

ALMA COLLEGE ALTERS RELATIONS WITH SYNOD

The relationship between the Synod of Michigan and Alma College was historically altered this past summer when a four point proposal by the trustees of Alma College was accepted by the Synod last June. The major point of the realignment or relations between the Synod and Alma College was that the Board of Trustees of Alma College would become a self-perpetuation board, invested with the power of electing their own members. In the past, the Synod has had all ratifying powers for the election of trustees.

The first point of the proposal entailed a covenant between the Synod and the College, first stating that the Synod recognizes that "man and his institutions must be free to seek their life and identity within the purpose of God", and that "in order to confirm the freedom, and to insure the excellence of Alma College, the Church pledges its resources as advocate and guardian." Secondly, the covenant stated that Alma College "renews its pledge to be an educational institution that is open and unfettered, striving for excellence in the best of the Judaeo-Christian tradition, and using its most creative powers for the fulfillment of human lives.

Point two of the proposal gave the Alma Board of Trustees the responsibility for election of Trustees, with the stipulation that two of the fifteen trustees elected each year be nominated by the Synod. The third point stated that the Synod would continue to provide Alma College with budgetary support, while point four set up a consultation between the Agency Development Department of Synod and Alma at least once every three years.

During the summer of 1969, an ad hoc committee of trustees was charged with the assignment of reviewing the relationship between Alma College and the Synod of Michigan. Last October, the Board of Trustees approved a report that eventually became the four point realignment accepted by the Synod last June.

BOWMAN ORGAN RECITAL SET FOR OCT. 4

Jack W. Bowman, organist and music instructor at Alma College, will begin this season's cultural events with a recital of Abendmusik, Sunday October 4, at 8 p.m. in Dunning Memorial Chapel.

The recital is in the style of the Sunday evening programs presented by Dietrich Buxtehude in the 17th century. Selections for the program include works by 17th and 18th century composers Dietrich Buxtehude, Johann Pachelbel, Antonio Soler, Johann Sebastian Bach and William Walond.

From these composers, Mr. Bowman has selected the following works to be presented: Prelude and Fugue in G Minor by Buxtehude; Three Chorale-Preludes on "I Call to Thee Lord Jesus Christ" by Pachelbel, Buxtehude and Bach; Prelude and Fugue in D Major by Bach; Walond's Introduction and Toccata; and Concerto No. 3 in G Major by Soler.

Along with his duties as director of the college's Kiltie Band, Mr. Bowman also directs the Alma Symphony Orchestra and serves as the principal bassoonist with the Saginaw Symphony Orchestra.

"Why Are We Here?" Swanson Challenged at Opening Convocation

In keeping with his 14 year tradition Dr. Robert A. Swanson opened this new academic year as he addressed the entire Alma College community at Opening Convocation, September 24.

His speech, entitled "Why", which he later expanded to "Why Are We Here," touched on a major concern of many students, the relevancy of today's educational system. Dr. Swanson explained that often times an academic community is "set on a hill, out of the mainstream of the realities of every day life." In a world that is moving as fast individuals question the purpose of remaining in an academic isolation.

Should a college become a micro-cosm of society, then, in order to be more relevant, was Dr. Swanson's next point. He He opposed this by saying that an academic community, with all its resources and personnel should be able to transcend and excel past every day society.

Quoting a German philosopher of the 19th Century, Dr. Swanson gave part of the answer to his initial question, "what you would have in the government you must first put in the minds of youth." With this in mind he described four reasons to be "where we are and not somewhere else."

- (1) to discover how to deal with the unknown, to search, seek out those things which will make society not better but best.
- (2) to discover one's self, for that is the first step to making society better and to discover not only our abilities, but also our limitations.
- (3) to develop the "will" of each individual, that force which drives man to be "for" something.
- (4) and to develop informed moral aspirations, the three words which make each man truly liberated.

With these goals from Dr. Swanson, an invocation from Dr. Joseph Walser, of the Religion Department and an introduction of the new faculty members, Opening Convocation of the 84th year of Alma College came to a close.

Student Activities Budget in Red for Second Year

The Student Activities budget finished its fiscal period in the red for the second year in succession, according to Dr. Steven Meyer, Vice President for Business Affairs of Alma College. The past fiscal year ended June 30, 1970.

The Student Activities budget supports the activities of Union Board, The Student Council, the Africa Fellowship, THE SCOTSMAN, and THE ALMANIAN. This past year's budget was over spent by $1,563.24. The 1968 - 1969 budget of two years ago was in the red $1,137.78.

In a letter addressed to Paul VanValkenburg, President of Student Council, Dr. Meyer has requested that the student body make arrangements to repay the college for the amount overspent in the past two years. This amounts to $2,700.97.

Dr. Meyer has indicated to Mr. VanValkenburg two alternatives for raising this money. The first method suggested was to raise the social tax an additional $2.00 per person per year. This would raise the total fee to $40.04 per person per year.

The second method suggested by Dr. Meyer was to cut back existing budgets of the various organizations and the money gained by this cut back be used to pay back the debt.

Mr. VanValkenburg has indicated that he plans to take this issue before Student Council as soon as possible.

