Campaign News

During the past week, work has been directed in the Midland and Grand Rapids areas for Alma college's financial campaign. No definite reports have been made, but the drive has gone over big in both places. This week the work will be taken up in Niles, and will be followed by the canvassing of Kalamazoo, Lansing, Flint and Detroit.

W. A. A. Appoints Officers

The Women's Athletic Association Council met last Wednesday to appoint the following additional officers: publicity, Gladys Glass; intramural tournament manager Sally Hinckley; manager of non-competitive, Kay Thomson; co-chairmen of awards, Eleanor Blakeley and Anita Byron, and social chairman, Jeanne Speerstra.

Alma Debates

Alma colleges debate team will meet Central State Teachers debaters this afternoon at 4:00 p. m. in the college chapel. Upholding the negative side for Alma will be Red LeClaire and Marvin Koffman. On the Alma affirmative team will be Bruce Mellinger and Harold Draper.

Rev. Johnson in Detroit

Rev. Charles Johnson of the college faculty spoke before the Detroit Presbytery November 6. Also he delivered the sermon at the Westminster Presbyterian church of the same city last Sunday.

Trustees Meet

Dr. John W. Dunning, president of Alma college, attended a meeting of the college board of trustees held November 6 at the Central Y. M. C. A. in Detroit.

Dr. Fisher Talks

Dr. Edgar J. Fisher, associate director of the Institute of International Education, New York City, was the guest chapel speaker yesterday morning. Dr. Fisher has had intimate contact with the institutions of higher learning in many foreign countries and his talk dealt mainly with European problems.

Chapel Choir at Flint

The Chapel Choir, under the direction of Prof. J. W. Ewer, presented a concert last Tuesday at the Young Peoples' Institute at the Flint Presbytery. They were entertained at supper at the Community Presbyterian church. This was the first concert presented by the group this year. Included in the schedule for future concerts is an appearance on the Centerline Community Concert Series.

Wright Hall Senate

Wright hall Senate has inaugurated plans for a "Saide Hawkins" day to be held either in January or February. The entire student body will take part in the day's run. Further details will appear in subsequent issues of the Almanian. Also the Senate will sponsor a rummage sale at Wright hall after Thanksgiving vacation.

The University of Cincinnati has organized a loafer's club to plan spare-time activities for students.

At a charity dance for a Syracuse University loan library, admission was paid by donating a volume.

COUNCIL VOTES TO RAISE FEES

Body Boosts Activity Fee to $10 to Meet the New Campus Set-Up.

BASEBALL GETS GRANT

Student Activity fees will be raised from $7.50 to $10 beginning next semester, it was decided last Thursday night in the Student Council meeting held in Wright hall. This action was taken due to the increase in various student programs which has been planned. Baseball, never before receiving a grant from the student fund, will come under this new arrangement. Another re-apportionment of funds will have to be made before next semester.

Each group, among them being oratory and debate, Almanian, athletics and others, receive a certain allotment from the council each year to carry on their respective programs. Because of the increase in college enrollment, larger and more varied programs have been planned which has run into more expense. Certain organizations were cut while others received an increase in the allotment made a month ago.

Music department, oratory and debate were the two major departments which got the largest increase while the athletic department took the largest cut. The Council has already decided to sponsor more campus social events in the way of all-college dances and informal get-to-gathers.

The committee appointed by President Morley Webb to study the re-apportionment of funds is composed of Webster Cutler, Aymour Johnson, Edwardine Reavie, Bob Hanzel, Elaine Doubles, and Ralph Brown.

Weavers and Mellinger Win Extempore Contest

The annual Alma college Extempore Speech contest was held last Thursday night in the college chapel. In the women's division the contest was won by Katherine Weavers, who repeated her performance of last year when she also took first honors. In the men's division Bruce Mellinger won the event. Miss Weavers' topic was, "Should My Daughter Go To College?" Mellinger's topic was, "Will America Accept the Third Term?"

These two Alma winners will go to Kalamazoo November 28, where they will compete against other colleges of the State for the State championship.

Judges for the Thursday debate were Professor Herman Spencer, Rev. Charles Johnson and Marvin Volpel.

STUDENTS TO "FROLIC" NEXT SATURDAY NIGHT

With advance ticket sales indicating a capacity crowd, the Class of 1934 will sponsor their annual Frosh Frolic next Saturday evening at Memorial gymnasium. Johnny Vic and his famous band will reign from the band stand. Decorations will be something new and different, according to press notices, which states "Every girl will want to have one of those original little program cards to keep as a souvenir. Even though they might not be freshmen they were at one time." The party will be semi-formal. Kay Thomson and Doug Wilson are co-chairman for the event.

