

Students Have Special Prices For Tickets

Series Consists Of 4 Concerts Given In Alma

Sale of season tickets for the Alma Series of the Saginaw Symphony Concerts began this week at the information desk in Tyler Center. According to Dale Tuller, student chairman of sales, students may purchase the tickets between 7 and 10 p.m. each evening until October Tuller explained that the Alma Series will consist of four concerts given in Alma by the Saginaw Symphony under the direction of Dr. Samuel Jones, former Assistant Professor of Music at Alma College.

He also pointed out that since Alma College was sponsoring the Alma Series, (along with the Alma Junior Chamber of Commerce), students and faculty of Alma College are being offered a special price on a season ticket to the four concerts. The price of the special student season ticket- which is $3.50 less than the regular ticket- is $4.00. Individual tickets will be available for only two of the four concerts and will probably sell for about $2.00 each.

The first appearance of the Saginaw Symphony in Alma will be Monday, October 8 in the Memorial Gymnasium. This concert, which will be the debut concert of Jones as new resident conductor, will feature Beethoven's "Lenore Overture No. 3" and "Symphony No. 4" by Tchaikovsky.

Kiltie Band To Play Before "Music Man"

The next public performance of the Kiltie Band will be Wednesday evening, October 3 at the Strand Theatre, when it will play for the premiere performance of "Music Man." The event is being sponsored for charity by the Business and Professional women of Michigan.

In addition to performance at football games, the Kiltie Band will present a Pops Concert in November and a Christmas Concert in December.

Women's Fall Pledging Opens; IFC Announces Men's Rush

The Campus Panhellenic Council announces that all eligible women are invited to participate in sorority fall pledging; it begins Sunday, October 14.

The purpose of this pledging is to fill the places left by graduates.

Only second semester freshmen women and upper classmen with a one point (1.00) overall scholastic average may participate.

Series Opens Sunday With English Comedy

Guinness Stars in Opener; Some Series Tickets Still Available

The Alma College International Film Series III will open this Sunday evening, September 30th, with the showing of the English comedy, "Man in the White Suit." at 8 p.m. in Dow Auditorium.

"Man in the White Suit" stars AK-e Guinness. It is the story of a lowly chemist's discovery of an indestructible fabric. a discovery bringing chaos to the textile industry. The machinations of both labor and management to suppress the invention are the basis of a comedy with pointed social comment. Also seen in the picture are Joan Greenwood and Cecil Parker.

Application For European Study Opens Officially On October 8

The application period for spring semester study programs conducted at the universities of Vienna and Freiburg by the Institute of European Studies will open officially on Monday, October 8.

Each program includes formal classes, lectures, seminars and field-study in Europe, and is designed to fulfill usual course requirements at its academic level.

The program at the University of Vienna will admit those with sophomore or junior standing as of February 2, 1963. It will combine English-taught liberal arts and general studies courses, intensive German language instruction, regular university courses taught in German for those competent in that language, and supplementary lectures and seminars. Previous knowledge of German is not required.

The "Das Deutsche Semester" program at the University of Freiburg is intended only for juniors. It will stress political science, German language study, German philosophy and literature, and European history. All classes will be taught in German.

Each program requires a C-plus college average. The Institute said admission will depend on the student's academic achievement and the recommendations of his dean and department chairman and of a professor familiar with his recent college work.

The application period will close next December 10. Students will sail for Europe from New York February 2.

A descriptive brochure on the two programs is available from the Institute of European Studies, 35 E. Wacker Drive, Chicago. The Institute, a non-profit educational institution, also conducts full-year programs in Vienna and Freiburg and in Paris. There is no spring program in Paris.

Officials say students will be led by academic guides on field-study trips to western Europe. Students in the Vienna program will visit England, France, Belgium, Luxembourg, Switzerland, Austria, Germany, Italy and Spain, while those in the Freiburg program will travel in Germany, Switzerland and Italy.

However, the study trips are not mere tours. They are strictly subordinate to classroom end are planned as integral parts of the over-all educational program.

