Model U.N. Solves Problems

Saturday the United Nations solved the Vietnam crisis. Also solved were the trouble spots in Rhodesia and the Middle East. More important, perhaps, the forty-three delegates to the fourth annual Alma College Model United Nations learned something about the give and take of international politics.

The climax of the day was the resolution by the Syrian delegate, in reality a refugee from Palestine and a former professor at Wayne State. His resolution was to expel Israel from the United Nations unless she agreed to a stiff set of conditions. Paul Hurwitz, working with Trudy Evans, the Israeli delegate, gave an impassioned address to the general assembly and helped defeat the resolution. The final settlement came when the United States delegate, Gregg Sutherland, the Soviet Union delegate Tom Haywood, and the Indian delegation from Lansing Community College ironed out a compromise and passed it through the General Assembly.

Yvonne Oliver, the delegate from Sweden, proposed the resolution to solve the Vietnamese problem. The proposal was to send a peace finding mission to Moscow, Washington, Hanoi Saigon and the National Liberation Front to try to establish peace. Simultaneously, there would be a bilateral cease-fire. True to the real U.S. bargaining process, the actual agreement was reached off the floor. At lunch, the Communist Bloc and the

The representative from the United States, Gregg Sutherland, examines his notes while to his right USSR and Yugoslav delegates, Steve Loree & Mase Cobb, discuss the communist side of the proposition.

Western Bloc talked to the Neutral delegates to try to drum up support for their respective views. In the end, the Swedish resolution was hashed over by both sides until agreement was reached.

The delegate from the United Kingdom, Scott Walton, proposed the solution to the Rhodesian issue. Imports and exports were to be sanctioned and financial help would be given to other nations hurt by these sanctions.

Delegates from off campus were from Wayne State University, Port Huron Community College, Lansing Community College, and Bay de Noc Community College.

Film Series Ends With Barabbas

The International Film Series completes its run for this term with the showing of BARRABAS this Sunday evening in Dow Auditorium at 8:00 o'clock.

The 1962 American film is an adaptation of Par Lagerkvist's Nobel Prize novel. The cast includes Anthony Quinn, Silvana Magnano, Jack Palance, Arthur Kennedy, Ernest Borgnine and Vittorio Gassman. Quinn has won plaudits for the sensitivity with which he portrays the title role.

Professor Dykstra notes that comments from students who have seen the film indicate a range of reactions. Some are warmly enthusiastic about it; others are not. Some feel that the story is better handled in Lagerkvist's pages; others feel that it comes off better on the screen. Of particular interest in both presentations are the characterizations which are drawn.

Individual admissions will be available at the door for 75¢ each.

Dr. Philip Griffiths, stage director for "The Boy-friend," needs a rehearsal pianist beginning now until May 4, the date of the first performance. The pianist would then perform with the actual orchestra during showtimes. Qualified persons should contact Griffiths in Old Main immediately.

Plans For Lecture Concert Series Told

From the caldron of the several committees involved has come the Lecture-Concert Series for the spring term. Some of these items will be a part of the Convocation Series.

Four concerts are now on the schedule. The Indianapolis Brass Quintet has a performance on April 30. The Chicago Symphony String Quartet will present a program on May 7. On May 8 the Erick Hawkins Dance Co. will present some of their repertoire. This group is well known in the area of modern dance, and often their numbers are unusual. They are performing this year for the National Physical Education Conference in March. During the middle of April the Midland Symphony will be on campus to perform Bizet's Opera "Pearl Divers."

Lecturers for the term include Rev. James Pike, formerly Bishop of California, William Stringfellow, Carl F. H. Henry and William Fairbank.

Pike started his career as a lawyer and after his conversion studied at Union Theological Seminary and Columbia University. He has held the position of bishop within the Episcopal Church. Recently he resigned this position and is now on the staff of the "Center for Study of Democratic Institutions" in California. He has become a controversial figure within Protestant ranks because of his Christianity's most persuasive critics from within." Leaving behind his middle class existence he has brought Christ into the teeming throng of Harlem. He is a critic of where attempts to relieve racial poverty go wrong and offers an impassioned and intelligent appraisal of the outspoken questioning of historical Christian doctrines. He will be speaking on April 9 at the Chapel service.