The University of Oregon has an amplifier that will magnify a sound 15,000,000 times.

Jameson's Visit Marks First of Kind on Alma Campus.

Alma college's distinguished visitor next Monday and Tuesday, Raymond D. Jameson, has studied and worked in America and in Europe. He was born in Tennessee, educated in American public high schools and universities and studied in a German Middle school. After taking a Master's degree at Wisconsin, he taught in the University of Idaho, Grinnell College and at the University of Chicago. In 1923 he went to Europe and served, in 1924, as technician in Speech Pathology in the West End Hospital for nervous diseases in London. In 1925 he became professor in Tsing Hua National University in Peking, China and continued there until 1932. During this time he was guest professor in several of the Peking universities; Peking National, National Normal, Catholic, etc.

In 1933 he organized and became director of the Orthological Institute of China. In 1937 he became an advisor to the Minister of Education of the National Chinese Government and in 1938, advisor to the Commissioner of Education in Yunnan Province. He was visiting professor at the University of Wisconsin.

The visit of Mr. Jameson will mark the first of its kind on the Alma campus. If his visit proves successful, further preparations will be made to secure additional lectures. These topics include Artistic Creations as Property, Mu-

MUSIC LEADERS MET WEDNESDAY

The Association of Musical Directors of Liberal Arts Colleges of Michigan held their annual meeting last Wednesday at Alma college. This group, organized three years ago, meets once each year for discussion groups and round table conferences concerning the music departments of the liberal arts colleges. The group met here at the invitation of Prof. Jess W. Ewer, chairman of the organization. Its first meeting was held at Olivet and it met last year at Kalamazoo.

The day's activities began with a chapel address by Prof. Henry Overley of Kalamazoo, followed by a luncheon at Wright hall. In the afternoon they met in the Dickie room in Wright hall for discussions.

Those who attended and the schools they represented were Edwyn Hames, Hillsdale; Henry Overley, Kalamazoo; Kenneth Osborne, Hope; L. U. Rowland, Albion; James Spencer, Adrian; Seymour Swets, Calvin; Avis H. Thomas, Olivet, and Miss Grace Roberts and J. W. Ewer of Alma.

VRONSKY, BABIN OPEN CONCERTS

Vitya Vronsky and Victor Babin, duo-pianists, who have elevated the art of two-piano playing to a new level in their performances before full houses in London and Chicago, open the Community Concert program at Saginaw on Wednesday, November 15.

This husband and wife combination has attained that rare blend of musical personalities that is found only too rarely. They met while studying at Berlin under the great master Schnabel, and there decided to become not only marital, but musical associates. Babin is thirty years old, his partner a few years younger.

Vronsky and Babin undoubtedly possess unusual sensitivity. It was said after their recent success in London that, "Their complete unanimity in interpretation at all times is so perfect that the result seems to be proceeding from the operation of one intelligence." They are very modest and devoid of anything in the nature of showmanship in their approach to their work.

Announcement will be made for those who hold concert tickets as to the time the college buses will leave for Saginaw.

Almanian Changes In Style Through Thirty-Three Years

This year's Almanian marks the thirty-third anniversary of Alma college's student publication. The paper was first published in 1906, appearing twice monthly in magazine form, far different from that of later years. In 1908, the Almanian became a weekly edition, four columns wide and twelve inches in length. The four column style lasted until 1914, when it was converted into a five column paper with a length of eighteen inches. In 1935, the next major change in the appearance of the paper took place when it was reduced in size, this time to fifteen inches, the present size of the Almanian.

In the main, the Almanian has had only male students as editors of the "sheet." However, in 1933 and only last year, girls undertook the task of the editorship. They are Edith Davis, now in so-

FAMED SPEAKER TWO-DAY GUEST

Students and Faculty to Listen to Talks by Visitor.

Raymond D. Jameson, consultant in Comparative Literature at the Library of Congress, Washington, D. C., will visit Alma college's campus next Monday and Tuesday, November 20-21, to speak to Alma's students. He is brought to Alma through the Association of American Colleges, New York City. His visit is concerned with the uses of language, what thoughts and feelings it conveys, how it conveys them and the conditions which govern communication. He will supplement the work of the English and other departments.

