DR. RONALD O. KAPP

March 10, 1935-March 24, 1989

In memory of his devotion to and love for the Alma College community, this year's Scotsman has been dedicated to Dr. Ron Kapp. He was a highly admired man who was an inspiration to all those fortunate enough to have had their lives touched by him. Dr. Kapp was one who appreciated the opportunities which were brought with the dawn of each new day, and he believed that study and hard work were the keys to success.

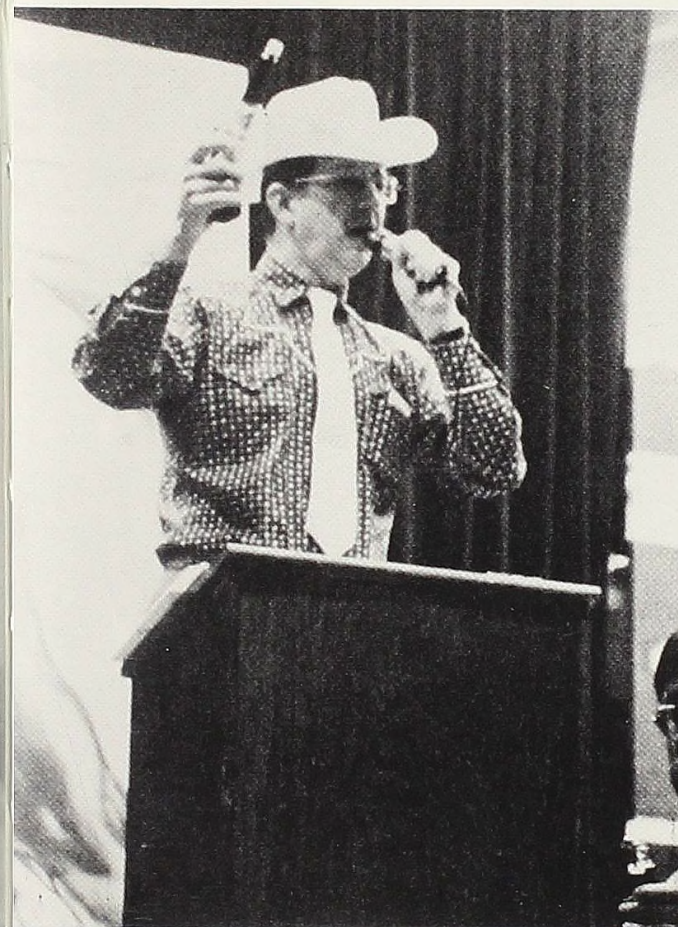

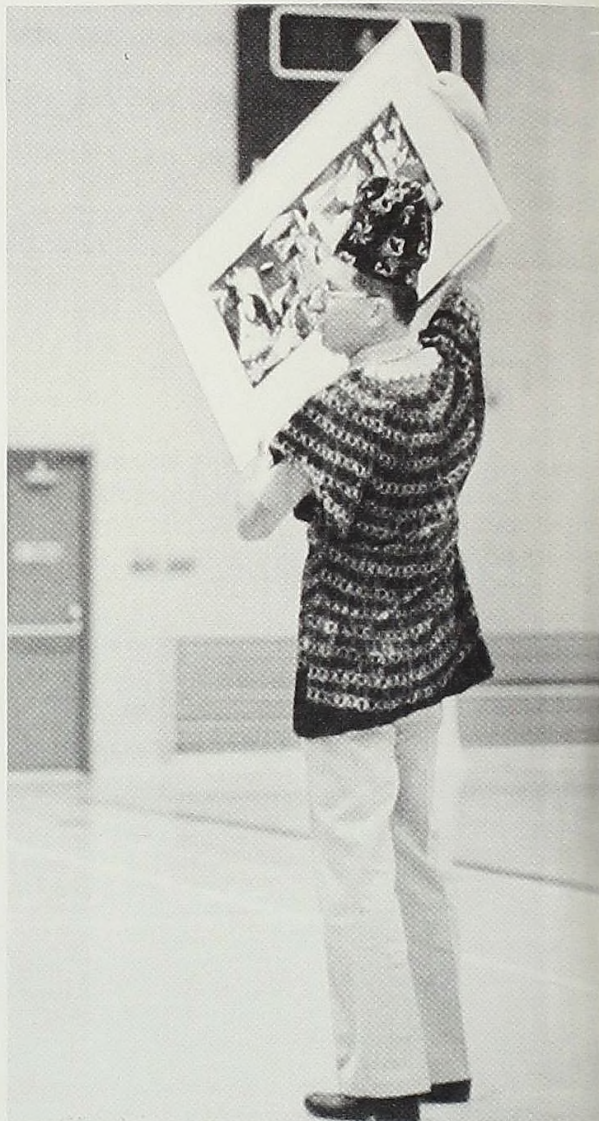

Dr. Kapp had a life full of accomplishments. Hailing from Ann Arbor, Dr. Kapp, a Phi Beta Kappa member, graduated from the University of Michigan in 1957 after completion of both a B.A. and M.S. in biology. After graduation, he started his career at Alma College as a biology instructor. In 1963, Dr. Kapp earned his Ph.D. from the University of Michigan and continued teaching biology, advancing from instructor to full professor. Six years after receiving his doctorate degree, Dr. Kapp was named provost and vice-president of academic affairs.

The college and community were terribly shocked when, on November 20, 1989, Dr. Kapp resigned from his position as provost of Alma College. His resignation was due to a deep and complex brain tumor which was determined to be malignant and inoperable.

Dr. Kapp was popular with and well-liked by both students and faculty throughout his career. "He combined good scholarship, caring for students, and an ability to motivate students to do their best," said Robert Swanson, Alma College's president from 1956 to 1980. President Alan Stone added, "Dr. Kapp has been a major figure in this institution. Much of where we are today is the result of his good work."

This campus will not be the same without Dr. Kapp, but we must reflect upon the positive influence which he had. Dr. Joseph Walser, interim provost and Professor of Religious Studies at Alma College, said, "Kapp left us a remarkable example of a strong life...the spirit of that strength will lead us through our tomorrows."

Thank you, Dr. Kapp—for everything.

Clockwise from below: 1) Dr. Kapp's famous springterm, "Spring Flora of the Southern Great Lakes Region." 2) Dr. Kapp and a group of people at the two-story out house in Cedar Lake. Every time Kapp passed by this place, no matter what group he was with he would insist on stopping and showing them the out house because it is in the "Guinness Book of World Records." 3) A presentation given by Dr. Kapp during Preterm 1982. 4) "We have five from the gentleman up in front; will anybody bid five-fifty? Do I hear five-fifty?" Two things that Dr. Kapp was famous for were his auctioning talent and his love for the African Fellow Program.

—HOMECOMING '89

Alma College Caught "Clownin' Around"

A week crammed full of activities such as dance lessons, Alma Pursuit, Carnival Night at Hamilton Commons, a Pep Rally, a parade, football and soccer games, and a dance helped to make Homecoming '89 unforgettable for the students, alumni, and faculty of Alma College.

On the morning of Saturday, October 7, festivities began early in the morning and lasted throughout the day and on into the night. At 11:00 a.m. the parade's marching bands, floats, and numerous clowns made their way down Superior Street towards Alma College. As each float passed by the judges' stand, it hoped to impress the panel more than the others. In the end, first place was captured by the Junior Class float, which had a little of all the circus necessities on it such as jugglers, tumblers, and clowns.

As the frolicking of the parade drew to a close, spectators began to make their way toward Balke Field for an afternoon of football and the crowning of the royalty. Alma College's football squad ended the game against Olivet College triumphantly with a 27-20 win. During half-time of that game, Kevin O'Shaughnessey and Lillian Korbus were crowned King and Queen by president Stone and last year's royalty Jeff Graft and Lisa Elbers. Other Alma sports teams also enjoyed victory over Olivet as both the men's and women's soccer teams of Alma College outscored their opponents.

The events of the day came to a close in the P.E. gymnasium where everyone danced to the music of Wedsel's Edsels and ate circus treats such as snow cones and popcorn. Celebrating into the early hours of Sunday was definitely the perfect way to end such a successful Homecoming.

Clockwise from upper left: 1) Kirk can't get over the fact that he was given balloons while Kevin is bewildered by the curly ribbon. 2) What a classy group of women! 3) Carl Grant seems to be having fun while escorting Kelly Long. 4) Last year's King and Queen, Jeff Graft and Lisa Elbers. 5) Laura Vintevogel smiles for the camera while...

