Budge, Roseman End Cage Activity

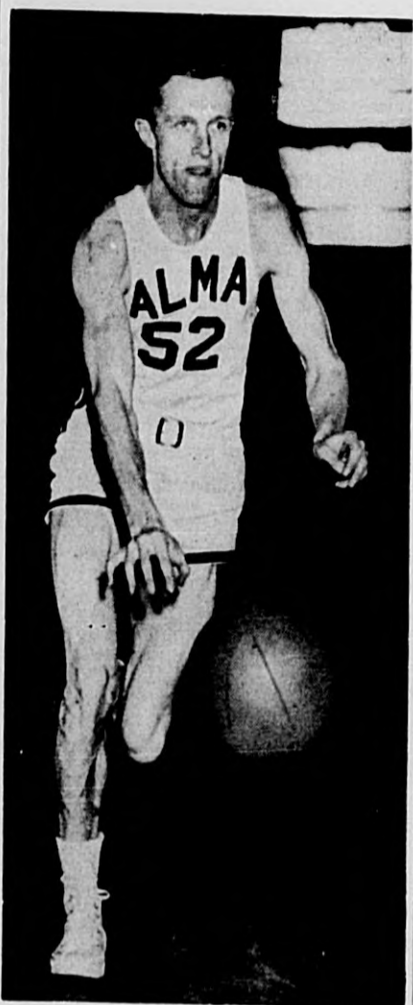

Rex Roseman

Mike Budge, Ithaca, and Rex Roseman, Grand Rapids, bade their farewell to the collegiate basketball circuit last week as they completed their last season of eligibility. Each will graduate this June.

Budge first came to Alma College in the fall of 1943, and had barely started school when he entered service, handling duties with the U. S. Air Force. He returned to Alma College in February 1946, played some basketball, and then participated as a member of the Scots track squad that spring which fell 2 points short of upsetting the Albion College favorites.

In 1946 and 1947 he was a member of the football squad, earning letters both times, and he was leading scorer for the cage squads in two previous seasons, and finished fourth in that department this past season. He was rated a guard on the all-MIAA second team last year and also gained mention with his selection by coaches of this area as a member of the all-Western cage squad snaring a berth with noted university stars of the area.

Roseman is remembered as the football star of the past two seasons, and as the track standout for the same time. Loss of the services of Roseman to Alma squads will be felt greatly and it is not expected that one of his caliber will be around again for some years to come.

Boucher Takes Scoring Crown

Lee Boucher, Lansing, the Alma Scots freshman center gained the individual scoring championship of the squad with a tally of 185 points scored in 17 contests. He rated third in the MIAA scoring race, clipping off a total of 141 points, headed only by Hope's Bud Van De Wege with 153, and Kazoo's Bucky Walters with 150.

Boucher played at center for the Scots through most of the season, sometimes shifting over to a forward slot. He was especially effective in the 62-45 rout of Kazoo early in February, and also, in the two games with Hope, the 74-65 loss and the avenging 49-45 win.

Chuck Saxton, East Jordan, was next in line for the Scots with a tally of 148. Chuch did not play in the first three contests for the Scots, still recovering from a football injury, but when he did come into the lineup he made his presence known by his all-round ability. Close behind Saxton was Don Carey, Charlevoix with 127 points, and Mike Budge, Ithaca, rated fourth with 125 points.

BULLETIN

Steve Sebo, Alma Scots coach and Athletic Director for the past three seasons is leaving this week to assume duties as backfield coach at Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass. He succeeds Dave Nelson, former Hillsdale mentor, now at University of Maine.

Details on page three.

Stop Day Before Spring Vacation

Sometime between now and spring vacation there is to be a STOP day. On this day all scheduled activities of the college will be interrupted. There will be no classes, no nothing—you can just sleep and relax! The beauty of it is that it will be unexpected. Stop day will be announced at 10:00 the preceding evening. All campus houses, fraternities, and dorms will be notified and there will be notices on all buildings. It is suggested that those living off campus make arrangements to have someone phone them when the announcement is made. It is strongly urged that students do not try to go out of town on this day, but remain on campus and try to make the most of their opportunity to let down.

