

The Lettermen

Symphony Will Present The Year's First Concert

Alma Symphony Orchestra will present its first concert of the season this Sunday, November 8, at 4 p.m. in Dow Auditorium.

Soloists and various sections of the orchestra will be featured during the program. The orchestra will cover the musical spectrum with pieces of Romantic, Classical and contemporary moods.

First on the program will be Humperdinck's beautiful, shimmering image from Hansel and Gretel called "Evening Prayer and Dream Pantomime."

Then Marion Mansfield will step into the spotlight to play a piano concerto with the orchestra. Miss Mansfield will perform Mozart's "Concerto for Piano and Orchestra in A Major," a piece from the Classical Age in music.

After intermission the concert will be given over to four soloists; Elmer Coon, violinist; Stacie Lang, violinist from the Juilliard School of Music; Bonnie Wessendorf, cellist; and Jeanne Salathiel, harpsichordist. These four will combine their talents on Handel's "Concerto Grosso, Opus 6, No. 11."

Finally to top the program off the orchestra will present Aaron Copeland's "Appalachian Spring." This contemporary work will be good experience for the orchestra and should round out the program feels Dr. Edward Kottick, director of the orchestra.

Tickets will be on sale at the Main Desk in the Administration Building and Tyler Booth. They can be purchased also through Dick Groeben, who is in charge of sales on campus. The price for students is 50c.

Chief TKE Visits

Mr. J. Russell Salsbury, the National President of Tau Kappa Epsilon, the nation's largest fraternity, will be on campus today for a luncheon with Alma's Teke chapter. Salsbury will also meet with various college officials. This is the first time Alma College has been visited by a president of a national fraternity.

TRIO TO APPEAR IN GYMNASIUM

Lettermen To Come Tomorrow Night

The Lettermen, a Capitol Recording trio, will present a two hour concert tomorrow at 8 p.m. in Memorial Gymnasium. A performing group as well as a vocal group, The Lettermen are in great demand in night clubs, on college campuses and on television. They were first spotted for television by George Burns, who told Jack Benny, who told Red Skelton, who told Ed Sullivan, who told the world—"The Lettermen are great." They have returned again and again to each of these TV programs.

The Lettermen have appeared at more than 350 colleges throughout the country and even now are on their way back for repeat performances.

They try to give the public, adults as well as the youngsters, what they want to hear. The Lettermen blend their voices on the old, standard ballads in combination with today's instrumentation. They sing folk songs, old songs, new songs, but always in their own style.

Butala, Pike, and Bob, whose records have sold in the millions, love their work to the point where it is not actually work at all. When they're not singing on stage, they're more likely off in a corner singing for pure enjoyment. They rehearse no matter where they are and usually end up singing for a group of fascinated fellow travelers.

Often they'll travel coach in the air so they can sit three abreast as they fly. They get a kick out of it as they start to sing softly to dirty looks, but once they get going, it usually ends up with, "Do you know—?"

Contrary to most vocal groups, The Lettermen all have the same range and interchange their parts, singing the melody line, top or bottom. They feel another reason for the success is the fact that all do solos which make them much more interesting to watch. On the nitery floor they also throw in comedy, vocal impressions and play instruments.

The Lettermen performance has been made possible through the contributions from the freshman, sophomore, junior and senior classes, the living units, Tyler Board and some of the Greek organizations.

Due to the conflict between the Lettermen Concert and the "Monte Carlo," the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity has permitted the rescheduling of their "Monte Carlo" to November 14 at 8:30 p.m. in Tyler Auditorium.

Refunds for those who bought tickets under the assumption that the concert would be on Sunday and are not able to attend on Saturday are available at Tyler Information Booth until 7 this evening.

Campus To See It's Second 'UN'

On Saturday, November 14, Alma College will again "go international", as students prepare to tackle several major problems facing the world today, in the second annual model UN session. The International Affairs Committee of Student Council, in sponsoring the session, hopes to stimulate a deeper interest and understanding of how the UN works in international affairs.

This year Alma has invited several other colleges to participate in the one-day conference. Among the schools sending delegates will be Delta College, Michigan State University and Hillsdale College.

Any student on campus is eligible to take part, providing he has filled in a registration form and returned to Isabelle Scott, Pioneer Hall, who is chairman for the conference and who will be acting as Secretary-General of the Assembly.

