

Pictured with their director, Nicholas Kostrukoff, are the Don Cossack Chorus, who will perform tomorrow evening at 8 in the high school auditorium. The group comprises the best vocal talent and dancers obtainable among the White Russian emigrees who fought communism in Russia, and who are now American citizens.

The Eiffel Tower, the building of Parliament in London, the pyramids of Egypt, the tea plantations of Ceylon, the wild beasts of South Africa, the elephants of India, the rice-paddies of Indo-China, the earthquakes of Chile, the skyscrapers of New York, the holy places of Jerusalem, the bananas of Singapore and Java, the tidy streets of towns in Holland, the Tunnel of the St. Gothard in Switzerland, the minarets of Turkey, the caves of Madeira, a revolution in Brazil—all this is familiar to the members of the Platoff Don Cossack Chorus and Dancers. Tomorrow night they will make their appearance at Alma College.

famous Cathedral of Notre Dame before an audience of 10,000.

The group was originally organized in Prague, the capital of Czechoslovakia, in 1927. Nicholas Kostrukoff has been and is their director since that time.

The Don Cossacks came to the United States in 1939, and the present members are all United States citizens.

The group has been called the "only entertainment group alive in the world today to represent Russian rebellion against Marxian materialism."

Having given over 3000 concerts in this country alone plus many U. S. O. and Veteran's Hospital appearances for Americans here and abroad, the Cossack group is usually well reviewed.

Bruske and Clizbe Houses Might Not Be Honor Dorms

With the completion of the new women's dormitory next fall, Clizbe House and Bruske House may no longer be used for housing women.

The administration is considering using part or all of one of the present honor houses for a health center, according to Dr. Harold VandenBosch, Vice President.

"However," he states, "it is not yet definite. A final decision will probably not be made until the college is sure of the number of women students to be enrolled next September."

According to Dr. VandenBosch, the College administration feels that honor houses have been a successful experiment. However, it may be necessary to utilize these houses for other purposes in the future.

Nothing will be done to change the two houses until See HONOR DORMS Page 4

3 To Represent A.C. At CMU Peace Contest

On Sunday, February 19th, three Alma College students competed for the right to enter the annual state Peace Oratory and Extemporatory Speaking contest to be held at Central Michigan University, March 16th and 17th.

The three participants were Carol Halmgren, Ed Powers, and Dorothy Ready. Dorothy Ready and Ed Powers were selected to represent Alma. Judy McGregor will be the Scots' delegate to the extemporatory speaking contest.

Set Election Date, Nominate 5

March 16 is the date set for the election of president and vice-president of the student body. Voting will start at 10 a.m. and continue until 4 p.m.

The Student Council has made these nominations for president: Roger Arbury, Dick Luke, and Harold Cook. Bob Madison and Tony Taylor have been nominated for vice-president.

Anyone else wishing to run for the positions may obtain a petition from Miss Hatten. Twenty-five signatures are required.

Petitions for these positions must be in by March 6. They may be given to Roger Emig, Chairman of the Election Board, or Miss Hatten.

Thetas to Present Fashion Show Fri.

The Alpha Theta sorority will present a fashion show Friday evening, March 10. Clothes for all activities, loaned by stores in Alma and the area, will be modeled by sorority members. Tickets for the show will be on sale soon in the contributing stores and from sorority members.

Hal Waller and Phyllis Burdick practicing for today's State Oratory Contest held on our campus. "The American Indictment" is the title of Hal's oration and Phyllis will be speaking on "A Thing of Beauty."

A. C. Hosts State Oratory Contest On Campus Today

This afternoon, February 3, Alma College is hosting the State Oratory contest of the Michigan Intercollegiate Speech League (MISL). Ten Michigan colleges are entered in the competition which will be held in the Dow Science Building, Van Dusen lounge, and the Reid-Knox Memorial Room.

Since the contest rules do not specify a single universal theme, each participant will speak on a separate topic. Each oration has been limited to 1800 words, and due to the upcoming Peace oratory contest, contestants are not allowed to give an oration dealing directly with peace.