The faculty voted at a meeting this week to have this Stop day. Some other institutions already have such a plan in effect.

Council to Sponsor Movie

The Student Council is sponsoring a new type of project on Thursday evening, March 10th. They are showing the movie "Odd Man Out", starring James Mason and Kathleen Ryan. It will be shown in the Chapel at 7:00. This movie, a dramatic thriller, with an unexpected climax is a man-hunt for a one-time political leader. The tickets for this movie will be 25 cents per person. If this venture is successful and there is an indication that the students like the idea enough to continue it, the Student Council will make arrangements to have other pictures shown.

"Most Valuable" Award to Budge

Mike Budge, Ithaca, was voted by his basketball teammates as the Alma Scots "Most Valuable Player" in voting completed yesterday afternoon. A forward, Budge played his last season of basketball for the Scots this year, ending up fourth in the individual scoring results after leading the list for two consecutive seasons.

Last season, Mike was voted a place on the all-MIAA second team following an honorable mention of the year before. His greatest efforts were in the Albion game at Alma last year when he sank 33 points against the Britons to lead Alma to a 77-71 win in a triple overtime. This is a post-war record at Alma College.

A member of Phi Phi Alpha Fraternity, he is a past president of that organization.

WSSF CAMPAIGN OPENS APRIL 4

Contributions to the World Student Service Fund Campaign, which opens here on April 4, will directly benefit university students and teachers in war devastated nations all over the world.

The World Student Service Fund, the only national organization pledged to give aid to university people in all parts of the world, regardless of race, color, or creed, is working today in Europe, China, and Southeast Asia.

The WSSF is the American representative of World Student Relief, and all the "relatively prosperous nations of the world have similar national committees to raise funds for student relief.

England and the Scandinavian countries, poor as they are, relative to us, raise more money per student for relief than the United States. Even China, which needs help in every category so badly, raises a given sum each year for aid to European students, as a token of student solidarity around the world.

Bob McComb, campaign committee chairman for the WSSF, stated that students abroad have inaugurated and are carrying on ingenious and comprehensive self-help programs. Mimeograph co-operatives in universities throughout Europe and Asia are reproducing the textbooks destroyed in the war; student laundries, shoe repair shops, restaurants, banks, have been created by the students themselves.

"They look to us for the things they cannot possibly produce themselves," Bob McComb said.

Cindermen Plan for Five Meets

With all MIAA schools loaded with talent this spring, the Alma Scots are setting out to try and make a creditable showing in the spring track field. To ready for the league field day scheduled to be run off at Kalamazoo on May 19-20, Coach Bruce Butler has listed dual meets with many old time Scots opponents, including Albion and Central.

Grand Rapids JC will be the first opponent and that right after the spring vacation which will necessitate a lot of work within the next month in order that the thinclads may sharpen themselves for the type of competition to be met. Something to be considered is that Albion and Adrian have done much in the way of indoor track through the winter months and that is bound to be a big factor when the field day rolls around. Adrian has had a schedule of 19 meets for the winter and spring months, including 8 indoor meets and 11 outdoor meets. The outdoor meets will include a triangular meet with Alma and Central, and with Albion and Wayne.

Track

- April 28—Grand Rapids JC
- May 2—At Albion
- May 7—Calvin
- May 9—Triangular-Central-Adrian at Central
- May 13—At Hillsdale
- May 20—MIAA Field Day
Coached by Bruce Butler.

Theta Tavern Lives up to T.T.M.M.F.

The annual "Theta Tavern" dance was held last Saturday night, March 5th, in the union. This dance sponsored by the Alpha Theta sorority successfully proved the slogan T. T. M.M.F. which has been used in the last two weeks to advertise this dance.

