ALMA TURNS BACK OLIVET WITH 34-0 SCORE

ANNUAL FEAST IS HELD BY SWIPES

Wright Hall Hash-slingers Exchange Places for Evening.

The Wright Hall swipes held their annual banquet at the Park Hotel, St. Louis, last Friday evening. The wielders of the tray adequately proved what they have long asserted that with a little practice they could learn to eat with as great an evidence of proper etiquette as any one who had never spent many months at the table where the Law of the Long Reach holds sway. The revelers reached the neighboring hamlet by means of a chartered bus. Certain superior airs taken on by Freeman, D. Young, Apsey, D. Bradley, Harris, and E. Williams, who whispered about a touring car disappeared when it was discovered that they were transported thence in the regular Alma-St. Louis bus.

The table for the regale was decorated in observance of the Hallowe'en season. We do not reprint the menu out of regard for the boarders at Wright Hall. The meal was served to a monotone music which turned out to be undertone comments by each swipe to the lady on his right, said comments being comparisons of the Park House system of table etiquette with that of Wright Hall, greatly to the disparagement of the former.

The feast progressed with but few interruptions which resulted from Smythe's ignorance of the nature of Waldorfe Salad and from commotions by Mrs. Howie and Elizabeth Williams, who were convulsed by the wit of Wright Hall's red headed sub slide-puller.

A program of speeches, arranged by Roger Cole, followed the meal just to show the guests of the swipes that they were not there merely for entertainment. Toastmaster Boyd was there with the last copy of Judge and told all manner of jokes on the speakers who retaliated feebly from the Literary Digest. The subjects were various cries of the swipes which the lay population never hears. Tebo gave in dramatic fashion the harrowing experience of the sub-swipe in a talk entitled "Who Am I Subbing For?" Although he didn't tell who it was, everyone correctly guessed his secret. Harris followed with an explanation of why the swipes are all woman-haters in a panic labeled "The Wimmen Are Coming!" Toll was then exacted by the Swipes' Quartette, composed of Tebo, Bailey, Freeman, and Boyd who rendered a few "wails." The patients were bled further by Gay's eloquence "Watch Your Steps" and Freeman prepared them for embalming with several minutes of breathless oratory on a subject called "Who's First Man?"

A few moments of dancing in the corridors after the meal were rudely broken up due to complaints of travelling men who were spending the night in the hotel. The banqueters were then searched by Rose who explained that the decorations were "just loaned" and allowed to depart. We forget that Alma's marathon team spent some moments scavenging in the kitchen and showed their appreciation by giving the swipes and swipettes an Alma yell.

LET'S MIGRATE

Cut out the "hot fudges" and lemon "cokes." Save your pinnies and make the Albion trip.

Travel is educational. Take the Albion trip and see how they do things in Albion. Give them a little education by advertising Alma "pep."

The team's going to show Albion how to play football. Let's go down and show'em how to yell.

Freshman of the intelligence test! Show your intelligence by going to Albion.

HILLSDALE GAME

Hillsdale is coming fast, and Alma will not have any easy time in disposing of the Blue and White before the Hillsdale home-coming crowd Saturday, in the opinion of observers, who claim that the Blue and White has now hit its stride and they point to the fact that Hillsdale outplayed Albion, Saturday, although losing 13 to 7, as the result of two Albion touchdowns by aerial work.

That indicates that the Maroon and Cream will have a tough lunch Saturday afternoon at Hillsdale and that the Maroon and Cream will be forced to play the same bang-up brand of football that it displayed against Olivet if it is to win. And Alma must win.

The collegians should be in better shape this coming week than last week, barring of course possible injuries in practice this week. Shaver, although not fully recovered from his injury in the Ypsi game, played most of the Olivet game. He is expected to be back in the 'pink' for this week. Lankton will also be in shape for use if needed, but what Campbell may elect to do at the right half job is a question. Lamb and Rus. Catherman both looked fine at the position against Olivet, which makes it more uncertain whether or not Lankton will get in against Hillsdale.

To win, the Maroon and Cream must keep up its wonderful fighting spirit, and that this year's aggregation will keep up that spirit goes without saying. All Alma college and town believes in the 1923 team. It will deliver.

