SOPHS HELD TO SCORELESS TIE

FROSH SPRING BIG SURPRISE; CARTY AND McNAUGHTON GAIN WITH EASE.

Clad in borrowed rags, the grim and resolute warriors of the Sophomore and freshman classes came forth to do battle on the old war grounds (Davis field) Monday afternoon of last week. Previous to the appearance of this last troupe from the "Inter-Class Vaudeville Circuit" there was a great deal of wrangling and no action taken to set a definite date for the conflict that should decide the supremacy of either team in football. Possibly the inability to get sufficient padding gathered together at one time caused the innumerable postponements of the struggle whose precedent is already sufficiently seasoned.

Fearing to arouse too much derision from the upper classes, the lower classes accepted Monday as the day set aside especially for the slaughter. The Sophomores kindly assumed the responsibility of caring for the soon-to-be maimed and mangled "frosh" but upon more consideration of their offer, decided that an application of kindness, administered to the yearlings would be much more gratifying to the onlookers and indeed, much less disastrous to the Sophomore treasury. The frosh, having instructed the timekeepers to curtail the time in the quarters, felt reasonably sure that in Referee Carty they had a consistent ground gainer and three officials, and the aid of Providence thrown in they would be able to stave off the death dealing rushes of the Sophomore eleven and possibly tear off a few yards occasionally when the opposition was not too alert. The Sophs were well represented in the field in the body of "Step-and-a-half" McNaughton, a well known athlete from Alma College.

Absence of gambling tendencies caused the Soph captain to succumb to the practised hand of the Frosh leader, and the frosh won the toss, choosing to receive the ball first. Beckton returned the kickoff to the forty yard line. Being unable to gain through the stone-wall defense of the Sophs, the freshmen punted. The Sophs returned the ball to mid-field and made gains through the line and over the opposing backfield via the air route. Penalty forced Kirker to punt for the Sophs. Then followed a series of punts, one side being practically as adept at punting as the other. (Any advantage going to the Sophomores). In the fourth quarter, Van Page returned a punt to the fresh ten yard line but because of a fumble, his team was unable to score. The frosh punted again, Beckton completely outsmarting the Soph defensive quarter. The Sophs then completed a pass, Kirker to Boyd and were within striking distance. For the fourth time they proved they were indisposed and the fumble was recovered by the ever-squirring Apsley. All attempts through the line and by forward passes made by the frosh were frustrated by the Soph team. In a final effort to score, a minute later, Kirker tried a pass which was intercepted by Stephens. The speedy frosh back

KAZOO IS PROBABLY CHAMP

Kalamazoo College probably won the Michigan Intercollegiate championship in football for 1921 Saturday when Casteel slipped over a touchdown on Albion in the final quarter giving the Orange and Black a 7 to 0 victory over the Methodist aggregation. The only possibility of Kalamazoo College being beaten out of the championship will be at Alma on November 19, when her veteran aggregation clashes with Campbell's near Frosh eleven. A win for Alma would smear the championship prospects so that no team could justly claim a title. By the way, such a happening would make the Maroon and Cream about the biggest noise in the association.

ELIZABETH M. ROBERTS

In Memoriam

THE sudden death Monday evening of Dean Elizabeth M. Roberts came as a severe shock to the college body. The announcement was without foreboding, she apparently being in the best of health.

Alma College feels deeply the loss of one who has been so dear to the hearts of those with whom she has been associated. Possessed of unusual ability, of unswerving devotion to duty, and of high nobility of character, she leaves an influence that will be potent in the lives of all who knew her. Relinquishing an easier occupation, she had returned this year to a difficult position of service to the college, and may truly be said to have given her life in that service. The student body and faculty unite in an expression of sincere sympathy to the relatives.

All classes were suspended Tuesday, and a short Memorial Chapel Service was held at three o'clock. President Crooks will accompany the body to Meadville, Pennsylvania, where the funeral services will be held.

M. I. A. A. RESULTS

The Michigan Intercollegiate saw no upsets in dope this past week, except down at Albion, where the Methodists had figured strongly on their team defeating Kalamazoo. Since defeating M. A. C. Albion had regarded herself as the M. I. A. A. champ. The Junior-Olivet game was not an association contest. The week's scores follow:
 Hillsdale 14, Alma 0.
 Kalamazoo 7, Albion 0.
 Detroit Junior 26, Olivet 0.