A week later William Stringfellow will be the Chapel speaker. He is an attorney, author, lecturer and lay theologian. Time magazine has called him "one of churches' role in the racial crisis."

ORCHESTRAL CONCERT TONIGHT!!!

Campus Flick

The movie scheduled for this week-end in Dow is "Mutiny on the Bounty" starring Charles Laughton and Clark Gable. The Bounty, a British warship, sails from London to the South Seas under the command of Captain Bligh (Laughton), a symbol of vicious naval discipline, accompanied by Christian (Gable), executive officer, steeped in the tradition of Britain's seapower. The crew, ex-convicts and men from the slums, mutiny and set Bligh and a group of his followers adrift in a small boat to make their epic ocean crossing of thousands of miles.

Scheduled for May 21 is Carl F. H. Henry, editor of CHRISTIANITY TODAY. Prior to this position he worked on the New York Times and Herald Tribune. As a lecturer at colleges and universities, author and editor of over twenty books, winner of Freedom's Foundation award medals, the main thrust of his concern is "God and Man in the Twentieth Century."

Along a different line is the speaker of May 24, William Fairbanks, who is considered one of the world's leading low temperature physicists. He has given the Reichtmyer Address to the combined annual meeting of the American Physical Society and the American Association of Physics Teachers for three separate years. At present he is in the process of preparing an experiment which would serve as a test of Einstein's General Theory of Relativity.

Within this pot of boiling substances there is surely a wealth of entertaining and interesting programs for the students and faculty of Alma College to attend.

Students Apply For Scholarships

Annual application for scholarships and loans is required of all students if they are in need of new or continued assistance.

If a student is in need of financial assistance next year a scholarship and/or loan application must be submitted to the Student Financial Aid Office by Monday, April 3, 1967. A CSE Parents' Confidential Statement or the Married Student Confidential Statement must also be submitted with applications, unless a Financial Statement was submitted within the past year.

Applications will be reviewed and tentative awards (contingent on third term grades) will be announced after May 1, 1967. The awards of scholarships are dependent upon academic achievement. The amount of the stipend attached to the award is based on the financial need of the applicant. Student's who are uncertain of their eligibility for financial assistance are still urged to consult with the Director of Student Financial Aid.

Work applications (available at the Student Financial Aid Office) are now being accepted for the 1967-68 academic year. A student will be expected to work not more than 10 to 15 hours per week, or not more than 60 hours per pay-period in any one job or combination of jobs. This also includes Saga Food Service. The job is part of one's financial assistance from Alma College and one is expected to apply his earnings toward his unpaid college account.

The above-mentioned forms are all available at the Student Financial Aid Office.

Dining System Solution Proposed For Future

During this term a committee, under the auspices of the Student Council, has been co-operating with Saga Food's and the administration to help iron out difficulties arising from the building of the new cafeteria. The major issue raised so far has been who will eat at the new cafeteria and when they will eat. The food committee has worked out a tentative plan which they feel will solve the problem.

Every student will eat in the new cafeteria two of three terms next year. Sometime next term every student will have the opportunity to fill out a preference card saying which two terms they would like to eat in the new cafeteria. On the card the student will also tell what class he/she will be in next year. The cards will be tabulated and hopefully there will be a fairly even split between classes and terms. If the split isn't too great, incoming freshmen will be placed to fill vacant openings. If there is a preponderance in numbers or classes in one particular term, students will arbitrarily be placed elsewhere. Ideally there will be an equal percentage of each class in each cafeteria for every term. No doubt adjustments will have to be made and final details worked out, but hopefully the problems won't

SNCC Board Member Plans To Speak Sunday Morning On Civil Rights Frontier

The guest speaker at the Chapel service this Sunday will be Mr. George E. Riddick, formerly co-chairman of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee in Chicago, and now a member of its Executive Board and who also serves as the Associate Executive Secretary in the Church Federation of Greater Chicago. Mr. Riddick has a record of dynamic and militant leadership in the Negro Community of Chicago and will be speaking in the Chapel on the general theme of the frontier in the Civil Rights Movement today.