Mass Meeting Proves to Be Huge Success

Over six hundred enthusiastic followers, a football squad desperately resolved to win, the stirring crash of band music, fiery pep speeches, and a "Down with Olivet" slogan were the high combustibles which were exploded at the college gymnasium last Friday evening in probably the largest mass meeting ever held at Alma.

The meeting met according to schedule at promptly seven o'clock, with Wyatt leading. The band furnished a few pep raisers, including the old "Alma Will Shine."

Prof. Randels led off with a historical setting of Alma and Olivet in past years, including a rousing account of the first game between the two colleges. This game was the second college game that Alma had ever played and was staged in spite of several difficulties which arose when Alma was attempting to institute the pastime.

"Duke" Hudson '24 enthusiastically dipped further into the pep pot by cleverly and spiritedly bringing out three aspects which point to the efficient organization of Alma's support and pulling together powers, all of which give promise to a greater Alma.

Supt. Luchtman of the High School spoke in behalf of the Down town audience by heralding a greater co-operation of the city and college and analyzing the fundamentals which promote an unconquerable spirit in an institution.

The session also was featured by the appearance of two new yellmasters, Dey and Powers, whom Wyatt has unearthed as his assistants.

The cheer leaders, together with the band kept up the fight between speeches. A goodly representation was present from the down town district and enthusiastically entered into the proceedings. It is hoped that as many and more will be with us for all games in the future.

M. I. A. A. GAMES OF WEEK

This coming week end will see the six teams of the Michigan Intercollegiate mixing in three strictly association battles, two of which, at least, may prove to have a bearing on the final outcome of the M. I. A. A. race. The games carded are:

At Olivet—Albion vs Olivet
At Hillsdale—Alma vs Hillsdale
At Kalamazoo—Ypsi Normal vs Kazoo College.

FIRST DEBATE SESSION HELD

Large Number Report for Varsity Try-outs. Five Letter Men This Year.

Fourteen aspirants appeared at the first debating session held Tuesday night, following the formulation of plans for the year which were decided at the meeting of the Michigan Oratorical League at Albion, three weeks ago.

The meeting was held primarily to effect a debating organization for the purpose of carrying on a systematized discussion of the question which will be the subject for the varsity debates to be held later in the year. Weekly debates will be held every Wednesday night which will acquaint the members with the question and serve as try-outs for the varsity debating teams, to consist of four men for each side.

Those who reported Tuesday night as contestants were: William Fulcher, Frank Prouty, Clifford Fildey, Cecil McDonald, John Anderson, Melvin Orr, Ronald Harris, Kenneth Moore, Dorothea Young, Phil Lewis, Elna McGlone, Carroll Clark, Forrest Freeman, and Lowell Hudson.

Two teams were chosen to furnish a preliminary debate tomorrow night to bring out the essential features of the Huber Bill, now before Congress, and upon which the question at hand is largely based. The teams appointed were:

Affirmative	Negative
Hudson	Freeman
Harris	Lewis
Fulcher	Prouty.

This is the largest number Alma has had report for the try-outs in several years and with the large number of frosh aspirants, success in the future is assured. Professor Hamilton has five letter men at his disposal of which Wyatt, Hudson, and Freeman have performed on the varsity for two years with Tarrant and Harris one year veterans. All of these men, however, have had championship experience and serve as an unusually good nucleus for Alma's debating program.

The exact wording of the question which will be used in the championship rounds has been received and runs as follows.

Resolved: That Congress exact a law embodying the essential provisions of the Huber Unemployment Insurance Bill, constitutionality conceded.

A series of double round triangular debates describes the system of schedules by which the varsity teams will perform. The championship will be decided by points rather than by elimination.

The schedule runs as follows:

First Series, Triangular Debate: Albion, Hope, Kalamazoo. Quadrangular Debate: Kazoo Normal, Alma, Ypsi Normal, Olivet.

Second Series, Triangular Debate: Kalamazoo, Olivet, Alma. Quadrangular Debate: Albion, Kazoo Normal, Hope, Ypsi Normal.

By this system of scheduling no two teams will oppose each other but once.