The Institute said that more than 200 U.S. colleges and universities have accepted credits earned by their students on Institute programs.

Sigma Tau Gamma Fraternity will present the first fraternity open house of the school year tonight at their house, 603 W. Center Street. All students are invited to attend, escorted or unescorted. Refreshments will be served and entertainment provided.

Aid For Study Abroad Is Offered To Many

Applications are now being taken on this campus for U.S. Government Fulbright scholarships for graduate study or research abroad during the 1963-1964 academic year.

The Fulbright program offers awards of roundtrip transportation, tuition, and maintenance for one academic year in any one of 46 countries throughout the world to many of the positions in the gamut of academic rank on this campus.

The "lowest" rank so offered scholarship aid is that of the present senior. Four Fulbright awards are given to students wishing to do graduate work abroad, even though they have had no previous graduate work.

In regards to this opportunity to students, Mr. Wesley C. Dykstra, head of the Philosophy-Religion Department and Fulbright Advisor here, points out that in recent years no student here has even applied for a Fulbright award. He expresses hope that some students will take advantage this year of the program, which he terms "an excellent opportunity for graduate study." He urges, therefore, that any interested students make application.

The program also offers awards to professors, ranging from beginners with no doctorate to those professors who do hold that degree. Scholarships awarded to them are for the purpose of advanced research, or visiting lectureships. There have been several Fulbright awards given to professors on this campus in recent years.

A third group whose members may apply for an award are specialists in such fields as library service, social work, museum and art gallery methods, for which the doctoral degree is not necessarily a part of professional preparation. These may apply for either lecturing or research awards if they have completed their formal undergraduate and postgraduate training and have been established in their professions for several years.

There are several awards given to those wishing to teach in elementary or secondary schools abroad.

Detailed information about the application, the conditions and specific opportunities in each of the countries and other details of the program's mechanics is available from Mr. Dykstra in his office on the second floor of Hood Building. The description of application on this campus, Dykstra wishes to emphasize, is the first of November.

This program of scholarship aid, established by the Fulbright-Hays Act has as its stated purpose "To further goodwill and understanding between the United States and other countries through the exchange of students, teachers, lecturers, research scholars and specialists."

It is supervised by a Board composed of representatives of cultural educational, student, and veterans' groups which are notified by the President of the United States. A non-governmental Board reviews applications and awards the scholarships. The administration of the program is carried on by the Department of State.

General eligibility requirements are United States citizenship; minimum* at least one year of college or university teaching for lecturing, application is made; for research, minimum* the time of application or recognized profession; in some cases, knowledge of the language of the host country.

From the above picture it is hard to tell who is more confused, the freshmen or the poor chicken who wandered into the pep rally and freshmen induction last Friday evening.

As Master of Ceremonies Dr. Lou Toller competed successfully with the chicken for the attention of the large crowd. In his usual humorous manner Toller kept the program moving along smoothly.

The main events of the evening included the judging of freshmen signs by President Robert D. Swanson and entertainment by the TKE quartet. The winner of the sign contest was Bernard Beier, Jackson freshman. The cheerleaders led the group in cheering, teaching them several new cheers.

Panhelienic Council held its first regular meeting Monday, September 24, and announced its new officers for the fall semester. They are Klo Hartshorn, Secretary from the Alpha Theta sorority, Betsy Stanley, Treasurer from the Alpha Sigma Tau sorority. The president, Suzanne Starmann, member of Kappa Iota, was elected in the spring and will serve for the duration of the school year.

The council is made up of three girls from each sorority (not including the president of the council). Each sorority sends as its delegates the president, vice-president, and one appointed member. The members of the council and their respective sororities are: Leah Vorce and Judy Gable from Alpha Sigma Tau, Francis Henne and Bobbi Troyer from Alpha Theta, Dian Cardew, Pat Wellard, and Willa Knapp from Kappa Iota.