The actual figures from last year's budget were as follows: THE ALMANIAN over-spent by $1969.66. THE SCOTSMAN was in the red $333.01. Student Council finished up its year on the positive side by $217.01. Union Board was $732.56 in the hole. The Africa Fellowship Program was at the break even point of $000.00.

The debt incurred by the organizations last year was partially offset by the additional $1,255.00 raised by increased student enrollment.

Dr. Meyer has indicated that he would like a decision on this matter at the earliest possible manner.

New Faculty Members Join A.C. Staff

There are many new faces at Alma this year and not all of them are wearing beanies. The College faculty has fourteen new members. Mr. Edward Jacomo of St. Louis who has been an art consultant for the Alma Public Schools has resigned to join the art department on a full-time basis. Mr. Jacomo has published many articles concerning art, speaks frequently at state and national conventions, and has provided an art education television series. The Art-Mobile a converted school bus which can be seen at the elementary schools in Alma is also a creation of Mr. Jacomo.

The biology department has added two men. Dr. Laurence Whittle, a graduate of Lebanon Valley College who holds a PhD. from the University of Virginia has been appointed assistant professor of biology and advisor to freshmen pre-med students. Craig Davis who holds bachelors and Masters degrees from Colorado State University has been appointed instructor of biology.

Ted D. Englebrecht, a faculty member of Pitt Community College in North Carolina for the past two years has been named instructor of business administration. He holds bachelors and masters degrees from East Carolina University.

The Economics Department announces the appointment of Frederic M. Surls for one year to replace Dr. Jackson. Mr. Surls is a candidate for his P.H.D. at the University of Michigan and was the recipient of a National Defense Foreign Language Fellowship for Chinese language study and research in Taiwan and Hong Kong.

Two new faculty members join the education department. Ray Boggs who holds a masters degree from Michigan State, has been named instructor of education. Mr. Boggs was formally employed by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in its educational services program. Mrs. Frank Hall of Alma has been named a visiting assistant professor of education. Mrs. Hall has been a member of the faculty of Alma Public Schools since 1957, and initiated the first remedial reading program in Alma.

James Tipton has been named an instructor of English. Mr. Tipton has been named the recipient of many awards for his more than 250 poems, short stories, translations, and reviews. He most recently taught at Kalamazoo College. Dr. Joe Sutfin who holds bachelors and masters degrees from Southern Illinois University and a P.H.D. from Van-dervilt University has been named as associate English professor.

Dr. Ronald M. Smelser is the new associate professor of history. He holds masters and PhD. degrees from the University of Wisconsin. Dr. Smelser was a former Woodrow Wilson Fellow and the recipient of a German government grant.

The mathematics department will be chaired by Dr. Larry Edison. Dr. Edison holds a PhD. from Stanford University and was a member of the faculty of Reed College in Portland, Oregon. John J. Empoliti has been named as instructor of mathematics. He was educated at Fairfield University and holds a masters degree from Rutgers University.

Howard Ulan will join the psychology department as an instructor. He is a graduate of Rutgers and holds a masters degree from Northwestern where he is a PhD candidate.

Dr. Ronald L. Massanari who holds a masters degree from the University of Wisconsin, a bachelor of divinity from Garrett Theological Seminary, and a PhD. from Duke University joins the religion department. Dr. Massanari was a Duke-Danforth Fellow and a Niccum Fellow at Goshen College and a Howes Fellow at Garrett Seminary.

Robert L. Marsh has been appointed visiting professor of political science, replacing Dr. Eugene Kolb, who has been granted a medical leave of absence. Marsh holds a BA degree from Wheaton College and a MA from the University of Michigan.

Brazell Announces New Trustees

Katke, vice president for technical affairs for Ford Motor Company of Bloomfield Hills; Kent L. MacGregor, former owner of MacGregor Tire Company in Flint, of Coral Gables, Florida; and John H. Steward, president of Fabri Steel Products, Inc. of Bloomfield Hills.

These men join the 45 member board of trustees of Alma College, the highest division of Community Government.

Almanian Appreciates Job Well Done

Each year we all turn to campus expecting the place to be just about the same as when we left it last spring, although we are always on the look out for things that have changed. This year we are happy to report an important change, or at least as far as THE ALMANIAN is concerned. This year we are in a new location. THE ALMANIAN offices are now located at 412 Maple, which is a small white house across the street from Pioneer and between the Psychology annex (the big green house) and McCall House.

All too often newspaper editorials are in the position of criticizing one thing or another. While we believe that criticism is a necessary part of the paper, praise is also in order when it is called for. And at this time we have nothing but praise for the Alma College Maintenance Department.

It would be almost impossible to describe the condition of this house (412 Maple) when we moved in at the very end of last Spring Term. The walls were very dirty and often the same wall had two or three different colors of paint where only one should be. The lighting was very bad and the smell of the carpet in the front room was enough to drive you out of the place.

But, the Alma College Maintenance Department went to work and the house now is in very good shape. And so, we would like to say thanks to the people who did all the work. We would like to thank Mr. Fraker who listened patiently to all the thoughts and ideas we had about the house, and Mr. Sugar who supervised all the work that was done. Also we thank Mrs. Corlew and her crew who rid the house of its smell and cleaned the place like it hadn't been cleaned for a long time. And how about Ron Butters and Keith Cummings who installed the lights and L.C. Smith and Robert Edgar who did the plumbing to them we also say thanks. Last but not far from least, we would like to say thanks to a couple of fellows that helped us move from the old gym to our new place and have done many other little things that have really been appreciated, "Wink" Britten and Forrest Green.

