Job Outlook for 1950 Grads

With about 500,000 college students graduating this year — the largest number in our country's history—the job outlook for the new college graduates is generally good. It is not, however, as good as in 1947 and 1948.

The outlook is clouded by three factors: the large number of graduates who will be seeking jobs; a moderate increase in the total number of unemployed persons; and the filling of war-created shortages of college graduates in some specialized fields by the large graduating classes of 1948 and 1949.

Basically, the economy of the country is strong and there is a general consensus that production and employment will remain high during 1950. However, the big problem facing the economy is that of constantly providing more goods and services and utilizing fully a labor force that is growing at the rate of 600,000 to 700,000 workers a year. Even if employment continues during 1950 at about the same level as last year, as it is expected to do, unemployment will increase and jobs will be harder to find.

Graduates seeking information on expanding industrials or sections of the country need to remember this basic fact: most of the jobs take by this year's college graduates will be, as usual, those which have been vacated by other workers. Deaths and retirements at the top of the occupational ladder create the largest number of openings at the bottom. It follows that most of the openings will occur in the large industries and the areas where there are now the heaviest concentrations of employment.

To emphasize that most job opportunities occur as a result of turnover is not to belittle the number that arise through expansion. Growing markets, technological improvements, and the development of new industries and additional services all create job openings for inexperienced workers with the proper training.

Employment in certain parts of the country is growing more rapidly than in others in the long-run. This is true on the West Coast, the South Atlantic region and Texas. However, the supply of workers in some of these areas—the West Coast for example—has increased more rapidly than job opportunities. Moreover, in rural areas of the country generally the need for workers in some of the professional fields is greater than in cities.

For many college graduates of the class of 1950, the fact that American industry is in a period of intense competition for markets will be the major reason for success in finding employment. Industry responds to competition by pushing advertising and sales efforts and by cutting production costs, streamlining operations, replacing obsolete equipment, and redesigning products and plants. These activities provide opportunities for professionally trained workers and for young and vigorous people with sales ability or imagination in the advertising field.

General observations about conditions in the job market tend to hide widely varying situations. Prospects are excellent in some occupations, industries, and areas. In others, where wartime and postwar shortages have now been filled, many graduates will find it difficult to get jobs.

In teaching, for example, there is at once an acute shortage of

Scholarship Awarded

Will Study Music Literature

Miss Gloria Anderson, a senior from Merrill, has been awarded the University of Michigan State College Scholarship. Miss Anderson was nominated by the faculty of Alma College to receive their honor because of her outstanding achievements in the Music Department. She intends to use this scholarship in the field of Music Literature.

Also a group went to the Wadsworth Avenue Presbyterian Church Saginaw last Sunday.

Last Wednesday evening in the Union, a group of students assembled to participate in the discussion, Science Vs. Religion. Adam Armstrong, an industrial man from Three Rivers, was the leader. A booklet written by Mr. Armstrong was passed out among the group entitled "The Last Analysis". It contained different laws of science. After reading parts of this booklet, we had many things to discuss concerning Religion and Science. Many different viewpoints were expressed. "The purpose in writing this booklet," said Mr. Armstrong, "was to present my viewpoint on science. I am here to obtain your viewpoints."

We wish to thank Mr. Armstrong for his interesting discussion and booklet.

Drama Students to Produce Plays

On Thursday, March 30, the Oral Interpretation Contest was held at Alma. Phyllis Hayward won the Women's Poetry Division, Sherman Filmore, the Men's Jean Austin won the Women's Prose Reading Division. James Crossman, the Men's. These winners will represent Alma in the State Contest at Michigan State College on May 5th. The judges were Mr. W. Daugherty, Mrs. Helen Aldridge, and Mrs. Norma Graham.

Students in Play Production are busy casting actors for their plays to be presented May 8-9. Those producing plays are: Gene Macri, Dick Denny, Jim Sanford, Ralph Appell, Virginia Bryan, Virginia Benson, Jean Austin, and Peggy Powers. If you are interested contact one of these students of Mr. Paris.

On Saturday, April 15, the class went to Central Michigan College for a one act play festival. The plays in the festival were presented by high schools in this area. Mr. Paris served as commentator for the festival.

Alpha Psi Omega will produce "Ten Little Indians", by Agatha Christie on May 15-16-18 in the College Little Theater. This is a mystery play which revolves around the rhyme of the "Ten Little Indians". The cast will be chosen from the following people: Ralph Appell, Anne Hobart, Jim Sanford, James Crossman, David Eldridge, Ted Emery, Gene Macri, Dick Denny, Sherman Fetmore, Janice Bleil, Virginia Bryan, Eileen Kass and Judy Phillips.

