

Mitchell Hall Self Governing Has House Parents

Mitchell Hall, an entirely student operated men's residence hall, was completed this summer.

The hall was constructed to accommodate 185 men. It is run by six Resident Advisors and has a student family residing to function as house parents.

Russ Brandt, senior pre-theological major, his wife, Mary, and their three-year-old son Allen live in the apartment on the first floor.

The six resident Advisors of the hall are Jim White, Dan Reish, Bill Wilson, Fritz Schultz, Jim Greenlees, and Ron MacKenzie.

Gary Burkhardt was elected president of Mitchell Hall last spring.

Named for the late James

Mitchell, who was a former Dean of the College and a faculty member for almost 50 years, the hall will be dedicated on Homecoming day, October 15. An open house will be held the same day.

The new building offers many very attractive features. The main lounge, with wall to wall carpeting, is furnished in a modern motif to provide an attractive place to entertain guests as well as a living room for the college men.

There are also four study lounges located in strategic parts of the building. The individual rooms are furnished with bolster type beds that are used as davenports during the day.

Mitchell Hall the new men's residence hall. Dedication ceremonies for the building will be held on Homecoming Day.

49 On Semester 149 Dean's List; Seniors, Freshmen Lead With 15

Forty-nine students are listed on the Dean's List for semester 148. Freshmen and seniors lead the list with 15; sophomores have 11, and juniors trail behind with 8. The class break up is similar to that of semester 147.

Of the eight three pointers, four are freshmen, three sophomores, and one is a senior.

Women, with 30, outnumber the 19 men on the Dean's List.

Seniors listed are Mary McCall, 3.00; Robert Wollard, 2.84; Barnette Shepherd, 2.81; Joanne Stocker, 2.78; Robert Weinburger, 2.78; William Reist, 2.76; John Goodenow, 2.75; Allen Martin, 2.75; Kathryn Shier, 2.75; Larry Essmacher, 2.73; Margaret Ulch, 2.66; Barbara Busby, 2.57; William Betts, 2.50; Janice Heacox, 2.50; and Larry Thompson, 2.50.

Juniors include: Liz Crick, 2.81; Nancy Ferrand, 2.66; Kurt Frevel, 2.64; Nancy (Thibedeau) Quick, 2.63; Robert Tarte, 2.61; Richard Boughton, 2.60; Harold Kirkpatrick, 2.58; and Joseph Zimmerman, 2.56.

Sophomores listed are Margaret Emmert, 3.00; Millie Howe, 3.00; Shima Murakami, 3.00; Richard Daugherty, 2.82; Louise Alma, 2.77; Richard Wilcox, 2.68; Joyce Grover, 2.64; Roger Marce, 2.63; Vicky Jackson, 2.60; Nancy Logan, 2.56; and Sue Beatty, 2.55.

The 15 freshmen are Jacqueline Arbury, 3.00; Suellen Baker, 3.00; Kay Colgan, 3.00; Ethel Smith, 3.00; Louise Yolton, 2.85; Gail Hammel, 2.80; Nancy Bahlmer, 2.73; Nancy Braden, 2.73; Laurence Marshburn, 2.66; Nancy Raymond, 2.64; Paula Simon, 2.56; Hope Harder, 2.53; Cliff VanBlarcom, 2.53; Rebecca Walton, 2.53; and Margaret Roe, 2.50.

Frosh To Display Talent In Tyler

The freshmen will show their talent Saturday evening at 7:30 in Tyler Auditorium, with all upperclassmen invited to attend.

Freshmen from Pioneer, Gelston, Wright, and Mitchell Halls will present can-cans, quartette singing, and original, skits, with Hal Waller, junior, acting as master of ceremonies for the program.

Other features of the program will be the appearance of the "strange judges" who will have some surprises for the frosh. Also, there will be awards made for the most original freshman signs and to the winner of the freshman-sophomore event.

The talent show will be the official end of the Almanization period, which began with the donning of the green beanies at the picnic Wednesday.

Wayne Underhill, an Orientation Committee Member is in charge of the talent show.