To all of these people and to everyone else who helped put this place in the first class shape it's in, we say thanks.

thomas blatant is off to a new year

I see everywhere around me the fresh paint of Alma College. The crews have busied themselves the summer long scraping, sanding, and adding a new sparkle again with their rich paint spread smooth and thick. These old walls have a clean, new look now, supporting the ceiling with a shout rather than the cracked and faded grown of last year. Outside, the first holes in the halls have healed without a scar.

Looking up, I see the chapel steeple has ridged itself of the black spots which last year stood out, all of their implications showing. Pure white again abounds. The bells sound the hours with the strength of a bull, while students below hasten to classes wearing their new clothes and carrying hard-cover books that crackle with first opening.

Last year's dead wood has been cleared away. The four Progress Units give the once monotonous grove a fashionable new look, the tasteful red bricks providing at once contrast and balance to the remaining aged trees. The seniors also are gone, having been buried in June; replacing them are some four hundred young freshmen brimming with enthusiasm like diapers that need changing. You can see them dashing around, looking in corners, turning up old ideas once abandoned by upper classmen. Unlike some others, the faces of these youngsters have not yet been afflicted with wrinkles of apathy.

I like the beginning of the year best because of the fresh paint exhibited by walls and people alike. Even upperclassmen look less coffin-bound after the summer; they are walking around, some of them looking almost ready to begin doing something. The campus is at its best now. This is the time of year when volunteers are plentiful and meeting rooms filled with eager people. The trouble is, too often this autumn burst of spirit, like paint on the walls, does not survive the winter. The passing of time too often is accompanied by waning of enthusiasm to the extent that by spring, no one will do anything but count the days until vacation.

But I'm hoping things will be different this year, that the paint doesn't chip and fade so quickly. Maybe this year I won't have to watch as the Union Board taras to drift-wood, as THE ALMANIAN staff diminishes by nearly half, as Community Government becomes a joke around the card table. I'll keep looking for faded paint, but I know this little spray can would never cover the whole campus.

SCOTSMAN and

ALMANIAN Critcized

Dear Editor:

Since you are somewhat influential in the production of the publications that exist at Alma College, I would like to make the following comments about our yearbook.

I think the first and most important statement I must make is that this book (?) is an insult to me as a student of this college. If such a production were published to a Junior High School student, I think he might appreciate it, but I do not consider myself a Junior High School student, nor do I ask to be treated as one.

I have never seen such a publication that falsified the realism that existed on this campus last year. I refuse to accept your ideology that Alma College students strive and exist on the picture of a couple walking across campus holding hands while the autumn leaves slowly falling in the background.

You did realize that there were students concerned about the concerns of our societal situation in the world on October 15, November 15, and the Kent State incident, BUT, by completely alienating this from the everyday occurrences of this college, you have stated that this college is only concerned about world problems when they become of national importance.

Campus Day was a day of fun and festivities, but it was a day of deep concern but, you insisted on seperating the two incidents which make Alma and the students the college that it is. I will never forget the publication of THE ALMANIAN the week after the Kent State incident, in which THE ALMANIAN staff had the audacity to print the picture of a beautiful young girl, with a smile on her face. Ridiculous is not the word.

For you Freshmen who are not aware of this college and what goes on, I will give you a bit of advice--If the staff of the publications on this campus does not change, I would suggest that if you are ever walking with a friend on a nice autumn day that you smile, for no doubt your picture will appear in this year's SCOTSMAN.

Please send a copy of this book to my parents for I think they would appreciate it a lot more than I would.

Almanian Needs You

If you need a few extra dollars for spending and enjoy typing, come to THE ALMANIAN office! We need you!

This year we want to try to keep up a good corps of typists. This would consist of a slate of regular typists who will devote a fairly regular amount of time each week to type and a good number of substitute who might not be able to devote a lot of come in when needed, (i.e. a regular cannot make it or there is an extra load on the paper in one issue). Another group which is needed to get the paper out in perfection, are the Volunteer proofreaders, who will come and check out the spelling mistakes and any other little mistakes we might make.

The typists will be paid by how much they type, so anyone can come and give their services. If you are interested, call Sue Gnagy in Bruske, or THE ALMANIAN ext. 234--Everyone and anyone is welcome! Help make the beginning of a good year with THE ALMANIAN end a good year just the same!

An Open Letter to the Campus

On Thursday, October 1, in Tyler, there will be an Information Carnival. The purpose of such an event is to familiarize both new and old students with the different organizations that exist here on campus and in the community.

We would like to invite all students to this carnival, for we feel it is an excellent opportunity for you to become aware of this part of college life.

So please stop by any time from 7:30 until 9:00 p.m. in Tyler, this Thursday.

Sincerely,
Linda Frieson
Todd Johnson
Orientation Committee

Any organization which we have not contacted this fall that would like to participate please call Todd Johnson, at McCall House, ex. 235.

Go! Fresh, Go!

