MEMORIAL ROOM GIVEN COLLEGE BY MRS. DICKIE

New Room at Wright Hall
Was Dedicated on Wednesday.

"I have given this room so that Wright Hall women may learn to love and appreciate beauty," said Mrs. Grace Mackenzie Dickie to the group assembled for the tea given in her honor last Wednesday afternoon in the Dickie Memorial Room at Wright Hall.

Mrs. Dickie went on to explain the history of the room's furnishings and how they had been collected by her husband, Dr. Dickie. She gave the history of a suite of furniture which Dr. Dickie had purchased at an auction in the Kaiser's Dresden palace. Three pieces of furniture are of the period of Louis Philippe; they may be identified by brass affixed to mahogany wood. Of this group is a cabinet which contains a set of deep blue china which had been in the possession of that famous Englishman, Disraeli, Lord Beaconsfield.

This Disraeli china consists of two egg cups and plates. Its history, which was not given in detail last Wednesday, is most interesting. Disraeli had been buying from a German furrier without being billed for anything he purchased, for the furrier thought it to his advantage to so deal with Lord Beaconsfield. Disraeli finally asked why he wasn't receiving any bills for the goods that he bought, and the German told him that he had never intended to have him pay. However, Disraeli wished to give the man something, and since his wife had died and he was no longer keeping house, Disraeli presented the furrier with a set of china. Years later Dr. Dickie did some service for this furrier, and because he refused to take any money, the German offered him several pieces of this Disraeli china.

There are also many other pieces of very valuable china in the Dickie collection. In one cabinet, which Dr. Dickie had built especially to hold his rare china, Mrs. Dickie has placed rare pieces of Bohemian glass. It also contains a Napoleon snuff box, purchased at a book shop on the Seine. Mrs. Dickie included in her gift many pieces of brass; one of this group is a Russian Samovar.

On the walls of this Memorial Room are hung many of the pictures collected by Dr. and Mrs. Dickie during their travels and stay in Germany. The paintings were chosen, not because they were famous, but because they were pleasant and delightful. There are several other pieces of furniture and some very beautiful and colorful rugs. Perhaps the most precious gift is Mrs. Dickie's Beckstein piano, which has also been placed in the room.

The Dickie Memorial will not be open at all times due to the value of the furnishings in it. Any group of girls will be free and welcome to use it at any time, however, for teas and meetings that they wish to hold if they make arrangements with Dean Steward and Miss Houser. The important thing will be to have someone who will take the responsibility that everything will be left in order. Many of the more valuable things will be kept under lock and key all the time, for handling them would be too dangerous as they can never be replaced. It is to be understood, however, that it is not just for societies or clubs in Wright Hall, but any group of girls are welcome to use it.

The tea last Wednesday was given by Mrs. Harry Means Crooks and Dean Steward. The faculty and their wives were invited to attend, and the young women of the College were also present.

KAPPA IOTAS ARE GUESTS AT SUNDAY EVENING TEA
The Kappa Iota Literary Society was charmingly entertained at high tea last Sunday evening by Mrs. J. W. Ewer and Mrs. Theodore Schreiber in the former's home. The tea, salad, wafers, and cake were served to the members at tables for four. JoAnna Ewer assisted in the serving.

The History of The Alma College Student Council

The Student Council of Alma College has had a long but very colorful and active history. The first form of student government to exist in this college began back in 1891, just four years after the founding of the college.

The constitution of the original Student Council is found in the college catalog for the years 1890-1891. It is beyond doubt the earliest such document extant in the history of Alma College, but its very existence would lead one to believe that similar documents were common in other schools at that time. It was provided that "the students are to be made sharers in the government of the College, thru the College Council, which consists of the President and a representative from each class and society. The President, who is the representative of the Faculty, is the presiding officer. The aim of these Articles of Agreement is that Education which comes from sharing in and submitting to a Representative Government." The governing body of students at that time was called the Jury. It provided an excellent means for the Faculty to "pass the buck" on a number of things, and at the same time self-government was very remote, so that the Council did the faculty's bidding, but the latter did not have to take the blame.

This organization faded away before very many years, though the constitution nominally remained in effect until the school year of 1919-20. This year is famous, for it was at this time that the present day Student Council was begun by a joint agreement of the faculty, trustees and students of the College.

