

The Almanía

Tuesday, March 11, 1980

First Annual Lampoon Edition

VOLUME LXXIV ISSUE 19

Hefner new head of Student Affairs

By Phred D.R.E.A.D.
Shaft Writer

Hugh Hefner, publisher of Playboy magazine, was appointed as the new Alma College Dean of Student Affairs earlier this week. Mr. Hefner's appointment is expected to produce significant changes at Alma College.

One of the most visually apparent changes will be among the student affairs staff. Mr. Hefner said he plans to replace the current staff with his own "hand-picked staff of experienced playmates." Mr. Hefner said, "I want to bring in some females who have had experience with all kinds of affairs, not just student affairs." Mr. Hefner said some of the new staffers would be Monique St.

Pierre, 1979 playmate of the year and Deborah Jo Fondren, another playmate.

Mr. Hefner said, "I picked Monique St. Pierre because I know from personal experience that she is very well versed in manual skills. Anything that requires excellent hand dexterity will be right in her field. Miss Fondren was selected because of her verbal skills. She is simply excellent with her mouth."

To go along with the new employees skills, Mr. Hefner says some interesting new services will be offered by the Student Affairs Office. These include massage seminars by Miss Fondren.

Mr. Hefner is also trying to make double beds a standard in all dorm rooms. Hefner explained, "They are very, very necessary. Students get terrible back aches from sleeping together in single beds. How can students do well in school if they're always in pain? Double beds would not only improve performance, but other more important kinds of performance as well."

With these changes in staff and additional services, enrollment is expected to skyrocket by next fall. Hefner hopes the increase in enrollment will force the college to build a new housing complex with co-ed rooms.

In addition, Hefner is also planning a new student publication, tentatively named the Playlassies. Hefner stated, "I know there are lots of male and female models dying for exposure at Alma College. Playlassies will let them display their goods and also act as a stepping stone to bigger, better and more blatant exposure in some of the nationally publicized magazines. After all, what is college for except preparing students for rewarding careers?"

Needless to say, the students of Alma, especially the males, are extremely excited about Mr. Hefner and his playmates working at Alma College.

Inside

Group sex clinic offered

...see page 11

Chapel affairs increase

...see page 18

Agria streaks for charity

...see page 9

Monique St. Pierre is one of the new members of the Student Affairs staff that was handpicked by new Dean of Student Affairs High Hefner. According to Hefner, Monique is "Well versed in manual skills."

Soggy Food worker deported

By Ron Needafix
Shaft Writer

An old-fashion success story turned into a tragedy last week when former Soggy cook Maria Juana Buerito was deported. Buerito, recently hired by Elma's Glue Company for her "Cheese Fondue Glue," was ordered to leave the country after U.S. Immigration officials discovered she was smuggled into the United States in a celery truck fourteen months ago.

The deportation of Buerito was the result of a two-year investigation of commercial businesses using illegal aliens for cheap labor. The U.S. Office of Immigration expects about 200 more deportations within the next month. Businesses implicated in the matter included Sam's Celery Company, Vile Veal Inc., and Artificial Foods International. All three companies are based in California and affiliated with Soggy Foods Inc.

Soggy Food Service Director Paul Horse claimed he had no idea Buerito was an illegal alien and doubts any more workers will be deported. In answer to the allegation that most Soggy workers are smuggled in with Mexican produce, Horse explained, "Just because our workers are transported in celery trucks doesn't mean they're illegal aliens. I make sure all my workers are properly certified by Soggy Foods."

Another court battle is pending over the secret formula to Buerito's Cheese Fondue Super Glue which was tested to withstand 14 tons of pressure. It is expected that last month's Supreme Court decision awarding Buerito all rights to the formula will be reversed due to her status as an illegal alien. Whether Buerito will reveal the formula (which only she knows) is questionable.

Meanwhile Soggy Food experts have been laboring profusely trying to determine the contents of the glue. Initial reports indicate the primary substance is cheese, but traces of Manhattan clam chowder, human perspiration, re-fried beans, and silicone rubber used for artificial body parts have been found.

In an exclusive interview Buerito expressed her desire to return to the United States. "It will take a lot of hard work and sweat," she said, "but America's been bery, bery good to me."

Former Soggy cook Maria Juana Buerito was smuggled into the U.S. illegally in a celery truck.

newsbriefs

Ayatollah abuses plumbing

The Ayatollah Khomeini may face trial as a political criminal who committed crimes against Iran after his own secret police discovered that the Ayatollah used indoor plumbing last week.

"We have to interpret the Ayatollah's actions as being pro-west and industrialist," President Bani Sadr said at a news conference in Tehran. "In order to keep our fundamental Islamic policy pure we must ask that the Ayatollah leave the country by the end of this week."

Khomenini could not be reached for comment on the allegations. He is reportedly vacationing in the Bahamas.

Draft cards now available

An instant draft card was passed through Congress last Thursday. Starting April 1, instant draft cards will be available where ever beer and wine are sold. Persons, 18-26 will be given a free card everytime they purchase alcohol. In the card will be nine squares and it's your duty as an American citizen to scratch off the squares of American flags. Under the red-white-and-blue will be birth dates and if yours is listed...Bingo!...you are instantly drafted!

Muse concert planned

Another MUSE(Musicians United for Sixties Environ-ment) concert is being planned for this summer.

