ALMA HOLDS M.I.A.A. LEADERSHIP

ALMA OVERTHROWS PURPLE AND GOLD

The "Galloping Swede's" 54 Yard Run Is Feature Of The Game

Combining a varied and deceptive offense with a powerful and stubborn defense, Coach Roy Campbell's fast-stepping Alma grid warriors soundly trounced the strong Albion College eleven, before a large Homecoming crowd at Albion Saturday, 12 to 0. Five thousand people saw the fighting Presbyterians outplay and out-smart Coach Bud Daughtery's M. I. A. A. Champions to gain revenge for a 9 to 6 setback last fall, and thereby eliminate Albion from 1929 championship consideration.

Led by the human battering-ram, "Newberry Red" Erickson, the Alma team scored two touchdowns in rapid succession during the second period, which turned the tide of victory in Alma's favor. A costly fumble had allowed Albion to get to Alma's ten yard line early in the initial quarter, but the defensive strength of the Campbellites was here shown, Albion being held for downs and Karpp kicking out of danger.

Alma started a drive from midfield after Albion kicked, and three first downs advanced the pigskin to the Albion 12-yard line, but Alma suffered a 25-yard penalty for clipping at this point, the ball being subsequently lost on downs. After Lightbody punted out of danger, the Almites again made three first downs in rapid succession, putting the ball on the five-yard line, from where Gussin whirled around left end for the first touchdown.

Albion was forced to kick after the next kickoff, and after a first down was made, Erickson rammed through right guard, shook off two would-be tacklers in open field, and raced 55 yards for the second touchdown. Time and again during the game, the red-head hit the line with such force that it required two or three tacklers to bring him to earth.

The victory over Albion assures Alma of at least a tie for the M. I. A. A. Championship, and indications point to a clear claim to the title, unless the dope is all wrong. Kalamazoo will be Alma's Homecoming opponent on Bahlke Field, November 16th, in the final association game of the season, and comparative scores give Alma a decided edge over the Hornets. Albion beat them, 6 to 0, and Olivet tied them, 6 to 6, while Alma has beaten Olivet, 37 to 0.

Statistics on the game show that Albion was clearly outplayed in Saturday's battle. Alma made eleven first downs to nine for Albion, and Coach Campbell's gridders gained 246 yards from scrimmage, while Albion was advancing the ball but 168 yards. Alma attempted six passes and completed five of them, the other being intercepted. Albion tried thirteen forward tosses, completing but four of them, while three were intercepted and six were incomplete. Albion suffered but a total loss of fifteen yards in penalties, whereas Alma was penalized 70 yards.

The whole Alma team functioned as a unit and every player is deserving of much credit for the way he played throughout the battle. To select any outstanding stars would be difficult, but certainly "Red" Erickson cinched the fullback position on the All-M. I. A. A. team by his brilliant play, both offensively and defensively. Eddie Karpp showed good judgment in his selection of plays, besides out-punting Capt. Penzotti and Lightbody with his well placed kicks.

First Quarter

Albion won the toss and elected to kick to Alma. Lightbody booted the pigskin to the ten yard line, Karpp returning to the Alma 28-yard line, where he ran out of bounds. Gussin ran right end for three yards and Erickson made two through center. Karpp punted out of bounds on the Albion 30-yard stripe. Lightbody made three yards off tackle, then added four more through the other side of the line. Penzotti kicked out of bounds on the Alma 37-yard line. Sharp fumbled on the first play, Ren-

ALMA MUSICIANS PARADE IN ALBION

The Alma College Band directed by Professor J. W. Ewer made an excellent showing on the Alumni Field at Albion last Saturday. Due to the financial cooperation on the part of the student body the band was able to charter a bus and journey down to witness the annual grid classic.

Previous to the starting whistle the Albion Band paraded on the field. Following their withdrawal Alma musicians entered the gridiron under the leadership of Gene Tarrant who dexterously maneuvered his men over the field and, after each had played its college song, joined to form a large square in the center of the field. The Purple and Gold of Albion blended with the Maroon and Cream uniforms of Alma's men to form a beautiful display. The combined bands played two selections before marching from the field.

