Homecoming

With the date for Homecoming set for November fifth, and the fortieth anniversary of the College's life to be celebrated at the same time, it looks like a couple of big days for Alma. The detailed program of the two days is not yet ready—we will try to get the announcements into the issue of next week—but this much of the plans has been learned. There will be severally nationally prominent men in the field of Presbyterian education who will held in the celebration, and there will be a number of the more prominent alumni of Alma College back to help celebrate their Alma Mater's birthday. In these columns every week until November 4th we will have some reminder, some note of the approach of the big celebration and homecoming, so that you alumni will have plenty of chance to make your plans for the two days. It is too weak to say that this should be the biggest Homecoming ever—it should be one which will go down in the history of the college. We're planning on it and we hope you are, too.

Saturday the campus will be nearly deserted. The fox-squirrels will prank around unmolested. The clocks in the Ad Building will click resoundingly through the empty halls, and the radiators will pound on unheard. For Saturday Alma plays Albion at Albion and every red-blooded girl and boy will be going down to see the game. There will be many schemes of transportation called into practice by those who cannot find non-stop carriers. Some of the boys will bum, there may be one or two who will make the trip by train, though in this gasoline age, it is not likely. Girls will smile sweetly on anyone who has a car or a chance to get one. Fords will be tuned up and old tubes patched. There will be blowouts. But we feel safe in offering to bet anyone that there will be two hundred and fifty Alma Fans in the Maroon and Cream rooting section when the starting whistle blows on Saturday. It is going to be intensely exciting—these Albion-Alma games seem to have a faculty for being that. There will be a lot of noise, the Maroon and Cream Band will be there in all its glory and there will undoubtedly be a Purple and Gold Band there, too. They will parade up and down the field and you'll thrill to the excitement of it all.

After the game is over, no matter which way the victory went, you will breathe a sigh and you'll say it was a great game. And won't it be nice if you can add to that little statement that both sidelines (for nine times out of ten it's the sidelines where the poor sportmanship shows up) showed really wonderful sportmanship? It makes one feel good to be a good sport. It makes one feel cheap to be a poor sport. I don't like to feel cheap, do you?

PAJAMA PARADE

would land him a place in anybody's comedy team. A small scale Dempsey-Tunney fight was tagged by Frosh Harris and Frosh Corder, who, although blindfolded, struck out with such determination that the referee and seconds were often forced to take refuge behind the curtains. The boys were willing, but somewhat misguided. Tiderington, Leipham, and Heartt entertained with an original song of doubtful sincerity and sang as an encore several popular numbers. Frosh Ellis, Gilbert, McCollough, Dickerson, Couse and others attempted a chorus number but failed to get the proper coordination in their efforts. Murray, Isaacson, and Aplan gave the reason why they came to Alma College. Hall told the audience how and why he was getting along without his mother's guidance. With the conclusion of the program Louie Zimmerman led a yell for the Strand, and after singing the Alma Chant, the night-clad lads formed the line and marched out into the street again.

Miner's Cafe gave the boys a barbecue sandwich and a pickle. Luchini's came through with candy for everyone and the Wright House passed out cigarettes and candy. Having made the rounds of the business houses, the thin-clads went back to the gym, where "Bake" took the picture with highly explosive flash powder. Then the bonfire was lighted in front of Wright Hall and the Pajama Parade sing was started. As the fire died down the boys sang the Alma Chant and "Good night, Ladies" and the evening was at a close.

The Pajama Parade was bigger and better than ever before. There was a greater collection of loud pajamas in the assembled multitude than in any preceding year. One pair was discovered to be silk, which only shows the affluence of some students. There was one pair of Chinese palamas, which the owner says are to be worn in every parade until the last Crooks has graduated. There was enough to eat, so that no one went away hungry. The older generation of students say it was the best they have attended. The Almanian, speaking for the student body, wishes to express appreciation to the merchants and to the city officials for their aid in making the parade a success.