Its beginnings are the interesting part of the whole set-up. The Council grew out of a student strike which occurred that year. The strike was originally called in an attempt to force the faculty to reinstate two students who had been suspended for disobeying hazing rules that had recently been adopted and had not yet met with the approval of the student body. However, on the second day of the strike the students began to take up the idea of student government and changed their demands from reinstatement of two students to the idea of a student council. Much to their surprise this subject had already been discussed by the faculty and had met with their approval, so on February 3, 1920 the Almanian was able to print the story that the Alma College Trustees had passed favorably on the idea of a Student Council and also print the Constitution.

This constitution which was drawn up and adopted at this time is for the most part still in effect today. There, however, have been several attempted revisions and also some adopted revisions. In 1924 a number of the original articles were either revised or amended, and there has been a few minor revisions in subsequent years in order to meet new situations. There is much to be said, however, for the comprehensiveness of the document of 1920.

At first the Council took under its jurisdiction the job of disciplining the entire student body. The job was bigger than they realized, but it was carried out for a little while. This, of course, grew out of the suspension of the two students, which was the original cause for the strike. However, after a few expensive and complicated cases the Council was more than ready to turn the problem of student discipline back to the faculty.

The most important revision of the Constitution of the Student Council was proposed by Frank Anderson in January, 1932. It changed the election of representatives from classes to societies and provided for eighteen members—two from each society and non-society group and two faculty members. There was a great deal of agitation. It was thought that the new constitution would eliminate fraternity and society rivalry from the Student Council, and there were other supposed improvements. However, on February 9 the Council vetoed these changes, so that they were never submitted to a vote of the student body.

It is interesting to note that all societies represented on the Council at that time voted against these proposed changes. Fraternity and sorority rivalry on the Council is what makes it interesting. It is exactly the same as political parties. It puts more fire in the elections, and there is no time in the history of the Council that anything has been done that was opposed by the majority of the student body, regardless of what society controlled the most votes.

Since 1932 the history of the Council has been rather uneventful. It has become more or less the ex-chequer of the campus, since its biggest function is the handling of the Student Activities Fee and its apportionment among the various activities deserving of such aid. In recent years they have financed a number of things that are not really their duties. Today the Council enjoys quite a large amount of independence. The problems that they do handle are rarely questioned by the faculty. This year is the fifteenth year that the present form of student government has been in operation.

COUNCIL ELECTS ANTHONISEN TO MANAGE ANNUAL

New Manager Replaces Bob
Lehner; Evans Will Edit
The Year Book.

Last week the Student Council elected Robert Anthonisen business manager of the Alma College Maroon and Cream. His opponent was Edward Goggin and the election was a very close one. Mr. Anthonisen replaces Robert Lehner, who was elected last spring, but did not return to Alma this year.

The annual this year will be edited by Luther Evans. As yet the work is only in its early stages, and nothing definite has been decided. Contracts for printing the book have been signed, and the Linden company in Chicago will handle it this year. The engraving will be done by the same company that did the work last year, the Pontiac Engraving Company. This is about the only progress that has been made so far. The theme of the book, the selling campaign, and many other things have yet to be decided before plans will be complete.

It is not definitely certain that there will be an annual this year, but Luther Evans and Bob Anthonisen are going to do everything in their power to make it a reality. It depends largely on the circulation—the number of books that can be sold to the students and alumni. The selling campaign will probably begin the second semester. In the meantime all other preliminary plans will be completed, so that if enough students buy one of these annuals it will be printed immediately. Everything will be in readiness, so that it will be printed and in the hands of the students before school is out.

Last year the publishing of the Maroon and Cream was revived for the first time in several years. The book was edited by Ward Campbell, and Louis Meisel and Russell Hubbard handled the business end of last year's book. The result was very commendable, but due to the late start that they got, the annual did not arrive in Alma until the middle of the summer. This cut down on the number of books that could have been sold, but the book was printed without loss, which sets it apart from those published in former years.

PHIS WILL HOLD SMOKER TONIGHT

The Phi Phi Alpha Fraternity will close the rushing season for the new men on the campus when they hold their annual smoker tonight at their house. The general chairman for the evening is Edward Goggin.