Alma is said to have the best team in the conference, but it also can be said without hesitation that her musicians are unequalled by any similar organization in the M. I. A. A. colleges. The band is expected to play a large part in the annual Homecoming celebration. It is also planning a tour similar to that of last year.

PHI SIGMA PI NAME OFFICERS

William Randels, Mary K. Burt, Frances Cameron And H. Logan Officers

The Phi Sigma Pi Honorary Society announced its officers and two new members in the chapel program conducted by the organization last Monday.

Although Phi Sigma Pi has only been on the Alma Campus a little more than two years, it has encouraged scholastic endeavor to some extent.

In the meeting Sunday night, Mr. William Randels was elected President, Miss Mary K. Burt, Vice President, Miss Frances Cameron, Secretary, and Mr. Harold Logan, Treasurer. The two new members elected to the society to replace Helen Frances Miller and Frances Colwell were Frances Cameron of Marlette and Winston Thomas of Detroit.

The society gave an interesting program in chapel Monday. Irene Beuthin gave a fine talk on the history of Phi Sigma Pi. William Randels spoke on the future of the organization. Harold Logan introduced the speakers and the new members.

MISS FOLEY HAS ARTICLE PRINTED

Book Review Appears In The Modern Language Journal

Assistant Professor Margaret E. Foley of the Language Department had a very interesting article in the October number of the Modern Language Journal. Miss Foley has been in the French Department of Alma College for a number of years and has proved to be very efficient in this field. The article is a review and comment on the book, "La Bataille Des Falkland" by Claude Farrere and Paul Chack. "It is a report of the decisive naval action which gave the Allies practically undisputed control of the high seas and restored British naval prestige which had been previously threatened by the German victory over the English at Coronel on November 1, 1914. After the battle and victory off Coronel the German squadron coals at Valparaiso prior to approaching the Falkland Islands. On December 8, 1914, the German and English squadrons under the command of the respective officers Von Spee and Sturdee meet off the Falkland harbor entrance. The English squadron consists of the battle cruisers Invincible and Inflexible, three armored cruisers Carnarvon, Cornwall and Kent, the light cruisers Bristol and Glasgow, and a predreadnought Canopus. In the opposing fighting force are the cruisers Scharnhorst and Gneisenau, and three light cruisers, the Leipzig, Nurnberg, and Dresden. Von Spee turns away to take his chance in the open sea but is pursued by the English squadron. A terrible battle ensues with the result that all German ships except the Dresden are sunk. The English suffer no loss of boats and but few lives."

Miss Foley further states that the book should enjoy a wide reputation as it is well suited to high school and college classes. "It is skillfully composed, brilliantly written, and communicates excitement to the reader, holding him in its spell to the very end. Then and then only comes the realization that it is not just a cleverly manufactured story but a series of incidents which present a picture accurately painted and enlivened by dramatic scenes—the whole the more fascinating since it is based on the truth.

As to the pedagogical apparatus, the book is so arranged as to be of considerable value in the class room. The vocabulary is adequate, the notes are adequate but not superfluous. A special feature of the book is the set of subjects for themes taken from the text which would not fail to stimulate the student's interest and imagination."

DETROIT ALUMNI REUNION

The Detroit Alumni Association will hold its reunion in the Jefferson Avenue Church House Wednesday, November 13.

HOMECOMING TO BE BIGGER AND BETTER

Extensive plans are being made for one of the biggest Homecoming celebrations in the history of the college. The college campus is expected to be flooded with guests on November 16. The combining of Homecoming and Parent's Day promises to bring a greater number of visitors to Alma than there has been in previous years. The fact that Alma's victory over Albion makes the game between Alma and Kalamazoo on that date the decisive one for the M. I. A. A. championship is also a great drawing card.

