ALMA DOWNS KAZOO FOR M.I.A.A. LEAD

Campbellmen Win From Hornets 27 To 24 In Hard Fought Battle

With the M. I. A. A. lead at stake, the undefeated Alma basketball quintet subdued the hitherto unbeaten Kalamazoo College team in Memorial gymnasium a week ago last Wednesday night, 27 to 24. Both sides played a slow, defensive game and Alma managed to gain an 11 to 8 lead during the first half of play.

Kalamazoo scored first when Murdock dropped in a pretty basket from side-court, but Simmons tied the count on a dribble-in shot a moment later. Two free throws by the Alma center and one by Pezet gave the Presbyterianians a 5 to 2 lead, before Burrows made two gift shots good to bring the score to 5 to 4. Gussin sank a one-handed toss from side-court and made it 7 to 4. R. Schau looped in a short shot, but Sharp retaliated with a bucket and Pezet dribbled through for two more points. Two gratis shots by M. Schau just before the half ended left the score at 11 to 8 in favor of Alma when the gun sounded.

The Alma offensive began to click better at the start of the second half and after five minutes of play the Maroon and Cream quintet had increased their lead to 17 to 8 on baskets by Sharp, Simmons and Pezet. Kalamazoo took time out to reorganize their defense and then scored seven points before Alma again tallied. M. Schau, Knight and Burrows made baskets and R. Schau sank a free toss to make the count read, 17 to 15. Simmons rang the bell on two free throws and Sharp's successful foul shot brought the score to 20 and 15. M. Schau made a free throw good and Murdock pushed in a short shot, just before he was eliminated from the game on four personals, when Referee Kobs called a double foul on him. Simmons' made his gift shot good, but Murdock didn't and Hackney replaced the diminutive Hornet forward, when the score read, 21 to 18. Simmons' two baskets gave Alma a seven-point margin, with three minutes to play. Hackney looped in a side-court shot for Kalamazoo and M. Schau's bucket brought the score to 25 and 22, at which point Simmons dribbled, after a pretty pivot, and tossed in an overhead shot, and Knight retaliated with two points for the Baptists. Soon after, the gun ended the fracas and Alma had won, 27 to 24.

Capt. Simmons, with five baskets and five free throws, was the offensive star of the game with fifteen points to his credit. Gussin was handicapped with a sprained wrist, but he and Pezet both put up a great battle at the guard positions. The Kalamazoo scoring was divided among six players, M. Schau being their high-point man with seven points on two baskets and three foul shots. Burrows and Knight played good defensive ball and both were responsible for four of their team's points.

The Alma triumph leaves the Presbyterian aggregation in sole possession of first place in the association standings as the second semester's games are about to get under play. The encounter for Coach Campbell's cagers is at Olivet, February 5th, Wednesday.

Following is the lineup and summary of the Kalamazoo game:

STUDENTS HEAR KING'S ADDRESS

Tuesday morning, January 21, found a group of sixteen students and faculty members at 5:40 A. M. in the Wright Hall reception room to hear King George open the London Naval conference.

A small radio was installed by several of the students the previous evening, and everything was in readiness for the history making event. Shortly after 6:00 A. M. the King's voice was plainly heard over the Columbia hook-up. Following this address the audience listened to the various representatives until the breakfast hour.

The meeting was sponsored by the International Relations Club which is now preparing for the Model Assembly which is to be held in the spring.

ALMA FROSH LOSE TO CENTRAL STATE

In the preliminary to the Alma-Central State varsity game at Mt. Pleasant last Wednesday evening, the Alma Frosh quintet was defeated by the rangy Bearcat Yearlings, 51 to 18. The Teachers' powerful array of basket tossers took an early lead and led at the halftime, 30 to 7, twelve men entering their lineup during the fray.

Killoran, Wattrick and Wood were outstanding in the offense of the winners, totaling 35 points between the three of them. Borton and Catherman were the high scorers for Alma with eight and six points, respectively.