Returning from an active summer, the Tekes are enthusiastically planning and preparing for another busy year. Several activities, such as an annual Tiger baseball game in Detroit, a summer executive council meeting, the operation of a booth at the State Fair, and the weddings of Ron Rowe, Jim Grashaw, and Charley Mires provided good excuses for the Tekes to get together during the summer months. Some were active in other ways, too, as is evidenced by the pinnings of Tom Plowman to Sally Swanson, and John Rupke to Sharon Friedly.

Orchesis, the creative dance group of Alma College, will hold its first meeting Thursday, October 4 at 7 p.m. in Tyler Auditorium. AT interested students are invited

The organization which is under the direction of Miss Maxine Hayden, of the Health and Physical Education department, was established last September for the purpose of fostering interest and appreciation of creative dance in the student body and the community. The group provides its members with the opportunity to study, compose, and perform modern dance.

Jackie Harper, president, and Beverly Stelzer, publicity chairman, disclosed that this semester Orchesis is energetically working on its Spring dance concert, featuring a series of outer space numbers.

Last year's performances included a television appearance and participation in the Campus Day activities, as well as the Christmas concert.

The group attended an inter-collegiate dance symposium in October at Albion College and a master dance class in February at Central. The members frequently travel to see professional dancers at nearby locations.

The Dell Sigs are proud to announce that Mr. Yonkman has returned as housemother. The past week has been a trying one for her because bedlam has permeated the house. The constant tapping of hammers and sawing of saws has often kept her up late at night as the old house begins to take on a new look.

Compiled statistics show that more marriages are performed during the summer months than at any other time of the year. The following brothers have adhered to these statistics by taking the marital vows this summer. Bob Smith, Joe Grover, Harold Cook, and Ray McGiveron. Congratulations brothers, we hope you will be happy.

The Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity along with Alma College is again looking forward to another prosperous year. We are hoping that it will be the best year yet.

The Kappa Iota dime dance, an annual event, which was held September 21, was reported on at Monday night's KI meeting. Plans for the Father-Daughter Banquet to be held on October 6 were discussed. Coach Smith Retiring After 25 Years: Plans To Become Full-Time Professor

After a quarter of a century of coaching, Mr. Arthur Smith, Alma College Athletic Director, has announced that following the 1962 football season he will retire from the coaching profession to devote full-time to being a classroom professor. Smith began his coaching career in the fall of 1938 at Alma College as assistant to Coach Gordon A. MacDonald. Smith, a 1933 graduate of Alma, was an outstanding quarterback for the Scots and won ten major sport varsity letters during his college career.

After coaching high school, college and service teams, Smith returned to Alma to accept the position of Director of Athletics in 1958.

During his coaching career Smith's football teams won 95 games, and lost 48 and tied 7. In basketball his team record is 264 won and 94 lost.

Smith will take a year's leave of absence from Alma College following this school year to do additional graduate work before re-entering the classroom as a full-time professor.

In commenting on his resignation, President Robert D. Swanson said, "Coach Smith's decision to leave the field of coaching for full-time teaching is accepted with appreciation for the major contribution he has made to our athletic program during the past six years."

.. and They're Off and Running

The 1962 edition of cross-country at Alma could bring home one of the finest records the Scotsmen have enjoyed in many a season. Both Captain Jerry Smith and Coach Wayne Hintz are optimistic about this year's prospects.

The team is built around a nucleus of four returning lettermen and a promising frosh. Earl Wilson, Dave Bosworth, Tom Bailey, and Jerry Smith are the Scots returning lettermen, while Stuart McKenzie of Ferrisdale is the promising new face. The Scots are also looking for great things from Bryan Pezall, Bill Gelston, Phil Hough, and Gunnar Gudjonsen.

According to Hintz, few people realize that running cross-country is hard work (they run four miles). It is a rugged test of one's perseverance as well as one's ability to run.

Hintz says of the sport, "Although it is considered an individual sport, cross-country definitely needs an entire team effort." Smith added, "Cross-country has been an orphan at Alma, but this year I think it will join the family of athletics mainly because of our team's enthusiasm and perseverance."

