Tekes and Delts Winners In Annual Songfest

The Tau Kappa Epsilon and Delta Gamma Tau fraternities were both first place winners in Tyler Auditorium on Saturday, March 14.

The Alpha Theta sorority placed second in this division, singing "Floating Down."

First place in the ensemble division went to the Delta Gamma Tau fraternity, who sang the very appropriate "Winter Song." Bob Ludtke, Gregory senior, master of ceremonies, stated that this was the third straight year that the Delts had received first place in the ensemble division. The Alpha Theta sorority placed second in this part of the program, thus taking second place in both divisions. The Theta ensemble sang "Pass the Peace Pipe."

Other groups who participated in the contest included Kappa Iota sorority, Alpha Sigma Tau sorority, and Delta Sigma Phi fraternity.

Dr. Sullivan, head of the music department, Mr. Storey, professor of English, and Miss Hughes, professor of music, acted as judges for the contest.

No Quorum Again: Council Stagnates

President Promises Crackdown on Absences

For the second time in three weeks the Student Council was without a quorum. The hour meeting was spent discussing the financial situation of the Scotsman.

Absenteeism at council meetings has reached the critical stage. President Bob Ludtke announced that starting next week all council members who have had two unexcused absences during the present semester, will be relieved of their council duties and the organizations they represent will be asked to make a replacement. This action he said is in accord with the present constitution.

Excluding the last council meeting there are four members who already have two unexcused absences. They are Judy Orvis, Lynn Salathiel, (continued on page 2)

Open Forum Has Small Attendance But Good Start

About 50 students and some faculty members attended the "President's Open Forum" Wednesday at 10 a.m. in Dunning Chapel. The forum was the first undertaking of its type on Alma's campus and was suggested by President Swanson at the beginning of the year. Its purpose was to improve communication between students and administration about College policies, plans and problems.

Kent Hawley, Dean of Men, was master of ceremonies. Questions were fired at the president by a panel composed of Sharon Beardsley, Lou Ada Bousquette, Bill York, and Bert Dugan, as well as from students on the floor.

President Swanson opened the meeting by presenting the future building program of the college. There will be a detailed report of this Long Range Planning in the first issue of the ALMANIAN right after Easter vacation.

Questions covered a wide range, from Alma's academic standards to ping pong tables, television set, and the juke box in Tyler Union.

Sharon Beardsley asked about extending library hours, and about keeping the building open Sundays. President Swanson answered that if the students demonstrated the need of (continued on page 3)

Col. Anthology Deadline Set

All interested in submitting material for consideration in the 1959 Pine River Anthology should present manuscripts to Kurt Fravel at Wright Hall or Dr. Wegner at his office in Old Main before April 15.

The Pine River Anthology is a collection of creative writings by people in the Alma College community. Any work will be carefully evaluated and that showing merit will appear in the anthology, according to Kurt Fravel.

NOTICE

There will be an extra issue of the Almanian Tuesday, Mar. 24. Our apologies to contributors for whom there is no room in this issue.

Men's R. A.s To Be Chosen In May

Kent Hawley, Dean of Men, announced that applications for Men's Residence Halls Staff positions are now available. Application forms may be obtained from the office of the Dean of Men or the Head Resident in Wright Hall, Mrs. Lela Whiteford. The deadline for submitting applications will be Monday, April 20th.

Positions are open for junior and senior men, and students in all academic fields are considered. Staff members may pursue a full academic program. Additional work is permitted if it doesn't interfere with hall responsibilities. Employment begins the day before Orientation and terminates at Commencement.

One resident advisor lives in a corridor of approximately 25 men. The advisor is responsible for the development of a strong cohesive social unit, with an active student government and varied activities, states Dean Hawley. He is also responsible for informal non-professional counselling and for the decorum of the residents of his corridor.

Salary is approximately $100.00 per semester or the equivalent of a single room in the residence halls. Experience in student government or supervision of young people is desirable.

Applications will be screened by the present staff of resident advisors and personal interviews will be held with the candidates before appointments are made. Announcement of appointments will be made by May 4, 1959. Resident advisors appointed for next year will be expected to attend two orientation workshops during May of 1959 in preparation for their responsibilities in the fall.

Theta Tavern Tomorrow Night

"Hear Ye! Hear Ye! Ye old Boarshead Tavern is to be reopened tomorrow night in Tyler Auditorium at 8 p.m. under the auspices of the Alpha Theta Sorority," announces Linda Alexander, Livonia junior. "Ye shall be dancin' yer love to Queen Elizabeth's own Bobbie Stevens Quartet, entertained by the robust roving minstrels, and drink yer fill of ale and eat the tavern's best." (continued on page 3)

Freshmen Women Top Semester 145 Avgs.

