Fall Formal November 9th

The first and only school semi-formal dance this fall will be sponsored by Jack Tobin's orchestra, Nov. 8, in the gymnasium.

Tickets for the event will go on sale Nov. 1, and may be purchased after that date from any member of the orchestra. Dancing will be from 9 to 12 and the members urge the fellows to "line up your girl now, in order to give her a chance to get her formal out of the mothballs."

The orchestra was started this fall by a group of college students under the leadership of Jack Tobin, who has spent considerable time with dance orchestras. The outfit has been called the best orchestra available in the Central Michigan area.

YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

The Alma College Youth Fellowship has elected the following officers: Robert Nixon, president; Bette Adams, vice-president; Virginia Bryan, secretary; and Katherine Rowley, treasurer.

Recently the Fellowship held an evening meeting around a large bonfire at Davis Field. A song service was enjoyed, after which Bette Adams presented the evening topic, "The Light of the World."

A full schedule has been planned for this semester, and an invitation is extended to the student body to attend the meetings at 7 each Sunday evening for worship singing, and recreation.

FROSH GIRLS PRESENT PROGRAM

The student chapel last week was presented by the girls of the Freshman class. Joane Burkholder acted as mistress of ceremonies, announcing the following program; song, "Typical American Girl;" impersonational reading, "In a Hospital Waiting Room," which was given by Peggy McNaughton; a song about Hazing to the tune of "Murder He Says;" song, "Nobody Makes a Pass at Me"; a tonette duette, "Country Gardens and a chorus line routine dance number closed the program. Rev. Charles W. Sidebotham Dies

Funeral services for the Rev. Charles Wesley Sidebotham, '01, who died Sunday, Oct. 20, were held in the East Jordan Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon. President Roy W. Hamilton conducted the service and was accompanied to East Jordan by Dean James Mitchell.

The Rev. Sidebotham spent eight years in Alma College, being graduated from the Preparatory Department in 1897 and receiving his A.B. degree from the College in 1901. In 1904 he was graduated from Princeton Theological Seminary.

He had spent 42 years in the ministry, and his early pastorates were at Hartington, Nebr., Brooklyn, Mich., and Milwaukee, Wis. Since December, 1921, he had been pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, East Jordan.

His first wife, the former Essy Hooper, '03, died in 1926. He is survived by his wife, the former Isabel Henderson, a former student of Alma College, and two daughters, Mrs. Robert Winkle and Mrs. Philip White '29.

VETS CLUB IN MEETING

The Alma College Veterans club met at 11:30 this morning in the old chapel. The meeting was presided over by President Wally Moore, who announced the membership drive will be concluded Friday.

The Vets Club, formed a year ago, is a social organization of veterans on campus. Dues, and an initiation fee are charged, the money going into a fund to provide for recreational activities for the club.

As soon as the membership drive is completed, a meeting will be called, and new officers will be elected.

Any veteran who has not yet signed up and paid his dues, is asked to do so on or before Friday, to Bob Lieberman, treasurer, who lives at the Zeta Sigma house.

Chapel periods are short when all time is used. Be punctual in attendance.

"The Late Christopher Bean" Dramatic Club Production

Dec. 11 may seem a long way off to most Alma students but to the Drama club members, it is the date for which to plan. That is when the club will present its first dramatic production of the season, "The Late Christopher Bean."

The play books have been ordered and copies are on the reserve shelf at the library for those who wish to study the drama. Try-outs will be held at 4:15 this afternoon in Room 15 for the five male and four female parts. Everyone interested in dramatics is urged to attend the meeting.

Speech Department Gives Program

Under the direction of Professor Westley Rowland, three speech students presented at the chapel program last Wednesday a humorous monologue. The selections originally had been given in the acting class under the supervision of Alvin Eldersveld, instructor.

Bette Adams portrayed a little girl whose main ambition was to become a short story writer and whose source of material was to be her brother Robbie. "Cause there is no one sillier than Robbie when he's in love with a new girl."

