

ELECT ALMANIAN EDITORS, BUSINESS MANAGER

Howe, Smith To Head '62 Almanian Staff

Extend Deadline For Application For '62 Scotsman Editor To May 1

Mildred Howe, Decatur junior, will be at the head of the almanian staff next year as Editor-in-chief according to the action of the Publications Board which met Thursday, April 20.

Also appointed to almanian staff positions by the Board were Ethel Fay Smith, Holt sophomore, Managing Editor of the almanian; Edythe Trevithick, Flint freshman, Copy Editor of the almanian; and David Marantette, Grosse Pointe junior, Business Manager of the paper.

The deadline for application for the position of Scotsman '62 Editor was extended until 5 p.m. Monday, May 1. (All applications are to be turned into the office of the Vice President.)

It was also moved and passed at the Publications Board meeting that "whereas the college is now subsidizing the yearbook by $3.25, whereas this is unnecessary and whereas the editor requires the assistance of additional paid assistants which will increase the cost of producing the book, the students should be charged $1.00 for the yearbook commencing in the fall of 1961."

There were seven salaried almanian and Scotsman positions to be filled and all of the candidates were completely unopposed. No application was made for the position of News Editor of the almanian.

Next year Miss Howe, who has been with the paper for three years, will fill the position held by Sharon Step- See Almanian, p. 2

Announce New Women RA's

Women resident advisors for next year were announced Wednesday by Dean Vreeland. The new R. A.'s for Mary Gelston Hall are Frances Henne, Betty Nucci, Jane Sloan, and Ethel Fay Smith. Millie Howe, Janice Redmond, and Judy Smith are present resident advisors and will continue in that capacity.

Ann Dale, Alice Harper, Judy Geisler, and Pat Wellard will serve in the new dormitory along with Sue Keck and Carol Steward, present resident advisers at Pioneer Hall.

What does an R. A. do? Her main goal is to provide an environment to stimulate personal development of the student—academically, socially, and emotionally. Her duties cover three areas.

The R. A. must first be a guide and counselor to the women under her jurisdiction. In being available for consultation, she gives direct assistance, and by her actions may influence the student even more.

Enrollment To Increase; 325 Freshman Expected

Alma is expecting 400 new students next year, it was stated by Dr. John Kimball, Director of Admissions. Of these, 325 will be freshmen and 75 transfer students.

A total of 700 applications have been received for September admission thus far, as compared to 556 applications last year. There are, in addition, 50 applications for February as compared to only 30 applications for February admission last year.