"We're thinking of calling it Woodstock II," commented MUSE spokeswoman Joan Baes. "The planning is going well so far except we haven't been able to find a theme to protest against yet. If we're lucky we'll go to war with Russia and we can take the radical stand on that. I sure hope something breaks soon; these things are a lot more fun if you can find a cause."

Surgeon 'General warns...

The U.S. Surgeon General released a report today which says that marijuana smoking is hazardous to your health and causes cancer. The Surgeon General recommended that Congress pass legislation requiring rolling paper and paraphernalia manufacturers to stamp a warning about the dangers of marijuana and all of their products.

NORML (National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws) press secretary Hodding Blotter questioned the Surgeon General's research, "Sure it's probably true if you happen to be a 16 ounce rat who smokes 12 ounces of pot per day. But now really, how many rats do you know that can smoke three quarters of a pound per day?"

Anderson held "debate"

It was learned last week that Illinois Republican John B. Anderson held a debate with other candidates three months ago in Peoria--well, actually with tape recordings of the other candidates. All the other Republicans refused to debate Anderson on his home turf, the Congressman's press secretary said. So Anderson staged his own debate by responding to statements the other candidates made which Anderson had taped from his television.

When asked why he and the other candidates didn't get involved in the debate, Ronald Regan responded, "The water in Peoria makes me irregular."

Kennedy looking for band

President Carter and Edward Kennedy have filed a joint complaint to the FCC demanding equal airtime on the nation's radio stations. They say that thousands of stations across the country have been violating campaign laws by playing Linda Ronstadt music during an election year.

An FCC spokesman said that Kennedy may have a chance at grabbing some free air time but not President Carter. "I believe the Allman Brothers have already endorsed him," the spokesman said. "So the only thing we might do for the President is require more playtime for the Allman Brothers Band."

This picture of the Americans being held hostage in Tehran dispells the imperialist propaganda that the hostages are being treated poorly. When asked what he thought about the conditions he is living under, an unidentified hostage said, "Basically the conditions are livable. However, I would like to see a little bit higher quality vodka and a few more belly dancers."

Having a difficult time keeping track of your drugs?
We can tell you where they're coming from,
where they're going to and best of all—
what they're doing to you.
We know because we are...

Certified
Drug
Accountants

Our accountants are engaged in continuous drug education.

CDA

You can count on us because we have the experience.

The Almanía

March 11, 1980

second-front-page

Page 3

Kiltie Collies disbanded for indecent exposure

By Roland A. Doobie
Shaft Writer

The Alma College Kiltie Collies have been asked to turn in their kilts after they were caught at a nude slumber party last week. "I think it's disgusting and degrading to the college," President Swineson said. "Those girls will never be allowed to wear kilts again."

When asked by the Almanía whether rumors saying that the slumber party was arranged by new Dean of Student Affairs Hugh Hefner were true, the president replied, "The Collies are a fine and highly respected tradition and a link to our Scottish heritage. I would be extremely disappointed if any member of the college staff aided in defacing their reputation."

"It's actually all a misunderstanding," Hefner told the Almanía. "They were only posing for a pictorial for the first issue of Playlassie. I was even thinking of using some of the pictures in an upcoming issue of Playboy which will feature girls from small midwest colleges."

Cheryl Shepard, captain of the Collies, backed up Hefner's story. "Yes, that's true. But I don't see what the big deal is. I really don't see anything wrong with it. Playlassie is a very glamorous magazine and is done in good taste. We don't mind showing our beautiful bodies in it."

"I'm sorry there was such a misunderstanding about it," Hefner added. "It's just one of my new programs to stimulate interest in Alma College. I mean who could resist legs like Cheryl Shepard has--four fury works of art!"

When informed of Hefner's motives, President Swineson said, "Well, I guess Dean Hefner's intentions were good. And I could go along with it except for that young lass. That's a little perverse. I find it hard to believe she's a student here. She can't be over 10."

Cheryl Shepard admitted that the young lass is not an Alma College student and was recruited by Hefner. "He said that he saw her in a pet shop, offered her a Milkbone and promised to put her in pictures."

Does this storm of controversy mean that the days of the Kiltie Collies wagging their tails and barking out cheers at football games are over for good? "I doubt it," President Swineson said. "After this blows over I'm sure we'll try to form a new group of Collies. I don't know how we could ever get along with out them."

This rotto-bath, located in the Alma College Health Center, is just one of the many hot spots visited by Dr. Geraldo Fiesta and Dr. U.R. High, Social Scene accreditors.

Student Council favors lavender for mens room

By Ethyl Lipshitz
Shaft Writer

The Student Council, after a long and heated debate finally approved lavender as the color scheme for the men's bathroom in Monteith Library.

Chatter-box Morrison, head of PBB (Pretty Paint for Boys) task force committee brought color swatches of paint to the meeting with hopes of having his favorite color chosen. The committee had narrowed down the selection to three colors: lavender, peach, and rose-pink. Morrison submitted a plan of each color scheme to Student Council. Whatever color was to be chosen, the walls, soap dishes, paper towels, and urinals were to be painted that color.

President of Student Council, Kathy Coyote argued that lavender, peach, and rose-pink were too traditional for a men's bathroom. "They need colors to enhance the atmosphere such as black and yellow or brown and cream, not stuffy pastels." Morrison argued that pastels help relieve the tension of everyday problems and make everything flow easier.

