Mrs. Bruske, 91, died as the result of a fall suffered ten days ago. Born in Fredonia, Ohio, Mrs. Bruske, the former Mary Viola Hale, spent her childhood at Hudson, Michigan. The oldest living graduate of Adrian college, she was an accomplished speaker and active church worker, and for 25 years served as president of the Michigan Presbyterian Foreign Missionary Society. Mrs. Bruske was a resident of Alma for 25 years, during which time her husband was president of the college. She is survived by a son, Paul Hal Bruske, Detroit; a son-in-law, James Davidson, Ypsilanti, three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

ALMA TO DEBATE STATE SATURDAY

The intercollegiate debate season for the Alma squad will be opened Saturday morning, October 28, when George DeHority and Woodrow Wooley journey to East Lansing to meet Michigan State College's arguers. The debate will be held as a demonstration for the annual High School Debaters Forum being held there. The Alma squad will have the affirmative side of the current high school topic of governmental ownership of the railroads. Michigan State will uphold the negative. Coach Smith announces that the Varsity squad will begin next week in its preparation for the college debate season, at which time try-outs will be held for the additions to last year's squad.

All Girl Party to Be Event of Oct. 30

The girls of Alma college will hold an "All Girl" Halloween party in the gym, Monday, Oct. 30th. This will be the second party that the girls have sponsored this year. Prizes will be awarded for the best and most original costume.

ALPHA THETA HAYRIDE FRI.

Friday afternoon, October 27, around five o'clock, two hay-wagons will collect all freshman women for the annual Alpha Theta Hayride. The wagonloads of co-eds will proceed to a nearby woods where plenty of food will be in evidence. Following the social hour everyone will return to Bahlke field for the Alma-Adrian football game.

PAJAMA PARADE TOMORROW NITE

Frosh to Present Program at Strand as Part of Fun.

Under the direction of Student Marshall Cliff Carter, the Freshman Pajama parade will be held this Wednesday night through the downtown business section. The event will get underway with a little warmup party at the gymnasium at 7:30 p. m. followed by the parade and a twenty minute program at the Strand theater. From the theater the frosh will return to Davis field where they will burn their pots and the fun will end with a Wright hall serenade. Warren Heitman and Dave Kinney have been appointed to get a program ready, one which will meet with the approval of the upperclassmen.

The frosh were given a pre-view of the fun last Monday night when the upperclassmen held an instruction session at the gym for a few of the yearlings who have forgotten some of the rules.

ADRIAN 'DOGS' HERE FRI. NITE

The Scots will return to their home field next Friday evening when they take on Adrian's griders at 8:15 under the floodlights of Bahlke field.

In spite of the usual feeling that Adrian is the doormat of the MIAA, Coach Gordon A. Macdonald's boys will have to play ball to win against the scrappy Bulldogs which upset Olivet last week.

The Scots should win, being much the stronger team, but they will have to play ball in order to accomplish this purpose.

Starting lineup can only be guessed because of changes used in the Hillsdale game. Those with starting berths Friday night will be those who work during practice sessions this week, says Coach Gordon A. Macdonald.

SAAAA-WING IT!

Wallflowers, find the center of the floor, and "yet's dance, chillun, yet's dance." Miss Gladys Andrews, faculty recreational director has announced that social dancing classes will begin for all students and faculty one week from to-morrow night. Further details will be announced next week.

'They're Hot, They're Hot, They're Very Hot!'—It All Began In Germany

By Jack L. Crittenden
Firmly enthroned in its place is the hot dog, the favorite of young and old! It may be found, in all sizes and under various names, at the football game, the baseball game, at the race track, at the beach, at any picnic grounds . . . in fact nearly everywhere and anywhere one cares to seek it. Yet this source of refreshment, so common to all classes now (the last I heard it was becoming fashionable for British royalty) had its beginning along with everything else. The hot dog was invented in 1895 by Johann Georg Lahner, a butcher of Frankfort, Germany . . . from which comes the name "frankfurters." Yet its popularity did not come about until 1900 when Harry Stevens, who operated concessions in ball parks all over the country, hit upon the idea after spectators re-

W. A. A. PARTY FOR GIRLS ONLY

It's another one of those "Stay away fellows" party. The W. A. A. are sponsoring an all-girl Halloween party to be held in the gym Monday night, October 30. There the old fashioned Halloween party will be reborn. There will be apple bobbing, old fashioned games and plenty of do-nuts. The rooms of Wright hall will get a thorough going over for clever costumes. There will be prizes given for the most original costumes.

