Famed Literature Authority
Is Heard by the Alma Student Body.

Raymond D. Jameson, consultant in Comparative Literature at the Library of Congress, Washington, D. C., will conclude his two day lecture this afternoon with an informal discussion on China at the International Relations club meeting this afternoon at Wright hall. A party in Mr. Jameson's honor will be held tonight at Wright hall's reception room.

During his brief visit, Mr. Jameson addressed various campus groups, including the sociology classes, science department, faculty, art, and speech departments. He also spoke at the Monday and Tuesday chapel exercises.

Mr. Jameson's lectures were made available through the Association of American Colleges. His tour takes him into Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, and throughout the Pacific coast.

SMOKER TICKETS TO GO ON SALE

Tickets for the three fraternity smokers will go on sale immediately following the Thanksgiving vacation. These tickets, at thirty cents each, will admit the freshman men to each of the stag affairs. Phi Phi Alpha will be first on November 29, followed by Zeta Sigma on December 6 and Delta Gamma Tau a week later.

Be An All-A Student?

HICKORY, N. C. — (ACP)— If you want to be an "A" student, take the advice of Harold L. Hoffman, a psychology major at Lenoir Rhyne College.

Here are the five steps to academic success that he recommends:

1. Study. Remember that those students labeled "geniuses" really study for their superior marks.
2. Love "all" the opposite sex, not just one of said sex. This tends to create a superior, "I'm all right," frame of mind.
3. Cultivate a liking for your professors and for your studies. Hard to do perhaps, but if at least a neutral attitude is adopted toward each professor and each study, and a sincere effort is made to master the subject, success will be yours.
4. Every college student has someone interested in his success—a father, a mother, a sister, a brother, perhaps a sweetheart, an aunt, or an uncle. Develop an "I'll show you" attitude. Prove to those financial loving, and/or spiritual backers that you are equal to the task.
5. Be a good "mixer"—put on the old personality with your associates, for creating a favorable attitude in the eyes of your fellow students will make you as an individual happy, light-hearted, and free—desired qualities for a successful student.

Kitchen to Be Repainted and Floors in Ad. Building to Be Refinished.

Alma college will close for its annual Thanksgiving vacation next Wednesday noon, November 22. Classes will resume Monday morning, November 27. William Ellis, college business manager, has announced that the Administration building will be closed at that time and all floors throughout the building will be refinished. Also Wright hall's dining room will be closed following the noon luncheon. The next meal will be served Sunday evening at 5:30 p.m. The kitchen in the basement of Wright hall will be repainted at this time. The ALMANIAN will make its next appearance on December 5.

Following the turkey vacation, Alma college's basketball team will open its regular season against Adrian college on December 7. The team has been working out for the past two weeks and with practically an all-sophomore aggregation, little is known of the strength of the Scots. However, with its strong freshman team from last year still intact, Alma looms as a serious MIAA title threat.

The college Drama club will present its first production in January with the show, "The Night of January 16." Jean Taylor, Fritz Ohlinger, and Bruce Lindley have been selected for the leads. Marvin Volpel, faculty member, is directing the play.

Sororities and fraternities will again resume their rushing sessions with freshman pledging coming soon after the opening of the second semester. Phi Phi Alpha fraternity will hold their smoker for freshman men on November 29, while Zeta Sigma will hold their stag affair on December 6, and Delta Gamma Tau has scheduled theirs for December 13.

WOMEN DEBATERS OPEN AT C. S. T. C.

The women's debate squad of Alma college opened its season last Thursday meeting Central State Teachers college at Mt. Pleasant in two non-decision debates. The results of these contests gave the impression that this year women's squad will turn in an excellent record.

The women are debating the same question that the men are that of Resolved: "That the United States should adopt a policy of strict isolation (military and economic) to all nations outside the western hemisphere engaged in armed international or civil conflict."

The opening tilt found the affirmative team composed of two newcomers to the Scots debaters. Norma Lincoln, a freshmen debating for the first time, was the first speaker. The second affirmative speaker was Louis Lindsay, new to Alma but a veteran from Monmouth college.

Alma's negative team was made up of two veterans from last year squad. Mary Baker spoke first and she was followed by Ruth Willie.

Vivid Picture Of Sociology Trip

Written By Almanian Reporter

By Dare Ingold
Under the leadership of Prof. Florence Steward, 42 members of the Sociology department visited the Michigan State hospital for epileptics at Wahjamega last Tuesday. The group went in two college buses. Dr. Dixon, medical superintendent of the institution, greeted the group and introduced the four physicians who were to present the clinic.

Dr. Dickerson, assistant superintendent, the first speaker, gave a short history of epilepsy, describing the actions and personalities of persons afflicted with this convulsive disorder, after which he presented the case history of B., a ten year old girl. The antecedents of this girl had not been especially desirable, and the girl's mother is confined at present in a cottage at the institution.