After discussion ended, a vote was taken. It was a ten-ten deadlock. Ten men for lavender and ten women for brown and cream. Another eight hours of discussion followed. Finally, Morrison with two big salty tears running down his face kneeled and begged the opposing members to vote for lavender. He cried, "Would you deny a child a toy, or Alma coeds Saga food? This is our bathroom, our place of resting. Let us paint it lavender!"

Struck by the emotional speech and quiver of Morrison's lip, Student Council unanimously voted to recommend lavender to the Board of Trustees who will be entrusted with the final decision. The issue will be presented to the Board in June of 1981. President Coyote best represented the Council's sentiment in her closing remark, "We can only hope that everything comes out all right."

Social scene seeks reaccreditation

By Phred D.R.E.A.D.
Shaft Writer

Dr. Geraldo Fiesta of the Reformers and Evaluators of Enjoyment Facilities in Educational Regions (REEFER) and Dr. U.R. High of the Institute for Nonstop Sin Among the Nation's Educated (INSANE) visited Alma College last week as part of Alma's Social Life Reaccreditation Program.

The two experts came to evaluate the infamous Alma social scene. The reaccreditation process is important because without an approved Social Life Certificate Alma College enrollment will probably drop even further than it already has this term. Potential students will go elsewhere for a more exciting lifestyle.

Fiesta and High examined the parties, the bars, the concert facilities, the theaters and other entertainment centers in Alma as well as the opportunities for fun on campus. They both expressed amazement at what they saw.

"It has been a long time since I've been so bored. I thought I could have a good time anywhere but I guess I was wrong," remarked Fiesta. Dr. High added, "From my point of view, as chairman of INSANE, I'd say the majority of the students are not doing a very good job of upholding our philosophy, and the facilities in this area make all out wild times nearly impossible."

The REEFER chairman was disappointed in the lack of paraphernalia availability in Alma. "Do you realize there is only one head shop in this town? And even that one is only part of a record store. The Tone Depot sure has a monopoly on bongs." When it was brought to Dr. Fiesta's attention that paraphernalia was not in high demand at Alma College, he said, "That's exactly what's wrong with this campus."

The two entertainment officials also checked out the local movie theater--namely the Stranded. They commented on the Stranded's wide selection of movies. "We've got to hand it to Alma on this one. It's the only place with only one theater and even then it's almost always empty."

Another vital part of the Alma College social life that Dr. High and Dr. Fiesta looked at was rock concerts. "Between John Bayleaf and Fruity Lake Drive, the Union Bored here must have really worked hard and dug deep to find obscure talent," said Dr. Fiesta. Dr. High was a little more understanding, "The ACUB is just trying to give these unknowns a break."

The two doctors seemed pleased with the concert facilities. "The gymnasium is a nice, new building. I don't know many people who like to see concerts at old buildings like Cobo Hall in Detroit or outside like at Pine Knob. Even if the music isn't recognizable, the building is at least nice to look at," commented the chairman of INSANE.

Dr. Fiesta, during his reaccreditation tour also went to one of the local taverns. "The Drewry is definitely different. With

See SOCIAL, page 4.

Dr. Relic to instruct Bongism

New Spring Term classes approved

By Rosanna Banana Face
Shaft Writer

By a unanimous vote, the faculty decided last Thursday to include the following courses in the 1980 Spring Term schedule: Drinking 101, Barhopping 230, Introduction to Paraphernalia 111 and Bongism 202. Although there are no prerequisites for any of the courses, some previous experience in drug relations is preferred.

Drinking 101 will be instructed by professor Jimmy Topsy and will involve the mastering of such basic skills as keg tapping, drink mixing, and how to obtain a fake ID. Three texts will be used for the course, "The Shot, the Chaser and you," "Alcoholic Science" and "Drinking Skills: A Workbook for Alcoholics." "What we are trying to achieve," commented Topsy, "is a pattern of sensible drinking habits among the student body." As a final requirement for the class, students must consume a six-pack of beer within minutes without throwing fifteen minutes without throwing up.

Under the direction of professor Will U. Palmme, students in Barhopping 230 will not only explore the diverse bar scenes in the greater Alma area, but will also travel to nearby St. Louis and Ithaca. "We feel that this will give the students a greater exposure to the, hic, bars in the area," commented Palmme. The following techniques will be taught in the class: how to pick up girls, how to pick up guys, how not to get picked up, how to dance at a gay bar, and how to call the big fat bouncer an ugly pighead and live to tell about it.

Paraphernalia 111 has been described by its instructor, Dr. Richard Doeper, as "a guide to the more effective and efficient use of the many diverse and complicated instruments which confront us at paraphernalia counters all over the United States." Field trips to various paraphernalia shops in the area are planned. Two texts will be used for the class: "How to get the most out of your drugs: A guide to paraphernalia" by Paul McCartney and "One Toke over the Line" by Sweet Jesus.

Last but certainly not least is Bongism 202 to be instructed by Dr. Oscar Relic. The Class will follow the almighty Bong from the beginning of his culture, to the birth, death and resurrection of his son One Hitter and will finally deal with Bongism in today's world and how it can guide the student toward a more fulfilling drug experience. Readings for the class will be selected from both the old and new testaments of The Book of Bong, and one hit communions will be given at the beginning of each class. "I really want to get close to a student body here at Alma," commented Relic. "I feel that this class will be one of the best vehicles toward that goal. May Bong be with you."