The team is hoping this enthusiasm is carried over to the Alma student body, bringing many fans to the home meets. This year home meets will be held at the new golf course west of the campus, on the north side of Superior street.

An enthusiastic student body added to a highly spirited team could reap rich dividends with the 1962 Scotsmen runners.

Great Scots!

"Great Scots!" is a sports column which made its debut in last week's ALMANIAN.

by Jim Ralston

Monday afternoon another year of intramural sports will be launched on the Alma campus, with touch-football leading the way as usual.

Coach Bill Carr, director of intramural sports, is attempting to expand the program this year to go along with the old standards, football, volleyball, basketball, bowling, and softball. A few new members are being added to the intramural family.

There will be a new league started for table tennis, mixed outdoor tennis—thanks to the addition of new courts—and golf will be added in the spring if there is enough interest shown. Coach Carr also stated plans for a bowling league for each semester, instead of only one as it now stands.

A good intramural athletic program is essential for a healthy campus. It offers the students who do not wish to, or for some reason cannot compete at the varsity level, a chance for competition. It gives each individual a chance to let off steam, and it is a welcome diversion from academic life.

The value of these sports is evident. Participation runs over 1,000 each year. Facilities, organization and good participation make intramural athletics one of the most active functions on campus.

However, the attitude that has developed in the campus sports makes it questionable whether or not intramurals are as valuable as they could be.

A minority of intramural athletes seem to do their best to ruin it for others by their poor sportsmanship. Instead of using the intramural field as a place to let off steam and have good clean fun, they use it as a testing ground to see who can be the poorest sport or who has the quickest and nastiest temper.

These are the people we must beware of. Sure, they will impress a few people and draw a few laughs, here and there. There will always be a few of this type around.

But it might be well to remember, that they are the ones who might ruin the good intramural program that you more likely than not, will be a part of this year.

As another year is about to begin in this type of athletics, it is a good time to examine the true purpose and goal of intramural sports and help to bring about a more enjoyable program this year.

ALMA BLUFFS

Scots Suffer Second Loss Of Season; Optimism Is High For Remaining Games; Alma To Open MIAA Race Against Albion

Alma College suffered its second straight setback Saturday, at the hands of Bluffton College of Ohio.

Mike Goings, speedy Bluffton halfback led his team to a 14 to 0 first quarter lead, as he scored on runs of 19 and 95 yards.

The second quarter was scoreless until just before half-time. Bluffton then moved into scoring area, calling on Goings again to tote the pigskin into pay dirt.

Alma then began an attack of its own. Fighting both the clock and Bluffton, Knowlton moved the squad quickly downfield. The key play in the drive was a 30 yard aerial to halfback Dave Gierhart, putting the ball on the Bluffton 9 yard line. Knowlton then hit George Blackford for the final nine and a touchdown on the last play of the half.

Knowlton swept left end for the two point conversion, and at half-time Alma was back in the ball game - 20 to 8.

Alma, a fired up ball team, received the kick-off in the second half and marched straight downfield to the Bluffton ten yard line, and it looked as if they were going to make it a real battle.

However, the Scot's charges were stopped right there, and they never got back in the ball game. Bluffton began to roll again, scoring twice in the third period and winning the game - 32-8.

The game was encouraging to the Scots and their following, in as much as they showed much improvement over the previous week. They lost the game because of many obvious mistakes. If these can be corrected, Alma could develop into an interesting team, and a darkhorse in the approaching MIAA race.

The Scots open MIAA action on October 6 against Albion. Albion has been rated as one of the Top Ten Small College teams in the nation. Against Ohio Northern, the squad that walloped the Scots 52-6, the Britons pulled a 16-8 upset.

Men's Intramural team rosters must be turned into Coach William Carr or Van Mulligan by 5 p.m. today. Only men signed up on a team roster will be allowed to play and to eat early. Teams must have between 8 and 16 players. Games begin Monday.