It has been decided to hold the first series in the week end represented by February 15, 1924, and the second round during the week end of February 29.

The affirmative teams of each college will debate on their home floors for the first round while the negative teams will perform at home during the second round.

BETA TAU EPSILON

After a short business meeting the following men were initiated into Beta Tau Epsilon: Robert Rice, Clifford Fowler, Cecil McDonald and Francis MacDougall.

The new song hit of the season: "The Women Fall For Me," by Red Hughes.

SCORE OR THE M. I. A. A. TEAMS

Saturday's games of the M. I. A. A. teams furnished only one real surprise, that being the big score that the Alma collegians rolled up on Olivet, a feat that was totally unexpected even by the most optimistic of the fans. Results for the week end show that Albion had a hard tussle with Hillsdale, and in fact observers claim that Hillsdale outplayed Albion, who secured both touchdowns on passes.

The scores:
At Amla—Alma 34, Olivet 0.
At Albion—Albion 13, Hillsdale 7.
At Marietta, Ohio—Marietta 56, Kalamazoo College 0.
At Mt. Pleasant—Mt. Pleasant 27, Ypsi 3.

BAND TO GET SUITS

An important meeting of the Athletic Board of Control was called by Lee Sharrar, Wednesday, October 24. The financial condition of the Association was presented by Mr. Sharrar and discussed. It was moved and carried that the Association buy uniforms for the band with the understanding that they are here in time for the Albion game. The meeting adjourned.

The team's going to Albion. The band's going to Albion. "Red" Clark is going to Albion. Are you going to Albion?

Women's Societies Announce Pledges

After five weeks of anxious waiting the several girls' societies issued their invitations to the freshmen girls Wednesday morning at six o'clock. This time marked the end of the appointed period before new members could be pledged by the various organizations. This move follows the rule recently instituted against rushing.

The freshmen girls are given this time to become acquainted with each other and with the upper class women and in this way learn whom they wish most to be with.

The Pledges are:
Alpha Theta
Margaret Funnell, Norwalk, Ohio
Helen Bradley, Farmington
Ethel West, Grand Haven
Margaret Maxwell, Highland Park
Katherine Joiner, Alma
Dorothea Young, Alma
Helen Sharrar, Alma
Ruth Richard, Alma
Marjorie Wakins, Milford
Beulah Watson, Breckenridge
Elizabeth Brooks, Mt. Pleasant.

Kappa Iota
Sally Backie, St. Ignace
Olga Down, Highland Park
Dorothy Fox, Saginaw
Marjorie Furman, Boyne City
Cathryn Lee, Flint
Elsie Washburn, Alma
Bertha Woodhurst, Jackson

Philomathean
Ethelyn Adams, Alma
Emma Ardis, Evart
Winifred Mills, Grand Ledge
Mary Hagaman, Brown City
Erma Burgess, Bradentown, Fla.
Alma Gilbert, Saginaw
Jui Ying Kwong, Pekin, China.

SUNDAY SERVICES

The Sunday services in the Presbyterian church offer a series of interesting and informing discussions during the month of November. The theme of the series is "Bible lessons from the lives of Present Day Statesmen." The life of the little Welshman Lloyd George, will be considered next week.

Next Sunday morning a second opportunity for students to join the church, either by confession or affiliated membership, will be given in the morning service. Already a number are planning to avail themselves of the chance. All desiring so to do should notify Mr. Gelston in advance.

One of the bands in the game Saturday failed to come up to expectations. In the third quarter, the "rubber band" on Andy Anderson's nose-guard broke.

ALMA BACKS ABLE TO GAIN AT WILL

MacDonald Features Game By 90 Yard Sprint for Touchdown.

Surprising even the most ardent supporters, the Maroon and Cream clambered over, smashed through, tore around and aeroplaned its way to a 34 to 0 victory Saturday over the previously undefeated Olivet college eleven that had been proving a sensation in the Michigan Intercollegiate. Helpless before the determined attack of the Campbellites Alma had no difficulty in rolling up the largest count made in 22 years of football between Olivet and Alma, with the one exception of the 1912 game.