BAND BOUNCE WELL RECEIVED

Under the auspices of the Maroon and Cream Band a dance was held on Friday evening in Memorial Gymnasium, for the purpose of raising money to send the Band to Albion this Saturday. Dancing started at eight o'clock and was finished at eleven. The music was furnished by the Band orchestra, who were recruited from the roster of the bandmen themselves.

The party was staged in an entirely new way to the Alma College campus. Instead of having a big entrance fee, the boys charged only a dime admittance and then sold dance tickets for five cents each. The gymnasium floor was roped off with only two entrances to the dance floor, which entrances were guarded by the ticket collectors.

There was a very good sized crowd at the dance, showing that the student body likes an informal dancing party, and also demonstrating that they are behind the Band and its activities. There were a number of stags in attendance, but the number of men was much greater than the girls who came over from Wright Hall without dates. We realize, of course, that we are without the feminine viewpoint, but we think it is an admission of the insufficiency of oneself when a girl cannot have a good time at a party like the one Friday. A few girls stagged it and had a good time, but there is always room for more.

When Mac Fowler and his Merry Lads quit at eleven, the inquiring reporter hid behind a tree and watched Cashier Nickles and his assistants struggle out under the heavy load of the spoils of the evening and it is our opinion that the dance was financially successful, which is greatly to be desired.

The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Crooks, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Steward, Miss Foley.

PIRATE PARTY GIVEN IN WRIGHT HALL

On Saturday night in the reception room at Wright Hall The Kappa Iota Literary Society gave their entertainment for the new girls in the form of a Pirate Party. The buccaneering idea was carried out in all the plans of the evening, with decorations and favors in true John Silver style.

The Jolly Roger floated over the good ship K. I. in its safe anchorage in Wright Hall. Entrance was made by the gangplank over the side of the ship. The formidable skull and crossbones were floating at the mast. The ship was lighted by candles, stuck into wax-dipped bottles, and the hold of the vessel was bulging with the treasure chest and many kegs.

About eighty gayly dressed pirates boarded the ship at seven thirty. Programs in the form of pirate ships were passed out and the buccaneers danced from then until eleven. During the first part of the evening there were favors given to the crew, pirate hats, sacks of candy. In the last half were more favors, pirate ships this time, with the K. I. Jolly Roger on the mast. At intermission the revel was stopped for refreshments for everyone, when bottles of cider were passed.

At eleven a delicious lunch was served to the ravenous pirates. Then, grouped around the piano, the Kappa Iota song was sung and the party was over. The faculty members and guests who were present were: Mrs. H. M. Crooks, Miss Steward, Mrs. Ewer, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Lobdell, Miss Foley, Miss Banta, Miss Hardy and Miss McCray.

GLEE CLUB MEMBERS ANNOUNCED BY EWER

Professor Ewer has announced the personnel of the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs for the coming year. These voices have been chosen out of the greater number who tried out for the clubs in the trials earlier in the semester. In making his selections Professor Ewer picked voices for the various parts, taking into consideration the range, flexibility, blending qualities, and volume of the individual voices. The personnel is not fixed entirely, for the director makes a cut at or about Christmas to pare the clubs down to the right size for the concert work of the season.

The members of the men's club, as announced by Professor Ewer, are: first tenors, L. Hawthorne, Detroit; Marvin Stapleton, Ithaca; Eveland, Fostoria; H. Holland, Flint; E. Karpp, Detroit; V. Pruyne, Tecumseh. In the second tenor section have been named: H. Ward, Alma; P. Heberlein, Royal Oak; P. Wolfe, Milford, Pennsylvania; C. Shaeffer, Merrill; L. Kinney, Royal Oak; M. Hendershott, Alma. The baritones are: R. Crowell, Detroit; L. Crooks, Alma; G. Lamb, Alma; E. Weisner, Fremont; Pete Boutin, Merrill; and L. Pomeroy, Crosswell. In the bass section are H. Barlow, Crosswell; D. Horton, Alma; H. Horning, Fostoria; P. Bernd, Settersville, Penn.; C. Erickson, Newberry; R. Frazer, Flint.