Scantily clad commie pigs play at Alma

By Rosanna Banana Face
Shaft Writer

In the continuing tradition of the Lecture/Fine Arts Series, the Julian Swine Kazoo Theatre will perform Friday, March 14 at 8:00 p.m. in Alma College's Dow Auditorium. The group of scantily dressed male and female commie pigs from Afghanistan will bring to campus their wide repertoire of commie-rooted kazoo symphonies.

This two-week old troupe has toured throughout Breshnefgrad, a small communist town in northeastern Afghanistan.

The founder, artistic director, and head piggo, Julian Swine, has been a moving force in the communist kazoo scene for the past month and a half. Swine has appeared in three towns in northeastern Afghanistan, playing piggy songs, giving commie concerts, and generally tooting his kazoo.

Along with his assistant director, Miss Hoggy, Swine has created a repertoire that not only reflects his communist backwash but also his two months of experience. The Alma performance, sponsored by Alma Students for Cultural Boredom in cooperation with Union Board, coincides with the start of Commie Pig History Month. The admission charge is $2 for adults and $1 for students with ear plugs.

World reknowned master of the kazoo, the Julian Swine Kazoo Theatre, will bring their commie-rooted kazoo symphonies to campus this Friday. The event is part of the Lecture/Fine Arts series.

Reason # 1
why you should elect
Oscar Relic

Because he thinks Greeks are
O.K. and GDIs are just as good.

GETTING EVEN:
The Complete Book of Dirty Tricks

GETTING EVEN
The Complete Book of Dirty Tricks
by George Hayduke

Want to get even with someone? Then do it! And don't risk violence or extremes that might backfire. Take our advice and strike from the shadows.

Getting Even will tell you how. Dr. Hayduke, master of vengeance, has organized his subject well: 84 chapters tell you how to get revenge on horse's-ass individuals and institutions of all kinds: Landlords, ripoffs, two-timers, utilities, bosses, ex-friends... don't let them get away with it! Publicly humiliate your enemy, ruin his marriage, run him out of town. All while exposing yourself to no risk. Getting Even is the definitive reference volume for everything from simple pranks, designed to confuse and annoy, to major mayhem that will reduce your enemy to a quivering fear-freak. Get the satisfaction of evening the score. This book is the real thing. Hardbound.

OCTAVE RECORD RACK
5.S.Center across from Shirely's in St. Louis

editorial comment

Why don't they fix those damn lights in the library anyway?

By Billy Bitchski

I can't hold my tongue any longer. Those lights in the library are driving me crazy. Every time I go in there to read Mad magazine or study for my Library Science class they're buzzing like crazy. It really drives me spaco, like when they run out of nuts at the DQ and they put crushed potatoe chips on top of your hot fudge sundae. I've heard of people catching a buzz before, but this is ridiculous! Anyway, I really screwed up my Dewey Decimal assignment just because of those lights. And if I don't get that credit, I'm not going to graduate from Alma College. And if I don't graduate from Alma College, I won't be able to go to law school in Ithaca, Michigan. And if I don't go to law school I'll end up being some scruffy little janitor guy without any teeth and a three day growth of beard every day. I won't be able to do anything fun like go to the movies or the Pine Knot bar or play shuffle board or anything so I'll end up having cheap sex with some maid with prickly rollers in her dyed-red hair and white, greasy stuff all over her acne-scarred face. And then she'll get pregnant and then I'll probably have a deformed kid and then I'll have to get a night job at 7-11 selling hot-to-gos and slurpees to pay for his face brace and I'll go crazy because even when I get time off I won't be able to sleep because the kid will be screaming and the scummy maid will be bitching. And then one day those men in the white coats will come and carry me away and take me to the crazy place. Then I'll go even crazier. In a blind frenzy, I'll jump through a third floor window and I'll crawl through the streets with glass up my nose and I'll get sewage overflow on my knees. God willing, I'll be a wino for a couple of years and then I'll get run over by a garbage truck and die. This is why I think the library should get there stuff together and get those damn lights fixed. Thank-you.

Reason # 2 Why you should elect Oscar Relic

We love ya Remmy...

... no ifs, ands, or butts

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

What's all this I hear about Kennedy running for president? I thought we killed him a long time ago. What's the matter, can't the guy take a hint?

Number one, he's Irish. If he's elected the next thing you know everything will be green, green underwear, green eggs and ham, green cocaine... Have you ever seen a guy wear a green rubber? It's disgusting. And that's another thing, I hear this guy is a real womanizer. You ever hear of One Hour Martinizing? Well this guy is a one hour womanizer--one an hour. That's all we need is a bunch of little green bastard Kennedys running around. They're bad enough when they're legitimate. Another thing, I hear this guy's catholic. If he's elected, the next thing you know we'll have mandatory communions and we'll all have to eat those dry crusty wafer things and we'll all have to drink the same water out of the same cup with everybody's spit in it and we'll all get syphilis and get all deformed and die. I thought Kennedy was dead anyway.

Sincerely,
Gertrude Dumbshitz
U.S. Space Academy

Dear Gertrude

Ted Kennedy may be dead politically but physically he's very much alive. You must be thinking about one of his brothers--John and Bobby are both deceased.

Dear Editor,

Never mind.

Dear Editor,

Not enough can be said about your First Annual Lampoon Edition. Everyone I talked to agrees it's fantastic! Never before have I read such an enjoyable paper.