B. began having convulsions at the age of two which became more frequent and harder in nature as she progressed. She came to the hospital in 1935, and during the first ten weeks of her confinement,

Dean Kathleen Gillard spoke to the girls on the history of the Y. W. C. A. and President Anita Byron spoke on the Y. W. Christmas party to be held next month.

The initiatory exercises were conducted in candle light ceremonies with the Y. W. C. A. cabinet forming a triangle around the candidates.

GRAND MARCH IS FROLIC HIGHLIGHT

Green and white pots and ribbons decorated Memorial gymnasium for the annual Frosh Frolic held last Saturday evening. Nearly one hundred couples danced from eight to twelve o'clock to the music of Johnny Vic and his Knights of Swing under a ceiling of green and white streamers. Indirect lights were placed at intervals on the walls and a large green fan was a background to the orchestra.

Novel programs in the shape of freshman pots were given to each couple.

Highlight of the evening was the Grand March, led by class President Warren Heitman and his guest, Kay Thomson, who wore red chiffon and red roses. Co-chairmen for the dance were Miss Thomson and Dugald Wilson. Other committee heads were music, Warren Allman; decorations, Laura Johnson; publicity, Steve Toth; tickets, Wilma Lowery.

Patrons and patronesses were Dr. and Mrs. John W. Dunning; Professor and Mrs. Carney Smith; Professor and Mrs. Roy Hamilton; Miss Gladys Andrews; Mr. Marvin Volpel, and Dean Kathleen Gillard.

January 6 Set for First Inter-Fraternity Dance

The first inter-fraternity dance will be sponsored January 6 at Memorial gymnasium. All three fraternities on the Alma campus will share in the presentation of the event with hopes of it becoming an annual affair. Arrangements are being made to secure a popular Michigan band for the dance. Cliff Carter is acting as general chairman with assistance from each fraternal group.

Informal Party Tonight in Honor of Mr. Jameson

Miss Gladys Andrews, recreation director, announces that an informal party will be held tonight honoring Raymond D. Jameson, congressional library consultant. Included on the program will be community singing, games, and cards in the reception room of Wright hall, and dancing in the Recreation room. The affair is under the sponsorship of the student social committee.

Col. F. Knox Receives Letter From Alumnus

Following is reprinted a letter received by Col. Frank Knox, publisher of the Chicago Daily News, who is acting as chairman for the Alma college financial campaign:

Tucson, Arizona
October 26, 1939

Col. Frank Knox,
Detroit, Michigan

What a surprise to hear from a dear old College friend. At your request I am enclosing a check, not to cancel one of those $250,000 enterprises, but just to recognize the 1939 "Scotsman," with all the cheerful faces of Professors and Students, animated into inspiration for future achievements.

I am retired from active service as pastor of the church, which makes my financial resources very limited. Please find a check for five dollars. Wishing unlimited success in accomplishing all your program of repairs, and new required buildings. With kindest regards and liberal financial support from those who are able to put and keep Alma in the upper brackets of success.

Cordially yours,
S. J. McGaw,

TRIP

sexual delinquent and a brother who is also feeble-minded. Before her marriage, B was a sexual delinquent with a bad record. She married a man who is now in prison in Illinois for bigamy. She is a microcephalic (very small head) and has a congenital heart disease. She is capable of doing ward work, but she is very unpredictable, naive, and simple; she talks in rambling disconnected sentences. She has an I.Q. of 37.

Coming before the group in the clinic, she told about the fights she has with other patients, also how she would like to see her husband. She talked about how her seizures affect her and she said she was 16 when she was in the fourth grade.

Two other cases were presented to the group. One, a girl of 19 with a good social background and apparently no insanity or feeble-mindedness in her family history, had gone through the first half of the twelfth grade in high school when her memory began to fail. She became sexually delinquent, stole, lied and left home several times. During her seizures, she laughs, acts silly, bites her tongue and falls unconscious to the floor. She has an I.Q. of 99. The other case, that of a boy 14. J's father was an epileptic and his uncle was an alcoholic. At three months J began to have convulsions, but these may have been due to gastric disorders. At the age of 11, he fell from a lamppost and began to have convulsions afterwards. His record states that he could be very friendly, over-affectionate, noisy, loud or disorderly. His I.Q. is 72, which is below normal. J. said he fought with his brothers and his teachers at home, but that he has many friends in the institution. He would like to be a salesman; he likes music, sports, reading, and tap-dancing.