HIGH SCHOOLS TO ARGUE SAT.

2nd Annual Alma Invitational Meet Has Many Entries.

Plans are nearing completion for the second annual Alma college all-high school debate tourney to be held here next Saturday. Carney Smith and Harold Draper are arranging the day's program which will begin with the first round at 10:00 a. m.

The topic for debate will be the current high school topic, governmental ownership of railroads. Members of the college varsity debate team will act as judges, while Alma's football queen, Alice Peterson and her court will act as honorary chairmen and timekeepers. Debates will be continuous from 10:00 a. m. until about 4:00 p. m. with contests being carried on in Wright hall's Recreation room and Administration building.

Last year 180 contestants took part with prospects for many more for this year. Entries have been received from numerous class A schools in the state, as well as smaller schools.

Dinner will be served in the Recreation room at noon, and in the afternoon, Prof. Lyder Unstad will speak on the future of the railroads.

Col. and Mrs. Knox to Visit Alma This Weekend

Col. and Mrs. Frank Knox of Chicago will be the week-end guests of President and Mrs. John W. Dunning. Col. Knox and Dr. Dunning will speak this Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Sales in Detroit before a group of prominent Detroiters in connection with the College finance drive. Col. Knox is general chairman of the campaign and will leave with his wife Sunday for Chicago.

used to buy pop and ice cream because of the cold. He bought "German sausages—the dachshund-looking sort" and sold them under the name of "red-hots." In the midst of selling this new creation, he called them "red-hot dachshunds," which name was picked up by a well-known columnist of the time who immediately caricatured them under the title of "hot dogs."

Now they are recognized by that name all over this country, and even noted by the New York Supreme Court which referred to "those plebeian, but popular, elongated commodities, technically denominated frankfurters, but, in resort idiom, characterized hot dogs."

At the New York World's Fair, where it is estimated that 60,000 hot dogs are eaten daily, the mystery of this gastronomic delicacy's makeup is explained. (Continued on page 2.)

PLANS SET FOR 1940 SCOTSMAN

Jack Crittenden Will Edit Annual Yearbook. Staff Far From Complete.

Plans for the 1940 edition of the Scotsman, to come out sometime next spring, are already underway with the hope that earlier preparation will give the student body a better book.

Heading arrangements for the book are Jack L. Crittenden, editor; William Ellis, business manager; and Dr. William Seaman, faculty advisor.

All of the staff members have not as yet been chosen, with additional members to be selected as need arises. Those named already are: George H. DeHority, one of the assistant editors; Webster (Ace) Cutler, sports editor; Betty Raymond and Jack King, art work. Also assisting in the latter field will be Miss Katherine Ardis, head of the art department.

It is hoped to improve the book with more pictures depicting actual student life, with shorter writeups, and with better representation of the school's activities. According to present plans there will be more individual pictures and small group action shots, in an effort to eliminate the large, lifeless pictures of the past.

Camera fans will also have their chance as it is planned to have several pages of "snaps." With this in mind, students are asked to save any interesting snapshots until a general request is made for them.

CONCERT TICKET SALE WILL CLOSE NOV. 1st

This week is the last during which tickets for the Saginaw Community Concert Course may be purchased at the business office as the time limit is November 1.

There are 75 tickets available, enough for all who wish to attend and the prices are $2.50 for students and $5.00 for faculty. No single admissions to any of the concerts will be sold.

Bus transportation, including the Nelson Eddy concert in Flint, is $2.50.