ALMA SCOTS TRIUMPH

A Victorious Homecoming Finale Results In Alma's 27-20 Success Over Olivet

The game got off to an exciting start during the first quarter when Alma College tight-end Aaron Fletcher grabbed a four-yard touchdown pass to put the first points on the scoreboard. But the Comets quickly responded by scoring a touchdown of their own just two minutes later. The battle continued and at halftime the score was tied, 14-14. The second half saw a drastic change in Alma's defense as they allowed Olivet only three first downs, the key to Alma's victory. Scott Borgeson, Pete Degraff, Evan Vlaeminck and Earl Schafer led the Scots in defensive tackles. Leading the way offensively for Alma were Steve Kinne, Joe Joseph, Kevin Miller and Aaron Fletcher.

THE ONLY WAY TO SAVOR A VICTORY... Dancing The Night Away With That Special Someone

With the P.E. gymnasium decorated like a carnival tent, the gym looked like circus with the streamers, balloons, and banners of animals on the walls. Refreshments such as snow cones and popcorn helped to further create an atmosphere of "The Big Top." After putting so much time into the homecoming activities, everyone relaxed and had a great time.

"ALOHA" PRETERM 1989

Orientation Committee Puts Together A Swingin' Good Time

The Orientation Committee's goal for Preterm this year was to help ease the transition between high school and college for the Class of 1993. From the minute the first-year students pulled into their dorm's parking lot with their parents, the committee members were on the spot to help carry students' belongings to their residence hall rooms. The O.C., led by Coordinator Emily Perl and Co-Chairpersons Kelly Long and Rick Warmbold, created activities that assisted the first-year students in adjusting their social, physical, and emotional lives to Alma College. Some of the activities that were planned throughout the 10-day Preterm were: student picnics, the Traditions Dinner, Crazy Olympics, the "Hawaiian Luau" dance, and "Night at the Races" with "Fun Bucks."

From A Perspective Different

HONORS CONVOCATION

When the ALMA college student body filled the gymnasium faculty and seniors marched proudly for the opening of Honors Convocation; Honors Convocation recognizes those who have achieved high academic standards. Outstanding faculty awards were given to Dr. Joesph Walser, Dr. Kay Grimnes and Professor Greg Baleja by Senior class president Kirk Miller. New members of the Honor societies, Omicron Delta Kappa (National Leadership) and Phi Beta Kappa (National Honors), were introduced by Tia Brandel and Dr. Walser. President Alan J. Stone awarded President's cups to those students with a 4.0 grade point average. The honored Barlow trophy award found three very worthy candidates: Kelly Spalding, Kevin O'Shaughnessey and Tia Brandel. Kelly Spalding was announced as the recipient of the award. The Senior class project was announced by Cochairs Mary Sweet and Dave Devine. A scholarship fund was raised by the class in memory of their classmate Andrea Chaney. The Honors Address "East Meets West Here" was delivered by the Bishop Thomas Mar Markarios, Doctor of Divinity, upon receiving his honorary degree. The Bishop, a native of India, is a visiting professor of religious studies here at ALMA college. Bishop Markarios achieved the difficult task of capturing the attention of the student and faculty body with amusing stories relating to his experiences of adjusting to a new culture.

GRADUATION

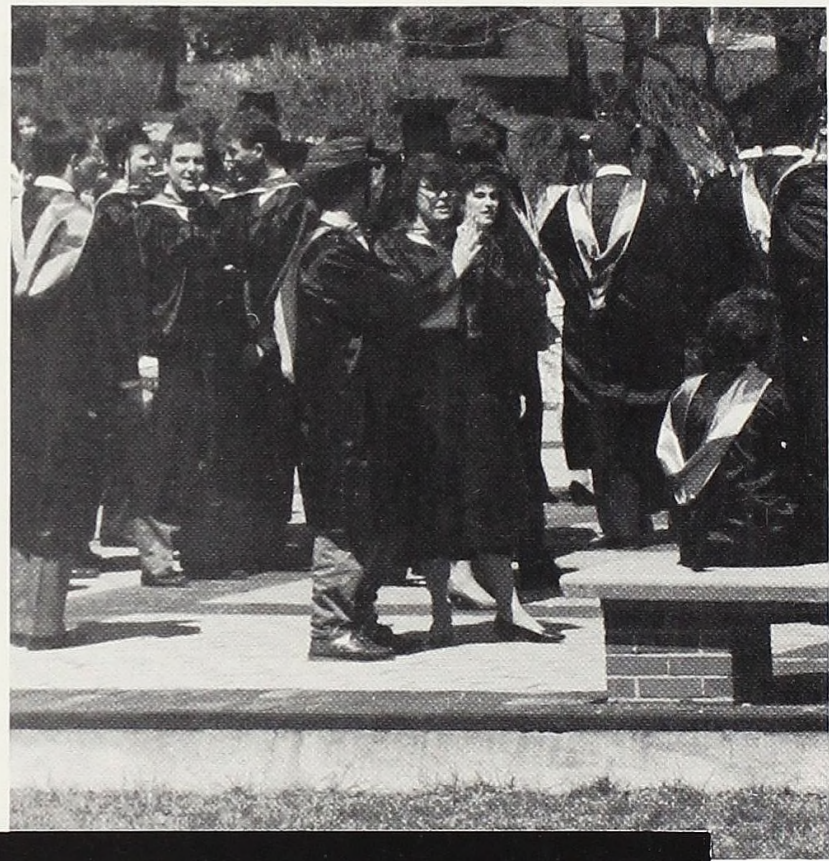

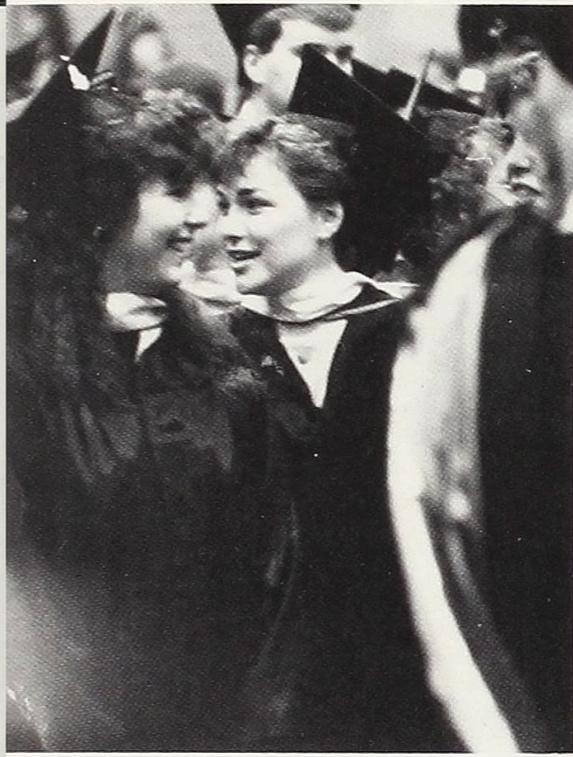

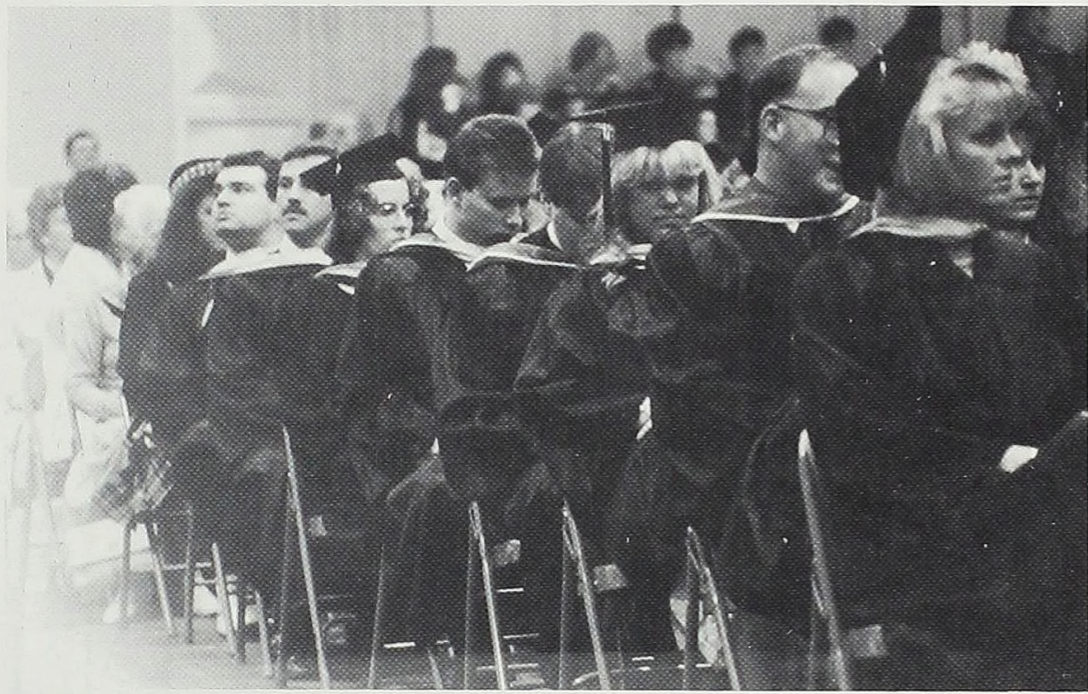

103rd Year Commencement

The Alma college choir, conducted by William Nichols, lead the opening of graduation with various choral selections. Kevin O'Shaughnessey, senior scholar, gave a down to earth speech about life here at Alma college appropriately titled "Reflections". Barlow trophy recipient, Kelly Spalding hit a more serious note in her speech "Expectations". Dr. Cordell Wynn, Doctor of Letters and the Reverend Tukyul Andrew Kim, Doctor of Divinity recieved Honorary degrees. Dr. Wynn is current president of our sister college Stillman and the Reverend Kim is a pres-byterian pastor here in Michigan. The 250 member graduating class and thier families will never forget the amusing words of Dr. Cordell Wynn, "Your parents don't want you anymore, they might say they do but believe me they put you through these four years so you could get a job!"

