

SIX ALMA MEN ON ALL-M. I. A. A.

BURTON, BISHOP AT CONVENTION

Second National Student Federation Congress Meets at Ann Arbor.

The National Student Federation of America opened its Congress at The Michigan Union, Ann Arbor, last Thursday. Delegates were present from all over the country to attend the sessions of the Congress. The representatives from Alma were Walter Burton and Elma Bishop.

Thomas Cavanaugh, president of the University of Michigan Student Council, opened the meetings with a speech of welcome for the delegates and the Congress. Dean Alfred H. Lloyd of the Graduate school made the speech of welcome on behalf of the University.

Lewis Fox, president of the Federation, officially opened the Congress. Dr. Stephen P. Duggan, Director of the Institute of International Education, spoke at the Thursday evening meeting on the theme, "The European and American University." The keynote of his speech was, "There will come a time in the very near future when American colleges will be forced to revamp all of their methods of education and change all their ideas regarding the functions and practices of higher educational institutions." Dr. Duggan regards as the greatest difference between the American and European universities the fact that the European students are more inclined to take their university education seriously, and put more time on actual study. He then went on to outline the change that he feels will have to come. This will entail the addition of two years to the high school course, which would cover the work now given to the college Freshmen and Sophomores. This would adhere closely to the plan followed in European education.

Professor Meikeljohn of the University of Wisconsin, who is regarded as one of the foremost educators of the country, next addressed the Congress on the "Outstanding Problems in American Education." He stressed the fact that liberal education is lacking in the present system in force in the United States. He declared that America has not reached the point of educational sophistication. He defined a liberal education (Continued on page three)

M. I. A. A. Heads Meet in Annual Conference

At the annual meeting of the M. I. A. A. directors held last Saturday at Albion, Hope College of Holland, Michigan was voted into the association. This action is to take place at once. The rule barring Freshmen from participating on varsity teams was up for discussion and passed. This rule is to be effective beginning next fall. In accordance with the action of the National Collegiate Association of Co-eds, the directors abolished the annual women's tennis tournaments.

Albion was selected as the site for the 1927 field meet. This is to be held June 3rd and 4th. Protests against the eligibility of three Alma football players were filed. The protests were against Simmons, Lester and Wagner. In each case those filing the protests claimed that these men had not completed two semesters of satisfactory work, in accordance with the association rule, at the school they had attended before transferring to Alma. The protests were referred to Professor C. L. Herron of Hillsdale, association arbitrator.

Coach Campbell, Professor Ditto, faculty representative, and Wilbur Snell, student representative attended the meeting for Alma.

HAIL THE CHAMPS!

This issue of the Almanian is dedicated to the Alma College Football team, champions of the Michigan Intercollegiate for the 1926 season. We take this opportunity of expressing Alma's appreciation of the men who have brought the honors to Alma once more.

Coach Royal Campbell again turn-

"WALLY" BURTON
Captain

Although Burton was placed on three All M. I. A. A. teams selected by various authorities, as tackle and captain, he was given a tackle berth on the official second team. Captain Burton has proved himself a real leader. He brought his team out on top of the heap.

All Wright Hall Team Selected by Authority

At last. After many sleepless nights and painful days, the genius in me has again asserted itself, and the following results. It has been hard work selecting a team from so many likely candidates. Our gratitude and appreciation is tendered to the girls who have worked hard all season but could not place. Many others could not place because of their inexperience. Keep up the good work girls; another year is coming.

- L.E.—"Bennie" Tindale
- L.T.—"Pedro" Baetz
- L.G.—"Jackie" Hurst
- C.—"Buttercup" Schaefer
- R.G.—"Happy" Huddleson
- R.T.—"Kid" McCoy
- R.E.—"Flop" Miller
- Q.—"Bennie" Watson
- L.H.—"Red" Hull
- R.H.—"Sunny Jo" Peavy
- F.—"Bo" Marshall

The wing positions are capably filled by "Bennie" Tindale and "Flop" Miller. Both have the ideal height and weight necessary in ends. They received the choice because of their ability to stop advances.