During the fray Alma ripped off 14 first downs against the heavier Crimson eleven, while Olivet made just a single first down, on one of the two successful passes that Olivet was able to work. These first downs are exclusive of those that came on penalties. Alma was handed 85 yards in penalties during the fray and Olivet 40, giving the Crimson a big edge in yardage in this respect. Alma attempted a total of 11 passes during the game, working 3 for a total of 78 yards. One pass is rated as failed on a play on which Alma was handed a 15 yard penalty, after Wright took a pass and went 35 yards to the goal, only to have the ball called back. Olivet tried 7 passes and worked 2 for a total of 14 yards.

Such was the work of the Almatites that Olivet never had the ball in her possession during the first quarter after kicking to Alma to start the game. Anderson took the kick and was downed on the 31 yard line. After a first down Alma penalized for offside and a fumble lost more ground forcing Alma to punt. Olivet fumbled the kick on her 24 yard line, Wright recovering for Alma. H. Catherman smashed for 4 yards and Lamb took 15 putting the ball on the 5 yard mark. McDonald got a yard and Harley a half yard. McDonald then smashed over. Carty place kicked the goal. Score Alma 7, Olivet 0.

Carty returned the next kickoff 20 yards to the 43 yard line. Lamb and Elias gave Alma a first down. Olivet was offside and Alma gained a first down on the Olivet 30. Failing to gain Alma attempted a dropkick, which Olivet blocked, Elias recovering. Olivet was offside. Elias shot a pass to Wright 35 yards for a touchdown a few plays later, but Lamb was penalized for illegal work and the play called back just before the quarter ended.

Alma punted on the second play of the second quarter, Olivet being downed on her own 15. She lost ground on the first play and punted outside on her own 40. Lamb and McDonald got 3 yards. Elias passed to Carty for 22 yards. McDonald ripped off 4. Alma got 15 for holding. McDonald gave another gain and then smashed 11 yards to the 6 yard line. Harley got 2 yards and Lamb took the pigskin to the 1 foot mark. McDonald smashed over. Carty dropkicked the goal. Score Alma 14, Olivet 0.

Olivet again kicked and smashing, and gaining on exchanges of punts, Alma finally carried the ball to the Olivet 35 yard line, where Elias passed to Wright, who tore down the field to the goal. Carty's dropkick for the extra point failed. Score Alma 20, Olivet 0.

90 Yard Run

Alma kicked to Olivet to open the second half, and Cunningham returned 20 yards to the 36 yard line. Two plays failed to gain. Alma was offside. Three plays gave Olivet a few yards, but she was forced to punt. McDonald took the kick on his own 10 yard line and with the Alma

INTELLIGENCE TESTS

A few days ago, the freshmen of Alma College were given an intelligence test. Since then the student body, or at least a large part of it, as usual have been discussing the merits and demerits which evolve from the annual appraisal,—whether the students become catalogued for their term here at college; and whether the frosh are hereby classified as to their physical, moral, and mental standards which they are to accept in society. These are the points most quoted and deliberated.

It is only natural that those unfamiliar with the methods of psychology, should occasionally question their worth, just as there are many people who do not believe in vaccination, or operation for appendicitis. When the astronomer tells us that there is to be an eclipse of the sun, we accept his statement, because we realize that our ordinary experience affords no basis for judgement in such matters. Psychology is just as much a science as is astronomy, and one must have special knowledge to understand the working parts of it.

The intelligence test of the individual student is the only way of judging his worth with any degree of accuracy. Grades are no consistent measurements of education. Foster found that in Harvard, "A's" were 35 times as common in Greek as in English. Meyer found two instructors teaching the same course in the same school, one having a failure percentage of students of .001% and one other 333%.

Learning should be for learning's sake, rather than for marks or prizes. Although at present the intelligence test has a degree of error, its perfection can be obtained by establishing standards through experiments. When these standards become perfected, marks will show only whether or not, the student has been working to the capacity of his intelligence.

There are two kinds of intelligence, general and acquired. General intelligence is a native endowment, and the capacity of intelligence is inborn. Acquired intelligence is the amount of knowledge one acquires, and general intelligence is the ability to acquire knowledge, or to "learn." The test always measures the acquired intelligence and the native endowment is seldom exposed.