Dr. McKeefery Is New Dean of Alma College

Appointed Dean

Dr. William J. McKeefery Succeeds Dr. Paul L. Rice

The appointment of Rev. William J. McKeefery, Ph. D., as dean of Alma College, succeeding Dr. Paul L. Rice, was announced today by President Dale D. Welch.

Dr. McKeefery is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania with the degree of Bachelor of Science in electrical engineering.

Before deciding upon the ministry as a profession he did advanced work at Union College and at General Electric in the field of thermo-dynamics, after which he entered Princeton Theological Seminary, from which institution he received the Bachelor of Divinity degree.

After service in the Navy as a chaplain, Dr. McKeefery did further graduate work at Columbia University, culminating in his receiving the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

He has been professor of religion at Alma College for two years and dean of the chapel for the last year.

President Welch said concerning this appointment, "The appointment of Dr. McKeefery as successor to Dr. Rice, who is going to Whittier College in California, will bring to the position a man of proved scholarship, excellent teaching ability, and outstanding qualities of leadership. We shall certainly miss Dr. Rice, but we are confident that Dr. McKeefery will prove to be a worthy successor."

W.S.S.F. RESULTS

The W.S.S.F. drive on the Alma campus closed with a happy note as the auction of faculty services brought $54.54 in the W. S. S. F. coffers. A total of $409 was raised during the course of the drive. Following is a breakdown of the sources of this money.

Sacrificial Meals	$187.60
Alma College Staff	$71.50
Faculty Auction	$54.54
Zeta Sigma Rat Race	$50.00
Containers on Campus	$33.30

Phi's to Present Annual Crystal Ball

"When did you say? 8:30 in the Union Saturday night?"

That's when the Phi's will present their traditional dance, the Crystal Ball. The theme of the dance will be that of a very fashionable and beautiful ballroom. The ball starts at 8:30 and lasts until 11:30. The large crystal ball will again be the center of the decoration and attention unless some cute little miss drops her hankie. The Phi's hope that the crowd attending will be as vast as those of previous years; and of course they will welcome anyone who wishes to attend. All kidding aside though, those of you who have never been to the Crystal Ball have something to see, and those of you that have been, know what the Ball is like and will be there with bells on.

HELP US LOOK OUR BEST

Here I have found a home! At least temporarily. I don't know how many of you feel that way, but regardless of any thoughts you have concerning Alma College please heed the above sign.

This is the time of year when our campus can be ruined in appearance by careless, thoughtless individuals. I see no reason why Pete and his co-workers should have to stand guard duty after chapel just because a few of us are too lazy to use the sidewalks.

Our campus is small enough that the few seconds more it takes to use the walks will not cause you to miss or be overly late to classes. Those extra seconds will certainly help to make Alma a more home-like, beautiful campus.

You people are the ones who make Alma College what it is—remember: PLEASE KEEP OFF THE GRASS!

PHI-LIP

Happy thought for the day: I was wondering why I was elected to perform this little task and I have secretly come to the conclusion that I am the only one who knows how to use a typewriter and still make a complete mess of the whole thing, at the same time giving the appearance of knowing what he is doing.

I wrote one of these little articles just before vacation and I really thought it was a masterpiece of absolute nonsense and when I found out that they were not going to use it, my whole vacation was ruined. I spent the whole time brooding. Sound like a chicken farmer, don't I? I put a list of the new officers who were elected to the esteemed jobs which this frat sees fit to bestow upon its most deserving active members, nobody seems to be able to tell me what they are deserving of, in the last article, which wasn't printed, and I absolutely refuse to go all through that again so if you are really curious you can ask some member and if you don't get an intelligent answer don't blame me.

Things are going to be a little tense around here along about the week end of the 5th and 6th of May because it seems that due to some cunning and adept management on the part of our social chairman our Formal Dinner Dance is going to be held on the 5th and the KIs are going to have theirs on the 6th, all of which makes for a very active perhaps even athletic Sunday, it should be interesting to see how many of the boys go to church. I will have to have some one tell me about it when I wake up at about twelve o'clock.

The president just came in with my straitjacket so I guess that I will have to end this and go back to my cell. Sweet dreams.

ALPHA THETA NEWS

Well, back in ol' Alma for another month or so and then three glorious months of freedom! Sounds good eh? Only trouble is very few of our old members will be back in September—but we're counting on our new blood to keep things running smoothly.

