Semester Finals Start January 22

"At a faculty meeting, held on Tuesday, January 5, 1943, the faculty of Alma college decided to schedule the final tests at the end of the semester and empowered the Registrar to post such a schedule as soon as possible. Students have complained that in the past, as many as four or five tests have been crowded into a single day. By this new system, far more than three review tests are possible in one day and we hope that no student may have more than two tests in a twenty-four hour period. There will be no chapel services during the final test week."

INTRAMURAL

Last week the intramural basketball league opened its current season as the Pioneer cagers downed an aggressive Zeta team by the score of 30-24. High scorer of the game was Dick Carr who netted himself six buckets for 12 points. Zeta's honors were carried off by Jack Tait, who made four baskets and a foul shot. The biggest thrill of the game came when Fred Phillippi was taken out and Pioneer had to play with four men until another could be gotten out of the showers and into a uniform. It looks as though Pioneer may prove itself threat as "Coach" Katz and Captain Corbin promise to get them in shape for their next tilt.

In the preliminary game Wednesday a hard playing Phi team topped a capable Delta crew by the score of 34-28. Jack Hensel took top honors by scoring 10 points for the Phis, but he was hard pressed by Butler, a Delta, who netted six. At the beginning of the fourth quarter Butler took a tip-off and started a solo for the wrong basket but was fouled by hearty yell from Butler and Duvendack.

From the showing of the teams to date it is still anybody's title and there should be a lot of good ball displayed before the season ends.

The following is a schedule of both "A" and "B" teams for the season.

"I'm a Michigander now," declared Miss Charlotte Klein, college librarian. "But," she confessed, "I still haven't decided whether I adopted Michigan or Michigan adopted me."

Miss Klein, who will have been at Alma college three years in February, came as an assistant librarian. In September, 1941, she became head librarian.

A native of Syracuse, New York, she attended the University of Syracuse, where she majored in history, English, and education. After being graduated, she attended library school there. Last summer she attended summer school at the University of Michigan to work on an advanced degree.

She claims tennis, badminton, hiking, and skating as her favorite sports, and enjoys traveling (she does a lot of it between Syracuse and Michigan), the radio, and reading.

When questioned about her cooking ability, Miss Klein admitted that the other women at Bruske house think she is the least domestic of them all. Accordingly, when all the others were hanging curtains the other day, she sat and read to them—she thought she would be more help that way.

HANNA MENTIONED ON LITTLE ALL-AMERICAN

Alma College's undefeated football team got mention on the mythical little All-American again this year.

Murray Hanna, sophomore end from East Lansing, was given honorable mention and was All-American representative. This is Hanna's first year on the varsity but he showed outstanding football and improved as the season progressed. He has ability both as an excellent pass catcher and also as a strong defensive man on the line. If given a chance to continue in his football career, he will be one of the school's outstanding players.

Mice Make Mass Invasion . . .

"The best laid schemes of mice and men—" That boy-Burns certainly knew his stuff when he referred to the schemes of mice. And if you don't believe mice are scheming little creatures, consider then this excerpt from the diary of an experienced mousehunter (i.e.—a resident of Wright Hall).

Dear Diary:
After that supper dance last night I was just too tired to write, so now I shall try to tell you everything this morning. That is, if I can see through the sleepless bags under my eyes to write. Then, too, the dance seems rather hazy in view of the hectic night my roommate and I have just spent chasing most of the mice in Wright hall around our room.

Apparently by previous agreement, the socially inclined mice had decided to banquet on the crackers and cheese balanced on the top of a desk lamp as the only safe place in our room. So on the stroke of one, en masse, they invaded! Once! Twice! Three times they advanced! . . . And three times we drove them back! . . .

"The Valiant" To Be Presented

The Drama Club will present "The Valiant" on Friday, January 15. The performance will be held in the Dunning chapel recreation room.

The plot concerns a prisoner condemned to die at midnight. The prisoner's real identity is unknown. During the last half hour of his life, he has a visitor—a girl who thinks he may be the brother she hasn't seen for years.