Invitations have been sent to the parents of the students and to the alumni. A committee has been appointed for the decoration of the downtown district. On Friday, November 15, there will be a big pep meeting in the Chapel. Friday evening the Alma College Drama Club will present their pleasing comedy "New Brooms" in the Strand theatre. Dinner will be served in Wright Hall to the students and visitors Saturday noon. Following the meal there will be a parade led by the Alma College Band. In the afternoon Alma plays Kalamazoo College for the championship. On Saturday night the annual Homecoming Dance will be held in the gymnasium.

YACHT KAPPA IOTA SET SAIL FRIDAY

Girls' Sorority Enjoys Novel Party In K. I. Society Room

Yacht Kappa Iota, manned with K. I. sailor crew, and boarded with Freshman girls, set sail last Friday evening at 8:00 bells. The doors on the fourth floor of Wright Hall bore signs such as "Purser", "Capt. Private", "Cuisine", "In case of fire use this Door", and "Crew Only." Each guest as she entered handed her passport containing very "enlightening" information to Captain Widger.

On the dimly lighted deck lined with life preservers and deck chairs, some sailor lads and lassies danced to the strains of the Zeta "vic" while others played bridge or "I doubt it" in the salon.

During intermission four distinguished persons, Admiral "Bud", Rear Admiral "Hawk", Front Admiral "Jake", and Admiral "Pete" (namely none other than "Mickey", "Rach", "Bert" and "Mary Lib.") accompanied by "Sinbad the Sailor"—just ask "Marg." Song "She was just a sailor's sweetheart" with variations, life savers and ducks, swans, turtles and fish were favors.

ZETA SIGMA HOLDS FRESHMAN SMOKER

Frosh Are Entertained By Oldest Fraternity At Zeta House

The Zeta Sigma Fraternity opened its doors to forty-five guests last Monday evening.

After the men had become thoroughly acquainted with each other some of them went on a tour of inspection through the various rooms and the dormitory while others gathered for the inevitable and profitable little "sessions" which characterize the human race. Peanuts, cigars and cigarettes were in abundance, and the craving for bridge was adequately satisfied by bridge tables in every study room.

The evening program started with a short address of welcome by President Frank Angell. Mr. Angell gave a brief account of the history of Zeta Sigma in which he told how the Fraternity had been organized two years after the founding of Alma College. The President then introduced Professor J. W. Ewer who gave his speech later in the form of two pleasing vocal selections. Superintendent Roy Phillips, an old Zeta Sigma alumnus, and Dr. H. B. Lehner, an honorary member, were called upon to be recognized. "Chet" Robinson and Stan Vliet, alumni of Zeta Sigma, embarrassed Frank to some extent with some revelations, but Mr. Angell recovered sufficiently to carry on during the rest of the evening. Professor Ewer's two numbers Mifanwy and Sylvia were well received. Three of the members of the old Freshmen quartet, Wehrly, Tarrant and Royer, favored the group with two loudly applauded songs. Jerry Phillips played the piano accompaniment for all of the musical numbers. Al Royer made the "uke" talk for the boys, and then came the big surprise of the evening. Last and not in the least least was "Newberry Red" versatile Swede, athlete, magician, musician and technician. Red rolled up his sleeves and cards began to appear mysteriously in the ether. The harrowing experiences of Clifford as he slipped into the pitfalls of Chicago brought gasps of dismay from the assembled throng. Only an Alma College student could live through such adventures. The "Wreck of the 97" flooded the room with tears—tears of mirth. The educated harmonica and a few Swedish songs completed Erick's schedule. The program was concluded with the singing of the Zeta Sigma song, and the rush for the bar room followed. Seidel and Dean dispensed the cider and doughnut lunch almost professionally. Large red apples followed the articles mentioned above, and the boys were all primed for a real old time serendae.

The clear cold November atmosphere wafted the tunes of modern and old songs to the ears of the occupants of Wright Hall. As the last note died away the group dispersed. The last smoker of the season became history.