I've often wondered how you managed to put out such a high quality paper every week, but your Lampoon Edition has cleared up that mystery. You're geniuses. I wish I shared your virility. I'm sure I'm not alone in saying that this paper is indicative of the high standards of Alma College.

A lot of people think that small colleges can't have good newspapers or football teams, but you proved them wrong. You've outdone Michigan State, Notre Dame and even the Morning Sun. It just ceases to amaze me. Give yourself a pat on the back.

Just the other day I was reading the Wall Street Journal when it dawned on me. Our college paper is simply stupendous. Once I start reading it, I can't put it down. I don't know how you do it, but keep up the excellent work. You all deserve raises. See STUPENDOUS, page 69

Faculty Focus

By Dr. J. M. M. Pittke

The past may be a bucket of ashes, but those who do not know the mistakes of the past are bound to get egg on their face. You can be rewarded by a trip through the pages of yesteryear, going browsing through the Almania with gun and camera, discovering little-known portions of the secret past of Alma Mater that have made her sons and daughters rise up and r-----.

For instance, student historian Captain Cocaine in 1973 told us of THE FOUNDING OF ALMA COLLEGE and how Alexander Wholesome asked for stuffed seagulls, stewed Seagram's, and cash. And how one donor said "I wouldn't give them a plugged nickel to build a college in that swamp." And how Ammi W. Wright (I am always Wright, Willard!) came to the rescue with two buildings in 1886 after he had--as Cocaine had it doped out--"raped" the virgin pine forests of Gratiot County. Rape a pine tree? I don't know how you get your sticks, but that sounds kinky.

The time that someone left a baby in a basket on the doorstep of Admissions? THE FOUNDLING OF ALMA COLLEGE.

The year--1938--when the Almania ran two headlines on the same front page: STUDENTS ASK SEX ED. IN COLLEGES. That same day STUDENT COUNCIL SETS DATING RULES. Someone must have been worried about FONDLING AT ALMA COLLEGE.

"Greek" organizations--societies, fraternities, sororities--have long, long been a part of that old College atmosphere where friendliness is still linking linking to linking (or learning to living). A story of 1954, headlined FELT PLEDGING SHOWS UNUSUAL DIGNITY, told of a "Fire Chief" pledge, and wondered where the fire was. In later streaks, there wouldn't be much doubt.

Then there were the stories about fraternity smokers, and parties for a great rush. In 1927, the headline was BETA TAU EPSILON GOES GA-GA AT ANNUAL SMOKER. There were stories of pledge paddlings, midnight rides, local papers reporting on the shaving cream and motor oil fights at the VW Garage in Breckenmuth (ACNE STIGMA GETS SHAFT), a rescued kidnap at the coal mine in St. Charles (ACNE STIGMA SAVES SHAFT AGAIN), the streak of good luck across Superior Boulevard (guess the headline and you win a twinkie).

There were the stories of great pranks. In 1947 someone led a cow to the top floor of Old Main. It took a derrick to get her out again. The Scotsman who found "Bossie" in the first place lost his tam in the pasture. He tried on three before he found his own.

In 1963 someone put field tiles in a neat wall across the entrance to the Hood Building. No one would make any admissions about it. If Dean of Students Sebastian French had been here, he could have put the blame on Jody and Buffy. That same year, someone silently turned the Chapel pews around to face the south door.

Fads have long been a part of the history and traditions of the College. In 1955 it was men's Bermuda shorts, testing whether your mothers could stand the sight of your Dad's knees. By 1974 the secret was out with streaking as Alma College co-eds went as seekers after something warmly human.

In the "You've come a long way, Baby" department: In 1906, Phi Phi Alpha held a debate opposing female suffrage (in 1979, their successors gave up rating cards, after having started the order of Cynthia (or was it Diana)). There was no smoking on the campus in 1921; in 1964 a male student smoked his cycle through the pristine halls of Gelston. The first college dance was allowed in 1926, and the first dancing lessons followed in 1955. Secret marriages were outlawed by the faculty in 1920; the dean felt that "people who got married secretly were up to no good."

That was a long way back from the faculty-student weddings in the Chapel in the 1950's, or the praise of beautiful works of art in Clack in 1976. That year, too, Alma College saw the Last Picture Show. Another President later, ten as they go from Hunting, Bruske, Crooks, Bunting, Dunning, Dale, and Swanee, Alma College will finally get its Oscar with a cosmic look into the future. Remember your future; it may be the only past somebody will have.

I Koppa Buzz seeks house

By Ron Needafix
Shaft Writer

Amid a sea of confusion, the newly chartered Eye Koppa Buzz social fraternity demanded the administration give them a house last week. In a demeaning display of imprudence, administrators and frat brothers exchanged insults and salutations.

Fraternity President Ivan Stoner accused the administration of discriminating against the new fraternity on several occasions. "First they wouldn't let us have our smack and sniff smoker, and now this. The man is coming down," lamented Stoner. The Buzz president claimed to sympathize with the Sigma Zits, but "they don't need a house." Social chairman Newton Fix added, "we need the house for our social programs, yet the administration has consistently turned their backs on us."

Spokesman for the administration, Vice President Haniel Herring charged the "Buzz bros" of breaking the rules from their "first smoker." After resigning as the fraternity's advisor, Herring declared, "It'll be a cold day in hell before those heads get a house."

An anonymous Buzz commented, "he should know about head."