After the clinic, a luncheon was served the group which gave an opportunity for direct conversation with the physicians, social workers and psychologists. Afterwards, Dr. Dixon spoke of the laws governing the commitment of epileptics to institutions and of the plans underway for new improvements at Wahjamega. Dr. Dixon also spoke of the work being done to relieve patients. Notable among the new relief measures is the use against convulsions of "Dilantin," a drug whose technical name is Sodium 5.5 Diphenyl-Hydantionate.

Two large groups were taken through the institution. A special group of eight was conducted through a more thorough examination of the hospital itself and the patients confined therein. Of special interest to this group were the idiot children who also have convulsions and congenital disease, and the two Mongolian idiots with epilepsy. Encephelograms were shown to this group in the basement of the hospital, and laboratories, pharmacy and dispensary were examined.

The other two groups made a more general inspection of the whole institution and were fortunate (or unfortunate, as the case may be) in seeing patients in the act of having seizures. The group returned to Alma in time for dinner at Wright hall Tuesday evening.

An Ohio State University sociology class survey shows that the social distance between members of a class is great — but there was a high degree of "cohesiveness" reported between students and their teachers.

Here's something new the democrats are being blamed for these days. The editor of the Wheaton College Record received a letter which said: "Dear Editor (You Democrat): We never froze at homecoming when Coolidge and Hoover were presidents."

Which explains why "An Apple for the Teacher" is a popular theme song!

SPORT SHORTS

by CRIT

In the current issue of this column, it is the writer's intention to bring to the public's eye a short sketch of the recreation program directed by Miss Gladys Andrews, especially as this program applies to the women of Alma college.

Systems for freshman women and upperclass members are entirely separate, says Miss Andrews. She also stresses the fact that the program in operation is not one whereby the girls put in so many hours for credit, but one in which they learn the "why" of the sports, the "technique" behind them, and the "rules" for the various games. In other words, a scientific course!

In the following paragraphs I will attempt to show something of the individual programs:

Freshman Activities

For the freshman women there is a special orientation course, with sports arranged according to seasons, in which class sessions are held twice a week. This is to give the girls a general view of the sports world open to them, so that they may find for what phase they are best fitted and which type has the most appeal. Included among these activities are hockey, tennis, basketball, volleyball, badminton, baseball, archery, folk dancing, and social dancing.

Upperclass Program

The program for upperclass girls is primarily one of specialization in which the women may participate in the sport best suiting their individual tastes. Included in this last are all of the activities previously named, in a more specialized and advanced stage.

After upperclass girls have completed their regular gymnasium requirements, they will be given Women's Athletic association points for their activities, Miss Andrews reports.

Special Activities

Bowling for men and women, with the latter receiving gym credit, is held from 1 to 3 on Monday afternoons at the new Alma Recreation alleys. Last week 60 persons participated. Charge for this is 15 cents per person.

Horseback riding for girls from 4 to 5 every Thursday and Friday afternoons is held at the Cavalry headquarters.

From 1 to 4 on Friday afternoons archery is offered for both men and women. This sport will continue throughout the winter, Miss Andrews reports, with special arrangements being made for an indoor range.

Fencing is also offered for both men and women, and social dancing instructions will also be offered as soon as a place has been found for class sessions.

Women's Field Hockey

Frosh girls have challenged the upperclass girls to a field hockey game to be played at 3:40 Tuesday afternoon. After Thanksgiving vacation a sports program, to include hockey, will be held in conjunction with the women's physical education department of Central State Teachers College.

Recreation Nights

Miss Andrews also reports that plans are underway for recreation nights to be held in Memorial gymnasium throughout the winter for mixed groups. Included in the activities to be offered will be badminton, volleyball and square dancing.

Editor's Note! For further news of women's athletics and of the recreational program, watch this page. Feature stories on some of these sports and others, of which you have probably never heard, will also appear here soon JUST CRIT!

Smith Scores 33 Points For Fifth Place in MIAA

Alma seems to be a school of "fives" in the MIAA football race this fall, placing fifth in the standings and with Don Smith placing in that slot for individual scoring efforts.

Albion won the MIAA race with six victories and no defeats. Alma had two victories, three defeats, and one tie in MIAA play.

In scoring, Gordon Piatt, Hillsdale quarterback and co-captain, took first honors for the second consecutive year with 60 points. A leg injury kept him out of one game, and he counted only three extra points and a field goal in three others. In the last two contests, however, he tallied 54 points. Wood of Kalamazoo and Coburn of Hillsdale each tied for second with 42 points each.

Captain Smith of Alma scored five touchdowns and three extra points for a total of 33 in six games.

Considering the records of all Michigan college teams, Albion and Central State placed first with each winning seven and losing one. Each lost its opening game and came through with seven straight wins. Albion had 170 points and CSTC piled up 142.

In the Michigan standings, Alma placed 16th in a field of 21 schools. The Scots amassed a total of 92 points to their opponents' 82, but won only two and tied one, while losing five.

