Florence Schwartz To Rule As Queen of Scots

Day's Program to Begin With Coronation Ceremony and End with Pot-Burning.

Florence Schwartz will reign as Queen of Scots over the Campus Day festivities tomorrow when the College will play host to the seniors of about forty surrounding high schools.

The day's program will commence at nine o'clock with the coronation of our fair Queen under the green bows of the beech trees in the College grove. Miss Schwartz will be accompanied by nine ladies-in-waiting, the beautiful Misses Ruth Dickinson, Florence McCallum, Marjorie Andersen, Elinor Burgess, Wilma Wright, Helen Walker, Marian Nimmer, Aletha Hapner, and Jean Currie. The ceremony of crowning the Queen will probably be performed by Prof. (Archbishop) Hamilton.

After the coronation the students and guests on the campus will be entertained by various College groups, who have made out a program that will not be completed until eleven-thirty at night. The freshmen and sophomores will provide ball just before and after lunch and the tug-of-war. The Booster's Club will present a special chapel, especially for the guests.

At noon everyone will be served a picnic lunch in the grove, and at two o'clock there will be an inter-class track meet. Wright Hall and the Fraternities will hold open house for all during the afternoon.

The evening's program will consist of a one-act play given by the College Drama Club in the Chapel at seven-thirty, and this will be followed by a dance in the Memorial Gymnasium. At ten o'clock, during intermission, the freshmen

Drama Club Wins One-Act Play Tournament Friday

The Alma College Drama Club won first place in the one-act play tournament sponsored by the Alma Little Theater group last Friday night in the Odd Fellows' auditorium. Second place was awarded to the Art Club.

The College group presented "Sunset" by Slansky, with George Walker, Wayne Forester, Elinor Burgess, Joy Olney and Hugh Brenneman making up the cast. The play, a fast moving comedy taking place in the main salon of an art shop, was one of the finest productions from all points that has ever been staged by the Drama Club.

There were four plays in the program. The Art Club won second with "Cassandra," the Woman's Club presented "Stuffed Owls," which was the first play in the evening, and the Teachers' Club closed the program with "A Marriage Proposal."

Music was furnished by the Alma High School Band, directed by R. A. Yoder. The judges were C. C. Barnes, Mt. Pleasant; Miss Louise Rorabacher, St. Louis; and Rev. Paul Marsh, Alma. Cash prizes were awarded on the basis of the receipts.

TENNIS TEAM LOSE TO KALAMAZOO 5-2

The Alma tennis team lost a closely contested match with Kalamazoo last Saturday on their home court by a score of 5-2. Ewer and Malcom rallied from a 4-1 set score to win their doubles 8-6. Ewer also won his singles by forfeiture.

will hurl their pots into a huge bonfire, and thereby part with their greenness and join the ranks of upperclassmen. The day will conclude with the last dance, 11:30.

Scot Thinclads Place Second In Albion Meet

Four Members of Alma Faculty Attend AAUP Dinner-Meeting at MSC

Last Wednesday, May 8, four members of the Alma College Faculty attended a dinner meeting of the Michigan State College Chapter of the American Association of University Professors in the Union Building on the Michigan State Campus.

Those attending were Dean Steward, Dr. and Mrs. Schreiber, Miss Foley and Professor Unstad. Dean Steward and Dr. Schreiber are members of the Association, which is an organization similar in nature to the American Bar or Medical Association.

The meeting began at six-thirty with a wonderful dinner, after which Professor C. L. Grose of Northwestern University spoke on the "Profession of the Professor."

In the talk Prof. Grose said that a successful professor must be a scholar, a thorough master of one field and enough knowledge of others to appreciate their value; he must be a teacher, so as to be able to convey his knowledge to others; and he must have an understanding of human nature and human capacities. As an after thought he added that a professor should have an appreciation of the beautiful.

Choir to Give Concert at Royal Oak Sunday

The Alma College A Cappella choir will present a concert at the Oak Park Presbyterian Church next Sunday at four-thirty, with same repertoire as the Saginaw concert.

The choir is under the direction of Professor J. W. Ewer and accompanied by Miss Grace Roberts. This will be the second out-of-town concert.

Alma Takes Six Firsts at Albion; Squad to Meet Central Monday.

After the triangular meet with Albion, last Saturday, the Scots take it comparatively easy until Monday, when a dual meet with Central State is arranged. The annual Campus Day inter-class meet will take place tomorrow. The state inter-collegiate meet at East Lansing takes place Friday and Saturday, but Coach Argyle says that the Scots will have no entries.

The failure of Bussard to accompany the squad to Albion cost the Scots three points in the shot put. As a result, Albion took first with 67½ points, Alma second with 53, and Adrian third with 40.

The Scots took six first places, the Britons 4 and a tie for first, Adrian 4 and a tie. Ralph Scheifley led the Scots and the whole field with 18½ points, scored in both hurdles, both dashes, and a member of the second place relay team. A second in the initial event, the high hurdles, spoiled Scheifley's mark.

Due to the late start in the meet, the fastest hurdles ran in the first heat of the four-lane track for the usual 5, 3, 2, 1 points, while the placers in the second heat took the half points awarded in the first heat. Eddie King, the Briton's MIAA basketball guard, beat out Scheifley in the first heat for 5 points, while Rutherford beat out Mapes for 2½ points in the second heat. Adrian did not run a man in the second heat.