The Phis have just completed decorating the interior of their house, so they will be "all dressed up" for the party which they are holding tonight instead of Wednesday as originally planned. All new men on the campus are invited to attend and lots of fun is promised for all.

Also in the news from the Phis house are the names of Fraser Malcolm and Holmes Sullivan. Malcolm was initiated into the fraternity last week and Sullivan was pledged and is being initiated. Both are sophomores.

WALLACE WEBBER, FORMER ALMA STUDENT, DIES IN DETROIT

Wallace F. Webber, former Alma student, died last Friday in his home, 2000 Seward Ave., Detroit. Mr. Webber had been ill for five years. His brother, the Reverend Dr. J. E. Webber, Sturgis, is also a graduate of Alma College.

Mr. Wallace Webb was born in Linden 55 years ago and lived in Detroit for 35 years. For 16 years he was paymaster of the Motor Car Co., retiring several years ago. For five years he was an elder of the Woodward Ave. Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Roy E. Vale, D. D. of that church will conduct the funeral services.

ZETAS FETE NEW MEN AT SMOKER

Games, Candy, Card-Playing and Food Combine to Make A Merry Evening.

Clouded in a dense mass of smoke and attractively covered with much brilliant and newly applied paint, the Zeta Sigma House opened its doors to the freshmen and other new men on the campus last Wednesday evening for their annual smoker. Besides being an occasion of official welcome to the new men, it was also the first party given in the House since it has taken on its new decorations.

Upon entering the house, each man was given a slip of paper on which to write his name and class, so that a more familiar feeling should characterize the evening. Then they had cigarettes thrust at them from all sides and were hurriedly shown the house, and then were allowed to choose what they might wish to make the center of their activities. What with the blue room, the green room, the red room and the brown room, after their eyes were given a treat from the dazzling colors, they were entertained at bridge, pedro, pinocle, blackjack, rum and hearts to say nothing of Ping pong.

The smoke rolled from the basement up to the very dorm and although the orchestras on the radio might have played differently the theme song for the evening was certainly "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," but that didn't stop the hundred frosh, guests and members from finding entertainment of the most varied sort. There was singing, (The Man on the Flying Trapeze and what not!) playing, and what Professor Tyler so well expressed as the throwing of the bull (at least the calf).

Officially the meeting started when a general welcome was expressed by President Beach on behalf of the fraternity. Then followed an introduction of the hon-

OPEN MEETINGS WILL END GIRLS' RUSHING

The first of the open meetings that the sororities will hold for the new girls upon the campus will be given by the Kappa Iota Literary Society on Monday, November 5th, according to the ruling of the Women's League. The Philomatheans will give the second open meeting on November 12th, and the Alpha Thetas will wind up the girl's rushing season with their open meeting on November 19th.

Last Saturday the Kappa Iotas gave the last of the sorority rushing parties. Now, these different societies will invite the new girls to one of their meetings to see them the opportunity to see the type of work carried on by each group. These open meetings will be at the same time as the regular meeting on Monday night. They will be held in the different society rooms at Wright Hall.

Pledging will follow just one week after the last open meeting. Each society will give out its bids on Monday night, and the new girls make known which one they accept by Tuesday morning. Then on Tuesday morning the three societies will give a breakfast in honor of their new pledges.

KAPPA IOTAS GIVE GAY PIRATE PARTY

On a gayly-decked pirate ship in the reception room of Wright Hall, the Kappa Iota Literary Society entertained the new girls on the campus last Saturday evening. This party, which began at 8 o'clock, is the last of the sorority rushing parties to be given this year.

The ship was decorated with flags, skulls and cross-bones, and life savers to be thrown to those who tumbled from the treacherous gang-plank. Candles in rum bottles (empty we hope) setting on kegs were distributed around the deck.

During the evening pirate hats, apples, and bean-bag men were handed out to the bold pirates, who "danced away" most of the time to the music of George Hext and his orchestra. Black pirate ships were the dance programs. The guests were entertained during intermission with a little skit entitled "Little Nell".

HOMECOMING TO BE NOVEMBER 10

Faculty and Council Will Complete Program This Week.