Bill Hawkins gave an exaggerated monologue entitled, "The Big Game," depicting a famous radio announcer describing a football game and dividing his attention between the action on the playing field and the blonds in the stands.

Peggy Powers acted out the part of the mother of Jennie Mae, a participant in a high school declamation contest. Worry, mother pride, love of gossip and finally indignation were the emotions experienced by this mother as she watched her child perform.

Other speech department activities are being planned for future chapel programs. Professor Rowland hopes to hold a practice debate with the University of Michigan, and perhaps have another interpretative reading contest as was given last year.

PHI HAYRIDE A SUCCESS

Phi Phi Alpha fraternity enjoyed their first social undertaking of the school year with an old fashioned hayride on Friday evening October 25th. The couples donned their L'il Abner clothes and tuned up their vocal chords for the moonlight festive occasion. Two hay wagons were necessary to accommodate the large turnout. Ed Bathum and Chuck Watson injected spirit into the party with hay fights.

Refreshments and dancing at the Phi House was the second order of the evening. Serving as chaperones were Dr. and Mrs. Paul Rice and Mr. Ralph Fisher.

Pres. Hamilton In Two Speeches

President Roy W. Hamilton recently has completed two speaking engagements, with one more scheduled for the near future.

Oct. 17, he spoke at a church night dinner at the First Presbyterian Church, Grand Rapids. His topic was "Christian Education." At a meeting of the Women's Study club of Midland, Oct. 21, he spoke on "Education Plus."

Dr. Hamilton plans to attend the meeting of the Michigan College Association Nov. 7 in Ann Arbor, and the following day he will speak before the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church, Ann Arbor. His talk, "Our Presbyterian Colleges," will conclude his scheduled speaking engagements for the present.

The play is a three-act comedy about a family of New Englanders who, years before, gave refuge to a great artist. The play opens some years after Bean's death, with an excited world in pursuit of his work.

Dr. Hagggett and his family, who have some of Bean's canvases, suddenly realize their value and become hard, selfish and ill-tempered. It is Abby, the family servant, who ultimately holds them all in her power—she has one of his greatest paintings, which she cannot be persuaded to sell or give.

Recognition in Alma's sport world this week highlights one of the College's most noteworthy gridiron veterans... Kenneth (J) Swanson, who is known to all his friends as Ken.

LEFT TACKLE FOR '46 SCOTS. ...Many of the older students at Alma remember the name Swanson from back in '41 and '42. when he was a member of the varsity squad and recall the numerous times in which he received hearty Wrighteous Whims . .

This week the Wrighteous lassies began looking to the future and with a frown, they all notice that six weeks' tests are looming up too soon for comfort. So they dragged out the books (those they have been able to buy, that is,) dusted them off, and began a quick mental review.

Of course, the freshmen girls haven't yet developed the "leave it to the last minute" habit so as upperclass women hurry about with worried looks, the frosh look at them with puzzled stares.

For those who saw and enjoyed the freshman girls' chapel program last Tuesday, here's a little information. One clever girl planned and wrote the whole show—Terry Katz.

Well, the first gals to be "Wright Halled" spent a week end at home Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The whole trio of them were dormed on the same reason—late minutes. So if you want to see your girl friend next weekend, fellas, keep a wary eye on your watch.

"Oh, she floats through the air with the greatest of ease, the gal on fourth floor who hung on with her knees." When, during the course of a spread, the only available knife slipped out of the window into the gutter about three feet below, it was Gracie to the rescue.

Newest two-way stretch noticed at Wright—a short girl trying to crawl into one of those upper bunks.

Maybe this will even be news to the person whom it concerned, but she walked in her sleep the other night. She went down to Kitty Marvin's room, out on the balcony, and then had to be led back to bed. Who's our sleeping beauty? Kitty claims it's Gus.

Lights out, everybody! That's just what happened on fourth, and the kids were pleading for help. No one came to the rescue, so Kathy Shaw went downtown and bought herself some candles, only to return and find the lights once again in working order.