Faculty and Administration

The art department consists of gallons of paint, clay, printing solutions, and three dedicated teachers: Asst. Prof. Rozier, Assoc. Prof. Parks-Kirby, and Prof. Kirby.

Mr. D. Scripps, Dr. W. Nichols, Dr. R. Riley, Ms. Arksey, and Dr. S. Messing constitute only some of the music department. Visiting Instr. Arksey and Applied Music Instructors Aldrich, Clifford, Edwards, Lloyd, Marks, Metcalf, Minnis, Nowicki, Rehm, and Weaver also aid in teaching.

Faculty and Administration

The talent in the music department is overwhelming. Many events throughout the year portray that talent through the teachings of the professors. Here, Drs. Messing and Riley illustrate their talents together.

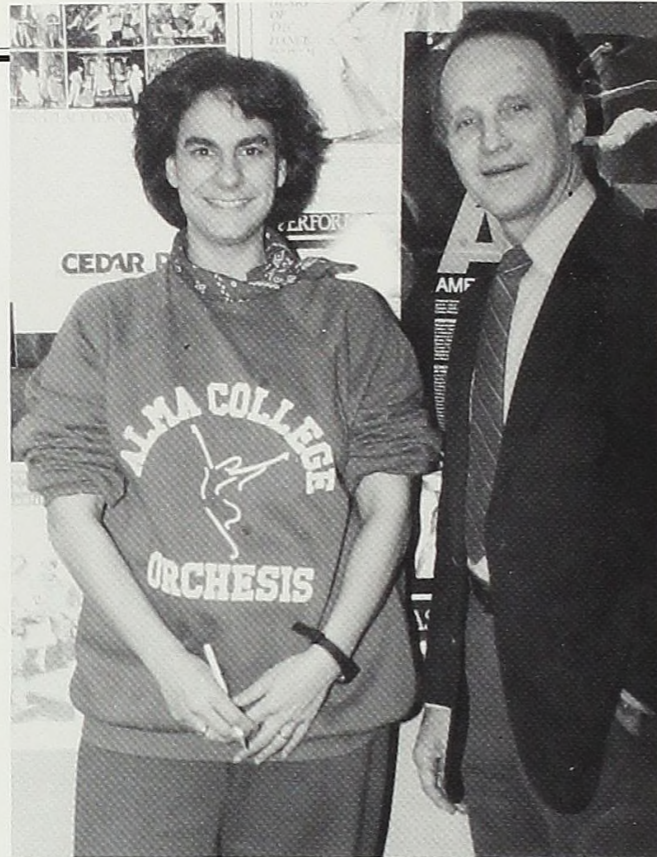

From a Dracula costume on Halloween to tails for concerts, Professor William Nichols is always dressed for the occasion. Here, he directs the Alma College Choir at one of their many concerts throughout the year. Dr. Nichols' energy and charisma are easily seen through his conducting.

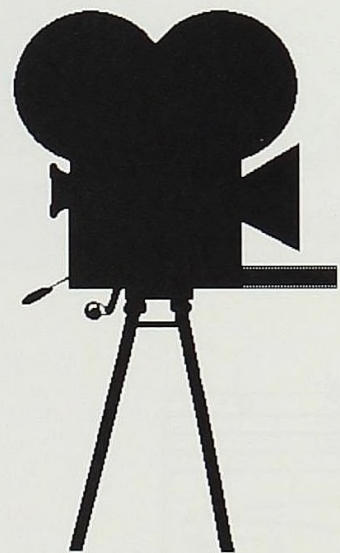

Mrs. Carol Fike is Alma's loved dance instructor. Her creativity and initiative to take chances always develops into a great Orchesis show twice a year.

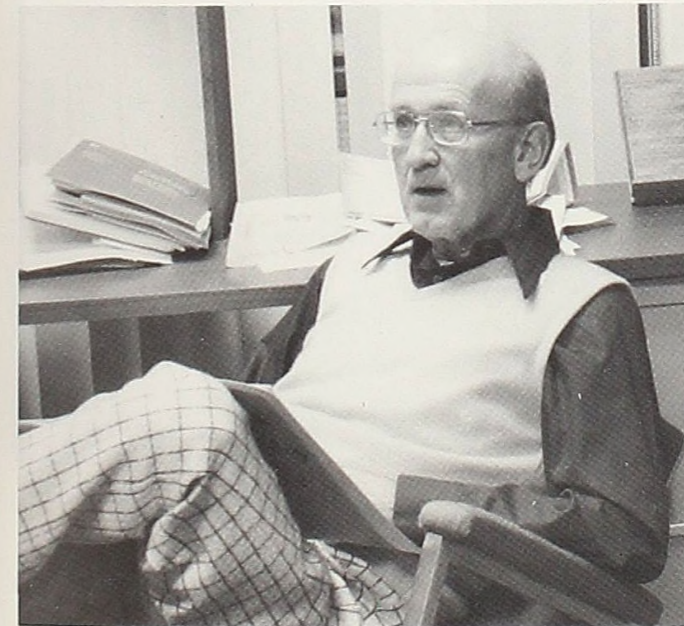

Alma College's theatre and dance instructors are Phil Griffiths and Carol Fike, respectively. Their most noted class is the New York Dance Trip which is offered every Spring Term. The play "Cats" is always a highlight of the course. Another course they offer together is Theatre Company, a one or two credit class which aides in the production of the semester play and Orchesis.

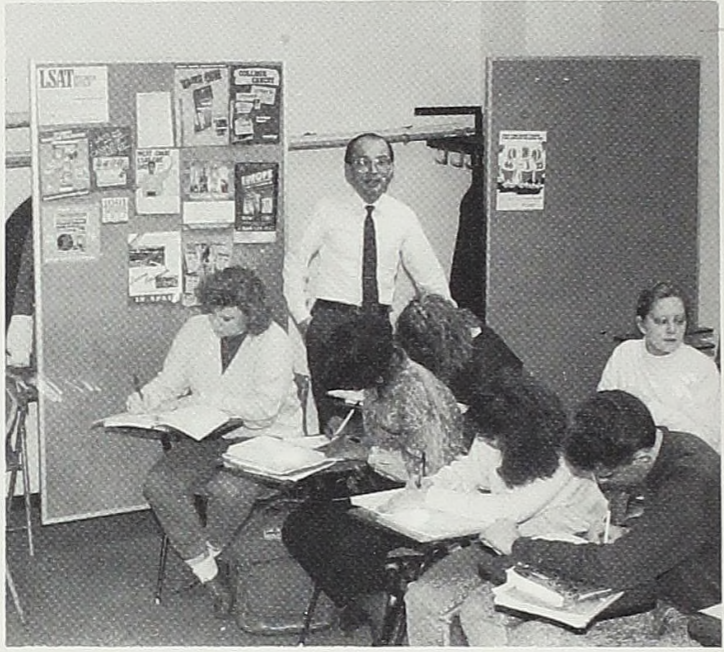

The dance studio holds numerous long sessions of hard work as students prepare for Orchesis and exercise for aerobics.

The English Department includes Joseph Napora, Dr. Eugene Pattison, Dr. Robert Wegner, Dr. Joe Sutfin, Dr. William Palmer, Carol Bender and Dr. John Ottenhoff.