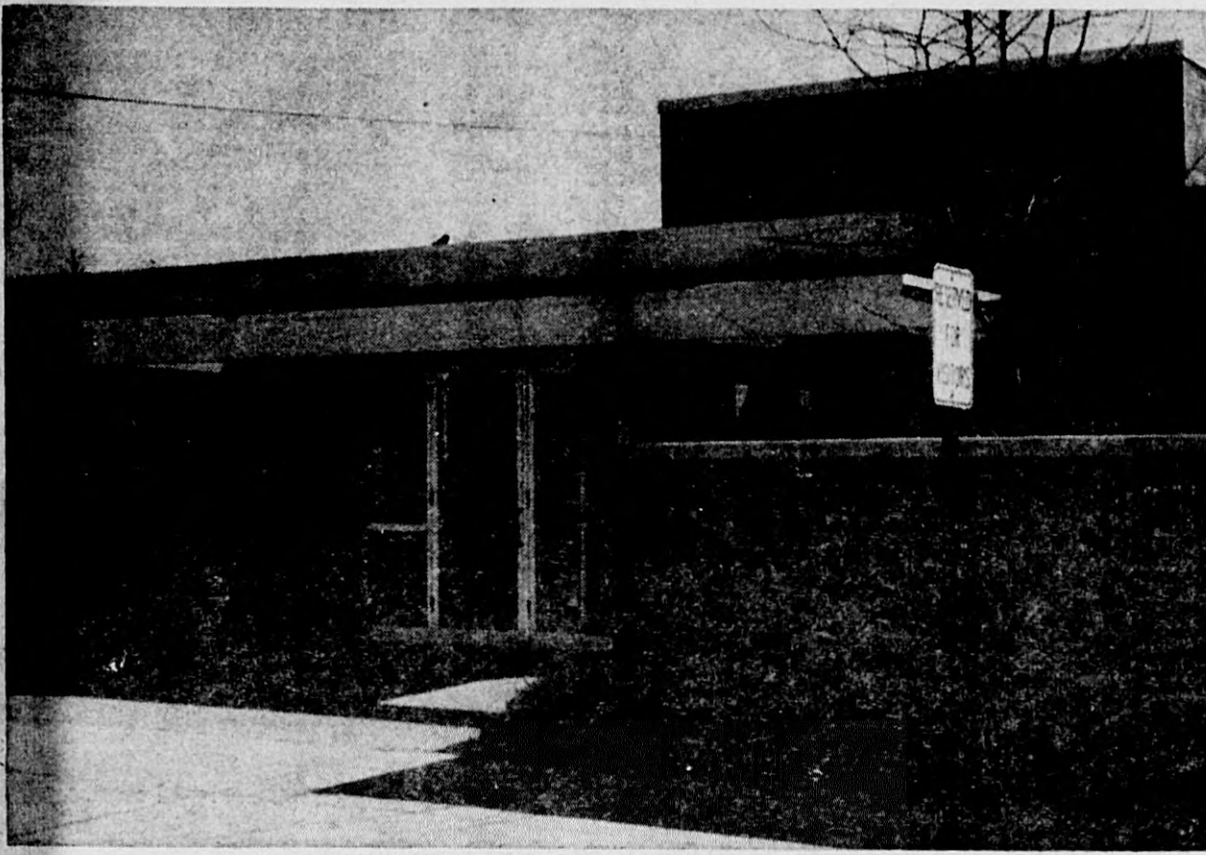

The total enrollment will probably be about 900 students. This increase is due to the additional housing the women's dormitory now under construction will provide.

Applications, which are still coming in, are running about 20% ahead of last year. Students are still being admitted and will continue to be admitted through mid-summer.

Next year students from 17 states and 12 foreign countries will be attending Alma. In Michigan, over 150 high schools will send students.

The states represented are California, Connecticut, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Virginia, West Virginia, and Wisconsin.

There will be students from Brazil, Burma, Canada, Germany, Ghana, Haiti, Hong Kong, Indonesia, Iran, Iraq, Jamaica, Kenya, and Nigeria.

Two weeks ago a public dining room, the Heather Room, opened on the Alma campus.

Opening onto the East side of Harvard Street, the Heather Room is attached to Van Dusen Commons on its West side.

Decorated in Scottish style, the waitresses are dressed in Scottish outfits. There is heather set on every table—hence the name of the room.

Open every day of the week, the Heather Room serves lunch from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., Monday through Friday. From 12 to 1 there is a special smorgasbord served daily on these days. Dinner is served in the evening from 5 to 9. On Saturday, the hours are from 5 to 9 p.m. only, and on Sunday it is open from noon until 7 p.m.

Serving a variety of dishes, the restaurant is frequented often by Alma business men. There is also a special small dining room which can be reserved for up to 34 people.

College students, if dressed properly, are allowed to eat in the Heather Room.

Four Students Are To Read At Hillsdale

The Annual Interpretative Reading Festival sponsored by the Michigan Intercollegiate Speech League, which was hosted by Alma College last year, will be held Friday and Saturday (April 28-29) at Hillsdale College.

Participating in the contest will be two divisions of readers, thirteen league or advanced readers, and sixteen junior readers representing nine member schools.

Alma will be represented by Sue Keck and Dave Ebert in the league contest and Richard Baldwin and Dave Craigie in the junior division.

Miss Keck's presentation will be Antigone, by Jean Anouilh. Ebert will interpret Nine Prisoners, by William March, an adaptation of a radio play. Baldwin will present All My Sons, by Arthur Miller and Craigie will interpret The Icemen Cometh, by Eugene O'neil.

Alma's representatives were chosen during tryouts held March 28th. The subjects chosen this year are examples of drama. Last year the topics were of poetic nature, and next year they will be prose.

The guest critic for the league reading contest will be Dr. Anthony Trisolini, who received his doctorate in Interpretative Reading from Northwestern University.

Notice

A French movie, "Passion for Life," will be shown Friday and Saturday night at 7:30 in Dow.