Scheifley took the 220 low hurdles easily, and Dawe earned himself 2½ points with a first in the second heat.

Louis Wiser, Lyle Roberts, and Riley Block were shut out of their

FULFILLS THE DEMANDS OF A MODERN STUDENT

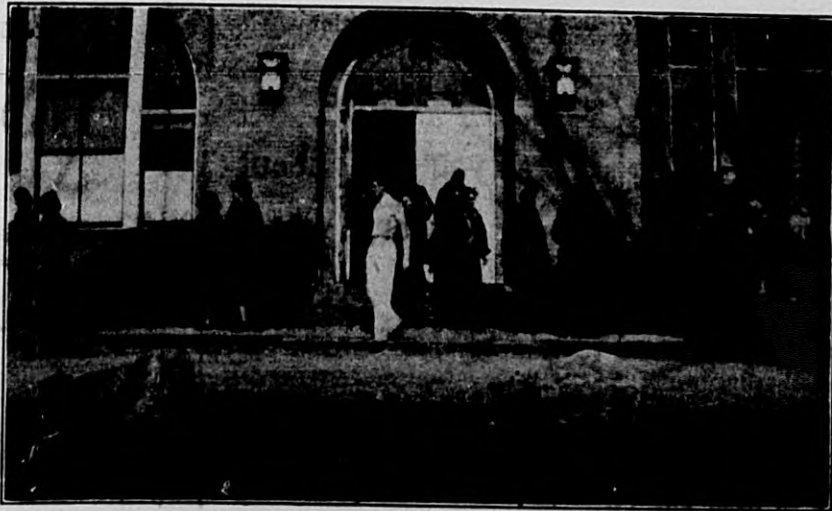

An institution that offers a high quality educational program at reasonable cost.

Students can attend Alma College for as little as $450 per year. There are also many positions on the campus and in downtown stores for those unable to finance themselves to this extent. A few scholarships are available to deserving students.

An athletic program that creates not alone the individual star but develops physical efficiency in the whole student body.

Although Alma has won her share of championships in every major sport, the athletic department has also developed a far-reaching intramural program for the men and women. Baseball, football, tennis, golf, track, boxing and wrestling are included in this program.

A college of high scholastic standards.

Alma College has been a member of the North Central Association for many years, and its standing has never been questioned. Credits earned here may be transferred to any standard institution in the country.

A training of mental faculties in an atmosphere where teacher and student meet on the common plane of fellow-worker.

A faculty of well-trained scholars, all of whom possess higher degrees and years of experience in the class room teaching, direct the educational activities of the College. Furthermore the ratio of faculty members to students is so high that instruction is on a personal basis.

Alma, in half so many years, takes place with her Michigan rivals

CAMPUSOLOGY

How does it feel to be King Horn?

England may have their jubilee, but we have our Campus Day.

Maybe it would have been better if they hadn't announced the program of speakers.

What's this? Charlotte, Grace, and Marian at the Zeta open house on Friday night.

With exams only four weeks away, Kaufmann's pony won't be the only one on the campus before long.

We wonder if Miss Gesner got a letter from her mother allowing her to come home.

York has been out to Crystal about every Saturday night lately, but he doesn't know anything about it. That's all right Keg, but make sure they're not from Bel-ding.

Tenney's dog doesn't know which side of the river he lives on any more.

SIDELIGHTS

(By Wilbur Winters)

Will we be seeing our orphan Annie at dances with other men now that Gibb is taking in dances?

Did Gordon Clack leave something in the Chem. Lab., so that he had to make a return trip, with company, at 9:30 p. m. My! My!

One of the Tenneys' spent the night in town. Laddie is the name.

Did the three little girls in blue (and the anchors on too) have a good time the last week-end? The anchors look especially nice with Black circles under their eyes.

Reward—Absolutely nothing for the ducking of "Noisy" Newell.

It seems that Elinor doesn't want her social cuts the way she is getting rid of them.

Anthonsen, you shouldn't keep her out so late.

Maybe Tenney's dog will be at the next formal. Who knows?

We're wondering who is to escort Andersen. What about it Marjory, will you clear up this affair for us.

What, no spruce gum, Bertine?

You're the top, you're the Hood Museum.

Better save your talking until after campus day, Frosh.

What's this between Vesta and our 'Handsome Baritone'.

G. Walker is Appointed Editor of Frosh Paper

As is customary after Campus Day, the Freshman class is going to edit the Almanian for the week of May 21. Professor Spencer has appointed George Walker to act as editor, to be assisted by Grace Mathews as first associate editor. The rest of the Freshman class will act as reporters and the paper will represent the work of the entire class. Former Freshman editors on the paper have been Alfred Fortino and Arthur Boynton, present editor.

Zetas Entertain Alpha Thetas with Open House

The latest orchestras from New York and Chicago filled the air with their melodies when the Zeta Sigma Fraternity entertained the Alpha Theta Literary Society with an open house last Friday night.

The party began at eight-thirty, and after an inspection of the house, which had been carefully prepared for the occasion, the guests were entertained with cards, ping-pong, and dancing.

Toward the close of the evening refreshments of ice cream, a variety of cake, and hot coffee were served, and then at eleven o'clock the party was brought to a close. Though such an affair used to be an annual event on the social calendar, dating back to the beginning of these two societies, which were the first ones on the campus, it has been allowed to lapse for several years. It was renewed this year with the hope of making it once more a regular event.