Plans for the twenty-second annual Homecoming of Alma College, which will be held on Saturday, November 10, were begun in a joint meeting of the Student Homecoming committee and the Faculty Homecoming committee, which was held last Friday afternoon. While they did not decide definitely on any program, they did propose one that will probably be very similar to the final results.

The program as it stands now, or as it was proposed last Friday will begin on Friday evening, November 9 and will last on through to the last hour of Saturday, November 10. On Friday evening at 8:30 the Drama Club will present "The Enemy" at the Strand Theatre. On Saturday there will be a Homecoming luncheon at noon in the Wright Hall dining room and an inspection of the new Dickie Memorial Room after (Continued on page 2)

GELSTONS GIVE PARTY FOR COLLEGE WOMEN'S SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS

The Presbyterian Manse, home of Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Gelston on State Street, formed the setting for an interesting affair of last week, when Mrs. Gelston entertained members of the College Women's Sunday School class and other guests with a special program and Hallowe'en party. Mrs. Leslie French of Caro, national sponsor of Phi Chi Delta, an organization for Presbyterian young women, was present as guest speaker.

The Gelston home was cleverly decorated in orange and black, and as the young ladies arrived they were greeted by cheerful and glowing pumpkin faces. The program consisted of games, singing, piano selections by Mae Nelson, and a talk on "Personality" by Mrs. French. The serving of refreshments closed the evening.

EVERY STUDENT GET A STUDENT

FOLLOW THROUGH

This year for the first time in a good many years Alma College will have a women's debate team. Every thing is set. Miss Gesner has offered her time and services to coach the team. Finances have been provided for out of the oratory and debate share of the Student's Activities Fee. And there are already six girls who have announced their intention of going out for the team.

The very fact that a women's debate team has even begun is a triumph, but there is more to it than that. Now that it is started be sure to follow through. In past years such teams have started out with great promise but ended in complete failure. One by one the girls would drop out for one reason or another until finally there was not enough left to form a team.

Let's not do that this year. It would be better not to begin than to end up in such a dismal flop. Go in it with spirit to stick out to the end. It is going to take work to be sure, and every one should realize that from the start. If anyone is not willing to work and spend a little time, it would be better if they would keep out entirely. Everything has been provided, and we have the possibility of having one of the best women's debate teams in the League, but let's go into the thing with the determination and spirit to "Follow Through."

WHAT! NO CHEER LEADER?

Where is Alma College's Cheer Leader? Five weeks have gone by and still we have no cheer leader.

Alma's cheer leaders in the past have been the center of all the pep and spirit of the college group.

Homecoming is only two weeks away, and the only cheer leader that we have plays on the football team.

Let's have some try-outs. Maybe the Drama Club can produce one. Maybe there is some cheer leading talent in the freshman class.

Anyone that has ever done any cheer leading in other schools or high school should try out. Let's show the Homecoming crowd a cheer leader that will lead them in our victory over Hillsdale. Let's go.

TO THE FRESH-MEN

The traditional discipline for freshmen is over. The Pajama Parade marked the end of the disciplinary activities of the upperclassmen against the yearlings. You have been taught the rules that you are to follow, and you know now just what is expected of you and what you can and cannot do on the campus.

From now on it is entirely up to you how much more action the upperclassmen will have to take. If you conduct yourself as you should and do the few things that freshmen are always expected to do, the upperclassmen will leave you very much alone. You are now, in their opinion, properly disciplined. There is no need for anything further until the sophomores attempt to put you in your place next May. If any further action is taken, you have only yourself to blame.

English Debate Teams Come to This Country

New York, N. Y. (NSFA)—Two English debate teams arrived in New York on October 23 and were entertained the next evening at a dinner given in their honor by the Young Republican Club at Town Hall in this city.

Both teams are brought here by the National Student Federation and will each engage in about thirty debates during their six-week stay in this country. One team from Oxford will tour in the East and the other representing the English National Union of Students will debate against Mid-Western Colleges.

Davis W. Schollos of the London School of Economics and J. Hirschfield of University College, Debate Champion of London University in his Freshman year, will defend N. U. S. honor. Michael Foot, President of the University Liberal Club, and John Stafford Cripps, Chairman of the University Labor Club, will represent Oxford.