Town Clean-Up Tomorrow

Many Jobs Listed, Volunteers Needed

The Town Clean-Up, the first World University Service fund-raising project originally scheduled for last Saturday, will be held tomorrow afternoon from 1-4 (It had to be cancelled last Saturday due to rain.)

Tri-Beta will act as the coordinator of this event.

Students who have not previously signed up should contact Harold Kirkpatrick in Mitchell Hall, Kay Schoolmaster in Gelston Hall, or Mike Pritchard in Wright Hall.

Volunteers are to report to Tyler Lounge between 12:30 and 1 p.m., where they will be assigned jobs by a Tri-Beta member.

A large number of jobs have already been listed by townspeople, according to Harold Kirkpatrick. These include such things as window washing, store cleaning, car washing, garage cleaning, farm and lawn work, and baby-sitting.

Refreshments will be served to those who have completed their jobs in Tyler Lounge beginning at 3 p.m.

Minimum donation per hour's work is $1.00. Proceeds will be added to the WUS fund to provide furniture for a youth hostel at the University of Chile. The goal for this all-campus project is $466.

Other events planned to raise funds for this project are to be Canoe Races on Campus Day, a track and field event some Saturday in May, and the Faculty Auction, May 12. The Bed-Stuffing contest has been postponed until further notice.

Letters To The Editor

NOTE: Our policy concerning letters to the editors makes it mandatory that the writer of all published letters be known either to the Editor-in-Chief or Managing Editor. THE ALMANIAN takes upon itself the responsibility for publishing letters, hence it will not reveal the identity of any writer who requests anonymity. The editors do not guarantee publication of letters which exceed the bounds of decency and reasonable courtesy. Whether or not letters will be taken with THE ALMANIAN in no way signifies their letters for publication.

To the Editors:
I have a substantial amount of time to spare. I am a student at Alma College and I am interested in the work of the Student Body. I have been thinking about the possibility of running for a position on the Student Body. I am sure that I can do a good job if elected. I would like to hear from you regarding this possibility.

Sincerely,
A student who happens to think dreaming is fine and who hates deadening whether it acts upon Presbyterians, Methodists, Lutherans, Baptists, etc., or even agnostics and atheists

A Chance To Act

Is it time again for sports, we hear boister. Yes, where's the time? We will have to join the group of youngsters who will have college youth have the spirit of initiative, and we think that most of these youth have proved in many occasions to be filled with vigor, vitality, and a zest for adventure plus the will to do some hard work.

Why then must we ask this question. Where are all those people who claim loudly and boastfully whenever the almanian or Scotsman comes out, that they could do a much better job than the present staff?

Thursday, April 20, the Publications Board met to elect the editors and business managers of the almanian and Scotsman staffs for the coming year. Six applications for the seven salaried positions of both staffs were received by the Board. All of the applicants were unopposed.

The Board elected editors and a business manager for the almanian, since students had been informed of the application deadline for these positions. However, the Board extended the deadline for application for the position of editor of the '62 Scotsman until 5 p.m. Monday, May 1. (See story page 1.) to seek out all capable and interested students for this position.

Now, we may be talking to the wrong group, but we would like to think that the lack of applications was due to a lack of knowledge concerning the position and the application deadline rather than a lack of student interest.

These salaried positions are greatly sought after in other colleges. After all, if a person has artistic and/or literary ability plus imagination what better way to earn money than by working at something which may also provide enjoyment for the worker.

In case the reader is uninformed, these salaried positions offer a rewarding cash stipend plus invaluable experience. Both Scotsman and almanian top editors receive a cash stipend of full tuition. Managing Editor and Business Manager of the almanian receive one-half tuition, and Copy and News Editor each receive 15 per cent of tuition costs.

It could be that the students are drowning in apathy, and do not care if student publications exist on this campus or not. Of course, we in the almanian office do not believe that as testified on Friday afternoon by the banging on our door and the ringing of our phone all with the same irate question, "Where is the almanian?"

We have said it before, but now we will say it again, "Now is your chance to do more than talk. Now, you can, if you are so inclined, ACT."

Applications will be received in the office of the Vice President until 5 p.m. Monday, May 1.

It's Not Just Politics

All this controversy over 'Operation Abolition' is merely political banter between various factions of the major political parties, some say.

Faction A completely disapproves of the film and its parent, the House Un-American Affairs Committee (HUAC). Faction B, on the other hand, approves what the committee is trying to do and what the film is trying to do, explain some ardent politicians.