Following is the lineup and summary:

ALMA DEFEATED BY CENTRAL STATE

Teachers' Spree In Closing Minutes Gained Them 31 To 26 Victory

After battling with semester examinations for a week, Coach Campbell's Alma cagers encountered an alert, fast-breaking Central State Normal quintet at Mt. Pleasant last Wednesday night and suffered a 31 to 26 setback at the hands of the Loudewyk-coached team. After the Teachers had led at half-time 17 to 15, Alma went into the lead during the final session, only to succumb when Kelly and Munson tossed in four timely baskets near the close of the game. It was the first defeat of the regular schedule for the Presbyterianians.

With Mt. Pleasant using a shifting, five-men defense, the Campbellites had to change their style of offense for this one game and it was difficult for the Maroon and Cream tossers to work the ball in for many close shots. Time and again easy dog shots were missed when the Alma players did manage to get through the Bearcats' defense.

Mt. Pleasant had scored five points on baskets by Kelly and Munson and Calkins' free throw before Alma broke into the scoring column. Albaugh dropped in a long shot and was fouled, making both free throws good, and bringing the count to 5 and 4. Kelly's free throw was successful and Munson looped in another basket for Mt. Pleasant. Albaugh dribbled through for his second bucket and Simmons tied the score with a basket from the foul line. Kelly made two successive baskets from side-court and Brown sank a pretty shot through the hoop. Albaugh dribbled through for another basket to tie the score again at 12-all. Baskets by Calkins and Kelly put Mt. Pleasant in the ascendancy once more and Dean closed the gap to two points with a side-court shot, soon after he had replaced Sharp at forward. A free throw by Kelly and one by Brown left the score at 17 to 15, in favor of Mt. Pleasant, when the half ended.

The Teachers' margin was increased to five when Kelly rang the bell for two points and followed up with a free throw, starting the second half. Simmons scored his second bucket for Alma and Brown dashed in on his second one. Kelly made one more gratis shot good and Munson's fourth basket made the score read 23 to 19, for Central State. Gussin and Simmons came through with baskets and the score was tied. Albaugh's free throw gave Alma the lead, which was short-lived, due to baskets in rapid order by Kelly, Munson and Calkins. Wehrly was substituted in the Alma lineup and chalked up a basket to complete the scoring of the Campbellmen for the evening. Kelly's two foul shots came near the close of the game and

ANNUAL WOMEN'S CONTEST HELD

Frances Cameron, Mary K. Burt And Janet Owen Winners

The annual Women's Oratorical Contest was held in the Alma College Chapel Wednesday, January 22. Frances Cameron won first place with an excellent oration on "Human Values." Mary K. Burt received second place with the interesting subject "Sackcloth and Scarlet," while Janet Owen speaking on "Handicaps" captured third place. Gertrude Martin and Sheila Littleton made a fine showing in the contest.

In spite of the fact that examinations were only two days away a fair sized crowd was in attendance at the contest which is attracting more students and townspeople each year. All five orations were exceptionally well written and well delivered. The subject matter as well as the delivery showed that much time and thought had been spent on preparation.

Miss Cameron discussed the influence of education today in shaping people to fit in the social and moral scheme of American life. Mary K. Burt's "Sackcloth and Scarlet" gave a practical view on the usage of the divine fire which has been given to man since his creation. This fire has often burned low and even flickered but youth has always revived it. If mankind would aid its youth instead of condemning their views, this fire could be fanned into an eternal flame.

"Handicaps" by Miss Owen showed the heights that had been attained by men who were seriously hindered by various physical and even mental disorders. An indomitable will has carried many over seemingly insurmountable barriers.

Sheila Littleton in her oration, "Hand and Soul", gave fine examples of the immortality of the soul of man in the works of literature and art. Long after the physical being has returned to dust the beautiful creations of the human state live on in this realm.

VERGIL'S BIRTHDAY WILL BE OBSERVED

The Bimillennium of the birth of Vergil which is to be universally celebrated this year is to have its American celebration under the auspices of the Classical League of America.

There are twenty-eight committees now at work on the program, two of which are concerned with Vergilian reading, library exhibitions and activities.

The Library of Congress has sent out a circular letter to libraries asking their cooperation. It is proposed to have exhibits of best books by and about Vergil, and exhibits of rare books by and about him. A union catalogue of books by and about him which may be found in America is to be an important feature.