Series Will Present Variety in Art

The Lecture-Concert Series for the 1960-61 season will get under way Friday, October 7, with the appearance of the Don Pasquale-Donizetti Opera Company.

The next scheduled event in the series will be "An Evening With Mark Twain" by George William Smith to be held Friday, November 4.

Vance Packard will present "Our Morality and the Hidden Persuaders" Friday, November 11.

On Friday, January 13, a tentative date is reserved for another event in the series. This also pertains to Friday, February 10.

The Don Cossack Chorus and Dancers are to appear Saturday, March 4.

Theodor Ullman, Pianist, will perform on Saturday, April 22.

Hit All Time High; 761 Enroll For Sem. 149

Enrollment for semester 149 has jumped to an estimated 761 students as we go to press. This is an all time high, according to Miss Molly Parrish, registrar.

The freshman class of 395 has greatly boosted the enrollment. The class is 48% larger than last year's freshman class, according to John Kimball, Director of Admissions.

The class, of which there are 130 women and 165 men, is said to compare favorably with last year's class concerning academic ability.

Approximately one third of the class hold scholarships, with four times as many men on scholarship, said Kimball.

5 Day Week Shelved

Plans for a five day class week have been reluctantly set aside.

Upon reviewing pre-registration forms, Miss Molly Parrish, registrar; and Dr. William Boyd, Dean of the college; found that many students had class conflicts or unrealistically crowded schedules.

The return to a five and a half day week is a disappointment for many students, and according to Dean Boyd, "A far greater disappointment to the faculty."

The policy of a five day week will be tried again in a few years, Boyd said.

NOTICE

There will be a meeting of students who are interested in cheerleading Monday at 4:45 p.m. See box on page 3 for time.

10 New Faculty Arrive At Alma Brings Total To 67

Ten new staff members have been appointed, according to an announcement by Dr. Robert Swanson, president. These new members will make a total faculty of 67.

Dr. Richard Sallett has been appointed as visiting professor of history and political science. Dr. Sallett comes to Alma from Washington, D. C., where he has been a consultant on foreign affairs.

Though his early education was in Germany, he came to the United States to obtain the Bachelor's Degree from Harvard University and to pursue graduate school at Columbia University. Dr. Sallett was awarded the doctor's degree by the University of Komingsburg in Germany and also studied law at Northwestern University.

Dr. Sallett has been a prominent writer and lecturer in the fields of political science and foreign affairs and has served on the staff of Northwestern University, as well as at European Universities.

John E. Brown will be an instructor in Philosophy and Religion. He comes to Alma from Johns-Hopkins University, where he obtained the Master of Arts degree and now is a doctoral candidate.

He received the Bachelor of Divinity degree at the San Francisco Theological Seminary. Brown's experiences include a position as Director of Religious Education at the First Presbyterian Church in Napa, California, and Assistant Executive Secretary in Y.M.C.A.

Mr. Earl F. Hayward, a graduate of Alma College, will teach French. For the past few years he has been at the University of Michigan where he has obtained the Master of Art's degree and is presently working toward the Ph. D. degree.

Hayward has worked with the Ann Arbor schools in preparing special test materials for teaching French.

Mr. Ward Shults of the Public Schools in Alma will also serve the College. He has been appointed as an Associate Professor to teach in the Education Department and will direct the teacher training program at the secondary school level.

This joint arrangement in which Mr. Shults is both teaching in the local high school, as well as at the College, is a new venture to serve the best interests of both schools.

Mr. Robert Marble has been appointed Associate Director of Admissions. He has been on the faculty at St. Johns High School for nine years and has been studying at Michigan State University, where he will obtain the doctor's degree.

Marble will have offices in Detroit, where he will represent the College in counseling with prospective students.

Other appointments include Miss Barbara Southward as an Assistant Professor in Women's Physical Education.

REB, Robin E. Butler, former editor of the almanian will continue writing his yell from Dubuque Seminary which he is now attending as a first year student.