Subjects chosen for discussion during the tours concern international relations and American recovery.

orary members, guests, alumni and finally the members themselves. Then came the fun—otherwise Cac Erickson, telling how the mouth organ was invented—Pat Riley's part and all. The first speaker of the evening was Dr. H. M. Crooks, who talked on the advantages of fraternities. This was followed by some music on the piano and mouthorgan. Then Chet Robinson, well known local financier, explained in practical terms the cost of joining a fraternity. Next Dean Mitchell told about the history of Zeta Sigma and of many of its famous members. And then came "The Shooting of Dan McGrew"—lights, screams, thunder and all. Then came some clever and original presentations of several well known numbers by the Fireside Quartet, consisting of Professor Ewer, Roy Phillips, G. V. Wright and Prof. Robinson. After this the refreshments consisting of ice cream, coffee and cookies were served. This was followed by more games, et. al., until finally the evening broke up about lunch. Just preceding the game there will be a snake dance of all the students and alumni behind the College Band. This parade will march to Bahlke Field where Alma will meet Hillsdale at 2:30.

After the game there will be a reception at the President's house where coffee and gingerbread will be served. At six o'clock that evening the societies will hold their banquets for alumni and members. Following these banquets there will be a Student Council dance in the Memorial Gymnasium.

This is the part of the program that is fairly definite. The time of the pep meeting is still to be decided upon. The luncheon program has not as yet been completed, and it has not been decided what further, if anything, will be staged Saturday night.

The members of the Student Council Homecoming committee are: Cyril Lewis, chairman; Helen Walker and Riley Block. This group worked with the Faculty committee which consisted of Dr. Kaufmann, Miss Foley and Professor Clack. Final plans will be adopted this week and all will be in readiness for Alma College's biggest and best Homecoming.

Approximately 87 per cent of the colleges and universities of the United States are not broadcasting their football games this fall.

Ohio University (Athens) officials have leased a hotel that is being used as a cooperative rooming house for 65 men students.

With the opening of its fall term last month, Columbia University (New York City) started its 181st academic year.

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology (Boston) is the most expensive men's college in the United States—the minimum cost for freshmen is $1,080 per year.

Hulda Stettler, the canning champion of the United States, has enrolled at the University of Wisconsin (Madison).

A new geographics course is being offered this fall for the first time at the University of Texas (Austin). It will be taught by Dr. Arnold Romberg.

A course in modern history will be conducted at Smith College this year by Dr. Hans Kohn, doctor juris of the University of Prague.

The Federal Government is sending approximately 70,000 students through colleges and universities throughout the United States this year at a cost of more than $1,000,000.

This year is the 300th anniversary of the founding of the first secondary school in the United States.

The main subject for debate in junior colleges throughout the United States is: "Resolved, that the federal government shall adopt the policy of equalizing educational opportunity throughout the nation by means of annual grants to the several states for public elementary and secondary education."

Exactly $159,232,782 was allotted from federal emergency funds in 1933-34 for educational purposes. The regular budget appropriation for education during that period was $32,255,690.

One hundred new college presidents assumed office with the opening of this fall's term. Last year there were 125 new administrative heads of colleges and universities in the United States. The turn-over this year has been about 7 per cent and is greater among the liberal arts institutions than among other types of high educational units.

Edith Davis' Letter Reveals Activities of Former Alma Students

The following was taken from a recent letter of Miss Davis, former Almanian editor: "Claire (Wilson Volk) started about two weeks ago. At present they are making a zone visitor of her, but Jane promised her to us (special social workers) later in the year. Mac Oakley is in the Pontiac office. Claire and I were amused because they picked him in the receiving line at the banquet. Mac tells me that he expects to go on the zones within a week. He's inheriting a meaty foreign section, which he is warned is very tough."

All three are working for the E. R. A. of Oakland County, which is one of the government's relief organizations, dealing especially with direct relief. Edith Davis is a special worker and handles special cases or phases of this social work. The zone worker mentioned above is the link between the needy and the vast organization which attempts to meet their needs. They deal directly with the individual and present his needs to the E. R. A.

Miss Davis furnishes us with a very detailed explanation of this work and in addition her letter reflects the tone and attitude of the people. This organization gives out $8.60 a month to a single person who is living alone. Clothing and coal are also furnished, but in rather limited amounts. People do get by on this, but what they want is work and not relief.