MISS SCHWARTZ CROWNED QUEEN

Coronation Impressive Campus Day Ceremony; Eight Co-eds are Attendants.

Miss Florence Schwartz was crowned Queen of Scots in a colorful ceremony held in the grove at nine o'clock, Wednesday morning, May 15, initiating the annual Campus Day celebration.

With taps sounding twice, the queen, followed by her court of eight girls, marched slowly from the president's home, through the grove to her throne on a low, carpeted platform encircled with spring blossoms.

Professor Roy W. Hamilton made a short speech about Mary, Queen of Scots, after which he placed the gold crown on our queen's head. The grove echoed to the strains of the Alma Chant, and the queen with her attendants marched from the platform through the grove.

Miss Schwartz was dressed in white organdy with a long train bordered with gay Scotch plaid. Her attendants wore pastel gowns with a diagonal band of scotch plaid from shoulder to waist.

Members of the court were: Florence McCallum, Helen Walker, Wilma Wright, Marian Nummer, Marjorie Andersen, Eleanor Burgess, Aletha Hapner, and Ruth Dickinson.

This is the second year that a Queen of Scots has been chosen to reign over the Campus Day activities and this ceremony promises to become a tradition of the college.

Dean Steward Feted at Surprise Banquet

With Miss Wilhelmina Green of the Saginaw Juvenile Court as guest, the Sociology Club gave a surprise banquet for Dean Florence M. Steward, Tuesday evening, May 14, at Wright Hall.

The folk lore class was responsible for the very attractive decorations which were carried out according to the folk tale of Hansel and Gretel. The centerpiece was a house made entirely of candy with two dolls dressed as Hansel and Gretel standing beside it. A mirror lake was placed near the house with a glass swan on the surface. Clever place cards and nut cups completed the decorations.

Miss Margaret E. Foley assisted the committee in planning the banquet.

TRACK MEN GO TO MIAA MEET AT KALAMAZOO

Schieffley, Bussard, Fuller, and Bennett to Carry Alma's Hopes.

The Scot thinclads led by Coach Argyle will attempt to lift themselves out of fourth place in the MIAA track standings, as they battle in the annual Field and Track Day at Kalamazoo, Friday and Saturday.

Practically all of the races are expected to be as close this year as they have been in previous years, if not closer. The mile will be highly contested. Thomas of Olivet is one of the favorites. Hunt of Kalamazoo, Esther of Hope, Rutherford and Tuma of Albion, and Ken Ling and Hugh Brenne-man of Alma, will be fighting for the four places offered.

On Ralph Scheifley rests the Scots' hope in the dashes and hurdles. Clyde Dawe will be his second in the two dashes and in the low hurdles. Cliff Mapes in addition to the quarter mile, will back up Scheifley in the high hurdles.

Stan Bussard, while not the equal of Frank Davis, Hillsdale star shot putter, is still good enough to take second. Bussard should win points in the discus also. Lyle Bennett is a sure point winner in the discus and high jump.

Mel Fuller, although he defeated the javelin throwers of Kazoo previously, is not conceded first in the MIAA. He should, however, be classed in the high jump, and discus. Louis Wiser, entering his first MIAA competition, might pick up some points in the javelin, discus, or shot.

Bruce York runs the quarter mile in fast time. Cliff Mapes will be his running mate. Bob Sayles, Wadge Block, Scheifley, Dawe or Ludwig will probably form a quartet with York and Mapes to run the relay.

The tennis squad composed of Weyant Pangborn, Ben Ewer, Fritz Malcolm, Gordon Purdy, and Parker Lofthouse will probably be asked to participate in the tennis finals. The team of Malcolm and Ewer have not been defeated in doubles at this writing. They have defeated Kazoo's two doubles teams, once at Kalamazoo, and once in Alma. Ewer, Pangborn or Malcolm may have a show in the singles. Pangborn and Purdy make up the other doubles pair.

Anglers Get Porcupine, Rabbit Instead of Fish

A porcupine, a jackrabbit, but very few fish was the result of a fishing trip to the Au Sable by Doctor Theodore Schreiber and several members of the Phi Phi Alpha Fraternity the week end of May 11.

The fishing party included Dr. Schreiber, Luther Evans, Kenneth Kauzler, Bob Brown, Edwards, Ken Carter, Bud MacDonald, Bud Campbell, Bill Hood, Ed. Goggin, Fraser Malcolm, Bob Reed, Bob Johnson, Ansel Christopherson, and Fred Delevan. The party stayed in cabins belonging to the Evans family, on the Au Sable River near Gaylord.

They tried both the Au Sable and the Black Rivers but had no luck. Dr. Schreiber knocked a porcupine out of a tree with his revolver. Christopherson shot a large jackrabbit with his twenty-two. Dr. Schreiber and Bill Hood were the only ones to eat any of the porcupine.

The party returned late Saturday afternoon.

Philos Entertain Guests With Tea This Afternoon

Today members of the Philomathean Literary Society will give a tea in honor of the Patronesses and town mothers at four o'clock at Wright Hall.