It is very odd, indeed, to feel like a freshman again. Beginning seminary as a junior (junior-middler-senior are the three years) gives one the distinct impression of once again being a small pea in a big pod. I say "again" for this is exactly the disturbing situation that faces many freshmen in college who have become accustomed to the prestige and position of the "big wheel" while at high school.

The student, however, is not alone in his rather untied first days. The seminary professors, expressing more of themselves than they are aware of, during the orientation lectures, are somewhat at a loss to "peg" us also, even as we are at a loss to "peg" ourselves. The lectures become mass fusillades of shots in the dark composed of academic stereotypes, experiences and deductions, many of which, of course, hit the nail on the head. After all, these men are experienced instructors, they can predict with accuracy a certain amount of similarity among all students, year after year. But there still remains that initial uncertainty expressed in the classroom tableau of new, unfamiliar faces.

This will change rapidly. Most professors will have an accurate hole for the peg in a short while, for one notices the almost desperate struggle for the security of some sort of recognition among the new students. The transition from cream of the crop to small pea is not an easy one to make. The effort, of course, reveals much to the professor and fellow students who are astute enough to notice, understand, and sympathize.

In one way, this is indeed unfortunate, for soon small, tight-knit cliques form in which the individual may regain a measure of that lost security of recognition, but only at the price of his individuality. Fellowship with other individuals is thus forfeited and the influence of another individual upon the clique is avoided and rebuffed at every instance. Remember: This is an institution dedicated to the training of ministers of Jesus Christ who is the very personified repudiation of the identity-submerging group. One quickly learns that even in seminary there is a want for a higher level of maturity than sometimes comes to them.

Nowhere has this last thought been more forcibly expressed than in the orientation lecture on the library. The seminary has the smallest (in size) library of any United Presbyterian seminary, but its quality is second only to that of Princeton's library. (Princeton, being older, of course includes in its collection volumes which are no longer available to other libraries.) Can you imagine a student, studying for the Christian ministry, tearing pages from a valuable first-edition of a noted preacher's sermons—to use from his own practice pulpit? It happens. Can you imagine a man supposedly surrendered, dedicated and committed wholly to Christ, stealing, a valuable reference book? It happens also. Dubuque is a small seminary and such incidents are few, but one can imagine and assume the same proportion for the other seminaries as well. As one would expect, however, such behavior is not invalidated by mere fines or restrictions if one is caught. Mutilation of any book or periodical in the library, INCLUDING MARKING OF ANY KIND, will result in the offender's immediate dismissal from seminary.....

I AM EXTREMELY THANKFUL for the two years of Greek I received at Alma. I only wish it had been possible for me to study Hebrew also. Whereas other seminaries are "liberalizing" in the matter of foreign language study, it is because, as a rule, their efforts in Greek and Hebrew were never interwoven with the other studies of the seminary curricula. Unless one planned to be a Greek or Hebrew scholar, one forgot his languages even before graduation from seminary. Presbyteries have also been adamant on this matter, so the present tendency among theological schools is to enlarge a department of English Bible and do away with the study and use of Greek and Hebrew. Dubuque has no intention of so doing. Here one finds a constant demand, THE ENTIRE THREE YEARS, for his knowledge of both Greek and Hebrew in courses where other seminaries rely mostly on English-language sources.

From a personal standpoint, I am glad this is so. My two years of Greek at Alma taught me something very valuable. It taught me that to prepare for adequate meditation, and to absorb the deepness of meaning inherent in the Bible, it is necessary to command a fair knowledge of both the tongue in which the Bible was written, and the tongue (English) in which it is studied. The fact is immutable: The English language simply does not convey the fullness of meaning to be found in the Bible, by itself, for the Book of Books does NOT speak in words, but in IDEAS. Perhaps this accounts somewhat for some apparent failure in our modern liberal-minded religions, for the study of English Bible, at best, comes only to a "passable" understanding of the Book's content—not the life-giving inspiration which the minister is expected to expound and propound. I can see no resolution of this problem through the expansion of English-Bible departments. Alma taught me to think in terms of ideas. The monolanguage student is forever handicapped in such a world.