Y. W. INITIATE THURSDAY NITE

The Y. W. C. A. initiation for freshman women will take place Thursday night, October 26 in Wright hall. All prospective members will wear white for the affair which will be strictly formal. Those in charge of the event are Anita Byron, Mrs. Francis Seaville, Verna Barnecker, Sally Hinckley, and Betty Thomas.

LOCAL DRIVE TO END THIS WEEK

San Francisco Firm Heads Solicitation. Wm. McFadden Local Chmn.

The Gratiot County Campaign for the Alma college finance drive, will be completed within a week. County Chairman William McFadden has forty workers canvassing about 400 prospects. Heads of teams are Dr. C. F. DuBois, Harry Glezen, and Mrs. Sadie Soule.

A total of $8,341 in the county has been subscribed, with numerous reports not in as yet. It is hoped that $500,000 can be pledged in the State. This would make possible the realization of the goal for an increase in the Alma college student body to 600.

Student pledges are being turned into the presidents and treasurers of the respective classes. It is hoped that all pledge cards will be handed in as soon as possible.

The drive is being headed by William Gillanders, representative of the Pierce-Hedreck Company of San Francisco, a national organization set up to aid in local efforts of solicitation. The concern is the first of its kind to be organized in the United States.

200 AT DELT HOUSEWARMING

The members of Delta Gamma Tau fraternity opened the doors of their new home at 603 West Center street last Friday evening to over two hundred students and faculty of the college for the formal housewarming. An evening full of inspection of the newly acquired house, dancing, ping-pong, bridge, and refreshments was had by those attending.

During the course of the evening a short program featured the singing of the fraternity song by Deane Fink and a short talk by President Barney Reopcke. The general chairman of the evening's program was Kenneth Peterson.

The guests were greeted by a reception line made up of Barney Reopcke, Jeanette English, Clarence Hoogerland, Virginia Maze, Clifford Leestma, Eileen Sullivan, Professor Charles Brokenshire, Miss Ardis, Mr. and Mrs. Carney Smith, and Professor Paul L. Rice.

SOUNDS SMOOTH

The Frosh Frolic is well underway this week, with an outstanding Detroit band contracted, decorations decided upon, and an order of the most fitting and clever program cards yet to be given out at a dance. The whole idea will fit around the freshmen class colors, built around the green bows and pots. It has been decided that the party will be semi-formal, due to the protests from the masculine sections. So look forward to the outstanding party of the year, on November 18, to the tune of one of the smoothest dance bands in Michigan.

Alma Invades Hillsdale by Autos and Bus 150 Strong

Nearly 150 students and faculty members of Alma College were present at Hillsdale Saturday to watch the Scots and 'Dales play it out. This delegation, the largest ever to see an out of town game, came into Hillsdale twenty cars and a bus strong. Each car was decorated with some kind of an Alma banner, and the caravan paraded through the downtown district with horns blaring and flags waving. The Kiltie band furnished music at half-time and was given a great ovation by the Hillsdale student body and alumni. Filling to capacity the seats set up for them on the Alma side of the field, the group cheered lustily as the Scots fought to beat Hillsdale. In fact, an observer from Hillsdale said that the Alma entourage made more noise than the entire Hillsdale "home-coming" crowd.

The trip, sponsored by the student council, was acclaimed a huge success by all those who attended, and credit should be given to Ralph Brown and his group of co-workers who put the idea across. Miss Gladys Andrews, faculty advisor to the group, should be thanked for the great amount of time and work she put on the project, and Vic Manzulla, the chef, should receive plaudits for the fine lunch that the group enjoyed.

There, in the exhibit of a well-known meat packing company, is shown the various processes whereby a hot dog is derived from a cow and a pig.

Meats, several blended spices, formation into meat tubes, linking by hand, chemical action, several degrees of smoking, cooking, warm and cold showers, and drying . . . all of these processes go into the makeup of the hot dog.

And after surviving all of this punishment, a harmless German sausage emerges to help Americans "put on the dog."

