Queen, Court to Reign at Festivities

Queen Mary Lou Hartwick and attendants Sally Souders, Janet Anderson, Jean Spencer, and Katie Tilson will reign over tomorrow's Homecoming festivities.

In the Parade, they will ride on the freshman class float, and coronation will take place at the half time of the Alma-Adrian game.

Mary Lou, a junior from Plymouth, was elected Campus Day Queen her freshman year and was a member of the Campus Day Court last year. She is majoring in Sociology and plans, after graduation, to devote her time to work among delinquent children in one of the larger Michigan cities.

She is Vice-President of the Judicial Council of Wright Hall and Secretary-Treasurer of A.C.A., where she devotes a great deal of time working among Mexican Migrants in Alma.

Sally Souders, a senior from Alma, has been a member of three Homecoming and three Campus Day Courts since her sophomore year. She is majoring in foreign languages and plans to teach in a high school upon her graduation. Sally is a member of A.C.A., French Club, Choral Union and the Duo-Piano Ensemble. This member of the court is about to receive the title of "Mrs." in addition to her beauty awards, for she is engaged to be married to Lee Posey on December 17.

The second senior on the court, Janet Anderson, of St. Louis, is majoring in sociology in preparation for a career as an airline hostess. She is minoring in speech. Extra-curricular activities include being a majorette of the Kiltie Band; a member of the French Club; secretary-treasurer of the senior class and vice-president of the Kappa Iota Sorority.

A junior from Saginaw, Jean Spencer, is the third member of the Homecoming Court. Her freshman year was spent at Bay City Junior College. An education major, preparing to teach on the elementary level, Jean is a member of the Future Teachers of America and the Women's Judicial Council in the dormitory. She is pinned to Doyle McIntosh, an Alma graduate, and plans to be married next summer. Jean was also a member of the Campus Day Court in the spring of 1955.

Last, but not least, of the members of the court is Catherine, "Katie", Tilson, a business administration major from Rudyard. She is planning to teach commercial subjects after graduation. "Katie" is a member of the Kappa Iota Sorority, the French Club, and the Scotsman Staff. Her freshman year was spent at Soo Tech and she has been at Alma since the fall of 1954.

Congratulations to the lovely court for Homecoming of '55.

Scots Welcome '05 Grad

One of Alma College's most distinguished alumni returns to the campus for the 1955 Homecoming festivities. His name is the Rev. David A. Johnson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Nunn, Colorado. Rev. Johnson is a graduate of the class of '05 and will be celebrating a half century since graduating.

Following his graduation from Alma, he enrolled at McCormick Theological Seminary from which he graduated in 1908. He served the Marengo, Iowa, church from 1908-1914; Rock Island, Illinois, Central Presbyterian Church, 1914-1919; Englewood, New Jersey, West Side Church, 1919-1925; Kearney, Nebraska, First Presbyterian, 1925-1936. Rev. Johnson received his D.D. degree from Daniel Baker College, Brownwood, Texas, in 1943.

From 1936 to 1939 he devoted himself to the presentation of his original Passion Play in various parts of the Middle West and Southwestern parts of the United States.

Then again in 1939-1947, he served as pastor of the Austin Avenue Presbyterian church in Brownwood, Texas. In 1947 and '48 he moved to the Presbyterian church in Deport, Texas, First Presbyterian in Akron, Colorado, from 1948-1952 and in 1952 moved on to Nunn, Colorado, First Presbyterian Church, of which he is now pastor.

Homecoming Plans Complete

The Plans for the Alma College Homecoming for the 1955 school year have been completed. The activities will begin on Friday evening when there will be the annual pep rally at 8:00 p.m. On Saturday the Homecoming activities will begin at 8:30 a.m., when Dr. and Mrs. Harker will have a breakfast for the Class of 1930. This year is the 25th anniversary of that class.

The registration of alumni will take place in Tyler Center starting at 9:30 a.m. through to 5:00 p.m. This registration will begin at the corner of Charles Road and Superior Street just west of the college at 10:00 a.m. The following organizations will have floats in the Homecoming parade: Alpha Theta, Kappa Iota, Sigma Phi, Delta Gamma Tau, Phi Phi Alpha, Delta Sigma Phi, Campus Wives, The Woman's Athletic Association, the Freshmen float.

Several organizations will have lawn decorations in front of their residences. The following residences will have their lawns decorated: Bruske House, Delta Sigma Phi, Pioneer Hall, Wright Hall, Delta Gamma Tau and Phi Phi Alpha.

At 10:30 a.m. the annual Letterman's Coffee Hour will be held in Van Dusen Lounge. All of the graduates who have obtained athletic letters at the college are invited to that Coffee Hour.

At 11:30 a.m. the Alumni will gather in Van Dusen Commons for their annual Alumni Luncheon. The President of the Alma College Alumni Association, Dr. Russell Wilson, who is Superintendent of Schools at Alpena, will preside. A short business meeting is planned for the luncheon.

At 1:00 p.m. there will be several high school bands parading on Bahlke Field just prior to the football game. At 2:00 p.m. Alma College will meet Adrian College in the Homecoming game. The crowning of Mary Lou Hartwick, Queen of Scots, will be held at half time. Following the game coffee and doughnuts will be served in front of the chapel.

From 5:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. there will be an informal reception. See—HOMECOMING—page 3

Homecoming Lunch Broiled Steaks

We "chow hounds" here at Alma College always knew we were lucky having steak every Saturday night; and last Saturday we had an extra treat—they were charcoal broiled. The steaks, which were broiled on a grill right outside the window so we could watch, were "shot" in to us in the cafeteria line—and were they delicious!

If the weather man cooperates, we will have broiled steaks in the grove at noon on Homecoming day. Saga Food Service's standard is satisfying students—and they are doing it here at Alma.

