the Easter season at Wright Hall. Among them were the following: Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Poole of Pontiac; Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Brooks of Mt. Pleasant; Miss Helen Brien of Manistee; Miss Marjorie McLearn of Tecumseh; Miss Edith Hughes of Rad Axe; Miss Irene Anguish of Uby and Miss Beatrice Shaunding of Breckenridge.

The following girls spent the week end out of town: Margaret Maxwell, Olga Down, Ethel West, and Beulah Watson, Elizabeth White, and Dorothy Fox, Saginaw; LoReta Neely, Helen McDougal, Doris Browne and Jennie Gilbert, Flint; Erma Burgess, Mildred Nicholas, Ruth Allen and Marjorie Furman, Midland; Marie Lamilton, Detroit; Ethel Fitzpatrick, Ionia; Mildred and Margaret Young, Lansing; Rhea Joy Stinson, Lansing; Mary Hagaman, Brown City; and Josephine Peavy, Howell.

Because of the numerous week end absences, the Sunday night seating of the Hall guests was better taken care of and normal conditions once more experienced.

Sunday night diners at the Hall were given their choice of plain and lettuce sandwiches. However ice cream was in order.

Kazoo Professor Is Alma Speaker

Alma is being very fortunate in attracting speakers of no mean ability and reputation to her chapel platform this year. Almost every week during the last semester we have had a man who brought to the student body, some interesting message from the world outside the college circle.

Alma has never been more fortunate than on last Wednesday morning, when Dr. Ernest Burnham of the Kalamazoo Normal School spoke on the subject, "The Community of a Man's Life."

In a speech replete with humor, Professor Burnham gave food for thought sufficient to fill several nooks in the channels of our minds. He discussed the various characteristics necessary to give a man or woman a full life.

First, such a man must have a personality. He must develop that part in himself which is likable. Incidentally he ought to look for this quality in others; everyone possesses it. Second, he must have personal vigor. Vim and life add greatly to a man's enjoyment of life. They also cause him to be respected by his fellows. Third, he must develop his social resources. It should not do for him to be a wall-flower. It is meant that he should be ready to put whatever social gifts he possesses into use when the occasion should demand it. He must develop the little things that make his personality different and exceptional from that of others and therefore interesting. Fourth, everyone ought to have acquisitiveness of mind, which is in brief a desire to know and a restlessness at anything remaining unexplained. Fifth and lastly, one ought to have the summary of all of these, which the speaker termed, 'spiritual contagion.' "This," he explained, "is what makes a man or a woman a success. The ability to make one's self known and recognized, loved and appreciated by others is the main part and chief aim of life."

Dr. Burnham was an Alma visitor in the interest of the Alma Chamber of Commerce. He gave a short address at the High School at 3 o'clock of the same day. His talk before the Commerce meeting was entitled "Uniting the Units" in which he talked on the various cycles of life and uniting all together went to make up what we call everyday life.

Harold Hickerson, Captain of last year's M. I. A. A. Base ball champs was a campus visitor during the past week. Hick has been working with a Detroit Express company since leaving the University of Detroit last winter.

He came up to get a little preliminary practice before joining the Toledo Mudhens with whom he will perform this season.

If you can't smile, imitate someone who can.

CRISP ADDRESSES "Y" AT LAST MEET

Y. M. Hears Republic Leader on "Why Men Go Wrong With Money."

"When you set out to do a thing, see that you do it as you agreed to. A man that steals time, steals money," said Mr. Crisp of the Republic Motor Co., last Thursday evening in an address to the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Crisp in discussing the question of "Why Men Go Wrong with Money," stated that what the business world needs is men who are able to receive a salary of five or six figures, without thinking of how they are going to spend the money when they get it.

The speaker used the Willys-Overland Automobile Co. as an example. Earle was placed at the head of a financial department and failed, because he did not know how to spend money, and other men could not hold the position for the same reason. Then Howard P. Chrysler took the job and succeeded. As a result he receives a salary of six figures.

Mr. Crisp told the story of the young lawyer who hung out his shingle, and sat down to await clients. Soon a man entered, and the young attorney picked up the phone and feigned conversation over an important matter. After he had hung up the receiver, he turned to the man who had entered and said, "Now, sir, what do you wish?" I came to connect the telephone," answered the gentleman. Don't try to bluff," added Mr. Crisp.

Those present entered into a general discussion afterwards, and an enjoyable half hour was spent.