Not many folks have noticed the record player in the rec room. It's there for everybody's enjoyment so why not make some use of it? Maybe some of the bridge players could even be persuaded to shove their tables back against the wall some night and have a dance after dinner.

HOPE SMOTHERS

as the half ended a few minutes later.

Second Half

The way the second half began, it looked for a while as though Hope was going to make a "romp" of it all afternoon. Alma kicked off, and in eight plays, Hope brought the ball down to the Alma 21 where the Scots held and took over. In three plays, the Scots brought the ball up to their own 30 where, with fourth and one, Tullis was compelled to kick. The pass from center was very high and Tullis' kick was blocked, Hope recovering on the Alma 30.

On the next play, one of the two freak plays of the game occurred. The pass from center bounded off the Hope backfield man into the air where Murray Hanna of Alma intercepted the ball and ran 30 yards to the Hope 40-yard line. Once again, Alma was stopped cold for three plays and had to punt on fourth. The game see-sawed back and forth the remainder of the third period.

Midway in the fourth period, Emery of Hope, trapped behind the line of scrimmage by three Alma linemen, outran them around his own right end, reversed his field, and went 52 yards for a touchdown to climax a 67-yard drive. This time Hope attempted to pass for the extra point, but the pass was incomplete.

Alma then tried desperately to at least erase that goose-egg" with passes. It was all to no avail.

as Davidson of Hope intercepted Butlers' pass that had skidded off the hands of Hanna, and raced 22 yards to the Alma 43-yard line. The game ended two plays later.

PIONEER PRATTLE

The men on second deck are broken-hearted. The coffee pot was broken through carelessness on the part of "Mutch." The men will never forgive him for this mistake, and also have been unhappy about Detloff and Emery playing handball in the hallway at all hours of the night. Now that someone has "borrowed" the ball from them, it looks like the others will be able to study in peace again.

Now that the "eternal triangle" has been broken up the crooner is being seen with his "old flame" again and from all appearances everything is running smoothly. Denny and Matty are once again sporting that "Cupid got me" smile, and the same type of smile has appeared on Vic Jamal's face. Be very careful, it's very contagious.

If Walsh, Wood, and Reamer from 312 keep wrestling on the floor of their room, there won't be any ceiling left in room 212. It's pretty well beaten up now.

Fred MacDonald led the men in singing birthday greetings to Bob Lieberman in chow hall Thursday. That's the fourth "birthday" he has had this semester.

Bill McFarland was heard inquiring about the telephone number at Wright Hall. He's finally decided to give the women a break.

AAF ASSOC. ORGANIZES

The Air Force Association, a new national organization for Army Air Force veterans and present members of the AAF headed by former Lt. General Jimmy H. Doolittle, has begun to authorize the formation of charter campus squadrons in colleges throughout the country, it was announced by Willis S. Fitch, executive director, from Washington, D. C. headquarters of the Association.

Already, nucleus groups of 20 or more AAF vets, are cropping up on campuses in various sections, Mr. Fitch said. The University of Kentucky, Columbia University in New York, the University of Texas, New York University, Northwestern University, Fordham, and the University of Chicago are some of the colleges with units already in action. Those campus units are affiliated with state groups which are affiliated with national headquarters.

Some of the aims of the Air Force Association, which was formed in January, 1946 are: "To preserve and foster the spirit of fellowship among former, present and future members of the United States Army Air Force; to provide an organization through which they may unite in the fraternal bonds of comradeship; to educate its members and the public at large in the proper development of air power and to keep them abreast of new accomplishments in the field of aviation; to assist in every way possible in keeping the U. S. Air Forces adequate, strong and powerful for defense of our country by supporting the establishment and maintenance of an Air Force appropriately related in status to the Army and Navy; "To help develop friendly relations among nations based on respect for the principle of equal rights to all people."

Membership in the Association is open to all men and women who served in any branch of the Army Air Forces and additional information may be obtained by writing to the Air Force Association, 1603 K Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.