Homecoming '55 Dedicated to Roecker

The Alma College community is happy to honor Mrs. Julia Roecker at the 1955 Homecoming.

Mrs. Roecker has been enthusiastically admired at Alma by all of her students, colleagues, and the entire Alma community. Her retirement has brought a great feeling of loss for the contribution which she made on the Alma campus presented a wonderful influence in the lives of students. Moreover, Mrs. Roecker was head of the fine arts department at Alma for twelve and one half years until her retirement last June. She taught studio art, ceramics, jewelry making, commercial art, interior decoration, history of art, art appreciation, and elementary and secondary art methods.

Mrs. Roecker was born in Saginaw, Michigan, and she attended Saginaw Eastside High School. She attended: Art School, Chicago Art Institute; Herron Art Institute, Indianapolis; The Chicago Art Academy; Landscape Painting at Booth Bay Harbor, Maine; Summer School of Painting, under Henry B. Snell and Landscape Painting at Provincetown, Mass., under Charles Hawthorne.

While studying at the Chicago Institute of Art, she met and married Henry Leon Roecker, and the couple settled in Chicago. Mr. Roecker was a famous artist. He died in 1941, prompting her return to Saginaw and her family home.

In January 1943, she accepted the position of Head of the Art Department here. Since her retirement in June, she is now residing in the Saginaw area and continues to paint and do the things she loves so much.

We are confident that many alumni will return to Alma on October 8th to visit with Julia Roecker and to give her the thanks that she so justly deserves.

A great Homecoming is being planned at your Alma mater again this year. This is an excellent occasion for Almaniens to return to the campus and participate in the festive activities, all designed for your enjoyment.

EDITORIAL:

Homecoming '55 Arrives

The Homecoming tradition at Alma is a beautiful one. During the weeks that precede, the campus seethes with the activity of preparation.

As in many other instances, the day will be all too short and the effort will seem somewhat wasted, but in the months ahead, we will find ourselves thinking again of the wonderful Homecoming '55. The hazing that ends Saturday will linger as a pleasant memory, and the hurts and regrets will be forgotten. The planning and preparation will be remembered not as the work and drudgery that they may have seemed at the time, but rather, as the fun, the group effort and the friendships that they encouraged.

Each Homecoming celebration, while different than all before, will undoubtedly bring to the minds of many returning alumni their own Homecomings while students at Alma. We hope that our efforts to make Homecoming '55 a happy occasion will make their visit to their Alma mater pleasant and that they will be reminded of the fun and fellowship that was theirs while students.

GUEST EDITORIAL:

On behalf of the present student body of Alma College, I extend a hearty welcome to the alumni, parents, and friends of the college who are returning for this year's Homecoming festivities.

Many changes will appear to you as you return to campus. Over the past six years there have been many material improvements on campus. Even more important, many old friendships will be renewed, and a tribute will be paid to a professor who has been loved and respected here for more than twelve years.

Homecoming is always a gala occasion at Alma; there are many events which lend to this spirit. There is a Homecoming Parade in which campus groups participate. There is a football game. There are luncheons and banquets sponsored by various alumni groups, classes, fraternities and sororities. And there is the traditional Homecoming Dance.

This year we pay tribute to a professor who has earned the love and respect of the students of Alma College since 1943. Prof. Julia Roecker of the art department has provided us with many keen human insights.

To us who are students, you, the alumni, represent what Alma College has been; you also present an example of what it will be. We are indebted to many of you for bringing us here, and we still look to you for guidance; as leaders in society, and as moulders of the traditions of friendliness which Alma College represents. We appreciate your continued interest and support of this tradition.

Homecoming comes to mean a great deal to us as we progress through four years of college. It has undoubtedly come to mean more to you as the years have passed. We hope that you will take time to share your experience with us; to note that the friendly atmosphere which you enjoyed is still at Alma.

Manager of the PX's of Lackland Air Base, San Antonio, Texas; Eugene is in business in Denver, Colorado; Elizabeth, now Mrs. Bernard Billings, lives in Los Alamos, New Mexico, where her husband is employed in the atomic plant. All are married and have families.

Aside from Rev. Johnson's pastoral ministry, his major interest has been dramatics, mostly Biblical and religious. He has written and produced nearly two hundred pageants and plays. One of his works, "THE DREAM THAT CAME TRUE", has been presented at a General Assembly.

It is also interesting to note that Rev. Johnson was the originator of the Phi Phi Alpha Society of Alma College, in 1901. As a tribute to the founder of the fraternity, Phi Phi Alpha Fraternity has asked Rev. Johnson to be the main speaker at their Alumni Banquet which invitation he has graciously accepted.

While attending Alma, Rev. Johnson took part in a number of extra-curricular activities. He was a star performer on the football squad in 1904 and 1905. Also, he represented the college in wrestling and the hammer-throw. He placed first in the hammer-throw one year and second in welter weight wrestling one year in the intercollegiate.

Certainly we are all looking forward with much pleasurable anticipation to meet and greet one of Alma's most distinguished and esteemed alumni.

Highland Masquers Meet

At the first meeting of the Highland Masquers several matters were discussed. Fred Wyngarden was elected treasurer to fill the vacancy left by Tom Scholl, and Jodie Lilley was appointed reporter to the almanian. The rules for membership were given to the apprentices, all of whom will work on the first play. Tryouts will be held for "An Inspector Calls", October 12 and 13 from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. All students are urged to attend tryouts to make the first production a success.

President Robert Fritz announced to those present that the Highland Masquers is a working organization in which every member takes an active part to retain his membership.

WSGA

Judicial Council, the governing body of the Women's Self-Government Association, has started for this year. The officers are: Marcia Jones, Pres.; Mary Lou Hartwick, Vice-Pres.; Elsie Heusel, Secretary; and Marge Hannah, Treasurer. Besides these four, there are representatives from each floor of Wright Hall, from each sorority, from Bruske, from the freshmen class and from the town girls.