The next Y meeting will be held the coming Thursday. After the meeting, (in the chapel), the body will adjourn to the jungle, where a spread will be held around the campfire. Then a sing will flow from the museum steps to conclude the program. Every man in the college is invited, and a large crowd is desired. Everything's free.

"The Hour Glass" Is Well Received

Before an appreciative audience, which filled the chapel, Thursday night, April 10, the freshmen girls of the Y. W. C. A. under the direction of Dorothy Flannegin and June Lewis, presented "The Hour Glass" a one-act play by William Butler, Yates. Novel lighting scenes and an artistic stage setting lent the proper atmosphere to the play.

The cast was headed by June Lewis, as the 'Wise Man' who had taught his scholars to disbelieve anything which they did not see. An angel, Winifred Mills, appeared to him, saying, that unless he could find within the hour, someone who still believed, in spite of his teachings, he should forfeit his life.

In desperation, he appeals to his scholars, Mary Hagaman, Mary Price, and Alma Gilbert; and to his wife, played by Erma Burgess, and finally to his children, Elizabeth Brooks and Marie Hamilton. Among all of these he finds no one who still believes.

As the last grains of the sand in the hour glass fall, he finds that Tigue, the fool, Ethelyn Adams, whom he has scorned before still retains his faith and belief. The Wise Man is saved, but as the angel reappears, he falls dead. The play closes with a particularly effective ensemble in which the Angel is the central figure.

The play was very well received and too much credit cannot be given those who were connected with its production. Much work was necessary for the parts of several of the characters to say nothing of the effectiveness of the scenery into which the girls transformed the chapel stage.

The lighting which was made effective by the use of improved footlights and a spotlight, showed what could be done with the stage in the way of production.

WHAT THE WOMEN THINK

Once again, the indefatigable question of the hoped for privileges of the women of Wright Hall.

It is generally understood that the men of the college consider the privileges too much for little girls to ask. If the young men headed the list of advisors, they would not consider the allowance of more open hours. If, on the other hand, the men were housed in Wright Hall, put under similar rules and were made to feel the responsibility of obeying them it is certain they would stop to consider and then object strenuously to the closed hours.

The instituting of more open hours does not necessarily mean that the fellows must rush to Wright Hall and claim his choice for every minute that there is open house.

The girls are old enough to walk down the streets of the little city without the escort of the manly men.

It is a distinctive feeling among Wright Hall women that more open hours does not mean more time with the men. Do the men understand that? They should not be so vain as to feel that the young women cannot get along without them for a little while.

The time amounting to about three hours per day would be the girls' own time. She might use it as she pleaseth, for instance, a Saturday evening with her particular girl friends and just think, in passing, she would not be using a precious social cut that the male sex count and cherish so highly.

Every night a college girl is in her own room at ten o'clock and most every night she has been there since seven-thirty and all this time studying. Can the young men say as much.

Inasmuch as the Wright Hall girl is as old as the average of the men, she is just as sensible and at the same time her scholastic standing is as high. Why then do the men students of Alma College object to the askance of a few more privileges.

THE IMPORTANCE OF BEING EARNEST

There is a certain elusive quality possessed by many college students and practised in the class-room, which if cultivated and perfected, would, without a doubt, place them in the ranks of the ten noted statesmen and diplomats of the day. This quality is called by various names, such as 'good line' or 'bluff.' This is not anything to be smiled at; only the most clever can use it to advantage.

No definition of it can be given, nor is there any fixed rule by which one can acquire it. Each individual must learn the way to its rewards by experience. For this reason, a freshman need not despair if he fails to make the desired impression when he attempts to use this power. By the time he has reached the last glorious year of his college career, he will by diligent effort, have succeeded in becoming quite expert. Although there are no laws which one can apply to this art, there are some hints which can be given.

'Bluff' all you will and can, but be earnest about it; conceal it from your friends as well as your professors; do not be too timed, but above all else, do not under-rate the importance of being earnest.

SRPINGS SIGNS

Indeed I know that gentle spring is come,
With wings afflutter o'er the earth;
The sun will burn with ancient fire;

I know that this is Gea's grand re-birth.

Not alone I know by flowers blooming
Nor mighty feline serenade
Nor by the birdies singing
Nor by the tents the leafy boughs have made.

For even these signs may fail in proving
That winter's deadly reign is o'er;
Snows may cover the nestlings
Icy hands may grasp the flowers again.