The Patronesses and guests invited include Miss Margaret Foley, Dean Florence M. Steward, Mrs. H. M. Crooks, Mrs. G. B. Randels, Mrs. K. E. Kaufmann, Mrs. W. A. Bahlke, Miss Leila M. Houser, Miss Marjorie Gesner, Miss Josephine Banta, Miss Euarda McCray, Mrs. D. E. McGregor, and Mrs. Netzorg.

Spray Dehnke is general chairman. Other committee chairmen include Tassie Jordan, programs; Betty Tenney, refreshments; and Opal Hines, invitations.

Students, Profs, Guests Enjoy Picnic in Grove

Gathering under the newly budding trees in the grove, students, faculty members and high school guests enjoyed a picnic luncheon, Wednesday, May 15, Campus Day.

The luncheon was served in cafeteria style, by Kelly Beach and his white-clad swipes. Large supplies of hot dogs, potato salad, beans, ice cream, coffee and cookies kept everybody happy until the time for the girl's baseball game.

Her majesty, the Queen of Scots, attended and watched over her subjects. The faculty members present sat on the steps of the throne where the queen of Alma Scots had been crowned in the morning. The entire grove was filled with groups of students and guests.

COLLEGE CHOIR GIVES CONCERT

Second Out-of-Town Recital Presented at Royal Oak Presbyterian Church.

Singing before a large audience, many of whom were former Alma students, the A Cappella Choir gave its best performance of the year last Sunday afternoon, May 19, in the First Presbyterian Church at Royal Oak. Every number was received with much applause, as were the solos of Nick Carter.

At the close of the program, Prof. Ewer asked all the alumni who had sung in the choir or glee clubs to come to the platform and join with the choir in singing the Alma Chant. Bringing the entire audience to its feet, it made the spirit of Alma College flame anew in the hearts of all its students young and old. It was pleasing to see in the audience those good friends of the college, Rev. and Mrs. Gelston.

After the concert a lunch was served to the choir and many of the former students seized the opportunity to inquire about the college.

125 Expected to Attend Kappa Iota-Philo Dance

About 125 guests will dance to the music of Addison Reed and his ten piece orchestra, at the Kappa Iota-Philomathean Formal, to be held at the Midland Country Club, next Saturday night, May 25.

Jane Rice is general chairman for the Kappa Iotas and Florence McCallum for the Philomatheans. Chaperones will be Dean Florence M. Steward, Dean James E. Mitchell, Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Randels, Miss Margaret Foley, Miss Josephine Banta, Prof. and Mrs. Theodore Schreiber, Prof. and Mrs. Jess Ewer, and Mr. and Mrs. Lobbell.

This will be the second year that the Kappa Iotas have held their formal at Midland. The tables will be arranged for six, eight, or ten people and will be attractively decorated.

30 Couples Enjoy Phi Open House Saturday

Opening the doors to welcome guests and the warm spring air, the Phi Phi Alpha Fraternity held its annual open house, Saturday, May 18. Approximately thirty couples attended.

The program included dancing, card games, and refreshments. The guests were served ice cream and cookies during the brief intermission. After refreshments, the dancing and cards was resumed until 12:00 o'clock.

The success of the party was due mostly to Ed. Goggin, aided by Robert Brown, Wadge Block, and Harold Dean.

Patrons and patronesses were Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Kaufmann, Professor and Mrs. R. W. Clack, and Dr. and Mrs. Theodore Schreiber.

Thetas to Hold House Party at Crystal Lake

The Alpha Theta Sorority is looking forward with great expectation to the annual house-party to be held at Crystal Lake, Saturday, May 25. Miss Marjorie Gesner has been asked to chaperone. Plans are still indefinite.

FROSH VICTORS IN TUG OF WAR

All Take to the River for a Ducking Good Fight When Sophs Give Way.

Climaxing a year of traditional class rivalry, twelve husky freshmen drew an equal number of frantically struggling sophomores into the chilly waters of the Pine River in the annual frosh-soph tug-of-war, Campus Day, Wednesday afternoon, May 15.

The frosh on the east bank of the river, performing like a rowing machine and spurred on by the cheers of their class mates, constantly pulled in slack with each straining heave on the rope.

The sophs on the opposite bank, straining with all their might, dug frantically in the sod for foothold. Two sophomores dropped over the bank into the water, but scampered back in a last vain attempt to redeem their honor. When the gun ended the tug, several sophs had been dragged into the water, and the rest plunged in and splashed toward the frosh side.

Several frosh in their eagerness to complete their triumph leaped into the water and met their foes in mid-stream. The rest of the freshmen surged to the water side and repulsed every effort of the sophs to crawl up the slippery, muddy bank.

The fifteen minutes of struggling told on the stamina of the participants of both sides, and several weary wrestlers limped to the water's edge and dropped in, clinging to each other.

After a quarter hour of tussling, the two classes called it a day, drenched, mud-besmeared, their clothes torn, and their faces drawn with fatigue, the frosh jubilant, the sophs crestfallen.

The tug of war victory gives the frosh a clean sweep of all freshman-sophomore engagements for the year. These include the flag rush, last fall, and subsequent basketball games, a track meet, and gang fights preceding campus day.

200 STUDENTS VISIT CAMPUS

High School Seniors Entertained with Campus Day Festivities.

Approximately two hundred high school seniors from various schools within a forty mile radius of the campus visited the college on High School Day, Wednesday, May 15.

