David Swigart Laid to Rest

The community was shocked and greatly saddened to learn of the unexpected death Wednesday morning about 9 o'clock of David B. Swigart, 23, one of Alma's best known and most loved young men. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond G. Swigart of 816 Woodworth avenue and a junior at Al-

Although he had been ill with an attack of pleurisy for more than week and under medical care, his condition was not considered by the family to be serious and on Wednesday morning he had seem-d to be better and had been up for short time. However, his condition suddenly became critical wednesday morning and he was aced in an oxygen tent at home. ailing to respond, he was rushed R. B. Smith Memorial hospital where he died within minutes.

Funeral services were held Friday at 1 p.m. at First Presby-terian church. The Rev. Clyde F. Vance, church pastor, officiated and interment will be made in Payne cemetery, Fulton township. Here Third Time

Mr. Norman Coates Webster is fast becoming a tradition at Alma College. For the third year in a row he has capably entertained the student body with his poetry. When he spoke Wednesday he informed the students that he was going to talk about whether we liked poetry or not, but immediately began with Robert Service's famous "Shooting of Dan McGrew". He admitted that the poem is "not what is commonly called elevating, nonetheless it is good poetry."

Mr. Webster said that Rudyard Kipling is much like Robert Service in style and approach. With this introduction he quoted Kipling's poem about the death of an old sea captain and his dying words to his no-good son.

The third poet he quoted was teaching faculty last year to accept a position at the College of Emporia, Emporia, Kansas. He was married two weeks ago to a work of the control of the con

SCOTS HAND HOPE 49-45 DEFEAT FRIDAY

WIN MOVES ALMA INTO SECOND PLACE TIE WITH ALBION, KAZOO

A thriller from start to finish, the Alma Scots and Hope College tangled last Friday evening in the final MIAA game of the season and the locals came through the fray with a 49-45 decision. The determined Scots overcame a onepoint deficit at halftime and beat ball-hawing Dutchmen at their own game, coming through with the win in the last ten minutes of the ball game.

Hope was just as keyed up for the contest as was Alma, with the winner set to move in to a second place tie with Albion and Kalamazeo in the final MIAA standings and the loser destined to drop to fifth place. For three quarters the two teams fought hard and fast, and then, with :8.86 left in the game, Lee Boucher got two free throws and a tip in the factorial to the state of the s throws and a tip-in that put the Scots ahead 35-34. Don Carey slipped in two buckets in successions and a tip-in the succession and the succession and the succession and the succession and the succession are succession. sion and then Boucher tallied for two more points on a field goal and three points on gift tosses to put the locals in a substantial lead which they never did relinquish. Boucher took game honors in scoring, sinking 10 points in that last quarter spree that gave Alma the victory. Previously, he had sunk two points in the first half and six points in the first ten minutes of the second half.

Mike Budge and Chuck Saxton played every minute of the hotly contested game, this being the last contest for Budge, a graduating senior. Rex Roseman, starting at forward, also saw his last action with the Scots in cage activity.

Until the victory spurt in the closing minutes of the game, the Scots had only led twice, this being in the first half. A push shot by Joe Thibedeau had put the locals in the lead, 13-11 with 11 minutes left in the first period. That lead was wiped out as the Dutch tied things up at 13-13 at the ten minute mark, and then went ahead with a basket by Bremer. With two Poling, f minutes left in the first half, Budge sank a neat left hook shot to give Alma a 22-21 lead, but Van De Wege came through with a bucket to give Hope the margin at halftime, 23-22.

Starting the second half, things looked bad for the Scots has Hope not ahead fast with baskets by Buter, Muyskens, Yonker and then another by Buter. The score was 32-24 in favor of Hope before Boucher finally started clicking and sank a bucket and a free throw, and then Roy Clark and Jee Thibedeau each tossed in a bucket.

STUDENTS STOP IN AND GET ACQUAINTED

Wright on the Spot •

By Vicki Grunman

First off, we'd like to give a real hearty welcome to Jean Ann Anderson, 'cuz we're real glad to have her back. Just think-once again we hear the patter of her tiny ski-boots in the wee small hours in the second floor wing.

They sure do pick fine times for fire drills! Dunno who clued them that half the girls would be in the shower at the time, but they sure took advantage of the fact. Gets kindo chilly, standing out there in a bathrobe and wet hair.

