FROSH PLANNING FOR FIELD DAY

Plan To Deal Stunning Blow To Upper Class Forces Next Tuesday

With high hopes the Freshman class will enter the Campus Day activities next Tuesday. As a matter of fact, the upper classes, as well as the Freshmen class, entertain these same high hopes. The big difference seems to be that the Freshman hopes are well grounded, while those of the upper classes are mere fanciful delusions.

The first event in which the frosh expect to carry off the laurels is the track meet, which will be held at nine o'clock on that eventful morning. Due to the separation of the varsity team into the different classes the frosh team expects to gain points in every event. Past experience has shown that there are several events in which the frosh are superior to the varsity men. These events for which the upperclasses had better bring forth their most promising men, and train them most diligently are: the low and high hurdles, the 440-yard dash, the relay, and the javelin throw. Although things look rather promising for the upper classes in the distance runs, it might be advisable for them not to acquire that enlargement of the cranium which has often overbalanced even the best of runners. It would be better for them to wait until after the day is over before they buy their large hats.

The only event in which the freshmen feel sure that the upper classmen will triumph is in the baseball game with Hope College which will be held at two-thirty in the afternoon. The reason for thinking this, for the frosh do think sometimes, is because the frosh are not competing against the varsity.

The only event of which the frosh have any doubts is the tug-of-war, immediately following the baseball game. There are two things which will stimulate the frosh to put forth a supreme effort. One of these is the desire to avenge their ignominious defeat at the hands of the sophomores last September. The other is an ardent desire to see the sophisticated Sophomores all wet (they usually are), and especially four days early.

At eight o'clock the Student Council dance will be held in the gym. The freshmen, through their compassion for the upperclassmen's co-eds, hope to be given full privileges at this dance so that there will be less demand for foot remedies in Wright Hall.

After the ball is over comes that event in which the Freshmen play the leading role. We feel that the upperclassmen will give us a warm welcome as we emerge from that lowly period of freshmanism which constitutes the first year of college. Around a huge bonfire the frosh will at last rid themselves of that green symbol of submission which has been holding down the intellectual and creative genius of the class. At the close of this impressive ceremony the first year men will return to Pioneer Hall feeling that "everything is rosy now!"

FROSH WIN TWO FROM ALMA HIGH

The Alma College Freshman team, which has been practicing for about a week under the tutelage of coach Erwin Hendershot won two practice games last week from the fast Alma High School team. The scores were 9-5 and 6-5.

No players of outstanding ability have been uncovered, but all give promise of being valuable varsity prospects next spring. The men who played in the games this week were: Brown, c; Horning, Kinney, Merwin, p; Milne, 1b; Fritz 2b; Phillips, North, ss; Gussin, 3b; Dean, lf; Hillman, Trotter, cf; LaFata, Milne, rf. None of these men are sure of a regular place as Coach Hendershot promises a general shake up this week.

Alma High School will be played on Tuesday, and St. Louis High on Friday not been arranged, but will be a day of this week. A full schedule has been announced soon. A composite box score of the two games follows:

Alma	ABRHE
Dean	3 3 1 0
Erickson	5 0 2 1
Hillman	5 4 3 2
Brown	6 2 3 0

COUNCIL DELEGATES TO DISCUSS LEAGUE

The second of two delegations, sent out by the Student Council this year, will attend a conference for the discussion of the League of Nations to be held at Michigan State College at East Lansing, Friday and Saturday, May 11 and 12. The three Alma representatives will discuss the question from the standpoint of Norway. The representatives will be announced after the meeting of the Student Council today.

The Student Council expects to send representatives who will be able to intelligently discuss the question, and represent Alma College as efficiently as its delegations have on other occasions.

The entertainment committee has prepared a lavish reception for the representatives of the different colleges. All the colleges in Michigan are sending delegates, so this committee has a tremendous task before it. The conference will be brought to a close by a banquet and a dance at the Olds Hotel Saturday evening.

BETA TAU STAG HELD SATURDAY

The sixth annual stag banquet given by the Beta Tau Epsilon cohorts last Saturday evening at 5:30 was, as all stag banquets should be, a howling success, and came as a fitting prologue to the glorious J-Hop evening. The dinner, served by the Wright House chef, was remarkable in that it was both appetizing in quality and satisfying as to quantity. From its first course of iced fruit cocktail to the final one of pie, coffee, and cigars

J-HOP CALLED HUGE SUCCESS

Year's Biggest Social Event Held Saturday. Gym Was Well Decorated

The most elaborate all-college party of the year.