YEARLINGS DEFEATED BY HOPE FROSH 13-6

After outplaying the Hope College frosh eleven for three periods, Coach Jess Ewer's Alma yearling football team lost to the Dutchmen at Holland last Friday afternoon, 13 to 6, when the Hope freshmen scored two touchdowns in the final quarter.

Alma scored a touchdown in the third period, when Kibler caught a pass from Catherman and crossed the Hope goal line. Hope tied the score early in the fourth quarter on a long pass, and when goal was kicked for the extra point, the Hollanders led, 7 to 6. A few minutes before the final whistle another long run resulted in the making of the second touchdown.

Leadbetter, Beardsley and Matteson stood out in the Alma forward wall against Hope, while Kibler and Baldwin were the offensive stars. The lineup included: Lane Wirtz and Johnson, ends; Capt. Leadbetter, Donnan, and Cowles, tackles; Coleman and Matteson, guards; Beardsley and Mann, center; Cathermann and Finley, quarterback; Baldwin, Orvis, Jacobson, White and Goodwin, halfbacks; and Kibler, fullback.

WRIGHT HALL RULES

The article appearing in the Student Forum clearly indicates the consensus of Campus opinion concerning certain Wright Hall Rules. It is not the intention of the editor to discredit the function of all of the laws governing the women of the dormitory, but some of these statutes are utterly absurd.

Association is one of the greatest of college courses, yet there is a rule to the effect that girls may not be escorted to Wright Hall by gentlemen between the hours of 7:50 and 4:00. If the girls do not conform, the result will be a loss of some social privileges. There must be a reason, but the question is—is it logical? Are conditions on this campus in such a state that a three minute walk from the Administration Building to the Hall will seriously imperil the welfare of one who is preparing herself to face life? Are the moral standards of the men in the college so low that they should not be allowed to escort girls home from church on Sunday? One law states that if a girl does not go to church on Sunday morning, she shall not be allowed to attend in the evening. What is the object of such a ruling as this? Do the law makers feel that this will encourage church going? Human nature proves the opposite. If for some reason or other a student is unable to attend the morning service, why should she be prohibited from attending the evening service?

Such ideas as these are puritanical. We are no longer in a horse and buggy age, but we're living in an aeroplane age and laws should be made accordingly.

Perils aren't lurking around the corners of the chemistry building just waiting to ensnare unsuspecting co-eds. The men deserve a little confidence. The above mentioned laws aren't very complimentary to them.

The obliteration of some of these petty rules would encourage more respect for the remaining. As a parting suggestion—an over abundance of rules gives an ample allowance for breakage.

We should like to hear both sides of the question. Why not carry on a logical discussion in the Student Forum column?

kiewicz recovering for Albion on the Alma 32-yard mark. Lightbody hit left tackle for a five-yard gain and Osmunn made one through center. A pass, Lightbody to Sleight, gave Albion a first down on the Alma 20-yard line. Osmunn hit the line for two yards, then ran out of bounds on the second plunge, gaining six more. Gray was thrown for a yard loss, then Sharp stopped Lightbody with a yard gain, Alma taking the ball on downs on their own twelve-yard chalk-mark. Karpp's punt was blocked, but Potter recovered for Alma for no loss in yardage. Karpp then got off a pretty boot to Lightbody, who returned ten yards before being brought to earth on the Alma 39-yard line. Osmunn fumbled, but recovered for a yard loss on an out of bounds play. Lightbody's pass to Penzotti was grounded, but the former skirted left end for six yards on the third down. Lightbody's attempted out of bounds punt was short, Alma taking the ball on their own 31-yard line. Sharp slashed off tackle for two yards, then ran right end for another yard. Gussin's short pass to Graham gained but three yards and Karpp punted to the Albion 24-yard line, where Lightbody slipped and fell without being tackled. Osmunn gained two yards through center and Penzotti kicked poorly to the 50 yard line. Erickson smashed through center for six yards, Gussin failed to gain around end, and Erickson added three more yards through guard. Karpp plunged to a first down on the Albion 39-yard line. Sharp's two-yard gain around right end was lost when Graham lost two on an end-around play. An end-around pass play, Pezet to Gussin, netted fifteen yards and another first down on the Albion 24-yard line. Albion took time out. Erickson ploughed through center for six yards and Gussin ran out of bounds on a six-yard gain around left end, making another first down on the 14-yard line. Erickson circled right end for two yards as the quarter ended. Score: Alma, 0; Albion, 0.