Wednesday being Campus Day as well, the visiting students were treated to a glimpse of the fun in college life, particularly interesting to them was the annual frosh-soph tug-of-war and the pot-burning ceremony.

A student sponsored chapel program was presented in the morning. Elwyn Carter sang, by request, "The Green-Eyed Dragon" and "Shortin' Bread"; Joy Olney sang "Rhythm of the Raindrops" and "Blue Moon"; Professor Ewer led the choir in "Fireflies" and "Finlandia"; a double quartet sang "Queen of Scots", which was written Tuesday afternoon by Mae Nelson and Ted Heth, words by Professor Clack; "Cac" Erickson imitated Professor Unstadt, Professor Schreiber and Professor Brokenshire, besides singing and playing the "Wreck of the Old Ninety-Seven."

At a picnic lunch the students and guests were served hot-dogs, buns, baked beans, potato salad, pickles, coffee, and strawberry ice cream. The serving table was arranged in the grove below President Crooks' house; the students ate on the ground under the trees.

The play, "Sunset by Slantaky", with which the Drama Club won a one-act play contest recently, was well attended, although several cars of visitors had already gone. Afterward, the crowd moved over to the memorial gymnasium to attend a student council dance and the annual pot-burning ceremony.

The Hood Museum was open during the day for visitors and college people alike.

Students in History 36 always know when Miss Gesner has had a hard time to get the fellows out of the hall.

3 ELECTED TO HONOR SOCIETY

Helen Walker, A. Boynton, and E. Kendall Taken in Phi Sigma Pi Monday.

Announcement of the election of Emory Kendall, Helen Walker, and Arthur Boynton to Phi Sigma Pi, the campus honor society, was made in chapel, Monday, May 20, by Gordon Clack, president of the society.

Candidates are chosen for this society from the two upper classes, and admission is based on high scholastic standing. Kendall and Miss Walker are seniors, Boynton, a junior.

Helen Walker made a short speech of acceptance for the three new members.

Professor Raymond C. Ditto spoke for the society. He stressed the point that election to an honor society is a recognition of work well done; that it should not be held as a reward. He also expressed the hope that there might be a national honor society such as Phi Beta Kappa on the campus someday.

Besides the three newly elected, members of the society are Claude Knight, Luther Evans, Constance Clack, and Gordon Clack.

Dance and Pot-Burning End Campus Day Program

Wednesday evening saw the successful conclusion of an enjoyable Campus Day as the Campus Day Dance sponsored by the student council got under way to the music of Cecil De Remer and his orchestra.

Practically the whole student body turned out to make the affair one of the most delightful informal social events of the year. A great many visiting high school seniors, here for the combined High School and Campus Day, also attended.

Enough robbers dances were called to allow the stags to obtain a few dances with someone else's charge. Dancing lasted until eleven forty-five.

During intermission the party flocked out of the gym and gathered around a huge bonfire to watch the freshmen burn their traditional green pots. As the frosh snaked around the roaring fire they tossed their pots into the laughing flames, cheering, yelling, and laughing.

Led by Gordy Mann the frosh first cheered for themselves, then the sophomores, and a last hearty cheer to Elwyn MacGregor, student marshal. Elwyn Carter led the frosh and audience in the singing of the Alma Chant.

At the close of the pot-burning ceremony, the dancers reassembled in the gym for the remainder of the dance.

With the ceremony of the burning of the pots the freshmen are no longer required to wear them. They are no longer the little brothers and sisters of the campus, but step into equal ranking with the sophomores and upper classmen.

Elections to Be May 29

As is usual every spring, elections for all campus offices will be held the last Wednesday in May, the 29th. These offices include, editor and business manager of the "Almanian", class officers, student council representatives, manager of oratory and debate, an M. I. A. representative, a manager of athletics, a student marshal, and an athletic control board.

ZETAS BEAT PHIS IN OVERTIME 7-6

Tex Walker is Winning Hurler with Fourteen Strike-Outs.

With fourteen strikeouts against five for the Phi's, the Zeta's barely nosed out a 7-6 victory in an overtime softball game Wednesday morning, May 15, at Davis Field. The game was part of the Campus Day program.

The Zetas scored two runs in the first and one in the second for an early lead. The Phi's knotted the score in the sixth when Fortino laid the ball down the first base line for a single but errors by Lewis and Sayles enabled him to make the circuit safely. Walker then struck out the next two men up. The third popped out.

Fortino went in for Malcolm as pitcher in the seventh. In this inning both teams pushed over a run. In the eighth both pitchers bore down. John Volk was the only man to reach first.

In the Zeta half of the ninth with one out Ewer clouted out a triple. Riley walked and stole second. Ewer came in on Walker's fourth hit of the day, a single. Riley and Walker tallied on Mann's second hit of the day. Wiser flied out ending the inning.

In the last of the ninth Christopherson drew a pass. Malcolm struck out. Christopherson scored on R. Block's single. W. Block struck out. R. Block tallied on Kauzler's third hit of the day. Day struck out ending the inning.

Kauzler and Walker were the individual hitting stars, Kauzler getting three hits out of four times up, and Walker getting four out of five.

The batteries were Malcolm, Fortino and Lea; Walker and Mann. Umpires: Professors Clack, Ewer and Ditto.

Boosters Club Elects Benton Ewer President

Benton Ewer was selected to succeed James Day, senior, as president of the Booster's Club at an election of officers for next year, Thursday evening, May 16.