When we learn the amount of work of which a student is capable, the intelligence test will have reached its highest point of perfection. Then if a student does not have his work, we will know that he is either lazy or has some physical illness that keeps him from his greatest efficiency. In a case of mal-nutrition, the up-to-date physician does not depend upon general symptoms or his own judgment, but instead makes a blood test to determine the exact number of red corpuscles per cubic millimeter of blood and the exact percentage of haemoglobin. He has learned that external appearances are misleading. Should not education take the same step in its analysis of intelligence, and not trust to general appearances or personal judgment?

"PEP"

PEP is an elusive thing. It ebbs and flows according to the occasion. It is as changeable as a woman's mind.

But PEP is a desirable thing. It is the outward sign of true enthusiasm, optimism, and general good spirit.

Friday night designated a high-water mark of true Alma PEP. It was the "old time Alma spirit" resurrected, overhauled, and presented to the public in the most approved style. Let's make this the beginning and not the climax of the season.

We have a winning, fighting football team that's full of PEP.

We have a captain that is worthy of such a team. He has PEP.

We have a loyal, cheering student body that's full of PEP.

We have a cheer leader who is the living embodiment of PEP.

Only our modesty forbids us to prophecy as to prospects in the remaining sports of the year. Their success depends upon us alone. Be it foot-ball or forensic activities, basket-ball or tennis, base-ball or track, let's give them our all-in-all. Let's make ALMA and PEP synonymous.

1923 PEP PEP PEP PEP 1924.

"The Changing Mind of Man"

This will be the subject of an interesting and instructive lecture in the College chapel on Friday evening, November 2, at 8:00 o'clock to be given by Dr. Edwin E. Slosson, who is Director of the Science Service at Washington, D. C. Dr. Slosson does not usually visit cities the size of Alma, but owing to the fact that he speaks Friday morning in Bay City before the Michigan State Teacher's Association, he has been persuaded to come to Alma for Friday evening.

Dr. Slosson is the author of "Creative Chemistry" which is a book that many Alma students are familiar with. This book has been read by thousands of people in the U. S. and it is written in a free and easy style and makes the things of science read like a novel.

While Mr. Slosson has a number of lectures, the one chosen is probably better adapted to the average college audience. It is a discussion of recent movements as indicative of the temper of the times in literature, arts and science.

A charge of 15 and 25 cents will be made to help defray the expenses of the lecture and students will be charged the lesser amount. No student can afford to miss this lecture.

Y. M. C. A.

A couple of weeks ago the Y. M. C. A. launched an offensive campaign which the leaders have no doubt will be a success. At the base of the campaign is a radical change in the form of Y. M. C. A. meetings for the future. Hitherto the Y. M. C. A. has met in one large group once a week. From most standpoints this group was a failure. It was too large for discussion purposes; consequently many members lost interest and left Y. M. C. A. work entirely. Only a small group of hopelessly faithful Y. adherents stuck through last year. This year there will be three discussion groups. One will meet in Pioneer Hall at 6:45, Thursday evenings. President Crooks and Professor Randalls will assume the task of holding freshman interest. A second group consisting of Phi Phi Alpha men and Beta Tau Epsilon and non-society men living west of the rail road track will meet at "The Castle". Professor Hamilton has kindly lent his aid as leader of this group. The third group includes Zeta Sigma men and Beta Tau Epsilon men east of the track. Dean Mitchell will be in charge. These groups will probably meet for only about ten weeks and then change leaders. The topics discussed may be taken from some book of general interest to men. But the big drawing card of the plan must now be mentioned. Once a month there will be a joint meeting of the three groups. After a short devotional meeting a good social time will be indulged in. Such meetings will prevent the groups from becoming too much separated and cannot fail to produce brotherly feeling among the Y. M. C. A. members.

The scheme has been tried in other places and has been a success. A little interest and co-operation of the Alma student body will put the Y. M. C. A. here in as thriving a condition as Y. M. C. A.'s of former years have been.

Mrs. E. F. Potter and son, Harry, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Furman, Mrs. E. Merriam, Mrs. Riley, Gertrude Resuer, Esther Packard, and Beatrice Shaunding were guests at Wright Hall over the week end.