What power maketh Thomas Cat to yowl,
And brings crows' cawing in its train.
Has filled the grove and library steps
For lo! the fussers are abroad again.
Pat.

PANDEMONIUM

Episode I.

It fell and mighty was the fall of it!
There was a running and a cry by night;
And through the pitchy darkness rose the wail,
Of haughty souls deep-drenched with dew of battle,
The cry of wrestlers with the angry wave:
"Surely 'tis not meet that I should perish here,
Drowned basely with the common herd!"
Then voices dimmed and silence reigned again.

Episode II.

There was a council held among the chiefs
And woeful faces grimly heard the tale
Of the dread fight; Consternation gaped
From mouths wide open, from tongues held still by awe;
With befuddled brains they figured reparation.
Methinks that one would say, the 'floating fund',
The hall was floating when the plaster fell.

College Dramatic Club Organized

The Dramatic League of Alma College, an organization fostering the interest in drama and better play production, was formed at a meeting of those interested last Thursday evening. The major benefits to the college as a result will be improvement in the acting and presentation of plays and an opportunity for lower classmen to develop their talents.

Officers for the remainder of this semester and for next year were elected. The President is Phil Lewis, Vice President Virginia Tremaine, treasurer Elliott Crooks, and secretary Christine Decker. The Board of Directors consists of Eunice Houghton, Elliott Crooks, Loreta Neely, Margaret Morrison, Miss Lanier and the president.

What the organization will first undertake has not as yet been determined, but in the future there will probably be numerous productions offered each year and at least one play will be taken on a tour of other cities, similar to the trips of the Glee Clubs. Everyone on the campus is to be given an opportunity to show their interest and ability and new members will probably be added to those who are behind the movement at the present time.

A short play will be given each fall by the freshmen under the direction of the League and those in the new class having merit will thus be discovered. The type of plays to be given will be of a variety consisting of popular pieces and the classics, and will be presented in the best manner possible.

There is to be a meeting of the Dramatic League this week, at which time the work to be done this spring will be determined and the decisions announced as soon as they are made.

PHILOMATHEAN

The regular meeting of the Philomathean Literary Society was conducted by the Juniors Monday night with Zada Doerr presiding. After roll-call and a short business meeting, the motion was in order to proceed to the special program of the evening.

A one-act play, "The Bank Robbery" was presented. The play was offered in such a realistic manner that the audience was held in suspense till the last as to the solution of the mystery. The costuming and the clever lighting added greatly to the effectiveness.

Claire Vreeland played a piano solo from the opera, "Rigoletto" which everyone enjoyed.

The Junior sextette accompanied by Miss Doerr at the ukelele rendered a parody on "Comin' through the Rye" featuring the Senior members. This was enthusiastically received.

The meeting formally adjourned and refreshments were served.

Season's Schedule Nearly Completed

Alma's base ball schedule is replete this year with mid-week games both on foreign diamonds and at home. Difficulties between schools has made it impossible to arrange the regular week end games which are the most acceptable. This year every day in the week, except Sunday, will be represented during the season on the diamond schedule.

In addition to the two games already played, there will probably be twenty more tilts for the aggregation before the final with Mt. Pleasant Normal on June 17.

The schedule to date follows:
April 25—Michigan State Normal at Alma.

April 26—Open.

May 1—Albion college at Alma.

May 3—Olivet College at Alma.

May 7—Central State Normal at Mt. Pleasant.

ALUMNI NEWS

Homer W. Grimes who in his Alma days was manager of the college glee club is now the pianist of the Bob Jones Evangelistic Party. Grimes is a composer of gospel hymns and their tunes and the editor of the song book used by the Jones party. During February and the first of March, Bob Jones conducted a great tabernacle campaign at Kokomo, Indiana, and Mr. Grimes discovered that he was associated with a former Almanian in the person of Hurd Allyn Drake, 1911, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church there. Needless to say there was an old time talk-feast about the things of common interest. Mr. Grimes is very winsome, and makes a host of friends wherever he goes and Alma may well be proud to have had him for a time for one of her sons.

Rev. Hurd Allyn Drake, '11, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Kokomo, Illinois, writes that in the two years he has been located there, he has a total of 438 members of the church, a net gain of 146 since first going there.

Stuart Pratt, '23 was an Alma caller last week. Pratt has been attending the McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago since leaving Alma last year. He expects to leave soon for Oregon where he has been called to take over a parish there.