"Pedro" Baetz, the happy-go-lucky terror from the U. P., fills the L. T. berth, cinches the position because of her ability to "always get her man." R. T. is filled by "Kid" McCoy, whose sparkling orbs have caused anguish to many an opponent. Her chief asset is her ability to keep in shape.

"Jackie" Hurst fills the berth at L. G. Her chief qualification is her experience "with the line." She has been getting pointers all season, which adds greatly to her value. "Jackie's" running mate is "Happy"

COACHES FAVOR ALMA'S ELEVEN

Albion Places Three, Kalamazoo and Hillsdale Elevens Recognized.

As is befitting the champions, Alma placed six men on the official M. I. A. A. team picked by the coaches of the various schools and announced in the Detroit News of Nov. 28th. Albion was next with three men from her strong squad being given honors. Hillsdale and Kalamazoo were each given one position, Olivet being the only school failing to be represented on the first eleven.

Captain Dorsch of Hillsdale, was the unanimous choice as quarter, and Meulenber of Kazoo was also given five votes at end. Anderson of Alma was selected at the other end, although he was closely followed by his team mate Holdship. Holdship and Allinder of Hillsdale were placed at the end positions on the second team.

Arozian of Alma and Tingstad of Albion each secured four votes to give them the tackle berths on the first team. Burton of Alma placed as tackle on the second eleven.

The guard positions were closely contested and both went to Albion men, Scott and Boldt. Bauer and Pezet of Alma secured honorable mention.

Simmons of Alma had a decided edge for the center job. Glezen of Kazoo placed in this position on the second team. Frazer of Alma had honorable mention as a center.

Outside of Dorsch, none of the other backfield positions were unanimous selections. However Hawthorne and Karpp as half backs, and Chatman as fullback were strongly favored by the coaches.

Comparative scores reveal the power that placed Alma at the top of the list this year. It was a season of hard fought games and small scores. Thus Alma's 53 points against her opponent's 9 is a remarkable showing. Albion was the only team in the association to shove over a touchdown on Alma. The only other team scoring on the champions was Kazoo. They scored a place kick in the first few minutes of the game at Kazoo.

Hillsdale presented the next best record in scoring 26 points against opponents 10. Kazoo scored 50 points, but had 42 scored against her. AL (Continued on page three)

OUR NEW CREW

Here is Alma's famous Freshmen crew. All brilliant performers, they added immeasurably to the team this year. From left to right they are:

- Arozian—All M. I. A. A. Tackle. "Chief" secured four out of five votes for this position.
- Karpp—Placed at All M. I. A. A. Half Back. He has been a heady general, a good ball totter, and one of the best punters ever developed in the association.
- Bauer—Bauer's work at guard merited him honorable mention in the official selections.
- Simmons—All M. I. A. A. Center. Simmons had a decided edge over his rivals for this position.
- Pezet—Honorable mention as guard.

ed the trick and proved that teams under his tutelage must always be considered in the running. His aggregation was not given an outside chance at the championship banner when the season started. But how he built up a defensive team that allowed only nine points to be scored on Alma, and a backfield attack that could not be stopped in the association, is history. Assistant Coach Gordon Macdonald revealed himself to be a brilliant tutor in the pig-skin arena, as he has been one of Alma's outstanding stars on the field of play.

Most of the association games of the year were won or lost by very close scores. In view of this fact Alma's record of scoring 53 points against her opponents 9 is very commendable. The close scores reveal a fighting team that was able to produce by keeping "heads up" all the time, and never giving opponents the chance to get started.

All Alma is proud of the champs—HAIL THE CHAMPS!

Have you made your date for "Green Stockings"? If not be quick, Brodie Thompsett has his—the girls are going fast.

JULIUS CHATMAN
All M. I. A. A. Fullback

The work of Chatman has been so outstanding, both on defense and offense, that he could not be left out. The coaches named him at Fullback, although his regular position has been at Half.

Huddleson. "Happy" is the ideal player to fill this position. It is awarded her as a recompense of her grit "to dig in."

Center is filled by "Buttercup" Schaefer. "Buttercup's" value to the team lies in her ability to make her opponents draw penalties. (mostly for holding) No one breaks through her position, when they get there they stop and stay awhile.