A definite tavernish atmosphere has been created for the dance from the tickets; imitation liquor cards, by the decorations; swinging doors, the bar, the barmaid, the gay-ninety murals, the candles, to the tavern-like floor show. The floor show opened with the traditional chorus line, followed by a quartet consisting Mary Ann Morris, Jean Austin, Ruthie Schmidt, and Janie Kohler. This was followed by a tavern dance scene, then Jeanie Minard as the tavern chateuse singer, then a chalk talk by Nancy Heering, and finished with a skit portraying characteristics of some of the well-known students on campus. To complete the tavernish atmosphere root beer was served from the bar by barmaid, Carol Mioskowski, and bar tender Lee Proctor.

Mrs. and Mr. R. E. Rufener and Miss Thomas acted as chaperones for the dance.

Carradine for Assembly

Richard Carradine will be the Alma College assembly artist when he presents "Shakespeare as you like it" on Wednesday, March 9. Mr. Carradine is the youngest member of the talented Carradine family. His formal theatrical training includes work at the Pasadena Playhouse. After three years work in Pasadena, Mr. Carradine left to accept the lead in the Crane Gilbert production "I Cast My Bread." The complex character of the young demented "Joe Weldon" in "I Cast My Bread" gave him a grand opportunity to display his ability. As a consequence he played in several parts with the Hollywood Repertory Company, among them "Romeo" and also "David" in Downstage Center.

Mr. Carradine's program will include:

HAMLET—"This too, too solid flesh" (Act I, Scene II); "Now I am Alone" (Act II, Scene II); "To Be or Not to Be" (Act III, Scene I); "Advice to the Players" (Act III, Scene II).

MERCHANT OF VENICE—Antonio to Shyloc (Act I, Scene III).

JULIUS CAESAR—Brutus Oration (Act III, Scene II); Anthony Oration (Act III, Scene II).

AS YOU LIKE IT—Seven Ages (Act I, Scene VII).

Phi's Crystal Ball on Sat.

The Phi Phi Alpha fraternity is making plans for its dance the "Crystal Ball" to be held Saturday night, March 12th, in the union. This dance promises to be quite different in atmosphere from the "Pirate's Den" which the Phi's have sponsored in the past. The Phi's are attempting something entirely new in decorating effects and are making this one of the main advertising pulls for the dance. There will also be refreshments and a floor show. The dance is to last from 8:00-12:00. Tickets for the dance will cost 35c stag and 50c drag.

Chairmen for this dance are Cass Hoffman and Hugh Harsha; general chairman, Jim Van Leuven; refreshments, Willy Hepner; tickets, Buzzy Snow; publicity, Gene Macri; decorations, and Bob Christenson; entertainment.

Science . . . Slave or Master?

No greater force since Christianity has played such an important role in our lives as modern science. Science, the Healer. Science, the Killer. Science which has raised the standard of living wherever it has touched. Science who has enslaved segments of our society as much as the feudal lords of the twelfth century. But we cannot blame science, for it is our own child—imp that it may be. If there were something better we should replace it. If it were altogether evil we could destroy it. Should we want to destroy a system which has added 30 years to every man's life span; that has given us comforts and prosperity? Obviously not.

Where then, is our danger in dealing with science? Why has it produced a world of fear through one more simple fact learned about the atom? Why has it enslaved men to the assembly line of machines so that there is no differentiation between the creator and the created?

The scientific method with its keen use of logic, experimentation, and ingenuity has been applied to every phase of man's environment save one, and herein lies the danger of modern civilization. We praise ancient Greece's wisdom in planning the ideal state—the ideal society, while we laugh at her feeble attempts to fathom her environment through alchemy. We attempt to apply her philosophy of the state, while we are amused at her witch's brews.