Edith tells us that in her work they are already sensing a very sharp change in the temper of the people. This idea was also brought out by Mr. Norton of the State Welfare Commission, so it is clear that the administrative heads are beginning to sense these repercussions that have long been apparent to those in close contact with relief clients.

It is very interesting that three Sociology majors from Alma should be so located, but it is the aim of this organization to get such graduates in their employ. The only drawback to the organization are the hangers from old political organizations, who haven't the foggiest notion what social work is all about. These people are being replaced as rapidly as possible, however.

College Is Given Memorial Library of Dr. J. F. Dickie

In the Fall of 1929 Dr. and Mrs. James F. Dickie visited Alma College and the library. The fire proof stacks had been opened for use the previous February, promising an attractive and safe depository for such rare treasured volumes as were then in Dr. Dickie's private library. Later on Mr. Dickie decided that he would like to have some of these treasures placed in Alma College Library; and on his 87th birthday, November 13, 1932, he presented to the library several rare volumes. A notice of these may be found in the Almanian of November 15, 1932. Since Dr. Dickie's death, in 1933, Mrs. Dickie has presented to Alma College Library the larger portion of Dr. Dickie's library, to be known as: The Memorial Library of Rev.

James F. Dickie, D. D., LL.D., 1845-1933.

This consists of several hundred volumes and included are many rare early imprints—a most valuable addition to the Early Imprints Collection of Alma College Library. Also there are many books of travel, art, history, literature, and the classics; and albums of photographic views and post card views. As Dr. Dickie resided in Germany for some time, many of these pertain more especially to that country. Dr. Dickie was much interested in the Oberammergau presentations of the Passion Play and he himself translated into English the complete play, a copy of which is now in the college library. There is also a volume by him in the library, entitled: "Germany: painted by E. T. Compton & E. Harrison Compton. Described by Rev. J. F. Dickie".

A few of the rare volumes have been exhibited on the reading room tables, among them three large-sized tomes in German which are the writings of Martin Luther, dated 1557 to 1562.

One item of interest is a menu card, in German, of a royal supper at Berlin, January 30, 1907, which was attended by Dr. Dickie.

PHILOS ROAST STEAKS ON REYNOLDS' FARM

Yesterday at 4:30 the Philomatheans departed from our fair campus and took to the wilds of the Reynolds' farm outside of Alma, and there they held a merry and very filling steak roast.

The steaks were roasted over a big open fire and the few burned places were smothered in mustard or pickles and all the rest that goes to make up a perfect steak sandwich. After the roast they held their regular Monday night meeting.

Last week the Philomatheans initiated Miss Madeline Davis, Madeline, the sister of Don Davis, is a sophomore. She was pledged last fall when she entered Alma.

Scots Are Out to Get Their First MIAA Victory of the Season.

The Alma College Scots can win the 1M4 MIAA football championship by taking the next two games. To date Alma has not won a game, but the Scots realizing that a championship is at stake will fight this Saturday as they have never fought against Albion before.

While the Scots were watching Michigan take a lickin' from Illinois, Albion's Britons were holding the 'Dales to a scoreless tie. The 'Dales have not lost a game either, so a defeat with Alma's two victories will give the Scots the flag.

Albion will finish the MIAA season this Saturday. They lost to Kalamazoo 7 to 0 and to Hope 13 to 2. Hillsdale was held to a scoreless tie. Kalamazoo has finished the season with a 20 to 0 loss to Hillsdale, a victory over Albion, a 6 to 0 tie to Alma, and a victory over Hope 6 to 0. Hope has Hillsdale to battle yet.

It is indeed a deplorable state when a football team can go the length of the field, first down after first down, and then in the shadows of the goal posts, lose the ball. Yet that is the case of the 1934 Scots.

To date, the Scots have played two games and scored six official points. In the first game, the Scots tore through the Hope line for 12 first downs, and although two touchdowns were scored, one was taken away from them, at least temporarily. In the second game the Scots struggled through for 11 first downs, all of which were earned, but they could not crack the Wayne line for the last few futile yards.

Twenty-three first downs, but only one touchdown! Alma's opposition has garnered only six first downs, but four touchdowns. Hope made its touchdown on an intercepted pass. Wayne made its touchdowns on two passes and a short plunge after a long pass.