But we feel that the controversy is much more basic than this theory would allow.

There are those who try to seek the purpose and discover the validity of the film, to evaluate the strength and methods of communism in this country, and to make judgment concerning the HUAC without any political, partisan, or factional bias whatever influence these decisions.

For example, the Michigan Council of Churches, which greatly influenced the decision of Governor

Swainson a few weeks ago to curtail the showing of the film by the State Police, is anything but a political group (we would hope).

And the National Student Association (NSA), which in their regional meeting on our campus made an agreed-upon resolution concerning the film, supposedly represents more than one political faction.

In the same vein, we would hope that those who either disapprove or approve the film according to their own decision would not automatically be considered to be a member of Faction A or Faction B, as the case may be, by those who hold to the "political" theory concerning the controversy.

It seems that this may just be one example of the perhaps too-often occurrence whereby the politically minded try to view all aspects in life according to such divisions.

Parents' Day Program Set

Alma College has designated Sunday, May 7 as the annual Spring Parents' Day.

Invitations have been sent to parents of Alma students for Parents' Day, which marks the closing day of the Fine Arts Festival.

Parents' Day events include dinner, which will be held in Van Dusen Commons from 12 to 2 p.m.

At 3 p.m. a band concert will be given for the visiting parents.

The residence halls will hold open house from 12 to 4 p.m., and 2 to 4 p.m. will see closing activities of the Fine Arts Festival.

Planetarium demonstrations in Dow Science Building will be given for parents. Demonstrations will take place at 1:30, 2:30, and 3:30 p.m. under the direction of Dr. George E. Folkman, a lecturer from Cranbrook Institute of Science.

Parents will also have an opportunity to speak with faculty members who will be on campus during the day.

Miss Howe has held the positions of reporter, News Editor, and is presently Managing Editor of the paper and a member of the Editorial Board.

Managing Editor in the position which Miss Smith will hold next year. Miss Smith, also a member of the Editorial Board, has been with the paper for one year and now holds the positions of Copy Editor and reporter.

Miss Trevithick has served as reporter, feature writer, and a member of the Editorial Board for the past year. Mareniette will be assuming the position of Business Manager for his third year.

Only one application was received for position on the Scotsman Staff as editor. The Board voted to extend the deadline for Scotsman positions because of a lack of publicity announcing the applications were being accepted.

The new deadline for application for Scotsman Staff Editor applications is Monday, May 1. All applications should be turned into the office of the Vice President by 5 p.m. that day.

By action of the Board the position of Business Manager of the Scotsman has been elected and the money put into the Scotsman budget available to the editor to use in hiring assistants which will be approved by the Board sometime in the fall.

Thursday, Friday, and Saturday (April 20, 21 and 22) two juniors, Donn Neal and Dick Daugherty, attended the Mississippi Valley Historical Association's Convention in Detroit at the Pickfort-Shelby Hotel.

To the Student Body, (c/o the almanian) EDITOR'S NOTE: The following was obtained by the Student Council and may clear up many questions regarding a letter concerning spring formal which was sent to parents of all women students.

Statement concerning the letter sent to parents: By Dean Vreeland

Main Purpose: To inform parents that the school will not accept responsibility for post formal parties. This is not a new policy.

The reason the letters from home are needed is due to the time and distance of the formals. Dean Vreeland also said that any girls who feel that their permission has been restricted because of this letter should contact her so that suitable adjustment could be made.

Letter to the Student Body, 4/26/61 (c/o the almanian)

The International Student Affairs Committee, a newly formed Student Committee, is passing out a Questionnaire to all students on this campus. It is the desire of the committee to activate an awareness in International Affairs on the Alma Campus. Thus the Questionnaire is, for us, a starting point in discovering at what level the student interest is resting. Therefore, we ask all students for their sincere cooperation in filling out this Questionnaire.

Sincerely, International Student Affairs Committee

Dear Almanian Editor: Way back in the "olden days" (1934-38) I remember addressing almanians to alumni and wondering if they bothered to read them. Now many years later I know that they do. I not only enjoy perusing them, but pass them along to a last year's graduate.

As I read, I am constantly impressed by the progress Alma is making in many areas. Their pioneering in curriculum change is to be commended. The variety of activities available is a far cry from our days. As another Midland alumnus said recently, "I am proud to recommend and 'sell' Alma to high school graduates." I am proud that my son chose Alma too.