The only unchanging thing in our world is change. We are in a scientific age. We have passed through many civilizations since the glory that was Greece's. Let us not, then, seek to apply her theories to our society. In the last 1900 years Christianity has changed its mores, Judaism has become modernized to be compatible with science, but we in our governmental institutions, in our family life, and even in our schools are still ignorant of the changes about us, and indeed, seem at times to like it that way!

Pre-Fab House . . .

No longer need I fret and grouse,
For now I have my brand new house;
It came all sealed up in a box,
And only cost ten thousand rocks;
Its walls are filled with plastic wood
To make the wormy boards look good.

The door won't shut, but I don't care,
It saves the doorknobs wear and tear.
A river runs right past the door,
And now and then come through the floor,
But it's a-tilt, so what the heck,
The waves run off a cruiser's deck.

The roof is good, except it leaks,
And on the beds run little creeks.
I'll never tire of my new home,
Although it's not as good as some,
For here and there the timbers drape,
And soon 'twill be a different shape.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Students looking for summer positions as camp workers may get information concerning the following openings from Professor McCall, room 301, Administration Building.

Mr. B. R. Handley, 15454 Murray Hill, Detroit 27, Mich., a former student of Alma College, operates a camp for six weeks (July 1 to August 10) for boys. He is interested in obtaining one or more instructors who could assist in nature study projects.

George Williams College Camp located on Lake Geneva in Wisconsin, employs about 200 college and university students to perform the various services required for the operation of the camp which accommodates some 10,000 guests during the summer season.

In addition to the usual qualifications these young men and women must have high ideals—the type who would enjoy working with other young people of similar caliber in a camp of Christian background.

The Y. M. C. A. of Chicago is looking for qualified counselors and food service personnel for the staffs of two summer camps.

Alma College is sponsoring a personnel group in St. Louis and Alma. This organization is a community service which grew out of the efforts of Mr. Earl Peterson to obtain jobs for married veteran's wives living on the college campus. Mr. Peterson is President of the group and Mr. Everett Thompson of Midwest Refineries is Vice President. The group meets once a month to discuss problems of personnel. They debate problems of plant protection and hiring procedures. The group is a basis for contact for getting jobs in the Alma and St. Louis area.

THETA NEWS

The Theta's are proud and glad of the fact that our dance, the Theta Tavern, was such a success. Now that the dance is in the past we are concentrating our efforts on making sure that the approaching rushing parties will be a success also. Our first party, a tea, was held last Wednesday afternoon, March 2nd. We hope that all those who attended it enjoyed the party. This coming Thursday, March 10th, we will give our annual spread and the following week the formal dinner.

Tomorrow afternoon, March 9th, four members of our sorority will be heard over the radio in the form of a quiz program. This program will be the first of many sorority, fraternity programs to be given within the next few weeks.

PHI LIP

In the last issue of the Almanian I forgot the name of Bill Healey, who is a new member. The Phi's are having a magazine drive to raise money for new improvements on our house. The chairman for this drive is Jim Anderson. We would like to welcome back Duane Van Duzen who has returned from the hospital. Saturday is the night for the "Crystal Ball" in the Union. Be sure to remember this date.

Philo Files

Our Rushing Tea was very successful. We are now making plans for our spread.

We were sorry to hear that Beverly Yoder had been quite ill. It is nice to know that she is on the road to recovery.

Arrangements are being made for our Spring Formal. We are getting excited about it already.

Zeta News

The following men were formally initiated into the Zeta Sigma Fraternity Monday before last. Kenneth Burgess, Don Weir, Al Gannon, Walt Adams, Duke Smith, Wally Zelinsky, Doug Davey, David Bird, Norm Thomas, Bill Kauffold, Doug Roll, John Tyrell, Mel LaGrone, Dick Hinderliter, Dick Hook, Robert L. Acton, and Jim Sparling.

After the formal initiation the Fraternity held a banquet for the new members. Entertainment was furnished by members of the fraternity. We wish to thank Prof. Mitchel for the talk about Alma College and the Fraternity.