The play, directed by Professor Wesley Rowland, has as its characters Warden Holt, Harry Morley; Father Daly, Jerome Silver; James Dyke, Jim Hugg; Josephine Paris, Ginie Feighner; Dan, Bill McKinley; and attendant, Bob Baker. Shirley Wenger is assistant director, and Donna Jeane Francis is in charge of properties.

Donna Peterson, in charge of the ticket sale, announced that tickets may be bought in the air building or from any drama club member.

Scots Take Second League Tilt

ALMA BEATS ALBION TO TAKE M.I.A.A. LEAD

Alma kept the M.I.A.A. lead by conquering a much improved team of basketeers from Albion last Friday night, 55-41.

In the first few minutes the game looked like a repetition of the Central Michigan game with the score changing hands six times in the first five minutes. Albion was utilizing a well-developed fast break in keeping Alma off balance. It seemed that there was always an Albion man open and the Britons didn't miss a bet in scoring chances. The Albion team never gave Alma a chance to set up a defense and Isaacs, Briton guard, was making long shots with unerring accuracy. The Albion basketeers seemed to tire, however, and Alma hit her stride with Emling playing his best ball of the year, giving the Britons a headache with his solo dashes down the floor. Alma led at the half, 26-17.

In the second half Alma hit its real stride and as the game continued went into a twenty point lead 51-31. Dud continued his scoring spree and Jake got his eye back to keep Alma well in front. With five minutes to play the Alma reserves took over and held the lead well and at the end of the game the Scots emerged victorious, 55-41.

Elkin Isaacs of Albion was high scorer with 19 points while close behind was Jake Howe with 17. Emling garnered 15 for the Scots.

Alma vs. Bay City

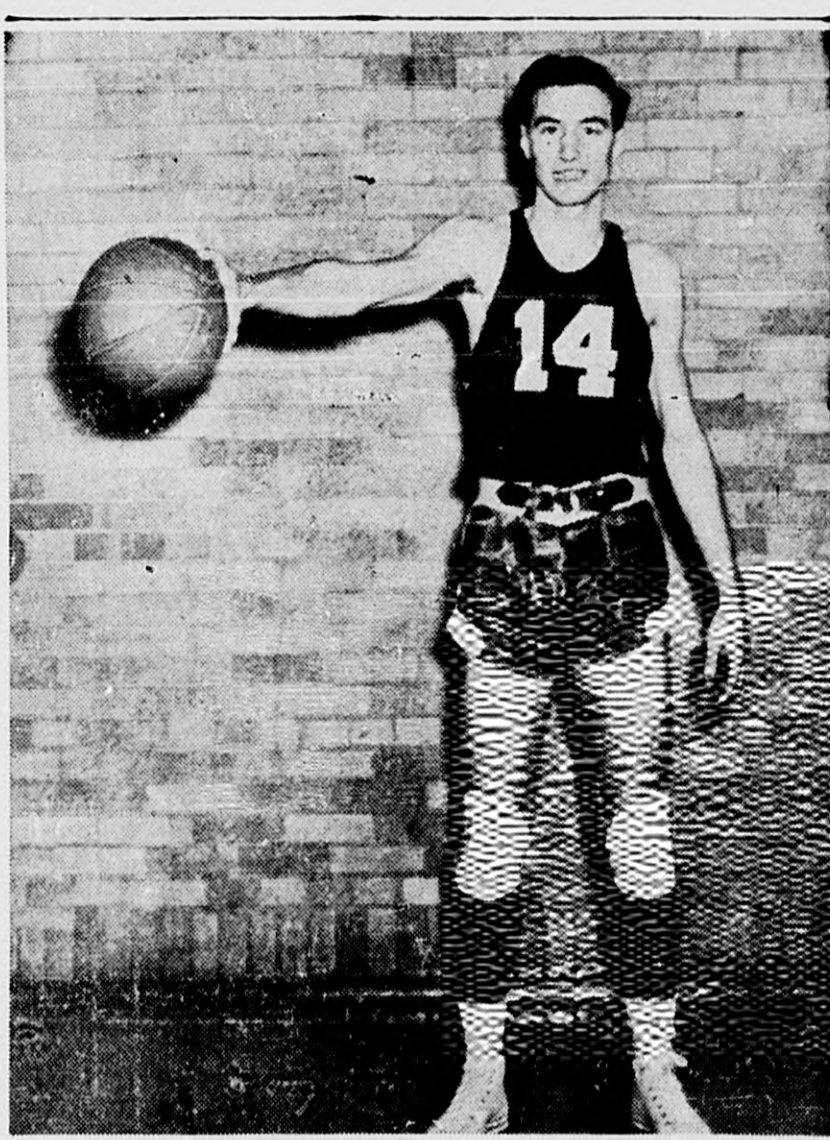

Two days before the college closed its doors for the Xmas vacation the Alma basketeers won their third straight victory by downing a weak but scrappy Bay City J. C. five, 75-28.