This year, the dormitory assistants are working as ex-officio members of the Council.

The council, under the supervision of our advisor, Mrs. Vreeland, has set up a tentative program of events for this year. The Open House for women's residences will be held Sunday, October 16, from 3-5 with refreshments served at Wright Hall. This year, the women's residences are going to have lawn decorations for Homecoming. The general chairman for this is Jean Spencer.

In the near future the Council is going to sponsor the "Big-Little Sister Party" for all Alma College women.

Some of the other events that the women will sponsor include: "Buddy Week", a Christmas Party, a Spring Tea, and the annual "M" Day.

UNDERWOOD TO SPEAK AT FRAT BANQUET

Delta Sigma Phi will welcome back a brother as guest speaker at their annual Banquet. Sam J. Underwood, well known former Alma College professor and Publicity Director, will return to the campus for Homecoming activities and be the guest speaker at the Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity's Alumni Banquet. The banquet will be held at the Marl-View Inn.

Professor Underwood, who was very well known about the Alma College Campus, left at the end of the last academic year to accept a position at the Michigan State University, where he holds a Professorship and also is continuing study toward his Doctorate.

The World on Parade

Denver—President Eisenhower continues his "satisfactory" recovery from a heart attack. After Sunday's fatigue, which had the doctors worrying, the president was reported to be in good condition. A medical bulletin stated that "the heart shadow was normal and unchanged from an X-ray taken last year. As to the continued functioning of the government, President Eisenhower last Monday sent a brief note to Vice-President Nixon asking that he continue to preside over both the Cabinet and the National Security Council.

Washington—The Atomic Energy Commission announced that it was trying to find a way of harnessing the hydrogen bomb to get at vast resources of cheap power from sea water by creating a "miniature sun" on earth. They said that the research project was a long-ranged one and declined to mention the amount of money which would be used.

New York—Renewed anxiety over the President's condition caused another recession in the stock market—the second in one week's time. The value of all listed shares was estimated to have dropped over four billion dollars. Wall Street sources cited the lack of encouraging news about the President's condition as the influencing factor.

Ann Arbor—Under-secretary of Agriculture Morse, speaking before state farm leaders Monday, said that the worst of the post-war agricultural adjustment was over. Morse mentioned two basic reasons for this. He said that surpluses would begin to work down in 1956 bringing consumption and production more closely into balance, and that farm values, with the stepped-up retirement of mortgages, were back up to their 1952 peak.

Buenos Aires — Argentinian politics as of last Monday, continued in an unsettled state. Twenty generals were arrested for conspiring to overthrow the provisional government and establish a pro-Peron dictatorship. Among the twenty were all fourteen of Peron's junts. Increased unrest was attributed to Peron's statement that he would some day return to Argentina.

Klugh Attempts to Find Importance of Intelligence Relative to Good Grades

For many years psychologists have believed that there is more to successful college achievement than just intelligence. In line with this theory, Dr. Henry Klugh, Professor of Psychology at Alma College, has done research in order to determine the relationship between various tests given to college students and the combination result. Professor A. M. Bendig of the University of Pittsburgh compiled the information. The outcome of their endeavors will be published in the Journal of Consulting Psychology, probably in the December, 1955 issue. One hundred eight-four men and women undergraduate students, enrolled in a one-semester introductory psychology course during the 1954 fall semester, were used as subjects for this study. These students had taken four types of tests, the results of which were used in the sample testing experiment.

In explaining the reason for his research, Dr. Klugh said that he wanted to find out if the results of personality (anxiety scale), intellectual (cognitive ability), and temperament tests can be combined to predict academic achievement. This experiment is just one step toward the goal of finding out what is important to getting good college marks besides intelligence.

Dr. Klugh is a graduate of Geneva (Pa.) College. He received his master's degree from the University of Pittsburgh and his Ph. D. from the same institution this past summer. This is his first year on the Alma College faculty.

College Literary Society Admits Five

Four students and an honorary member were admitted to Parnassians, college literary society, at last Sunday's meeting. A program of poetry selections from six members was also presented.

The new members are: Dr. Grace Nichols (honorary), Carole Popek, Fran Davey, Jodie Lilley, and Robert Warner. Members who presented the program of poetry are: Bob Woods, Bob Fritz, George Spriggs, Tom Scholl, Eugene Pattison, and Richard McMullen.

Eugene Pattison, president of Parnassians, has announced that students are welcome to join the group by submitting original writing. The next regular meeting will be held in the Men's Lounge of Tyler, Sunday, October 16, at 7 p.m.

ALPHA THETA

The Thetas, like the other Alma College organizations, are in full swing with homecoming preparations. The banquet, to be held Saturday evening, will be programmed as follows: dinner; welcome to the alumni by President Edna Williams; quartet number, "Jezebel", sung by Edna Williams, Carolyn Taylor, Marilyn Mott, and Connie McCall; "Theta of the past," Ginny Larke; "Theta of the present," Marilyn Mott; "Theta of the future," Dorothy Harker; and, concluding the program, another quartet number, "Up the Lazy River."

Float co-chairmen, Elfrieda Beyer and Connie McCall, report that their project is also progressing nicely.

DELTA GAMMA TAU

Tomorrow is the big day that we've all been awaiting. The brothers of Delta Sigma Phi have all pitched in and worked diligently on the house and the float and other things that had to be done in preparation for Homecoming, and it looks as if everything will be in tip-top shape.

Under the direction of House Manager Bob Wallace, a Field Day was held Thursday and a great deal was accomplished. "Mom" MacLean's room had the finishing touches applied to it and many objects felt the slap of a paint brush or the swish of a broom and a mop.

By Thursday, we also had our pool table in top shape. Some of the brothers drove to Saginaw Tuesday to buy the necessary materials, and under the direction of Bob Atkins it was soon back in top playing shape.