"Bennie" Watson fills the Quarterback position. Her admiring followers can always hear her stentorian tones putting new life into the team. Her other chief asset is her kicking ability. "Bennie" is awarded the captaincy as an added honor.

The halfback positions are awarded to "Sunny Jo" Pevy and "Red" Hull. "Sunny Jo's" smile makes it easy going for her against any team. "Red" Hull is one of the "flashiest" backs we have. This "sorrel topped whirlwind" would have made the team if only through her "passing consistency" in high school.

"Bo" Marshall is unanimously selected for fullback. She has all the qualifications necessary for the po- (Continued on page three)

REX ANDERSON
All M. I. A. A. End

Anderson holds a unique record in having won the coveted honors as a tackle, and again this year as an end.

LESLIE HAWTHORNE
All M. I. A. A. Half Back

Hawthorne's brilliant running and catching of passes earned him a berth on the mythical team.

A WINTER SPORT

As the cold weather comes, our minds travel to the incomparable sport of hockey. Those who have participated in this sport will heartily agree that we would be more than satisfied to see steps taken for the construction of a rink at Alma College.

The construction cost is very low, as about $10,000 would be the total labor of leveling the ground and the occasional labor of setting the ice in shape. It is estimated that a plot of ground could be secured which would cost less than enough to insure a rink with an initial cost of $10,000.

The great benefits would be realized in a few months could be perceived by afternoons spent on skates by this portion of the student body. There is not enough snow to permit of such sports as skiing, snowshoeing, and the only possibility left is that of ice skating.

There is another phase of the question to be considered. More than ever before hockey has become more and more popular in the north central states. In the Upper Peninsula of Michigan it is a sport that is looked forward to with a great deal of anticipation, for there is scarcely another game which furnishes more excitement, zip and speed than does hockey. Michigan State has worked up a powerful hockey team, as have many teams in Detroit and the Big Ten. It is a game that everyone cannot help but enjoy, and we feel that there would be genuine interest manifested in such an activity. It is entirely possible that Alma College could build up a reputable hockey team in the future. Many of our students come from the Upper Peninsula where hockey is a much indulged in sport, and it is likely that we could draw valuable material from other cities where the sport is becoming more in evidence. Having a rink where students could skate and practice would inevitably work up material within our own ranks.

For the reasons that this project would furnish a source of fine entertainment for students, and would afford an opportunity of building an Alma College hockey team, we strongly suggest a rink to be constructed in the near future.

KAPPA IOTA INITIATION

Kappa Iota held its formal initiation Thursday night, December the second. The pledges who were initiated were: Mildred Baety, Lola Foster, Virginia Hull, Mary Elizabeth McCoy, and Helen Frances Miller. Refreshments were served following the initiation.

Be sure and see "Green Stockings" the play to be put on by Zeta Sigma and Alpha Theta next Tuesday evening at the Strand Theatre. Get your tickets now.

Philo Fair Enjoyed By Many Saturday

The annual Philomathean Fair was held Saturday afternoon, December 4. When the students came from the dining room they beheld many booths where they might spend their money. Then to the tune of falling nickels many couples danced until three o'clock when they were told that they might adjourn to the tea room for light refreshments. The more curious of the crowd entrusted themselves to the fortune tellers who predicted rosy futures and disclosed shady pasts.

We wish to thank all those who helped in making the Fair a success, especially those who gave their services in the orchestra.

STUDENT FORUM

Dear Editor:
In the Almanian of November 23rd, I noticed the accounts of the pledging of members to the girl's societies, as well as an article speaking of the splendid spirit among the Senior men of the campus. These articles prompt me to ask the question—Why is there not the same good spirit present among the women of Alma College?

During my four college years I was a most ardent enthusiast for my society and was more or less bound to it in every way in a mistaken idea of loyalty, perhaps. However, when one has been away from the school for a few years, society fades before the real tie—ALMA AS ONE'S ALMA MATER—the greater spirit forgetting all past pettiness. It was with a feeling of deep appreciation that I was greeted with much genuine heartiness by members of other societies when visiting the campus this fall.