J. C. started the evening off with a basket by Simon their 6 foot 5 center. Soon after this however the Howe brothers took over and after the first 5 minutes of play the issue was never in doubt. Wares was doing great work under the baskets while Emling and Fortino kept the Bay City offense bottled up. The half ended with Alma leading 37-13.

In the second half the game turned into another of those scoring duels between Jake and Hoppy. With the reserves entering the game after ten minutes of the half had passed, the game became more interesting, but even the Alma second team proved far superior to the now demoralized J. C. outfit. French and Katz looked particularly impressive while Hanna played some good defensive ball. "Moose" Walters stole the ball and dribbled in for a basket as a fitting climax as the game ended at 75-28 in the Scot's favor. Hoppy Howe took top scoring honors with 22 while Jake was close behind with 19. Willoughby was high for the visitors with eight points.

CENTRAL BEATS ALMA IN FAST CAGE GAME

The Alma Scots partisans received a set back last Wednesday night when the Chippewas from Central Michigan, an inexperienced but scrappy and wide awake ball club, came to Alma and walked off with the scalps of the Alma basketeers.

At the outset it was a slow moving game and it was apparent that the Scots had not benefited from their three week layoff. There was scoring in the first three minutes of play and when the scoring came it was Central who started it. The "Chips" dominated the play throughout the game except for a short period in the second half. The Alma men were unable to get in under the basket and when they did it was only to lose the ball to Scholl or Wardrop, Central's most aggressive players. Jake and Hoppy were missing the basket with disturbing persistence and the passing left much to be wished for.

Alma came to life in the closing minutes of the first half and at half time led for the first time during the game, 19-17.

Hanna, who had replaced Wares at center, continued at that position in second half and turned in the best defensive play of the evening. Jack and Hoppy hit a warm streak and with the help of Emling who broke up the Chippewas passes, Alma took a commanding lead of 27-21. Fortino started to work better under the basket and except for some nice team work

SCOTS PLAY NORMAL HERE TONIGHT AT 8:00

Tonight's home game finds Michigan Normal here in a contest expected to be extremely tough for the locals. Last year the Scots defeated the Hurons on two occasions but when the third meeting came as one of the games in a double bill at Olympia in Detroit, the Scots fell by a 51-41 count. It will be revenge for this humiliation that the Scots will seek next Tuesday night when The Michigan Normal quintet is entertained for the sixth successive home engagement for Alma since the start of the season. The team then takes to the road with Hope and Calvin being encountered in the week following.

Baton Rouge, La. (ACP) The student at Louisiana State university can live cheaper than he could at home, according to President C. M. Hodges.

He pointed to the bureau of labor statistics that said living costs had increased 16 per cent in three years, and asserted the rise at the university had been only eight-tenths of one per cent.

Upon the success of the 1942 Christmas seal sale depends the strength of America's fight against a war-time increase in tuberculosis which has already struck England and Canada.

The Navy Goes to College

V-1 Program Closes March 15

College students who have not reached their 18th birthday will be eligible for the Navy's V-1 program until March 15, 1942, when the program will be closed, Lieut. Cmdr. D. P. Welles, officer-in-charge of the Office of Naval Officer Procurement, Detroit, announced today.

Now You Know

As a point of Navy information: 16 inch guns—real striking power of a battleship—weigh 130 tons and are 60 feet long. They cost approximately $150,000 each. After firing 125 times, they must be relined at a cost of $25,000 each. Approximate cost of firing one of these guns is $1200.

A destroyer lengthens itself from six to eight inches when it increases its speed to 30 knots. This is due to the pressure of the water against the sides of the ship.