It is requested that titles of unusual editions by or about Vergil be sent to the Library of Congress at Washington, D. C., for inclusion in this union catalogue. A rare book on this subject or an unusual book, might happen to be in the hands of a private owner, and be unknown to the large library centers. The owners of any such books printed before 1830 are asked to send the titles of these to the Library of Congress.

Alma College Library has three works, one of 1826, one of 1819 and one of 1800 imprints, none of which seem to have had Library of Congress printed catalogue cards, thereby indicating that these works are probably not in the Library of Congress.

Three modern books which the Library of Congress suggests should be in every public library, available for general reading, are as follows: Vergil and his meaning to the world today, by J. W. Mackail, published by Longmans. Translations of the Aeneid, and of the Georgics and of the Eclogues, by T. C. Williams, published by Houghton and the Harvard University Press, and T. R. Glover, published by MacMillan.

Study clubs already organized could well devote many meetings to this interesting hard, and new clubs might profitably be organized for the purpose of acquiring more knowledge on this ancient man of letters.

ALMA MUSICIANS TAKE CONCERT TRIP

The Alma College Band under the direction of Prof. Jesse Ewer will start its third annual Concert Tour with a concert at Pigeon Tuesday, February 4. The three day trip will include concerts at Pigeon, February 4, Unionville, February 5, and Sebewing, February 6.

The annual trip is always a good advertisement for Alma College, and the tour this year is no exception. The band has been working hard the last few weeks and is ready for a successful journey.

The Band officers this year are: Dan Adams, President; Gene Tarrant, Business Manager; Carl Wise, Librarian and Prof. Ewer, director.

INTERESTING SERMONS AT PRESBYTERIAN CH.

The students of the college are invited to hear a series of sermons to be begun in the Presbyterian Church next Sunday morning. The first two will be entitled "The Modern Esau" and "The Modern Jacob." These will be followed by several under the general theme "What I Believe and Why?" It is the purpose of this series to face some of the questions which are troubling young people of to-day and deal with them frankly with the idea of giving a rational solution.

ALMA JOURNEYS TO OLIVET WEDNESDAY

Crimson Team, Title Contender, Will Be Hard To Beat On Own Floor

Firmly entrenched in first place in the M. I. A. A. basketball race, with three wins and no losses, Coach Campbell's Maroon and Cream quintet will journey to Olivet Wednesday night for their first association encounter on a foreign court.

Not since the inaugural game here with Hillsdale, January 14th, have the Alma cagers flashed a powerful offense. Olivet has shown improvement in every game and it is certain that they have been pointing for the Alma battle Wednesday evening. They opened the season with a 33 to 29 triumph over Hope College and forced the strong Kalamazoo Hornets to the limit, before succumbing in their second tilt, 21 to 18, on the Baptists' home floor. Hillsdale was beaten by the Crimson tossers in their third game, 21 to 20. An Olivet victory Wednesday would boost them up to a tie with the Campbellmen. Only after an overtime period was Alma able to eke out a win on the Olivet court last year, and this winter Olivet is able to present a much more formidable lineup than in many seasons past.

Kalamazoo is in second place with three victories and one defeat—that at the hands of Alma, 27 to 24. Their triumphs have been over Hillsdale, 22 to 20; Olivet, 21 to 18; and Albion, 41 to 16. After being overwhelmed on the small Kalamazoo floor last week, Albion will be host to the Baptists in Kresge gymnasium Wednesday night and should be able to give the Barnardmen a much closer battle.

Hillsdale's only victory was in an overtime game on their home field-house court against Hope, 27 to 26. Friday night the 'Dales go to Holland for a return game with the Wooden Shoes, and the Dutchmen are favored to gain revenge for the one-point setback at Hillsdale. In the fourth contest of the week, Albion will oppose Olivet on the latter's team's home floor, Saturday, with the Congregationalists being given the edge for a victory. Hope downed Albion last Friday, 24 to 21.