All Women Rank Fifth
All Men Rank Twenty-eighth

"Never underestimate the power of a woman," an old cliché, but Alma women have once again brought this fact forward as they lead the various campus groups in academic point standing. The Alma co-eds capped the first three consecutive places on a list, consisting of 32 campus groups and organizations. Women also occupied the fifth place. According to information released this week by the Registrar's Office, the freshmen women top the list with a 1.89 overall. In sharp contrast to this the freshmen men occupy the basement with a 1.01 average.

A close second to the women of '62 came Bruske House with 1.82. They were followed by senior women with an overall of 1.80. Fourth on the list were all seniors, 1.70 and at the fifth place are all women with a 1.68 overall.

Men of Alma college took sixth and seventh places with the senior men and Delta Sigma Phi at 1.64 and 1.6 respectively.

Freshmen women showed a considerable improvement over semester 144 as they climbed up to first place raising their average from 1.31 to 1.89, and thus nosing out senior women.

The high for the fall semester (145) was 1.89; the high for the spring semester (144) was 2.04. Freshman men, even though at the bottom of the list, managed to rise above the lowest standing of the spring semester, which was a 0.75.

As a whole semester 145 showed standings drop from the previous semester. Only eight groups showed improvement this semester, with one group staying at the same level. Last semester all groups showed improvement, except for two dropping lower.

The complete list, in its order for the fall semester is below with a comparison of the two semesters (144 and 145).

"Solid Gold Cadillac" with Judy Holliday will be shown at Tyler Auditorium tonight at 7:00 p.m. Admission 10 cents.

Work is progressing rapidly on the science building. With the west wing enclosed in plastic, workmen have a wind-free area in which to finish the interior. This past week saw the beginning of built-up roof construction and the faint hints of spring aromas blended raucously with the smell of boiling tar.

Letters to the Editor

NOTE: Our policy concerning letters to the editors makes it mandatory that the writers of all published letters be known either to the Editor-in-Chief or Managing Editor. THE ALMANIAN takes upon itself the responsibility for publishing letters, hence it will not reveal the identity of any writer who requests anonymity. The editors do not guarantee publication of letters which exceed the bounds of decency and reasonable courtesy. Whether or not letter writers take issue with THE ALMANIAN in no way disqualifies them for publication.

If, in the expression of the living presence of Christ, in the pages of THE ALMANIAN, each member of Alma College finds: (1) Some one thing to enjoy, (2) Some one thing to interest, (3) Some one thing to challenge, (4) Some one thing to lead him more surely toward "life more abundant," (5) Some one thing to help him find and know himself more adequately — then we shall have just BEGUN to fulfill our obligation to Alma College and Liberal Arts — which is to help students realize that God is the very force of living and learning.

Deadlines

Irresponsible Politicians On Alma Campus Also

Be not misled! Political irresponsibility is not limited to the legislative halls of Lansing or Washington D. C. The Alma College student council seems to have its share too.
 After a particularly controversial matter one may accost councilmen and women afterwards and hear nearly as many versions as there are members. And, as far as individual responsibility in student representation goes, the official posted minutes of student council meetings do absolutely nothing in the way of clarification.
 It is indeed regrettable that some of our student law-makers do not possess enough intestinal fortitude to admit to their constituents the stands they take on various matters coming before council.
 There are two ways to enforce the integrity naturally expected of elected representatives. The first points out a serious fault on the part of the very students supposedly represented.
 Popular interest in the actions of its ruling body is a strong deterrent to buck-passing. Were the students of A-C interested enough to frequently attend meetings of their council, their presence itself would provide a formidable incentive for deliberate and responsible action.
 Such action is obviously lacking when, one week for example, no quorum prevented the council from acting on anything. The next week the meeting had to be delayed and members sought to provide a quorum for business.

 It is further evidenced in the council's frequent confused debates over positively trivial matters, and the enormous time consumed to transact normally "cut-and-dried" business.
 Recently the council had the task of choosing two applicants for a campus position. Interviews with a number of council members following their unanimous choice showed that some did not know which applicant was which.
 A keen popular interest in the student council can do much to restore a sense of responsibility where it is so sorely needed.
 The second means of enforcing political integrity involves the regular publication of the names of yea and nay voters on all issues coming to a vote before council.
 No mention of this is made in the present student council constitution, and of course there is no student body constitution. Nevertheless, it should be a matter of parliamentary procedure and actually needs no specific constitutionality. Every Alma student has a right to know how his representative voted and such information should be a regular feature of the posted minutes and published reports in THE ALMANIAN.
 Fortunately, there are some council members who are aware of these problems. They, alone, however, cannot effect the remedies. It takes the diligent attention of everyone of us.

Smoke Gets In Your Eyes—In Gelston Lobby?