Second Quarter

Sharp lost five yards on a delayed off-tackle smash. On the next play Alma was penalized 25 yards for clipping by Sharp. Sharp passed to Pezet for a fifteen-yard gain, but Gray intercepted a pass on the fourth down on the Albion 15-yard stripe. Lightbody punted out of bounds on the Albion 41-yard line. Sharp reeled off six yards through tackle and Erickson smashed through to a first down on the Albion 30-yard marker. Karpp gained two at right tackle and Pezet ran left end for three yards. Gussin passed to Pezet for a first down on the Albion ten-yard line. Gussin lost three yards on a quarter-back sneak. Albaugh went in for Graham at right end for Alma. Gussin skirted left end for eight yards, then whirled around left end for a touchdown, on a pretty fake plunge by Erickson. Pezet's attempted placekick for the extra point was a yard wide of the goal posts. Score: Alma, 6; Albion, 0.

Angell kicked off for Alma and the first kick went offside. The second boot went to Lightbody on the ten-yard line, he returning to the 28, (Continued on Page 3)

STUDENT FORUM
 BREAKING WRIGHT HALL RULES

One of the great problems of every body in the world today is, how to enforce its laws. And from observation this problem also confronts those who make the rules governing the girls of Wright Hall. Many people much greater than I have tried to solve this problem of disrespect for law and so I do not claim to have a solution, but I do believe that the situation could be much improved if certain changes were made.

It seems to me that the general breaking of Wright Hall rules can be traced to two types of rules which, if eliminated, would lead to a greater respect for the remaining ones. These two types are; those which cannot be reasonably justified, and those which the authorities either cannot or will not enforce.

In order to be concrete I will give examples of both of these two types. An example of the unjustified rule is one which was made this past week. It states that a fellow may sit with his girl friend in church on Sunday morning but may not walk up to the campus with her after church. The only justification for this rule which was given is that there is a rule stating that a fellow cannot walk over to Wright Hall with his girl friend after a class. And, reason the authorities, church may be compared to a class during the week, since fellows and girls cannot be kept from sitting together after church. Personally I can't blame even the most conscientious girl in Alma for breaking such a petty and unjustified rule.

For an example of the unenforced rule let us turn to the one which states that fellows and girls may be together on Sunday evening after seven o'clock provided that they go to church and return directly to Wright Hall after church. It does not take a Sherlock Holmes to discover that this rule is broken by a large number of couples. The very ones that it was made for are not affected by it for they will not obey a rule which they do not like unless forced to do so. And again I would say that I don't blame any Wright Hall girl for breaking this rule when she sees those around her openly scorning it.

Here is where these rules affect the obeying of Wright Hall rules in general. After having broken one of these poor rules, in doing which I maintain a girl is justified, she finds that her dislike for breaking rules in general has been somewhat lessened, and she discovers that it is easy to break a rule which really is worth while and carries a severe penalty for those who break it.

Let's remember, makers of Wright Hall rules, that you are dealing with young men and women, many of whom have already helped to choose the nation's president and are therefore considered by the nation to have mature judgment. These young people are not without reasoning ability and a keen sense of justice, and they will show their disgust for petty, unjustified, and unenforced rules by breaking them because of their very nature if for no other reason. So let's abolish all petty, foolish, and unenforced laws and leave only those which by their very nature will impress the majority of the students with their reasonableness and justice and so become respected and obeyed. W. T.

"Eyes" for blind flying!