The Zeta House is under going some changes. We are putting asphalt tile in the main hall and one of the adjoining rooms. The front room will be pine-paneled to about forty inches from the floor. With this undertaking before us, we will be busy for quite a while. A few members are contemplating hanging out their shingle as "floor laying experts" after having worked in the hallway.

Preparations are being made for the spring formal. The date has not been definitely set yet, but will be around the 17th of April.

The Male and Easter Appearance

When Easter begins to roll around, thoughts usually turn to one of two things, vacation or clothes. While the fact remains obvious that we cannot tell you what to do with your spring vacation, perhaps we can help you somewhat with your wardrobe and how to select your new clothes for the Easter parade.

If you are in the market for a new suit there are a few basic rules that you should keep in mind. A man of below average build should try to select a suit that will tend to build up his stature. One with a long roll, notched lapel in worsted fabrics will do this job. The best bet for the taller man is a regular model double breasted suit in plain weaves or subdued patterns. While the person of average height can get away with most any style of suit, he should stick to flannels or worsted as far as material.

Where shirts are concerned, it seems that the average male has fallen hard for the "bold look" type of shirt, that is the new wide stitched hem and French cuffs. Here again, it is important to select the shirt to fit your own personal style. The man with the slender face should always try to pick out a shirt with the command or spread collar. This will create the horizontal line that is needed. Low slope, forward collar, with less spread between points will minimize breadth of the full-faced man, while the "average type" can wear any of several styles, although first choice is the regulation command collar.

If one color can be said to be best for most men, it's blue. It is basic in the wardrobe of well-groomed men. However, to take full advantage of blue, accessories should be carefully and properly coordinated to the suit and to each other.

Men who can wear brown are doubly fortunate. It's a color you don't tire of quickly because it goes well with either complimentary or contrasting shades in the various related accessories. When the correct tone-values are selected, "doing it up brown" can mean almost anything from green to gold, so there are many possible variations.

One of the many virtues of grey is the wide latitude it permits in accent colors. By remembering your own color-type, as well as basic color relationship, you can achieve any number of different effects, all of them correct. The important thing to remember is that colors going well together, go well with grey. Just how well, you can tell for yourself by the various accessories you try.

The line of your clothes and accessories are as important as color in creating a dominant, masculine impression. By choosing clothes proportioned to your size and stature it is possible to minimize physical shortcomings as easily as it is to emphasize good points. And above all remember that reputable stores employ qualified salespeople. Don't hesitate to ask for their advice, too.

"That's the improvements the Dean of Women requested."

Valpey Grabs Up Alma Mentor As Backfield Coach for Harvard 11

Steve Sebo, stocky little half-back from Michigan State will be pulling up his stake in Alma this week and head for the East and the Ivy League. Art Valpey, head football coach at Harvard University has selected Sebo to succeed Dave Nelson who resigned last week to accept a head coaching position at the University of Maine.

As backfield coach, Sebo will have a year round diet of football. Harvard works on a system of spring, fall, and winter football to sharpen up for the heavy schedule of competition which includes Columbia, Stanford, Army, and Yale.

In three years at Alma, Coach Sebo has built up a fabulous reputation as a football coach, culminating in the undefeated 1948 season. The MIAA championship came to the Sebo-coached charges after a fourth place in 1946, and 1947. The three year record for grid squads under Sebo is 15-7-1, and the Scots have been unscored upon in the second half of any ball game since the Hope contest of 1947—a record extending through ten games.

Basketball squads under Sebo have a record of 36-24, and the MIAA record is 16-14, including a second place tie for the past two seasons.

Urgency of Sebo reporting to Harvard is the start of spring football at the eastern school commencing on Monday.

Steve Sebo has helped the athletic department of Alma College to grow in the past three years. Many improvements in the gym, as well as in the physical education curriculum have been accomplished. During the past school year, he has worked hard on the establishing of a Physical Education Major at Alma College, which received approval of the State Education Department recently. At present, the Scots are leading in point totals for the MIAA all-Sports Trophy.