Other officers elected were "Chick" Sayles, first vice president; Mary Elizabeth Merrill, second vice president; Claude Knight, treasurer; and Vesta Montague, secretary.

Wadge says he knows who makes the hits.

EVERY STUDENT GET A STUDENT

CONTROL OF HAZING

At the pot-burning Campus Night only one pot could be found. Evidently, frosh discipline has been slipping.

Should discipline be made more severe again, or should the matter be dropped entirely? The present arrangement is not satisfactory to either side. The freshmen came to college to study, not to be treated like naughty children, so they say. The sophomores and upper-classmen are very annoyed at the manners of the frosh; they demand respect, and want to get it at any cost. Furthermore, every other freshman class in any school has gone through some sort of hazing. Secretly, the frosh, even at the height of their misery, derive keen delight from thinking of the wild tales they can tell future classes and generations. Hazing always makes a good story, and it invariably was worse several years ago than it is now. As it stands, both sides go to extremes. In every class there will be at least one person who doesn't know when to stop.

The girls have a senate to control hazing; the fellows have one student marshal. Such responsibility should not be centered in one person. A council made up of representatives from each class, including upper-classmen, should list a set of rules for sophomores and freshmen, with very definite punishment for lawbreakers of either group. The two classes would serve as a check on each other. Hazing could be continued, more as discipline, which no doubt is needed, than as punishment for crimes which have never been committed. Each side could have its fun and no one would get hurt.

GRAVE AND CROSS IN FRONT OF PIONEER TELL FATE OF SOPHOMORES IN CAMPUS DAY RIVALRY

A white cross marking a grave in front of Pioneer Hall Wednesday morning told the story of Tuesday evening.

It read: "Here lies the class of '37. Killed in action by the mighty class of '38. Gone and Soon Forgotten."

It seems that there was some misunderstanding about Keg. He was the first victim of the frosh-soph war. He apparently misunderstood Prexy's speech and the frosh reaction to it. He was seen to strut into Pioneer Hall by the front door just after lunch on Tuesday, blithely whistling. He was seen being carried out bodily a minute and a half later. He was seen as the center of attention of nine frosh disappearing down the street in an automobile. They say the Pine is cold in the spring, even at 1:00 in the afternoon.

The frosh have four automobiles. The sophs have three. They were used quite a bit Tuesday night. The first skirmish took place at Purdy's farm, when a lone frosh car, discovered the hideout of the sophomores. Carloads of sophs poured out of the garage. After a 10 mile chase the frosh escaped.

The Battle of the Gas Station was the next skirmish. A soph car ran out of gas and with its companion was parked at the station. Three carloads of frosh appeared, surrounded them and a general melee ensued. The sophomores fled, and the frosh captured six sophomores. Parker Lofthouse and Bob Johnson went swimming. "Doc" Ling, Ronald Bowen, Ken Kauzler and "Chick" Sayles found themselves in a silo someplace or other.

In the Second Battle of the Gas Station 20 sophomores and 15 frosh mixed up. Net result: two frosh captured. Joe Kennedy went swimming, while Dick Dart did some road work.

Somehow the keys to the sophomore cars disappeared. With no transportation they disbanded and the night's activities were concluded.

The spoils of the frosh included two sets of car keys and one car.

Sophomore Girls Defeat Frosh in Softball 13-8

Closing with an eight run rally, the sophomore girls defeated the frosh girls 13-8 in a softball game at Davis Field, Wednesday, May 15, Campus Day.

The scoring was bunched. In the third, Baumgardner led off with a single. Westendorf also singled. Hannig drove them in with a neat double. Bronson followed with a single, followed by another by G. Elliot, driving in Hannig. Brooks struck out. Tindall was safe when the throw home failed to catch Bronson. Burgess flew out to J. Elliot and G. Elliot scored on Baumgardner's second hit of the inning. Westendorf was thrown out at first, ending the inning.

In the last half of the fifth Merrill led off with her first hit, a single. Guider and Glass singled. Temple cleared the bases with the best hit of the day, a triple far out to center field. Robeson, Elliot, Witt and Watkins, singled in order. Jordan struck out. Merrill connected for her second hit of the inning, leaving Watkins on third. Guider struck out. Glass singled, scoring Watkins. Temple struck out, ending the inning.

Hannig, pitching for the frosh, struck out five and walked two, while Robeson struck out four and walked three. Hannig allowed 17 hits, while Robeson allowed 10 hits after only seven frosh had faced her in the first two innings, Brooks reaching first on a walk.

MISS WARD GIVES PAPER AT REGIONAL LIBRARY MEETING

Alma College was represented last week at the Michigan Regional Group of Catalogers which met at Ypsilanti by Miss Annette P. Ward and Mrs. Helen Dietz Boutin.

The very important matter of Subject Headings in the card catalogue was discussed from many angles. Papers were read by Miss Margaret Mann, associate professor of Library Science at the University of Michigan and author of works on library science; by Miss Adelaide Evans, chief of Catalog Department of the Detroit Public Library; and by Miss Ward. Each paper was followed by discussion.

A special luncheon was served to 46 members in the Charles McKenny Hall.

Miss Ward and Mrs. Boutin visited a number of libraries in Highland Park, Detroit, Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor, including the library of the Detroit Art Museum.