"On with the dance, let joy be unconfined. No sleep till morn where youth and pleasure meet to pass the hours in flying feet."

The Memorial Gymnasium was transformed from its cold bareness to a very attractive ballroom on the eve of May 5, 1928, when the Junior Class gave their Hop. The color scheme was in red and white. The walls of the gym were covered with alternate stripes of red and white paper. The low swung false ceiling was formed by festooned fringed streamers. In the center of the ceiling were five large paper covered lights, all decked with red streamers. Merrill Hendershot, chairman of the decoration committee and Hurant Arozian are to be congratulated upon the success of their untiring labor. Elizabeth Sidebotham and Kathleen Elison were the other members of the committee.

Upon entering the ballroom the gentlemen received two programs, tied with blue and gold cord, the Junior colors, and a favor for his lady. Needless to say there were little squeals of ecstasy when the slim white box produced a flexible costume bracelet, finished in white and green gold and bearing the Alma "A." There followed a moment of fun in getting the said bracelet on that particular arm. For the favors and programs we should like to say a very sincere thank you to Charles Mann, chairman of the committee, Lewis Salmon, Marion Watson and Harold Hobart.

As a sort of appetizer the Bruce Willis Orchestra began by rendering "Rain." They did play it very effectively and quite thrillingly, and kept the same style throughout all the following numbers. The three waltzes were very delightful with, "I love you truly," "Let me call you Sweetheart," "Girl of my Dreams, dimmed lights, and best of all the real true moon looking through a high gym window. One might say here, "How sad and bad and mad it was, but oh how sweet." For this very important item, the orchestra, we should remember Paul Westfall, chairman of the music committee, Richard Crowell and Mary Johnson.

During intermission fruit punch was served and it certainly was refreshing. What is a party without the palate being tickled? Those responsible for the tickling were Gertrude Williams, chairman, Katherine Lehner and Paul Wolfe.

Shortly before the last dance, the floor favors created merry confusion, paper caps, crackers, horns, whistles, confetti and serpentine.

The superlatives and faculty members adding a dignified and decidedly nice touch to the affair were President and Mrs. Crooks, Dean Steward, Dean Mitchell, Professor and Mrs. Hamilton and Mr. and Mrs. Campbell. There were many alumni and guests present due to the foresight of Dale Dawson, chairman of the invitation and alumni committee, Max Thompson and Ross Mitchell. Every one simply had to have a ticket to get in, and every one had one, thanks to Gilbert Schieb, chairman, Louis Zimmerman and Byron Combs.

Heading the entire scheme of organization were Charles Goodnow and Homer Barlow. You see what happens when two such good heads get together.

"It has been superb," said one of the guests and we all agree that it was, for every lady was a cinderella and every man a prince.

SEVERAL SENIORS HAVE POSITIONS NEXT YEAR

Pierce Boutin of Merrill has accepted a teaching position at Crosswell. He will be athletic director in that school. Pierce knows the cards and should have good success.

Ralph Frazer expects to be with the Bell Telephone Company in Detroit. Kent MacGregor is negotiating with the Campbell-Ewald people in Detroit for work in the advertising game. Romaine Hogan has been interviewed by the Statler Hotels and hopes to line up there for next year.

PLANS FOR SENIOR BANQUET UNDERWAY

It may seem odd that the first notice of the Senior Banquet should appear in the Frosh edition, but as this issue is primarily a newspaper, we want to inform the school regardless of the class to which the news pertains. The Banquet is to be a formal party for seniors only. It is a new innovation on the campus, and will give the classes of the future one more glorious tradition to live up to! It will be held at the Park Hotel, St. Louis, on May 16th. Kent MacGregor, who is in charge of all arrangements, guarantees that a very good meal will be served. After dinner, the evening will offer dancing, bridge and informal entertainment by the more talented members of the class. The complete details of the program, which is in charge of Pat Olson, have not been made public yet, but we feel sure that it will be exceptionally good.