"The Bachelor's Club" of McQuaig "dorm" held an election last Monday evening and elected the following officers: President, John Hilderly; Vice President, Chuck James; Sec'y, Goldie Layman. Harlie Catherman applied for admission and was given the pledge pin. He will be closely watched by the other members of the Club, and if he succeeds in dodging the wiles of the Leap Year Amazons for the period of one week, he will be voted in.

By a vote of 232 to 17, the student body of Kalamazoo College voted Wednesday to accept the proposed constitution which was the result of constructive effort on the part of the Student Senate and will go before the spring primary this week.

The long delayed action toward a woman's dormitory at Kalamazoo College ended last week when the trustees ordered work to begin at once on its construction. The building will cost $105,000 and will be built on the English Cottage type.

Compilations of the scholarship standings at Hillsdale College recently showed that the women averaged much higher than the men.

The Albion Glee Club which sang at Alma recently, will give their season's final at Albion this week in the twenty-first appearance of the season. In a bus trip, which covered 600 miles, the Methodists appeared before audiences totaling 8,000 people.

Kalamazoo Normal defeated Albion 3-0 at Kalamazoo last Tuesday. Nagler, one of the pitching force for Albion was used behind the bat because of the illness of the regular catcher.

On May 24, there will be an inter-scholastic track and field meet at the University of Michigan to which twelve hundred schools have been invited to participate. All Michigan schools have been extended an invitation as well as hundreds of others from outside of the state. This will take place one week before the Olympic tryouts at the University.

In response to the government demand for men trained to make use of the 1,500,000 pounds of Soldatol, war salvage explosive which will be placed in Michigan this year, The Michigan Agricultural College has instituted a special course in explosives and blasting.

Recently, the Olivet Collegians decided that a new Gymnasium was desired. To start the ball rolling, several of the more enthusiastic members relieved the faculty of their duties during the morning devotions and started a campaign for subscriptions then and there.

Jack Reynolds has been chosen to succeed Reece as captain of next year's basket ball team at Hillsdale.

As yet no definite action seems to have taken place toward the placing of a new coach at Albion to succeed Miller who will be leaving in June.

LIBRARY NOTES

The Committee on Special Lectures for Alma College has endeavored to secure a visit and lecture from Dr. Robert Bridges, the poet laureate of Great Britain, who is now at the University of Michigan. Dr. Bridges sends word that "in view of the fact that his stay is to be brief and that circumstances forbid extensive traveling and speaking in this country, he is forced to decline with every expression of regret."

The library has recently secured a copy of a book by E. K. Broadus entitled "The laureateship: a study of the office of Poet laureate in England with an account of the poets," published in 1921. Dr. Bridges is included in the volume. The library also has a book by F. E. B. Young, "Robert Bridges, a critical study," published in 1914. Also a Bibliography of the work of Robert Bridges, by I. A. Williams, published in 1921.

A special number of the Michigan Technic dealing with the subject of transportation has been received at the library. Many prominent leaders in all lines of transportation have contributed to the magazine and all phases of the subject have been touched upon.

The exhibit for this week is on New Orleans and Chattanooga.

The unknown writer of last week's Library Notes (in the Almanian special edition,) should be encouraged to study library methods. He might make quite a success as a Library Reporter.

Miss Marjorie Dunton was the guest of Miss Virginia Tremaine over the week end of the 13th. Miss Dunton ex '25 was a former student at Alma and is now supervising and organizing the library of the Barkley High School, Detroit.

Bury your failures as the doctors do.

Sophs to Give Annual Spring Formal

On Friday night, April 25, the Sophomores will give their annual formal party in the Gymnasium. This dance promises to be one of the gala events of the year.

A special orchestra is promised by the class officials and the decorations will be the most unusual ever seen in the new gymnasium.

Many attempts have been made to offer a real attractive decoration over the vast expanse of gymnasium ceiling all of which have failed in furnishing anything above mediocrity. The Sophs have obtained the services of a decorating establishment from Pittsburg in solving the problem. Special materials have been forwarded and work will begin early this week in order to complete the job by Friday evening.

The class is to be congratulated in their endeavors and a fancy turn-out is to be expected to the occasion. It is one which should not be missed by any dance enthusiast as it promises to be the sensation of the year.