Frosh Place Second While Juniors Take Interclass Track Meet; Records Fall

The frosh track stars, with little or no training, defeated the sophomore team composed mostly of varsity men in the annual interclass meet Campus Day, May 15, but had to be content with second place as a junior team of varsity men nosed them out for first place, 58 to 46. The sophomores annexed 39 points, and the seniors 7. Scheifley, veteran sprinter and hurdler, paced the field with three firsts. Two interclass meet records, the 120 yard high hurdles and the 220 low hurdles, fell during the day.

The frosh placed a makeshift team in the meet and came through with three firsts, four seconds, five thirds and nine fourths. The juniors took eight firsts, three seconds, four thirds and one fourth; the sophomores took two firsts, seven seconds, three thirds and two fourths, while the seniors trailed with one first and one third.

H. Dean, frosh, set the pace in the half-mile and coasted in to victory over varsity veterans, Ling and Ludwig, juniors. The time was 2:10:9, only one-tenth of a second above the meet record. Dean also set the pace in the mile run, but a home stretch sprint by Ling forced him into second place.

Atlee Gilbert, frosh, easily annexed the broad jump with a leap of 19 ft. 11 in.; York, junior, took second, and Hurosky, frosh, third. Hurosky and his teammate, Elder, tied with Ewer, soph, for second in the high jump which was won by Roberts, soph, at 5 ft. 4 3/4 in.

A. Smith and E. Fisher, frosh, leisuredly tied for first in the pole vault, crossing the bar at 10 feet to shove veteran Block, junior, into third place. Carl Elder took fourth for the frosh in the javelin, which was won by Mapes, junior, with a 132 ft. heave. T. Walker took third in the shot put to conclude the frosh point-winning in the field events. Bussard, senior, tossed the shot 37 ft. 11 1/2 in. for the only senior first.

Ralph Scheifley, junior, won firsts in the century, 220 yd. dash and 220 yd. low hurdles, and set a new meet record of 26:7 in the latter event. Dawe, soph, took second in all three races, with Walker and Elder, sophs, taking third and fourth in the hurdles, Dart and Walker, frosh, following in order in the 220, and C. Smith, soph, and Fisher, frosh, taking the other points in the century.

Cliff Mapes, junior, clipped half a second off the 120 high hurdle mark, finishing in 16:7, with Dawe, soph, second, and Elder, frosh, third. York, W. Block and Mapes finished in that order in the 440 yard run.

The junior relay team was forced to tie the meet relay record of 1:38:6 in order to win over the frosh. Fuller won the discus with a toss of 102 ft. 3 in.

RADICAL REPORTER ON RAMPAGE REVIEWS RUINS OF "THE BRAT"; BUT HE'S CRAZY. DON'T MISS IT

This coming Friday night at the I. O. O. F. hall the Drama Club will drag itself through one of those awful things it calls a play. The name of the thing is "The Brat." It's supposed to be a highly amusing and sophisticated comedy of character. If sophisticated means about the same thing as sophomore we know what it's going to be like. It's also supposed to bring a new high in collegiate dramatic entertainment, but it looks like the tide is out. It has had a long professional run in New York, London, Detroit, and Podunk. (It was received most enthusiastically everywhere but Podunk).

If you're silly enough to go and see "The Brat," here's what you'll have to stand. Macmillan Forrester is an author and, in searching for "local color" to use in a novel on which he is shirking (working), he picks up a half-starved waif called "The Brat" (Eat 'em, Brat, alive). Gosh all fish hooks, but that thar gal is hungry! and brings her to his family's palatial home. Now this family are very, very nooty snobs. "The Brat" is plenty oke. (fr. beaucoup d'oke). Some friends of the Forresters are just like them, and our lovely heroine is regarded as a savage, and other endearing young terms.

Steve (not related to our "Milton" Steve), MacMillan's younger brother, is the baa baa black sheep of the tribe. He's a real guy and not like the other palookas cluttering up this so-called play. He goes ga-ga over the Brat, and very definite complications set in.

Mamma Forrester won't stand for this; her brother, the Bishop, likewise; MacMillan, likewise; and also likewise with the two debutantes who are "that way" about MacMillan, our handsome author, and the object of the affections of the Brat. Mac (he'll probably wear a long, black handlebar mouse-trash) plans to turn her out of the house without compunction, etc., etc., upon the completion of the novel, but Steve will not hear of this cold-blooded proposal, and steps in ready to do or—r die "and all that" (see also "1066 And All That" by Batesman and Yeats) or swing a couple on delicate structures of Mac's physog. However, like all tripe of this kind, it has a happy ending, and when happy is mentioned, hilarious is meant.

There have been some disarrangements of the cast since last announcement, so here is the list of the hopeless who will in all probability massacre what might have once been a poor play, but now stands no chance. It is a pretty good list of hams; probably never such a bunch of hams has ever been before collected under one roof.

"The Brat," played by that adorable little crittur Irene Folkert; MacMillan, by Alfred Jenkins, M. A. T.; Mrs. Forrester, by wistful Wilma Wright; Angela, a deb of the first water, etc., Joy Olney; Jane, a deb of the second water, just out, like the first model A, by Patricia Bale; Steve, our pal, by Sully The Bishop; Mrs. Forrester's brother, by John Boergert; Mrs. Ware, the Bishop's frau, by Margaret Randels; Dot, the Bishop's daughter, by Dorothy Hannigan; Timson, the family butler, bosom pal of Steve's pappy; and just one of the (Jones) boys at heart, by Bud Campbell; Margot, a "brick" to Steve and just a domestic to the rest of the hoodlums, by Helen Jordan.