A note to Lynn Brown— No matter where you are there will be things you don't like, but cancelling out many of the things you mention as being annoying is the sincere interest the professors take in you as individuals. I know—for several are personal friends, and I have worked with others. I have heard them express their concern. This is something you would not find on many larger campuses.

I'm afraid I got carried away, but that is common on the subject of Alma. What I really wanted to say was thanks for sending the almanian!

Sincerely, Irene F. Taber '38 (Mrs. D. A.) 4/25/61

Dear Mrs. Taber, Thank you for your letter. It is really quite gratifying to know that the almanian is read with interest by alumni as well as students.

In the hectic weekly task of putting out the paper, it is sometimes hard to realize that our efforts as a staff are appreciated.

Therefore, I am sure that the staff (all of whom are very dedicated to their journalistic, or other efforts as staff members) appreciates your interest and expression of it as much as I do.

Sincerely, S.S.

Dear Mr. Befield, (c/o the Editor)

As a regular reader of your column, and as one who ordinarily enjoys your efforts so often successful at bringing some worthwhile thought to the minds of almanian readers, I wonder exactly what you thought really was in your last week's column. Having regarded you as one who could take time to give personal experience and news to the almanian of general public interest, I was a bit disappointed to see you write what by the best of my ability to see had no other purpose than to reflect a bit sarcastically upon what you or one of your friends has experienced. For other than this purpose, I saw little of general interest or benefit. I enjoyed your column so much more when it was above the level of a personal gripe column.

One further point. As one who knows, I object to the rather obvious implication that a girl who happens

"Amphitryon 38" will appear as shown in Dow Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

On Thursday, May 4, a Convocation program by college music students will be given in Dunning Chapel at 10 a.m.

On Thursday afternoon, from 3-5 p.m., the selection of humorous recordings will be played in Tyler Center.

The student art exhibit will be held May 5-7 in the Dow Building. On display will be the work of about 50 art students. The paintings, collages, water-color, drawing and products (ceramics, silver enameling, silk screen) of the artists-craftsmen will vary in styles from realism to non-objectivity.

Three related art films will be shown on Friday, May 5, at 7:30 and 8:45 p.m. in the Dow Auditorium. "New Wave of Seeing" is designed for the person mystified by modern art. "The Tender Game" is an exercise in free association of popular music and popular images. "The London of William Hogarth" depicts in exceptional engravings the London Hogarth saw in mid-eighteenth century. The stories told in the engravings served as background for the "Three Penny Opera."

Two Laurel and Hardy films, "Hands Up" and "Two Tars" will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, May 6, in Dow Auditorium.

On Sunday, May 7, Parent's Day, the Student Art Exhibit will continue from 1-9 p.m. in Dow Science Building.

On Sunday afternoon at 3, the Alma College Band Concert will be given in Tyler Auditorium. Directed by Dr. Sam Jones, the band will present pieces by Brahms, Bach, Ravel and Prokofieff, as well as marches and a selection of tunes from a recent Broadway show.

Also to be shown during Fine Arts Festival is an international display of Serigraph prints. This display will be shown from Sunday, April 30 through Saturday, May 20 in the Alma College library.

"The Fine Arts Festival," states Dr. Marian McCall, head of the Academic Events Committee, brings to the College and community some cultural activities—music, art, drama—within a designated period of time.

All events of the Fine Arts Festival are open to the public.

Miss Margaret Foley of the French department attended a luncheon meeting of the Resolutions Committee of the Michigan Schoolmasters' Club in Ann Arbor Thursday, April 20.

The Schoolmaster's Club, a state organization of college professors and secondary teachers, will hold its annual meeting at the University of Michigan May 11 and 12. It will be attended by several Alma faculty members.

Festival Theme: "Ha Ha In The Arts"

3 Events In Festival By Music Dept.

Three of the events of this year's Fine Arts Festival are being sponsored by the Music Department.

The first of these three is to be the Choral Union's presentation of Bach's Cantata No. 78, "Jesus, My Wearyed Spirit," and Schubert's "Mass in G." This will take place this Sunday, April 30, at 7:30 in Dunning Chapel.