A present day capital ship has more firing power than Dewey's entire fleet at Manila.

Submarines never cross the equator on the surface. In keeping with an old Naval custom, they always dive under it.

No belt is worn with a sailor's uniform because in sailing days when it was necessary to go aloft to furl or unfurl sail loops, any clothing article that would catch in any way on marline spikes and pin rails was dangerous. Cured leather of those days was unable to withstand continued moisture and dampness of sea air, and soon deteriorated.

Navy Clubs

(Eds. note—at the present time there are more than 15 Navy clubs for men already enlisted in the Naval Reserve, established at colleges and universities in Michigan and Ohio.)

In the weekly mailbag for Navy clubs is a complete set of questions based on the Bluejackets' Manual, the sailors' bible. Future Naval officers must learn to distinguish between lanyards, lifelines, and sea painters. By going through the manual, these prospective officers will have the jump on other men awaiting call to duty through the V-1, V-7, or V-5 programs.

In addition to questions, General Rules for Conduct and Salutes will be mailed. Who and when do you salute? Should an officer take a lady's arm? How does an officer board a ship? These are some of the obvious questions which are answered.

Does Alma College want a Chapter?

University of Detroit Enlists Second Squadron

Leading the way for Michigan college aviation squadrons is the University of Detroit, which is preparing to send its second Naval Aviation squadron to the wars. The second group was formed by U. of D. students to avenge the USS Lexington.

The first U of D squadron, known as the "Fightin' Titans" went into active duty in August. Members have already completed pre-flight training at Iowa City and are now stationed at Glenview, Ill., where they are beginning their flight training.

Binoculars are Still Needed

The Navy department informed the Branch Public Relations office, 130 West Larned street, Detroit, that the only way enemy planes and subs can be spotted is through the use of binoculars lent by the public. Manufacturers of glasses cannot meet the demand. ZEISS or BAUSCH & LOMB—6x30, 7x35, 7x50, 8x40, 8x56 are needed.

Navy Chuckles

Here's one on the censor—A Cleveland woman had a son in the Marine corps. She had no idea where he was stationed until she received a letter from him. After that, she knew exactly where he was. The Marine wrote her: "I went to the delicatessen, Ma, but I didn't go to Brady's and I didn't go to Bercowicz'." How did the woman know where her son was? There are three delicatessen stores in her neighborhood. Brady's—Bercowicz'—and Solomons'."

Competition for Mr. Kaiser

The first craft built entirely by a federal prisoners was launched at the yards of McNeil Island penitentiary, on Puget Sound, near Tacoma, Wash., recently. The Q-86, a motor patrol boat is 65 feet long, Diesel powered, of a type regularly used on the West Coast. And that's not all, Shipbuilder Kaiser, reports have it that the prisoners are getting ready to launch two more.

Two-color shoes are out for the duration. WPB has banned the production of fancy footwear to save leather. At the same time it has reduced the variety of styles and cut the number of colors to six: black, white, turftan, Army russet, Town brown and blue. Athletes' shoes, incidentally, will be made as usual.

Restrictions on use of taxicabs in New York City will save 107 million taxi miles annually, 15,000 new tires, the same number of recaps and 10 million gallons of gasoline.

New Zealand's population about equals that of Detroit, half of the males between the ages of 16 and 60 are in the fighting forces, which total 250,000 men.

QUOTABLE QUOTES

NEW HAVEN, CONN.—(ACP)—America's college students "are living on borrowed time." "There is no commitment that any man may complete his college education." So spoke Harvey H. Bundy, assistant to the secretary of war, in an address to Yale freshmen.

Willingness of the government to permit young men to enter college rather than go into the fighting front was described by Bundy as a "loan" and an "experiment."

"If the loan to the colleges becomes a method by which men who ought to be in the thick of the battle avoid the hazards of war; if the colleges retain any of the aspects of the country club which have been painfully evident in the past; if the men who can afford to go to college are considered as a separate class exempted overlong from fighting, the experiment will be a dismal failure and will not long continue," Bundy said.

What the government expects of the colleges is an increasing number of professional men fitted for "greater future service to their country," Bundy declared.

Dartmouth College now goes meatless one day a week.