If a team can make first downs between the twenty yard lines and its defense holds its opponents fairly well in check, then surely it can score if the spirit is there. The Scots have not had a winning team since 1930 when they tied the Kalamazoo Hornets for the title. Therefore the "second division" complex is still with them and until that is broken the scoring thrusts will be with other teams.

Coach Campbell is doing all that is within his power to give his Scots that spirit. They meet twice a week for "skull practices" to talk over the plays and football in general.

The Scots 1934 team is the lightest in several years and is the lightest in the M. I. A. A. However, it is almost a veteran team and possesses more scrap pound for pound than any other team in the Association. Performances in the remaining games will undoubtedly bear out this statement.

Therefore we think it is just a matter of time before the fans find a team that can combine the right plays at the right time and make them score points.

Alma Squad Arrives Just in Time for the Game to Start.

Michigan Normal took advantage of a cold Alma team and the weather to down the Scots 15 to 6 last Saturday morning at the coldest town in the State, Ypsilanti. The Scots were forced to dress enroute due to bus trouble, and as the game was already one hour late, they had little chance to warm up properly for the game.

Meanwhile Ypsi won the toss and took the wind for the first quarter. Alma chose to receive so a gentleman from Crosse Pointe, Charles Hanneman kicked off to the Scots. After two line plays, Riley kicked out of bounds on his 43. Three plays gained only one yard so Arnold punted outside on the Alma 5. Ben Light through the line for one, so Riley went back to kick. Wilson, however, blocked the punt, and took possession on the Alma 5.

Here the Scots held for two downs, but Arnold shot a fiat pass out to Hanneman for the first touchdown. Hanneman's kick for the extra point was wide. Normal 6, Alma 0.

Alma again chose to receive, so Hanneman again kicked off to Ewer, who returned the ball 7 yards. The Scots were forced to punt out of bounds on the 40 after an Ypsi off side penalty. Then Ypsi started. After Bob Mack had spilled LeBlond on a reverse for a four yard loss, Parker spun through the line for 20 yards. LeBlond added 12 more at left tackle. Hanneman circled right end for 7 yards, but Parker was stopped at the line. Hanneman then slid off right tackle for the second touchdown. Arnold passed to Wilson on a fake kick for the extra point. Normal 13, Alma 0.

The quarter ended after the next kickoff with the ball in Alma's possession on the 21.

ZETA SIGMA PLEDGES BENNETT & CLOHSET

Last week the Zeta Sigma Fraternity gave a pledge to Clarence Clohset and Boach Lyle Bennett. Both of these men are upperclassmen and, therefore are able to be pledged before November 7th, the time set for giving out bids to the freshmen.

Mr. Clohset is from Bay City, Michigan. He enrolled this fall as a Junior, having attended the University of Michigan for his first two years. Mr. Bennett came to Alma last year to get his Life Certificate and is a Senior this year. He was formerly the coach at the Rockford High School, Rockford, Michigan, and is now the freshman coach at Alma.

This makes four pledges for the Zeta Sigma Fraternity. Louis Wiser and J. B. Ward are the other two. They were pledged last spring. Initiation will be in the near future.

WOMEN TO ENTER FORENSIC FIELD

Alma College Will Have a Women's Debating Team This Year.

The forensic season this year will find Alma College represented in the field of women's debate for the first time in several years. Though it has just recently been decided upon to have a women's debate team there are already six girls out. They will be coached by Miss Gesner.

The question that will be argued this year by the women is on a social and economic subject. From a viewpoint of present internal conditions, the topic is a pertinent one, and should suggest many interesting angles of discussion. The question as stated by the Michigan Intercollegiate Speech League is as follows: Resolved: That a policy of development toward collectivism under our present form of representative government should be permanently adopted by the United States.

During the past Alma College

The entire faculty and student body of the college join in sending condolences to the family of the late George C. Fowler, father of Macdonald and Jean Fowler, Alma students. Mr. Fowler has long been prominent in state activities and was a member of Governor Comstock's special Conservation Committee.

has had some very lively and successful women's debate teams, but for the last few years interest has dropped off. This year, however, there is quite a little enthusiasm for such a team, and due to the work of Professor Spencer, men's debate coach, Professor Hamilton, and Miss Gesner it has been made possible.