The ten MISL schools which are participating in the contest are: Albion College, Alma College, Calvin College, Central Michigan University, Ferris Institute, Kalamazoo College, University of Detroit, Wayne State University, Western Michigan University, and Michigan State University.

Representing Alma in the contest are Phyllis Burdick and Hal Waller. Waller's oration, "The American Indictment," deals with the lack of leadership training. Phyllis is speaking on "A Thing of Beauty," an oration about the beauty in nature.

First on the agenda of oration are four preliminary rounds which will be held at 1:30 P.M. Women and men will be divided into separate A and B groups. Women A will give their orations in the Van Dusen lounge. Women B will speak in the Reid-Knox Memorial Room. Men A will speak in Dow 134 and Men B will speak in Dow 217. The Women's finals will be held in Dow Auditorium at 3:30 P.M. The Men's finals will be held in Dow Auditorium at 6:30 P.M. Ten women and nine men will take part in the entire contest.

"The general public is invited to attend all rounds of oration," said Mrs. Harold Mikle, of the Speech department. "However," she cautioned, "no one may enter or leave the room during the course of an oration."

Effectiveness of C Vitamin Basis of Study

Two Groups To Participate In 8 Week Study

An experiment on the effectiveness of Vitamin C in building resistance against the common cold using Alma College students as subjects will be an independent study project of Margaret Campbell, Onaway senior majoring in biology.

Under the direction of Dr. Richard Allen of the biology department, Meg is conducting the experiment. The Parke-Davis Company has donated the necessary tablets for the study. She has requested volunteers from the student body.

International Night Proceeds Go To WUS

Tonight, in Tyler Auditorium, the annual International Night program will be held.

There will be booths representing an international flavor as well as a number of booths which have no particular international significance.

Profits from the event will be donated to the World University Service. A. C. C. F. will choose a W. U. S. project to sponsor in the near future.

The World University Service is an agency for aid to students in need throughout the world. Aid is used primarily for educational programs and emergencies.

International students will be in costumes, to lend an additional seasoning to the already international flavor.

Dorms Plan Open Houses

Mitchell Hall will hold an Open House after tomorrow night's Lecture Concert performance of the Cossack Chorus. All are invited to attend, partake of refreshments and watch the Mitchell men entertain.

Gelston Hall plans an open house for Friday evening, March 10, 9:45-11:45. Dormitory rooms and the recreation room will be open to the student body and other guests. There will be refreshments, dancing and other entertainment.

Although she hoped for at least 200 volunteers, Meg said the experiment could be carried on with as few as 100 students.

The study is to begin next week and last for eight weeks. Students participating in the experiment will be asked to take the tablets three times a day and to report once a week to be checked for any symptoms of upper respiratory infection.

Half of the students will be given actual Vitamin C, and the other half, the control group, will be instead given tablets identical to Vitamin C in shape, size, taste, etc., but lacking the essential constituent, ascorbic acid.

Reservations Should Be Turned In Soon

Two off-campus trips have attracted sufficient interest for Tyler Board to undertake sponsorship of the events. These are the play, "The Sound of Music," (March 27) and the performance of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra (May 3). However, 29 reservations must be made.

Paid reservations for the play must be made by March 9, and reservations for the symphony by March 17. Reservations are also being taken for the Metropolitan Opera performance on Saturday, May 27.

Tickets for all attractions listed on the poster in Tyler Center may be obtained by the Activities' Director, but transportation will not be furnished for individuals for any event not sponsored by Tyler Board.

Dining Hall Regulations?

"Who has the power to make and enforce dining hall regulations?" seems to be an outstanding question in the minds of many these days, including several on the editorial staff of the almanian.

In the Student Council minutes in the almanian of February 17 we read that the Council made recommendations to the Saga staff, including one that smoking after breakfast, and only after breakfast, be allowed in the dining hall.

The very next week a sign was posted at the entrance of the dining hall: "Effective immediately—no smoking in the dining hall at any time."