T'other night we heard the fire alarm (another one), so, as prescribed, we dropped our studying, got into coat, shoes, and babushko, closed the window, and dashed into the hall, only to run smack into a crowd of other wimmin wearing puzzled looks in addition to coats, shoes, and babushkas. Yeh—you guessed it—false alarm. Seems Paula Gugelyk was a little woozy for some reason or other that night and accidentally turned the wrong knob or pushed the wrong button, or something. After saying a few choice things, we went back to our rooms, took off coat, shoes, and babushka, opened the window, and resumed our studying, while Paula added one demerit to her collection.

From here the train of thought leads us on to fire escapes, and there we find Bert Buhrer. Literally. We have since learned that it was only a phase of the rather violent Phi initiation, entailing a scavenger hunt, part of which was getting a note located at the top of the Wright Hall fire escape, but, at the time, this fact was unknown to us. Thus, it must have been a trifle perturbing for Shirley Lyons to look out the window and see a face leering down at her. Of course, it was only Bert looking surprised, but it's hard to tell in the dark. The Lyons lungs promptly went to work and, together with several sets of same, proceeded to split ear-drums for a block's radius. What guys won't do to get into a frat! He'll probably have a complex about fire escapes and letters for the rest of his life. Of course, this was before the laws was laid down forbidding anyone to be on the fire escape except in case of fire or reasonable facsimile on pain of a dollar fine. No kiddin', Cupid really hasn't got a chance around here, any more.

pretty serenade that the Wright Hall girls got last week. Three cases of pneumonia were contracted from hanging out the window to listen, but we don't mind. Now why don't the Delts and the Zeta's do something chivalrous like that?

If Don Carey ever got hold of this little tidbit, "Temp" would not be double-spaced throughout. never hear the end of it, so I can't say a thing about the night "Temp' sat down on her bed and one of its legs went through the floor. The floor board was rotten, see, so "Temp" herself really had very little to do with it, but Don wouldn't see it that way, so I won't say a thing.

COOK AWARDS' RULES

The awards have been made available in order to stimulate interest and excellence in creative writing. A total of $100.00 is being made available each year for prizes and it is Mr. Cook's hope that these awards will stimulate widespread interest in effective writing.

These awards will be made in the fields of dramatic writing, fiction, and poetry. These are not necessarily to be distributed in all categories listed. The judges may feel that no candidate has done sufficiently good work to merit an award.

The awards shall be offered only to full time students. Freshmen may compete for the freshman award in the fields mentioned. Any freshman regularly enrolled in a composition course is eligible provided his work is at least of C

Any other full time student may compete in the upperclass award provided he has at least a C grade for his last semester's scholastic average, and is taking or has taken at least one course in advanced composition.

No student having won an award other than in the Freshman contest will be allowed to compete in any subsequent contest.

There will be a $25 award for , Cupid really hasn't got a chance around here, any more.

GI term insurance is approaching expiration dates for an increasing number of veterans, particularly those who went to service early with various National Guard units and the first Selec-tive Service contingents, Veterans Administration warned.

VA explained that these veterans must take action if they wish to keep their National Service Life Insurance in force. Expiring contracts may be renewed for a new five-year term or converted to a permanent plan.

Original term insurance taken out while in service before the end of 1945 expires eight years after it was issued. Many veterans took out their insurance early in 1941. Some of these contracts are expiring now.

VA will notify these veterans two months before their contracts expire. If the veterans do not apply for renewal or conversion before their original insurance expires, they will be required to take a physical examination to regain their coverage at a later date. Questions and Answers:

Q. I want to give the benefici-ary of my NSLI the right of choosing in the event of my death, either a lump sum settlement or any of the available monthly payment plans. If I designate no option, will she have this right?

A. No. Payment in a lump sum may be designated only by the insured. However, if you provide for lump sum payment she may have her choice of available plans.

This incident had an effect on fore the International Refugee Organization Board. She was declared ineligible as a Displaced Person until the spy charge was cleared up. The spy charge was soon cleared but she is still considered ineligible.

planning to enter the United States on a Student Visa it was discovered that the Austrian government would not pay her fare, as they did for other Austrians-because she was considered a Czech. Upon hearing this news, Mr. John Swigart sent her all his savings to pay for her plane ticket. When the Alma churches heard about this many individuals in Alma donated money to the cause also. Under the Displaced Persons law she must have her plane tickets as well as either a job or a scholarship waiting for her. At the present time the only thing that is holding her back is the wait for the decision of the Board at the headquarters in Geneva Board of the IRO.

In order to help Trudy's cause the Alma Christian Association sent a letter to the Geneva Board telling them of the desire of the students of Alma College to have Trudy come here. In the answer which was received from them it was stated that her case would come up in about four weeks. Until the final answer is learned many friends in Alma and Alma College will anxiously await the news of her fate.