To The Freshman Class:

As a member of the Sophomore class and a former Student Council member, I was able to participate in small discussion groups with you on Community Government. I was happy to see enthusiasm, and many petitions picked up for your upcoming election, and a good amount of "Campaigning" going on while getting these petitions signed. I just want to say, "Keep up the good work and don't get discouraged!" We need people that are willing to get involved and are willing to stay involved once they get there. Have a good year!

"History Did Not Repeat Itself This Time"

by Don Yehle

DEFIANCE, OHIO -- When the Alma College Scots rolled into their motel in Defiance Friday night, they were greeted with the sign, "Jackets number one, beat Alma." Alma head coach Dennis Stolz and his 38-man traveling squad had other ideas. They remembered three years ago when Defiance brought a 13-game winning streak to Alma, only to limp home the victims of a 34-3 setback. In that contest, quarterback Tom Jakovac opened the scoring by grabbing the opening kick-off and racing 94-yards to pay-dirt.

Now it is 1970. Defiance entered the contest with a 15-game winning streak over three seasons. Earlier in the week, they had been rated number one in the first poll of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletic Division II.

The Yellow Jackets, with a 2-0 record, had gathered 140 points in the balloting, including seven of possible 15 first place votes. Those two victories had been over MIAA Hope, 24-0, and Adrian, 49-6.

Alma, with almost no offensive power at all, fell victim to Defiance, 10-0. Defiance used a 27-yard field goal by Ed Lapoh early in the second quarter and a 13-yard scamper quarterback Mike Wright in the final period to take the victory.

At least for a few years, the Defiance series is over. Each team grabbed a pair of wins. In 1963, again it was Jakovac who brought Alma the victory.

Duane Laux, who led almost every game in the 1970 game, scored from the Alma side with 2:54 remaining making the score 14-7. A two-point conversion got Alma ahead by a single point.

Jakovac brought Alma back. With the ball on the Scot 34 with 1:25 remaining, he passed for 44-yards and ran for 22, taking it to on a sweep from the five with just 28 seconds left. The extra point was good for a 21-35 victory.

A win at that point would have stopped an Alma winning streak at 31. Last year, Defiance finally got revenge, 14-7. But it took Defiance interception in its own end zone with one-minute remaining to save the day.

This is no time for the Alma Scots to look back into history. Alma, now 0-2, will be opening another Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association season, on Saturday at Olivet.

The Comets have dropped three straight games this season. Their latest setback was 33-0 to Heidelberg. Olivet's other losses have come at the hands of St. Joseph (39-7) and Anderson (26-3) a pair of Indiana colleges.

In the only other MIAA game this weekend, Kalamazoo will be at Hope. Meanwhile, Albion, the defending MIAA champions, winless after three games, will be at Wabash, while Adrian plays at Geneva. Hope, interestingly enough, recorded the first win of the season for any MIAA school when they got past Lakeland (Wis.) 7-0 last Saturday to hand new head coach Ray Smith his first victory.

twenty-one ?

don't forget to register!

All students who are U. S. citizens, 21 years of age and are residents of Michigan for at least 6 months and their home town for 30 days before election day are eligible to register to vote. Students can apply by mail to register in their home town by writing their local city clerk. The registration application must be filled out, notarized and returned to the clerk by Friday October 2. Registration applications can be notarized by Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Wolfgang in the business office and by Mrs. Anderson in the student aid office. There is no charge for this service. At the same time a student may request an absentee ballot to vote in the November 3 general election. The applicant must state the reason for requesting an absentee ballot, that is, he will be out of town attending college on election day. Ballots must be returned to the home town clerk by 8 p.m. on election day, November 3.

Committees Begin Year's Work

academic review

Academic Review Committee convened last Wednesday to discuss the projected growth of the college in the next five years, hear from Robert Marble, Director of Admissions, about the admissions success with this year's Freshman class, and discuss possible course additions in the next few years.

Desired growth for Alma in the next five years seems to be for Alma to increase by 50 students and three or four faculty each year for five years. That would bring the student body count up to 1500 and the faculty to 90 (appr.) It was brought up that tuition would probably rise 7-8% per year as inflation continues.

Jake DeYoung is chairing the committee.

exec.council

The first meeting of the Executive Committee was held September 18, 1970, in the Hamilton Commons faculty dining room. President Swanson chaired the meeting, which dealt with two important student matters, as well as with other, less important, matters.

First, the committee voted to recommend to the Student Council, and to the faculty, that the Judicial Committee be the body designated to deal with the referral or appeal of academic infractions. This was done at the request of the Judicial Committee. Since the Judicial Committee has students for three of its six members, this move could assure students of more control of their community government.

Second, the issue of a recess of classes around election time was discussed. The committee, preferring to allow students to make their desires known first, decided to take no action at this time.

It seemed to this reporter that the committee was ready and willing to deal with student affairs. But, students must make their desires known. Community government in theory is not community government in fact unless all segments of the community participate.

J.R.

student affairs

Student Affairs Committee met briefly during the pre-school conference, and elected Helen Kendall as Chairman of this year's committee, with Sue Koeven as secretary. No business was conducted at this first meeting. The committee will meet again this coming Wednesday at 6:00 p.m.