And during this same week, smokers still puffed at their own desire, without any apprehension, as far as we could see.

Why all the contradictions in rules, recommendations and enforcement—or lack of it?

Another example—the mimeographed sheet of the current dining hall regulations reads: "Students are expected to dress for dinner on week-day evenings, Monday through Friday, and for Sunday noon. 'Dress' should be interpreted literally."

And it surely is! Anything goes—from sweat shirts to tennis shoes to knee socks. Wonder if anyone read the section in the student handbook which defines "dress" as heels or flats and hose for women and a tie and coat for men.

Of course, people are aware of this—it was made very clear to all of us last fall, but there has been no official mention of it since, no hint of enforcement.

But, please get this straight—the almanian does not wish to go on record as either favoring or disapproving "dressing" for meals or smoking in the dining hall. (Although we do have definite feelings about line-cutting.)

But we feel that these rules should either be enforced or done away with. It is unfair to those students who abide by the present rules that so many students are allowed to break them.

It seems that the Student Council, according to one of its members, does not feel it has the right of enforcement, since it did not have any part in making up the present rules. (There is much vagueness about who actually did decide upon them.) And the Food Service people seem to have no means of enforcement for such rules.

In last week's Student Council minutes it was seen that this problem of "authority in Van Dusen" is to be turned over to the Buildings and Grounds Committee. The committee is to meet with the management of Saga Foods to discuss the matter.

Here's hoping that they do something about it. As it stands now, a fellow could walk into "dress" dinner with a skin diving outfit, crowd ahead of those waiting to be served, enjoy his meal, have a smoke, and leave without apprehension.

And who wants a sea monster at the dining table?

Strange?

Strange as it seems, but true, we read it in the Student Council minutes printed in last week's almanian—So, it must be true. Three books were missing (taken, stolen?) from the Religion-in-Life Committee's book stand during the recent Religion-in-Life Week. Astounding? Yes and no. For it could be that the book-taker (takers) is (are) the one (ones) who would profit most from the missing books.

Who Are They?

Perhaps you have wondered (from the questions which we have heard, we know that you have) to whom or what that assorted crew meeting over the coffee cup at breakfast on Mondays belongs to—to the almanian, of course. Who, but a reporter, would be up and at a meeting at such an early hour? Finding the almanian staff coffee cup broken, we have been holding our Editorial Board Meetings every Monday morning in Van Dusen Commons from 7 to 8.

The purpose and intent of the Board is not, as some may think, to PLOT ways in which to overthrow both students and administration, BUT to discuss problems and issues which we feel are vital to the campus and worth involving ourselves in research in order to write an almanian editorial—which, if you have not stopped to think about it, or have never written one, may sound easy to do. Believe us, it isn't!—Just try it. Try to be so convincing or thought-provoking that someone will write a Letter to the Editor. Try it—come out strongly either for or against, say sin—or free love—or smoking in the dining hall and see what happens.—NOTHING, we bet. AND, if something does happen, we could surely use you plus your talent.

NOW, you know who we are and what we do on Monday mornings at 7. All meetings of the Board are open only to staff members who have been invited by the editor-in-chief, with the approval of the other Board Members, to become a member of the Editorial Board. If any of you as almanian readers, however, have something which you think should be brought before the Board, contact the editor-in-chief stating the issue and you may be invited to appear at one of the Board's meetings.

Pythias, the state contest will not only decide the best speakers in the state, but will also determine the male and female contestants eligible for the national contest.

The winners of both contests will receive monetary awards ranging from ten to forty dollars.

Speakers from the ten to twelve schools participating at Central are expected to prepare a speech, the subject of which concentrates on peace and the improvement of international relations.

Speakers will be judged on ideas, organization, delivery, awareness of world affairs, and on constructive thinking toward peace and world order. Maximum length for the individual speeches is 1200 words.

Spanish, French and German Clubs. While the organizers of the affair are hoping to present Spanish, French and German songs as entertainment, it seems that only the Spanish club will entertain. They are providing Spanish singers and a strolling guitarist.