All of us had grand vacations, except poor Jeanne Minard who was a pretty sick gal for a few days. Nope, can't say as I'd relish having pneumonia and particularly during vacation. We're mighty glad you're feeling up to par again, Jeanne.

Ruthie went home with Su, who lives in New York state. Hear tell, a good time was had by all. Some of the Zeta's stopped in to see them and with Dot Short and Jim Cole joining the group, a regular Alma reunion was held.

Our formal dinner is to be held Wednesday at the Wright Hotel. Our sorority formal dance will be at the Hotel Olds in Lansing and we have even got a cottage lined up for our week-end party at Crystal Lake. All in all, things seem to be shaping up pretty well.

Roma Woodworth was elected our captain for softball and practice will be starting soon.

Ann Lee, Dolores Combs, and Earline Kelley were formally initiated last Thursday night. After the ceremony we all went to the Park Hotel in St. Louis for the formal dinner. It was quite thoughtful of Helen Gracie's folks to give her her graduation present of a car in time for the dinner so that we could ride in style. And what a dinner! We, being accustomed to Wright Hall cuisine, had a field day over the half of a young chicken plus fixins. After dinner, by way of entertainment, Peg McQuaid held class in the finer points of French inhaling. Her success with her pupils was rather limited, but that with her audience was resounding, in fact, deafening. However, we're not quite through with the ex-pledges yet. They still have one task to perform, and they'll do that tonight by giving a party for the older members.

We were glad to hear of the wedding of Pat Newburg and Alex Olofsson which took place in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, and we wish them the best of luck.

Look like spring (it's rumored to be around somewhere) has had its effect on Bill Moore too, or haven't you seen the beautiful diamond that Ella Orr has been flashing around?

Alma Piper on TV

It certainly was a funny sensation to watch a personally-known face on the television screen last April 4th. We were proud, too, to see Stewie Grove give out with his Scotch brogue on Ted Mack's Original Amateur Hour. Stewie, who sang "Roaming in the Gloaming," commented that it seemed odd to perform for a camera, rather than for an audience, as he is accustomed to doing here at Alma.

As well as the TV show, Sad Grove will appear on Ted Mack's show for amateur talent late in the year. This is a paying proposition for Stewie...but of course the salary for both TV and radio, will be received after the program.

All in all, we are very happy that Stewie has gotten his big chance and we wish him the very best of luck in his performances as the "Scotch Balladeer."

Scots Tangle with Ferris

Alma Fizzles; Ferris Wins

Opening day jitters seemed to have plagued the Alma Scots yesterday afternoon as initial baseball tilt against Ferris Institute ending in a 10-inning 10-9 win for the Bulldogs. Seven errors were committed by the Alma lads, while Ferris made only five.

Ferris jumped on starting pitcher Lefty Gadzinski in the very first inning, copping four runs then, and adding one each in the second innings. During this same time, Alma got only three hits from Ferris moundsman Don Milano.

In the sixth inning, Willard Futnik came to bat and drew a walk, Stan Heester struck out, Ray Mohre singled, Dan Leaver walked filling the bases. Dick Nudds struck out, and then Ron Penner gained first on an error, scoring Futnik. John Coe walked, and then Hoffman singled scored Penner and Hoffman. Futnik was on after an error by the second baseman and Coe scored.

Hester walked, and then Ray Mohre grounded out, pitcher to first base.

Alma had to come out of it again in the 9th to tie the game at 9-9, although they got no hits at all in that inning. Bob Wood, relief hurler for Ferris issued two walks and two Alma men gained first base on errors, but only one could cross the plate, thus sending the game into extra innings.

In the tenth, two errors by second baseman Don Tacia who had just entered the game gave Ferris their final and winning run. Krohner singled, but was tagged out short of second, after a fielders choice hit by Butler. Butler gained second on an error by the second baseman. Revard was safe on an error by the second baseman, scoring Butler. Revard was out, Pitcher to third on a fielders choice by Maue. Unruh struck out.

Jadvinskas Wins Medalist Honors

Ed Jadvinskas took medalist honors with an 80 as the Alma Scots pounded the pill in a 14-4 win over Ferris Institute yesterday afternoon. This was the initial match for both teams.

In accomplishing the win, Jadvinskas picked up two points and his opponent Ware gained one with an 82. Alex Kish turned in an 83 and his opponent, Gene Wright had an 87, giving Alma three more points. Ron Sadler dropped three points to Ferris as his opponent, Sessions, carded an 85 over the 86 turned in by Sadler.