The Gamble

Well, you are here, and its up to you. You, of course are the new freshmen on campus. You are entering a new world, facing new challenges; yet it is not that different from the life you are accustomed to. The main ingredient for success are determination and hard work. The next four years are to a large degree, going to affect the rest of your life. Make the best of them. You know what? We bet you can do it.

Shouts and Whispers

Seated in the United Nations Assembly along with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev are Castro of Cuba, Kadar of Hungary, and Gomulka of Poland, to name a few of the faithful followers of the Kremlin brand of communism.

In this cold war fought only with words of "peace," and "propaganda," Khrushchev has shown that his purpose is to win all of the Afro-Asian countries over to the communist cause.

Arriving on United States soil on Monday, Khrushchev was greeted by a crowd as friendly as hurricane Donna, which preceded Nikita. His reception was by far many degrees cooler than the chilly reception of little more than one year ago.

Khrushchev's self proclaimed "propaganda mission for the good of peace" has all of America on edge.

However, in this time of "propaganda," "peace," and "proposals" it might be wise to take another look at the U.N. assembly room.—Some of the seats are empty.—Others which previously were filled with the once-free people of communist dominated countries are now filled with impersonators bearing the names of these people.

The living may "shout," "propose," "propagandize," and "speak of peace." But these once-filled assembly seats whisper softly to mankind's conscience.

Begin New Program In Teacher Education

Alma College and the Public Schools of Alma are inaugurating a program of cooperation in teacher education this September, as well as an exploratory study leading to an arrangement that would permit selected high school seniors to take freshman college courses.

In announcing this new joint venture, Mr. Homer Hendricks, Superintendent of Schools, and Dr. William Boyd, Dean of the College, report that Mr. Ward Shults of the local high school has been appointed as an Associate Professor in the Department of Education.

Shults will direct the student teaching program at the secondary school level for the college and teach one course each semester in the Education Department. He will continue to work in the Guidance Department at the high school.

The details of the new program which would permit outstanding high school seniors to enroll for freshman courses at the college, will be worked out by a joint committee composed of personnel from both the high school and the college faculty.

This kind of cooperative effort between the public schools and the college represents a new arrangement which promises to serve the best interests of both institutions.

of 1,500. Other features of the building would include, band and vocal music rooms, a small 350 seat auditorium, practice rooms and art studios.

 "I am deeply appreciative of the support accorded me by the student body in attaining this position. I shall remain ready and most willing to assist in any capacity possible."

Donated To Health Service New Furniture, Equipment

Located in Gelston Hall, the Health Service has been refurbished with new furnishings and equipment.

In making this special gift to the college, the donor has helped establish a thoroughly modern medical facility for the college students.

The gift includes an examination table, a special microscope, centrifuge, treatment cabinets, refrigerator, scales, desks and files, as well as the redecorating of the rooms designated for this purpose and other appropriate appurtenances for a thoroughly modern health service.

Dr. Clarence Hoogerland, the college physician, states: "This new equipment provides a completely new set up which provides all that is needed for this kind of a college health service."

Dr. Hoogerland has office hours in the College Health Service each day for examination and treatment of health problems which students present. He is assisted by Mrs. Evelyn Sears, a public health nurse who is available to students. Two trained nurses, enrolled as students residing in Gelston Hall, are available for emergency call during night time hours.

The health program was established with the counsel and assistance of the Gratiot County Medical Association. Each student pays a health fee each semester to finance the operation of the clinic, as well as a fee to provide hospital insurance.

Students who cannot be cared for at the college clinic may receive care at one of the local hospitals.

New Faculty

University and the Sargeant School of Physical Education where she is a special instructor in tennis in their summer session.

Miss Miriam Belleville will join the faculty of the Music Department to teach Organ, Church Music and Teaching Methods.

Miss Belleville is a graduate of the School of Sacred Music, Union Theological Seminary in New York, as well as Eureka College in Illinois and Bowling Green University in Ohio.

Her experience has been as a Director of University Student Choirs and organist at the United Presbyterian Church on the campus of the University of Wisconsin and with the Board of Cooperative Educational Services in Orange County, New York, as well as in the public schools in Uniontown, Ohio.