SCOTS BOW TO 'DALES 6-0 SAT.

Breaks Go to Hillsdale in Their Homecoming Game.
Smith Is Scots' Best.

By Jack L. Crittenden

Displaying excellent defensive strength, but hindered by several bad offensive breaks, the Scots of Alma college bowed to Hillsdale, 6-0, last Saturday afternoon before the Dales' homecoming crowd.

Coach Gordon A. Macdonald's men showed power, playing the game nearly on a par with the Dales and stopping two other Hillsdale scoring threats, but bad breaks worked with the winners.

Coburn, Dale back, was probably the most outstanding player on the field, with his passing, kicking, and ball-toting taking over the spotlight of the game. In Nordling and Larson, ends who have played together for three years, Hillsdale had two excellent pass receivers who did much to further the winner's cause.

The first break came in the first period when Kirby's fumble was recovered by Coburn on the Hillsdale 44-yard line. Coburn picked up 17 around right end. After two vain thrusts at the Scot line, the Dales took to the air. A 26-yard pass against the wind, Coburn to Nordling, and another heave, Coburn to Larson, over the line gave the Dales a touchdown. Piatt's attempt for the conversion failed.

Later in the same period Coburn handed the ball to Karwoski who twisted and dodged the length of the field to cross the line. Officials, however, ruled that he stepped out on his own 30, and Hillsdale was forced to kick.

The Dales' next chance came when a blocked Alma kick rolled out of bounds on the Scot half-foot

SPORT SHORTS

by CRIT

Partly because of its seasonal advantage, football has become a more typical college sport than baseball. Yet many accept it as just a common thing, a part of the regular order, without giving much thought as to what it really offers, as to its merits from the standpoint of players and spectators, alike.

Therefore I would like to attempt in this short space to point out something of the game's advantages.

Theodore Roosevelt once made a statement which sums up football's offering to its players. He said: "Football is a great moral force capable of preparing its devotees to become aggressive and intelligent civic leaders." In fact he was so strongly convinced of the game's good points that he wrote several articles and gave several speeches about the sport . . . all of which did much to convince Americans of the game's merits.

The discipline of the gridiron trains men's faculties for future usefulness in the more serious activities of life. It teaches them the value of cooperation and good sportsmanship. It teaches them how to take hard knocks! It trains both minds and bodies to alert action.

In short . . . it offers good preparation for the youth who will ultimately take his place in the highly competitive system of the modern industrial age.

It gives thousands of spectators at least a superficial connection with college life as they sit in the stands on Friday evenings or Saturday afternoons. Why do these people brave all sorts of weather to see 22 men and three officials battle for possession of a small oval ball? Because it arouses such fierce feelings in them that they become raving maniacs, waving and yelling and cavorting.

Yet their actions, however insane they may appear, may be only natural once their cause is determined. Just why are these fierce emotions aroused in the breasts of spectators and players alike? Is it not probable that the game's actions perhaps unconsciously remind them of the more serious activities of their primitive ancestors in their struggle for existence?

In fact, various phases of the game actually seem to be modern, smoothed-out imitations of the primitive man's daily actions. Struggles of hostile forces are represented by the collision of the lines. Flight, pursuit, and capture . . . all of which were ordinary occurrences with our primitive ancestors . . . are all imitated by running, dodging, and tackling.

Thus we see that football as a typical college sport is only natural because of its seasonal advantage, because of its many advantages and merits, because of its apparent throwback to our early ancestors. 'Nuff said!

line. With first down and six inches to go, the Scots stiffened to hold the Dales and take the ball on downs. An incomplete pass on the fourth down gave the Scots the ball on their own 20.

Alma hopes rose again on the kick-off opening the second half. Smith took the ball on his own 15-yard line and made a scintillating return of 60 yards to the Hillsdale 25. Kirby and Smith picked up two each and Hill added one. On the fourth down an attempted pass, Kirby to Carey, over the line was incomplete and the Scots' threat ended.