Alma Will Furnish Battle for Albion

Alma's football team will help Albion celebrate "Home Coming" day Saturday, the Maroon and Cream game with the Methodist collegians being made the center of the stage for the annual return of the former Albion students to their Alma Mater. Although defeated by Kalamazoo 7 to 0 Saturday in the battle for the Michigan Intercollegiate championship, the Maroon and Cream is not overlooking the fact that the Albionites have a wonderful small college aggregation, as the defeat of M. A. C. by the Methodists indicated. Fourteen letter men from previous seasons are on hand for the Albion coach and he has been using them to good advantage.

Against these fourteen letter men Alma will at most show only four men who played college football previous to this year, four men who fought on a team that failed to win a game a year ago. The balance of the squad is composed of men new to college game this year.

Naturally Alma's prospects for Saturday do not look any too encouraging with Carty out of the game for the season. From the showing of the team during the past two or three weeks one might think that Albion would roll up a count of around 40 points on the Campbell clan. That won't happen, however. Albion will find that she has to fight and fight hard for every inch of ground that she gains in the Saturday fray.

PHILOMATHEAN

The regular meeting of the Philomathean Literary Society was held Monday evening, October 31. The meeting was called to order by the president, Louise Hainline. Roll call was answered by a fact from Abraham Lincoln's life. Esther Boyce and Christine Decker were appointed janitors for the next month. After the regular order of business the following program was given: "A Brief Sketch of John Drinkwater's Life," by Leone Brown; the play, "Abraham Lincoln," by John Drinkwater was directed by Ruth Stewart. Several members of the society read and acted the parts in the first two scenes of the play. Adjournment.

STATE Y WORKER IMPRESSES ALMA

W. I. KELSEY SPEAKS OF STUDENT WORK; ORGANIZES LOCAL "Y" CABINET.

W. I. Kelsey, state collegiate Y. M. C. A. secretary, was a guest at Alma Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning of last week and was a great help in many ways to the Alma "Y" which is struggling to get on its feet this year. Mr. Kelsey's specialty is advice to aspiring cabinets and the members of the home cabinet appreciated his help very much.

A large turnout greeted Mr. Kelsey's first appearance at the regular "Y" meeting held Wednesday evening at seven o'clock. The challenge of the Christian life to young men formed the central theme of Mr. Kelsey's discourse—that there are young men in college today who have in them potentialities unlimited, but which would never be utilized unless transformed and vitalized by the power of conversion. How Dwight L. Moody had gripped thousands in the progress of his career as an evangelist and Christian worker, how his conversion had been accomplished by a thought coming to a friend of his to step into the store where he worked and speak out to him about his religious life, how by this simple act had somehow started a train of thought in Moody's brain that eventually brought him to Christ, clenched the truth in a gripping way. Sherwood Eddy's conversion at Northfield where he had gone "in order to play tennis" and similar examples showed the power of conversation and its necessity in a truly Christian life.

The great response given Sherwood Eddy a week ago at M. A. C., the magnificent way Albion responded to his appeal in subscribing $1000.00 to the Students' Friendship Fund, and the story of the response students at Cornell, Ohio State, and other Universities, caused every Alma-ite to look forward with renewed hope to Alma's week of prayer in December and our Student Friendship Fund drive.

Mr. Kelsey also spoke of the Christian Callings Conference to be held at Ann Arbor December 2 and 3 and expressed his firm conviction that Alma could and should have at least fifteen men down there. Such speakers as President Burton of the U. of M., Dad Elliott of Chicago, E. Ray Petty from the east, Dr. McConnell, and similar celebrities insure a program full of inspiration and worthwhile instruction.

Thursday morning Mr. Kelsey gave the chapel address in which he spoke of the crisis that is confronting the

This coming week will see some good games in the M. I. A. A. All of the games except Kalamazoo's contest are to be played on Saturday. This contest will be played Friday. The card follows:
 Kalamazoo vs. Valparaiso University at Valparaiso, Ind.
 Alma vs. Albion at Albion.
 Michigan State Normal vs. Hillsdale at Hillsdale.
 Olivet vs. Assumption at Windsor.

Men's Glee Club to Begin Work at Once

A short business meeting of the men of last year's Glee Club was held Monday afternoon of last week, in which men were elected to fill the two major offices of this year's club. Robert Wyatt was chosen for President and Lowell Hudson was elected Business Manager. Short discussions of the proposed trip for this year were given by the old men present and as a whole the meeting was marked with enthusiasm and an earnest desire by all to put a successful trip across this year.