The Sigma Zits, who have yet to secure the house they petitioned for last month, held their first public demonstration last Friday. Fifty siblings from Little Brothers and Sisters rallied behind the Zits as they picketed

Reid-Knox.

Although tempers flaired, there were no reported injuries. Alma College security managed to disburse the unruly mob after a two-hour demonstration.

Graham Cracker, a Sigma Zit, was pleased with the demonstration. "I'm glad we didn't have to resort to armed force," commented Cracker.

Neither fraternity has given up its quest for a house and both are planning programs to increase their visibility. While the Zits declined to discuss future plans, Eye Koppa Buzz announced its plans for their first annual "Roll, Toke, and Snort" contest.

Relic not #1 choice

By Roland A. Doobie
Shaft Writer

A high college official recently disclosed several top candidates considered by the Search Committee for the position of Alma College President. A leak from the administration last week revealed that Oscar Relic may not have been Alma's first choice.

Perhaps the most popular local candidate was Dave the Pizza Man. When contacted about his bid for the presidency, Dave told the Almania, "Well, I figured I was the most qualified. I already spend a lot of time on campus and know the students quite well."

Richard Nixon and the Shah of Iran both applied for the job, but were rejected because it was feared they would only use the position as a stepping stone in attempts to regain their past political stature.

The Committee refused to even consider the Ayatollah Khomeini's application until he released all American hostages. When contacted by the Almania, Khomeini said, "It was by far the closest I've come to releasing them. I'm still second-guessing myself."

Another religious figure, Billy Graham, told the Almania that he thought he would be a shoe in but said the Search Committee told him, "We don't want to get too carried away with this religious stuff."

Timothy Leary applied for the position when he heard of the newly formed Eye Koppa Buzz fraternity but withdrew his bid when he read the Almania Drug Survey. "I just don't think I could relate to those people," Leary told the Almania.

Former R.A. Craig Chamilton also applied saying, "Being an R.A. just wasn't good enough, I want to run the whole school." Chamilton almost received the Committee's recommendation on the strength of his record number of warning probation citations issued. However, some members of the Committee were afraid the appointment might go to his head.

Campus security guards drag away a Sigma Zit who was picketing for a house last week.

High source reveals presidential losers

The GKE fraternity had suggested their president, Boris Godinof, but the committee claimed he was not good enough. "I don't blame them," said the high college source. "That damn neon sign of their's is disgusting. It makes it look like the college is running a whore house."

John Anderson was being considered, but was cut from the list of hopefuls when most committee members admitted that they had never heard of Anderson. The Illinois Republican told the Almania that he was crushed when he learned he had not gotten the job. "The whole idea of running for President of the U.S. was to get myself exposure for this job. Obviously no one on the committee watches Saturday Night Live," Anderson said.

When asked how the Search Committee felt about the field of candidates they had to choose from, the Almania's source replied, "We were pleased even though the excellence of the field made a final decision very difficult."

Apathy rally a success

By T. R. Trasher
Shaft Writer

The Students for Rampant Apathy held their second successful rally here at Alma College on February 13. Both rallies together had a total attendance of three people.

Head of the Apathy group, Craig Matterless had many disjointed thoughts on the matter, "I heard that we had three people at the first meeting. I wasn't there. I was an hour late, and missed the meeting. I guess they pretty much just sat around and acted lethargic. I don't know how long the meeting lasted either. Nobody thought about writing down what happened."

He went on to say, "At our second rally no one even showed up. Everything just seemed to fall apart. I feel there is a lot of unity for apathy here at Alma."

Faculty advisor Clyde Geerod attributed a lot of the success to the publicity, "Apparently nobody heard anything about it because we didn't put anything out on it. We feel very uncommitted about our strong apathetic base of non-support."

Membership into the organization means supporting nothing, including the SRA. Apparently, if you actually care enough to ask about getting into the SRA, they don't want you.

The Almania asked calendar non-event secretary Jody Bland if future rallies were in the works. She stated, "I don't know, probably not. I mean, nobody seems to care, neither do I for that matter."

"I am the owner—an employee would have thrown you the hell out hours ago."

HARD UP!
FOR GOOD POSTERS.

COME SEE US MANY LIKE THESE.

THE SOUND DEPOT

413 Wright Avenue - Phone 463-6259

sports page

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1980

THE ALMANIA

Page 7

New Organization gets high on drugs--not sports

By Fred Mertz
Shaft Writer

A new student organization, which bears the slogan "Get high on drugs not sports," has been formed at Alma College. The group calls themselves the Stoner Athletic Association.

"Basically, our intent is to promote more and better drug use at Alma College and to build good citizens through the competition, teamwork and leadership involved in our I.M. Stoned league," explained Joe Fry, president of the group.

"I just feel that there should be an alternative for the people who don't get off on that 'get high on sports not drugs' garbage. I mean let's be serious. How can you get high on sports! What are you gonna do snort rosin or something! Sports are great but they can be enhanced by drug use. That's what our I.M. program will stress."

According to Fry, the I.M. program will include all of the basic sports played under the influence of various drugs and will conclude with a spring road rally to Florida.

"A road trip of this length epitomizes the concept of teamwork. There are three people to a car who all have important jobs. The most difficult is probably the co-pilot (the guy in the passengers seat). He has to open both his and the driver's beers, fill the bowls for everyone, program the music and watch for cops in front. The driver must keep the car under control, navigate, and watch for cops in the rearview mirror. The passenger in the backseat is usually only held responsible for passing the beer from the case in back to the co-pilot," Fry explained.