Among the booths will be the traditional TKE telegraph, Alpha Sigma Tau's famous pink lemonade, and the internationally known Kappa Iota per-traits. Competing with the K.I.'s for the refreshment market will be the German Club's Brau Haus (booze palace). On the Brau Haus' menu will be that well known staple to the deutsch diet, pretzels and root beer.

After a few rounds of root beer, you are invited to have Tri-Beta measure your lung capacity, a well known international tradition.

Spanish Club will be behind the counter of a typical street market selling food.

French Club will operate in two booths tonight, one composing silhouettes and the other working in charcoal.

Auditions for the exchange talent show for C.M.U. will be held Wednesday, March 15, from 7-9 p.m. in Tyler Aud.

The meaning of Lent, as was stated in a question I ran across recently, was: a. penitence, b. fasting, c. spring. This makes me wonder how many of us could answer the question, What is Lent? The answer, of course, is spring.

And why do we think of Lent in merely terms of fasting or abstinence? Many of us feel and think this way, and indeed, many of us do it in order to follow our own religious convictions and beliefs.

If the true meaning of the word "Lent" is "spring", then why do we wish to concern ourselves with it in other ways? Maybe we could just peek out our windows and say the little rhyme (and I question the word "rhyme") "Spring has sprung, the grass is green; look how beautiful the flowers are!" Though this verse has no rhyme, neither does such an attitude toward this season of the church year have any sense.

We think of spring as a beautiful, fresh, new time of the year when the days are warming, the flowers bloom and trees burst forth in blossom once again. Spring, thus, signifies a newness in life.

Let's take this "newness in life" idea into our hearts and minds and treat Lent in this respect. By our search for "newness in life" perhaps we could start by trying to understand and accept one another for what we are rather than what we are not. Fasting may be good but we tend to let this be our only observance of Lent and let some other things slip away from us.

So, in closing, let us endeavor to follow the resolution to be better persons and fast from such things as criticism, self-pity, ill-temper, jealousy, pride, selfishness and fear. Let us endeavor to make this world a better place in which to live.

Let us remember the words as spoken by our Lord Jesus Christ as he said: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it; Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets."

Letters To The Editor

NOTE: Our policy concerning letters to the editors makes it mandatory that the writers of all published letters be known either to the Editor-in-Chief or Managing Editor. THE ALMANIAN takes upon itself the responsibility for publishing letters, hence it will not reveal the identity of any writer who requests anonymity. The editors do not guarantee publication of letters which exceed the bounds of decency and reasonable courtesy. Whether or not letter-writers take issue with THE ALMANIAN in no way disqualifies their letters for publication.

Dear Editor,
You want letters? Well, here's one dealing with a little problem in Gelston Hall. Here's hoping that this complaint about that action will be seen by the eyes of those who are in control of such matters.

It seems that Gelston has recently been deprived of maid service for Sunday mornings. We in this dorm have very lovely and adequate facilities: We have an unbeautiful and expensive sign adorning the building: We're the guinea pigs for a new college experiment to find a solution to the hard, yellow, Alma-water problem (an experiment, by the way, which we enjoy and hope will become a permanent thing). We have rooms on the basement floors which may be decorated and redecorated practically overnight to solve the problem-of-the-day. And we have fine maid service during the week—until Saturday noon.

But on the weekends, when we want to show off our beautiful living quarters to friends, relatives, and prospective students (ahem!), we must be embarrassed by uncleaned lavatories, unkept lounges, etc. (And it isn't just a matter of cooperation of the girls—no place can look its best without a professional touching-up every so often and co-eds don't have the time to be professional cleaning ladies.)

We mean no offense to the little man who buffs the floor of the main lounge early Sunday mornings. But we feel that maid service is also a necessity. And from what we can discover, there are maids willing to work on Sundays.

Must we live in filth on weekends? It seems to us that with all the other little "extras" which the college budget seems to be able to afford (such as the basement room decoration and redecoration), they could also provide for maid service on Sundays.