The banquet is partly the result of a difficulty in arranging for a Senior Skip Day, due to the practice teachers in the class, and partly the result of the good business heads in the class who have amassed a goodly supply of funds in the class treasury. It is the first party of its kind on the campus, and is bound to be a success for it is a tradition with the class of '28, that when they do a thing, they do it well.

"FOOL" IS NEARLY IN FINAL SHAPE

Largest Drama Club Production Shows Great Promise For May 18

The Alma College Drama Club finished the third week of rehearsals for "The Fool," the four act drama which is to be produced at the Strand Theatre Friday, May 18. With one act remaining to be finished, the work of the play is progressing far beyond schedule.

During the years of the Drama Club's existence, they have had the ambition to present a play that would reach the proportions of "The Fool," and now that that time is at hand, they are expending all their resources, in the form of money and effort, to make this play the best production shown so far. Little can be said about the play, as it has gained for itself fame both in this country and abroad. It asks the question, "Can a man live like Christ?" and in the answering of it, the play depicts the same sort of difficulties that Christ experienced. Daniel, the man who attempts this experiment, is called a fool, and is beset by all classes of people, except a few faithful. This play sets forth a lesson which is as vital today as it was two thousand years ago, and the plot is so constructed in the typical Channing Pollock style, as to literally hurl these truths across the footlights.

A new plan has been inaugurated by the Drama club, to the effect that no one will be seated after the curtain goes up until the end of the first act. In the past people have persisted in coming in late, to the great annoyance of the actors and the spectators. On account of the length of the play, the curtain will rise at eight o'clock, and at that time, late arrivals will have to wait until the first act is over.

Main floor seats will sell for seventy five cents, and seats in the balcony may be purchased for fifty cents.

ZETA SIGMA HELD 39TH ANNUAL STAG

For the Thirty-Seventh time in the history of Zeta Sigma, the active members and the alumni of the fraternity gathered together for the Stag Banquet. The 1928 Banquet was held last Saturday at six o'clock in the Park Hotel, St. Louis.

The assembled members, alumni, and guests entered the dining room shortly after six and were served with a very pleasing and plentiful meal, of soup, roast fresh ham, potatoes, head lettuce salad, strawberry shortcake, and coffee. Cigarettes were on each table, as well as a cigar for each person.

At the end of the meal Merrill Holdship, president of Zeta Sigma, opened the program of the evening. In a few words he said that the purpose of the Stag Banquet was to further

ALMA VICTORS IN BALL GAME

Win From Albion 10-2. Rain Stops Olivet Game In Third Inning

The revamped Alma College baseball team scored a decisive 10-2 victory over the experienced Albion nine for the first association victory at Davis field, Saturday. Alma unleashed a barrage of hits at the first which left the game in no doubt at any time.

The game was put on ice in the first inning when three hits, two bases on balls and a hit batsman accounted for five runs. Albaugh pitched a masterful game and had the opposing batters well in hand all the way. In the third he got himself in trouble by passing two men, but bore down and struck out the next two. Again in the eighth a walk and an error put two men on bases. The next two men were easy outs. Two of the five hits accredited to the Albion batters were infield scratches.

Three double plays by the Alma infield featured the defensive work of the winners. In addition to catching a very nice game Holdship had a good day at bat with three hits and two runs in five times up. Hawthorne also helped his average with two doubles and a single in five times at the plate.

First Inning
Elliott first up for Albion, walked. Zimmer rolled to the pitcher, Goldberg was safe on a fielders choice, Elliot being run down between 2nd and 3rd and tagged out by Wagner. Camburn struck out.

Holdship started off with a single to left. Wagner walked. Hawthorne doubled to left scoring Holdship and Wagner. LeBlanc walked. Boutin was out swinging on the third strike. Westfall was hit by a pitched ball, filling the bases. Pezet then placed one over the hedge in center field for a double sending in three runs. Yageman struck out. Albaugh grounded to the pitcher.

Second Inning
Nutt was safe on an error, but was out a moment later when Kuhlman hit into a double play Albaugh to Wagner to Pezet. Gray was out Boutin to Pezet.

Holdship started off again with a single. Wagner flied out deep left, Holdship was nipped a moment later by a throw from Nutt. LeBlanc walked. Boutin was safe on a fielders choice. Westfall singled, scoring Hawthorn, but LeBlanc was caught sliding third.