I would make this appeal now to you Senior women—don't wait until June to find that there are splendid girls in other societies. The men have outclassed you in their co-operative spirit! Forget your own clique and seek from now until the end of your last precious college year to really know the true worth and friendship of each member of your class. Plan parties for Senior women and find the real fun of knowing one another—the men have proved the merits of such a plan to their deep satisfaction.

It was good to read that your Senior Class accomplished a feat that no other class has previously been able to actually bring to pass—namely: Senior Skip Day in the Fall rather than in the late Spring of its last year. Our classes always wailed after a glorious day up-river in late May, "Oh, if we had known one another better before—did you ever suppose so-and-so was so clever, and isn't she genuine and a good sport?"

You have started the ball rolling for a glorious last year of dearer friendship as a class, and the men have shown that they have the real Alma spirit. Now girls, let's see you prove that you can rise above all petty rivalries! Work for Alma as a UNIT first, last and always, so that you may be graduated from your Alma Mater with no vain regrets of what might have been in stronger and greater friendships. The example you leave this year will become another of the dear traditions of Alma. Put your whole-hearted energy behind student organizations, elect the BEST STUDENT to fill offices of these organizations rather than one of your chosen society members regardless of their qualifications.

Alma is on the rise in school spirit—it sank pretty low in the past. The men have done much in co-operating and the girls can do more. Look to the future—it will mean more students to enter Alma and more satisfied ones to remain to graduate. We Alumni have unbounded faith in you to correct our mistakes of the past and feel confident that you can and will succeed.

LET'S GO ALMA!
An Alumnus.

"Green Stockings" to Be Given at Strand

On Tuesday evening, December 14, the Alpha Theta and Zeta Sigma societies will present the well known play "Green Stockings" at the Strand Theatre. The performance is to start at 8:15.

The play enjoyed a very successful run in New York City and it has been presented recently with unabated success by many road companies. The cast which will play it for your approval on next Tuesday evening has shown much talent and through their hard work they feel able to guarantee a highly enjoyable two hours of entertainment.

The cast is as follows:
Admiral Grice—Lauritz Drevdahl
William Farraday—Homer Barlow
Colonel Smith—Romaine Hogan
Robert Tarver—Ross Mitchell
Henry Steele—Russell Riley
James Raleigh—Gordon Lamb
Martin—Leslie Hawthorne
Celia Farraday—Ethel West
Mrs. Rockingham (Madge)—Lila Schaefer
Lady Trenchard (Evelyn)—Elma Bishop
Phyllis Farraday—Margaret Reynolds
Mrs. Chisholm Farraday (Aunt Ida)—Marian Jenks

What things these people do, and why they do them, and what happens when they do them—that is another story. Remember the time and the place—and don't forget the girl!

Pledge Announcement Made by Zeta Sigma

The following men were formally pledged to Zeta Sigma last Wednesday evening. The Pledge meeting was held at the Zeta Sigma House: Walter Pezet, John Aitken, Donald Graham, John Bauer, Ellsworth Simmons, Edgar Karpp, Harold Logan, Joe Walters, Lester Braden, Horace Burton, George Kaiser, Hugh Ward, Frank Angell, James Gustin, Clayton Swarthout, Andrew Watt, Erwin Hendershott, Donald MacFarlane, Clifford Erickson.

Man-power

Four millions of the best man-power of Europe perished in the Napoleonic conquests. Military conquest is non-creative, while industry is always creative.

In the last ten years one American manufacturer—the General Electric Company—has created machines having a man-power forty times as great as that of all the lives lost in the Napoleonic wars.

In the years to come, when the college men and women of today are at the helm of industry and of the home, it will be realized more and more that human energy is too valuable to be wasted where electricity can do the work better at lower cost.

The laboratories and shops of industry are the sources of many of the enduring attainments of our times. In the General Electric organization is an army of 75,000 persons, co-operating to make electricity do more and better work for humanity.

A series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEK-18.

CAMPUSOLOGY

"Banjo Eyes" Drevdahl and "Deak" Closser spent a successful vacation because of the lack of competition for dates at Wright Hall. They got together and bought Vliet a ticket to Lansing.

We nominate for the Hall of Fame Argyle Campbell who inhaled Chlorine Gas to escape from school for a week.

Famous Sayings of Famous People—
"I didn't want to date with that girl anyway" by Red Clark.

Pictures for the Maroon and Cream which are rapidly being completed will have to wait for a while—work is being rushed on a life size portrait of Brodie Thompsett and this is occupying all of Mr. Boice's time. Just a word now to the second party—Mabel, don't forget to hang up your stocking on Christmas Eve.

Mary Elizabeth McCoy believes in signs—she tried to say it with flowers but found she was broadcasting.

We set aside December 4th as the first anniversary of Cassy Lee and Skin Frazer. Rather a continuous date—eh, what?

Change from Fall to Winter—
A. P. puts his bicycle away and Uncle Charlie takes out his ear muffs.

Just eighteen more days until Christmas—pictures must be ordered early.

FOOTBALL EDITIONS:
Wally Pezet subbed for Brute Simmons last Friday night.
"Deak" Closser looked like a good backfield prospect at the dance the other evening. He was shifty, fast, couldn't tell where he was going, knees high, threatening look, and got away with some clever dodging.

Ed Karpp thinks that this is baseball season. He is making a Holmes run.

If by chance we have missed any of our regular customers we wish to apologize, because we are new to this work. We are substituting for the two heavy dates. They have been been overburdened with school work this week.

BURTON AND BISHOP AT FEDERATION CONVENTION
as one which informed and trained a mind to travel a certain road and maintained that American colleges fail to accomplish this. The Wisconsin professor also scored alumni loyalty. "Our college loyalty is one of the most unintelligent things I know of," he said. "Graduates are carried away by everything except understanding and liberal education."

The speaker went on to say that the source of trouble is that our educational system does not produce real teachers. America is too busy to draw out the real talent for the profession. He believes that faculties should be smaller, so as to form a definite educational theory to follow. He also believes that the practice of elective studies is bad. He advocates letting the student take more initiative in his work, but along lines of liberal education.

"The Students Part in Education" was the theme presented by Dr. Henry Noble McCracken of Vassar College. The speaker expressed the belief that a new system of education will not arise during the time of the present generation, but regards the forward looking thought along educational lines as very promising. He stated that more harmony was needed between faculty and students. "The faculties distrust the students and withhold responsibility from them, and consequently, maturity." Dr. MacCracken lamented the fact that so many students are self supporting, and advocated a system of loans such as Sweden and Germany use enabling the student to give more time to his studies. He warned students against selecting colleges too far from their homes, and also from becoming what is called an "academic tramp."

President Little of the University of Michigan was the speaker at the Friday morning meeting. He stated that the most fundamental problem of a college was mutual understanding between the students and faculty. President Little went on to give definite means of developing better relations between the student body and faculty. To faculties he recommended more definite aims to arouse the student interest in the first two years, an effort to decrease the class of students known as "inferior," a more practical system of admissions, fairer exams, better housing methods, and athletics for all. To the students he advised more intimate relations with the faculty, and meetings for the discussion of problems. He challenged American youth to better work educationally.

At the Friday afternoon and Friday evening meetings, the delegates divided into five groups for the purpose of studying the outstanding problems in our colleges. These problems were Student Government and the Honor system, Curriculum, Fraternities, Intercollegiate Athletics, and Teaching and Teaching methods. Reports of the findings of these discussion groups will be forwarded and printed soon.

At the business meeting Saturday morning amendments were made to the constitution of the Federation, and officers were elected for the coming year. President, Fred Berger of Cincinnati university; vice president, Marvin Breckenridge of Vassar; secretary-treasurer, Joseph T. Owens of Kansas Wesleyan university. Members to various committees were also elected at this meeting.

In the evening, the University of Nebraska was chosen as the meeting place of the Federation. The meeting will be held the first week in December. Nebraska was chosen over State, The University of Ohio, Leland Stanford, Cornell, and Mt. Holyoke college. Features of the Saturday evening meeting were the addresses delivered in German and French by representatives of educational systems of those countries. Lewis Fox, the retiring president, closed the Congress with a plea for greater efforts toward solving student problems in the future.

FOOTBALL HOP GAY OCCASION

Forty Couples Attend Football Party Sponsored by Juniors.

The Football Hop given by the Junior Class in the gymnasium Friday evening, although not a financial harvest for the class, was a very great success. According to testimony by individuals among the forty couples, present, it was one of the best parties given so far this year.

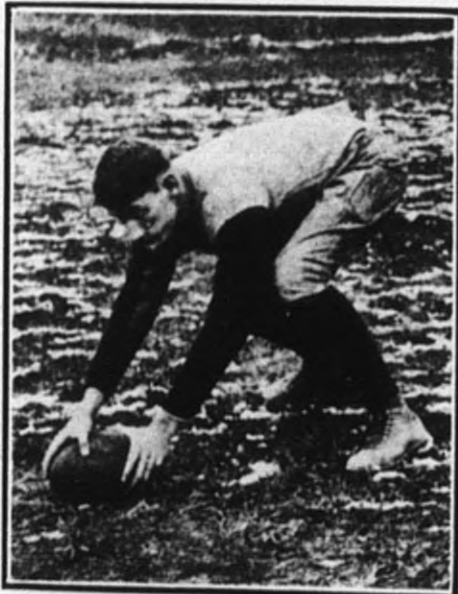

At eight o'clock Frank Kennedy's Campus Melody Hounds began to bark. And the couples began to come. As soon as each couple had been given a little red football (program), and they had time to remove their wraps the teams came on the field to play. There was little cheering until the play was well under way. If the writer remembers correctly it was Bill Anderson who kicked off and started the ball rolling. However Bill didn't get far down the field before he was tackled and forced to give up his partner to some husky Frosh—perhaps Pezet, who made ground all during the half.

As the half ended MacGregor was on the three yard line at the east end of the field already to kick (because the time had been too short.) This was quite an unusual game for it was between halves that the scores were made. Miss Davison scored the first real touchdown of the evening in a snappy little feature dance.

The second half the "players" came back strong and sent forth streams of music that brought much applause from the dancers.

If the plays had been controlled by a stop watch instead of the old authentic Western Union clock in the corner, the game might have gone down in the annals of history as one of the few overtime contests of the college.

On the north sideline the chapter-

RALPH FRAZER

Frazer has been kept out of the lineup much of this year because of injuries. However he was given honorable mention as a center on the official teams.

"RED" HOLDSHIP

Holdship was nosed out of first team honors by one vote. He was selected at end on the second team. His passing has been one of the big threats of Alma's attack.

ones Dean Stewart and Miss Landwehr, observed the game play by play. The other members of the faculty present were: Mrs. Crooks, Mr. and Mrs. Ewer, and Professor and Mrs. Hamilton, who got into the game in the last few minutes of play.

A Thanksgiving Story

Cosily sheltered from the chill blasts which raged around the corners of the house and whistled, oh, so eerily through the black midnight, seven unfortunates, who could not go home for Thanksgiving sat in the Zeta Sigma house breakfast nook, which is situated in the rear of the domicile and tastefully decorated in pastel shades of grey. These seven unfortunates were not sitting there aimlessly; they had an end in view. Stick with us folks, we won't hold out any longer—it was a banquet. Among the guests of honor were two cold chickens and a roast of venison. "Meat Ball" Drevdahl, "Brute" Hayden, Francis Angus MacDougall, "Lover" Crooks, Elk Rapids favorite son, Erskine's assistant—Drummer Boy Fowler, and "Squeak" Lyons were also present. Well, folks, I just wish you could have seen that merry gathering round the festive board. It was a sight to warm the icest heart. The food was sumptuous, the house warm, and the company witty and congenial. And the best part of the whole thing was that Drevdahl forgot his Norwegian meat balls until everyone was so full that they could not be eaten. He found out the next morning that they were the least bit spoiled, and that would have spoiled the whole party if we had eaten them for we don't like to spoil the party by eating anything that is spoiled but we didn't.

Now to conclude our little contribution to the literary wealth of the nation we wish to submit a little bank verse.

Oh, the night was dark and the wind was cold,
But inside were eats and stories were told,
And it was Thanksgiving.

Selah. (Hindustanic for "that's all there is, there is no more".)