Workshops Held

During Pre-School

Conference

On September 17 and 18, three Community Government Workshops were held on campus for this year's Community Government members. During the two days, the student members of Community Government committees heard Dr. Swanson give the State of the College report and a luncheon talk on Community Government, listened to Dr. Bechili explain the mechanics of legislation, and convened for an initial meeting of their respective committees. Approximately two-thirds of the total student membership of Community Government (excluding Student Council) were able to attend at least part of the workshop series.

During the first morning of what has been known in past years as the pre-school conference, Dr. Swanson delivered the first part of a "State of the College" report to a combined group of faculty, administrators, and students. Because of the magnitude of material needed to be covered in the report, Dr. Swanson continued the report during the Faculty meeting, September 18. At noon of the 17th, Dr. Swanson had dinner with the Community Government student members, and addressed them about Community Government after the lunch.

On the night of the 17th, Dr. Verne Bechill of the Sociology Department spoke on the mechanics of legislation and effective representation. During the workshop, Dr. Bechill said that the present Community Government structure was not working as effectively it could because of lack of communication between the student representatives and the rest of the student body, and because the student representative many times failed to "do his homework" when it came to working out or drawing up proposals.

Workshop three, held during the morning of September 18, provided for the committees to meet for the first time this year. Most committees met for about a half hour, to choose a chairman for this year, and to set up a tentative agenda for the fall term.

Several committees had to immediately begin work on charges made to them by Dr. Swanson during his "State of the College" report. Specifically the final report of the North Central Association of college accreditation.

NOTICE TO ALL FRESHMAN STUDENTS: All freshmen students or anyone interested in receiving the FRESHMAN NEWSLETTER, please call Dr. Walser (342), or Heather Neary, (339), and leave your campus address, so we may send it to you.

ASPECTS— A WEEKLY REPORT

by John Hull

One criticism often made of community government on the Alma campus is that the students just don't know enough about it. While some of this could be blamed on student apathy, it is clear that much of this lack of knowledge is the fault of those of us who do know something about community government, but haven't spread the word. The purpose of this column will be twofold. First, a general description of the community government set-up will be explained. Second, this column will deal with methods of being effectively heard through the committees.

Freshman Class Elections

Freshmen! Here's your chance to take an active part in the politics of the Alma College Community. This coming Thursday, October 1, Freshmen class president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer, and Student Council representative will be elected.

At 7:00 p.m. Tuesday evening, September 29, in Dow Auditorium, the candidates will present themselves to you with short speeches. Balloting will be Thursday. Those Freshmen living in Eruske, Mitchell and Newberry will vote in Mitchell lobby. Those Freshmen living in Wright, Gelston and off-campus will vote in the Gelston lobby. Freshmen, show your interest by voting.

ATTENTION SENIORS!!!

The first senior class meeting will be held Wednesday, September 30 at 7:00 P.M. in Dow Auditorium. We will be discussing homecoming and organizing various committees to work throughout the year. We need a lot of help and support. Please be there!

ed.policies

The Educational Policies Committee met to talk over the President's charge concerning the NCA report, and voted to offer the film Take One as convocation credit. Take One is a collection of student films from campuses across the country. The films are being shown by the Art Department. Kent Kirby is a committee member, and will submit more art films for possible convocation credit.

Dr. Linder of the Sociology Department is chairman of the committee.

faculty meeting

The old and new of the faculty got together for a faculty meeting on September 18, during the pre-school conference. New faculty members were introduced, new academic procedures were explained, convocation credit events were decided upon, and Dr. Swanson concluded his "State of the College" report during the 2 1/2 hour meeting.

Faculty were asked to fill out class procedure forms for all their classes, indicating number of class hours per week, number of students, etc.; the faculty were also asked to make out mid-term grades for Freshmen for each term during the freshman year, instead of just the first term of the year.

communications comm.

The Communications Committee immediately went into executive session at the meeting last Thursday noon. Executive session excluded all non-members, including the press. Regular business included the election of Larry Johnson, from the English Department, as secretary of the committee. Larry's first assignment is the issue of the financial state of the ALMA and THE SCOTSMAN. Further discussion was tabled until the next meeting.

John Hull is chairman of the committee this year.

PRE-LAW STUDENTS MUST TAKE L.S.A.T.

PRINCETON, N.J., August 3. The Law School Admission Test, required of candidates for admission to most American law schools, will be given on October 17, 1970, December 19, 1970, February 13, 1971, April 10, 1971, and July 31, 1971. Since many law schools select their freshman classes in the spring preceding entrance, candidates for admission to next year's classes are advised to register for the October, December, or February administration. Registration for this test does not constitute application for admission to law school. Such application must be made by filing appropriate papers with the institutions involved.

The Law School Admission Test is a full-day test administered in two half-day sessions. Designed to predict scholastic achievement in law school and to provide information about the undergraduate preparation of law school applicants, the test yields two scores: the LSAT, which is a measure of academic ability, and writing ability, which is a measure of competence in writing skills.

Candidates for the test should secure a copy of the Bulletin of Information, which includes the LSAT Registration Form and sample questions. The Registration form and fees must reach Educational Testing Service at least three weeks before the desired test date. Also included in the Bulletin package is an announcement of new admission services and the names of law schools participating in the services. Applicants to these law schools will follow new application procedures.