OLD TEXTBOOKS ARE VERY USEFUL

College Books Valuable For Reference And Nucleus Of Library

Do college students sell their textbooks? This is a timely question concerning an unfortunate custom which seizes many undergraduates in January and June. Thomas Arkle Clark, Dean of Men of the University of Illinois, gives two reasons for these seasonal outbreaks, first, the student's indifference or lack of interest in his work, and second, his need to get out of a financial difficulty. Dean Clark's further statements that "a college student is always broke" and "anything that will immediately add to his bank account seems to him justifiable" will not be challenged.

But immediate cash is not always forthcoming from the sale of textbooks, and the sums obtained are negligible in comparison with the value of the books. The rush to dispose of textbooks at less than their real value is swelled by the thought that now, examinations being over, those old books will never be needed again! Perhaps they'll not be needed for classroom work; but how often graduates moan that they wish they had kept their textbooks, to brush up on a language, to find a certain formula, to locate that line of poetry! The reasons for missing books hastily disposed of are many, but the regret is recurrent that the books are gone, with all the precious notes that added value to them, at least in sentiment.

Again, where will you ever get accepted authorities so economically? The truth is that once you have sold a textbook, you will never replace it, you will even tramp to a library for the required information. Which is not quite as clever as keeping the books in the first place, and gradually acquiring a personal reference library that may save much time and money for you in the future.

It is a recognized fact that textbooks on technical or professional subjects constitute the basis of a professional library. In many cases these professional books are very expensive, and to resell them at the popular low rates would not augur well for a technical career. In general, textbook formats are becoming more attractive yearly, and do not detract in the least from the charm of well filled book-cases. Who would have a library composed only of novels? A choice as limited as that would indicate an uninteresting owner; even a calculus textbook on your bookshelves would catch the eye and hint of a many sided character!

These are points in passing, for consensus of opinion suggests that you keep your textbooks for sentimental reasons. President John Grier Hibben, of Princeton University, suggests "Every undergraduate leaving college should take his textbooks with him as a reminder and record of a past chapter in his life and as a nucleus of a library." Perhaps it isn't fashionable to be sentimental. Yet books have become a recognized budget item; and now in many colleges is heard the cry of "Keep Your Textbooks."

There is no library or reference book as handy as the worn and scribbled textbook, which has been your companion, on and off the campus. Can you think of anything which would be as graphic a commentary on your college life as the notes and

SURPRISE PARTY PLEASANT EVENT

Miss Helen A. Wolter, assistant librarian at the College Library, was very pleasantly surprised by a group of friends on her birthday anniversary, Tuesday evening, January 28th.

A theater party during the fore part of the evening preceded a fine social hour at the Von Thurn home on Maple Avenue where a great many of Miss Wolter's friends assembled to greet her. Following a short period of visiting Helen was invited to lead the guests to the dining room where they seated themselves at an attractively decorated table. Pink blossoms as a center piece and tall pink tapers completed the color scheme. As guests departed, some lovely gifts were left for Miss Wolter.

Miss Bernadetta Cline and Miss Von Thurn were the hostesses.

LIBRARY NOTES

Many interesting announcements of Travel Clubs and Bureaus are now being received at the library. Those of us who expect to travel abroad next summer may find these helpful in planning the trip, and those of us who hope to travel in our own country, or who expect to remain at home, may enjoy being posted as to what attractions are offered.

The Bureau of University Travel, of Newton, Massachusetts, has issued a folder entitled "The Vergilian Pilgrimage and Aeneid Cruise". The following extracts will give some idea of the plan. "During the summer of 1930 teachers, students, and lovers of Vergil plan to celebrate the two thousandth anniversary of his birth. Recognizing the importance of this opportunity, the American Classical League . . . proposed a Vergilian Pilgrimage, and a committee with Professor Louis E. Lord as its chairman was appointed to consider and formulate plans for the fulfillment of such a program. The Vergilian Pilgrimage and Aeneid Cruise as described in this folder represents the results of the efforts of this committee, working in conjunction with the Bureau of University Travel. The Vergilian Pilgrimage necessarily includes a land tour to places made famous by association with the past. Such are Mantua, the place of Vergil's birth, Naples, where he was buried, Rome, his residence and the chief seat of his activities, and Cumae, Capri, Paestum, Pompeii, etc., with all of which he was familiar. The summer finds its climax, however, in the Aeneid Cruise which follows as nearly as possible the route of Aeneas about the Mediterranean. The cruise is described more fully elsewhere in this announcement. (with map)."