We're very glad to welcome back all our alumni and especially Brother Sam Underwood. Mr. Underwood is scheduled as our guest speaker at our Alumni Banquet which is to be held at the Marlview Inn. By indication of letters it looks like many alumni will be present for this year's Homecoming activities.

All freshmen and independent men are invited to stop at the house anytime.

DELTA SIGMA PHI

We, the active members of Delta Gamma Tau, deem it a privilege to welcome back the alumni and the Deltas of the years gone by. There are many new and different sights to be seen on our campus during homecoming.

All of the Delt alumni are invited to attend our annual Homecoming banquet, to be held this year at the Hess Park Hotel in St. Louis at 6:30 in the evening. We expect it to be a gala event in the true Delt style. Lee Posey, who is chairman of our building committee, will tell of the progress of our proposed new house. Lee has already taken great strides toward our goal. His hard work will be a stepping stone for greater achievements. Our President, George Spriggs, will tell of present and future activities. Songs from the Deltairs will complete the evening.

Dave Stockham, Jim Nowka, Jim Hawkins and Walt Kiska have been measuring, hammering and sawing on the new upstairs room at the Delt House. Ken Magnuson and Spence Cordes, who are in charge of the lawn decorations, are credited with other changes to be seen around the house at this year's Homecoming. Congratulations on the float go to Dick Beardsley, Ed Pitts and Gay Snyder. We think they did a good job. We hope that this year's Homecoming will be a big success for Alma College.

KAPPA IOTA

Kappa Iota was glad to welcome Mary deVries and Betty Burns, each back for a day when they were visiting here at Alma, and the sorority is looking forward to seeing alumni at the Homecoming banquet. Committees for the banquet, which will be held at the Hess Park Hotel in St. Louis, are: Programs—Katie Tilson, Janet Potter, Sandy Markham, and Shirley Colby; and Decorations: Marilyn Castile, Lyleen Schnackenberg, Gail Sutherland, and Jeanne Lyons.

The central planning committee for the float was Pinky Persinger, Dorothea Houston, Lotus Witham, Marge Clark, and Ann Reavy, and all the K. I.'s have been working on it.

PHI PHI ALPHA

Phi Phi Alpha has taken an active role in both the academic and social activities on the Alma college campus for some fifty-seven years. The present day Phi Phi Alpha Fraternity was founded back in 1898 as a literary society whose purpose was "the development of a correct literary taste and of the power of precise and ready expression." The organization acquired fraternity status in 1926. Fraternity activities were suspended during the war years of World War II, but were once again resumed in January of 1946, after the end of the war. Following their reorganization, the brothers of Phi Phi Alpha continued their conscientious endeavors not only within their own group but by representation in many of the other organizations and athletic teams on campus.

Since its initiation the fraternity has lived in three homes. After the great fire of 1932 the Phi Phi Alpha fraternity moved into the well known Wright house on State street. Two years later the fraternity moved from this house to the one the fraternity purchased in 1939. Due to the suspension of Phi Phi Alpha fraternity during the war, the house was occupied by the dean of women.

A final point of interest, by way of information, is the name of the fraternity itself. Phi Phi Alpha are the initial letters of a Greek phrase which translated freely reads "affectionate brothers of learning."

The Phi's, past and present, are having their annual Homecoming Banquet at the Masonic Temple again this year. The Rev. David R. Johnson will be the speaker at the dinner which is at 6:00 p.m. Saturday of the Homecoming weekend.

The Phi's wish to invite all the alumni and students on campus to drop over to see all our new handiwork. The gang has really gotten to work and miracles have been done in transforming the frat house.

SIGMA PHI

Sig Phi's welcome back all alumni for Homecoming, October 8, 1955. May Mrs. Roecker thoroughly enjoy herself.

After the game, Sigma Phi members, parents, and alumni will attend the Homecoming Banquet at the Rebekah Lodge at 6:00 p.m. Pat Anderson will give the welcome to our guests and lead the program. Betty Joyce Catlin will show slides of previous Homecomings and other memorable events throughout the years.

Dr. King Writes Own Text

Dr. Rex King, professor of economics at Alma College, is in the process of compiling a textbook on Practical Economics. He began working on it last summer and will continue through the winter and into next summer. He has completed the first draft of it and has yet to revise and document his ideas.

What first prompted Dr. King to write this text was the lack of information on personal economics in other texts. In his book, five chapters are devoted to how the individual should manage his own income, savings, and buying. He is appealing to the average student and other readers to enable them to apply economics to their own lives, rather than to just regard it as remote information. For example, Dr. King shows the factors involved in buying or renting a home and buying an automobile. He also emphasizes the importance of understanding economics so that a person can vote intelligently.

This material is in addition to the standard information on economics, approached conventionally and more easily understood, which is also included.

At present, he is using the syllabus in his classes at Alma to get the students' criticisms and to establish the usefulness of the work.

Dr. King received his B.S. degree from Michigan State University in 1944, M.A. in 1947 from Washington State College, and his Ph. D. from M.S.U. in 1950. This is Dr. King's second year at Alma, having previously taught at Oklahoma City University.

tion for Mrs. Julia Roecker, who is to be honored at the Homecoming this year. This reception will be held in Van Dusen Lounge, and all people who have known Mrs. Roecker are invited to stop and visit with her at that time.

In the evening the sororities and fraternities are having their annual banquets, and following those, the Homecoming dance will be held in Tyler Auditorium.

There are two classes that are going to be especially honored this year at the Homecoming activities. They are the Class of 1905 and the Class of 1930. Dr. Johnson, who is a member of the Class of 1905, is coming the longest distance to the reunion of this Class. His home is in Nunn, Colorado. The Class of 1930 is holding a 25th anniversary dinner in the Park Hotel at St. Louis on Saturday evening. There are 36 members of the Class of 1930 still living.