Rosy says: "Rehearsals have been fun and hard work too, BOTH of them. The cast is right up its toes, and all set to land on its ear." (Don't pay any attention to this next stuff). "But, gentle reader, such is most assuredly not the case. For actually all is well on the Pine (it's probably in the play too) and the Drama Club will come through with flying colors again just like it did in the good old one-act play contest last week. Good old one act!" (One act is about all you'll be able to stand). (As for colors it's probably colars).

Minute interviews with some of the cast:

Al Jenkins — "Every time I open my mouth nothing comes out."

Patricia Bale—"I like being interviewed. I prefer blondes, don't you?"

Stephen Sullivan—"Huh"

Helen Jordan—"H'ya Toots!"

John Boergert—"Dramatic Club dues are payable anytime."

Bud Campbell—"Hi!"

Irene Folkert—"Are ya gonna put dis in de poiper?"

Well, this mess is going to happen next Friday evening somewhere about 8 o'clock at the I. O. O. F. hall. If you're smart you'll stay away from that part of town that night. They've reduced the prices, but they still can't fool anybody. There will probably be a big crowd of fish there. You can cry on each other's shoulders then.

THINCLADS BEAT CENTRAL STATE

Scots Win Easily, 73-58; Block Ties for Record; Schiefley Wins Four.

Alma defeated Central State Teachers College in a dual track meet at Mt. Pleasant, Monday, 73 to 58. Ralph Schiefley led the invading Scots with four firsts, while Peter Troy annexed three firsts for Central State. The teams split evenly for total first place honors, each winning seven and tying for one.

May, Central State, stepped out and took a lead in the mile run which he never relinquished, and won in 4:50.6 from Ludwig and Ling. Central also won the quarter mile when Rawson circled the track in 55 to bend the tape two yards ahead of York.

Alma then opened up and won four straight firsts, three by Schiefley. Schiefley stepped off the century in 10.2 to easily beat Boyden and Dawe of Central State. Then without any rest he ran the 120 yd. high hurdles and nosed out Mapes in 16.4. Alma's third victory came in the half mile when Ludwig set a fast pace, and broke the tape four yards ahead of Kennedy of Central. The time was 2:13.9. Schiefley took an early lead in the 220 and coasted in to win in 23.8.

Central State showed strength in the field events, mainly because of the presence of Troy, their weight star. Troy tossed the shot 41 ft. 1 in. to beat Bussard by better than two feet. He easily won his specialty, the discus, with a 149 2 1/2 in. heave, Bennett and Fuller taking second and third for Alma. Troy won his third straight event when he threw the javelin 153 ft. 4 in. to better Bussard by almost four feet.

Powers won Central's fourth field event with a 5 ft. 10 in. leap in the high jump. Bennett took second with a jump one inch under the winning mark. Dawe won first place in the broad jump, making a distance of 19 ft. 3/4 in. Warren of Central and York took second and third respectively.

Riley Block tied with Cline of Central in the pole vault at 11 ft. 3 in., a new Alumni Field record. Schiefley and Dawe finished one, two in the 220 low hurdles, the winning time being 23.8. May of Central took a commanding lead in the two-mile run and jogged in to victory in 11:01. Alma then won the final event, the mile relay, with a makeshift team of Schiefley, Mapes, Bussard and York, in 3:51.

GRADUATING ATHLETES

Lyle Bennett is another of those three-sports athletes that will not be with us next year. Lyle came to Alma last year to complete his last two years of college, and though he did not take part in athletics last year, he more than made up for it during the 1934-35 seasons. In addition to his assistant coaching he filled end position, and we will always remember him for pulling the Mt. Pleasant game out of the fire. At present his career in athletic competition is in the high jump and weight events. His record shows that we will miss him, but it is bon voyage and good luck we wish him as he departs.

Alma has seen few peppier and scrappier players than the last person on our list of graduating athletes, Kelly Beach. Kelly took a look at football, tried track for a year, and was convinced that the cage squad was the place for him. Kelly carried the fight onto the floor when he went in besides being a tough guard to get through, and it is going to be a difficult task to find another player as spirited.

Speaking of graduating seniors, we have another one that deserves mention at this time, Jess W. Ewer, according to the catalogue, will graduate this June with a major in Music and History. Mighty glad to learn that you majored in music, Jess, for in your work you doubtless must have to know something about it.

University Athletes Are Either On Top or A Flop

Ann Arbor, Mich.—It's "You're the Top" or "You're a Flop" that University of Michigan students are singing to their athletic teams this year. In other words, the Wolverine squads this year have either won the title or slumped to the bottom of the pile in Big Ten competition.

The hockey, track, and swimming teams have already established themselves as the best ever to compete for Michigan, but on the other hand, the football and basketball squads have turned in the most dismal records ever experienced by the Maize and Blue. The grid team won only one game, losing seven, while the basketball players eked out two wins, losing ten.

The hockey team, besides winning the Big Ten title, finished the season with an .800 average, the highest yet made by a puck team at Michigan, while the track and swimming teams have already set all-time records for the number of points scored in Western Conference meets.