At the close of this term the honorable ladies of Vreeland and Skinner houses will have to vacate their residences to make way for a growing Alma College. The news of their up-rooting is not new to them, indeed, it has been anticipated for two terms, but it does present some disturbing problems.

With the exception of four of the fourteen residents they will move back into Gelston and Newberry Halls. Nine of them will be in the cramped quarters of Newberry basement.

Living in small housing accustoms one to certain freedoms and privileges. Among these are the cheerful absence of "per," sign-out sheets, quiet hours, room inspections, late minutes and the other frustrating aspects of dorm living.

We recognize, and are sympathetic with, the administration's embarrassing position in this matter. There simply is no other place which will accommodate the small housing residents, but there are some considerations which may have been overlooked.

Last year the Ad Hoc final report recommended the increase in a diversity of campus housing. This year an Ad Hoc committee is considering an honor system for the dorm under construction. These are changes which are usually operated on an experimental basis before a full-scale launching.

We recommend that in consideration of the special circumstances of these girls and of the desirability of experimenting with a dormitory honor system that they be permitted to maintain the privileges which they enjoyed in small housing. This would not only be an action in fairness to the Vreeland and Skinner occupants, but it could provide the college with a basis for evaluating the probable success of a "key system" operating in the dorm.

Sugar and Spy and Everything Nice

Mase Cobb

The issue of CIA infiltration of campus organizations has caused paranoid concern among the students for their freedom. This reporter, in a private conversation, unearthed a few pertinent facts for the edification of the student body.

"Sir, is it true the CIA sent you to infiltrate the administration of Alma College?"

"No, that is not so. The administration sent me to infiltrate the CIA."

"And for what purpose?"

"Why, to learn intelligence techniques of course."

"What did you learn?"

"How to make student personal file forms, mainly."

"What good is that?"

"It saves tax dollars. The people who endow Alma College have to pay taxes. Some of these taxes go to support CIA infiltration of student organizations so they do not get out of hand. If the campus can do its own infiltrating it saves tax dollars and the school gets more endowments. It's sort of a Free Enterprise system."

"How did you learn to keep tabs on 1150 students?"

"Simple. You screen R.A. candidates and make it part of their job to report suspected offenses, such as drinking in the dorm or leaving an iron on the ironing board. Some of our sources are even good enough to report a girl wearing slacks to class, her hair length and her use of cuss words. But if you never tell a student what is going on his record, he never really knows what he can be confronted with."

"Doesn't this add to the administration - student communication gap?"

"Not if the students are afraid. The important thing is that no one rocks the boat. Look at U. of M. and Berkley - you call that healthy?"

"But Alma isn't like those places."

"See? It works."

Saga Gets Jolly; Waiters Acquitted

by Jolly Conine

The slightly stale and completely flavorless piece of cake you ate this noon at lunch was very likely the same piece which stood fresh and slightly flavorful, just out of reach three nights ago. At that time you asked your waiter if you could have seconds on dessert. The answer, of course, was "no" because that would not leave enough for the 6:15 meal shift. So, with a lean and hungry look in your sunken eyes, you asked in behalf of your table for more baked ham.

The waiter returned bearing an enormous platter with four half slices of thin pink meat. These were greedily snatched up and devoured before the platter reached your side of the table. In resignation you ate the remaining parsley leaf and waited until today when you could have "Potage de ham leftovers sans parsley."

In a fit of bad taste, born of acute hunger, the manners of your dining companions became shamelessly rude. The waiter was asked to make innumerable trips to the kitchen, was taunted because of the paltry menu, and was left with an abominably messy table.