PHI PHI ALPHA

The new officers for the third period of the year took office at the regular meeting, April 7th. After a lengthy business meeting the society enjoyed an interesting program. Don Campbell gave a paper on "Varied Estimates of Woodrow Wilson" and Freeman and Andrews discussed the pros and cons of the Muscle Shoals question.

Adjournment.

President Bailey called the business meeting of Phi Phi Alpha for April 14th, to order which was followed by an entertaining program. Ronald Harris out-did himself in presenting the "Problem of the Darned Fool." Mr. Harris found statistics for showing that there were many of them outside of State Institutions. Carl Wood read a sarcastic magazine article on "The Benefits of the Intelligence Test" or the "Booby Prize of Science." Snell and Gainer told of the benefits of college. Intelligence tests haven't proven wonderful for them as yet, it would seem. F. Eugene Smythe delivered the critic's report. The janitors moved adjournment to the De Luxe.

KAPPA IOTA

The regular meeting of the Kappa Iota Literary Society was held Monday night, April 14. A debate, Resolved, "That the Ku Klux Klan should be condemned by all right thinking Americans" took place.

The affirmative was upheld by Thelma Potter, Olga Down, Marjorie Furman; while the negative was upheld by Margaret Morrison, Mary Campbell and Kathryn Lee.

The judges decision showed a three-nothing decision for the negative.

Adjournment.

ALPHA THETA

The regular meeting of the Alpha Theta Literary Society was held Monday night, April 14. After a short business meeting, an initiation service was held in which five new members were taken in.

HOPS OF THE HORSEHIDE
By P. D. Gesner

Note: During the remainder of the base ball season, this column will appear weekly, and contain little incidents of interest concerning the pennant chasers of Alma College.

The game last Saturday looked kind of shaky until the sixth inning. The score stood 3 to 2 in favor of Saginaw, but in the 6th frame, the boys opened up, and pushed across four runs. Rathsburg, MacDonald, Tredway, and Hunter were the scorers in this inning. Carty's long single made half of the scoring possible.

In the 7th inning, LaBrake of Saginaw knocked out a long one, that stopped between the library and museum. It would have been a counter, if the "Young Babe" had touched second base, Beverly and Wright, with their quick thinking prevented this tally. The play was Tredway to Rathsburg, to Welthoelder to Wright.

Elliot of Saginaw pitched a fine game, getting thirteen strikeouts. When the local boys hit him however, they hit him hard.

Wagner pulled a sensation when he joined the game in the 7th inning. The first time up, he knocked a short one up the first base line, and the pitcher in attempting to retrieve it, stumbled and fell. Wagner hurried him, and reached first safely. He then stole second and third, and went home on an overthrow.

Esther says that Shorty played a good game. She was at the window of the fourth floor of Wright Hall.

Welthoelder got the longest hit of the day. He reached third before the ball got back in the infield. It drove in two runs.

Wagner has played five innings so far this season, participating in two games. He has been at bat twice, receiving a hit each time, so is credited with an average of 1.000.

Wright got a pretty two-base hit in the 7th, which scored Welthoelder.

MacDonald is still cussing Umpire Hickerson, for calling his long drive into left field a foul. Many spectators still claim that the ball lit inside. Never Mind, Mac, we didn't need the run anyway.

Catherman struck out the three men in the last half of the ninth inning.

Bud Campbell is again back at his old position as bat-boy. Keep watch for crossed bats, Bud!

The first M. I. A. A. game of the year is here Saturday. We hope that there is ice on the river.

This column hereby offers a Hamburger sandwich and a cup of coffee to the first man who makes a home run. (Just the FIRST man.) Let's go, Cuddy!

The Coach used a little judgement, and growing weary of the slaughter, sent Brownian into the left garden instead of to the mound.

Cuddy Shaver was the only man in the game to bat twice in the same inning.

If one ball is a daisy, two balls is a pair, three balls is a shock-shop, what is four balls? Answer: A walk.

Batteries for today: Willard and Westinghouse for the victors, Ever-ready and Kwik-life.

Seniors Will Not Give April Play

The Senior Play, "A Pair of Sixes" which was scheduled to be presented April 29, has been postponed. It was the plan of the class to present two plays before commencement, with this to be the first of the series. Because of the lack of time, it was deemed to be impossible in the face of so many other activities.

"A Pair of Sixes" is a very clever play and with Wyatt and Hudson taking the leading part it promises to be a knockout. This will be the only play of the year to be given by the Seniors and will be presented during commencement week, as the Senior contribution to the final activities of the year.