Jim Fowler gained three with an 85 over an 86 by Tim Beer, and J. E. Aldridge carded an 82 over an 88 by Bill Johnson. Rosger Rosendale had an 88, while his opponent, Don Tiger, had a 92 giving Alma another three points.

Kalamazoo College's tennis team finished its southern tour Saturday by losing to the North Carolina powerhouse, 8-1. It was the fourth loss against three wins for the Hornets.

Netmen Gain 6-1 Victory

A snappy Alma Scots tennis squad all but shut out the opposition yesterday afternoon as they gained a 6-1 victory over Ferris Institute at the Wright Park clay courts. Only in the number one singles match did the Scots taste defeat.

Coach William Stielstra used all seven of his men in the victory, moving Bill Young and Danny Peron into the number two doubles match after the other five had worked singles games. Joe Gentry dropped his singles match to John Vastbinder in two sets, 6-0, 6-3, but the remaining members of the Alma team did just the same to the rest of the Ferris squad.

George Vinson came through with a 7-5, 6-2 to win his match in two sets, defeating Art Carney. Rennie Bacon clipped Bob Vander Kelen in two sets, 6-1, 6-0, and John Fields had to work just a little bit harder to nip George Feldwich, 6-3, 6-2. Dick Denny played the final singles and grabbed a win with sets of 6-0, 6-2 over Dick Lieson.

In doubles play, Gentry and Bacon teamed to take Vastbinder and Feldwich by tallies of 6-4, 6-4, after having dropped the first set dropping it 4-6, but they bounced back to take the next two by a count of 7-5, 6-4.

Golfers Defend League Crown

Twenty-four aspirants signed up with Professor Robert Clack, golf mentor, and only two have seen previous experience with the Scots. They are Ed Jadvinskas and Alex Kish, number four and number six men, respectively, last season. Jadvinskas was the most improved player through the season for Alma.

Ron Sadler, John Harrison, and Jim Fowler saw limited action with the team last year, but may produce sufficiently to move into the varsity berths that are now open.

Of the newcomers, J. Aldridge, Roger Rosendale, Phil Chicester, and George Rogers are the best prospects thus far, but any of the remaining 15 may break into play. They include A. C. Clapp, Dave Cornell, Bill Falk, Lynn House, Rich Cornwell, Eugene Huget, Dan Leaver, Bill Riggan, Bill Slack, Scott Smith, Jack Sommerville, Jim Stites, John Sullivan, George Vinson, and Mynard Weaver.

Alma has a schedule of nine dual meets plus the MIAA Field Day which is listed for May 18 and 19 at Kalamazoo. All league teams have improved over last year so the Alma efforts must be a shade better than perfect in order to recapture the crown.

Albion College opened its outdoor track season auspiciously Saturday by amassing an even 100 points to dual-meet opponent Adrian's 31. Albion took the league crown last year, while Adrian was runnerup.

Dick Carr

Staging an athletic contest is no different than presenting a play for the public. In the background are many figures working to make the presentation a success.

One of the most important figures behind the scenes in the Alma Scots picture is Dick Carr, for four years athletic trainer. He has worked with all teams since September 1946 and has turned in many hours of hard work in getting the teams ready for athletic contests.

Dick worked for two years with no remuneration at all, doing the job for experience only, and during this time spent vacation periods in attending various well-known training schools throughout the country learning new techniques. A native of Coldwater, Michigan, he hopes to use this training knowledge as either a coach or as trainer for some professional team. He may be found any afternoon this spring working in the training room at Memorial Gym, taping ankles, massaging sore muscles and dishing out advice on relief measures for the tired athletes.

Alma Netmen Meet Calvin

Another victim of the unseasonal spring weather of the first part of this month was the Alma College tennis team, facing a ten-game schedule with very little practice and only one returning letterman. Two of the seven-man team will be eligible for non-conference matches only.

The local lads face three meets this week, opposing Calvin today at the Wright Park courts, then traveling to Kazoo on Friday to meet the tough Kalamazoo College team, MIAA winner for the past ten years. Saturday morning, the Scots return to the local scene, meeting the University of Detroit in a before-noon match scheduled to get underway at 10:30 a. m. at the Wright Park courts.

They then have a six-day rest before their next contest, a tilt against Hope on April 28.