After a harrassing hour on his feet the waiter returned to the kitchen to ask why "seconds" have to be so scanty and why his table was denied another round of dessert. Understand that his tone was just slightly contemptible because of his recent experience.

As the ham was chopped into tomorrow's "Mystery Meat Hot Dish" and the cake was shoved to the rear of the refrigerator the answer was snapped back. "We work on a budget! We can afford no waste! Make another trip if they need more ham. And TWO desserts? Boy, do you know anything about cholesterol counts?"

In exhaustion, due to 27 trips between kitchen and table, the waiter dropped to the floor. A few feet from the commons two formerly husky athletes dropped from starvation. It served them right, though. They were an uncouth couple of guys.

At the end of the term there was a marked decrease in the campus over all grade-point average. A thorough Ad Hoc study revealed that "meal-time tension" was responsible for the academic slide as well as for a few ulcers.

Saga Foods, in a diligent concern for student well-being, began to pipe sweet music into the commons at supper-time. It had to be pretty loud to be heard above the groans of hunger and the requests for more baked ham, but it worked pretty well. This became known as the Music-to-Munch-by Program.

Everything is in ship-shape now. A survey was distributed to students to rate the food service. It appeared, coincidentally of course, the day after a gala banquet celebrating the Roaring Twenties. The results were sent to California to be processed, and if anything is wrong we'll surely hear about it.

Choir to Sing

ALMA - A nine-day, six-state tour by Alma College's A Cappella Choir begins Saturday, March 18.

On Monday, March 20, the choir will sing at an assembly in Niagara Falls - Wheatfield (N.Y.) High School. That evening it will present a concert in Irondequoit Presbyterian Church in suburban Rochester.

Traveling to Massachusetts on Tuesday, March 21, the choir will sing that evening in the First Congregational Church in Amherst. On Wednesday it will present an assembly program at Auburn High School and an evening concert at the Congregational Church in Exeter, N. H.

An assembly program in Weathersfield (Conn.) High School will be given by the Alma choir on Thursday, March 23. The First Presbyterian Church of Moorestown, N.J. will be the scene of an evening concert on Friday.

The choir will travel to Cleveland on Saturday and will sing at the Easter Sunday morning service of First Presbyterian Church in Tiffin, Ohio.

Berry Speaks At Knoxville

ALMA-The Rev. Cornelius O. Berry, Alma College chaplain, is the Religious Emphasis Week speaker at Knoxville College in Knoxville, Tenn., this week (Feb. 27 - March 2).

With the general theme "Living the Christian Life in the Modern World," Dr. Berry will speak at four services on the Knoxville campus.

The Rev. Berry came to Alma College in 1965 from Philadelphia where he served as secretary for adult education on the staff of the Board of Christian Education of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

He has served as pastor at East Harlem Protestant Parish, St. Albans Presbyterian Church in New York City, and Mt. Carmel Presbyterian Church in Newark, N.J.

He is a graduate of City College of New York and holds the bachelor of divinity degree from Union Seminary.

Debaters Attend Honorary at UM

Last weekend Messrs Gregory Jackson and Paul Jensen, with Professor Robert Smith of the Department of Speech and Theatre, attended a dinner at the University of Michigan Union sponsored by the Association of College Honor Societies at their annual conclave. Delta Sigma Rho - Tau Kappa Alpha, national forensics fraternity of which Alma has had a chapter for over a quarter of a century, hosted the three men.

The forensic fraternity in which both Jensen and Smith hold memberships, is one of over forty honor societies in all college disciplines whose purpose is to foster excellence in their respective fields, as well as recognize students who in fact have achieved a superior level of ability.

Connie Crowned Queen; Delt Sigs Retain Crown

By Becky Sobel

Everyone looked forward to a thrilling and fun-filled weekend and this year's Snow Carnival weekend fulfilled this hope! Queen Connie Bringham was crowned at 12:30 her closest rival being Tonya and reigned over the rest of the festivities.