The 1921-22 Club has a nucleus of old men back this year of about half the personnel of the entire club, who are backing the club this year to outdo the success of last year's organization. Consequently there are only eight vacancies to be filled up by the new men on the campus, which means that there will be plenty of competition for those applying for positions on the club. It also means that the applicant, however talented, must be endowed with the spirit to work and work faithfully until the spring trip is over and he is released by the instructor.

The only suggestion to offer the new men is that they entertain the habits of regularity as soon as possible and that they practise reading music at sight in preparation for the coming Glee Club training. Excellent opportunity is offered in the chorus which meets in the Chapel every Tuesday evening. A great number are already taking advantage of these meetings and those who are not are merely throwing away their hopes of getting into the clubs for it is from this chorus that the two clubs will be formed.

SCRUBS DEFEAT MT. PLEASANT

The Alma College second team defeated the Mt. Pleasant high team 7 to 0 Monday afternoon at Mt. Pleasant, a touchdown in the final quarter giving the local outfit the victory. The Maroon and Cream seconds outclassed the Mt. Pleasant high team in every department of the game.

Another game is to be listed for the second team probably with the heavy high eleven at Greenville, which has not yet been defeated this year.

HILLSDALE WINS IN A HARD GAME

ALMA FOUGHT GAMELY BUT LACKED THE PUNCH FOR A TOUCHDOWN.

Hillsdale defeated Coach Campbell's near Frosh football aggregation Saturday at Hillsdale by a score of 14 to 0, shoving over touchdowns in the second and fourth quarters. It took all of the fifteen veterans that Hillsdale had from a year ago to turn the trick on the Maroon and Cream aggregation, which displayed the best football since the Michigan State Normal game.

At that Alma was not outplayed to the extent that the score might indicate. Time and again Alma smashed her way far into Hillsdale territory and had the Blue and White badly worried. Especially did Alma worry the Blue and White eleven in the third quarter, when the Almaties with Catherman driving them hard advanced the ball from the Alma 25 yard line to the Hillsdale 3 yard stripe. The quarter ended with the ball three yards from the line, and two downs to carry it over. The intermission gave the Hillsdale team time to pull together again and when the fourth quarter started the Alma eleven found itself unable to gain the goal in the two downs. During this march Catherman pulled off the most brilliant pass that Alma has had during the season, this pass gaining 30 yards for Alma when in sinking into Captain Waggoner's arms.

Alma's dash surprised Hillsdale not only on offense, but defense, the Maroon and Cream holding the veteran team for downs on a number of occasions, when the Blue and White seemed certain to gain its yardage.

Both of the Hillsdale touchdowns came as a result of wide end runs. Sartor in each case set down his opposing end and did much to smash up the interference, but in each case the Alma half was drawn out of the play, and the Blue and White sailed down the field for the counters.

On three occasions Catherman was the sole Alma man between a Hillsdale runner and the goal, when the Blue and White went around on long end runs. Once he dove and drove the runner outside preventing the touchdown, and on the other two occasions nailed his man in the open field and prevented the counters.

Not only did Catherman play a fine game, but Sartor, Foster and Anderson. The line also looked good and time and again it opened great holes in the Hillsdale defense through which Alma gained time and again. Not until Hillsdale nailed her second touchdown in the fourth quarter did it dawn on the Alma team that the Blue and White could win. The one touchdown margin that Hillsdale held up to that time seemingly served to make the Campbell clan fight the harder to win and during the third quarter the Blue and White was decisively outplayed.

THE CLASSICAL CLUB

The Classical club held its usual meeting, November 4. After the singing of some Latin songs, the meeting was called to order. Dr. Ewing announced the program for the following year. This is to consist of papers on Greek and Roman Home life, what we owe to Greek teachers and philosophers and to Roman organization and law. Dr. Ewing also suggested that more students who have had three or four years of Latin in high school be urged to join the club. The program for the evening consisted of a paper, "The Triclinium," by Mr. Patton and a paper, "The Value of the Classics," by Dr. Ewing. In this he gave a few of the benefits that wide-awake men of today recognize as growing from the study of the classics. The meeting was then adjourned.

A young man at the Northwestern University was put to sleep by a hypnotic process, and fell to the floor and broke his nose. This sad accident should be taken seriously by several members of our campus even though there are no hypnotists here.