The schedule for the conference is as follows:

9-9:45 Registration in Tyler

10-10:30 Keynote speaker in Dow Auditorium

10-12 Block meetings

12-1 Lunch in the Highlander Room

1-5 Meeting of the General Assembly in Tyler Auditorium

The three issues to be brought up before the Assembly are disarmament, human rights, and a permanent UN peace force. Senior Glen Rice will act as President of the Assembly. There will be 35 countries represented with two delegates from each country.

Miss Scott urges all interested students and faculty members to attend the keynote address in the morning given by Mr. Davidson Hepburn and also the General Assembly session in the afternoon.

The Alma Symphony Orchestra in rehearsal for the year's first concert.

Wright To Present 'House of Terrors'

"The House of Terror" will be the theme of a dance sponsored by Wright Hall next Friday night at 8 in Tyler Auditorium. The feature attraction will be the Hitsville All-Stars, a rock and roll band that has several national recordings.

The entire theme of the dance will revolve around magic and the supernatural. Senior Dennis Loomis, will put on a magic act which will include hypnotism. Loomis will be supplemented by two other magicians. In addition to Loomis' magic act, two fortune tellers will read palms and prophesy futures.

The dance is di-bid. Tickets are now on sale for $.75 each.

There will be a series of convocations in November, one for each class, given by Jerry Smith, a senior from Nashville, Michigan. He will be speaking to the classes on his year in Nigeria. The talk will be illustrated with slides.

The dates of the convocations are Tuesday, November 10, for seniors; Thursday, November 12, for juniors; Tuesday, November 17, for sophomores; and Thursday, November 19, for freshmen. The convocation will be required of all students and will be held in Dow Auditorium at 10 a.m. on the specified dates.

Exposition Gives Career Info

A "Career Exposition" for college students will be held in Tyler Auditorium Wednesday from 6:30 to 10:30 p.m.

The exposition will provide information to students about vocational or professional opportunities available to liberal arts college graduates.

Thirty-three companies and organizations will send representatives who are qualified to discuss career choices. Companies will also have displays and literature at the exposition.

Students will be able to talk with as many representatives as they wish about the general fields of employment as represented by the companies and organizations.

Teaching Grads Will Return For Education Day Conference

Alma graduates who have recently entered the teaching profession will be returning to the campus tomorrow, for the 13th annual Education Day Conference.

The theme for this year's conference is "New Notions Now Needed." Registration is scheduled to take place at the Dow Science Building at 9:30 in the morning.

Guest speakers for the day are to be Dr. Curtis Nash, Associate Dean of the School of Education at Central Michigan University and Miss JoAnn Bigelow, Reading Consultant with Scott, Foresman Company.

Dr. Nash is to speak on the topic, "It's Inventory Time" at the general morning session. Dr. Nash is past-president of the Michigan Association for Student Teaching and served as program chairman for the 1964 National Association for Student Teaching conference.

The purpose of the Education Day Conference for teachers is twofold: (1) To assist new teachers in meeting the many problems which they face and (2) to assist those preparing teachers at Alma College and the public school supervisors of student teachers in evaluating their teacher preparation program.

The day's activities will conclude with a luncheon program in the Heather Room at noon.

The 1964 presidential election is "all over but the shouting," as the saying goes. Many, however, probably feel that most of the shouting took place during the campaign, as the candidates attacked one another's character and integrity unceasingly. These attacks, in fact, seemed to make up more of the campaign than the issues before the candidates. Some have called it one of the dirtiest campaigns in history. The unwillingness of the candidates to speak in concise terms on the issues before them produced what we called a "befuddled mess of tattle-tale gray."

go scots...

We think it is fine that a small group of students has taken the initiative to do something about the athletic situation at Alma. Perhaps it was last week's 59-0 shellacking by Albion that spurred these students into some constructive action. But the important fact is that these students have decided, by talk and thought, courses filled with broad, vague generalities, short-change the people of America. Yet a choice is always made, following which a non-partisan clean-up takes place and the character of the campaign is forgotten for another four years. We hope, however, that this campaign does not reflect a trend in future campaigns and elections. But, actually, we can do more than hope. What we propose to Alma College and all other colleges, is that you not forget this election. Will we, as "leaders of tomorrow," allow the next election to become a "befuddled mess of tattle-tale gray?"

to really do something about the total athletic picture at Alma. Most of us have first complained and then resigned ourselves to the College's poor showing in sports events over the last three years. But now, thanks to these few individuals, the rest of us—students, faculty, administrators—will have an excellent opportunity to present our views. Take advantage of it.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

The Unsung Seven

by D. Merit

Once upon a time there were seven college-type guys. They were college-TYPE because even though they went to college they didn't act like the rest of the college. They were different! Why? Because all they did in their spare time was run!