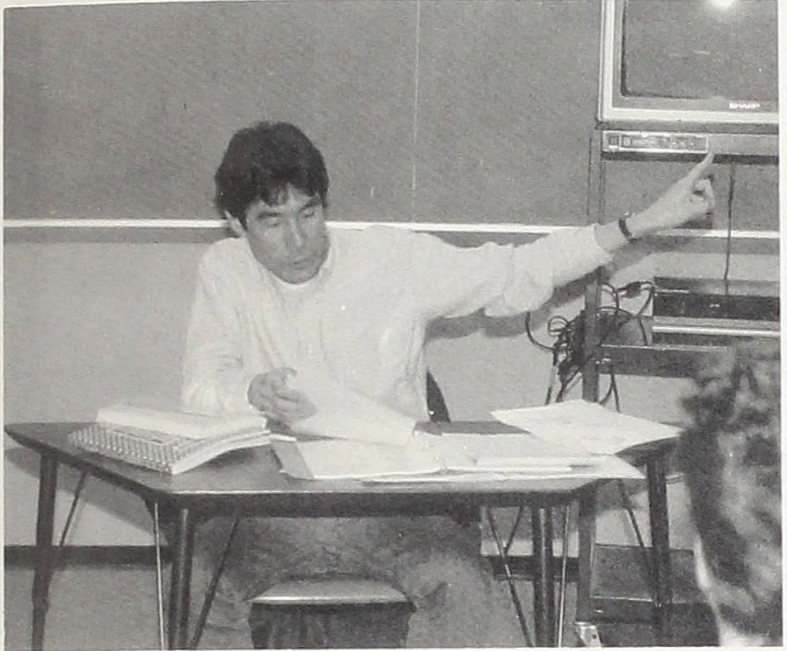

Alma College's speech department has two professors, Dr. Robert Smith and Judy Bosley (not pictured). They teach students in all majors how to correctly and comfortably speak in front of others.

Japanese is a new language to be taught at Alma. Hiroshi Ikeguchi is one of the instructors for the course.

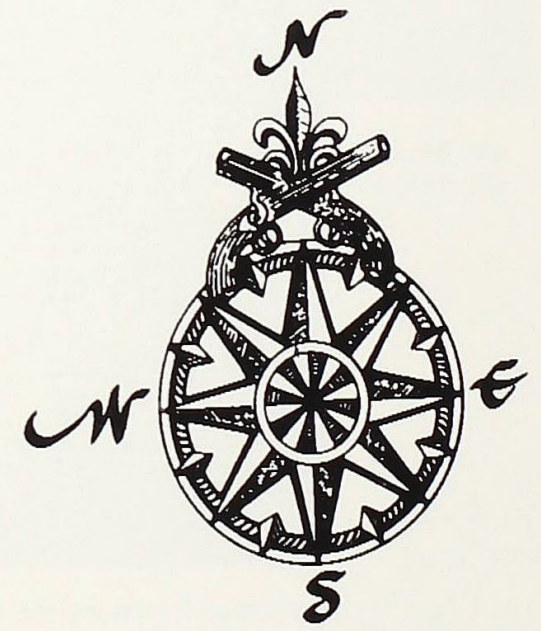

Carl Mentley, Julie Arnold and John Arnold are the instructors for Spanish, French, and German.

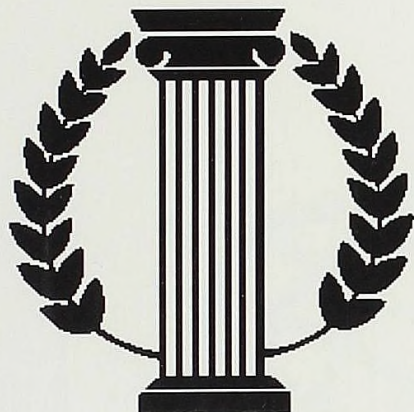

Minoru Aizawa was the first Japanese instructor here at Alma. He began the program in the fall of 1988.

Japanese classes begin at 8:30 a.m. every morning of the week. Dedication and hard work are important in the Japanese culture and this is shown here.

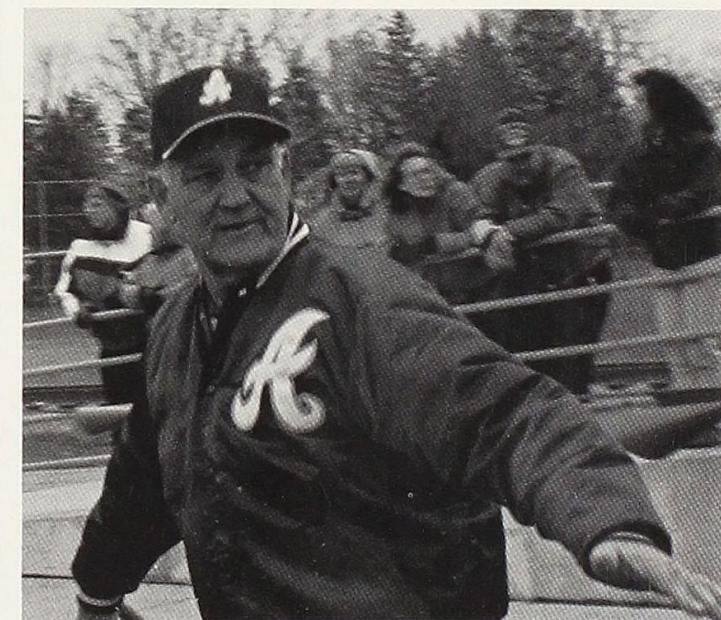

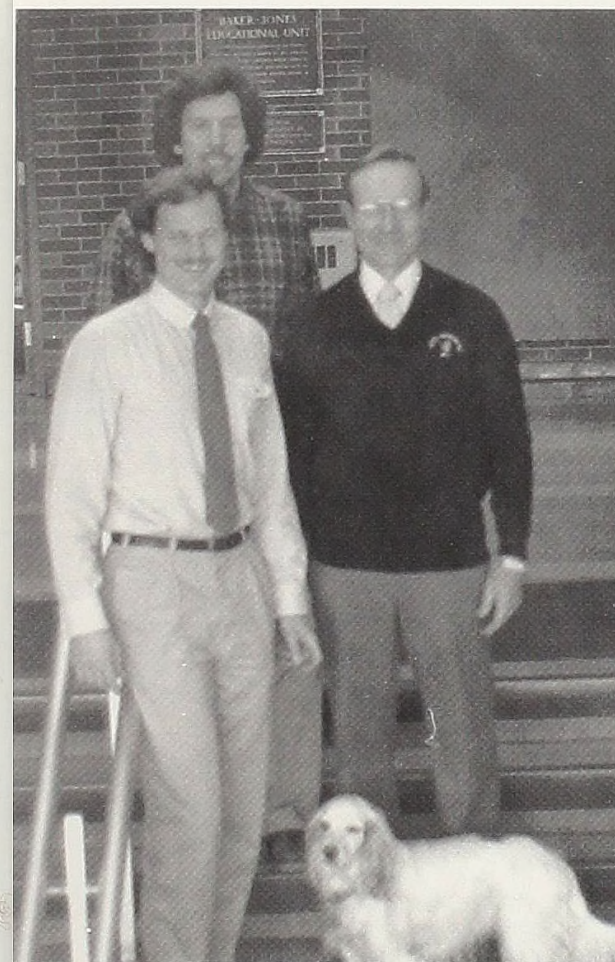

Heading the Philosophy Department are: Professor Massanari, Assistant Professor Dixon, and Visiting Instructor Reitemeir.

Religion professors include: Dr. Luke, Dr. Massanari, and Dr. Walser, along with Visiting Professor Bishop Makarios.

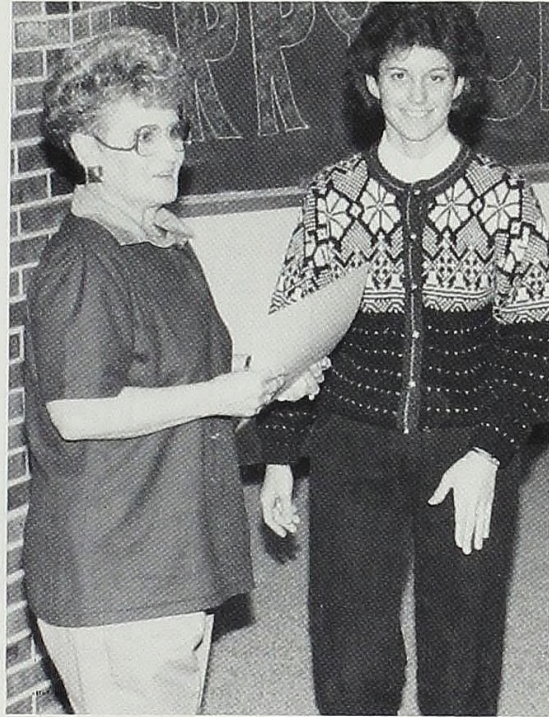

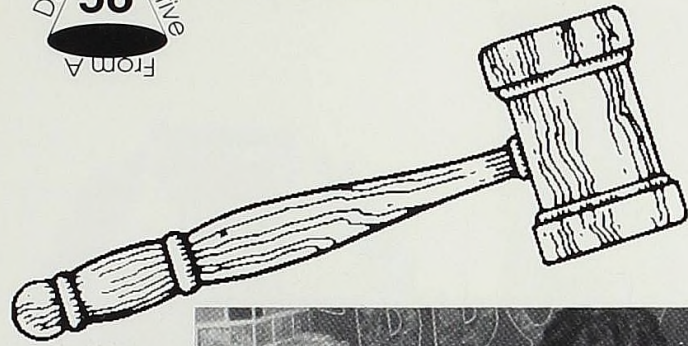

Physical Education Center Co-ordinator, baseball coach, and EHS instructor are just some of the responsibilities of Mr. Bill Klenk.