"Good fortune places the Vergilian Pilgrimage in the same year with the decennial celebration of the famous Passion Play, of Oberammergau. . . . It is included in the Vergilian Pilgrimage."

Another attractive folder is that issued by the "Students' Travel Club, Inc." of New York City, announcing "the leading student tours including the Passion Play at Oberammergau, not to be seen for another ten years to come". A selection of 17 tours is offered. These will all sail in the improved tourist third cabin of the Cunard and Anchor lines, of which they claim "there is no better way".

There are many books in the library on the subject of travel; some of the more recent ones will be found in the Bonbright collection. In the Reading Room on the Reference shelf is one entitled "Viewpoints in Travel, an arrangement of books according to their essential interest." Some of the groupings suggest various phases of travel, as follows: Antiquities, Art, Artists' Impressions, Classics of Travel, Literary Associations, National Characteristics, National Ideals, Ocean Travel, Out of the Way Places, Sea Life, Unusual Journeys, Walking Trips.

The Library Staff will be glad to help any one to find the books they made desire on the subject.

CO-ED NEWS

Owing to the fact that most sensible people "slept in" over the week end there seems to be a dearth of news. Slumbering folk never are particularly interesting.

Eccorse weather conditions—latest report from our Wright Hall cub reporter Emmy is that the aforesaid strip of habitable (?) ground is damp to the point of muddiness.

Beau is reported to have given another blond a break—only it wasn't at Alma.

Nan's "inopportune moment" gave her a surprise over the week end. Doctors from Lansing are all right in their places, says Nan.

The Wright House becomes a popular steak rendezvous for our leading couples. Mickey and Willie recommended it so highly that Kerm and Jean had to sample it too.

Another Van Dine mystery—where were Nell and Helen last week end.

The girls' glee club almost got a steak dinner—ala formal, Monday night. But Kerm doesn't like company.

New girl in Wright Hall—Onilee MacDonald from Oscoda.

RUSSIA WILL HAVE GIANT GENERATORS

Four 77,500-kv-a. hydro-electric generators, the largest in the world, are being manufactured by the General Electric Company for the Dnieper River development at Kichkas, near Zaporozhe, in the Ukraine. The development will supply power in the vicinity of Dnepropetrovsk, and through the southern part of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics.

The total weight of each generator will be approximately 1,760,000 pounds, while the weight of the rotor and shaft will approach 980,000 pounds. The maximum diameter is approximately 42 feet, while the generators will have an overall height of 40 feet, 5 inches, of which 17½ will extend above the floor of the plant.

Large castings have been eliminated by the use of fabricated welded construction.

Shipment of the several thousand parts will be made by railroad from Schenectady to New York, where they will be loaded on a boat bound for the mouth of the Knipeper River. Though railroad facilities in that section of Russia are considered good, part of the shipment will be made by barge up the river to the site of the plant, where a special 50-ton crane will have to be installed to hand the pieces of apparatus. About 130 railroad cars will be required for the shipment.

Because of shipping limitations, the stator of the generator will be made in six sections, the punchings and windings to be assembled in each unit at the factory. The rotor will be completely dismantled for shipment. The heaviest single piece to be handled will be the 40-inch steel shaft, 36 feet long, with a coupling flange on the end which is 70 inches in diameter. This part will weigh about 136,000 pounds. It will be shipped on a special car, as will the hub for the upper bearing bracket, which is 16 feet in diameter. This latter piece will be rounded a roundabout way from Schenectady to New York to insure railroad clearance.

The last of the four units is scheduled for shipment early in 1932. Negotiations for the generators were completed with the International General Electric Company by the Amtorg Trading Corporation, of New York. American representatives of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics, through which all American purchases for Russian import must pass.

All of these vertical generators will be driven by water turbines being built by the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company.

Hugh L. Cooper and Company, New York, the consulting engineers, are now at work on the construction on the dam and power station.