His first appearance will be at 8:45 a. m. Monday when he will talk to Sociology groups on folklore. The talk will be in the Administration building. Also on that day he will give a twenty minute chapel talk, an address to the Science departments. At 7:30 p. m. he will speak to the faculty at President John W. Dunning's home on the topic, "The American College and the Library of Congress."

Individual Conferences
On Tuesday he will deal with the Speech and Art departments as well as the International Relations club. Also individual and group conferences with Mr. Jameson can be arranged by appointments with the President's office.

Eric Clarke, director of the Association of Colleges, writes that "Jameson is a man of insight and solid judgments, endowed with a rare humor. He stimulates alike those who are interested in creative writing, those who study languages, and indeed all who think about the words they use."

cial service work in Detroit, and Margaret Arnold, a senior here at Alma college.

The various editors of the paper have since entered into different fields. Among them are deans, ministers, advertising men, teachers, architects, superintendents of schools, lawyers, chemists, and newspaper reporters.

Beginning in 1910, the editors in successive years were Stanley Graves, Robert von Thurn, Ralph Yonker, Harold Wilcox, E. A. Thompson, Addison Wilson, F. Arnold Robinson, Harry W. Shaver, Louis J. Sarvis, M. C. Davies, Russell Wilson, S. A. Shoemaker, Ronald Harris, Lee Crooks, Homer Barlow, Harold Logan, Amos Ruddock, Harry M. Crooks, Jr., John Hurst, Edith Davis, Arthur Boynton, Elliott Crooks, Luther Evans, Alfred Fortino, Herb Peters, and Margaret Arnold.

The Pi Sigma Nu sorority gave their first rushing party last Friday, when they entertained the freshman and new girls at the Gleaner Playhouse on Orchard street. The girls played informal games, talked, sang and danced, the balcony having been temporarily transformed into the "Double R" by some of the adaptable freshman. After hotdogs and all the trimmings, the seven charter members of the new sorority presented a skit, much to the enjoyment of the guests. At seven-thirty the girls adjourned to the Alma-Ypsi football game.

Jameson's tours are arranged through the Association of American Colleges. The plan of the Association was begun experimentally in February, 1937, when a college musician, granted a fortnight's leave of absence on salary, visited four colleges in another section of the country and spent a half-week on each campus, giving a sequence of performances at each. The purpose was to stimulate interest in music and the arts as a part of general education. During the past two seasons these visits have gradually been extended to include painters, etchers, and craftsmen.
Workers in drama and achitecture have been added. This season 94 colleges have had Faculty-Artist visits. The plan itself has passed the experimental stage.
The Library of Congress is arranging special leaves of absence to enable certain of the specialists within its staff, including members of its Consultant Service, to visit colleges. Each man, as is Mr. Jameson, is an authority in his field. The purpose of these experiments is to show how member colleges may tap the resources of that of the Library of Congress.

COURT SEASON OPENS DEC. 7

With expectations of the best team in years, Alma college's basketball squad, with possibly one exception, will be composed of sophomores, it is reported by Coach Gordon A. Macdonald.

Although there are many veterans back from last year's court squad, the boys coming up from the frosh team, which was the most outstanding in MIAA competition last year, will take over the spotlight.

Coach Macdonald has much material to select from, and one well-balanced five which he could put on the floor would include, Al McQuaig and Bud Howe, both Alma high products, at the forwards, Keith Carey at the pivot spot, and Tink Kirby and Danny Gallagher at the guard posts. These latter three men are from Charlevoix.

In Carey, high scorer in frosh competition last year with an average of 18 points per game, the Scots have a likely candidate for MIAA scoring honors.

The schedule:
Dec. 7, Adrian, here; Dec. 8, Lawrence Tech, there; Dec. 12, Central State, there; Dec. 15, Ferris Institute, there; Dec. 21, DeSales at Toledo, O.; Dec. 22, Toledo Junior Varsity, there; Dec. 23, Highland Park Junior college at Detroit.

Jan. 5, Kalamazoo, there; Jan. 9, Hillsdale, there; Jan. 12, Olivet, here; Jan. 15, Albion, there; Jan. 25, Michigan State Normal there; Jan. 27, Hope, there.

Feb. 2, Central State, here; Feb. 5, Kalamazoo, here; Feb. 9, Hillsdale, here; Feb. 13, Olivet, there; Feb. 16, Albion, here; Feb. 19, Michigan State Normal, here; Feb. 24, Hope, there; and Feb. 27, Adrian, there.