Dr. Seelbach, Dr. J. Davis, and Dr. Gray are three of the professors of the EHS department. Not pictured are instructors J. Cole, D. Griffin, B. Klenk, and D. Mapes.

Many coaches take time out from their already overloaded schedules for our varsity teams.

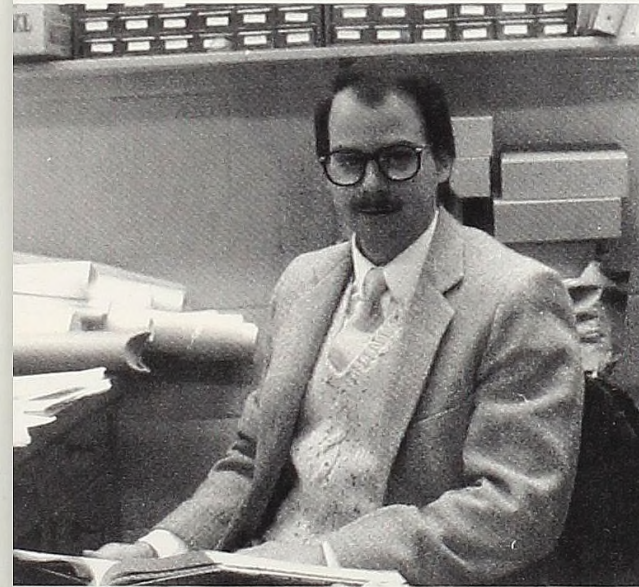

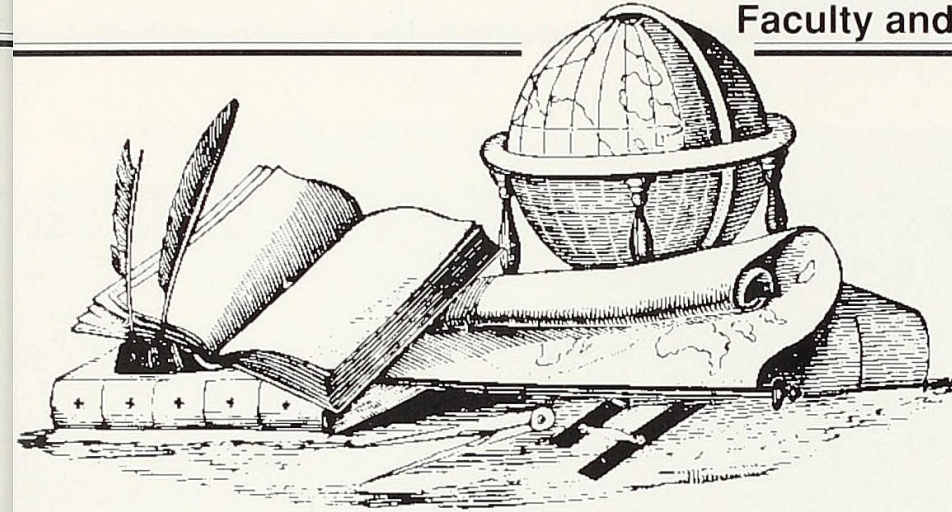

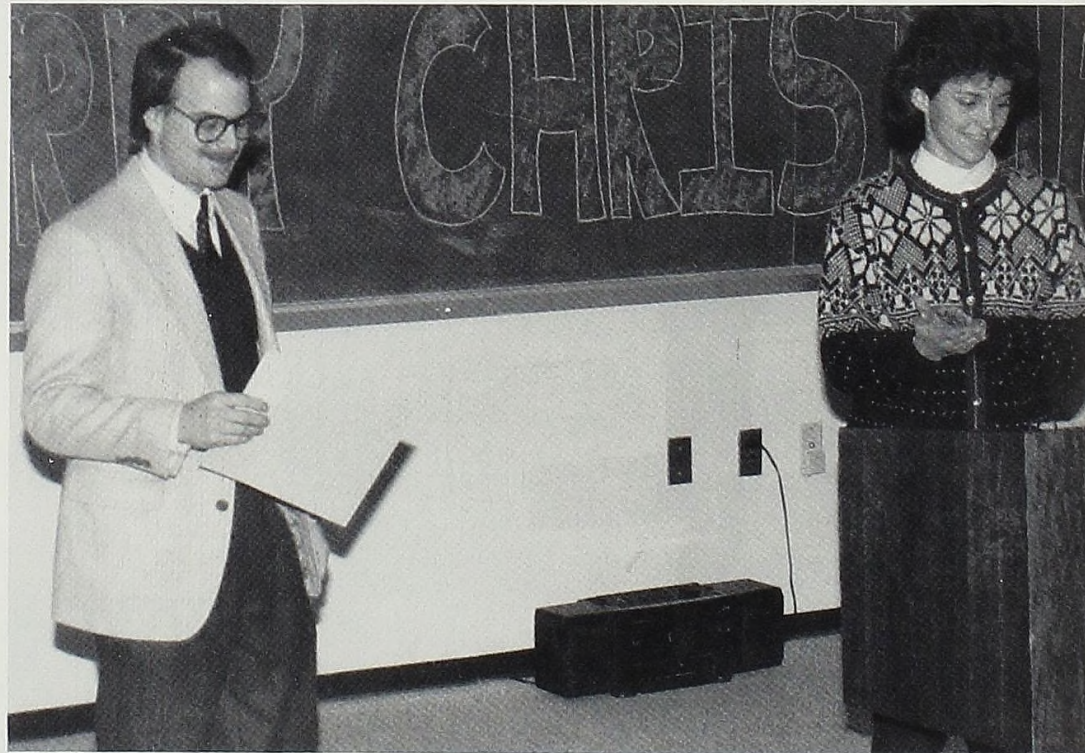

“The highest function of the teacher consists not so much in imparting knowledge as in stimulating the pupil in its love and pursuit.”

– Amiel

Not only the teachers of Alma College affect the students' lives, but also the administration, who are sometimes overlooked. In this case, however, Doris Brondstedder was not overlooked but awarded for her friendliness and helpfulness in Scottie's. A certificate of appreciation was given to her by the student government.

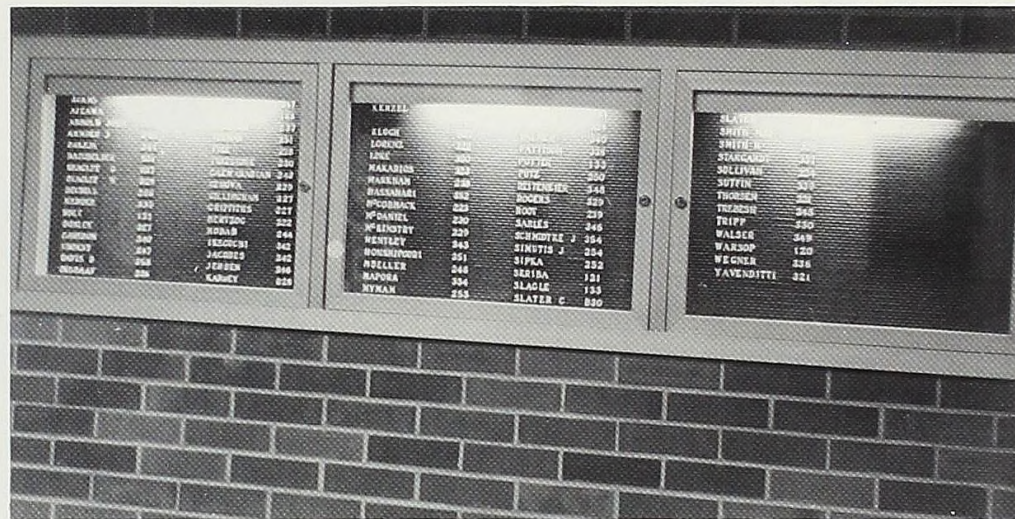

In the same manner, Murray Borello, professor of geology, was awarded for his dedication to his students at the Student Congress meeting where the Certificate of Appreciation was presented.