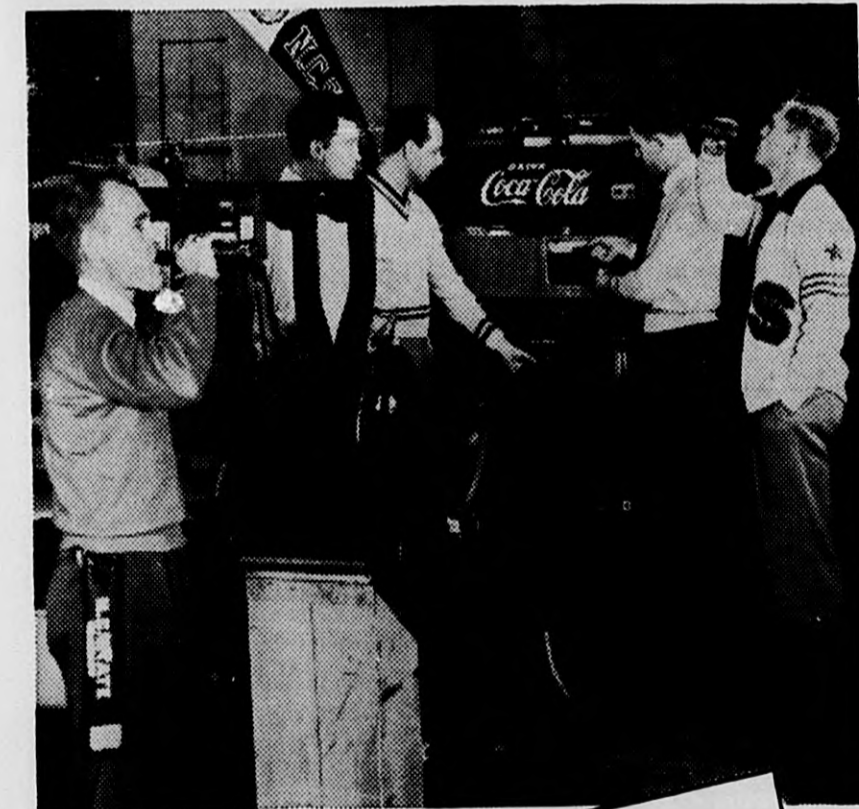

Joe Gentry, three-time letterwinner, is the leading contender for the Scots, while George Vinson, former hurler for the baseball team is another outstanding prospect. Rennie Bacon and Bill Young will be worked into non-league matches, while John Fields and Dick Denny are doing good work so far. Danny Peron is the seventh man to be considered, and, with Young and Bacon appearing only in non-league meets, he will move up to the first five in conference tilts.

As a further tune-up before starting defense of the MIAA crown won in both 1948 and 1949, the Alma linkmen are in Grand Rapids today for a non-conference tilt against the Calvin College golfers. Alma started competition yesterday with a match scheduled against Ferris Institute. Kalamazoo will be the first MIAA team to meet the Scots with a match listed for Friday afternoon on the local Pine River Country Club course.

Hillsdale College opened defense of its MIAA baseball crown Saturday by knocking off Hope, 6-4.

The Dales got four of their five hits in the third inning and put them together for four runs—enough to keep them in the lead all the way. Singles tallies in the sixth and seventh provided the winning margin.

Hillsdale College suffered its first MIAA baseball defeat since 1948, bowing to Albion College, 4 to 2 yesterday afternoon. The Dales have been league champions for the past two years, and last season lost but two contests in all competition, they being to Wayne and the University of Detroit.

Dutch Are First League Opponent as MIAA Baseball Wars Commence

The Alma diamond lads meet Hope College this afternoon in the opening round of the MIAA baseball wars. Hope dropped its initial league tilt with Hillsdale last Saturday, 6-4.

Coach Bruce Butler has his squad split up into two working units. Loss of the Saxton boys, Chuck and Bill, at least for another week, will hinder both squads considerably. Chuck cut the index finger on his right hand, requiring several stitches, and Bill has had a bad attack of the flu.

One squad lists the batting order as Ray Mohre at second; Ship Halpin in center field; Cass Hoffman at third base; Stan Hester in right field; John Coe in left field; Nelson Johnson on first base; Bob Naru, catcher; Ron Penner, shortstop; and the mound corps of Chuck Saxton, Dick Nudds, or Bob Mohre. Halpin will be playing the center field spot in place of the ill Bill Saxton.

The other list finds Ron Penner leading off as shortstop; Halpin at center field; Hoffman at third; Hester at second; Gadzinski at first; Coe in left field; Naru, catcher; Willard Putnik in right field and the pitchers as listed above.