Bench Warming

The all-opponent teams are starting to appear in print, and from Central Michigan we learn that Chuck Saxton was rated number one guard on their mythical fighting five. Chuck sparked Alma in the final contest with Central to take scoring honors with 20 points although the Scots fell 64-50. Over at Hillsdale, six men were put on the all-opponents team, Alma receiving no positions. Three men from Hope, one each from Adrian, Kalamazoo and Albion made the list.

Bucky Walters, individual MIAA scoring champ for the past season, was picked as "Most Valuable" by his Kazoo College teammates last week. Pinky Honess, forward, received his team's honorary captaincy. Honess is in his senior year at Kazoo and has been a standout performer in basketball and track for the past three years.

Lou Black, that sharpshooting set-shot artist at Albion College closed out his collegiate cage eligibility this season and was voted as the Albion "Most Valuable." Forward Max Berry got the nod as honorary captain.

VAN HARDY, OLLIE ELLIOTT, BUD KOHLER, and WARREN HARTT are living together at the Seville Apartment-Hotel in Detroit. Van is a salesman for E. F. Goodrich, Ollie is selling for A. C. Spark-Plug, Warren is a salesman for a Comptometer Co., and Bud is employed by J. L. Hudson's.

GEORGE C. ALWARD, '48, is enrolled as a student at the American Institute for Foreign Trade, in Phoenix, Arizona.

Pioneer Prattle

Well! the men of Pioneer Hall finally know what fraternity life is like. Last week while some of the fellows were getting acquainted with the wonderful air encountered during mid-night walks in the country, others were at the frat houses getting first hand information about the use and effect of paddles.

Everyone here in Pioneer is still hoping Gene Goret's ship comes in pretty soon so we can take our cigarettes from their hiding places.

The new Pres. of the "Pioneer Lonely Hearts Club" is Harry Mack. He succeeds Carl Dephke.

Cesar Armestra is still trying to drum-up some business for his photography shop in the basement of Pionten. In his latest offer he maintains he can get for you a picture of any girl in Wright Hall for a nominal fee.

Tennis Hopefuls List Seven

Mr. William Stielstra will again coach the Scots tennis hopefuls as they attempt activity in the strong MIAA net circuit. With many of last year's players back and many newcomers to draw from, Mr. Stielstra is planning to pull some surprises in the conference meets dominated by Kazoo with its strong squads.

A new opponent for the locals this year is the University of Detroit squad, with meets scheduled on a home-and-home basis.

Gym Crew, Phifers Lead Cage Leagues

The Intra-mural Basketball race still has a week to go with 12 contests remaining unplayed, but the leaders are still pretty much the same as they have been in the past few weeks. In the White League, the Gym Crew has a 4-0 record, closely followed by the Phi Zebras and Zeta Zombies with 4 wins and one loss each.

Maroon League activity is not as close, but the remaining games would tell the outcome. Out in front with a 2-game edge is the high riding Phi Phifers five. Another Phi team, the Panthers, is tied with the Chargers for second position at present time.

The games will be concluded this week, with the championship playoffs next Tuesday night, March 15 in Memorial Gym. Times and teams playing will be announced in the next issue of the Almanian.

Reasoning Problems

Q. 1 An amoeba reproduces by fission. One amoeba divides and becomes two amoeba. One day a biologist placed a single amoeba in a clean glass jar in order to watch it reproduce. On the second day, there were two amoeba. One the third day there were four. On the fourth day all the amoeba doubled themselves again. And so on for 30 days when the amoeba filled the glass jar to the very brim. On what day was the jar half full?

A. I. On the 29th day. Remember that no matter how many days the process goes on, the entire collection of amoebae is assumed to double itself each day. On the 30th day, therefore, it must be contained in twice the volume as on the 29th day. Conversely, on the 29th day, the mass fills only half the jar.