"Bill" Fulcher and Prince Williams were the only Almates responsible for "horseplay" Saturday.

THE EDUCATED FOOL

A college education is a splendid thing to own, But what's the good of learning if you haven't got back bone. You bright, tho smart, or rather dull, or maybe very dense, But you can rise from where you are by using common sense. We all have had some learning, and we all have been to school So now what is the difference, twixt the wise man and the fool? The latter puts his time in school but merely for the name, And scorns the more unfortunate who cannot do the same. He goes thru school for that affords a thing to brag about, And he can lord it o'er his friends who had to do without. And after he has stumbled thru—forgot the golden rule—What is he in the eyes of men? Why he is still a fool. But he who wants to get ahead and some day claim renown Why all the shackles in the world would fail to keep him down. He calls upon his common sense to help him in the fight, Then marches forward towards his goal, because he knows he's right

Within his brain no idle thots or hopes that might have been, He steps from out obscurity, a leader among men. 'Tis not always the man who has the lion's share of gold Who can the crown of glory grasp and never lose his hold. 'Tis more than bluffing at the game—the purpose must ring true, Not only have the sense to start but grit to carry thru. So if you don't set out to win, don't waste your time in school For life has no jobs open for an educated fool.

LIBRARY NOTES
There are two books in the library, "Easy lessons in Einstein" and "Great American Universities" by Mr. Edwin E. Slosson, who is to address the students on next Friday.

A very interesting pamphlet on the History of the electric light has been recently added. It contains excellent illustrations. It may be had by calling for the Smithsonian Miscellaneous Collection, v. 767 No. 2.

The Tony Sarg Marionette Book and other material on Tony Sarg and his Marionettes may be had upon inquiry at the Library loan desk. The Library possesses two copies of Don Quixone, one of which will be placed at the desk for reading room use. A rare treat is in store for November 19th when this epic will be presented in Alma by the Tony Sarg Marionettes.

Miss Ward spent a few days in Chicago and Evanston after attending the State Library Convention at Kalamazoo.

Kappa Iota Informal
Given Saturday Night

The ascendancy of Alma over Olivet in the afternoon was celebrated by a Victory Dance given by Kappa Iota in the Memorial Gymnasium, Saturday night. The affair was informal and marked the first Kappa Iota dance of the season.

The occasion was an usually joyous one following the afternoon's victory and was featured by a record attendance. Several alumni and old men and women were present as well as a large number of out of town guests.

"Ken" Wolfe and Huntley, together with four local associates furnished the music. Several old popular pieces, alluringly rendered by the orchestra featured their pleasing contribution to the evening's occasion and celebration.

The party was chaperoned by Professor and Mrs. Hamilton, Dr. and Mrs. DuBois, Dean Lanier, Mlle. Boissot, and Miss Hollweg.

aggregation displaying the finest blocking that it has shown all year. McDonald raced 90 yards to the Olivet goal, being able to slow down almost to a walk before the goal was reached, so well had the Alma men done their work in blocking. Carty dropkicked the goal. Score Alma 27, Olivet 0.

Before the period ended Alma was held for three downs when passes failed and a dropkick fell short, giving Olivet the ball on her own 13 yard line as the period ended.

Olivet punted to start the final period, R. Catherman, playing right half for Lamb, returning the short kick 11 yards to the Olivet 36. Olivet intercepted an Alma pass on her own 27 yard line. Losing 6 yards on two 6 plays the Crimson punted, Alma being downed on the Olivet 45 yard mark. McDonald got 11 through the line. R. Catherman ripped off around end. Olivet was penalized 15. Elias went 15 yards to the 3 yard line. He then lost two yards. Harley carried it over Carty goaled. Score Alma 34, Olivet 0.

During the few minutes left to play Olivet made her first down on a pass.

The entire team for Alma displayed wonderful football throughout the game. Carty, Harley and Russell Catherman, McDonald, Elias, Anderson and Wright shining in the attack and in the defense. It is hard to mention anyone as featuring, however, as every man deserves only the finest of praise for the work that was done.

Line up:

In connection with the game there were some excellent features of note.