KSTC Allows More Hours

Pittsburg, Kans.—(I. P.)—Students at Kansas State Teachers College will be able to take an average of one more semester hour of work, beginning with the new academic year, as a result of a recent ruling by the Administrative Council. "The Council boosted the amount of work allowed," said Dr. Ernest Mahan, Dean of Instruction.

Normally the regular schedule of classes has been for 15 or 16 semester hours each semester, not counting physical education or military science. "The better the student's grade," explained Dr. Mahan, "the more hours the student will be allowed to take." Heretofore, a student doing average work received a grade point of 1 for all "C" grades, 2 points for "B", and 3 points for "A". Under the new plan, a student with grade points totaling 16 will be able to take 16 hours, those earning 24 grade points 17 hours and those earning 30 grade points 18 hours. These are exclusive, of course, of physical education and military science.

Autumn

Jodie Lilley

The autumn sky tastes like custard; the tangerine sun rolls huge on its glowing axis. Just yesterday it was summer with ice cream clouds melting in Apollo's volcano. I dropped my thoughts and scampered to the top of the hill. This new season has captured and enclosed me in its radiance. The variegated leaves turn over for me; I gather them and hug them, for they are the beginning, not the end of life.

I cannot keep autumn for myself; I must share it with winter, who will soon carry away my tangerine custard dessert and leave me a full course meal of frost. Within me will remain the palatable autumn.

Come, feast with me on the commencement of always!

Distinguished Philosopher

One of Alma's distinguished graduates who was scheduled to appear at Homecoming of 1955 but at the last moment was unable to attend is Dr. Ralph Tyler Flewelling, graduate of the class of 1895. After attending Garrett Biblical Institute, he went to Boston University where he was given the degree of S.T.B. from the School of Theology in 1902. In 1909, he received an honorary degree (L.L.D.) from B. U. The University of Southern California recognized his work by granting him an honorary degree of Litt. D. in 1945. He went to U.S.C. as Professor of Philosophy in 1917 and built the department into the well-known School of Philosophy, housed in a beautiful building as well as building up an outstanding library of philosophy which contains many rare books and also excellent reference material.

Dr. Flewelling founded and edits The Personalist, which is now in its 36th year of publication. This magazine is devoted to philosophy, literature and religion; and is distributed to many libraries throughout the world as well as to individual subscribers.

He is now retired as Director of the School of Philosophy at the University of Southern California, but is Director Emeritus and continues the editing of The Personalist. He was appointed the western states representative to the World Congress of Faiths and was also appointed to the Advisory Commission on the Christian University for Japan. He participated in the Conference on Science, Philosophy, and Religion at Chicago in 1946 and at Philadelphia in 1947.

Dr. Flewelling's two most recent books are "The Survival of Western Culture", published by Harper and Brothers in 1944, and "The Things That Matter Most," by Ronald Press Company in 1946. The latter is used as a text in many university and college classes on "values."

Alma College "rolls out the red carpet" for its many honored and distinguished graduates.

Reid-Knox Administration Building

Sophisticated Look
To Prevail

"(iotl favored this country jw no other land on earth. The day it* coming when we shall he held accountable for our heritage, whc*n the whole world will look to us f(*r guidance."

— Frank Knox

This dedication is a reminder for us of the extreme kindness extended to Alma College by Annie Keid Knox when she bestowed upon us the Reid-Knox Administration Building.

Pros. Marker announced early last September that the building would start immediately. Last winter we all watched the various steps in the erection of this lasting gift by Annie Reid Knox.

On April 27, amid the clutter and debris of the almost finished building, the Cornerstone Ceremony was held at 11:00 a.m. Presiding over the ceremonies was Pr*s. Marker, and featured in the program were Oscar Anderson and Leslie P. Kefgen, both alumni of the class of '14, and partners in the Northern Supply Co. Mr. Kefgen wa.< a former trustee of the college Mrs Knox was un-aide to be present.

The formal dedication of the building was held at 2:45 p.m. on Commencement Day, June 4, 1955. Annie Reid Knox was present for this ceremony. The presentation was made to Stephen Nesbitt of Fremont, Michigan, who is President of the Board of Trustees and Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire was the speaker.

Annie Reid Knox now resides in Manchester, New Hampshire. She and her husband were both graduates of the clas.# of 1898. He was a member of Zeta Sigma, and was in the Spanish American War, tin* Editor of the Chicago Daily Newt. In 1936, Frank Knox ran for the vice-presidency on the Republican ticket.

Mr*. Knox also provided our building with its furnishings, modern office equipment, and landscaping.

The building, completed June 6th, is of colonial design. There were two purposes for the erection of this building: 1) To provide offices for administration, and 2» To be a permanent memorial to Col. Knox

Mrs. Annie Reid Knox during the dedication of the new Administration Building.

Jerry Tyler Student Center

.When my doors opened February 26, 1953, to happy people in evening clothes for the dedication dance. I was the proudest building on campus, for these people and those who have succeeded them were made happy by me. They can see stage plays, hear concerts, and dance in my auditorium. In my recreation room they can watch TV and play ping pong and pool. In my snack bar they can refresh themselves, and in my three lounges they can relax and have fellowship.

Of course, the original people responsible for me and my contribution are those gracious people. Mr. and Mrs. Leon Tyler. They donated me as a memorial to their son, Mr. Jerry Tyler and his family, who died in a Chicago hotel fire in 1949. Jerry was a trustee of Alma College, as is Mr. Tyler, senior, and the whole family wanted the Alma students to have a place like me. So, here I am. an architect's masterpiece. I remember that the students wouldn't believe that I was possible, so construction on me began the last day of school in 1953 just to prove that I would soon be a reality.

There are many memories of smiles and tears held tightly within my walls, but they are secrets given to me by Alma students, whom I'd never betray. By the way. I'm the Jerry Tyler Student Center!