Following today's encounter against Hope, Alma will meet Albion on the road Thursday afternoon, and then return next Tuesday to Davis Field for a game against the Adrian Bulldogs. The local lads were able to get out doors several days last week, working out on Bahlke Field.

Faculty Auction Spurs WSSF . . . .

Going?? Going?? Gone!

Ralph Appel rapped the gavel as the instructors mounted the block to be auctioned off to the highest bidder. With every rap on the table money poured into the W.S.S.F. The first experience that Alma College had ever accounted for, with such enthusiasm, the faculty and the students both working together for a common goal.

LEMON PIE . . . "Best he ever tasted" was the comment after this little attraction presented itself at the Faculty auction. Here is Mr. Skinner, of the Chemistry department, taking a little punishment. The southpaw, Ginny Bryan, made a strike over the center of the plate. Lemon meringue went all over the curtains and the floor. The event cost Ginny $3.50.

Go in Style...

Any student had the opportunity to travel in style, as Mrs. Roecker put her car up for a bid. The traveling lasted for one night with Mrs. Roecker at the wheel. The gas and the oil were furnished by the driver.

$12.00 . . . . . WOW!

As this picture was taken, the bid on an evening of television in the parlor of Dr. McKeefery was at $12.00. The bid was taken as lifted to $13.00. With this evening of TV was a steak dinner for two. Arriving on the scene to take a picture of this event, was a bad thing as the photographer became so engrossed in the television to take the picture. (It was good steak, too.)

Beans??

Lita Potter bought the services of Dr. Welch, who agreed to take her place on the chow line for one meal. Here he is serving what happened to be the hot dish at dinner the next day.

Shine-em-up

Mr. Stielstra put a luster on just about every shoe in Wright Hall. He shined shoes for one-half hour and came well prepared with every kind of shoe polish. By the way, the dainty tootsie is that of Jo Wilson.

ation to everyone on our campus. A special word of thanks for the generous contributions from the campus organizations. The cooperation was appreciated from the faculty who gave so willingly of their money and also their services for the auction which was to favorably received by all. Thanks to those who dropped their dollars and change into the jars about campus. Also, thanks to those who participated in the sacrificial meals so loyally week after week. We here at Alma have made a positive step toward helping our student classmates in the war devastated nations.

And also a word of gratitude to those who worked with me and made suggestions for the drive. Thanks to those who executed the auction, to our advisers, and to all those who worked on the WSSF committee. Your cooperation and help, which you gave of so very generously, has been deeply appreciated. On behalf of those students who will benefit by our giving I give you their word of gratitude.

Hi People! Long time no see. Did you know that college students are worth ten dollars a head to the city of Alma? Amazing isn't it? It seems that our thriving community is allowed to deduct ten bucks from tax for every person in the city and that includes college students. That means we're worth approximately $5,850. Tidy sum, eh what?

I hear that there's a big business deal brewing among some of our more venturesome students. They've dreamed up the idea of a drive-in theater without the movie. This ingenious establishment is to be known as a "Sparkin" Lot. The theory behind it all is: Who goes to a drive-in to see the picture anyway?

The money sure did flow freely at the faculty auction, all $54.54 of it. I guess everybody had a lot of fun, especially Virginia Bryan. It isn't everybody who gets to throw a pie in the face of their Chem instructor. The bidding was wild and Don Sywassink rose to the heights of glory. Don't they have TV in Adrian Don?

Spring, spring, beautiful spring. Or should I say mud and mud, beautiful mud! I'm beginning to believe that the theme song of every Alma citizen should be "Slipping Around." Detroit may boast of its automobiles, Battle Creek of its cornflakes, Grand Rapids of its furniture—but Alma can boast of its mud. No place has mud like Alma's mud—absolutely no place. Some people say mud baths are great for all ailments. I disagree, however, I've had quite a few (not by choice), and they haven't helped me a bit.

Well, here's mud in your eye

Scotty

Wright on the Spot

Janni Bliel

With Vicki so busy "Guessing" lately, it's time for a new columnist to relate the "Wright" goings-on at Wright...so h'yar ah is, ready and willin'!

You know, we'd always considered Anne Hobart to be as sane(?) as the rest of us...but there for a while we were rather dubious. It did strike one as being a trifle odd when, upon entering Anne's room, she could be seen lying prostrate on the floor, registering in turn frightening expressions of grief, glee, and utter madness. No, 'twarn't the DT's or strain from exams, but merely an innocent rehearsal for her phys. ed.

class's modern dance! Well, it's over now, and all's well.