THIRD SOCIETY

Recently the Student Council appointed a committee to investigate the possibilities of a third society for men. The committee investigated and found that both of the existing men's societies are nearly filled to their capacity, and that there are a large number of men who belong to neither. These men would be valuable additions to either society as they are men of ability and promise. But realizing the need of a third society, the two existing organizations, acting upon the recommendation of the committee have ceased issuing invitations until the new society has organized and has recruited its membership. This voluntary act is a highly commendable one on the part of the men's societies, as by so doing they are forfeiting a chance to improve their societies by the addition of a number of excellent men. The committee has selected a group of men to act as a nucleus which, acting with two representatives each from Zeta Sigma and Phi Phi Alpha will effect an organization.

The Student Council Committee and representatives from the societies will soon have completed their work, and will have done all in their power to make the new society a success. If the proposition is allowed to drop here, however, disastrous results are bound to follow. The new society needs the support of the whole college. Handicapped by a late start, the first year at best will be a trying one. The men of the new society will be called upon to solve perplexing problems without aid of precedents, and they will have to bear in mind constantly that their actions are to be the basis of the actions of their future society brothers. Not only will they be concerned with their deeds as they affect the future, but also they will have to consider the possible effects of their decisions with reference to three women's societies, two men's societies, and the college as a whole. If they can steer their society craft so skillfully as to avoid all these dangerous shoals, they will do well indeed. And while to a large extent the men will be left to work out their own destinies with the help of their regents, there is no reason why the various societies should not co-operate with them and give them all the aid possible. We owe a higher allegiance to our Alma Mater than we do to our society, and it should be with this greater spirit of loyalty to our college that we work with these new society men. Let us assist in every way possible the formation and perpetuation of this new society to the end that it may accomplish its purpose, and become a real element in the life of Alma College.

ARMISTICE DAY

Three years ago next Friday the mighty guns of the World War ceased firing, and America broke forth in a pandemonium of joy. Petty grievances, factional differences, and social distinctions were lost in the realization that the war was won, and that America's own had turned the tide. America was thrilled from coast to coast, and she justly swelled with pride and satisfaction in that supreme moment of victory.

Those of us who saw and heard on that day are fortunate, for it is doubtful if either we again, or our immediate successors will have such an experience. And yet each succeeding generation will enjoy the fruits of the victory that exacted such heavy demands on us. That posterity might ever realize the importance of this victory, and that we ourselves might not forget its significance and its cost, it has been our custom to observe Armistice Day with fitting ceremony. We in Alma should plan to set aside a portion of Armistice Day in which to pay tribute to those who gave and offered their lives as the price of victory, and should devote the rest of the day to the perpetuation of the unified American spirit and loyalty that was crystallized by the victory.

DANTE MEMORIAL

This year marks the six-hundredth anniversary of the death of Dante, who was born in 1265 and died in 1321. Miss Ward has prepared a fine display in the library, relative to Dante and his works, which should prove of more than passing interest to everyone.

In the library show case, there are twenty-seven postcard views, copies of paintings made in 1853, by different artists to illustrate the writings of Dante Alighieri. There is also a very interesting print of Dante, which was sent from Italy, in Sept. 1921, as a gift to the library from Mrs. Mary C. Bahlke.

Books relative to the life and writings of Dante may be found in the library, and include such as "Dante's Inferno," "The Divine Comedy," "The Vision," "The Teachings of Dante," "A Shadow of Dante," etc.

EUROPEAN STUDENTS IN DIRE DISTRESS

Student life, as it is today in Europe, can not be pictured, said Sherwood Eddy, just back from three months overseas.

"Imagine the despair of a student returning after four years of fighting," he said, "to fall into the hopeless misery of no food, not enough clothing and no work. After being supported by his family for twenty years, with high hopes of his future neither the student nor his parents are now able to earn a livelihood."

Mr. Eddy himself visited the European students in their bare, impoverished quarters. He said, "There are students in Russia, Poland and in central Europe, sleeping in parks or railway stations, glad of a dry floor or a little space in which to pass the night. There are students in cold, cheerless garrets and rooms this winter, and many more who envy these students even a cold room or a bed without sufficient clothing."

"In Vienna I interviewed the students and student leaders. Many are working as laborers, mechanics and wood cutters to appease their hunger, but after four years of underfeeding they have not enough strength for effectual manual labor. If they tutor, it requires ten hours daily to earn a living, and competition is such that no one can obtain such work. Some are selling newspapers on the streets, getting one-fifteenth of a cent profit on each paper and sometimes small tips. But it is demoralizing to stand for hours on the noisy streets and live on tips."