The trophies were presented to the Delt Sigs and Newberry Hall for their outstanding skill and originality. "The Power Company" who provided the Nightclub with its entertainment was a complete success as was the Nightclub itself. The weekend wouldn't have been possible without the help of all those concerned with Snow Carnival. All in all Snow Carnival more than lived up to its expectations.

Queen of Snow Carnival 1967 was Connie Bringham who holds this lip-licking youngster in her arms.

Mourning Daddy's demise are Mickey Mouse and Pluto, Delt Sig first place creations. Below is Snow White which won first place for Newberry Hall in the Snow Carnival competition.

The "Power Company" provides the beat at the Snow Carnival nightclub on Saturday night.

TKE's Talk of Triumphs

The fraters of Tau Kappa Epsilon are pleased to announce the pinning of Kathy Richards, a member of the Alpha Sigma Tau sorority, to Bob Hadley. We also congratulate the 1967 Snow Carnival queen, Connie Bringham, her court, and all others who contributed to the success of this annual event. Tyler Board truly deserves honorable recognition for their work. In addition congratulations are in order to Alma's four sororities upon welcoming their fine new pledge classes. The quality of their pledges is indeed representative of the calibre of all Alma's Greeks.

Coming soon, the Saturday night of March 11th to be exact, Tau Kappa Epsilon will be sponsoring their annual "TKE on the Town," this year's theme being "Discoteke." A good time is inevitable as in past years.

Griffiths Names "Boyfriend" Cast Chadwick and Seeley Play Leads

Jan Anderson
The cast for "The Boyfriend," the spring term play, has been announced by director Dr. Phillip Griffiths of the Speech and Theatre department. "The Boyfriend," a musical comedy, will be presented in Dow Auditorium on May 4, 5 and 6. As Alma's first musical in several years, "The Boyfriend" will involve coordination between music, theatre and H.P.E. departments. Dr. Earnest Sullivan of the music department will direct the choral music while Mr. James Upton also of the music department will head the orchestration. Besides Griffiths, who will function as the stage director, Miss Maxine Hayden of the physical education department will be in charge of choreography.

Playing the male and female lead parts of Polly and Tony are Nancy Seeley and Curt Chadwick. Miss Seeley is a freshman from Lincoln Park while Chadwick is a junior transfer student from Grand Rapids Junior College. His home is Saranac.

June Glencross, a sophomore from Abington, Mass., will play Madame Dubonnet. Percival

Brown or Polly's father will be acted by Keith Pohlya sophomore from Fraser, Michigan. Dana Graham, a freshman from Rolling Hills Estates, California, and Linda MacCallum, a freshman from Grosse Pointe Woods, will take the parts of Lord and Lady Brockhurst.

Polly's female classmates are Maisie, Barbara Walrond, Kokomo, Indiana, sophomore; Dulcie, Debbie Draper, Davison freshman; Fay, Janet Todd, freshman from Bad Axe; and Nancy, who will be played by Nancy Burton, a junior from Connersville, Indiana.

The boyfriend's playing opposite Polly's friends are Bobby Van Husen, Randy Hopkins, Sturgis senior; Marcel, played by David McKee, Grosse Pointe Farms junior; Pierre, Stephan White, a junior from Detroit; and Alphonse, played by Kent, Ohio freshman Michael Garn.

Lancers for "The Boyfriend" will include Ben Mills, Bloomfield Hills sophomore, and Marianne Mauch, a junior from East Lansing.

McConnell, Pontiac freshman, are cast as singers. Hortense, a French maid, will be played by Sandra Pfister, a Lathrup Village freshman.