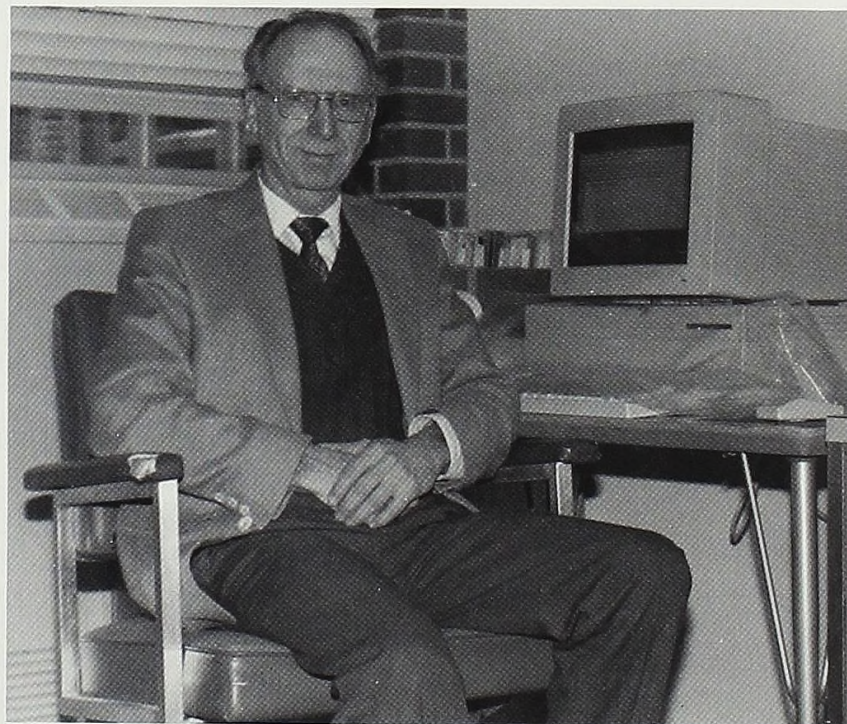

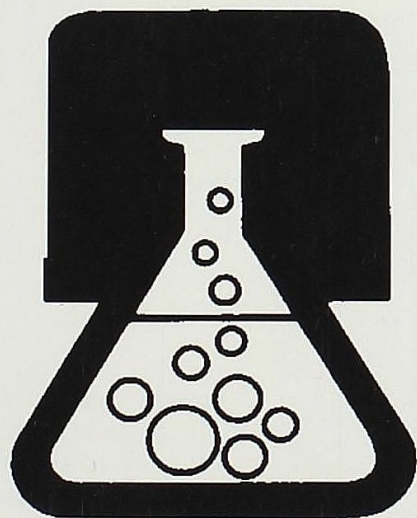

Geology professor Murray Borello reads in his office, a small cubby-hole in the basement of Dow where he studies, meets with students, grades exams, and classifies rocks.

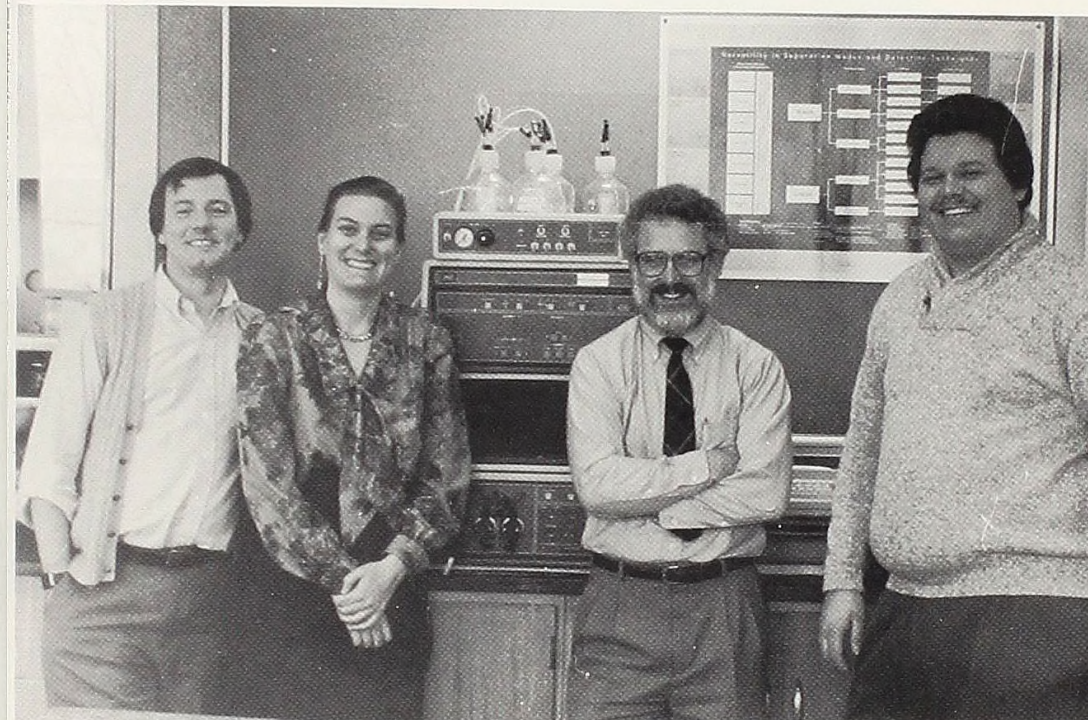

Dr. Bowker, Instructor Steinnett, Dr. Roeper, Dr. Kirk, Dr. Wittle, and Dr. Grimnes create the excellent faculty for our top-rated science department. They are all looking forward to the new building being completed for more efficient and up-to-date labs.

People rarely stop to notice the professors work, they barely stop to notice the hours put in by professors for the sole purpose of students. We should be thankful we're ready to go out into the world and we have them to thank.

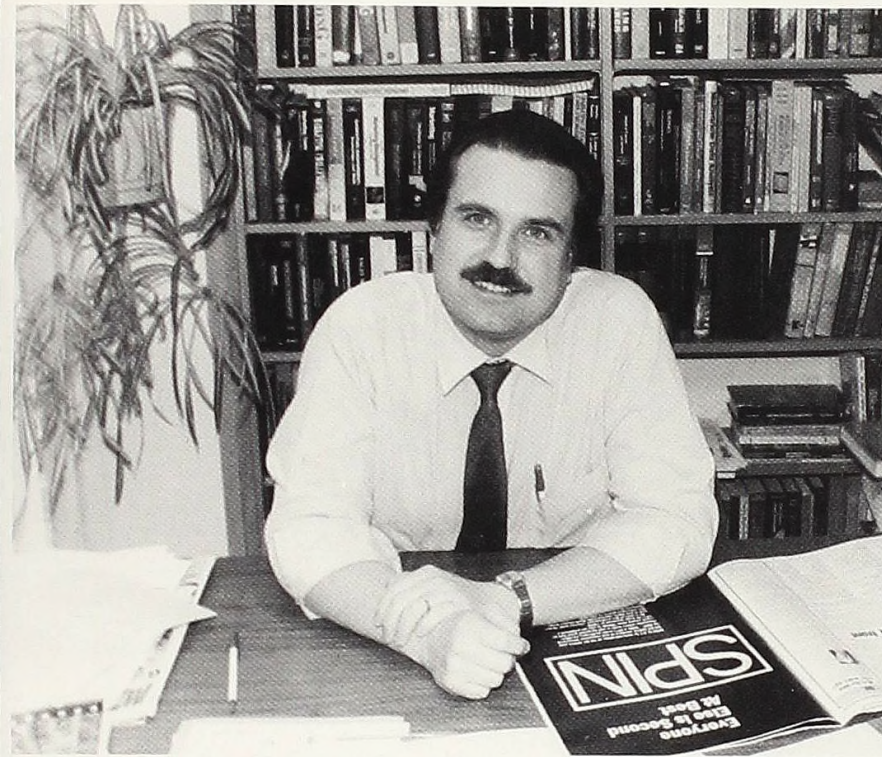

Mr. James Mueller is the Chariperson of the Economics Department this year. A possibility of the expansion of this department has been discussed.