In the girl's club there are six local girls, almost a third of the membership. Sopranos, K. Lehner, Alma; M. Burt, Saginaw; E. Parker, Holt; M. Roberts, Alma; F. Widger, De-

CAMPUSOLOGY

The campus spent a very quiet week end. The Wright Hall cats went home.

Bret Heart is letting the rest of the world go buy. What is it now—Two Tires and a windshield? His boosters should wait for the new Ford to come out, before investing too heavily.

Drevdahl is doing a nice bit of tall stepping.

Nickles, trying to create a democratic atmosphere at the dance the other night, invited a high school student for everyone. My, my, what a go-getter.

The K. I. party was a big success, although Hilda Cashmore wen buccaneering on her own hook.

Baby-face Pezet's parking scene at the bonfire of the Pajama Parade turned out to be a flat tire. Oh, what a crash that was.

Famous sayings by famous people: Dr. Randells, irritated, "Get out and stay out, Burton."

Some of the boys were disappointed because they didn't see their girls at the dance Friday night.

Superintendent Fildey spent the week end in Alma. He thinks, it seems, that every week end is Homecoming. We're glad that Riverdale isn't more than nine miles away.

Many a girl sighed when Fat Pruyne (Bill's brother) gave his flower dance at the Strand.

The Dutch won a moral victory over the Irish when Vandeventer beat Anderson out of a date. Music hath charms—Van probably sang to her.

Like all experiments, the band orchestra has good possibilities. Let us hope they won't be long in coming through.

We have all kinds of requests that Louie Zimmerman stay in town for the next home game. Be nice, play with us, and be good, or you won't get your cheer letter, Zimmie.

Charley Nims did not attend senior "skip" day because he has an athletic heart.

Did we tell you that Drev is doing some tall stepping?

"Moon Mullins" Neuman, one of the frequent visitors to the grove, reports to us that the President's new home is almost finished.

Miss Foley wants to know who is using her car for a parking space.

We hope none of the Frosh got blistered noses from rolling peanuts across the pavement the evening of the Pajama Parade.

At last we have a Barbecue in town. You can get the best Bar-B-Q sandwiches at Miner's.

Three Owls.

GRIDDERS SWAMP SAGINAW
Alma 38. After a first down Gagnon intercepted an Alma pass, but Saginaw was held and forced to punt. Hawthorne returned the kick 35 yards to the Saginaw 41. Holdship lost 2 and Karpp got it back with an extra yard. Holdship passed to Simmons and he ran 40 yards for a touchdown. Karpp goaled. Score Alma 33, Saginaw 7.
Saginaw returned the kickoff 15 yards to her own 32 yard mark. Karpp was sent from the game for roughing and Alma penalized half the distance to her goal. Unable to gain Saginaw punted to the Alma 10 yard mark. MacGregor made 5 and then Holdship hit off end and went 32 yards to the Alma 47. The march continued down the field with Holdship, Lamb, Hawthorne and MacGregor carrying the ball, Lamb going the final four yards for the touchdown. Hawthorne passed to Simmons for the extra point. Score Alma 40, Saginaw 7.

Reserves Again Take Field
The reserves went back for the final period. As the quarter opened Murphy passed to Hahn for 35 yards. A pass Murphy to Dashner gave 20, but then Alma took the ball on downs on her own 15. After a first down Alma punted to Saginaw's 32 yard mark. Saginaw carried the ball to midfield where Alma recovered a Saginaw fumble. From this point Holdship, Hawthorne, Conlen, Lamb and Gilbert started a slashing attack that continued until Gilbert had planted the ball behind the Saginaw goal. The attempt for the extra point by pass failed. Score Alma 46, Saginaw 7.

Alma displayed a weakness against the passing attack that must be corrected before the team faces Albion Saturday, if it is to hope to win, as Albion features this style of game this year and does it effectively. On the whole the entire squad displayed real promise, however.