Sincerely
M. & E.

Dear M. & E.,
Pardon our parody, but it seems that cleanliness is cleanliness and godliness is godliness, and never the twain shall meet. We also hope, however, that through your letter this "little problem" will come to the awareness of those who can do something about it.
the editors

Dear Editors
I don't think that Mister Thomas Befuked, whoever he is, has any right to say that. Our music is as good as any of that music he says is better. It has rhythm and lots of pep and makes you just want to live and enjoy the better things in life. That is more than I can say that music he seems to like better can. And this conversation is stupid too—who wants to talk while good music is playing. You should listen.
A concerned senior

Given to the editor this week:
You may still bet a buck to a doughnut
But take care, if you feel so compelled
Remember! the "Dough" of the buck has shrunk
While the "Dough" of the doughnut has swelled!
"Pete"

To the Editor:
Mitchell Hall is in the midst of an aerial controversy (outside type).

The residents of Mitchell who have such aerials need them. It is next to impossible to get good radio reception without such external aerials. The steel frame of the dorm effectively destroys radio reception inside the building.

The Problem is that the insurance company states that the outside aerials, as now strung up, are a "safety hazard." Because of this "safety hazard," the aerials have to come down.

What the aerial owners of Mitchell want is an explanation of how an 18 gauge wire (copper) can be a "safety hazard."

If the supposed hazard is lightning, lightning arrestors will be installed by the aerial users at personal expense. If the supposed hazard is that they might get in the way of fire fighting equipment, then there is no hazard. A firm tug can break an 18 gauge wire that is 75 feet long.

All we (aerial users and owners, that is) want is an explanation of what makes a 75 foot, 18 gauge copper wire a "safety hazard."

"An Aerial User"
P.S. The T. V. aerial on Wright Hall, which is very susceptible to lightning, has no lightning arrester of any kind! I wonder if Wright Hall is still covered by insurance?

A. C. Faculty Expansion Unpredictable For Future

by Edythe Trevithick

The second phase of the expansion of Alma College was to have dealt with the faculty. However, upon investigation, it was discovered that faculty expansion is not predictable over a long period of time.

In this respect it differs from enrollment, discussed in the first article, (appearing in issue No. 15 of the almaniac) and physical facilities, to be explored in succeeding articles.

Just what is the faculty such an elusive element? The answer lies in the steadily rising costs of a college education. This crisis may force the changing of many currently held ideas.

For example, if Alma College should ever adopt a three-semester program, the changes would be more fundamental than simply a change in the calendar. The entire structure as it is known now may have to be changed, but it is impossible to predict.

But one fact is certain. Any big change will depend on student and parental opinion. Therefore, it will be left somewhat to the students who will have a chance to determine what's ahead for Alma College.

Vitamin C

The results of the experiment will be a comparison of resistance to upper respiratory disease in the two groups.

Meg says that Vitamin C is believed to be the only thing contained in the daily diet which creates a resistance to such diseases.

"This vitamin is believed to be harmless even when taken in massive doses," she adds. She further points out that as the vitamin can't be stored, it must be taken daily in order to be effective.

Meg, in addition to being a student here, is one of the college nurses. She completed her training at Highland Park General Hospital in 1958.

Only Dr. Allen will know which group receives the actual Vitamin C pills.

61 Men Pledge Fraternity

Tekes Take Largest Recorded Pledge Class

Pledging is here again. There is, however, something a bit special about the event which is presently happening all around us.

According to Dean Hawley, this is the largest number of men to go through pledging since the school has been keeping record of such things.

Also, it would seem that the campaign by the TKE brotherhood through their open houses has paid rather lucratively as they broke another record with the largest recorded pledge class.

The thirty pledges they have received will fill the gap that will occur when 21 of the brothers graduate this year.

One rather interesting thing to note about TKE is that they have the largest housing facility and are allowed to accommodate 23 fellows while the Delt Sig's and the Sig Tau's may only house 17.