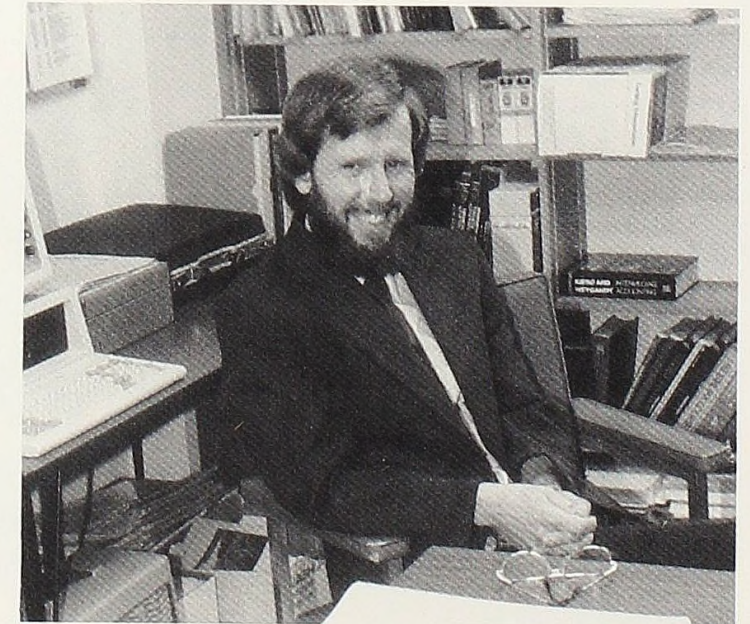

Alma College's Business Department is made up of six people: Finance professor Gene Hoban, Accounting professors Michael Trebesh and Randy Jacques, Management professor Elizabeth Cameron, Marketing professor Greg Baleja, and Senior Policy/Investment professor George Gazmararian.

Professor Greg Baleja has been at Alma for two years now as a marketing professor.

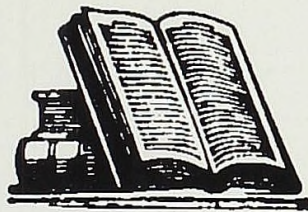

Dr. George Gazmararian teaches the Senior business classes.

Professor Randy Jacques teaches the beloved Accounting courses at Alma, he's the department head this year.

In the library it is always very easy to find a librarian, reference helper, or secretary to help you.

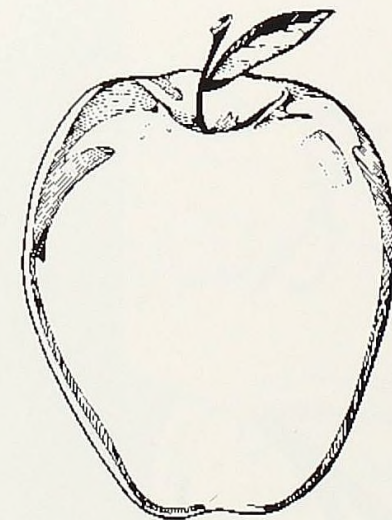

Kelly Barriger is a student who works in the library quite a bit. As you can see the librarians keep her busy.

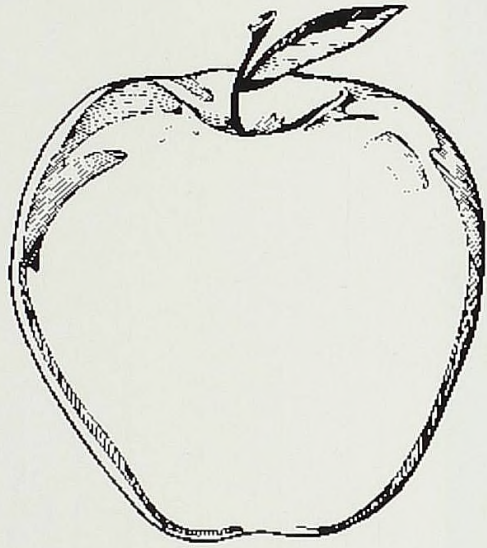

Michelle Myers, like many students at Alma, uses the xerox machine that's located in the library.

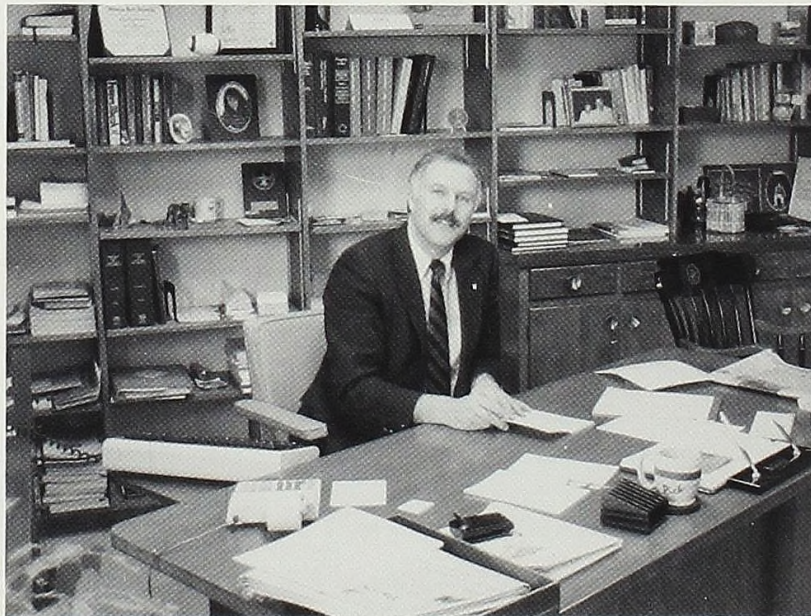

One can find students and faculty members reading while lounging in the black suede chairs at the library.

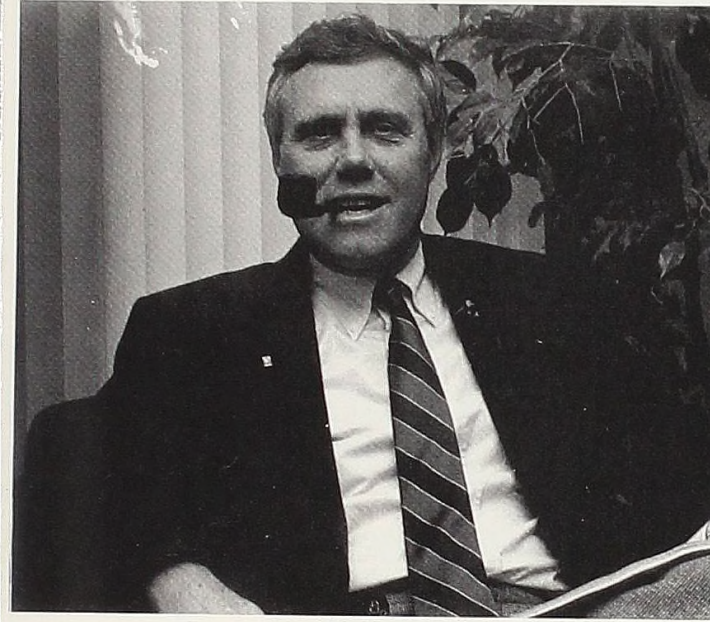

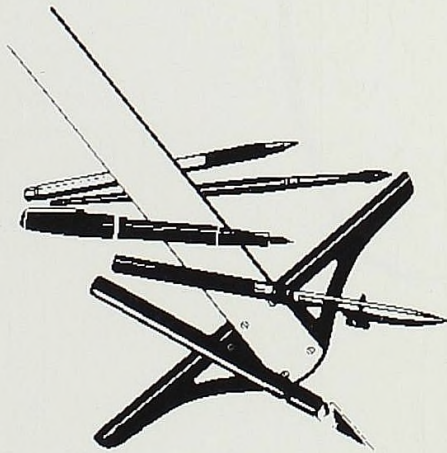

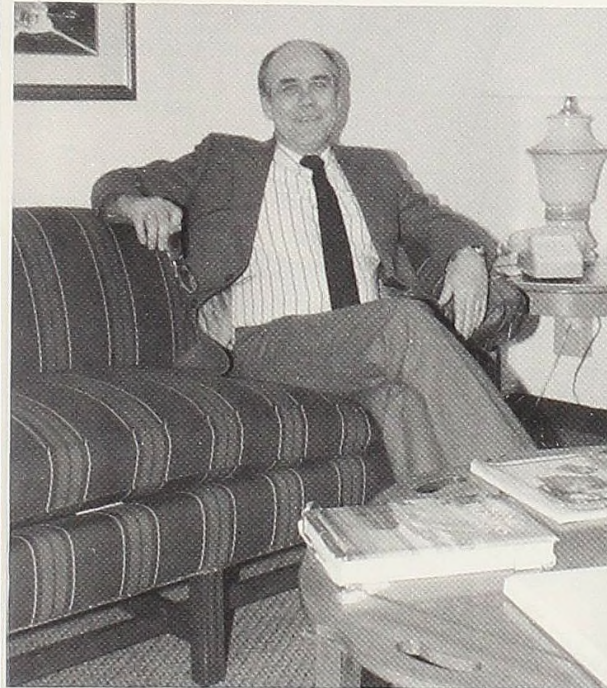

Dr. Joe Walser is known for his rewarding classes in Religion. Dr. Walser is acting Provost this year.