The women will schedule several debates for the regular season and will also enter the League tournament which is scheduled for the latter part of February at a place not yet chosen. The team will be financed from that part of the Student's Activities fee allotted to oratory and debate by the Student Council as has been the case in past years when there was a women's debate team.

The group under the direction of Miss Gesner is at present composed of the following: Edith Walker, Vivian Harwood, Grace Mathews, Alice Banning, Lura Stuntridge, and June Tindall.

STUDENTS HEAR DR. LANDRETH

Noted Anti-Saloon Worker Gives Interesting Chapel Talk.

"You have no right to graduate from college without political information," Dr. Ira Landreth, editor, Minister, and former college president, declared in chapel, Wednesday, in an address on "My Business.—Plus."

"You ought to know the difference between the Republicans and the Democrats. You ought to know what is going on in current political affairs. You ought to know what is wrong with America. You ought to do more than just engage in your profession, business, or vocation," Dr. Landreth asserted.

"We will never pay the debt we owe to the ministers, professors, and college presidents who are doing more than just the business they are engaged in. They are doing their business,—plus. But they are in the minority. America's weakness lies in the fact that there are not enough of this type."

He attributed the present perilous condition of the United States to the negligence and indifference of the educated people for the welfare of the country. He stated further that the educated person should know the conditions that exist and what to do about it. He should act upon his information rather than leave it to the uninformed.

Dr. Landreth then gave four requisites for political competency: acquire political information, "Know what is going on and why"; maintain political integrity, "Stand for what is right, not for the Republicans or the Democrats. You can get what you want if the party doesn't think you will vote for the party, right or wrong"; be indefatigable, "Don't quit; keep trying."

"Persistence, everlasting stick-to-it-iveness, will make right conquer, and you will have clean American homes and cities in which to raise your children," he concluded.

D. R.—If I asked you for a kiss would you scream for your family?

Table Talk

Am I burned up. To think that they would fill up space with that Collegiate Review or Bud's Sport-ops instead of my column. Well, I could stand that for awhile, but when that Spud's Scopies came out, that was the limit. I was about to resign or something the next time I saw the editor of this sheet, but as you see I didn't. Last Thursday I saw him making his way towards me through the crowd in the second floor hall. I knew right away that we were going to have a six page paper this week. Well, to make a short story long (as I have already done) this column that you are now reading (or should be reading) is the result of that meeting. Question: Did the editor win or lose? Your answer is as good as mine. Of course I know the column is not very good, but what's my opinion against fifty thousand others.

BEANS AND BLUBBER

Now to get on with things. Before I came to Alma I used to pride myself that I could eat anything. I sure had an awful set back the other noon when the swipe brought us our burned beans and blubber. Well, perhaps I just wasn't used to it, but here is hoping that I never have to get used to it. Of course I know that the starving Armenians, India's untouchables and coolies eat much worse, but after all I am not any of these. If Miss Houser likes that sort of thing, I have no objection if she makes herself a pan of it every noon, but as for myself most anything else would be better. The next time that is served please post a notice, then I don't have to waste time waiting to be disappointed.

ON ME

Well, the printer is hollering his lungs out for this copy, for if a paper is going to be printed it's got to be made up some time. I hope to be with you again soon, though. We have lots of stuff to talk about and air out for all my interested readers. Perhaps I'll let you know the author of this next Spring, but that all depends on the attitude of those people desiring to know. So long, How long? So long.

Let's find out why Turkish tobacco is so important to a good cigarette

On the sunny slopes of Smyrna . . . in the fertile fields of Macedonia . . . along the shores of the Black Sea . . . grows a kind of tobacco that is different from any other tobacco in the world.

THESE Turkish tobaccos are the only tobaccos of foreign cultivation that are used to any great extent in making American cigarettes.

Turkish tobaccos are famous for their spicy aroma, and a blend of the right kinds of Turkish tobacco with our own home-grown tobaccos is better than any one kind used alone.

In Chesterfield we balance mild, ripe tobaccos grown in this country with just the right amounts of the right kinds of Turkish.

It is by blending and cross-blending these different tobaccos that we make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder, the cigarette that tastes better.