Mr. Paul Storey, who was on a leave of absence last year to pursue the doctoral degree at Vanderbilt University, will return to the College as an assistant professor in the English Department.

Dr. Howard Haines, a psychiatrist, formerly on the staff at the State Hospital in Traverse City, has been appointed as a visiting lecturer.

Dr. Haines will teach a course in abnormal psychology and also be available for student counseling. He is known for his frequent addresses before medical and educational groups and his many contributions to the professional literature of his field.

He has been a visiting professor for two years at Central Michigan University.

Dr. Sam Jones Jr. has been appointed as an instructor in the music department. Dr. Jones is a graduate of the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, N. Y., and Millsaps College.

At Millsaps College, Dr. Jones was formerly the conductor of the symphonic band and marching band. Dr. Jones will direct the Kiltie Band and other instrumental groups and teach in the music department.

Mitchell Hall

a living-study combination. With the emphasis on increased academic excellence, the building has been designed to develop an ideal environment for study.

Other features are a small library, recreational facilities, and meeting rooms.

Dr. Kent Hawley, Dean of Men, and other College authorities, worked for many months with the architect to plan the details of Mitchell Hall. Dean Hawley comments, "The construction, design and decor of this building tend to make it a cheerful place in which to live, which does not resemble the usual institutional kind of college dormitory."

Improved library facilities as pictured in the architect's drawing has been given top priority in the proposed building expansion program. The two story library building would be attached to a proposed new classroom building by a bridge to provide easy access between the two structures.

RA's Attend Workshop; Hear Several Speakers

Resident advisers for four dormitories were on campus for workshop meetings held Friday and Saturday, September 16 and 17.

The ten women advisors for Pioneer and Gelston Halls and fifteen men advisors for Mitchell and Wright Halls attended several joint meetings during the workshop.

Dr. Dana Farnsworth of Harvard University spoke to the group Friday on "Emotions on the Campus."

Saturday the R. A.'s heard Dr. Irene Linder of the sociology department speak on "The Resident Adviser as a Group Worker" and later "The Resident Adviser as a Counselor."

Miss Nola Hatten, Social Director, spoke at a luncheon meeting about the freshmen orientation period.

The women and men R. A.'s also held meetings with Dean Esther Vreeland and Dean Kent Hawley respectively.

S S of G Coming Tonight

This year's frosh-soph event, the "S S of G" will take place tonight.

A trophy will be presented to the winning class tomorrow night at the freshman talent show.

According to Miss Nola Hatten, social director, this event will take the same amount of talent to perform as last year's Bucket Brigade Bonfire, where paper cups filled with water were used in relay lines to put out bonfires.

Staff meeting will be held Monday at 5 p.m. in the basement of the Hood Building.

Honor Houses Full

Women's residence halls and honor residences are filled to capacity this year, with several changes arising from the increased enrollment number.

Seventeen women are for the first time occupying the newly-redecorated Clizbe House.

Mary Gelston Hall, built to house 205 women, has been remodeled to hold 232. Three study lounges and three meeting rooms have been converted to living quarters, and also the guest rooms are in use.

Pioneer Hall boasts 42 girls, several above its usual quota.

Scots Win First Game At Indiana Central

Live Up To Pre-Season Forecasts

Alma scored a hard fought victory over Indiana Central last Saturday afternoon in a game played at Indianapolis.

The Scots overpowered I. C.'s Greyhounds to the tune of 20-6. The score was held down by frequent fumbles. Alma's alert defense recovered two of Indiana Central's three fumbles, and stopped the Greyhounds offensive attack repeatedly.

Dave Peters intercepted two Greyhound bound passes to aid Alma's cause. One interception occurred in Alma's end zone, and robbed Indiana Central of six points.

Combining with a tight defense that allowed Indiana Central only 40 yards total offense in the first half, Alma produced a potent offensive attack which rolled up 305 total yards for the game.

Dave Peters was the leading ground gainer with 91 yards total offense. Terry Ebright passed for 111 yards as he completed 8 for 13, and looked very impressive on short rollout passes.