Third Inning
Weisman struck out. Collins and Elliot walked. Zimmer and Goldberg struck out to end the batting.

Pezet flied to short. Yageman singled. Albaugh hit into a double play, Collins, to Weisman to Camburn.

Fourth Inning
Camburn was hit by a pitched ball. Nutt singled. Kuhlman walked filling the bases. Gray hit into a double play, Boutin to Wagner to Pezet. Weisman rolled out to first.

Holdship rolled to second. Wagner singled, making second a moment later on a pretty slide. Hawthorne flied to left field. LeBlanc was out Collins to Camburn.

Fifth Inning
Collins rolled to Albaugh. Elliot was hit by a pitched ball and then stole second. Zimmer singled to center and LeBlanc's throw to the plate caught Elliot. Goldberg struck out.

Boutin was safe on an error. Westfall flied out. Pezet struck out. Boutin was out on stealing.

Sixth Inning
Camburn was safe on an error. Nutt singled, Kuhlman hit into a double play, Wagner to Boutin to Pezet. Grey was out Pezet to Albaugh.

Yageman rolled to Camburn. Albaugh singled to right. Holdship was safe on an error. Wagner was safe on a fielders choice but Holdship was called out for interference. Wagner stole second and scored on Hawthorne's double. Vandeventer was safe on an error, Hawthorne scoring. Boutin flied out to left.

Seventh Inning
Weisman doubled to center. Collins singled scoring Weisman. Elliot struck out. Zimmer was safe on a field's choice and then stole second. Goldberg rolled out. Boutin to Pezet. Westfall singled. Pezet flied out. Yageman and Albaugh were out on easy shots to second.

EDITORIAL

As editor of this Almanian I wish to sincerely thank those persons who have helped me in editing this edition. Their hearty cooperation was a large factor in the publication of this issue.

On Upperclassmen

In as much as, a Freshman issue of the Almanian should be a place to express "Frosh" grievances, and offer an opportunity for the "Frosh" to explain to the worthy (?) upperclassmen the way the college should be run, I will take it upon myself to express my opinion on a matter that has been a thorn in my side the entire year.

There is an old adage that runs: "One catches more flies with sugar than with salt." It is a very true adage and one that the upperclassmen, or rather some of the upperclassmen, utterly disregard. You seem to take the attitude that we Freshmen are slaves who must hurry and scurry, hither and thither, to do your bidding, regardless of whether or not we have any plans for the use of our own time.

Now don't misunderstand me. I am heartily in favor of freshman duties, and I am heartily in favor of paddling parties. I think that it is an important part of one's college education. But the part that we Freshmen dislike is your attitude. When you want work done you come to us and give us a curt order to do this or that or the other thing. You have the upper hand and you like to show it.

Anyone will grant requests and be pleased to do so. But anyone with red blood in his veins hates an order or an ultimatum. I have always thought, and most Freshmen do, that orders were given by superiors. We would not resent them from superiors. But Freshmen certainly hate to receive them from those who are superior only in years in college, not in intellect, ability, or creative genius.

We would be more than willing to do anything under the sun for you if you make it as a request, but orders only make hard feelings.

Although the "Frosh" edition of the Almanian is generally thought of as an edition to boost the Freshman class and to show the abilities of the college yearlings there is so little for this year's Freshmen to strut about, that this sort of a task would be almost impossible.

From this group of public spirited and loyal supporters there has been only one achievement of which the Frosh can boast. After one or two meetings of this illustrious class it was decided to hold a party. The date was set and the plans were made, although only a few seemed to know what it was all about. This party was said to be a huge success. Due to the really noble efforts of about four men and a group of girls the gym was decorated. The punch was delivered by a few loyal members who only asked about three quarts of it for the effort. With the party over and the class about thirty dollars in debt, we found that the overwhelming number of six "Frosh" men were present at the affair.

Since that time the Freshmen class has held three or four meetings. At one of these about six were present. At another about thirty-five, and at the last one about fifteen. It has been so long since any dues were paid that the ledger has almost forgotten what the blue ink feels like. Yet, knowing that this is the case the freshmen of Pioneer Hall are careful to forget the meetings so they will save the treasurer the embarrassment of not collecting the dues he has asked for. The class owed fellowclassmen over thirty-five dollars and had owed since last fall. They do not, or will not, even pay their last September dues.