The finest of these was, of course, the splendid display of clean sportsmanlike conduct of the fellows of Olivet and Alma. Just before the game started the two rooting sections exchanged yell leaders, the Olivet leader conducting a yell for Alma and Wyatt conducting a similar one for Olivet. Fostering of such a clean, whole rivalry need not detract from a game, and in fact adds to the interest that a game holds. And those who saw the two teams battle, Olivet waging a grim fight against great odds, a fight worthy of commendation, know that it does not detract from the play on the field. Olivet, Alma will have a still more royal welcome for you next time, whether Alma wins or whether she loses.

A parade was one of the features preceeding the game, the Boy Scout band of Alma and the new College band participating. A number of cleverly designed floats were in the parade, a hearse led by the Frosh, instead of horses, and another worthy of note, which carried the world famous words, "They shall not pass."

It's a good idea to know at least as much about your own business as you do about the other fellow's.

Campusology
It has been hinted around the campus that a large number of the freshmen children are to be entertained Tuesday night about ten thirty or eleven o'clock. Only live wires are to be invited. Those whose tastes are better than to wear green pots when they are stepping out, those whose ideas are too advanced to pay any heed to the old adage, "be seen and not heard," are to be among the guests. A hot time will undoubtedly be had by all who are invited.

The Alma-St. Louis marathon team is again gaining its former excellent condition. Among the wealth of new material, Judd Powers and Freeman Huntley are showing unusual form and speed. Some of the last year's records are bound to be broken by this fast combination.

- WHAT'S TO BECOME OF PIONEER HALL?
1. A faculty member living there.
 2. Rooms shoveled out.
 3. Inspection of rooms.
 4. Early to bed.
 5. Sophomores musn't disturb the boys in the hall.
 6. Study hours, no noise.
 7. All notices must be O. K.'d.
- We advocate:
1. Pink pajamas with silver bells to keep track of the boys.
 2. Violet-scented toothpaste.
 3. Cradles to rock them to sleep in.
 4. Bathtubs to take the place of the vulgar showers.
 5. Individual tooth brushes.
 6. Elevator service.
 7. Chaperones at the De Luxe.
- Fear not, mothers, there is no danger of your sons going wrong in Pioneer hall this year.

A SHORT SUMMARY OF THE ALMA-OLIVET GAME
Alma—34 points, 2 bands, 750 rooters, hot dogs—10c.
Olivet—0 points, 1 band, 200 rooters, 100 mile bus trip home.

Heard at the Game
Not too "hawsh" to be "vulgah" and not too soft to be effeminate—just Olivet—Olivet—Olivet.
"Oh, I say—the "scoah—Haw! Awsk me, I don't know.—
"Press them fiercely, Olivet, Press them fiercely."

In the Ferris Institute game, "Chick" Harley Catherman ran 90 yards for a touchdown. At the mass meeting last Friday night, Lowell Hudson, "the boy orator from Rudyard" bestowed upon him the title of "195 yard Catherman." The Almanian staff hereby bequeathes to "the Bay City Wolf" MacDonal, otherwise known as the fighting Scotchman, the title of "190 yard MacDonal" because of the imitation of Charlie Paddock he gave in the Olivet game. His gallop of 90 yards for 7 points will be remembered as one of the many high points in the season of '23.

PRIZE CONTESTS
Professor Hamilton is having trouble in securing aspirants for the local oratorical contest. The prizes are $25, $15, and $10. If he should offer the following prizes we would probably receive the desired results.
1st Prize—15 chapel cuts
2nd Prize—10 chapel cuts
3rd Prize—5 chapel cuts
Ten special Prizes of three cuts each.

President Rathsburg of the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association reports that a beautiful loving cup will be given to the college giving the best alibi for not winning the M. I. A. A. Championship in football. The contest closes Dec. 1, 1923, and answers received after that date will not be considered.
The following suggestions are offered for contestants.
Sample alibis.)
1.—Too much MacDonal. (For Ypsi contestants.)
2.—Alma had too many good players. (Kalamazoo.)
3.—The goal posts at Alma were not regulation size. (Olivet.)
4.—Campbell is too good a coach. Who ever beat a Scotchman anyhow? (Hillsdale.)
5.—Yes, we have no championship. (Albion.)