Lyn Salathiel grabbed the spotlight as the highest scorer of the game, figuring in all three Alma touchdowns. Salathiel threw a 12 yard touchdown pass to Len Fase in the second quarter, scored on a one yard plunge in the third quarter, and caught a 38 yard touchdown pass from Terry Ebright in the fourth quarter.

Peters kicked two extra points. His attempted kick after the second touchdown was blocked. The hard running backfield lived up to its pre-season predicted potential. Tex Gleason, Len Fase, and Paul Kozumplik all looked strong on straight power-plays up the middle, and quick slants to either side.

The unheralded men of football made most of these fine runs possible. (For readers who are not football fans, the unheralded men of football are the massive linemen who compose the forward wall of a football team.)

Alma's unheralded men are not too massive this year, but nevertheless they ripped gaping holes up and down the Indiana Central line, which enabled our backfield men to slip through into the Indiana Central secondary.

Orientation Ends Tonight

The Freshman Orientation program continues this evening with the freshman-sophomore event taking place at 7:00 P.M. on the Mitchell-Gelston lawn, followed by the Mitchell Hall Mixer.

Freshmen and sophomores are requested to bring scissors to the "event" if possible. All freshmen are to provide their own shoe polish for the mixer.

Orientation, which began Sunday following the arrival of new students, was planned to acquaint them with the campus and students.

Sunday's events included meeting faculty advisers, the Presidents' Reception, informal singing, and a Vespers program.

On Monday the testing program was to be followed by a picnic in the grove, which had to be cancelled due to rain. A general assembly and free movie, "Don't Go Near the Water," took place in the evening.

Orientation events on Tuesday provided registration information. Mr. Charles House conducted a general assembly in the evening.

Wednesday the all school picnic and dance were planned to "orient" the freshmen to the upperclassmen.

Continuation orientation began Thursday at noon with a meeting concerning elections, Homecoming and freshman class events.

Three more meetings of this sort are planned. On Thursday, September 29, at noon, there will be skits by freshmen on social habits. Charles Skinner, chemistry professor and sophomore class adviser will show slides and talk about Alma traditions at a noon meeting Thursday, October 6. On October 13 a meeting will be a program on study habits.

All orientation events are planned and directed by a student orientation committee headed by Ed Powers, junior. Seniors on the committee are Jim White, Lyn Salathiel, and Nancy Ferrand. Cliff VanBlarcom, Mike Maus, Wayne Underhill, Bonnie McBane, Sue Little, and Jane Walker are sophomore members.

Kiltie Band Plans Announced By Conductor

Plans are underway for a year of accomplishment for the Kiltie and Concert Band, according to Dr. Sam Jones, new conductor.

The band will travel to Saginaw for the Red Feather Game on October 1, and will present a show especially written by Dr. Jones to commemorate the Community Chest Drive.

"The band will also play for all home football games and at least one other out-of-town game," said Dr. Jones.

In addition to marching activities the band is planning three concerts during the rest of the year, emphasizing the Baroque, Classical, Romantic and Contemporary repertoire as well as some "Pops" selections.

There are still a few membership openings in the band, Dr. Jones announced.

Students who play an instrument and are interested in becoming a member of the band should contact Dr. Jones or Stu Strait, president of the band.

Rehearsals are held on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays at 4:00 p.m. in Dow Auditorium.

Alma to Host Bluffton Sat.

Bluffton College of Bluffton, Ohio will be Alma's opponent in Saturday's 2 p.m. game at Bahlke Field.

Bluffton lost their first game of the season last Saturday to Heidelberg, Ohio.

Heidelberg is ranked fourth in the nation among small colleges, so Bluffton was not as bad as the 33-7 score might indicate. Bluffton will be an exciting team to watch this Saturday. They have the ability to display the dazzling play, or go on the ground with power.

The starting center on the Bluffton squads weighs in at 280 pounds, with the rest of the team not too far behind in weight. Two of their backfield men will be fast and shifty.

Alma will have to be on their toes to defeat this foe.

See you in the cheering section.