In the fourth period Hillsdale threatened again. Taking the ball on Alma's 48, Coburn picked up six on two attempts and then threw two passes to Nordling for 19 more. Runs by Karwoski, Piatt, and Coburn advanced the ball to Alma's one-yard line. Again the Scots showed great defensive strength and held the Dales, taking the ball on their own 20 after a Hillsdale pass over the line was knocked down.

Here the Scots started a drive, mostly via the air lanes. Hill picked up two, a pass from Smith to Hill netted 17, Smith shovel-passed to Carr for three, then threw one to Arnold for 11 more. Arnold picked up two through the line, followed by an incomplete pass, Smith to Carey. On the next play Smith was rushed by the Dale line and his attempted long pass to Hill was intercepted by Eklund on the Hillsdale 30. Again a bad break had ruined the Scot chances. Hillsdale retained the ball throughout the remaining few seconds, employing only line plays.

Throughout the game a strong wind prevailed, greatly aiding the kicking of Coburn and Kirby. The former, however, had the edge.

SCOTTIES WHIP CENTRAL 16-6

Tait and Lyzski Score Touchdowns for Alma. Frosh Look Good.

By Marvin Koffman

Coach Art Smith's Alma college Scotties defeated the C. S. T. C. Bearkittens for the second time this year, last Friday nite, trouncing the Central State boys by a 16-6 score. The Alma team showed all the spark and pep that anyone could ask for, as they scored once in the first quarter and then again in the second. They also garnered a safety in the second period. The Central State team gained their lone marker in the third period.

In the first quarter Bill Pink lateraled the ball to Jack Tait on the Bearkittens forty yard marker, and Tait carried it to the four yard stripe. On the next play Tait carried the ball over the goal line, and then Neil Lyzski converted the extra point. In the next period Tait threw a forty-five yard pass to Lyzski who received it on the Central State fifteen yard line and ran for a touchdown. Lyzski then converted his second extra point of the evening. In that same period Steve Toth blocked a Central kick, and the ball rolled over the goal line where a Central State man fell on it giving Alma an extra two points.

The Bearkittens gained their six points in the 3rd quarter as Paskiewicz carried the ball over from the Alma 10 yard stripe.

This year's college and university enrollment in the U. S. is expected to total approximately 1,400,000.

'WE WUZ ROBBED'

It was a good idea but the winner was gyped, Pioneer hall's ping-pong tournament was won last week by Donald Allured, the Cass City Cougar, who beat back the threat of Saginaw's Bob Schindehette in four straight games in the final round of the freshman event.

Fifty-two entry fees were paid to someone when it was announced the winner of the meet would get a kiss from ten of Wright hall's most beautiful women. Either the yearlings were scared out or the judges couldn't select ten pretty girls, because the plans called for the finals to be played at the girls' domicile, with the ten girls present to award the winner.

Of course the girls might have had something to say about it.

TENNIS TOURNEY IN QUARTER FINALS

Both men's and women's brackets of the tennis tournament are speeding to conclusions. The quarter finals for both groups must be played by Wednesday night, or the entrant will lose by forfeit. The schedules for play are posted on the administration building bulletin board. All contestants are asked to look there for the time to play their matches.

SOCIAL PROGRAM

The students of Alma College were offered the opportunity last week to attend the Alma-Hillsdale game. Under the auspices of Miss Gladys Andrews and the student council, we were offered cheap transportation rates and lots of fun, if one hundred students accepted this opportunity.

The splendid work of the entire student council was augmented by the fine co-operation of the entire faculty, which decided to suspend school Saturday if a hundred or more students went to the game.

Up until Friday noon only 85 had accepted the offer and fifteen more were needed to fulfill the contract.

The author believes that we could have, and should have done better than this. There were at least 200 students on the campus who could have gone to the game if they had wanted to.

Dr. Dunning announced that he would loan the funds for the trip to any student who needed this aid. He is certainly to be commended for his offer. This is just another proof of the backing that the social program is receiving from the faculty.