For a copy of the Bulletin, Registration Form, and announcement, either write to the Law School Admission Test, Educational Testing Service, Box 944, Princeton, N. J. 08540 or obtain a set of the materials locally at the office of Dr. John J. Agria, Prelaw advisor, NOB 118, ext.350. Dr. Agria also has on hand law school catalogs and other information pertaining to prelaw education, the LSAT exam, and the career of law. All students considering law should see Agria at their earliest convenience. Seniors should stop by as soon as possible.

Rhodes Scholarships Available for Grads

Each year 32 young men from the United States receive the Rhodes Scholarship to Oxford University. The scholarship is worth 1300 pounds per year for two or three years depending on the course the holder pursues.

Ceril Rhodes established the scholarship to promote post-graduation studies to deserving young men throughout the world. Mr. Rhodes's stipulations for the candidates, as stated in his will, are that each man should demonstrate literary and scholastic attainments; qualities of manhood, truthfulness, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy for and protection of the weak, kindness, fellowship, leadership qualities, and continued physical vigor.

Any male citizen who will be between 18 and 24 years of age on October 1, 1970 and interested in the scholarship is encouraged to apply. Every candidate must have 5 years' domicile and be unmarried, and have at least a junior standing in a recognized degree-granting college or university such as Alma College. Applications may be obtained in the Provost's office at any time, but the application must be received by the State Selection Committee by October 31, 1970. This committee interviews each candidate and will select two who will be interviewed by the District Selection Committees and 32 will represent the United States at Oxford in October, 1971. The candidates for the Rhode Scholarship will be selected in October.

The scholarship has been increased this year to cover increasing financial stress and a provision has been added which states that any candidate for the scholarship who is called into the military service may postpone his scholarship until his service is completed. He may then go to Oxford as soon as the university can accommodate him.

Student Radio Needs You

There will be an organizational meeting for those students interested in working on WWAR, Alma College's proposed student Radio Station. The meeting will be held at 8:00 this evening, Sept. 28 in the basement of Mitchell Hall (The Pit). Anyone interested in the station but unable to attend the meeting should contact Bill Roberts or Rick Mavis in 305 Mitchell. P.S. Girls included.

Homecoming Committees Still Need Workers

Homecoming comes to Alma a bit earlier this year than it has in the past. October 9 and 10 are the crucial dates, leaving less than two weeks in which to complete projects and preparations. Lots of assistance is going to be required around the campus, and it will hopefully be provided by interested and hard-working individuals who want to pitch in and help. Homecoming '70 has as its theme "The Ingenious World of Invention," and our adversary on the field that Saturday afternoon will be Hope College.

The weekend's festivities will begin with the traditional Pep Rally at Bahlke Field on the evening of October 9. The rally will culminate in the official coronation of this year's Homecoming queen. Saturday morning begins with the Homecoming parade down Superior St, which will include the various college floats, visiting bands, and the bagpipe artistry of the Clan MacRae. The weekend will be climaxed by the big A.C. - Hope game Saturday afternoon, and Homecoming '70 will come to an end that night with the dance, which will feature the Sixth Generation.

Any campus organization may sponsor and build a float. The deadline for float entries is Wednesday, September 30. Lawn decorations, which are sponsored by the dorms, fraternity houses and sororities, must be registered by Friday, October 2. Remember, there is still much to be done and relatively few people to help. It's up to the upperclassmen to get the freshmen involved, too. Committees still in need of workmen are: Pep Rally, Judging, Dance, and Queen's Court. All those interested in serving on any one of these groups, please contact Doug Paterson at ex. 291.

ALMA RECEIVES KELLOGG GRANT

A $376,000 grant to aid in the development of a comprehensive program of faculty development has been made by the W. K. Kellogg Foundation to Calvin College of Grand Rapids on behalf of that college and the other 23 institutions of higher education, including Alma College, who comprise the Association of Independent Colleges and Universities of Michigan (AICUM).

Approval of the grant clears the way for the AICUM colleges to implement a program which will involve individual study programs through cooperative Fellows Awards, intensive Summer Seminar Programs and a series of Faculty Workshops.

Among members of AICUM's Faculty Development Committee which assists in administering the program is Dr. Ronald O. Kapp, Provost of Alma College.

The three phases of the Faculty Development Program are: (1) A special leave program for study or research by selected faculty members of AICUM colleges who will be known as Kellogg Fellows; (2) Summer seminars dealing with specific topics in the field of education; and (3) A series of three different types of workshops for faculty members to be held during academic years.

The grant is believed to be the first of its kind awarded to a college for a program which will ultimately involve all the members of a state association of independent colleges and universities. In participating with Calvin College in the development of this unique program, the Kellogg Foundation noted "the ultimate beneficiary will be the students attending Michigan's many fine private colleges."

Teacher Exams Scheduled

College seniors preparing to teach school may take the National Teacher Examinations on any of the four different dates, November 14, January 30, April 3, and July 7. According to Dr. Harlan McCall, Chairman of the Education Department, the results of the National Teacher Examinations are used by many large school districts as one of several factors in the selection of new teachers and by several states for certification or licensing of teachers.