To make up for the loss of 13 members through graduation, Sig Tau Gamma have acquired 17 pledges. Delta Sigma Phi, who are only losing 5 actives this June, acquired 14 pledges.

This semester, the dean of men and the pledgemasters, Rick Wilcox, Dick Boughton, and Dave Eldred, met and established a set of minimum standards by which pledging is to be run. The standards, which are not by any stretch of the imagination strict, were written to provide safety and assure that the severity of pledging is done in a constructive manner.

Stated Hawley: "The fraternities of Alma are to be praised for taking advantage of this, one of the greatest opportunities, to instill in their pledges such things as realization of social graces, better study habits, the fraternity ideals and goals, and that self evaluation of strengths and weaknesses, which go hand in hand with rushing, instead of the dangerous rough and tumble frat hazing which claims at least one life every year somewhere in the country".

Following is a list of pledges for the three fraternities:

TKE pledges for semester:

Delta Sigma Phi pledges:
 Robert Davis, Dan Heuschele,

Cossacks

the stage in perfect formation with their erect, military bearing and bright uniforms you get your first impulse to cheer and you get your second one when they begin to sing."

The Tulsa Daily World is quoted as saying: "The beauty of their voices, the exuberant and skillful dancing make the Cossacks an unfailing attraction." Tomorrow evening's varied performance probably will include favorite Russian music, folk songs, Cossack dances, the well-known dagger dance by Gabriel Soloduhin, and others.

Enthusiasm was high as fraternity bids were revealed Monday, and a large crowd was on hand to witness the proceedings as evidenced by this shot of the members of the TKE fraternity welcoming new pledges.

STUDENT COUNCIL

February 28, 1961
 7:00 p.m.

The meeting was called to order, the roll was called, the minutes were read and corrected. The following letter was read by the corresponding secretary:

February 23, 1961
 The Student Council
 Alma College
 Alma, Michigan

We would like to acknowledge our sincere gratitude and appreciation for sending us to Michigan State University from February 17-19 to attend the annual Mock United Nations session.

It was indeed a pleasure and honor to represent the country of Canada and our school. The knowledge we gained was most valuable, and meeting the different peoples from all over the world broadened our outlook and was most rewarding. In some small way all contributed to the hope that eventually this world will be one peace loving family.

The Student Affairs Committee reported that a 60 mile limit has been placed on Sorority and Fraternity formals.

The Academic Affairs committee reported that:

- a) The readings for Western Civilization are not printed in the syllabus due to copyright and royalty complications.
- b) They are investigating the possibility of lengthening Sunday library hours.
- c) The Committee is seeking information from publishers regarding the pricing of books.

Recommendations were made to the special committee on the Judicial system regarding dormitory judicial systems.

It was announced that the recommendation of the council to Ban Foods regarding smoking in the Commons will not be put into effect. Ban Foods will take full responsibility for line cutting, dress, and smoking in the Commons. The Building and Grounds Committee is to seek a statement of policy regarding the use of the addition to the Commons for banquets and is to present the problem of lack of enforcement of dress regulations.

Dick Luke moved the appointment of Ed Powers as Orientation Chairman for 1961-62. Seconded and passed.

Roger Arbury, Harold Cook, and Dick Luke were nominated by the Council for the office of President of the Student Council. Bob Matteson and Tony Taylor were nominated for the office of Vice-president of the Student Council.

Thel Woods moved to amend the constitution, Article V, Section 2 to add, "and the Student International Affairs Committee," and Article VI, to add "Section 9. The Student International Affairs Committee shall consist of four members the chairman of which will be on the Student Council and appointed by the Council President. It shall be the duty of this committee to consider, act upon, and recommend appropriate action to the Student Council on all international activities, conferences, projects, and programs that may concern the students of Alma College." The motion was seconded and tabled.

Dick Luke moved that Student Council appropriate $5 to be contributed to the International Night project. Seconded and passed.

Harold Cook moved that a booth be set up for International night promoting student International travel programs. Seconded and passed.