Q. II. An explorer had heard of a strange country where the natives were divided into two castes: nobles and slaves. It was a strange thing further, that the nobles always told the truth and the slaves always told lies. He traveled to that faraway land and spying three natives, some distance away, shouted to them: "Are you slaves or nobles?" The first native shouted something back but the explorer did not hear him. The second native, seeing the explorer had not grasped the first man's answer, cried out: "He said he is a noble. And he is a noble. So I am a noble." The third native then cried: "Don't listen to him! He's a slave; but I, I am a noble". The question is: what was the first man, the second man, and the third man, noble or slave.

A. II. If the first native were a noble, he would tell the truth and say he was a noble. If he were actually a slave, he would tell a lie and say he was a noble. Therefore, the only thing he could have said was that he was a noble. When the second native shouted that the first man said he was a noble, he (the second man) was telling the truth, since that's what the first man must have said. So the second man is a noble. Since we now know that he (the second man) is a noble, and we also know nobles speak the truth, we identify the first man as a noble. The third native claims that the second one is a slave. But we have already proven that the second man is a noble. Therefore the third man must be lying, and is a slave. This is further proved when assuming he is a slave, we note that the third native tells a lie and claims to be a noble.

Alma College Drama Club to Stage Comedy

On March 18 and 19 the Drama Club of Alma College will present the three-act play "Apple of His Eye," in the Alma high school auditorium. This is a light comedy with Sam, a mild-mannered middle-aged widower who lives on a prosperous Mid-Western farm. The plot thickens when Sam's housekeeper becomes ill and a young girl from a neighboring farm comes to cook for him. The cast includes the following:

Mary Ann Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morris of 141 Storch, Saginaw, as Stella; Jerry Pozner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pozner of 1 Oxford Rd., New Rochelle, New York, as Foss; Judy Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Phillips of Highland Park, as Lilly; Glenn Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Rogers of 15534 Meyer, Allen Park, as Jude; George Lennox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mervyn Lennox of 1794 College, Ferndale, as Sam; Mary Jo Herren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Edward Herron of Frankfort, as Nine; Barbara Flaws, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Flaws of Standish, as Carol Ann; Russell Harvey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Harvey of 3681 Orchard View, Rochester, as Ott; Betty Lobenstein, daughter of Mrs. Edith Lobenstein of 2835 Lowry, Birmingham, as Nettie; and Doug Smith, son of Mr. Keith Smith of Tustin, as Glen.

At a recent meeting of the Drama club, the following Alma College students were elected to the club membership: Bill Castile, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Castile of 13284 Mark Twain, Detroit; Don Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Whitman of Riverdale; Jim Crossman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Crossman of 820 Long Lake Blvd., Lapeer; Donna Holland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Holland of 104 Williams, East Jordan; Judy Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Phillips of Highland Park; and Bill Torpy, son of Mr. Joseph Torpy of 233 Fremont, Peckskill, New York.

These students will be initiated at the candlelight formalities on February 24th.

The Drama club, which is growing in popularity daily, hopes soon to present its production on Alma's own campus. Plans for converting the Old Chapel into a "Little Theatre" are now being carried out under the supervision of the club's sponsor, Homer Parris, of the faculty.

Doctor Formerly at Alma College with Navy V-12 Claimed

Dr. Kenneth S. McIntyre, 47, ear, nose and throat specialist, formerly stationed with the V-12 unit at Alma College, died at his home in Hastings Sunday morning and his funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Episcopal church in Hastings. He had been ill for some time.

The Rev. Don Gury, church rector, officiated and burial was in Riverside cemetery there.

Dr. McIntyre was graduated from the University of Michigan medical school in 1925 and took his internship at Ann Arbor. In 1926 he had graduate work in ear, nose and throat at the University of Iowa. He later practiced in Grand Rapids and then in Hastings where he was associated with his father. On March 21, 1942, he received his commission as a lieutenant commander in the navy and was assigned duty at the Naval Air Station at Pensacola, Fla.