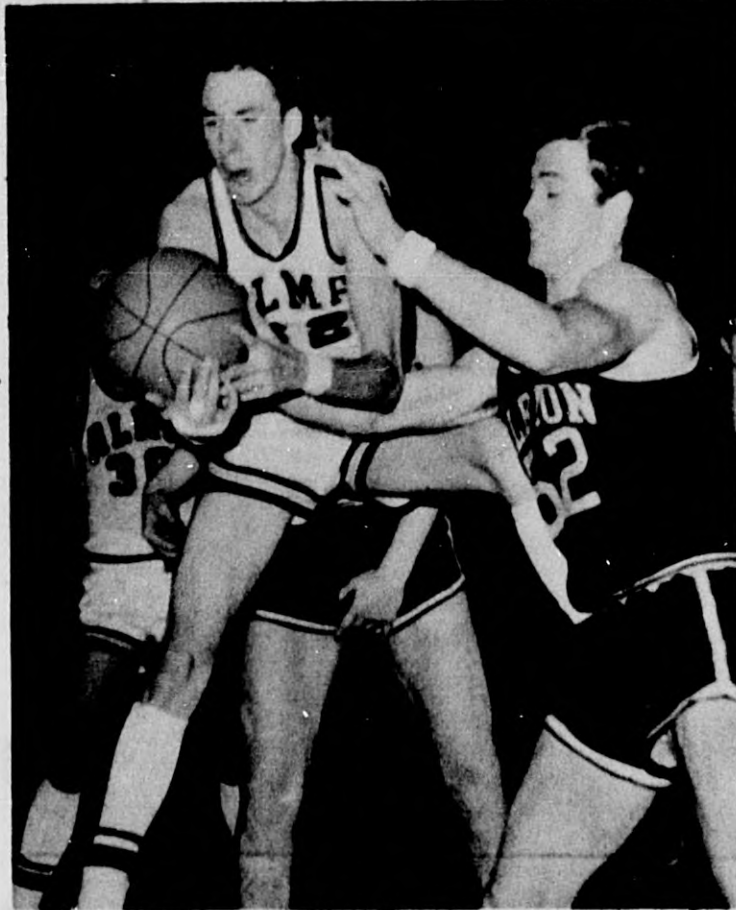

"The Boyfriend" revolves around the love of Polly and Tony. Polly, who is a poor little rich girl, seeks love for herself and not her money, a situation causing complications in the play. The story takes place in France at a finishing school attended by English girls. The action occurs in the twenties and captures the popular belief in the excesses of that era. Music, dance and costumes all contribute to create this atmosphere.

According to Griffiths stage rehearsals will last for six weeks beginning March 27th.

Any student or faculty interested in singing a concert version of the opera "The Pearl Divers" by Bizet with the Midland Symphony Orchestra please contact Dr. Sullivan. Rehearsals will be held in the Chapel, from 7-9 on Tuesday evenings. Sopranos, tenors and basses are needed.

Alma Bows to Albion; Scots Downed By 7

Alma dropped their ninth MIAA contest against two victories when they bowed to Albion, 79 - 72, before a Phillip's Gymnasium crowd. The Scots were continuously fighting an uphill battle as they fell behind early in the ball game. The Britons led by a narrow one-point, 33 - 32, margin at intermission, but outscored their opponents 23 - 14 in the third quarter. Although the Scots closed the gap to three points late in the fourth quarter, they were unable to overcome Albion's offensive production.

The expression on John Toland's face reflects the attitude of the Scot Cagers in their recent battle with Albion. The determined team lost the contest to Albion 79 - 72.

Alma exhibited a balanced scoring attack, with four men hitting double figures. Freshman John Fuzak was high with 20 tallies, including nine of 17 from the floor. Recently re-activated Sophomore John Toland followed with seven of 12 for 18 points. Toland played well, grabbing seven rebounds and hitting four of five free throws. Gordon Hetrick and Al Vandermeer supplied the remainder of the offensive punch, garnering 17 and 15 respectively. Vandermeer led Alma's rebounders with 13. Mike Wilson's 24 points was high for the Britons.

Alma found themselves at a distinct height disadvantage when they succumbed to Eastern Michigan's "Giants", 99 - 64, at Phillip's Gymnasium. Sporting a lineup which included two 6'5" "monsters", two 6'3" 's, and a 6'2" guard, the Hurons cake-walked to victory. Tuggle Bowers, a 6'5" 215 pound Sophomore from Birmingham, Alabama, scored twenty first-half points and finished with the game's high of 26.

Alma led in the early stages of the contest 5 - 2, but from there it was all Eastern. The Scots trailed at intermission 47 - 31, and were outscored in the third period, 25 - 8.

Gordon Hetrick again paced Alma with 22 markers. John Fuzak also performed well, scoring 14 points including ten of eleven from the foul line, and snatching 10 rebounds. Al Vandermeer added ten tallies and led the rebounding with 13 grabs.

First Sign of Spring: Warm Sports Fire Up

JIM MCCARTY

Although the Alma College campus is currently covered with nature's whiteness and the annual snow-carnival is but six days in the past, athletic thoughts and aspirations have, in the waning moments of a long basketball season, definitely turned toward the spring sports of baseball, track, golf and tennis. With the first day of spring only 18 days away, chances are that pre-April workouts will be performed within the limited confines of the free-from-nature Memorial Gymnasium.

BASEBALL

The 1967 baseball prospects are GOOD! With 12 returning lettermen from last year's third place MIAA squad, Coach Charlie Skinner believes that Alma's diamond ensemblage is definitely a championship contender. In Senior team-captain and the preceding year's infield sparkplug, Paul Portney, Alma has an all MIAA second baseman. An estimated fifty candidates turned out for the initial March 1 practice, all gunning for a starting assignment and a berth on the Southern trip.

The team will head south Sunday morning, March 19, and will play, weather permitting, a March 20 encounter with Belmont College in Nashville, Tennessee. From there, the Scots will travel to Georgia where they will lock horns for two days with Georgia Southern.

TRACK

Alma's 1967 track squad hopes to improve on last year's fifth place MIAA performance. With Hope, the defending champs, and Albion predicted to fight it out for the top-notch, a realistic approach has Alma designated as a conceivable third place finisher.

Coach Dennis Stolz plans to obtain strength from three sources. Basketball and football personnel as well as track specialists, are being counted on to supply the needed depth. Expected to provide the essential experience include veterans Tif Mckee, Fred Calkins, Jim Ogg, Dennis Bongard, Tom Fegley, and Curt Chadwick. First year men who are instrumental in Alma's aspirations are Tom Jakovac, Mike Mitchell, Dale Dillingham, Chris VanSickle and Dana Graham.

GOLF

Although Albion College is hailed as the title choice, Alma's golf team is definitely considered a contender. Coach Art Smith states that "there are no weak teams in the MIAA. The league is better balanced than ever before."

With three returning lettermen is Denton Nelson, Jerry Knowlton and Dave Blanden, Alma has a fine nucleus of valuable experience. In addition, Alma's attack will be strengthened by the eligibility of the already proven Steve Braun. Also slated to make the spring trip are John Becker, a transfer student, and freshman Jim Goodrich from Ithaca.

The team hopes to head south early Saturday morning, March 18, in order to participate in a match with St. Leo's College in Dade City, Florida on Sunday and Monday.

TENNIS

A reasonably high MIAA position is the goal of Alma's 1967 tennis team. Coach Joe Walser hopes that the Scots can improve on the preceding year's fifth-place finish, Kalamazoo is, as always, the choice to win. The Hornets have been MIAA tennis champions every year since 1939! Expected to supply competition are the Dutchmen of Hope College.

Alma has six returning lettermen in Tim Lozen, Marc Sylvester, Ron Sexton, Fred Purdy, Bill Nichols and Dave Yankee. Expected to furnish first-year skill are Paul Croom and Bill Lievense.

Lassie Cagers

February 23, 1967, the Women's Basketball Team lost to Kalamazoo. The tired wearied Lassies had fumbled as Kazoo outpassed, outmaneuvered and outshot them 39 to 28. In a well refereed tight game the Lassies committed 22 fouls with 11 of the shots being made to make the 11 point difference.

This week the Lassies end the season by playing two away games at Olivet and Delta.