The meeting was adjourned.
 Respectfully submitted,

PETERS HONORED

Adrian Beats Scots For Fifth Defeat

Adrian College handed the Scots their fifth straight basketball defeat to the tune of 80-65. Adrian led throughout the game, building their lead at one point in the game to 23 points. The Scots battled back four times during the game, coming within 2 points of tying the Bulldogs on two occasions.

Alma College honored Dave Peters with a "DAVE PETERS NIGHT". Pre-game ceremonies included presenting Dave with presents from the school and athletic department, and the TKE Fraternity.

Dave complied by pouring in 29 points to lead Alma's scorers. Tom McPhillips scored 12 points, and John LaRue added 11 points.

High scorer for the winners was Vince Giles with 25 points.

Scots Smash Olivet's Hopes

Alma College's basketball team kept Olivet's losing ways intact Saturday night by beating the Comets 54-45. Olivet had previously lost 45 consecutive basketball games, and had tied the national record for consecutive games lost. The Scots' victory was the 46th straight loss suffered by a Comet team, and set a new national record in this department.

The Scots were never in real trouble during the game, but the Olivet team made the game tight through three quarters of play. Alma led at halftime 27-24, and at the three quarter mark 36-31. Alma scored 18 points in the fourth quarter to win going away.

Tom McPhillips, one of two seniors on the team, playing the last game of his career for the Scots, did a terrific job from his forward position. He led the scorers with 17 points, and hauled down 12 rebounds.

Dave Peters, the other senior on the team, scored 11 points. Don Phillippi added 11 points also. John LaRue had 8 points and 20 rebounds, and Gene Henderson added 7 points.

The Scots ended the season with the Olivet game with a 4-13 record.

the new women's hall is completed, he adds. They might be needed more than ever for a short time in the fall pending final completion of the dormitory, he says.

"Construction progress on the new dormitory is now ahead of schedule," Dr. VandenBosch stated. "The prospect of this building being ready for occupancy in September is very promising. It is anticipated that the building will be dedicated as a part of the Homecoming program next October," he added.

Around The Campus

This Sunday evening, March 5, at 6:30, the Rev. S. J. Mujais will speak at the vespers service in Dunning Chapel on the subject, "I am the Alpha and the Omega." This service is the third in a series of special Lenten services, all of which are based upon "I am . . ." Biblical quotations.

Plans of the a cappella choir for this semester includes a Spring Tour which will go through the East and stop in New York City.

On Sunday afternoon, March 12, the choir will be singing for the Lenten services at the Presbyterian church in Caro, Mich.

Several new members have been added to the choir this semester. They are as follows: sopranos, Beverly Purser and Ethel Smith; tenor, Henry Smith; and basses, Jerry Smith and John Teevissen.

Last Saturday, February 25, Alma College debate teams won five out of six debates in the State Debate Tournament at Wayne State University.

The affirmative team of Jim Pyle and Ed Powers won two of three debates, defeating Calvin and Hope colleges, and losing to Central Michigan University.

PLACEMENT CASEMENT

Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. will have a representative on campus on Tuesday, March 7, to interview seniors interested in positions in sales, credit, accounting and retread shop management. Make interview appointments in the Placement Office.

The Michigan State Health Department, a division of the U. S. Public Health Service will have a representative on campus on Tuesday, March 14, to interview seniors interested in careers in the field of public health. You do not need special training in the sciences to qualify for these positions, a bachelor's degree with any major is acceptable. Rather comprehensive training is provided during the first three position grades. Young men interested in careers as public health advisors or investigators should sign up for interviews in the Placement Office.

General Telephone Company will have a representative on campus on Wednesday, March 15, to interview seniors interested in management trainee positions; they are particularly interested in Accounting, Math, Economics, and Marketing majors. However, graduates with any four-year degree will be considered. Make your interview appointments in the Placement Office.

The following school systems will have representatives on campus on the dates specified below. Teacher candidates interested in locating in these systems should look over the list of specific openings for each school on the bulletin board in Old Main and sign up in the Placement Office for appointments.