"Many of the students I met had had no daily breakfast since 1917 till Student Relief work was begun. Now some 5000 Austrian students have been helped with a daily breakfast at a charge of one-third of a cent a meal. More than 1500 women students have been given clothing. Some were in such pathetic poverty they had not even the price of soap or a bath and were verminous from sheer poverty."

"Many of the men were wearing their old army field uniforms, now frayed and threadbare. Others had a thin overcoat buttoned up tight to the neck, without shirt or underwear. Many are left with tuberculosis or malaria. Students who have to wait for ten minutes in the bread line sometimes become faint and cannot stand. If a student tutors for three hours daily he earns but ten cents for it, or twenty-six dollars a college year. Even if a student gives up his studies altogether and devotes his whole time to manual labor he can earn from twenty to fifty cents a day which is not enough to permit laying up money for his next year's study."

"Thousands of students in central and eastern Europe are suffering and will continue to suffer through the coming winter from cold and hunger, insufficient food and clothing, and from hopeless despair. The students of some thirty countries are uniting to come to their relief. The Student Friendship Fund which is being raised now by the young men and women in the schools of the United States is a challenge to fulfill our moral obligations to the students of the world."

"What will be the answer of the American college students?"

LISTEN TO THIS

Friday, October 21, the Wooster College team of Wooster, Ohio, was defeated by Gambier in a game which Wooster had confidently expected to win. In spite of this defeat, the entire college was at the station to meet their returning team. Led by their college band, they escorted the team from the station with as much enthusiasm as if it had won. This is the kind of support that makes a good team and a great college.

ALUMNI GIVE DINNER IN UPPER PENINSULA

In a letter to the Editor, Lee Sharar tells of a dinner that a peppy Alma bunch held up north. We are sure that Lee won't care if we pass this bit of news on, so the following is an excerpt from his letter:

I want to tell you about one Alma dinner at the Upper Peninsula Educational Association meeting at the "Soo" last Thursday evening. It was impromptu—we did not realize that so many Almanites would be there, but when we began encountering one another we also began to plan. At 6:00 p. m. ten of us gathered around a pretty table decorated with Maroon and Cream—or almost—and flowers, and passed an hour and a half of enlivened conversation accompanied now and then by a bit of eating. There were present: Esther Friedrich, of Rudyard; Hazel Blair, Emma Keller, and Linton Melvin from the "Soo"; Myrtle Creaser from Ishpeming; Goldman Lehman, DeFour; Bertha Swanson, Newberry; Ifie Wyatt, Rudyard; Beatrice Harrington, from Charlevoix; and S. "Frim" McCauley and his wife, and Carl Hedburg were in the city but we were unable to locate them in time for the "little affair." It was fine to get together like that, and I want to tell you that small colleges, Alma in particular, cannot be beaten for forming bonds of enduring fellowship. We are contemplating an Upper-Peninsula organization.

Tell the campus that we are alive and constantly registering strong kicks for Alma. Although the puddle known as Lake Michigan lies between, we're pulling strong for Alma to "come thru" in everything she undertakes.

That Malcom Smith, better known to Alma athletic fans as "Runt," is making good as a football coach at Redlands, California, high school is indicated from reports reaching here from the western state. Smith's team which has only two old men, has a clean slate, and has won three games. The first of the games that "Runt's" aggregation of green men played was what was considered the hardest contest for the Redlands team, a battle with San Bernardino team, of veterans, which last year defeated Redlands. Smith's team ran over San Bernardino 34 to 0.

Smith will be remembered as a former college football, baseball and basketball star, and also a member of the Republic Truck baseball team. He has hundreds of admirers in this section of the state, who will be pleased to hear that he is making good at Redlands.

Bill Beshgetoor of the class of '21 who at present is attending the school of commerce at the Northwestern University has submitted to the Almanian a copy of one of his recent poems. It will be found in the Campus Breezes Column of this issue. Send us some more, Bill, you are going good.

"Hawk" French writes that his football team representing Tecumseh recently defeated Chelsea by a score of 88 to 0. We don't know much about the Tecumseh team, but we do know that it has a good coach. More power to you, "Hawk."

Harold Johnstone who is taking up a course in economics at the University of Michigan says that it costs more to go to school there as he has to get up for breakfast.

TICKETS ON SALE

With Alma high school seniors busy selling season tickets for the annual Community Lyceum course, which opens Monday evening, November 14, with the three act comedy, The Mollusc, it is expected that the tickets will go rapidly, and those who are planning on availing themselves of the opportunity of witnessing the various numbers on the course this year should arrange for their tickets at an early date.