Prospective teachers should contact the school systems in which they seek employment or Dr. McCall for specific advice on which examinations to take and on which days they should be taken. Copies of the BULLETIN OF INFORMATION FOR CANDIDATES which lists the test centers and information about the examinations may be obtained from college placement offices or the National Teacher Examinations, Box 911, Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey 08540.

College Mace

Has Symbolic Meaning

Proud and bold the Alma College Mace leads processions throughout the academic year.

The ceremonial mace, an ancient symbol of authority, is an impressive reminder of the strong Scottish tradition at Alma College. A recent addition to campus ritual, it made its initial appearance during the 81st Commencement Exercises in 1968.

Rich in the history and customs of the college it was designed by Mr. Kent Kirby of the Art Department, and carved from a six-foot peice of black walnut by Mr. Robert Hellon of Manistee.

Atop the mace is a four-sided mandorla, a medieval bud shaped symbol, with a pomegranite matif surrounding a tau cross which convey the ideas of the universal and peace.

Below the mandorla the seven academic disaplines are carved in a circular field, each is enclosed in an archway separated by columns symbolizing the heritage and tradition of education. Reworked from the engravings of the 16th century artist Beham are the liberal arts Rhetorica, Dialectica, Musica, Astrologia, Geometrica, Arithmetica, and Grammatica.

Lower on the shaft is a pentagon on whose five square-shaped areas are carved the seals of five political bodies: Alma College, the United Presbyterian Church of the U.S.A., the State of Michigan, the United States, and the United Nations.

The lower portion of the shaft is done in a Scottish shield matif portraying the Scotch tradition of Alma College.

DYKSTRA ANNOUNCES IFS SCHEDULE

The International Film Series opened its tenth season (last Sunday evening) with KEY LARGO, one of the Humphrey Bogart-Lauren Bacall films of the 1940's.

Ten other films have been listed for this year's IFS schedule, according to an announcement by Professor Dykstra. These include works from France, England, Italy, Spain and Canada, as well as from the United States.

Bus Stop to be Presented

Play Try-Outs Set For Oct.6 and 7

Dr. Philip Griffiths, director of theater productions at Alma College, announces that tryouts for the fall play, Bus Stop, will be held next week, on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, October 6 and 7 at 7:00 p.m. in Dow Auditorium.

All members of the student body are eligible to participate in this play as performers or as technical staff. Dr. Griffiths has requested that people interested in the technical areas of lighting, set construction and painting, costume, make-up, properties and sound engineering also appear at the tryouts so they can sign up for their particular specialty. These people will be contacted shortly after tryouts so that crew work can begin as soon as possible.

Copies of Bus Stop, by William Inge, have been placed at the reserve desk in the library and may be checked out for reading in the library. Any student can thus get an idea of what parts are available. There are roles for three women and five men.

Bus Stop is the story of eight persons forced to stay overnight, at a desolate bus depot in Kansas, because of a fierce mid-winter storm. All these people are as different from one another as one might expect of a typical cross section of a cross-country bus. At first, the relationships of these persons are strained, to say the least. The enforced company they must keep, however, produces surprising changes, sometimes humorous, sometimes pathetic. They all come to know each other and even their own selves much better by the end of their overnight experience.

Performances of the play will be November 19, 20, and 21, the week-end before the Thanksgiving break.

Prospective Debaters to Meet

Debate Coach Ken Plaxton has announced that the first meeting of prospective debaters for the coming debate season will be held Tuesday night, September 29, in LG 6-7, at 7:00 p.m. The purpose of the meeting will be to explain the debate program for the coming year to all students who may have an interest in debate. Students are encouraged to attend this meeting, or to call Mr. P. Plaxton at his office (463-2101), or home (463-5610), if they cannot attend. Attendance at this session in no way commits the student to participate in debate for the coming season.

The Scots will be out to improve on their fine 83-46 win-loss record accumulated over the past two years. In the past two seasons, the Scots have won three tournament championships, and finished second on four different occasions. With the transfer of one of the Alma varsity debaters, there will be openings in both varsity and novice and divisions this year. Tournaments are already lined up in Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois, so a large and enthusiastic squad is needed to keep Alma on the winning side.

Scots Lose Opener to Tech

Gaping holes in the Alma defense, poor protection for a rookie quarterback, and several standout individual performances for Michigan Tech were the primary reasons for Alma's 17-6 defeat at the hands of the Huskies last Saturday.

In the first half, Larry Ras of Tech dominated to such a degree that he picked up 94 of the 96 yards Tech gained during that time. He continually knifed and cut across the failing arms of would-be tacklers for gains. Despite his efforts, Tech, like Alma, could never mount a sustained drive. Both clubs stuck primarily to the ground, with Alma quarterback Jerry Wasen not even attempting a pass until the second quarter.