Now other guys (regular types) played in their recreation time. Like with footballs, cards, basketballs, building blocks, and girls. But not these seven. Instead they ran and ran and ran. They would run up hills and down hills, along roads and through fields, past sheep (who didn't understand them) and cows (who didn't understand them either). They ran across golf courses and cemeteries. Darkness, rain and snow, were normal conditions for them. Why, I ask you, do they do it? Why do they put out until their stomachs put up? Is it because of the big crowds that always turn out to watch, or because of all the publicity they receive? Maybe it's the big athletic scholarships the school gives.

Or possibly they're just dumb! After all it's "common knowledge" that most athletes are considered to be that way. That's why they are at our athletic Plant, or any other! However, considering the grade point average of these particular seven men in the aggregate ranges well over 3.0, this idea is hard to swallow.

The point is that no one seems to know, least of all at times, the cross-country runners themselves!

This mystery is compounded by the fact that the same phenomenon occurs on all of the MIAA campuses. The best explanation may be that these men just like to run. Whatever the case they give support to their respective schools. And now the Alma fans have a chance to reciprocate!

TUESDAY—NOV. 10 — 3 P.M.
BAHLKE FIELD

All of the schools will field their best cross-country runners for one of the most colorful sports events of the year. This is a once-every-seven-years event for Alma College. Show our team some support! Show the MIAA our team has support! Come out and cheer! End of three minute commercial.

Letters To The Editor

To the Freshman Class—
We would at this time, before the 1964 Homecoming goes where all good Homecomings must go, to thank the freshmen class for their enthusiastic support in building the freshman float. We wish to acknowledge that the job would never have gotten done had not so many freshmen gone out to work on their float. The results certainly justified the many hours of labor. A special thanks goes to Mike Robertson who devoted a great deal of time and energy to the project.
Sincerely,
Paul Hurwitz

the almanian. We were two individuals who screamed "no" when asked if we could be quoted on a statement concerning the present political situation.
We were carrying on a private discussion, concerned with a minute political detail, when an almanian reporter, who was nearby but not included in the discussion, asked if we could be quoted on our conversation. It is important to note that our comments did not represent a synthesis of our thinking on the national election. The reporter seemed more concerned with grabbing a quick quote than with accurately recording the positions we were outlining.

Dear Editor:
Tyler Staff owes thanks to several groups for their help in problems of scheduling and rescheduling of events. The Alpha Thetas rescheduled the Alpha Theta Tavern on December 5 and the All-School Dance was moved to Snow-Carnival Week-end. Isabelle Scott, head of the Model U.N., has been extremely co-operative and Wright Hall has accepted several inconveniences. Finally, the Sigma Tau Gamma Fraternity kindly moved their Monte Carlo to Saturday, November 14 to allow the Lettermen Concert to take place on November 7. All these groups deserve recognition and thanks for their cooperation in scheduling.

The almanian is concerned with accurately reporting student thought—or at least that is the way the myth goes.
Dan Swinney and Dennis Loomis

Dear Editor,
As the first part of the publicity for the Wright Hall dance, the industrious publicity committee (of which we are not a part) produced and spread around campus 1000 green hands.
We have seen many displays of immaturity on the part of various students. Those persons who took it upon themselves to fold down or tear off three of the fingers of each hand, thus turning it into the age-old emblem of disdain, are demonstrating not only a lack of concern for the hard work of others, but also moral immaturity.
We were shocked to see the results of their handiwork, as any mature individual should have been.
Dennis Loomis & Dan Swinney

Dear Editor,
In your editorial entitled "That's the Way the Myth Goes," you implied that students were avoiding their responsibility by refusing to have their opinions expressed in terian Church in Austin, Texas, and Professor of Bible in the University of Texas.