Fry also emphasized the teamwork in training for the athletic contests. "Do you realize the teamwork involved in getting a basketball team! One guy has to get fresh ice water for the bong, another has to clean the bag, somebody has to open a few beers. It's really an integral process."

Fry feels that the post game parties bring out leadership qualities. "Somebody has to initiate the party and keep it going. This separates the leaders from the sheep. When somebody initiates a beer run for the sixth case at four in the morning, that indicates a leader."

When asked whether he thought his group might receive pressure from the NCAA, Fry replied, "I don't really think we should. It's not like we're down on sports. It's just that we feel that drugs and sports mix very well. I think that became evident when Bob Hayes was busted on coke charges last year. Nobody really believed that a human could run that fast without doing a couple of lines first did they!"

Sport Shorts

Pistons turn to drugs

The Detroit Pistons lost their 37th straight game last week forcing Coach Richie Adubato to reconsider his coaching methods. Adubato, always known for his innovative coaching methods, has instituted mandatory drug use before all games. When Adubato first became coach he enacted strict rules against drug use, but now plans on supplying marijuana and cocaine for team use.

"We've played 37 games straight and lost them all. Something had to be done," Adubato explained.

Muddy touring again

Muddy Waters has resigned his position as head football coach of Michigan State University to go back out on the concert circuit.

"I figured I'd give it a shot at settling down and trying a new job, but you just can't keep an old blues singer down," Muddy announced last week. He said that he plans on rejoining Eric Clapton's tour next month to open for Clapton. He also intends to release a new album in May entitled, "I've got the Wayne Duke Blues Again."

MSU athletic director Joe Weaver said he was as surprised as everyone else. "I didn't know Muddy could sing."

Carter threatens Soviets

In an attempt to apply more political pressure to the Russian activity in Afganistan, President Carter today announced he was imposing another deadline for the withdrawal of Soviet troops from that country. Carter gave June first as the new deadline for another Olympic Boycott. He said that the United States wouldn't send a team to the 1984 Olympics in Los Angeles if the Soviet troops aren't removed by that date.

The official Soviet news agency, TASS, reported that the Kremlin has offered to move the '84 games to Moscow so the boycott would be more effective.

Nastase book "essential"

Illie Nastase, infamous badboy of the tennis circuit, has recently published an autobiography entitled "They Call Me Obnoxious." In the book Nastase chronicles years of racquet throwing tantrums and general asinine behavior. So never to be at a loss of word, Nastase says he has learned to swear to officials in twelve different languages.

Although being panned by the critics, the book is being heralded as an essential text for jackasses around the world.

NBA looking for punters

The NBA has made a new rule to increase scoring in their games. Under the new rule four points would be awarded if a player can dropkick the ball through the hoop from anywhere past half court.

"We are aiming to increase both scoring and the number of white players in the game. There are a lot of good white punters and soccer goalies who will be pursued in future drafts now," NBA commissioner Larry O'Brian said.

The Pistons are reportedly already negotiating with Garo Yepremian to get the former Kolpin to play backcourt for them.

Stingley role available

Plans to turn Jack Tatum's book "They Call Me Assassin" into a movie have been dumped. According to director D. B. deSade, he couldn't find anybody who was willing to play the part of Darryl Stingley. The NFL refused to let deSade use their film clip of the tragic play out of fear of promoting violence. Hence deSade wants to recreate the scene.

"I don't understand why nobody wants to do it," deSade said. "I admit it does limit the type of future acting you can do but the pay is great."

First there were the San Francisco 49ers, then the Philadelphia 76ers, and now the Alma 69ers have gained national wrestling acclaim.

Reason #3

Because Mr. Bill says...

"Ooooooh nooooo
elect Oscar Relic or else Sluggo will chop your arms off.
Ooooooh nooooo..."

Be smart. Elect Oscar Relic

Classified
Ads

Wanted to Buy: One or more pairs of elevator shoes and a tall hair-piece. Call Runt Whitney, Munchkinland.

Found: Satin black bulger underwear in the Almania Darkroom. Claim at once.

Lost: If anyone has seen my virginity, please return it. Ethel Flirt, 69 Virgin Vault.

For Sale: Carter's bestseller, How to Succeed Without Talent. Call 4686996 and ask for Woscar.

Wanted: one sensitive female to go with the fur-lined handcuffs I found. Call day or night. Mork Freedman--474696969

Lost: Complete set of men's chest and leg hair. Please contact me immediately! Boob Kizer. 666 Queen Drag, Alma.

Lost: one pair of fur-lined handcuffs. Please return to Ellie Martin at 69 Gacey Ave. You'll enjoy the reward.

Lost: One pair of bulger underwear, size x-small. Call Rollo Hagen, c/o Noball Hall, Alma College.

Wanted: Cooks--no experience necessary. Apply at Soggy Food Service. Chamilton Commons.

Found: Ethel's virginity. You can have it back, I don't want it. Bob Moose, Student Affairs Office.

Wanted: one ounce, one case and a chair to stand on. See Marcur Rollo, 169 Roach Hall.