The Cantata, one of over two hundred written by Bach for worship services, was composed for the 14th Sunday after Trinity, and is thus appropriate for the spring season. Schubert's number is one of the results of a movement dating from the 14th century to compose masses including only the sung portions of the entire mass. Thus Schubert's Mass contains these five parts: the Kyrie, the Gloria, the Credo, the Sanctus, and the Benedictus. It will be sung in the original Latin.

The choral group will be directed by Dr. Ernest G. Sullivan. Accompaniment will be given by Miss Miriam Bellville, Instructor of Organ and Piano, who will play the organ. In addition to this accompaniment, there will also be Ann Doty, freshman from Grand Ledge, on the flute, Nancy Boyd, South Carolina sophomore, on the oboe, and Sue Hershberger on violin.

Soloists will include Richard Miller, bass from the music staff at the University of Michigan; Edward Baird, tenor, of Ann Arbor; and Elizabeth Bowman, soprano, also of Ann Arbor.

The second event which the Music Department is contributing to the Fine Arts Festival is a Music Convocation on Thursday, May 4, at 10 a.m. Taking part in this convocation will be several of the music students. They will be picked from those who have participated in the regular Wednesday afternoon recitals held twice a month by the Music Department.

The final event is to be a Band Concert. Directed by Dr. Samuel Jones, and playing a new program, this will be the fourth concert of the season. This will take place at 3 p.m. on Sunday, May 7, Parent's Day.

On June 8, the Friday evening before commencement, the A Cappella will give its annual concert in which it sings most of its program from Spring Tour. This is not a part of the Fine Arts Festival. All students and faculty who have not left campus at that time are invited to attend.

Dave Finnegan, Tecumseh senior, gets a preview of some of the art work to be displayed in Dow Auditorium May 5, 6 and 7.

ART MOVIES TO BE SHOWN

Variety To Be Theme Of Student Art Display

During the Fine Arts Festival which begins Wednesday, April 26 and continues through Sunday, May 7, several art movies will be shown and art exhibits, student as well as professional, will be displayed.

On Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, May 5, 6, and 7, Alma College's annual Student Art Exhibit will be displayed in Dow Science Building.

Said Miss Doris Diefenbach of Alma's Art Department, "Diversity of ability and creative interest can be seen in the works represented."

"There are senior independent study problems and works by non-art majors, paintings and products of the artist-craftsman in styles ranging from realism to non-objectivity," she added.

This Student Art Exhibit will open Friday evening, May 5, from 7:30-10:00 p.m. It will continue Saturday, May 6, from 9 a.m.-9 p.m. and again Sunday, May 7, from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m.

International Serigraphs will also be on display during the Fine Arts Festival.

Fifty Serigraph prints from 11 countries, the work of members and guest artists of the National Serigraph Society, will also be shown in Alma College's library during the week of the Fine Arts Festival continuing through Saturday, May 20.

These prints may be purchased through Alma's Art Department for prices of $10-$150.

The general public is invited to view the art exhibits and to see related art films.

These films are "New Ways of Seeing," "The Tender Game," and "The London of William Hogarth." They will be shown in Dow on Friday evening, May 5, at 7:30 and 8:45 p.m.

Gods Cavort On Cue In Play Rehearsal

Bare Props, Barefeet, Bare Faces Are All Part of Evening's Rehearsal

by Edythe Trevino

Attending a play rehearsal is an unusual experience. In the other night to watch the program which will be presented May 2, 3, and 4 as part of the Fine Arts Festival. This is what happened.

The theater was dark as I slipped into the Dow Auditorium was a theater — this morning (May 2) of a Western Civ lecture.) The director, Mr. Paul G. Lee, turned my attention there. Two actors, Dick Lee and Sue Lee, were standing in the glare of the lights who in progress.

Dull curtains formed the backdrop. White arches marked entrances on both the left and the right. Raised wooden platforms stretched across the stage from the right, forming the terrace of Amphitryon's palace. Doug Brown, playing the part of the Trumpeter, was seated on the steps at the end of the platform. He was rehearsing a scene with Dick Lee in the role of Sosie, Amphitryon's servant.

From time to time a cue was missed or the line wouldn't come. Then the prompter, Carol Waller, seated in the front row, gave the line.

The scene moved on. People drifted in and out. At one point, the director stopped the action and went down on the stage to demonstrate the precise action he wanted.