Recently a number of college men and women have become re-acquainted with a rule mentioned in the student handbook—namely that there shall be no smoking in the lobby of Mary Gelston Hall.
 In addition to Gelston, there are some other places on campus where a hue and cry is raised at the appearance of tell-tale butts, or the bluish whisp of that which tastes good (as if a cigarette could).
 No one seems to know just exactly where the rules came from but the fact remains, they are there, and unless and until they are repealed, the campus is morally obligated to observe them.

There are, though, two small "help" signs which if used, could facilitate the observance of "no-smoking" rules. One is a courteous reminder, the other entails a little sign-painting on someone's part.
 The standard rule of courtesy to be remembered by the smoker is simply: If there are no ashtrays in sight—don't smoke. This automatically rules out a number of classrooms and lobbys which are frequent scenes of violation.
 The second "help" consists of the judicious placing of an ample supply of "no smoking" signs. At present there are two in Old Main but if they aren't pointed out, they aren't noticed.
 Certainly a "no-smoking" sign is an unattractive that it can't be placed conspicuously in places where needed.
 It seems this would be a proper matter for student council action. Perhaps a word to the wise is sufficient.

That Measly $77 Billion

To hear some politicians tell it, President Eisenhower committed an act just short of treason in submitting to Congress a balanced budget.
 Their argument seems to be that this country is so rich it can afford to spend more than it takes in, and that it should do so because we need so many things.
 It is really true that this rich but needy country can violate without penalty the financial laws which every family in America must obey or meet disaster? Of course not. Whether your name is Astor or Smith, you'll pay the penalty if you go head over heels in debt for things you can get along without.

 When the government goes in the hole, we all pay. Either taxes are raised to cover the shortage, or inflation takes another bite out of every family budget in the land.
 As the President asks, if we can't pay as we go in a year of prosperity, can we ever again escape from deficits and inflation?

No Quorum

 Bud Sundeck, and Pat Sweeney.
 Bob Abernathy, Sally Bay, Bob Cotter, Dave Elliot, Ken Harper, Dave Hogberg, Ed Powers, Bill York and Bob Wollard each have one unexcused absence. Judy Eldred has one excused absence and of George Cobb's two absences, one is excused.
 Myrtle Cuellar, Vern Hipwell, Bob Ludtke, Chip McLellan, Bill Wilson, and Dave Smith have been present at all meetings this semester.

 Absent from the last meeting were Sally Bay, Bert Dugan, Dave Elliott, Judy Orvis, Bud Sundeck, Pat Sweeney, and Bob Wollard. With the exception of Bert Dugan any of those who were not present at the last meeting must present an acceptable excuse, President Ludtke said, or risk being dropped from the council. The council will decide the validity of the excuses.
 Bob Beltz, business manager of the Scotsman this year, reported to the council that the Scotsman again went over its budget. Mr. Beltz asked the council to pay the difference between the budget and actual expenditures. The same was done last year with the possibility of bills to come in. Negligence on the part of the staff in not following the proper business procedure was the reason given by Mr. Beltz on why he was unable to keep within the budget. No action could be taken on the matter and members of the Scotsman staff were to be asked to appear before the council.

Illness Excuse For Absence? Here's How

Dear Editor,
 I doubt if this will be the only letter you will receive concerning Monday's Chapel speaker, but I want to take my stand. In the first place, it has always been my opinion that before one can criticize something, whether it be an idea or a fraternity (or sorority), that one should avail himself to the facts, ALL THE FACTS. I know Mr. Jessop did not do this, or else he repressed those not fitting in with his condemnation of fraternities. Will someone ask Mr. Jessop who worked on the Cancer Drive last year and the U. F. Drive this year, and if that is not enough will someone kindly direct him to my room and I will give him a list of other phone numbers to call in connection with the Christian work of the Alma College Fraternities. Then ask him who provides the majority of the campus social activities? Now he may say that this is not Christian. Well, maybe not, for a monk. Then, what is wrong with the fraternities providing brotherhood? It seems to me that this certainly is Christian. There are many people on this campus who find in a fraternity (or sorority) a Christian spirit (which is other than the "Holier than Thou" attitude).
 Sincerely,
 Bob Cotter, Member of DELTA GAMMA TAU
 P. S. I am not afraid to sign my name for I am extremely proud of my fraternity!!!

Students desiring absence reports for illness should proceed as follows: notify the Health Office of illness before classes have been missed, or as soon as possible. Absences will be listed as previously. Other times the Resident Nurse should be contacted or the Head Resident.
 If services of an outside doctor are desired, the following procedure must be observed:
 1) Notification of the Head Resident or Resident Nurse is to be made before calling the doctor.
 2) The doctor must be accompanied to the student's room by the Head Resident, or Nurse.
 3) A statement of the student's illness must be secured from the attending physician and filed with the Health Office for the medical records.