Varsity Quintet Work Out Daily

Thirteen Candidates on Macdonald's Basketball Squad. Three From Last Year.

Planning a season squad of only 10 men, Coach Gordon A. Macdonald now has 13 candidates out for the varsity basketball squad.

With the exception of three players, these men are all sophomores who saw action on last year's frosh team. Only upperclassmen out for the squad at present are Dick Krall, Detroit; John True, Saginaw, and Joe Godleski, Perry, N. Y., all of whom are juniors.

Other candidates are: Keith Carey, Robert (Tinker) Kirby, Rex Holmes, Danford (Chick) Gallagher, Al McCuaig, Bud Howe, Warren Hartt, Bud McLain, Russell Sterling, and Ed Riggs.

Practice is now being held five days a week in Memorial gymnasium. Coach Macdonald plans no immediate "cutting" of the squad.

"Johnny" Johnson, X'11, Dies at Detroit Home

C. Stanley Johnson, x-'11, known to every Alma student of his day as "Johnny," passed away November 1 at his home at 685 Piper Boulevard, Detroit, Michigan, from a sudden and fatal heart attack.

Mr. Johnson was born at Palo, Michigan. He attended Alma college Academy in '05 and '06. He was a member of the College Indoor Gym team the seasons of 1905-06. Each year he won the State Championship as an Indian Club Swinger.

Coach Jesse Harper, who subsequently became the late Knute Rockne's predecessor as head coach of Notre Dame University, in June, 1907, selected "Johnny" to pitch the final M. I. A. A. play-off championship game against Albion. Alma won by a score of 3-1. At the Albion College Field Day in 1908, "Johnny" saved the M. I. A. A. baseball championship for Alma. "Sandy" Duncanson, '10, had been compelled to leave the game because of a broken bone in his pitching hand. Johnson, handicapped by a lame arm that entire season, was called to the box. With the assistance of catcher Roy Campbell, '10 (later Coach at Alma) he completely outwitted the Albion batters to win 4-2.

"Johnny" was a member of Phi Phi Alpha fraternity and varsity debater in 1908. Surviving him are his wife, two daughters, both of Detroit, and a brother, Austin, Alma x-'07.

Three big lusty jeers for those professors who are giving exams just before and after Thanksgiving vacation, t'aint human. Frosh Frolic decorations were the best seen around in quite some time. The band? B. P. (Below Par). Plenty of automobile windows steamed up, and only a few flat tires. Verna lost her bracelet but that can happen most any place. The pro-College girls from downtown tossed a party the other night. How many people ever read this stuff anyway?

Wasn't Jeannie Ham surprised with it all? Orchids to Barton and Phoenix for the swell way they are taking their campus. Not many unusual couples at the dance, except perhaps for Bernecker and Schindehette; Heitman and Thomson; Baker and Hoover; Crannick and Fortino, Hayden and Goodwin—not to mention all the imports. The boys pulled quite a trick on Duck Smith, and did he bite! Barhyte's new steady boy-friend dated Katie Thomson Sunday night.

In order to put a stop to all these false rumors which seem to have a firm hold on the campus, we will endeavor to print the name each week of the biggest gossip and lie-carrier. So, watch it please, for your sake. W. W. says "It's great to be a go-getter, but it's greater to be a go-giver."

THE OTHER SIDE OF THE TRACKS

Wouldn't it be nice if Bill Rupert could be a cousin to all the girls who are campused? . . .

What is it these Charlevoix athletes have . . . anyhow? . . . Is it true, as is common knowledge, that Conrad is a married woman? . . . We wonder. . . . We will miss you Fran and Ed. . . . Congratulations anyhow! . . . What! two whole months and Mavis and Cliff haven't broken up yet? . . . Wonder what it feels like to have an indefinite campus? . . . Guess it pays to be good . . . And then there was the story about the Hope team using the girl's dressing room, for further details ask Watson (only she knows) . . . Who did Gallagher fall for in the Ad Building the other night? . . . Or should we say what did he fall for? . . .

CARTER CHOSEN MOST VALUABLE

Cliff Carter, senior center from Breckenridge, was elected as the most valuable man on the 1939 Scot football team last week by his fellow players.

Although he did not play much during his first two years of varsity competition, because of injuries, Cliff played more this year than any other member of the squad.

His outstanding play and clean sportsmanship have won him the respect of his teammates, as was demonstrated by their vote, which gave him an overwhelming majority.

He also looks like a good prospect for MIAA honors, voting for which will be made by the players this week. The Alma gridders will make their choices soon, Coach Gordon A. Macdonald reports. No player may vote for a member of his own team.

Results of voting for MIAA honors, for the most valuable player in the league will be announced in the next issue of the Almanian, along with plans for the annual football banquet.