Three new G-E contributions to the conquest of the air

LINDBERGH, flying blind much of the way, hit Ireland "on the nose" as he winged toward Paris. Now, as an aid to air navigation comes the magneto compass, a product of General Electric research, which gives pilots a navigating instrument of extraordinary accuracy. Meanwhile, two other General Electric contributions to aviation have been developed—the electric gasoline gauge and the radio echo altimeter. The ordinary altimeter shows only height above sea level. The radio echo altimeter warns the pilot of his actual distance above ground or water by flashing green, yellow, and red lights on the instrument board.

Every year hundreds of college-trained men and women enter the employment of General Electric. Research, similar to that which developed "eyes" for blind flying, is one of the many fields of endeavor in which they play an important part.

CO-ED NEWS

The festive spirits in Wright Hall made merry Hallowe'en night by reminiscing over the events of "a year ago tonight". Fond memories of alleys, cops, fire alarms, peach pies, and serenades made the event an almost bearable occasion. The "powers that be" surely must have breathed sighs of relief when a peaceful morning-after dawned!

These "truth-sessions" are becoming too much of a good thing for our own good. We know folks don't like us but we're not quite sure that we can stand being told about it.

Being somewhat short of news due to a general exodus of everyone from the Hall, we might offer our gentle and gentlemen readers a ballad of the "Wanderings of the Nettlesome Nellie". (The Campus Poet needn't feel alarmed—we are not out to take any laurels).

Now Nellie was a motor car
With lots of push and go—
Six maids she took to Albion
And brought them back—yo ho!

Now Nellie may have been a
Lady of high breeding
But when it came to mounting hills
She took a lot of "feeding."

She'd whiz into the valley
And flit across the plain
She was as nettlesome a steed
As e'er went to a game.

But once poor Nell got tired
And felt lowdown and blue;
In fact so lowdown did she feel
She up and cast a shoe.

The damsels shrieked to haven
And called upon the Muse
(He was a red-ha'ed garage man)
To come change Nellie's shoes.

Then Nellie—ah, the playful dear—
She snorted, kicked and fled;
Her charges shouted in high glee
And let her have her head

She brought them back to Alma
Without a casualty;
So here's three cheers for Nellie
And her shoes—long may she be!

where he was downed by Angell. Lightbody got loose around left end and ran seventeen yards to the 45-yard line, first down. MacGregor went in for Potter and Koechlein substituted for McLellan. Lightbody was stopped with a yard gain attempting the same play again and Sleight made but two yards off tackle. A fumble by Lightbody lost fourteen yards, Lightbody being downed by Koechlein and Albaugh. Penzotti's punt rolled dead on the Alma 24-yard line. Sharp made five yards and Gussin added sixteen more on two right-end runs, making it first down on the 45-yard line. Ambler went in for Vallance at left tackle for Albion. Erickson found a hole between left guard and tackle and made a beautiful broken-field sprint of 55 yards for a touchdown. Erickson's off-tackle smash for the extra point was short by two inches. Score: Alma, 12; Albion, 0.

Angell kicked off over the goal line, Albion putting the ball in play on their own 20-yard line. Lightbody slipped for a yard loss, then gained eight yards trying right tackle. Alma was off-side on the next play, but Lightbody ran nineteen yards to a first down on the 46-yard line, and Capt. Penzotti elected to take the gain rather than the penalty. Pezet stopped Lightbody on the first down, then Sharp intercepted a pass on the Alma 36-yard line. Erickson and Karpp made four yards in two tries, before Karpp punted out of bounds on the Albion 38-yard line, as the first half ended. Score: Alma, 12; Albion, 0.

Third Quarter

Angell kicked off to Lightbody on the ten yard. Albaugh downing him after an eighteen yard return to the 28-yard stripe. McLellan replaced Koechlein. Lightbody made three yards in two plunges, then shot a pass to Sleight for a first down on the 40-yard line. Lightbody ran right end for three yards, but was stopped for no gain on a second attempt. Osmunn hit a stone wall at center, Penzotti kicking to Gussin, who tried to scoop the ball up on the run, and Sleight