SCOTS BEATEN IN FINAL GAME

Michigan Normal Wins 16-6
as Ed. Arnold and Cliff
Carter Star for Alma.

By Jack L. Crittenden

Although outplaying the enemy, as in most of the games of the current season, Alma college's Scots went down before Michigan State Normal of Ypsilanti in the last game of the year last Friday night, 16-6.

With each team scoring early in the first quarter, the Hurons added a field goal in the third period and another touchdown in the last stanza to beat the Scots.

This loss closed the season for Coach Gordon A. Macdonald's boys with a record of two wins, five losses, and one tie.

Ed Arnold was the star of Alma's attack as the Scots garnered nine first downs to the Huron's six. With spectacular running, he picked up a total of 125 yards in

SPORT SHORTS

by CRIT

Four members of Alma's varsity football squad played their last college game last Friday night against Michigan State Normal. These four — Cliff Carter, Bill Ginther, Webster (Ace) Cutler, and Captain Don Smith — are all three letter men in football.

In commenting on losing these four, Coach Macdonald said: "I always dislike losing veterans and, in this instance, that feeling is greatly multiplied. These boys have worked hard, sincerely trying to bring victory to Alma."

Carter, who is from Breckenridge but who starred in high school football at St. Louis, is one of the finest pivot men ever to wear a Scot uniform. His fine sportsmanship and his outstanding play, both on offense and defense, has won the respect of opposing players, coaches, and his own teammates, and should give him great consideration for all-MIAA honors.

One of the most persevering members of the squad for three years has been Ace Cutler, portly tackle from Sault Ste. Marie. He has gone at the game in a business-like manner. His love of the game has led him to keep statistics on the sport and he has a thorough knowledge of the grid game.

Three years of MIAA competition, although great fun, has been a serious undertaking with Bill Ginther, Traverse City backfield man, and no one has ever accused him of stalling in a game. Since taking over the football position the latter part of this season, he has done a good job of backing up the line, making many fine tackles.

Deserving of special mention is Captain Ducky Smith, diminutive back of Charlotte. Ducky, who was the only Scot selected to the all-MIAA team last year, has been an outstanding runner for three years of varsity competition. Although captain of the team and with the Michigan Normal game his last, Smith did not start last Friday because of ligament injuries received in the Kalamazoo game. He did, however, get into the game for a short time.

I wish at this time to express to these four fellows, and to the team as a whole and Coach Macdonald, my appreciation for the fine way in which they have co-operated with me during the season just past and for the way in which they have generally received my press offerings.

I also wish to take the liberty of thanking the boys, for the student body, the faculty, the administration, and publicly for Mac, for their efforts on the gridiron this season in behalf of Alma college.

The University of North Dakota has nine student cheerleaders.

21 attempts for the best individual showing of the game. In the line, Cliff Carter, who seems a sure-bet for all-MIAA honors, played his usual outstanding game to close his football career in great fashion.

Ypsilanti employed tricky running plays with Siera, Walsh, and Yuille, all of whom showed great speed, standing out.

Ypsi Intercepts Pass

Early in the first period an attempted pass, Kirby to Hill, was intercepted by Yuille who raced over the goal line. The Scots immediately retaliated. Arnold picked up 15 on two attempts and Kirby then heaved a bullet-like pass to Carey who showed nice broken-field running as he weaved 40 yards for a counter. As neither extra-point attempt was successful, the score was knotted at six all.

In the second stanza, the battle was a see-saw affair with the running of Arnold and Hill providing the bright spots.

In the third period, with the ball on Alma's 20, the Hurons were stopped on three attempts. On the fourth try, Jimmy Walsh kicked a field goal from the 18 with Valteau holding, to put the Hurons in front, 9-6.

Scot Attack Bogs

Alma's next chance came in the last period when Carter recovered Siera's fumble on Ypsi's 25. Runs by Kirby and Arnold, aided by a Ypsi penalty, took the ball to the nine-yard line. Here the Scot attack bogged down as they were penalized five for too much time in the huddle, Kirby lost 10 attempting to pass, and another pass, Kirby to Carey, was incomplete.

Taking the ball on his own 42, Siera started around end, cut back through the line, and then raced down the sidelines 58 yards for another Huron tally. Newlands' kick was good, and the Hurons led, 16-6.

Another Alma drive late in the fourth period was stopped when a fumble by Arnold in Huron territory was recovered by Michigan Normal.