'Heard tell that Wally Slack was a wee-bit disappointed because he thought a key to Wright Hall plus privileges therein were to be awarded the Potent Potentate of M-Day. 'Sorry to let you down, Wally, but the carton of Chesterfields will have to suffice.

Our heartiest congrats go out to Mary Ann Lee, better known as "Clem" who was the proud possessor of a perfect pinochle hand the other night. A thousand aces and double pinochle all in one hand isn't to be sneezed at, even in a three-handed game. Latest reports indicate that Clem's new book, You, Too, Can Stack a Pinochle Deck, is soon to hit the book stands. Watch for it!

What does the Alma College co-ed think of when the first signs of spring appears?? Ah, ah...you're wrong! Her first concern is neither to stretch out on the lawn by the Chapel nor to take long walks out to the golf course, but rather, to clean out her cell...oops, room. Carrying out buckets of dust and carrying in buckets of soap-suds was all the rage last weekend. Don't get the wrong idea, now, this sudden house-cleaning urge had absolutely nothing to do with the fact that Sunday was Open House in "ye olde dorme." Our abodes are always in that state of immaculateness. (Well, it sounds good, anyway!)

Mom Powell got the word about the latest trend on campus, and, as a result, she too can now strum out "Toot, Toot, Tootsie" on the ukelele. Don't be perturbed to hear her suddenly pop up with "All dogs have fleas." It's not meant to be taken personally; she's just tuning up for another MAD session with Peg Powers, Greta Perry, Jo Ramsey, and the other victims of "ukitis." Incidentally, we're all breathlessly anticipating Anne Marr's rendition of the "Third Man Theme", due any day now. It's no mere uke for Anne...she now has a zither, no less!

As a parting thought... Even though "Spring has cub" and the collegiate fancy has "lightly turned to thoughts of love", let's not forget that immortal Wright Hall motto: "In our lounge we do not scrounge!"

Chem Concerts

NOTICE

The Alma College Chemistry Department will probably present a dual musical recital by two of its promising organic chemistry students on Monday and Wednesday afternoons from 1 to 5 P. M.

Mr. James Anderson, a capable whistler of great experience, has whistled in many chemistry and biology laboratories in this section of the state and has won the approval of all critics.

Mr. Robert Axelson has won great public acclaim as a vocalist and is currently appearing nightly in the Wright Hotel Tap Room. The program will be divided into four parts:

Part I. Mr. Axelson will arrive and sing in his splendid soprano voice a few hits from the past and present.

Part II. Mr. Anderson will swagger in and whistle like a little bird. His accompaniment will be the tinkling sound of smashing laboratory glassware.

Part III. Mr. Anderson and Mr. Axelson will then be glad to oblige with a duet with Mr. Axelson yodeling "Ave Maria" and Mr. Anderson doing a take-off on "Listen to the Mocking Bird" with sound effects. During this time Mr. Anderson will deliver an oration on socialized medicine. Mr. Axelson will conclude this portion with a few comments on his love life.

Part IV. Chemical Pyrotechnics.

This portion of the program will consist of benzene explosions, crashing glassware, ether fires, and the roar of the CO2 fire extinguisher. Mr. Axelson and Mr. Anderson have demonstrated their abilities in this field several times before an appreciative audience. Above the roar of this climax will be heard the sweet melodic notes of Mr. Anderson and Mr. Axelson.

The program will conclude when Mr. Axelson and Mr. Anderson depart for their evening meal.

Everyone is invited. Come early to get a good seat in the hood! Organic Chemistry Music Appreciation Club

Come, Gentle Spring

By Bill Farris

Spring is the time when the beautiful flowers unveil their dazzling colors, it's the time when the lawnmowers start humming; when the robins return from their southern nests; when the romping trackmen circle the cinder path and the baseball players unravel their long arms, peggin the cowhide spiral across the green; when the Wright Hall gals and the Pioneer guys start their annual housecleaning, (I'm ahead of them though—I did mine three weeks ago); when the light suits, the new hats and the sheerest stockings promenaded our campus walks; when the campus jungle and museum steps are once more pressed into service, when the racquets whizz across the nets and when I discard my winter underwear. All these are signs of spring.