The ticket sale from now on promises to be a spirited affair as the seniors hope to dispose of the entire seating capacity of the high school auditorium before the opening number. The seating capacity is somewhat limited, which is more reason why those who expect to attend the course, should make early reservations for their tickets.

In addition to The Mollusc, there are five other highly attractive numbers on the lyceum course. Charles Zueblin, noted lecturer on American life will appear here December 16. M. Beryl Buckley, interpreter of dramas, comes to Alma January 10. Dr. Robert MacGowan, who is here on January 18, is regarded as a wonderful platform lecturer. The Fine Arts Quartette, which is highly regarded wherever it has appeared, will be the feature on February 7. The well known Di Giorgio Orchestra will furnish the final number on the course, March 13.

students and educators of Europe in a financial way, and of the opportunity for large hearted giving on our part thus afforded. The greatest benefit to be derived from such a gift, he said, was that which would accrue to civilization in the way of enhanced friendship, a stronger bond of sentiment between the educated classes of the old world and the new, which might some day be strong enough to be effective.

Conferences were held during Wednesday and Thursday between individual members of the cabinet and Mr. Kelsey in which the local committee work was thrashed out with each committee chairman and new ideas given them which it is hoped may come to concrete fruition in achievements on our campus.

Don't forget that comedy on Monday night.

"Frosh" Remarks

In September: "Life is a jest."
October: "Will my marks show it?"
November: "I didn't think so,"
Thanksgiving Day: "But now I know it."

Brokenshire: "Well, Mr. Murphy, when was the last time that we heard of Rebecca?"

Murphy: "Why, ah! The last time was when they buried her."

Miss Byrnes: "What is meant by the expression, 'The Man of the Hour?'"

Carty: "Ah! He was the man who was asked to 'wait a minute' for a woman."

A Co-ed of Two Worlds
When Lizz dines out she says with ease:

"Oh, won't you pass the butter please?"

Home, when that stuff she wants to have,

She says, "Maw, slide across the salve.—Ohio Sun Dial."

At the Dance
V. W.—"Roy, how do you like my dress?"

C. L. W.—"Gee, I think it's ripping."

She—"Oh! What shall I do?"

As We Hear 'Em
Pioneer Hall—Hell-o!

Wright Hall—Hal-o!

Contrast
Senior—"Is she his fiancee?"

Frosh—"Naw. That's the skirt he's going to marry."

The Co-eds
Some like 'em short, some like 'em tall;

Others say they don't like em at all. The Co-eds all differ. There are no two the same

And some are "wild creatures" that I love to tame.

There is Betty and Peggy and Helen and Joe,

Virginia and Esther and Marlon Roe. However in spite of all that is said, Give this boy the college that has the Co-eds.

Forsyth seems to be acquainted with some of our state's notables. When questioned he admitted that he knew Will Carleton at Hillsdale last year.

Someone was passing Monk's house the other night about twelve-thirty and heard Mobley's voice say, "First ace bets." He must have been taking the "stud" out of "studying."

Gladys Fryxell, in English 21 (reading "I was embarrassed all the time")—"I was embraced all the time!"

Louis Stempfly—"Keep your mind on the lesson, Gladys, keep your mind on the lesson."

Edith—"I heard Cuddy is locked up."

Irene—"Yes, and there's a woman in the case."

Edith: "A woman? Well, who on earth—"

Irene—"Yes, they say that he's charged with Miss Demeanor!"

At the Swipes Table
Bull Vreeland—"Well I won't get 45. I got paddled once."

Angel—"Don't worry, Bull. History repeats itself."

And it did.

Canoeing a Popular Sport
The upper classmen are becoming very proficient at handling a paddle and the freshmen are bending that way.

PHI PHI ALPHA
Phi Phi Alpha literary society held its regular meeting in the society rooms Monday, Oct. 31, with President Williams in the chair. After a short business session in which plans and arrangements for the Annual Stag Banquet were discussed, the meeting gave its attention to the program of the evening.

Carl Wood read a paper on the impending railroad strike. His was a live subject and a live paper, and the speaker brought out very clearly the causes of the strike and the demands of each party concerned.

R. Gordon Boyce then read an interestign paper entitled, "The Origin of Hallowe'en." This number gave those present a new conception of what Hallowe'en really is and the circumstances that caused this day to be celebrated.

The criticism by R. Zinn, the first critic, was in the main constructive. After the program two candidates for membership, Pelmont and Shrier, were accepted and initiated. Adjournment.