A flare of light down front marked the lighting of a cigarette. Smoke curled up, drifted away. Amphitryon, played by Dave Marentette, and Alkmena (Judy Wood) bade a fond goodbye. Technical Director Phil Barrons who also plays Mercury, danced on stage in his bare feet. The clowning lasted but a minute.

Soon the director was down front giving instructions, and I snuck out, wondering what the final result would be.

PLACEMENT CASEMENT
Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, will have representatives on campus on Wednesday, May 10, to interview teacher candidates. A list of the specific openings will be found on the bulletin board in Old Main. Make interview appointments in the Placement Office.

Keck Chairwoman

Seven Present Humorous Readings Mon.

The Speech Department is participating in Fine Arts Week with a presentation of "Humor in Interpretative Reading" at 8:30, Monday evening in Tyler Center.

Sue Keck will act as chairwoman for this exhibition. Performing readings will be Nancy Sala, Joan Wilson, Lindsay Vandever, Dick Lee, Don Phillippi, Phyllis Burdick, and Dave Ebert.

Miss Sala will present excerpts from George Bernard Shaw's Don Juan in Hell, a tragic comedy within which is included satire on the manners of the British.

Mrs. Wilson, Miss Vandever, Lee and Phillippi will interpret a multiple reading selection, The Importance of Being Earnest, by Oscar Wilde. This reading has been previously presented publicly and recorded for Columbia Masterworks by the First Drama Quartet which is composed of Charles Boyer, Charles Laughton, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, and Agnes Moorehead.

Miss Burdick will present excerpts from the book, The Snake Has All the Lines, by Jean Kerr. Phyllis' presentation will draw upon the chapter, "Letters I've Never Written." The author, Jean Kerr is becoming very well known for her own personal-type of sophisticated humor. Mrs. Kerr is probably most well known from her book Please Don't Eat the Daisies which was recently made into a movie.

Ebert is presenting The Madman, written by Kahil Gibran. Mr. Gibran, a poet, philosopher, and artist born in Lebanon, was considered by many to be the genius of his age. He is very well known for his delicate humor.

Mrs. Mickle has commented that the speech department has a great variety of literature by several worthwhile authors to present.

Monsoon Lucky For Scots, Win 2 In Rain

7 Runs In 3rd Brought 1st Victory; Osborne's 2-Hitter Wins 2nd

Despite near freezing temperatures, Alma's Scotsmen struck for big innings in both ends of a double-header to beat Olivet College 9-4 and 5-0. The games were played at Alma's Bahlke field and opened the MIAA season for both teams.

The weather has been so rainy of late that Coach Carr wanted to get two ballgames completed. A new baseball field was laid out at the southwest end of Bahlke field and the games proceeded with temperatures dipping in the 30's.

A seven run outburst in the 3rd inning by the Alma hitters salted away the first game for starter, and winner, Ken Clay.

The Scots only had three hits in the inning, but 3 errors and 2 walks put the men on base, from where they scored on the hits.

Don Phillippi also stole home in the 3rd inning, which demonstrated the hustle of the Scots. Altogether, the Scots pilfered 10 bases, 4 in the first game and 6 in the nightcap. Clay coasted along until the 7th inning, when he needed help from Lou Economou to end a Comet uprising. Clay is now 2-1 for the season.

John Harris and Jack Osborne led the team in hitting. John had 3 for 4, including a triple, and Jack hit a double and a single.

Jack Osborne was the whole story in the second game as he handcuffed the Comets on a two-hitter. This was Jack's second two-hitter in as many starts. Although Alma only had four hits during the game, errors and walks again contributed to the 5-0 Alma win.

Alma is now 6-5 for the season, and 2-0 in the MIAA.

Place Seventh In Meet Held At Ferris Saturday

Alma placed 7th in the Ferris Invitational Saturday, garnering 16 team points. Lou Economou took second in the javelin, Tex Gleason placed second in the discus, Dave Eldred placed fourth in the discus, and Dave Peters took second in the high hurdles, and fourth in the low hurdles.

Northern Michigan won the meet with a total of 58 points.

11 Make Trip

Take Many Firsts; Still Lose To Hope

In a dual track meet held at Hope last Friday, Alma's track team went down to defeat 72-57.

The undermanned thinclads of Coach Wayne Hintz took more first places than did Hope's runners, but the lack of manpower made the difference. Taking third and fourth in many events which Alma won was the margin of victory for Hope. Coach Hintz could only muster 11 men to make the trip.