McCord To Speak In Chapel Sunday

The Reverend Doctor James I. McCord, President of Princeton Theological Seminary, will be guest speaker in Dunning Chapel this Sunday morning at 11.
Dr. McCord is a native Texan. He was educated at Austin College where he received his B.S. in 1938. He received his degree of Bachelor of Divinity from the Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary.
He also was awarded degrees from the University of Texas, Austin College, University of Geneva, Knox College, Toronto, Maryville College, Davidson College, Princeton University, Lafayette College, Ursinus College, Victoria University, and Tusculum College.
Besides his present position, Dr. McCord has been Dean and Professor of Systematic Theology in the Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary, pastorate of the University Presbyterian Church in Austin, Texas, and Professor of Bible in the University of Texas.

Dr. McCord is past Chairman of the North American Area Council of the World Alliance of Reformed Churches, a member of the executive committee of the Alliance, Chairman of the Theological Department, and North American Secretary of the Alliance; Chairman Advisory Committee on Faith and Order, National Council of Churches; Member, Committee on Faith and Order, World Council of Churches; Past Chairman, Consultation on Church Union.
He is a member of the New Brunswick Presbytery and has represented his church in international councils all over the world. He has lectured and spoken in Great Britain, the Netherlands, Canada, Czechoslovakia, South America, and Hungary as well as all over the United States.

G. E. Bowl Team Loses, But Returns With Pride

by LLOYD MacASKILL

Alma College's appearance on the nationally televised General Electric College Bowl has produced results which can be pointed to with pride. Despite the disappointment of the seemingly one-sided loss to Loyola University, several positive factors remain.

First, very few of the tossups which largely determined the outcome of the meet went uncounted. This was not always visible to the audience, as the buttons were hidden behind the tops of the panels.

Easier to see were the efforts of Ed Garrison, who tended to put more body English into his button-bashing. On at least two occasions Garrison heard the buzzer go off just as he hit the button and was "mildly surprised" to hear the announcer call on a Loyola team member.

"There were six tossups that I missed by perhaps a second altogether," adds Lloyd MacAskill. "It really bugs you when you realize that it made the difference." One question—on Northern Rhodesia—was thrown out when MacAskill and Fitzmorris of Loyola hit the button within 1/250 second of each other.

Another feather in Alma's cap was the fact that the team won two of the three practice meets held before they went on the air. Early in the first half of the first full-scale rehearsal on the set, Alma opened up a five-point gap before a shaken Loyola quartet stiffened its resistance.

By the time the two teams faced each other before a national audience of about 16 million, each had come to regard the other as a formidable competitor. Loyola jumped to a 135-35 lead in the first half, but Alma rallied to win the second, 100-95.

The College has gained $500 for the scholarship fund and has received nationwide publicity which has already resulted in a number of inquiries and requests for information. Finally, Alma has distinguished itself by outscoring all Michigan colleges which had previously appeared on the program, including Michigan State, Wayne State, Michigan Tech, Kalamazoo, and Hope.

Cross-Country Season Will Close With 7-School Meet

The 1964 cross-country season comes to a close next Tuesday when the seven MIAA schools assemble at Alma for the annual MIAA championship meet. The seven-man squads will start the four-mile race at Bahlke Field at 3 p.m. and finish there from 20 to 30 minutes later.

Albion, which has breezed to a 6-0 dual meet record, will be heavily favored to end Calvin's five-year domination of the league. The scramble for third through seventh places should be hectic, as is indicated by the fact that Alma has lost to third place Hope by one point and defeated seventh place Adrian by the same margin earlier this year.

Spectators who wish to keep score can do so by giving each runner a number of points equal to the place he takes and adding the points of the first five finishers from each school. The low score wins.

The MIAA dual meet schedule will be completed tomorrow when the Scots take on the Knights of Calvin College. The meet starts at Bahlke Field at 11 a.m.

Last Saturday the Alma thin-clads fared no better than the football team, as the powerful Albion Britons shut them out, 15-50. With 11 men entered, the Britons managed to take the first ten places.

Earl Wilson, Stu McKenzie, Vic Yurick, Rich Bandlow, and

Hugh Brenneman finished in that order for the Scots. Lloyd MacAskill and Jerry Smith were with the College Bowl team in New York, but even their presence at Albion could have done little to stem the Briton tide.

Sig Taus Are IM Champs

Sigma Tau Gamma and the Screwballs won intramural football titles in their respective leagues this past Tuesday afternoon. The Sig Taus were impressive in a 20-0 win over pre-season favorite Delta Sigma Phi in the A League.