But what happened this year? The calendar says, "yes," Old Man Winter says, "No." Is this year any different than the rest? Why couldn't we have a definite time every year for which we might plan and have some assurance that the plan might be carried out? Spring (?) vacation has come and gone. Will the girls put their fur coats back into the refrigerator for another season? Shall the boys invest in new spring neckties or wait until fall? Should I write this propaganda? I dunno.

The first sign of real spring with a capital S is spring fever, while all we've had around campus so far is influenza and its relatives. But when Spring does come, it will be vibrant with tingling life, and the young thing's fancy will most certainly turn to thoughts of love (as though he never thought of it before).

Deputation Teams Resumed at Alma

Often we read the words of the Great Commission and wonder just what we can do about the command given by Jesus in those words: "Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world." Some of the students at Alma have decided to take up that command and carry it out as far as can be allowed. Let me tell you something about their method of approach, the method called Deputation Teams.

Deputation work is not new at Alma College, but it has not been in active practice for the past year. It was decided that the practice should be resumed, both for the welfare of those Christian vocational students and for the fellowship involved in deputation work. On March 20, a group of students met in the Fine Arts Building for two hours, gathering information to assist them in planning and carrying out the work of a deputation team. Classes were conducted in the methods of worship, recreation, Sunday School teaching, church dramatics, and program planning for church youth. Literature was passed out in order to clarify questions in the minds of those present as to what might be done in serving as a deputation team member.

As for the purpose of these teams, they are concerned with keeping alive the Christian faith and growing in that faith as well. For by growing in the faith of Christianity, the purposes for their lives also grow. These deputation team members want the Christian religion to be a functional religion for all of life. They want to help people find a faith in God; to accept Jesus Christ as their Savior; and to assist them in becoming active Christians.

To those ends, then, the deputation teams function. Don't think, however, that the group undertaking this task is large enough, for it isn't. If you are a honest Christian student and really want to become a vital part of this example of working and living Christianity, you are heartily welcome to become a member of the deputation teams. There are several departments open to you; one of them will satisfy your interests. How about planning programs with the youth of a church for their use? How would you like to help the young people of a church become interested in the possibilities that the use of drama offers? Or maybe you would like to take part in the worship services your group conducts. There are endless possibilities, and best of all there's a place for you.

That's how we intend to carry

"Who'd you say your I. Q. was?"

out the command of Jesus which He gave when He spoke the words of the Great Commission. With guidance from Above, and with help from each other, may the work of Alma's deputation teams be a true sign of what active Christianity may be—a light unto those served, and a way unto those serving.

Job Outlook

personnel in the elementary schools and growing oversupply at the high school level. For the current year, only one elementary teacher was trained for every three who were needed. On the other hand, four times as many students completed training for high school teaching as were required.

Other professional fields in which stiff competition for jobs is expected in the next few years include: law, journalism, and personnel work. In engineering, the number of graduates will exceed the number of openings in the early 1950's; after the next 4 or 5 years, the employment situation for new graduates is likely to improve in this rapidly growing profession. In chemistry, competition will be keen during the next few years among persons without graduate training; the outlook is better for those with graduate degrees.

There will probably also be an oversupply of business administration graduates. A surplus of new graduates has already developed in the field of accounting.

Liberal arts graduates with work experience or specialized training will find it easier to get jobs than those with only a general undergraduate education.

Prospects for new entrants are good in health service occupations. There is a current shortage of nurses, and demand for nursing service will probably continue to rise. In medicine and dentistry those able to enter and complete training will have good opportunities; however, competition is very keen for admission to professional schools. In pharmacy the supply of new graduates has almost caught up with the demand; the profession may be overcrowded in the long-run if enrollments in pharmacy colleges continue at present high levels. Good opportunities are expected also for other occupational groups important in health service, such as veterinarians, medical X-ray technicians, medical laboratory technicians, dental hygienists, physical therapists, occupational therapists, and dietitians.

The picture facing this year's graduates is a mixed one. Business conditions as a whole are continuing good. In spite of this high level of business activity, the growing labor force and growing productivity may well result in high levels of unemployment. The picture for job opportunities is equally mixed. Some occupations are oversupplied with graduates, and the competition will be intense for the available jobs. Other fields have a demand for jobs which far outweigh the available supply of trained people to fill those jobs. Those whose training lies in the crowded fields have several alternatives open to them. First of all, they would be well advised to explore the possibilities of entering any fields closely allied to their field of primary interest, where there may be more openings. They should also explore the possibility of graduate training to equip themselves with more specialized skills.

Later articles in this series will give more information on the outlook in a number of these fields.