Job Opportunities In Europe For Students During Summer

Looking for a summer job? Europe offers job opportunities in forestry work, child care, farm work, hotel work, construction work, and other more specialized jobs.

A press release from the American - European Student Foundation tells of the expansion in its 1959 placement service for American students in European jobs.

College students may work in Germany, Sweden, Denmark, Norway, Holland, Austria, Switzerland, France, England, Ireland, Spain, Portugal, Italy, and Israel. The program affords the opportunity of living contact with the people giving insight into their customs.

Students receive room and board plus a wage (scaled to European economy). Working conditions are controlled by the countries' labor ministries. Employers are interested in carrying out the intent of the program. In most cases they have requested American student employees.

The expansion of the program resulted from its success last year. Here lies an excellent opportunity for a trip abroad, a living and unforgettable experience, according to the release.

Further information on the placement services and travel arrangements may be obtained from the foundation at P. O. Box 34712, Vaduz, Liechtenstein, Switzerland.

When questioned about the College "no drinking" rule the president said it was not a moral issue, because the Presbyterian Church itself is divided on the issue. Rather, he went on to say, it is a requirement of the college out of concern for the quality of the community.

To questions concerning the faculty, homework and "that snowed-under feeling," President Swanson recommended that groups of students and faculty members sit down and have honest discussions on these matters.

Scholarship Funds Available For Those Of Armenian Parents

Dr. William Boyd, Dean of the College, announced recently that scholarship funds are available to students of Armenian parentage.

The Detroit Armenian Women's Club offers the educational assist to qualified students. This year marks the 20th consecutive year that such help has been made available by the Detroit group.

Mrs. Blough, secretary to the Dean, explained that many students of Armenian parentage have anglicized their names, dropping the filial-ian ending, hence the Dean's office is not able to directly contact students who may be eligible for these funds.

Applications for the scholarships must be in the hands of the Detroit club by April 15. Students who qualify are urged to contact the Dean without delay.

Team Breaks Seventeen Year Winning Record

Under the excellent coaching of Wayne Hintz this year's basketball team posted more victories than any other Alma team in the last seventeen years. Great out-court shooting and good rebounding were the key to a successful season.

Offensively the team averaged 76 points a game and showed balanced scoring among its players. Six players had more than 200 points and in 16 games there were five or more men in the double figures. The team reached its peak when it broke the single game scoring record with 111 points against Olivet in January. Their best effort at home was a 94-57 victory over Olivet in the final regular season appearance in Phillips' Gym. The Scots worked the ball in for good shots better than most of their opponents and when they were hitting from out court they were tough to beat. Their biggest weakness was at the free throw line and the fast break was a rarity.

The teams rebounding was very good and a bright spot in the Scots play. Probably the best rebounding of the season was against the towering Hope team when they played in Alma. Good positioning was the key to their rebounding success. Strong rebounding was the nucleus for a strong defense. The Scots held Ferris to 37 points for the best defensive performance of the season.

The key man in the Scots attack was Ferris Saxton, 6' 2" junior from Midland. Ferris broke the individual scoring record with 448 points for a 16.6 average. The old record was set by George Carter two years ago when he scored 369 points for a 16.8 average. Ferris was named to the All-MIAA first team, selected as one of the top ten players in the state NAIA poll and voted most valuable player by his teammates. Besides his great scoring he is a top flight defenseman. His aggressive defensive play brought excitement to the fans as well as adding life to the team.

The number two man in the scoring race was Jim Northrup, a 6' 3" sophomore from Alma. Playing at forward Jim tallied a total of 342 points for a 13.2

average. When Jim was hitting from out court he was unbeatable and was also a fine rebounder. He was given honorable mention on the All-MIAA team for 1958-59.

Voted Honorary Captain and the inspirational award by his teammates was Dalton "Butch" Cantrell. "Butch" while playing at center and forward was the top rebounder and was fourth among the scorers. The Battie Creek Junior will be one of four starters returning next year.

Teaming up with Cantrell to control the boards for the Scots was Roseville freshman, Duane Hussey. The spirit and great play Hussey made the biggest difference in this year's team, stated several players. Hussey scored more than 300 points and was one of the outstanding freshmen in the league.

Bill York and Bill Klenk were fifth and sixth respectively in the scoring race. Both are seniors and teamed with Saxton at the guard positions. York is from Three Rivers and the smallest man on the team, but his great desire and hustle made up for lack of height. Klenk another Roseville graduate was a top defensiveman.

Dave Peters, sophomore guard from Rochester did not see much action until late in the season. Dave is a good scorer and should be a big asset to next year's team.