In one meeting when a large number of the class were present, several schemes were mentioned for making money so the class could pay its debts, yet no one offered to pay his dues. All the men apparently forgot about their bright money making suggestions. This is not a class organization, it is only a group of men and women in their first year of college.

One way that this selfish mob of donothings can gain their own self-respect, and the respect of the rest of the school, is to show in the campus day activities how they can work and will work together.

The Freshmen can only avenge their former disgraces by a brilliant display of sportsmanship and determination in the activities of Class Day.

As the year goes on one finds it is an interesting study to watch the opinions of Alma College that the Freshmen have. At the first of the year before the home-sickness had worn off, the general impression was not so good. Many were sorry that they had ever come here. Many would be glad when the semester would be over so they could change to some other school. The general idea seemed to be that the Upperclassmen were going to be regular slave drivers, that paddling parties were a regular event and everyone got several invitations, that all the college work would have to be done by the Frosh, that Pioneer hall was a terrible place to have to live in, and that the college as a whole was not worth the powder to blow it up.

When the football season was over and there were no more bills to walk through the streets with, and we had all been home to eat a Thanksgiving dinner and get over our homesickness, the idea seems to change to one that did not have such a bad influence on letters home. Alma wasn't such a bad place after all. There had only been one paddling party. There were no more football bills to peddle. It would be Christmas soon and we would all be home so why worry now.

After Christmas vacation all the gaiety of the season kept us happy for some time until we got worried over exams. When these loomed up before us we were ready to go home and stay put. Exams passed we felt much better. Maybe we thought they had given us something.

When we started to peddle the bills for the basketball and the snow was deep and it was cold, we did not have such a good impression. We hated the Athletic association, the student council, and anyone else that made us work.

Now that spring is here and there is only the Campus day to look forward to we are happy and gay and all that. We talk of the Field day with awe but a great many of the fellows feel that it would have been a terrible loss if we had not had one. We think that we have some idea of what we are to get, but we are willing to take that rather than lose the last big event of the year. A thing like this is a big thing and there should be a Field Day every year. So Alma College isn't such a bad place after all.

BETA TAU STAG HELD ON SATURDAY

it was a complete triumph in a culinary exhibition of what the well fed man should eat.

Between courses the society men had an opportunity to gaze around at the smiling faces of the notables present. The society had as its guests of the evening Professors Hamilton, Kaufman, and MacCurdy; not to mention four very proud alumnus, namely—Everette Winslow and Francis MacDougal, who are now in the Law School of the University of Michigan, Cecil MacDonald, who is teaching at Bay City, and Robert Baker, who is teaching at Fenton.

When the last speck of pie had been eaten and the last drop of coffee consumed, and while renewed fellowship was pledged in wreaths of blue smoke "Win" Thomas, acting as chief chef opened the "Me-n-u" section of the program with a few well selected remarks which did not fail to arouse both the interest and the comebacks of several individuals present. When he had become well warmed to his task "Win" introduced "Don" Darnell who ably represented the class of '28 by recounting many deeds of valor and otherwise, which have been performed by these worthy individuals in the past, and prophesized, for the pages of future history, events which would be controlled by the actions of the members of the incumbent senior class. Since "Bing" Combs, who was to have furnished the oysters for the soup, was unavoidably absent this course was necessarily omitted and the Chef next announced the "Hard Boiled Eggs" in the person of the Alumn. They were represented by Everette Winslow who gave a really inspiring talk on "Men." The Sweet Potatoes, otherwise known as the Sophomores were represented by "Les" Roland (who forfeited all claim to being the society wise-cracker by conferring the honors upon "Zippy" Ricks) and the Razzberries or Freshmen were defended by "Les" Harris.

With a few chosen remarks "Gil" Scheib, in behalf of the membership committee, presented to the society for honorary membership Professor Kaufman and Professor MacCurdy. "Tommy" Jackson pinned the emblem of the society upon these two gentlemen, who, because of their high scholastic standing and academic achievements, have thus honored the society by their membership. The society wishes to express themselves as more than proud to welcome them into its fellowship.