The fault, if the program fails, lies directly with the student body. "THIS," the Almanian repeats, "IS YOUR PROGRAM. YOU MUST PUT IT ACROSS. IT IS UP TO YOU TO SUPPORT IT, AND TO LEND YOUR AID WHENEVER NECESSARY."

Let's all get behind the social program, and we will find our college life a lot more enjoyable.

MIAA Handbook Full of Statistics, Best For Alma 106-0, Worst 93-0

Carrying complete statistics of all athletic contests of each school in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association, the MIAA handbook edited by Thomas Oliver, Hillsdale, made it appearance last week. Alma's football history is well recorded with the scores, teams, records, etc. listed.

Alma began its football wars in 1894 with but two games. Both were played with Saginaw Arthur Hill with Alma winning both, 6-0, and 8-0. In 1895 Alma played Kalamazoo, the first college team met by the Scots, with Kazoo winning 12-8. The worst defeat handed to another team by Alma was in 1912 when Central State Teachers College were driven way down in the mud, 106-0. Michigan State College handed the Scots their worst defeat, 93-0 in 1932.

From This End of Town

Hillsdale trip over with not a lot to write about. Course it's pretty late and sleep sounds good. Liked the way Sally Hinckley left her date Saturday night: "Glad I met you, well I didn't meet you but that's o. k." Barnett steps out with the Wilson gal from Ithaca, and Heinie Adams split Friday and Saturday night with Jean Ball and Dunk. Incidentally Jean did finally show up with a yellow hair ribbon. "Faith, Hope, and Charity," that's the Old Maid's platform. Anyway that's what two of them did in Detroit this week-end until they found out they really did have dates.

The Clizbe Colts have been pretty quiet, of late. Between hunting season and football practice, Ed Arnold has a pretty tough schedule, Satch Sherman is through with women again. He ain't saying why, though. Delta Gamma Tau put on a swell open house. Eats 'n all. Why don't they put that light out in back of the biology lab. Waste of money.

Really like that muff Miss Carrier carries around. She seems to take the scenic route each time. Sally Curry left for Flint in a hurry Friday for the week end. Like to know how she made out leaving True here alone. McQuaig spent a quiet weekend. Crandall and Wynkoop unquieted Traverse City, right down the main sidewalk. Hear Lois is at Ferris Institute. And here I am taking a liberal arts course. Art lost track of Jane last week for three hours, son-of-a-gun, got to keep track of 'em myself. Don Carpenter broke out with a couple of dates over the week end. Dorothy Drake. Back to the books, he sez.

Jolt of the Week—Riggs, Schuster, Krall, and Ramsey at Christian Endeavor meeting. Instead of going on relief Margaret Duncanson and Kay Thompson are going to go to work for the Alma Record. Old Maids, take a look into this. Hey Hietman, what's the big idea cutting Bud Yoh out on that Lowry deal. The latest student in Ruth Phoenix' school of glamour is Shirley Barton. What more does she need? By the way, Mary Jane, is this Sammy Smith stuff getting serious. Ask Mavis how the "Doodlebug" rides—Not much room left for Cliff, nor leaning power to turn corners.

What attraction did Detroit hold over the Hillsdale game for Lois Goldie over the week end. Look into this, Lou. An open letter to Jean Merrill: Danger! Look Out! Watch Your Step! You're playing with fire. Isn't it about time you're asking Hannah for a date, Warren? Becker don't care. This End of Town was pretty dead, this week, maybe something will happen next week. Until then we'll keep our eyes open.

Biographies of Interesting People

Vol. 1 No. 1

There are a lot of Saginawians here in Alma, and so naturally this week's guest comes from there. Joe went to Arthur Hill High school in Saginaw. His parents thought he would end up the valedictorian of his class. They thought he would. Well Joe graduated, or he got out of school, and hopped the rods for Alma on the Pine. This year Joe's a junior—member of the tennis team—very well liked by all—and has stayed out of campus politics by not joining a fraternity.

He has trouble with his stomach and eats up town, so that is probably the reason many of the freshman haven't met him yet. But take our word for it, he's o. k.