Meanwhile, the Screwballs rolled to their fourteenth consecutive victory in a 30-6 win over the second place Football Team in the B League.

The A league contest, played under the lights at Bahlke Field, saw the spirited Sig Tau crew score three times in the opening half. They scored first on a safety, then Ray Terwilliger scored two touchdowns on pass plays. The final Sig Tau tally came on a touchdown pass to Ned Lockwood.

The Screwballs remained undefeated as Dave DeLongchamp and Bob Minik scored twice, and Mike Miller added another touchdown. The Wright Hall independent team handed the Football Team their only other loss a week ago in a 24-6 decision.

Members of the Screwballs, who outscored opponents by an average of 30-6, are DeLongchamp, Bill Johnson, John Criswell, Minik, Rick Barney, Rich Bashaw, Dan Sweeney, Terry Fickles, Russ Johnson, Bud Fisher, Mike Miller, Bruce Harris, Harley Watts.

The Delt Sigs, who were undefeated champs last year, lost only twice this campaign, both coming at the hands of the Sig Taus. The 20-0 loss was the first shutout against them over the two-year period.

Interest has been shown in the selection of an IM All Star team. A post-season game between top players of the B League challenging top A League players has also been suggested. Such suggestions could be carried out if enough people are interested.

The intramural program focuses on basketball next. Five teams are anticipated in the A League and twelve are expected for B League play.

Shots In the Dark

By Jim Martz

This past week several students concerned with the appalling state of intercollegiate athletics at Alma College wrote a petition to be presented to the administration. Among the points mentioned in the petition are the following:

"That grants and aid be given to qualifying Alma College athletes proportional to those given by other MIAA schools. This would allow Alma to compete equally and fairly for the services of good student athletes.

"That jobs of equal value to those given other MIAA athletes be given to those athletes of Alma College.

"That a coaching staff be hired of equal size to those staffs of other MIAA schools. At present Alma has only one full-time coach.

"That Alma College strive to maintain athletic facilities proportional to those of other MIAA schools.

"That funds proportional to those of other MIAA schools be provided for Alma's intercollegiate athletic program.

"That an athletic banquet be provided each year for present athletes and interested future scholar-athletes.

"In short, that Alma's intercollegiate athletic program be on an equal basis to those existing at other MIAA schools."

Those who signed the petition feel that these suggestions are entirely feasible. The petition says that such suggestions ask for no more than policies practiced at other MIAA schools. An invitation is made in the petition to the administrative staff and other interested parties to discuss the situation with a student delegation.

The petition also recommends that action be taken immediately on these suggestions. If no such action is possible, the petition regrettably recommends that all intercollegiate athletes be dropped at Alma College.

In light of my conversations with alumni, parents of players, and other interested persons, this petition finds strong support among them as well as among the students. It is gratifying to know that so many people are interested in the welfare of intercollegiate athletics at Alma. We can only hope that the petition is acted upon soon.

A new national student organization has been born. And student life will never be the same again. Intercollegiate members on scores of other campuses invite you to share in benefits and adventures never before available to the college generation.

Mountain ski trips, island hopping in the Caribbean, grand tours of Europe, journeys off the beaten path... very significant savings on electric and electronic products, toiletries and cosmetics, auto tires and services, hotel and motel accommodations, hit record albums, photo equipment, educational aids, etc., etc. ... manufacturers' gifts... a free checking account... the Intercollegiate Buyers' Service, to learn how to buy all kinds of things for less money... and an exciting new publication exclusively for college students.

These are initial benefits of membership; others will follow as intercollegiate gains members and influence. It's all made possible by companies which will go a long way to earn the favor of today's college student, tomorrow's leader.

Companies like Admiral, American Express, Capitol Records, Central National Bank in Chicago, Columbia Records, Hamilton Beach, Hertz Rent-A-Car, Mercury Records, Motorola, Kodak, Phonola, RCA Victor, Royal Typewriter, Science Research Associates, Sheraton, Sony, Sunbeam, U.S. Royal, and many others.

Charter Membership, now, will cost you just five dollars ($5.00) a year. Join today. Delay could be costly, indeed. Fill out and return the application with your check or money order. If someone has beaten you to the coupon, write:
