STOLZS RESIGNS, BROOKS NAMED AS HEAD FOOTBALL COACH

Philip L. Brooks, East Lansing High School coach, has been named assistant professor of physical education and head football coach at Alma College. He replaces Dennis Stolz who resigned last month to become defensive coordinator in the Michigan State University grid program.

It will be difficult for Brooks to follow the success Stolz enjoyed at Alma. In his six seasons, Stolz directed teams that won 35 games and lost only 15 and won three MIAA championships. His 1967-68 squads compiled undefeated campaigns, the only time in Alma's history that back-to-back seasons have been put together. The Scots record last seasons was 5-3 overall and 4-1 in league play.

Brooks, however, has been extremely successful. He has a career coaching record of 66 victories, 22 losses, and four ties. His East Lansing team won the South Central championship last season with a 4-0-1 record.

From 1963 until 1969, Brooks coached at Lansing Gabriels High School and compiled a 38-12-2 mark. While at Gabriels, Brooks coached later Alma greats, Tom Jacovic, Ben Weeks, and Chris Clark.

Brooks holds a bachelors degree from Albion College and a masters degree from Oklahoma State University. He has also studied at Michigan State University and the University of Northern Iowa. His appointment is effective next fall.

ALMANIAN QUESTIONNAIRE

In the budget referendum for the 1971-72 student activities budgets taken at the close of last term, 156 of the voting students did not wish to renew THE ALMANIAN budget.

In an effort to find out why 36% of those students voting are dissatisfied and if others feel the same way, we are asking all members of the college community to complete the following questionnaire. We are hoping that with these questions, we will find out what this campus needs and wants with THE ALMANIAN. We are not mind readers, we must be told if there is something we are missing or covering too much. This is your chance to voice your opinions about THE ALMANIAN to people who can do something about it.

To answer, rate THE ALMANIAN'S performance in each question on a 1 to 4 scale, with 1 being the highest and 4 the lowest. Then clip out the poll and send it through campus mail to THE ALMANIAN or drop it off at THE ALMANIAN office, 412 Maple Ave., by Friday, April 9. Your name is, of course, optional. Do you want to see changes in THE ALMANIAN? Let us know!

FRESHMEN WOMEN WIN HOURS FIGHT

Alma College Freshmen Women will have unrestricted hours starting April 9, providing certain provisions are met, according to Dr. Robert Swanson, President of Alma College. This decision is the result of action that had been pending since the fourth of March when Student Council turned down the hours recommendation from Executive Council. As a result of Student Council's negative action, the final decision concerning hours for Freshmen was placed in the hands of the President.

Former Prime Minister Of Hungary To Speak

Dr. Ferenc Nagy, former Prime Minister of Hungary, will be the next speaker in the Alma College Lecture-Fine Arts Series on Tuesday, April 6, at 8:00 in Dunning Memorial Chapel. His topic will be "Communism and World Revolution."

Dr. Nagy was active in Hungarian politics from 1942 to his exile by the Communists in 1947. During those years he was founder and President of the Independent Smallholder Party and founder and President of the Hungarian Peasants' Association.

In 1944 he was imprisoned by the Gestapo but was freed at the end of the war and appointed minister of Reconstruction in the new free government. Later that same year he became President of the National Assembly and served as Prime Minister during 1946-47. As Prime Minister he participated in the Paris Peace Conference and had frequent official meetings with Premier Stalin, President Truman, and Prime Ministers Attlee and Bid-

KIMBALL RECOVERING

Dr. John Kimball, Alma College's Vice President for Administrative Services and second in line to President Swanson, is in Gratiot County Community Hospital recovering from "major surgery," according to Mrs. John Kimball his wife. Dr. Kimball underwent surgery on Friday, March 26.

Mrs. Kimball reports that Dr. Kimball is "coming along pretty well." She expects that today will be the first day that he will be able to receive visitors outside of the immediate family.

Unofficial estimates as to Dr. Kimball's return to the campus range upward from five to six weeks.

Dr. Swanson, who had been absent from campus during most of the preliminary action, met with Paul VanValkenberg, President of Student Council; Helen Bendel, Chairman Student Affairs Committee; Sandy Johnson, Gary Morrison, and others last Wednesday for a lunch meeting. At that time the President sought views on the Freshmen hours issue. Miss Bendel described the meeting as "very open and productive."

Following that meeting the President met with Mr. Plough, Dean of Students, to "seek his views" on the subject. At that time the President proposed a change in the hours system to the Dean. The Dean was then asked to take this proposed change to Dr. Rentz, Dean of Women, and Mr. Southern, Dean of Men, to seek their views of the workability of Dr. Swanson's proposed change. The meeting with Dean Plough concluded approximately at 3:00p.m.

A.C. Peace Group Organizes Trip

by Ruth Visscher

The National Peace Action Coalition is an organization which is sponsoring a number of events in an attempt to bring about peace in Indochina, one of which is the March on Washington, April 24. This organization is not exclusive to college students; other groups, such as women's clubs, church organizations, etc., are also a part of the movement. Its purpose is two-fold: to work towards the immediate withdrawal from Vietnam of all American troops - including military advisors, etc., as well as servicemen, and to end the Draft. The feeling is that if men were not forced to participate in the war, the war would not be possible, since very few men would volunteer to kill. The Draft expires

OPEN DORM: WHY CLOSE IT EARLY?

The Alma College open dorm program has been a rather progressive "experiment" during the last three years. Seniors only have to look back on their Freshman year's open dorm "privileges", which consisted of four hours once every two weeks on Sunday afternoon, to realize how far Alma College has come. We call this expanded open dorm program an "experiment" because we know that there are still some people who are not sure of the success of this program.

There have been countless surveys and other such data gathering devices to determine the value and productiveness of the open dorm program in a favorable light, and as evidence for this we offer that each year for the past three the open dorm program has been expanded.

It is for these reasons we cannot understand why the open dorm program is closed a few days prior to the conclusion of each term and reopened a few days to a few weeks after the opening of each term. The usual reason given for these premature closings is the "lack of R.A. coverage."

It was in the past that the open dorm would close early because the switchboards were not open to distribute "tags". However, since this tag system is no longer in effect in most, if not all the dorms, this reason is no longer valid. It seems to us, then, except for this reason of R.A. coverage open dorm should continue until the dorm officially closes and begin when the dorm officially opens.

Why is "R.A. coverage" necessary? For what are the R.A.'s supposedly watching? Is it felt that men will "take advantage" of women when the R.A. is not around? We do not think that anyone has the answers to these questions! Somewhere, sometime, it has been fixed in someones mind that open dorm must have R.A. coverage. Why continue something for which there is no good reason for doing so? We do not know.

Consequently, we recommend a dorm activity which will start at the official opening of the dorm and continue through to the official close of the dorm. This could include, of course, vacation periods such as mid-winter break when the dorm is still officially open. We resent the implications that ans R.A. must be present to supervise our activities during the open dorm periods.

"Drinking Habits"

I don't ordinarily drink very much or very often. Once in awhile, though, I'll have an occasional Scotch, an occasional beer, an occasional Brandy Alexander, an occasional Manhattan, an occasional Whiskey Sour, an occasional glass of wine, an occasional Margarita, an occasional Screwdriver, an occasional mug of malt liquor, an occasional Daiquiri, an occasional Zombi, and an occasional hang-over.

I know very little about the drinking habits of other people -- only about my own. I find myself drinking when I'm very tired or very awake, very sad or very happy, very panic-stricken or very relaxed -- which isn't very often because with all my occasionals, I'm usually very catatonic.

But I'm interested in other people's drinking habits because, although drinking in itself isn't very important, I think it's indicative of many things; people drink for reasons that are reflections on our society (e.g. the social drinker, the alcoholic), and often it's just another way of avoiding reality in tumultuous times.

So I decided to find out the drinking tastes of students around the country -- what they're drinking and why they're drinking it. What could have been just an arduous task became an interesting one because -- as I called around the nation asking students at different colleges what they drink -- every time they mentioned the favorite drink of their region, I would try some. For research purposes, of course.

I first talked with a girl who lives in Washington, D.C., where, she said, she knows students from George Washington University, Georgetown and Howard, three colleges in the area.

"People here", she said, "are fairly conservative drinkers. They drink Scotch or bourbon", she said as I mixed myself a little Scotch and water in one glass and a bit of bourbon and water in another.

"There's hardly any beer drinking here", she said, "because liquor's relatively cheap compared to other parts of the country--and beer's not so cheap." She added that not many students seem to be drinking wine because people here just don't savor the wine flavor."

"There's an emphasis on drinking hard liquor because of the heavy pressures on sophistication -- and there's something less sophisticated about beer", she said. Thanking her, I downed my Scotch and bourbon and made my next call to Oshkosh, Wisconsin, where I talked with an art major at Wisconsin State University there.

"Beer is the biggest thing here because it's the cheapest -- and because 18-year olds can drink beer in Wisconsin", he said as I poured myself a tall glass of beer.

He said that many marijuana smokers drink during and after smoking. "It's sort of a new fad, I guess. People like to taste something sweet after smoking -- you know, they're hungry for something that tastes good", he said.

"There's a new phenomenon here -- apple wine -- 85¢ a quart. Everyone drinks it. It's cheap and -- well, it's pretty good."

Signing off from Oshkosh, I finished my beer and started in on my apple wine.

When I returned from the bathroom, I placed a call to Colorado where I talked with a girl who attends Denver University.

"Definitely beer and wine she said. There's no doubt about it. Beer and wine. Definitely."

I asked her to hold on as I poured myself two glasses of definitely beer and wine. "Well", she said, "I guess sometimes students drink those exotic types of drinks -- tequilas and Margaritas -- but for the most part, they definitely drink --"

Beer and wine. Definitely. The tequila and the Margarita went down smoothly as the operator placed my call to Albuquerque where I talked with a guy from the University of New Mexico and asked him what people drink there, getting ready to pour myself a glass of whatever it was.

FRANKLY SPEAKING

by Phil Frank

"People here drink what's cheapest", he said. "So they drink beer and wine." "Please", I said. "No."

"No?" "I just can't handle another glass of beer and wine. Don't they drink anything else?"

"Well", he said pausing, "some students do drink apple wine. . ."

"Beer and wine will do just fine. Thank you", I said as I hung up and had another glass of beer and wine -- this time mixing them to get it over quicker.

My next call was to Theodore Hamm Company in St. Paul because I had heard that they're coming out with a new drink, an alcoholic beverage somewhere between a malt liquor and wine that comes in a slightly tart or slightly sweet flavor.

"It's a new kind of drink", the man told me, "unlike anything you might be drinking now."

"How did you know I was drinking now?" I gurgled into the phone. "What's it called?"

"It's called Right Time." I poured myself some and drank it quickly.

"How nice of Hamm's to name a product after my column", I said as I collapsed to the floor, mumbling something about student drinking habits.

***** I don't remember much about my other calls except when I finally awoke a few days later, I found a lot of half-finished glasses of wine, beer, Screwdrivers, Scotch, Coolers, Black Russians and -- oh, yes, apple wine.

As informal as my drinking survey was, I did discover a number of things. Although pot, as I had expected, is prevalent on college campuses, students are still drinking.

Swanson Asks All to Stay off the Grass

"Spring has sprung, the grass has riz, I wonder where the flowers is?"

This is lousy poetry, perhaps even poor doggerel. Hopefully, however, it not only expresses our fervent wish for the coming of springtime, after having endured another Michigan winter, but also reminds us of one of our perennial problems.

Our grounds crew is beginning the annual campus cleanup. One of our major objectives is to restore the lawns as quickly as possible. This has always been very difficult to achieve when members of the campus community cut across the lawns rather than use the sidewalks, or engage in recreational activity on the lawns before they are ready.

Consider this memorandum a plea to all of you who are in positions of responsibility and in contact with members of the campus community to urge thoughtfulness and cooperation during the coming weeks.

We dislike having to resort to temporary fences and "Keep off the Grass" signs. Often, they are more ugly than the paths we create.

In the very best sense of the word, this is an environmental problem. If we are concerned about our environment as we say we are, perhaps a good place to begin is at home!

Hopefully, we will be concerned about the appearance of the campus, and have the cooperation of all members of the college community, as we try to restore our lawns and flower beds.

We will appreciate your cooperation and your leadership in this matter.

Babcock Challenged At

Communications Committee

John Babcock, Editor-in-Chief of the SCOTSMAN, has revealed that plans for this year's yearbook discarded the traditional senior picture section and all for-campus organizations' photographs. Joseph Walser, Senior Class Advisor, Jann Hoejke came before the Communications Committee Friday April 2 to report senior reactions they had received concerning the 1971 SCOTSMAN.

Along with reports of "numerous" seniors who were unhappy with the idea of a yearbook exclusively of candid shots, Dr. Walser brought petitions with him containing some 200 signatures (40% of which were seniors) opposing such a yearbook. The SCOTSMAN staff decision to implement such a change had been due in part, Babcock reported, to the low response from the seniors in turning in their pictures. Dr. Walser commented that he felt the SCOTSMAN had not put forth sufficient effort to obtain these pictures. Babcock also acknowledged that due to the contract the SCOTSMAN has with the yearbook publisher there would be only a minimal amount of writing in the book. As a result, there would be no picture captions in the student index.

Dr. Babcock indicated the last deadline for the SCOTSMAN is not until June. There is a possibility that group senior pictures could be included. A subcommittee, comprised of Dr. Walser, Jann Hoejke, Babcock and Louis R. Miner, Advisor to the SCOTSMAN, was formed to study the possibility of including organizational and individual pictures in the yearbook. They are to report back to the Communications Committee Friday, April 9 with their decision.

Shaklee, Nelsen Nominated

for Barlow Trophy

Harriet Shaklee and Larry Nelsen are the Class of 1971's candidates for the Barlow Trophy, says Dr. Wegner Chairman of the Barlow Trophy Nominating Committee.

Dr. Wegner reported that the reason there are only two candidates in place of traditional three is that there was another student who's qualifications were near these two.

The final decision for the Barlow Trophy will be made by the Faculty and the Student Council in secret balloting tonight. The results will be made public at the Honors Convocation.

Other members of the Barlow Trophy Nominating Committee are Dr. Hall, Dr. Walser, Dr. Kolb, Mr. Miner, Mr. Slater, Koller, Sue Buchan, Charles Cook, Keever, Steve List, Al Otis and Andy Sischo.

Inter-departmental Major Requirements Clarified

by Educational Policies Committee

In a special two hour session the Educational Policy Committee amended and passed a proposal for inter- and non-departmental Majors. This proposal had been tabled since May 18, 1970.

Executive Council

The Executive Council met in its usual monthly meeting last Wednesday. Dr. Swanson, President of Alma College, who has just returned from an extended trip through the southern states, chaired the meeting.

The President reported to Executive Council that he had just met with a number of interested students in one meeting and Dean Plough in another, concerning the Freshmen Women's hours issue. He reported that at that time a decision had not been reached but a decision should be expected later that evening. No further discussion took place on that issue.

Paul VanValkenberg, representing Student Council, asked Executive Council to recommend to the faculty the elimination of Campus Day and replace it with a study day. A motion was made and it was passed.

The Educational Policy Committee reported on proposed class changes, Inter-departmental Majors, and the Center for Policy Studies. The Center for Policy Studies (formally the Institute for the Study of the Future) is a new program. It was originally proposed by Rev. Jack Harrison, a member of the Alma College Board of Trustees. The discussion of this program should take up a good deal at the upcoming Faculty meeting tonight at 7:00p.m. in Dow 100.

After a report by the President on Academic Garb the meeting was adjourned.

Tuesday, Wednesday

Remain For

Rush Sign-Up

The 1971 Spring rush list will be in Tyler and can be signed at the following times only:

Tuesday, April 6, 1:00 - 4:00p.m.

Wednesday, April 7, 1:00 - 4:00p.m.

In order to rush, men must have a 2.00 overall grade point average for two terms at Alma. There will be a $1.00 charge to sign the rush list.

Alma is Growing

Alma College will have a student body of 1300 next year according to Dr. Kimball, Vice President for Administrative Services. Dr. Kimball announced these figures before the close of last term.

The size of next year's freshmen class will be approximately 410. An additional 50 people are expected to enroll as transfer students.

The people you choose to have considered for these positions will be spending your money, making decisions for you, changing your way of life on this campus. Each of you has just as much choice about who gets selected for these positions as anyone else does. If you feel you are qualified, or know someone who is, please get to work and give our Community Government and Communications media the best people possible.

A short note about the freshmen women's hours issue--the final decision that was made bolsters my opinion that students do have an effect on the quality of campus life, after all.

A final note--there is (still) a Student Grievance Committee on campus. Last term it was used quite a bit, but last term use fell off to almost nothing. It is hard to believe that students no longer have grievances, and this is just a reminder that the committee does exist to help students. Please address questions and/or comments to John Hull, 320 Wright.

The guidelines adopted cover only inter-departmental majors, the provision for a non-departmental major was deleted. The guidelines adopted are as follows:

1. The Departmental major which would consist of 9 units controlled by the department. Twelve upperdivision level courses would be required for graduation.

2. The double major would require 18 units of work, 9 in each of two departments; 12 upperdivision level courses again required for graduation.

3. The inter-departmental concentration: this major would require 15 units in a concentration which would be controlled by a departmentally oriented committee. It would also require 15 upper level units or work in all for the degree.

The provision for the non-departmental major which reads as follows was not passed:

4. The non-departmental concentration: This major would include 15 units controlled by a committee which would not be departmentally oriented and would require that 15 upper level units be completed for the degree.

Other business was the approval of the course changes for the Music, Religion, and Business Administration departments, these requests were sent to the Executive Council.

PEACE PROPOSALS REFERENDUM TUESDAY

There will be a referendum next Tuesday April 6th, at both commons, from 11:30-12:30. The referendum will be on the "Proposal for Peace" (printed in the March 15 ault.

Since 1947 Dr. Nagy has been a resident of the United States, spending his time in international conferences, as Chairman of the Assembly of Captive European Nations as President of the International Peasant Union, in lecturing at more than 350 colleges and universities, and in writing.

Next speaker in the Alma College Series will be the Honorable James Farmer, former Assistant Secretary of HEW, on Friday, April 16, at 8:00 p.m. in the Chapel.

There is no admission charge for either of these programs.

Baccalaureate and

Honors Convo Revised

Dr. Swanson, President of Alma College, has announced plans for Baccalaureate, Honors Convocation, and Commencement in regards to procession and the wearing of academic garb.

Baccalaureate will not be a required function this year. Seniors and Faculty will not be expected to wear academic garb and there will be no procession.

Faculty will wear academic garb and process for Honors Convocation but seniors will do neither. As a result of these changes Honors Convocations will resemble exactly in these respects Opening Convocations.

The standard procession and wearing of academic garb will continue for both Faculty and Seniors at Commencement. No changes were made in these procedures.

ALMANIAN) which Student Council has already endorsed. This is just to obtain the student body's reaction to the proposal.

Student Council endorses

'Proposals for Peace'

In action at the end of last term, Student Council voted to endorse the proposals expressed in the following. These proposals are being mailed to other Michigan private Christian colleges for their endorsement, also.

A referendum concerning student reaction will occur this Tuesday noon in both Commons. At this time, students will have the opportunity to express their feelings.

The group of students who initiated these actions will soon make themselves known to the campus. All students should carefully consider these proposals and formulate their own opinions.

PROPOSALS FOR PEACE

BY

Michigan Christian College Coalition for Peace

ARTICLE ONE

Be it known that the American and Vietnamese people are not enemies. The war is carried out in the names of the people of the United States and South Vietnam but without our consent. It destroys the land and people of Vietnam. It drains America of its resources, its youth, and its honor. In order to halt this senseless destruction of life and environment, we make the following appeals;

A. We call on the government of the United States for:

1. an immediate and total withdrawal of American military personnel from Vietnam, and declare publicly the date for completion of that withdrawal;
2. an acknowledgement of the right of the Vietnamese people to political self-determination, and a pledge to respect the results of an election in which all the South Vietnamese can participate freely without the presence of any foreign troops.

B. We call on the Vietnamese people to:

1. guarantee the safety of withdrawing United States forces;
2. establish a provisional coalition government to organize democratic elections and to respect the desires expressed by the South Vietnamese people in those countries.

C. We call on the government of the United States and the people of Vietnam to negotiate in good faith:

1. an immediate cease fire;
2. the immediate release of all prisoners of war;
3. the immediate release and extension of amnesty to all political prisoners held within Vietnam;
4. a declaration of respect for the independence, peace, and neutrality of Laos and Cambodia in accord with the 1954 and 1962 Geneva conventions, and a pledge that no further interference will be made in the internal affairs of those two countries.

ARTICLE TWO

In order to insure that the United States will pursue a policy of strict neutrality in foreign affairs, and to demonstrate to the people of the world that America is a country dedicated to the ideals of liberty, justice, equality, and world peace; we further call on the Congress of the United States to:

- A. Abolish the draft as a method of securing manpower for the Armed Forces;
- B. Enact legislation to prohibit the presence of any American military personnel in a foreign country for the purpose of participating, advising, training, or in any manner assisting in military affairs of that country, unless the Congress of the United States declares that a state of war exists.

By ratification of this document we declare our belief in the doctrines expressed herein, and commit ourselves to take whatever actions are necessary and proper to implement its objectives, consistent with the peaceful operation of the democratic system.

ASPECTS - A WEEKLY REPORT

by John Hull

As spring again, finally, and most of you are probably looking past this last term to the summer ahead. In fact, Community Government is probably the best thing from most of our minds. It seems to have survived another school year, however imperfectly, and that's all we can hope for.

Usually, spring term should be of vital importance to those with an interest in Community Government, for this is the time when Community Government positions are filled for the coming year. And, incidentally, this is the term that the ALMANIAN SCOTSMAN positions are filled, too. In most of us have a tendency to sit back and complain about how something is not running, without offering our own suggestions to those involved. Here is your chance to get involved. Say "your," not "our," for I'm not going to be here next year to live with Community Government and Communications appointments which are made this year. Approximately 80% of you will.

Fanfare Presents Peter, Paul, and Mary Documentary

Peter, Paul and Mary, the popular and lasting folk trio, perform many of the folk classics they have made famous as Fanfare presents "Peter, Paul and Mary: The Song is Love" at 7 p.m. Friday, April 16, on WMSB (Channel 10), Michigan State University television.

In the first full-length documentary on the group's career, the trio is seen appearing at college concerts, at the November 1969 Moratorium Against the War in Vietnam and at a memorial service for the late Dr. Martin Luther King in Memphis, Tenn.

Peter, Paul and Mary are known as much for their political views, as expressed in their songs, as for their unique harmony and segments of the documentary focus on the philosophies which have made them both popular and controversial.

In concerts at Berkeley, San Antonio and the University of Cincinnati, they are seen performing "The Song is Love", "When the Ship Comes In", "First Time Ever I Saw Your Face", "And When I Die", "Blowin' in the Wind", "The Great Mandala" and "If I Had a Hammer".

The singers were reluctant to have their career documented, generally preferring privacy when they are not on stage, but they yielded to the producer of the film, Fred Miller, after he convinced them that their messages deserved the widest possible airings.

Mary, who has recently made an album by herself, announced last month that the trio would continue to make records, but would not make personal appearance tours again.

The Brothers of Theta Chi are pleased to announce that the following have become little sisters of Theta Chi.

Jerry Goodman, Carolyn MacDonald, Gayle Annis, Kathy Schlames, Nancy Armstrong, Jana Lunger, Bonnie Outman, Jojo O'Leary, Lynn Wiggins, Sheila Manning, Nancy Johnson, Cindy Dean, Sue Settergren, Sara Willbee, Faith Markey, Melissa Lloyd, Emily Smith, Lynn Angror, Jackie Kusse, Lynn Coddington, Terri Husbeck, Betsy Dayrell, and Linda Boro.

The men of R.O.T.C. would like to congratulate themselves on their masterful scooping of THE ALMANIAN and would also like to congratulate their little sisters, The Turchatelli Girl Rolling Derby Team, on their recent win of 84-92. Stick with it, dolls.

The sisters of Alpha Sigma Tau would like to congratulate Jamie McLeod on her pinning to Frank Jeremy of Tau Kappa Epsilon, and Jenny Branch on her pinning to Tom Anthony of Delta Gamma Tau.

Plans are underway to begin an Alma Information Center that will open as soon as qualified individuals are trained. The center will be based along the same lines as the Open City project in Detroit and the Listening Ear in Mt. Pleasant. However, the need for qualified and interested individuals is of the first importance. Training sessions will be conducted by the Listening Ear organization and take place in the next few weeks. If you have an interest and see the obvious need for this type of Center, please contact Anne Dyer (Gelston) or Steve Falk.

The cheerleaders would like to extend congratulations and best wishes to Carol Swords on her recent engagement to Ken Kashian of Baldwin-Wallace.

A series of draft counseling sessions will begin Wednesday, April 7, and continue for the following three Tuesdays. The sessions will be held on campus in the evenings. There will be required readings. For further information and registration, please contact Stringham, 304 Mitchell. Sponsor: the Alma Center for Draft Counseling (ACDC).

ACDC also announces new hours beginning April 6; Tuesdays and Thursdays 4-5 p.m., and Mondays 7-8 p.m., balcony of Dunning Chapel.

Students interested in participating in the Freshman Orientation Committee for the fall of 1971 are invited to meet with John Mattison, Room 308 Wright, to attend an information session, Wednesday, April 7, at 7:00 p.m. in LG10.

Dean R.H. Hoisington, College of Engineering, University of Michigan, will be on the Alma campus on Tuesday, April 6, 1971 from 11-12 a.m. Any Alma student interested in talking with him about the possibility of transferring to the University of Michigan on the 3-2 engineering program are encouraged to contact the Admissions Office for an appointment.

The Doctor's File

by Jack M. Stack M.D.

(Ed. Note: The Doctor's File is written to give useful information to the Alma College Community. Any person having a medical question is encouraged to give the question to Dr. Stack. Your name need not be on the question. If you have a question send it to Dr. Stack c/o THE ALMANIAN.)

IS THERE ANY SAFE WAY TO REMOVE HAIR PERMANENTLY FROM THE UPPER LIP OR NIPPLES?

Yes, there is an electrical method of removing permanent hairs, one at a time, by destruction of the hair follicle. This method is done by only a few dermatologists in the state and can become quite expensive. Obviously one should not consider such a program of hair removal for minimal, downy hair on the face or breasts.

IS IT POSSIBLE FOR A COUPLE TO CONTRACT V.D. WHEN NEITHER OF THE TWO HAVE HAD INTERCOURSE WITH ANYONE BUT THE OTHER? CAN OTHER PROBLEMS BE CONFUSED WITH V.D. SUCH AS A RASH?

It is not possible for a couple to contract venereal disease neither syphilis or gonorrhea without sexual contact with a person who has it. This might lead on to the conclusion that one of the best methods of prevention of venereal disease would be sexual fidelity. Venereal disease is endemic in our society at the present time and it would seem very fool-hardy to have sexual intercourse with a promiscuous partner if one did not have absolute confidence in freedom of venereal disease.

It is my impression that most young couples are sexually faithful to one partner and in such cases neither would have to fear contracting venereal disease. Other problems can be confused with venereal disease. There are many rashes that look similar to the one, one sees in syphilis. A male can have a profuse urethral discharge which is not caused by gonorrhea, but rather by a non-venereal virus infection. It is imperative that if one suspects that they might have venereal disease they should seek examination and advice from a physician who frequently can not diagnose the condition without laboratory assistance.

WITH REPEATED INTERCOURSE IT APPEARS THAT THE AMOUNT OF SEMINAL FLUID RAPIDLY DECREASES. HOW LONG DOES IT TAKE ONE TO "CHARGE UP" AFTER EACH EJACULATION?

The seminal fluid secretions are produced by the glands within the male body called the seminal vesicle and prostate glands. The sperm are produced in the testicle and travel up the vas deferens and are stored in the seminal vesicles. The question, what period of time is necessary to "charge up", is relevant for the couple who are relatively infertile and are attempting to produce a pregnancy. It is recommended that they abstain from intercourse for approximately three days prior to the girl's ovulation in an attempt to build up the sperm count. The matter of volume with each ejaculation with repeated intercourse is a relative matter for each individual male and I don't believe can be answered in a general way.

THESIS PRODUCTION THIS WEEKEND

Friday and Saturday night, April 9th and 10th, BLACK COMEDY will be presented in Dow Auditorium, as Sally Jessup's junior thesis production.

BLACK COMEDY is a one-act play by Peter Shaffer and deals with the trial of a young sculptor surrounded by a new fiancée, an old love, the fiancée's father, one nearly hysterical neighbor lady, and one queer friend. It's the most important night of the sculptor's life. George Ban-berger the multimillionaire is coming to review his work. Also he is about to meet his future father-in-law for the first time. To impress them, he has borrowed his neighbor's antique Regency furniture. In rapid succession, there comes a power failure, the entrance of the neighbor lady, an abortive meeting with the father, the unexpected return of the neighbor, the entrance of the old love, and a series of mistaken identifications in the dark.

Since most of the action is designed to take place in the dark, one of the technical aspects is inverse lighting. Prior to the power failure, the stage is dark. As soon as the darkness comes, up come the lights.

The cast includes: Brindsley Miller... Dale Hinderliter, Carol Melkett...Sue Lamb, Clea...Lois Bye, Harold Gorringer... Chris Barnhouse, Colonel Melkett...Scott Richards, Miss Furnival...Sally Jessup, Schuppanzigh...George Portis, and Georg Bamberger...Steve Weinberger. All members of the campus community are invited with starting time at 8:00 each evening. There is no admission charge.

WAS IT REALLY AN APRIL FOOL'S PRANK?

by Morgan Ohwovoriole

Last Thursday was All Fool's Day, but two Alma College students are wondering if someone did not begin a day early.

Over $200 worth of Carol Taylor's clothes and three trunks of Kevin Williams clothes disappeared from the back seat of Kevin's car which was parked behind Newberry Hall at the Gelstonparking lot. Carol and Kevin who had just returned from spring break, had gone to Bruske Hall to get their room assignment straightened out with Jeff Southern. Thirty minutes later, they came back and all but a record player and some albums, a lamp and a small suitcase in the back seat of the car were gone.

I talked to Carol on Saturday and she said she had some clothes left in the trunk of the car and so she's been able to make do with those for now. "Tell them to dump the stuff somewhere", she said. "I need my clothes and I don't care where they dump them. As long as it is somewhere near and they are not too messy." Till now the clothes have not been located and Kevin continues to go around in his only pair of blue jeans while the both of them keep wondering if it was the biggest joke of All Fool's Day or not.

Smith Colleges Begin Deferred College Entrance Plan

Geneva, N.Y. - (I.P.) - Breaking the traditional lockstep of going directly from high school to college, Hobart and William Smith Colleges revealed a deferred college entrance plan. The innovation, announced by Dr. Allan Kuusisto, president of the colleges, will allow students to postpone entrance six to 24 months from the usual September date.

What would the deferred entrant do before going to college? He could travel extensively to follow up a special interest, college officials pointed out. Or he might want to discover the practical aspects of earning a living by working.

Other possibilities would be organized governmental service such as VISTA or six months Army or National Guard duty or work in a vocational field similar to that he hopes to do eventually. A future student might want to pick up some specific skills that he otherwise might not be able to, they pointed out.

Effective immediately for both men and women students -- the two colleges operate as coordinate institutions -- the plan was devised by John S. Witte, director of admissions at Hobart, and Leonard Wood, admissions director of William Illinois, last June. At that gathering, over two thousand Baha'i youth from all parts of the United States and from various other countries came together and shared ideas, music, songs, enthusiasm and fellowship with one another.

Witness how two thousand Baha'i youth from all strata of society, from various kinds of racial, cultural and economic backgrounds came together and "rapped" about all sorts of ideas and feelings they have--in peace and harmony. Throughout this film, one sees warm, friendly, smiling faces everywhere, which reflect the radiant atmosphere that existed at the conference.

This film shows short segments from a few of the speeches given at the meetings, but it primarily focuses on interviews with individuals and groups of individuals, who give their impressions of the Baha'i teachings, and tell why they became Baha'is, and tell what answers they feel that the Baha'i Faith has for problems of our present society.

Throughout the film, one sees proof of how the Baha'i Faith really works. It can bring together people from all kinds of different backgrounds and make them appreciate the beauty of all humanity, to bring about a world-encompassing society based on unity and love (which has been the teaching of all the major religions of the world).

Come and see this happy film. Everyone is invited.

It will be shown Monday, April 5, at 7:00 p.m. and 9:30 p.m., and on Tuesday, April 6, at 7:00 p.m., 9:00 p.m., and 10:00 p.m. in the Audio-visual room (Library ground floor).

Smith, the women's college. They emphasized that the plan is a guarantee of admission to college at a time when the student wishes to attend.

Both Mr. Witte and Mr. Wood asserted that the colleges are prepared to offer an orientation program if there are enough pupils interested in entering through this innovative program at periods, other than September. Students accepted would pay the matriculation fee but would not necessarily start college work in September, and could delay it up to a limit of two years.

Here's what one school guidance counselor feels about the plan. Summing up what he called the advantages of the system, he said, "I've known students who have gone to college too early, although I've never known anyone who has gone too late."

First National Tournament for Debaters

The Alma College debate team, after two impressive showings during February, is preparing for its first participation in a National Debate Tournament to be held at Indiana State University in Terra Haute, April 7-11.

The first of the team's noteworthy accomplishments last month was a second place finish, behind Ball State University, in the Great Lakes Cross-Question Tournament at Battle Creek. Alma debaters defeated teams from Hope College, Eastern Michigan University, Kellogg Community College and also scored a victory over Ball State. Dennis Valkanoff, Larry Nelson and Mrs. Wendy Gould received certificates of excellence in debating.

The Scot debaters later traveled to Eastern Michigan University for the Michigan Intercollegiate Speech League Tournament, where they placed third in a field of twelve teams. Alma scored victories over Delta College, Wayne State University, Central Michigan University, University of Detroit and the University of Michigan. Larry Nelson received an award in the varsity division. Dennis Valkanoff won an individual award for his rank as fourth best debater among forty-eight in his division and all four members of Alma's novice unit (Morgan Ohwovoriole, Bruce Plackowski, Jeff Foran and Dennis Valkanoff) won certificates of excellence.

Preparing for the upcoming tournament at Indiana State University are Jeff Foran, Mrs. Wendy Gould, Larry Nelson and Dennis Valkanoff.

Acclaimed Martin Luther King Documentary To Be Shown

KING: A Filmed Record...Montgomery to Memphis will be presented Tuesday, April 20, at 7:30 p.m. in Dow Auditorium at Alma College as a cooperative effort of several community groups. The Michigan Council of Churches in cooperation with other groups is bringing this highly acclaimed documentary to mid-Michigan for a 10 day period in commemoration of the third anniversary of Dr. King's death, and to refocus attention on the precepts and programs to which Dr. King dedicated his life. Other mid-Michigan cities scheduled for showings are Kalamazoo, Flint, Grand Rapids, Muskegon, Birmingham, Saginaw, Mt. Pleasant, and Marquette. More than a tribute to Dr. King, the film is a chronicle of the struggles for equality and justice, from 1955 to 1968. Via newsreel and television footage, the film recreates the bus boycott of 1955 that propelled Dr. King to national prominence. It documents the lunch counter sit-ins and Freedom Rides of the early sixties; the inspiring 1963 March on Washington; the police dogs and fire hoses in Birmingham; the Selma voter registration campaign; the open housing campaign in Chicago; the Poor Peoples campaign; the Memphis Sanitation worker's strike; and, finally, Dr. King's funeral.

King is not a preachment. It clearly has much to say, but it says it through the words and actions of Dr. King and his associates. To avoid editorializing, the film uses no narration. Dr. King's unforgettable prose is re-created in the sermons, "I have a dream," and, "I have been to the Mountain Top."

The music of the civil rights marchers provides the soundtrack for much of the film, as well as the voices of such artists as Mahalia Jackson and Odetta. As the horse-drawn cart bearing Dr. King's coffin moves down the street in Atlanta, Nina Simon sings, "The King is Dead."

As a history of the civil rights movement, King is an unequalled educational resource for people of all generations. The film has meaning for all, but especially for young people struggling to understand and cope with today's world.

Some reviews of the film: "I went prepared to weep...but King was so positive, so exciting and so aweinspiring in its straight forward simplicity of purpose that to weep would somehow have been insulting.", Gary Post, Tribune; "When (young people) see this film, they will not only understand it, but will also experience it to the depths of their souls.", Washington Daily News; "The film should be required viewing for anyone who doesn't understand where we are, as a nation, in 1970.", Seattle Daily Times.

The film runs over three hours, so there will be only one showing. Admission will be a $2.00 donation. Groups wishing to reserve blocks of tickets for their own members, or to be made available to student or special groups, please do so early. For information or reservations, call 463-2865.

College Chaplin to Speak on Easter Sunday

Easter Sunday, April 11, will mark the first campus visit of the Reverend David Sobrepena, Alma College's chaplain-in-residence for the spring term. Mr. Sobrepena will be conducting the 11 a.m. service in Dunning Chapel.

Our visiting chaplain was born in Quezon City, Philippines, and received his A.B. degree from Hartford Theological Seminary, his M.A. degree in education from the U of M, and is currently studying toward a Ph.D. in religion in higher education there.

A native Philippino, Mr. Sobrepena has served as associate pastor at the United Community Church in Quezon and as secretary of the Student Christian Movement in Singapore and Malaysia. He has also been the Youth Director of the Philippine Federation of Christian Churches for four years.

Mr. Sobrepena and his wife, who is studying at EMU in the field of fine arts and drama, live with their two children in Ann Arbor and will be making periodic visits to the Alma community.

Bowman and Grau Present Faculty Recital

On Monday, April 12, 1971 at 8:00 p.m. Jack W. Bowman and Irene Rosenberg Grau will present a faculty recital in Dunning Memorial Chapel. They will be assisted by Jeff L. Johnson, french hornist.

The program will consist of the Brahms Sonata in F minor for Clarinet and Piano, Solo de Concours by Messenger, Sonata for Clarinet and Piano by Paul Harder, Concerto #2 in E-flat by Weber and the Trio for Clarinet, French horn and Piano by Reinecke.

Mr. Bowman is currently Director of Instrumental Music at Alma College. He serves as principal bassoonist of the Saginaw Symphony Orchestra and is organist-choir master at the First Presbyterian Church in Alma, and has served as principal clarinetist with the Delta Festival Orchestra.

Irene Grau is wife of Gideon Grau, conductor of the Saginaw Symphony; she has performed extensively on this continent and in Europe as soloist with major symphony orchestras.

Jeff Johnson is a music major at Alma; he is manager of the Kiltie Band, a member of Delta Gamma Tau fraternity and a native of Muskegon, Michigan.

The recital is free and the public is cordially invited.

Hi Computer! How Ya Doing?

By Larry Stephey

Alma College owns a computer. But this is not just any computer it is an I.B.M. 1620. For those of you who are not hip on computers the I.B.M. 1620 is a small computer as computers go. But like all computers it has a lot of transistors, a lot of wire and it can perform calculations very fast.

Although Alma College has had access to a computer for the past two years via a teletype communications unit, it has never owned a computer of this size before. This computer is going to be a very useful tool as soon as someone learns how to run it. Mr. Thomas Bailey, of the Math Department, is working at this very hard. Mr. Bailey has had a great deal of experience with computers but each one is different and it takes some time for one, even with a lot of experience in computing, to figure out a new machine.

The computer console looks very impressive. It has about 190 lights that blink on and off rather fast when the computer is operating. It also has about 35 switches that must be flipped.

The machine can compute about 600, ten digit additions per second. It can also compute about 50 ten digit multiplications per second. Mr. Bailey claims that this is rather slow by today's standards (the machine was built about 1960) but it still is an impressive number.

Mr. Bailey thought perhaps it would be fun for he and I to stand the computer in a game of black jack. After about ten hands in which the computer mathematically shuffled and dealt the cards the computer was ahead (I do not think it cheated). But we finally found the machine's weakness which was wrong input data. At the end of the game we had the machine so messed up it was reading out poetry. I could not help but feel sorry for this poor machine as it stood there looking so impressive and yet spilling out this mass of incorrect data from its typewriter.

The computer is located on the second floor of Dow Science Building almost directly across the hall from Dr. Potter's office. If you happen to be walking by that way peek in the door and wave. You never know, it might wave back!

After the program has been feed into the machine, the operator must instruct the computer, by operating various switches, what is to do with the program. (Photos by Larry Stephey)

Mr. Thomas Bailey, Instructor in Mathematics and Physics, types in a program to the computer.

Drinking Habits

Students seem to be drinking for different reasons today than they did years ago. It's no longer the National Campus Pastime, and each student seems to be drinking what he drinks for different reasons.

Drinking has always been an Older Generation vice, and young revolutionaries are quite careful to avoid anything that the Establishment has established. There are no real premediated student drinking trends. Student drinking habits seem to be a matter of practicalities -- cost is important and Do-Your-Own-Thing seems to prevail. The most important factor, though, is taste.

I made one more phone call -- not to the liquor store, but to the drug store to ask them to deliver a bottle of Alka Seltzer.

If student drinking habits are anything like my own, Alka Seltzer could very well be the most popular student drink.

Professional and business men in the United States live longer than the average man in the general U.S. population, says the April SCIENCE DIGEST. Within the professional group, scientists lived the longest, while correspondents and journalists died the soonest.

At 4:00p.m., the time of the Executive Council meeting, a final decision had not been reached. Dr. Swanson informed Executive Council of the progress to date but stated at that time he could not release any more information.

At 8:30 p.m. that evening Dean Plough called Sandy Johnson and Helen Bendel and informed them of the decision that had been reached.

On April 9 Freshmen Women will have unrestricted hours providing (1) the proctor system can be "geared up" by that time for the inclusion of Freshmen. This involves primarily Bruske Hall, for at the present that have no proctor system and a functioning proctor system must be in effect in that dorm before any changes in hours will take place. (2) At the present time a letter is being drafted which will be sent to the parents of Freshmen Women. This letter serves the primary purpose of informing the parents of the changes. According to Dean Plough if there is an "extreme negative reaction" about these changes from the parents there will be "some doubt" that these hours changes will be initiated.

The decision for next year's Freshmen hours has not been made. This decision will be based upon the experience of this term and contacts made at other schools. A recommendation will be given to the President from the Student Services offices. Dr. Swanson said he "hopes the decision will be made this term." However, he made it clear that there is a strong possibility that this decision may not be made until sometime this summer.

A.C. Peace Group Trip Is Planned

June 30. Action must be taken (lobbying, etc.) to work against renewing the Draft, Gallop polls, etc. inform us that the majority of Americans oppose the war. These results may or may not be entirely accurate, but at least they are a fairly good indication of public opinion. Thus it is felt that the present administration is not operating in accord with the wishes of the American people.

The week of April 19 to 24 has been designated as National Peace Action Week, ending with the March on Washington on the 24th. During this week, individuals could step-up their attempts in working toward an end to the war by writing to their representatives in Congress, talking to people, and simply showing concern.

The march itself will be peaceful; violence will not be condoned - marshalls will be present to insure that the demonstration will remain peaceful.

The local affiliate of the NPAC is the Alma Peace Movement (APM). Various committees in this group are working on organizing the March from here. A steering committee is sponsoring various activities to raise money for the march, and hopefully to lower the cost; as well as informing the campus on what's happening. As it is now, the total cost will not be more than $25.00, which includes a non-refundable registration fee of $11.00, which will be used in chartering the buses. Interested persons can register in the Student Council Office between 2:00 and 5:00 p.m. on or before April 7. A communication committee has been writing letters to Michigan representatives asking to meet with them in Washington to discuss policies and try to discover what can be done to bring about our objectives. Other small Christian Colleges are being contacted in getting their support for a so-called Christian Coalition for Peace. The buses will leave sometime Friday and arrive in Washington Friday night (some sort of housing will be made available) and return to Alma on Sunday.

Paul VanValkenburg, Student Council President, expressed feelings to the effect that if nothing else, the presence of all these people at the March will serve to show that they believe in peace and want something done toward this goal.

Stolz Follows Many Other Alma Figures Who Have Achieved Fame

When Dennis Stolz takes over as defensive coordinator on the Michigan State University football staff April 1, he'll join an impressive list of former Alma College gridiron figures who have moved on to roles in big-time athletics.

Although Alma, with an enrollment of 1,300, is among the smaller colleges that field teams in intercollegiate football, its tradition in the sport is certainly king-size.

Preceding Stolz on the list of one-time Alma players and coaches who have assumed posts with major university or professional teams are: Bob Devaney, head coach of the 1970 national football champion Nebraska Cornhuskers; Lloyd Eaton, head football coach of the perennially tough University of Wyoming Cowboys; George Allen, head coach of the Washington Redskins; Steve Sebo, athletic director of the University of Virginia; Jesse Harper, Knute Rockne's predecessor as coach at Notre Dame; and Jim Northrup, Detroit Tiger outfielder.

Stolz, however, is the first man on the list who has been both a player and a coach at Alma. A star griddier for the Scots in the 1950's, he was named head coach at Alma in 1965.

The only Alma coach who has piloted teams to two successive undefeated seasons, Stolz won Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association (MIAA) championships three of the six years that he was in charge of Scot football squads.

His teams compiled the mid-Michigan college's longest football winning streak of 18 games, starting with a 17-7 triumph over Wayne State University in the final game of the 1966 season. In 1967, his Scots toppled eight opponents, shutting out the last four, and in 1968 they added eight more victories to the string. Bluffton (Ohio) College was Stolz's 18th victim in the first game of the '69 campaign before Carthage (Wis.) College toppled

Alma the following week.

In his six years at Alma, Stolz won 35 games and lost 15. His teams have never played to a tie.

Devaney, who also served as a defensive assistant to Duffy Dougherty at Michigan State before moving to Wyoming and then to Nebraska, has the top coaching record in college football today with a career mark of 114 wins, 28 losses and 6 ties.

Devaney was a regular at end for the Scots in 1936, '37 and '38. He was an All-MIAA selection in 1937 and captained the Alma team in 1938.

Eaton was Stolz's coach at Alma. During his eight years as head coach of the Scots (1949-56) he won 40 games, lost 20 and tied 2. His career record is also among the best for U.S. college coaches, and in recent years his Wyoming Cowboys have been a familiar listing in national football rankings.

Allen, who moved to the Washington Redskins after several years as coach of the Los Angeles Rams, was an Alma griddier in 1943 while enrolled at the college in a Navy V12 program.

Sebo preceded Eaton as head coach at Alma, serving from 1946 to 1949 and compiling a record of 14 victories, 7 defeats and one tie.

Harper was in charge of the athletic program at Alma in 1906-07 before he became coach at Notre Dame. He won 8, lost 4 and tied 2 at Alma. His former affiliation with the small Michigan college led to its four football games against the Irish in 1913, '14, '15 and '16. Twice during that period, in 1914 and '15, Alma opened the season against Notre Dame and then tackled Michigan State the following week.

Alma's first game against the Irish, in 1913, served as a test for Notre Dame's passing attack which made football history the following week when the Gus Dorais-

Knute Rockne combination shocked the football world with an aerial display that upset mighty Army.

Northrup is somewhat of an exception on the list of big-name athletes from Alma since he made his mark in professional baseball rather than football. Nevertheless, the Tiger outfielder was an outstanding griddier for the Scots and was an All-MIAA selection at quarterback in 1959.

Another exceptional former Alma Athlete was Frank Knox, a player on the college's first football team in 1894. Later he achieved fame as a newspaper publisher, was the Republican candidate for vice president in 1936, and served as Secretary of the Navy during World War II.

Alma is also proud of its tradition in producing scholar-athletes. During three of the past four years outstanding Alma students who have also excelled in sports have been named recipients of coveted National Collegiate Athletic Association Postgraduate Scholarships.

They are: Keith Bird, Jr., of Flint, class of 1967, as All-MIAA defensive end who continued his education at Duke University; John Becker of Clyde, Ohio, class of 1969, an All-MIAA golfer for three years who is a student at Pittsburgh Theological Seminary; and John F. Fuzak of East Lansing, class of 1970, All-MIAA in football, and baseball and also a basketball star at Alma who is now studying law at the University of Indiana.

Despite its production of notables in the sport, Alma has not completely dominated football competition in the MIAA. However, the Scots, who did not join the association until 14 years after it was founded in 1888, have won more MIAA football championships than any other league member. Last fall's co-championship with Adrian brought Alma its 19th football trophy. Albion, a member of the MIAA since its founding, has won 18.