Dave Peters led the way with a first in the broadjump, first in both the high and low hurdles, and a second in the high jump. Jerry Smith took second in the mile and third in the half-mile. Warren Slodowske was second in the two mile.

The heavyweights kept pace with the thinclad runners by scoring three firsts and a third. Dave Eldred took first in the shotput with a heave of 43 feet. Lou Economou took first in the javelin. Tex Gleason won the discus throw with a toss of 135 feet and was third in the javelin.

Coach Hintz remarked "It was a good performance for the small aggregate that made the trip."

The rewards will be many from the World University Service (WUS) Town Clean-Up tomorrow. The above cartoon drawing, compliments of Guy Francis, pictures just one of them.

Albion Downs Netters

Albion College surprised Coach Mickle's Tennis team and walked off with a 5-2 victory Tuesday in a match played at Alma.

The surprise was the strength of the visiting team; several Albion freshmen made the Albion netters more formidable than expected.

Again George DeVries carried the team, winning his singles match 6-3, 6-1, and combining with Dwight Lowell to capture one doubles match 6-4, 7-5, 6-4. The other four singles matches and doubles match went to Albion.

Alma's record is now 0-2 for the year.

Alma College's tennis team opened the season last weekend at Central Michigan University. CMU's netsmen proved to be too much for the Scots and they whitewashed Alma 7-0.

Members of the tennis team are George DeVries, Dwight Lowell, Dave Turner, Bob Sherman, and Bruce Brintnall.

Physics Club Takes Trip, Week To Recuperate

"MY FEET WERE COLD" by Becky Norris

Editor's Note: Due to an overabundance of copy, Becky's manuscript has been greatly edited; however, we thank her very much for writing this feature followup for us.

The newly formed physics club of Alma College took its first—and probably its last—perhaps even the last off-campus trip from Sunday to Wednesday, April 16-19. Our club had been planning a trip to Argonne National Laboratories for about two months, and the time had finally come for us to go. Due to circumstances entirely beyond our control we were unable to return to the campus Tuesday morning as we had planned.

Our whole group consisted of twenty members: Terry Leichti, Bill Johnson, Doty Ready, Ed Crook, Don Stearns, Bruce Warren, Suzi Church, Mona Hussayni, Bob Balmer, Daryl Steinert, Judy Ryba, Larry Lowe, Khodi Mazdai, Sia Negaran, Jim Boyer, Tom Bailey, Dave Chung, the two physics teachers, Dr. Toller and Mr. Fuller, and I.

The tour was quite interesting and lasted from ten in the morning till six thirty at night. We were on our feet most of that time and quite tired out by the time it was over. Our guide, Mr. Krischuna or "Kris" somehow managed to stay cheerful and lively throughout the entire tour, never showing any signs of fatigue.

We visited the physics building first, where Dr. Throw showed us the five-million volt Van de Graaff and their double-focusing mass spectrometer. By then it was one o'clock so we were all herded into the cafeteria. Dr. Toller was the only hungry one in the group, so that lunch was quite economical.

After lunch a Mr. Nelson took us to see George, their electronic computer, their 704 computer, and PACE, their analog computer. For our entertainment George ticked, the 704 played music, and PACE drew graphs.

Since we had been sufficiently tired out by now, they felt it was safe to take us physicists to the chemistry building. Just as an added precaution they split us up into two groups. The group I was with went first to see a beta-ray spectrometer and then a large spectrograph.

The next thing we did was the most welcome and enjoyable of the whole tour. We drove to the CP-5 reactor building and assembled in a room and sat down while "Kris" explained the internal structure of the reactor and what it did. Then we went through a de-compression chamber to reach the part of the building containing the reactor. We walked around the balcony of the circular room, gazing down at the jumbled mass of equipment below and stopping from time to time for explanations of the about half dozen experiments going on below, all using the reactor.

We went from there to the roof top to look at their forty million dollar hole in the ground, the site of their new zero gradient synchrotron. The last place we visited on our tour was the gamma irradiation facility. We were shown irradiated and non-irradiated food samples, and the glow in the storage tank for radioactive materials. Just to make up for any losses that we might have had, they gave us all some marbles, some irradiated so they wouldn't spoil.