Professor Hamilton, presenting the "Tooth Picks," closed the program with a sample of his usual vigor and eloquence and the banquet came to a reluctant end with the singing of Alma Mater. The satisfied stroll of the diners from the dining room gave additional proof to the wisdom of the saying that "the way to a man's heart is through his stomach." The only regret of those present was that twelve long months must needs roll by before another such gathering may take place.

fellowship and good feeling between the members of the society and the alumni, a get-to-gether for the active members and their predecessors. He introduced the toastmaster for the remainder of the program, Mr. Allan Beam. Mr. Beam, who is now making a real place for himself in business in Flint, was a football and basketball player of exceptional ability while in college here.

Mr. Beam, with admirable toastmasterly manner, introduced the program of the evening, which was started by Romaine Hogan. Mr. Hogan's subject was "Raw Material." He treated the topic from the standpoint of the active member, describing the raw material which is received and used each year by an organization such as Zeta Sigma. He said that the freshman might be considered as the raw material for the factory of fellowship, and he drew his parallels from that point.

Gordon MacDonald, who graduated last year from Alma, and who has made an enviable record as coach of Traverse City High School, was next introduced. His subject was "Working with the Material." Mr. MacDonald considered his subject from the viewpoint of one whose everyday activity brings him in close contact with the materials of fellowship. Illustrated as his speech was with personal experiences and observations, it was intensely interesting to his audience.

The next and final speaker on the program was Rev. Carpenter of Marshall. Mr. Carpenter is a man who is universally liked and is much in demand as a speaker. The members of Zeta Sigma felt highly honored at his acceptance of the speaking engagement with them. In a very short speech he laid before the banqueters the essentials of a useful and happy life. He urged his hearers to choose a worthy profession for their life work, and to give that profession every effort possible to make it better. His speech, although it was necessarily rather curtailed as to time, carried a message that struck home.

Immediately at the close of the program, the group broke up and hurried back to Alma, to don formal clothes for the J-Hop, which followed the Stag banquet.

$2000 IS AWARDED TO TEUNIS VERGEER

The American Medical Association has announced an award of $2,000 to Mr. Teunis Vergeer in recognition of his important discovery in the medical field. Mr. Vergeer discovered the presence of a new form of tapeworm in certain fish which are to be found in Michigan waters. The tapeworm which was discovered by Mr. Vergeer is a form which is injurious to man. It is found in several species of native fish, among which are the wall-eyed pike and the turbot.

Mr. Vergeer came to Alma as assistant professor of biology at the end of the first semester. He is a graduate of Calvin College, at Grand Rapids. He took his graduate work in biology at the University of Michigan. For the past few summers he has worked on his project of the study of the tapeworm found in fish

Don't Let Graduation Gifts Worry You

This is the time of year when double-decked white envelopes are liable to pop in on you unexpectedly, and you groan dejectedly, "What, another gift!"

Oh, well, don't be too utterly pessimistic. Perhaps you are taking the subject a bit too seriously and need a new slant on the situation. Things don't have to be expensive to be appropriate or in good taste. Our store is crammed with gifts for the woman whose good taste is guided by a sensible desire for economy. It really costs very little to remember your friends when you have learned to shop the Penney Way.

ON FRESHMAN DUTIES

The upperclassmen say to us, "You Frosh must do the dirty work. You must not jump or yell or cuss. When asked to do the tasks that irk

"The honor of our college, dear Is resting in your able hands; And you must do the task that's drear And spread her fame through all the lands."

We peddle bills for a football game, For baseball games and all the rest. We peddle bills 'till we are lame And people tell us we're a pet.

We rake the lawn; we sweep the floor And peddle Almanians by the score And do sundry other tasks galore Dear me! It is an awful bore!

And so somehow it seems to me, As thoughts crowd to me one by one, The system must be really poor, If the Freshman Class does all that's done.

CAMPUSOLOGY

CAMPUSOLOGY
 Trudy Walker is starting an orchestra. She has a flute, a piano, drums, and first, second and third fiddles.

Dorothy Carter is starting a column, "Advice to the lovelorn." The Nancy Brown of Wright Hall.

Where did Crew get the blue handkerchief? Lots of competition.

Spring has surely come. Billy Rannels shaved today but he couldn't find any whiskers, so he took most of the skin off his face instead.

This isn't Frosh, but it's too good to pass by. We see that Zimmie was out practicing in Louis Nickels' car again.

Where do you suppose Bee and Emily got that lonesome look in their eyes lately?

Rumor has it that Prof Holland has changed his mind and will give Mr. Kaufman an "A" instead of a "B" in qualitative analysis.

To all evidences the crows seem to be feathering their nests again.

Do you know what, (No Drevvy doesn't love me) but Freddie Klerkopper got his head bumped dreadfully the other night when he was out with Jean Peterson. Ask Jean about it and see how beautifully she blushes.

When we look back over the last year, we sometimes wonder where the "Fat boy from Tecumseh is now."

They say that when Bill Stiles first came to Alma college he thought that a neckerchief was the head of the women's dormitory.

Since the cast for the "Fool" is larger than the Drama club several of the frosh are helping in the mob scene. Don't you think that our wild man Tom Sharpe will make a good boiler maker? But wait until you see Crew Couse as a burly coal miner.

So the boys are trying to tear down the Hall! Lefty Lang started it the other day by trying to jump off the upstairs porch and take the rail with him. The other fellows caught "Lefty" but they had to let the railing fall.

The "Adams" of the college are not "campused" anymore, but they have been "tennis courted."

These boys who go swimming and can't keep track of their clothes surely should either use the showers or else go up the river at night.

Spring surely must be here. About ten of the fellows, their desire for wild open spaces aroused, braved the elements and the water thrown from the upstairs windows, and carried their mattress out on the back porch roof and slept out of doors.

Did you see Lothaire Hall get knocked out on the dance floor the other night? Score two for Detroit.

Bill Owen has a new piece on the piano. "Tonight's my night with Trudie."

What happened to Van and Chuck at the Alpha Theta party?
 U & Company

Hammy's been seeing things. He claims he saw a ghost over in the grove. We wonder how come, because it really sounds awfully suspicious.

We know this paper doesn't aim to make money (regardless of the ads), but here's a good suggestion that might sell to the Student Council. Why not make a little money by charging import duty on all the importations for parties?

If anyone wants a look-in on the library steps, apply to Ginny and France any time between 12:30 and one, and between 6:30 and 7:30.

Fritz and Hil should go out for track. They ought to be pretty good by this time, because they seem to practice every night after dinner.

Lothaire Hall is learning to throw the discus because he says, he has to be able to sling heavy weights around.

You know what Spike's favorite pastime is? It's waiting in front of the Phi house.

The History twelve class thought they were prepared today, but they got stung, because Gil was there and he asked them questions. Better know your lesson Wednesday because Santa Claus is apt to drop in again and if he does and you don't know it, he may wax sarcastic.

Gil must think that all people from Saginaw are always prepared. How about it Si?

Isn't it funny what a sudden distaste some of the people around this colleke have developed for apples? And you know, it isn't only the men, even the girls have.

"Hap" Holland should be called "Gabriel," he is always blowing his horn.

Ask Perce Scheppers how cold it was Thursday night.

Lyle Kinney's singing a new song—"Muddy waters round my feet."

In the evening by the moonlight, You can see the angels walking. Ask Lorry if you can't.

Dick Crowell boosted his batting average in the Wright Hall League to 666. Dick is playing a nice steady game.

Since "Hawk" has started to stand at the plate sideways his batting average has gone down. He can only see the ball with one eye.

STUDENTS: Ambitious to earn money for next year's college expenses. We have probably put more men through school than any other sales organization. Our is a necessity, not high pleasure. Some very choice territories available for this summer. Training will be given free before starting. This class will start the first of May at College. Write at once for appointment. Mr. E. A. Hot—But Cool!

In this day of locker rooms, underwear must be as smart as ties, socks, or shirts. Here are shirts and shorts in a class by themselves, as is everything made for men by Wilson Brothers. The shirts fit snugly, yet are free about the neck and arms. The shorts are full and comfortable—we have them in a multitude of colorful combinations.

Evidently the type of spring fever that they have in Alma is as contagious as small-pox (we hope it isn't as fatal though) because Louis Nickles passed out the cigars last night. George Boyd came all the way from Flint to do it Sunday, too. Congratulations boys. We hope you live happily forever afterward.