Van Dusen Commons

Next to Tyler Center stands a building similar in design but different in purpose. That is, the main activity there is eating, even if there are long lines and much conversation. There is also a lounge, which is infrequently used, for relaxation after the repast. This building is me. Van Dusen Commons, formally opened in October, 1953, and humbly given to Alma College by Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Van Dusen. Both Tyler and I were designed by Lewis Sarvis, graduate of '18. who planned the new girls' dormitory, too. His idea is to have we three buildings form a "u" around the Chapel with the great spire coming up from the middle. I'll be quite impressed to have the girls so close to me!

What I enjoy looking at as I stand on the campus are the windows in me. They were once in the Chapel, but when I was built, I got them. I understand they represent the history of the Reformation in ten European countries, each panel depicting important events in the development of Protestant thought.

Well, as I was saying, the students eat here and I believe they have nice surroundings. That's all I have to say, so I'll let the busboys and waitresses do the rest of the work.

The Chapel

On May 7, 1940 an important announcement was made to the students of Alma College. Money had just been received for the College Chapel which had long been awaited by the student body. Mr. Adam E. Armstrong, a Three Rivers (Mich.) manufacturer, had made final arrangements with the school. Mr. Armstrong's donation of $25,000 had made it possible for the college to go ahead with the chapel.

Work was begun in June of that year and was completed early in 1941. This building was the first of a list of buildings drawn up by the board of trustees. Tyler Center, Van Dusen Commons and Reid Knox Administration Building, plus the new girls' dorm, were on the list at that time.

Included in the new building were a complete set of Mosaic windows and a set of four chapel bells donated by the Memorial Presbyterian Church of Detroit the year before. A new addition has since been added, making room for the organ. In order to install the pipes of the organ, the windows were transferred to Van Dusen Commons.

The Chapel on Alma's campus has steadily grown to be the center of religious activity. The building itself is noted for its early American style with simple and quiet interior.

People coming to visit Alma always want to see the Chapel of which they have heard and seen so much. We can readily thank Mr. Armstrong and all of the other generous people for their inspired and wonderful gift.

Hazing Ends Tonight

by Isabel Coubrough

Monday morning one of Alma's annual traditions began. Signs, beanies, and green bows were to be seen all over campus as hazing officially got underway.

At 10:15 the preceding Sunday night ninety-one freshman girls walked down the stairs of Wright Hall which were lined with the girls of the Sophomore Class. They assembled on the floor of the lounge where roll was taken by Bernie Kolarov, Nancy Hoeflin was head commissioner. The girls were told that they were the lowest creatures on the Alma College campus, not even to be compared with the lowly groundworm much less their sophomore sisters. All freshmen were to be hereby known as "Filthy Frosh." All signs were to be completed by breakfast the following morning and the ruffles were to be added by 5:00 that evening.

Monday morning arrived and out came the freshmen with all their equipment. Some were self-conscious at first, but by the end of the day they confessed that they were having loads of fun, and although the signs were somewhat inconvenient the frosh soon got used to them. By the way, no frosh could speak to members of the opposite sex all week except to say "Hi". You can imagine how long this lasted.

Each day brought its new adventures and outfits. On Tuesday each girl had to wear two unmatched shoes, one knee sock and one nylon. Wednesday, no make-up was allowed and the girls were instructed not to set their hair the night before. The funniest sight of all was to see them parading all over campus with some big animal in their possession. The animal was to be no less than six inches long. Sound funny? It was.

Thursday was pigtail day for the freshman girls of Alma College. The number agreed upon by the Sophomore Girls was seven.

Since Friday is the day we all go to Chapel, it was decided that we should let the girls look half-way decent for a change. So dark skirts and white blouses were the dress for the day. For an accessory, the girls were to wear a long earring, and their faces were to have half-makeup on them. It was truly a charming sight.

Along with these particular incidents, all freshmen were required to learn the Alma Mater, the Varsity Song, two cheers, and the names of five sophomores on the football team. At any time the freshmen might be asked to leave their places in chowline to join in a group in singing the Alma Mater or Varsity Song for the upperclassmen. Freshmen choir members frequently found themselves singing a rendition of the Alma Mater for the other members.

One night during hazing was designated "Hell Night." In the wee hours of the morning the sleepy freshmen girls were gently (??) awakened by the sophomores and the soft sound of a girl's voice screaming at the top of her lungs. They were led through an obstacle course, up and down flights of stairs and finally ended up in the basement, walking through a bunch of glob which no one could actually describe, where they were told the story of the poor frosh who couldn't take hazing and of what happened to her many years ago. To make it complete all sorts of little items were used. In case I forgot to mention it, all the freshmen girls were blindfolded. A horrible time was had by all (the frosh, that is).

Hazing officially will end tonight with the Kangaroo Court, the pep rally, and the snake dance through town. The frosh took everything in their stride and were swell about it all. Everyone who had a part in hazing, sophomores as well as freshmen, had a great time and a deep sense of fellowship and friendliness is the result.

Congratulations, frosh! You have arrived.

The Marriage Trap

"Until the modern young woman can change the stigma of "Miss" to the magic "Mrs.", she can't relax, she can't hold her head up in good society, she can't even think." This is the charge made by Kate Hevner Mueller, an education professor at Indiana University, in her article, "The Marriage Trap" in the September issue of Mademoiselle.

Miss Mueller goes on to point out that marriage changes inversely with the national economy. Working in the first few years of marriage may not seem to be much of a sacrifice, but by working, she doesn't keep up with the world.

Marriage partnership is still the most rewarding of all human relationships. But the partnership should remain not only in good times, but also through difficulties.

This kind of marriage can be attained today only if men can acknowledge intellectually that women are not inferior. Until that time, women must be strong enough and tactful enough to call their bluff.

Procrastination

"Procrastination is the thief of time and the enemy of progress" or bluntly a sixty-four dollar word for putting off today what can supposedly be done tomorrow.

Procrastination warps ability, destroys initiative and challenges happiness. If you doubt that statement, wouldn't you have proved your actual ability, shown your initiative and been happier had you not crammed for your English test, or tried to finish a two weeks chemistry notebook in two nights?

The wheel of cheating is the next escape when procrastination steps in. This vicious wheel spins deeply into character until it becomes a habit for students to hand in what their friend has done. It is "cute" for immature students to see a fellow student "get away with murder in the classroom," in the cheating line. No stable person condones such a practice for nothing is gained. Thus wasting time has again struck a bad note.

All of us are procrastinators at some time. But none of us have ever gained from the practice at any time. Be selfish with time. Use every moment of it to your best advantage.

Hot Scots Humble Hornets

Alma ripped open a stubborn Kalamazoo defense, and went on to win their third straight game 15-6. The Scots now have stretched their winning streak to 4 in a row, counting last year's 49-0 rout of Olivet.

The Scots expected a battle when they got to Angell Field in Kalamazoo, and they got it.

Alma won the toss of the coin and elected to receive, but they could go nowhere, thus were forced to kick. Kalamazoo, after making a first down, punted to their own 48. On the first play from scrimmage, Sophomore Tom Johnson, who was filling in for the ailing Marv Raab, broke through the line, and exploded past the surprised secondary for Alma's first touchdown. Not a man touched Johnson on his 48 yard jaunt. Ayling's attempted extra point was wide, and Alma led early in the first quarter, 6-0.

But it didn't take the Hornets long to get back into the game as quarterback Fowler passed to halfback Jim Smith. The dumb-founded Scot secondary watched as Smith completed his run covering 53 yards. Tackle Walchyna's extra point attempt was wide, and the score was knotted at 6-6 with 9:07 gone of the first quarter.

Alma wasn't to be denied, as the Scots' Jack Kring recovered a Hornet fumble on the Kalamazoo 23 yard line, and after a short sustained drive, hard-running junior full-back Frank Lawrence banged over from the one yard line. This time Ayling's kick was good, and Alma led 13-6 at the end of the first quarter. From this point on Alma played a defensive game, with the Scots stopping Kalamazoo on the Alma one foot line as the half ended.

The second half saw two hard charging lines. Prominent in the Alma line were Chuck Morrison and Frank Pierson, both ends. Eric Sundeck, center, freshman from Saginaw, played a good game at center and linebacker, and Bob Hill stood out in the Scot defensive backfield.

Alma's final two points came on a safety, as the rugged Scot line forced the kicker to get rid of the ball too quickly. The result was that the ball hit one of the Kalamazoo players and rolled out of bounds.

These were Johnson's and Lawrence's first touchdowns in their college career, and Coach Lloyd Eaton said they couldn't have come at a more opportune time.

This week the Adrian Bulldogs will tangle with the Scots. The Bulldogs will be led by fullback Brian Graffa who compiled a total of 112 yards against Alma last year. A much improved ball club, Adrian also has a smooth passing attack which will give the Scots some trouble.

Alma's Football History

By John Noud

Each football season the leading football powers come forth with a host of statistics to show how their gridders have ranked through the years.

Upon reading these I began to wonder how Alma has stood the test of time. Here are the interesting facts as related to Alma's '55 opponents:

1955 SCHEDULE

Sept. 24 Northern Michigan	1	0	0
Oct. 1 Kalamazoo	24	17	4
Oct. 8* Adrian	14	1	1
Oct. 15 Hillsdale	22	15	2
Oct. 22* Olivet	29	9	0
Oct. 29 Albion	28	21	5
Nov. 5* Ferris Institute	18	3	1
Nov. 12* Hope	16	9	4

* Home Games

A little mathematics shows that in M.I.A.A. competition Alma has won 126 while losing 72 for a percentage of .636. It is interesting to note that we are on the favorable side of the ledger against every league foe.

Coach Eaton in his sixth year as head coach has a 35 won, 16 lost, and 2 tied record.

What's in a Touchdown?

"Jack, this football game is going to be so-o-o exciting. Oh, look, here comes the fellows now. Which one is ours, Jack, which one is ours? Oh, look at that monster, number 37. Isn't he cute and he's so tall. Don't you think he looks like the masterful type, Jack?"

"Well, they finally got through those silly exercises. I can't understand why they wait until the game to practice. Why do you have to be so athletic to make the team? If all they do are those exercises, my mother could have made the team years ago. Oh, that man with the prison jacket is going to blow his whistle. Oh, Jack, isn't this exciting? At last they're going to kick off. That's what you call it, isn't it, Jack?"

"I think our team has more stylish uniforms, don't you, Jack? But say, what are those darling little numbers and dials at the end of the field that keep flashing numbers, Jack? . . ."

"Goodness, is the game over? I must say it was an eventful evening, even if you didn't do much talking, but I still don't understand what that little man was out there for. All he did was run up and down dropping his handkerchief.

"Honestly, football is so exciting, Jack, although those fellows on that other team were overdoing it a bit by making so many touchdowns and not even giving our fellows a turn.

"Really, Jack, I had a good time. You were quiet but that was probably because you were interested in the game. This certainly has been an educational evening. Thanks a bunch, Jack. 'Nite. . . ."

Looking Ahead

By John Noud

In a football season a couple of weeks are oftentimes seem an eternity and then again a single game can make a successful season.

These may very well apply to Alma's football team. Flushed with three straight victories they face a much improved Adrian and a powerhouse Hillsdale in their next two encounters.

Adrian is definitely not the Adrian of yesteryear. A new $60,000 stadium and an influx of strong freshmen have inspired them to 22-19 and 25-12 decisions over Wilmington and Defiance. Albion defeated them 13-7 last week but the loss brought small joy to Coach Eaton, for Albion is regarded as the 2nd or 3rd top team in the conference.

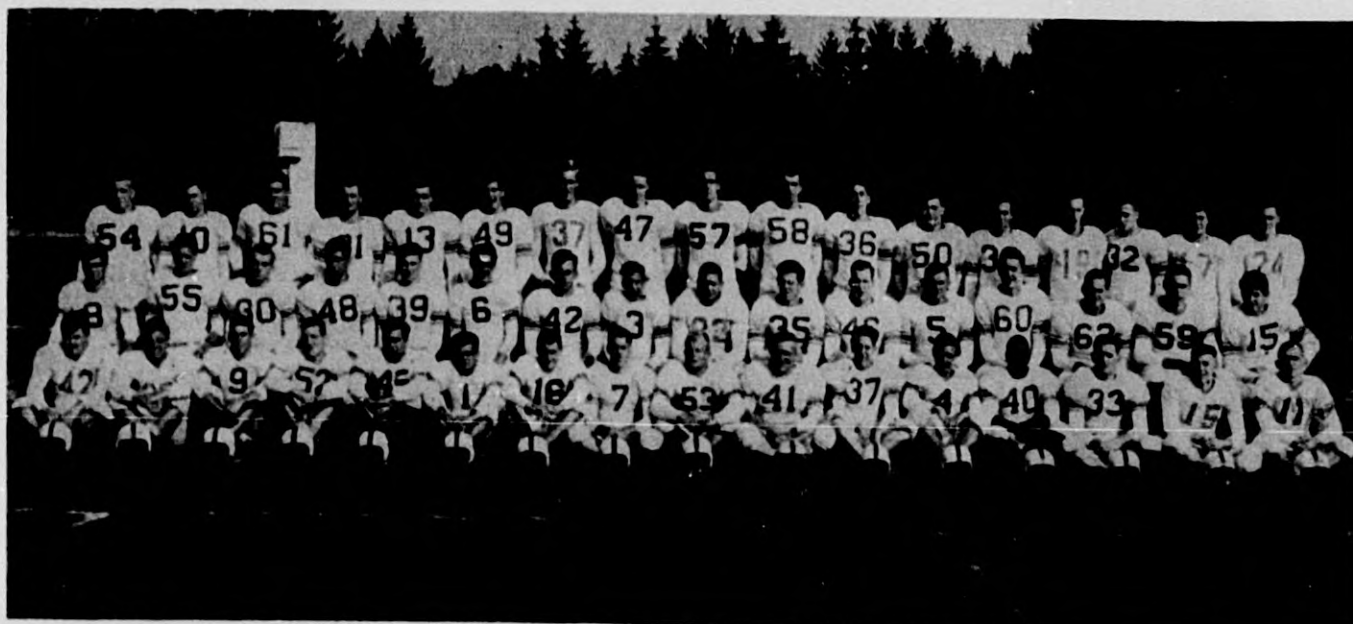

Alma fans will do well to keep their eyes on Adrian's speedy back, Brian Graffa. Included in his offensive record are a 75 yd. touchdown run from scrimmage, a 70 yd. punt return for a T.D. and a 63 yd. pass play which added yet another T.D.

Hillsdale spells nothing but trouble. They possess a mammoth line and a backfield so fast and containing so much depth that their scrimmages are reported to be tougher than their games. The "so-called" experts are already calling them one of the finest if not the finest team ever to represent the MIAA.

Alma will test this "colossus from the South" in two weeks but they first must beat Adrian.

Sports Personalities

Marv Raab and Jack Kring, the two seniors in the Scots' starting line up, have teamed together to give experienced leadership to the line and backfield of the Alma squad.

Marv, a speedy half back, might be called "Crazy Legs II." He came from Detroit in '52 and in '53 became the MIAA scoring champion. During the '54 season every opponent was out to "get that fellow Raab." This season the picture has changed a bit. "That Fellow Raab" is out to get every opponent. So far this season, in three games, Marv has carried the ball 26 times for a total of 296 yards and 30 points. The 5'11"-175 pound Detroit-Scot is at it again.

Jack Kring's leadership at his line position has largely accounted for the ripping defense of the Scots. In the three games this season, only 315 yards have been chalked up against the Alma line. Jack has also had a big hand in permitting only 11 pass completions in 42 attempts by opponents. The 5'8"-175 pound lineman from Petoskey may look small to the eye, but his deeds show for themselves. He commands high respect from his teammates and opponents.

Dick Ayling, a second year man from Pontiac, has been an important factor in the Alma offense. Ayling has an unusual talent for ball handling at the quarter-back slot. His deceptive hand-offs are the now you see it and now you don't type. Many of those who have played against Dick have commended his effectiveness. Also, when Ayling takes to the air, he means business. He has completed seven out of 10 passes for 88 yards in this season's play. Dick's coolness on the field and ability to call plays are also marks of the fine quarter-back that he is.

Bob Hill, the little man who plays the bag pipes in a most unusual way, hails from Rochester, Mich. In his second year, Bob weighs but 150 pounds and stands 5'5". Last year, though the smallest player in the M.I.A.A., he was tabbed "Mr. Football." Because of Bob's speed and unequalled team spirit, he has played a big part in the Scots' success. On offense, Hill is as hard to catch as a greased pig. When backing up or defense, Bob is a hard man to get by. You might call Hill a little man, but he is a little man in a big way.

Harriers Lose to Kazoo, 44-15

Kalamazoo's cross country team proved too much of a match for Alma's young squad last Saturday as they administered a 44-15 beating.

Kazoo took the first five places in the meet. Dick Vinciguerra and Carl Aumauger came in 6th and 7th for Alma while Ray Dewey and Larry Brook finished 9th and 10th to round out the top ten positions.

Alma's harriers face Adrian here on Homecoming day.