CANTERBURY CLUB

Our first meeting of this semester was done up in style as a dinner meeting. We tore ourselves away from Wright Hall chow that evening and dug into a meal of chicken pie and suitable trimmings. Did you know that Miss Parrish slings together a mighty fine chocolate cake? Even though it does come from a package. After the dinner was demolished, Stu Grove did a few Scottish songs and stories in a way that would turn Harry Lauder himself green with envy. Afterwards, Mr. Clarence Smazel, editor of the St. Louis Press spoke on his view of economics. Not surprisingly, Dr. Unstadt was on hand taking it all in, and apparently enjoying himself fully.

The next meeting, to be held February 16, will be a regular business meeting topped off by a discussion of the topic "Can Money Buy Everything?" Judging by the effects of a recent smaller scale discussion of the same topic, things should be quite lively, so come on down, members, and join the battle Wednesday.

The highlight of our meeting of February 16 was a very spirited discussion of the pro's and con's of "Money Can Buy Everything." Bill Blewett, may his soul rest in peace, fought for the affirmative, purely for the sake of argument, of course. Hugh Freeman assisted him, but we do believe the boys got a trifle snowed.

The club discussed sending two representatives to the student Provincial Eastern Conference at Orlatin Farms on June 2. Hugh Freeman has been chosen as representative.

Members of the club have volunteered to participate in the Lenten Thursday evening services, to which the whole club is invited.

"Witch nothing. — That's our housemother."

Our next meeting sounds as if it would have possibilities. It's to be a pancake supper on March 2, at 5:30 P. M., with ice skating afterward, if the weather co-operates. So come on, members, the more the merrier!

OCCUPATIONAL

Record-breaking college enrollments since the end of the war will in the next few years, result in increased competition for professional and administrative jobs, a Bureau of Labor Statistics report, prepared for Veterans Administration, revealed.

Vocational advisers and appraisers in VA guidance centers use the report as an aid in counseling disabled veterans planning to take courses of education and training.

Because of the unprecedented number of college graduates entering the labor market, the report said, employment requirements for many jobs "are likely to be raised."

The report suggests that veterans enter courses of education or training "as closely related as possible to their interests and capacities."

Those who plan to go into office occupations, the report continued, should "consider specific training in this field, as many employers prefer workers with well-rounded business school or college business administration training to those with college degrees in liberal arts."

A veteran seeking advisement and guidance from VA "should be made aware of the competition which he is likely to meet in many fields," the report said. "He will be well-advised to consider more of the less-crowded though perhaps less-glamorous fields, and to take courses which will enable him to qualify for more than one type of job."

Veterans taking institutional on-farm training under the G.I. Bill must submit reports of their 1948 earnings to their Veterans Administration Regional Office by March 1, 1949, in order to continue receiving subsistence allowances.

Failure to submit the reports before the deadline may result in suspension of subsistence payments until such time as the reports reach VA.

The reports—covering income from productive labor only, for the calendar year 1948—will be used by VA as the basis for adjusting each veteran's subsistence for the current year (1949).

Under the law, subsistence allowance will be reduced if a veteran's monthly income from productive labor plus his subsistence exceeds $210 a month if he has no dependents, $270 if he has one dependent, or $290 if he has more than one dependent.

"They need things like X-ray machines, so that they may find out what percentage of their number are tubercular; microscopes; mimeograph machines for the co-operative publishing units—the equipment they simply cannot get anywhere but here."

The Committee Chairman pointed out that the World Student Service Fund appealed only to college and university groups in this country, and that it constituted the only American source of help to university groups abroad.

"For that reason, I want to urge everyone at Alma College to give as much as he can to the WSSF when the drive starts," Bob McComb said. "When we give to the WSSF, we are helping our own colleagues—and we are the only group in this country to help them."

Prayer gets you half way to God; fasting brings you to the door, and charity lets you in.