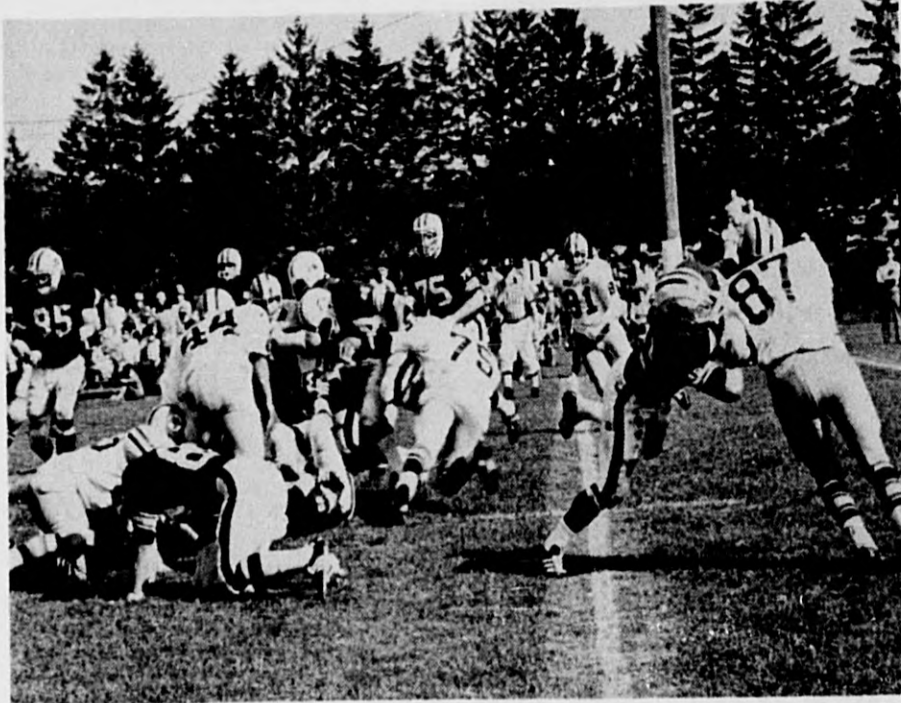

The see-saw battle continued until the closing minutes of the half when Tech managed to drive deep into Alma territory. From the Alma 38 Ras bulled 18 yds. to the 20. Starting Huskie quarterback Mike Scally then passed to the 11. With 23 seconds left Ras snakes to the 7 for a first down. However, Alma's defense stiffened, and, aided by a fine defensive maneuver by Mike MacDonald, managed to push Tech back to the 12 yard line. Ben Haller then introduced himself by booting a 30 yard field goal with 2 seconds left in the half. Haller, who replaced Scally at quarterback in the second half, was instrumental in Tech's surge in the final two quarters.

The third quarter was much like the first half; neither team could sustain a continuing attack. The only true threat occurred when Haller marched the Huskies to the Alma 10 late in the quarter. Once again the Scot defensive corps held fast and Alma regained possession.

Sophomore Haller opened the fourth quarter action for Tech by breaking Gary Nordstrom loose for 9 yards from his own 31. Eleven plays later Dave Vander Hayden dove over from the two for six points. Versatile Haller split the uprights for a 10-0 Tech lead.

Alma retaliated with a 47 yard drive which featured some fine running by fullback Jack P rince and halfback Bryon Johnson. P rince capped the effort by catapulting into the end zone at the four minute mark of the period.

With the score 10-6 Alma saw a flicker of hope but this was quickly snuffed when the young teams inexperience began to fade through. First, quarterback Wasen became confused as to whether the Scots should try a two point conversion so he decided to call timeout. Head Coach Denny Stolz was understandably doubly upset to see both a timeout wasted and then, watch the attempt for two blown for a loss when the Alma offensive line crumpled.

Alma's last chance to score went awry also due to a lack of blocking and paucity of poise. With a little over two minutes to play, Alma took control of the ball on their 13 realizing they must pass to put points on the board. Wasen, who seems capable of throwing well when he has good protection, drilled a pass to Rick Johnson on second down but it was dropped. On third down however the entire Alma problem was exemplified as three or four Huskies were allowed to stampede the rapidly retreating Wasen. Flustered, the sophomore signal-caller desperately passed the ball. Unfortunately, burly Huskie Darrell Starle picked off the weak toss and rambled to the Alma 7. A few plays later Ras, who gained 127 yards on 28 carries in all, stepped across the goal line for the score. Haller's boot was good and all that remained for Alma to do was absorb the 17-6 setback. A last ditch desperation pass was intercepted with four seconds to play.

Despite the loss, Alma can take solace in the fact that Tech was a solid opponent, capable of scoring more points than the Alma defense allowed. Also, it must be realized that members such as By Johnson and Wason were playing their first varsity games for Alma and will certainly improve with experience.

Men's Tennis Tournament Set for Oct. 1

Beginning Thursday, October 1, Alma College will host an all campus men's singles tennis tournament. All members of the campus community will be eligible to compete. If you would like to enter, please contact Jim Tarrant at the ΔΣΦ house, or Mark Alman, 114 Mitchell Hall, no later than noon pm Wednesday, September 30. There may be a slight fee to cover the cost of tennis balls. The draw and results of the tournament will be posted in Hamilton Commons and the union.

Fuzak Receives Award

John F. Fuzak of East Lansing, Alma College's three-sport star who was named recipient of a National Collegiate Athletic Association Postgraduate Scholarship earlier this week, is the third Alma scholar-athlete in the past four years to gain one of the coveted awards.

Fuzak, who lettered all four years for the Scots in football, basketball, and baseball, plans to study at the University of Indiana Law School this fall with help of the $1,000 NCAA scholarship.