Last week's menu

Saturday, Mar. 1, 1980

Breakfast
Steak and Eggs Cooked to Order
Waffles
Home Fries

Lunch
Chopped Beef Steaks
Ruben Sandwiches
Crabmeat Casserole

Dinner
Cocktain Hour 4:00 to 5:00
Steak and Lobster
Prime Rib
Vegetarian Surprise

Sunday, Mar. 2, 1980

Breakfast
Omelettes--Every Style
Breakfast Ham
Hash Brownies

Lunch
Roast Beef
Pheasant Under Glass
Shrimp Plate
Caviar

Dinner
Steak Sandwiches
Pizza
Bacon, Lettuce, and Tomato Sandwiches

Monday, Mar. 3, 1980

Breakfast
Eggs Cooked to Order
Bacon and Sausage
Hot Cakes
Lyonnaise Potatoes

Lunch
Assorted Cold Cut Plate
Macaroni and Cheese
Roast Beef Subs

Dinner
Chicken Cacciatore
Sword fish
London Broil

Tuesday, Mar. 4, 1980

Breakfast
Western Style Omelettes
Scrambled Eggs
Canadian Sausage

Lunch
Turkey Pie
Mixed Fruit Cold Plate
Chopped Beef Sandwiches

Dinner
Lobster
New York Strips
Fresh Water Pickerel

Wednesday, Mar. 5, 1980

Breakfast
Eggs Cooked to Order
Breakfast Ham
Pancakes

Lunch
Tacos
Spaghetti with sausage
Shishkebob

Dinner
Sirloin Tips
Veal Cordon Bleu
Shrimp Cocktail

Thursday, Mar. 6, 1980

Breakfast
Steak and Eggs Cooked to Order

French Toast
Home Fries
Lunch
Omelettes--Every Style
Chopped Beef Patties
Swedish Delight
Dinner
Rib-Eyes
Baked Chicken
Lobster Newburg

Friday, March 7, 1980

Breakfast
Eggs Cooked to Order
Western Style Omelets
Sausage and Bacon
Waffles

Lunch
Steak Sandwiches
Vegetarian Surprise
Baked Ham

Dinner
Cocktail Hour--4:00-5:30
Alaskan King Crab
Oysters on the Half-shell
Filet Mignon

This week's menu

Tuesday, March 11, 1980

BREAKFAST
French Toast
Soft and Medium Cooked Eggs
Lyonnaise Potatoes

LUNCH
Split Pea Soup
BBQ Ham Sandwich
Ground Beef and Potato Pie
Egg Salad Cold Plate
Cauliflower Augratin

DINNER
Cream of Corn Soup
Baked Breaded Pork Chop
Deep Fried Perch
Potato Pancakes
Rice Pilaf
Buttered Corn

Wednesday, March 12, 1980

BREAKFAST
Hot Cakes
Fried Eggs
Hearty Fried Potatoes

LUNCH
Chicken Noodle Soup
Grilled Cheese Sandwich w/ Chili
Turkey a la king over Corn-bread

DINNER
Meat Roll-up Salad Plate
Baked Winter Squash
Minestrone Soup

Turkey Cutlet
Baked Lasagne
Grilled Liver and Onions
Parsley Buttered Potatoes
Buttered Carrots

Thursday, March 13, 1980

BREAKFAST
Fruit Fritters
Poached Eggs
Home Fried Potatoes

LUNCH
Cream of Tomato Soup
Hot Dogs on Bun
Baked Beans and Ground Beef Casserole
Banana Split Fruit plate
Mixed Vegetables
Sauerkraut

DINNER
Manhattan Clam Chowder
French Dip Sandwich
Baked Fish Fillets
Stuffed Cabbage/Sauce
French Fried Potatoes
Buttered Lima Beans

Friday, March 14, 1980

BREAKFAST
French Toast
Scrambled Eggs
Fried Potatoes

LUNCH
Meatless Vegetable Soup
Hot Turkey Sandwich w/

Whipped Potatoes
Italerrini
Julienne Salad Table
Buttered Green Peas
DINNER
"Drive-in night"

Saturday, March 15, 1980

BREAKFAST
Fruit Pancakes
Soft and Medium Cooked Eggs

LUNCH
Hashed Brown Potatoes
Lima Bean Soup
Hamburger
Tuna a la king over Corn-bread
Farmer Style Eggs

DINNER
Buttered Green Beans
Beef Barley Soup
Top Butt Steak
Carved to Order Baked Ham
Whole Pizza
French Fries
Baked Potatoes
Corn

Sunday, March 16, 1980

BREAKFAST
French Toast
Fried Eggs
Lyonnaise Potatoes

LUNCH
Pepper Pot Soup
Chicken Supreme
Meatloaf
Baked Omelet
Whipped Potatoes
Harvard Beets
Dinner Rolls

DINNER
Cream of Mushroom Soup
Bacon, Lettuce and Tomato Sandwich
Chopstick Tuna
Batter Dipped Waffles
Buttered Carrots
Zucchini w/ Tomato

Monday, March 17, 1980

BREAKFAST
Hot Cakes
Poached Eggs
Hearty Fried Potatoes

LUNCH
Navy Bean Soup
Hoagie Sandwich
Ham and Noodles Augratin
Chef's Salad Table
Buttered Broccoli Spears

DINNER
Vegetable Soup
Breaded Pork Cutlet
Spaghetti w/ Meat Sauce
Ratatouille Crepes
Oven Browned Potatoes
Mixed Vegetables

Reason #4

Because you have no choice-- he's already been selected!

Oscar Relic--a man for all reasons.