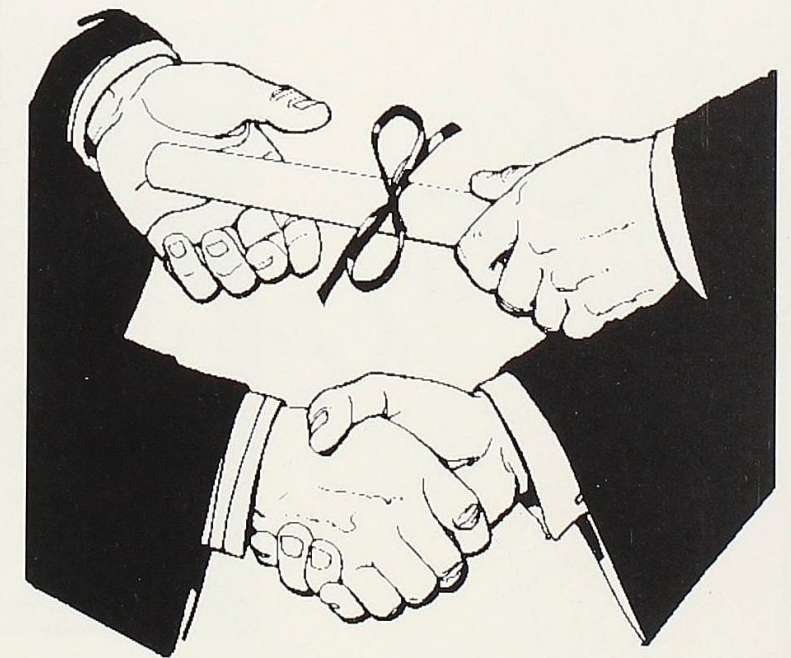

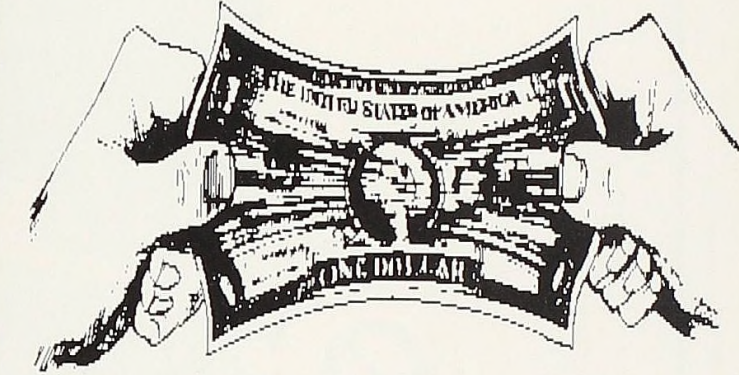

Dr. Rick Warmbold is Vice President for Development and Institutional Relations. As you can tell from his surroundings, Dr. Warmbold keeps quite busy.

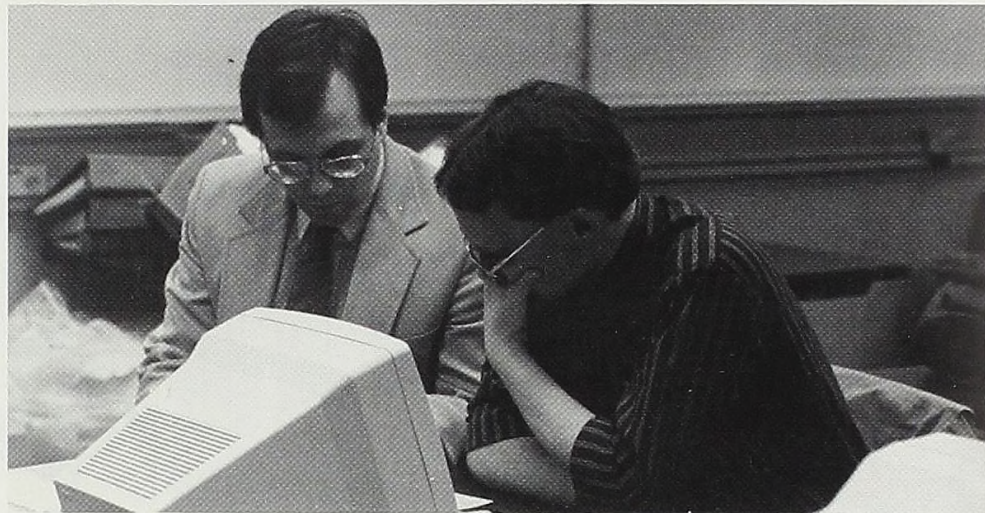

Jon Groteluschen is the Vice President of Finance for Alma College.

John Seveland is relatively new to the Alma College administration. He is the Vice President of Enrollment and Student Affairs.

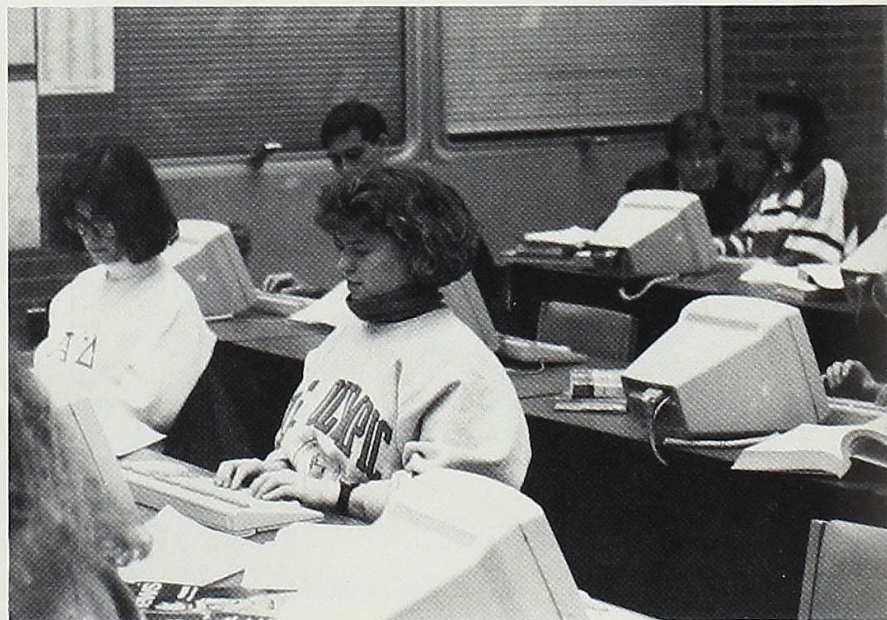

Students all over the campus use the computers for papers, assignments, resumes, letters, and the list goes on. Here a professor helps a lost student.

IRISH PUB

Another St. Patty's Day Party Rocks
On Into The Night In Van Dusen

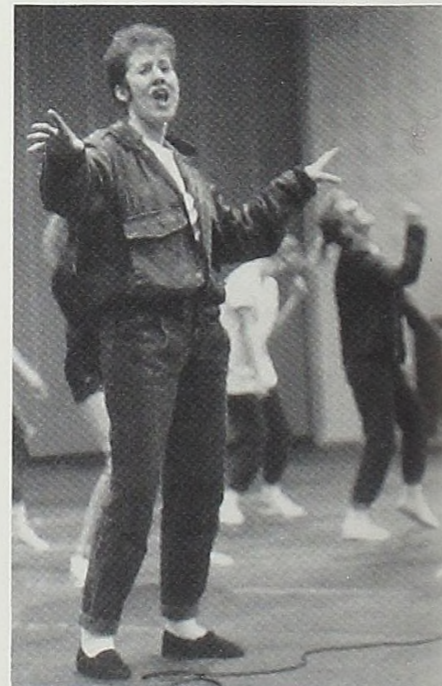

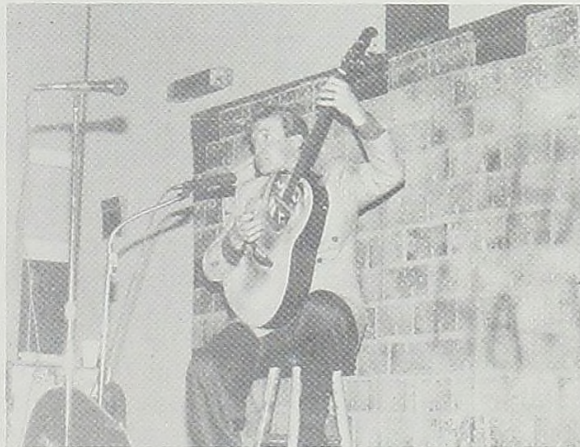

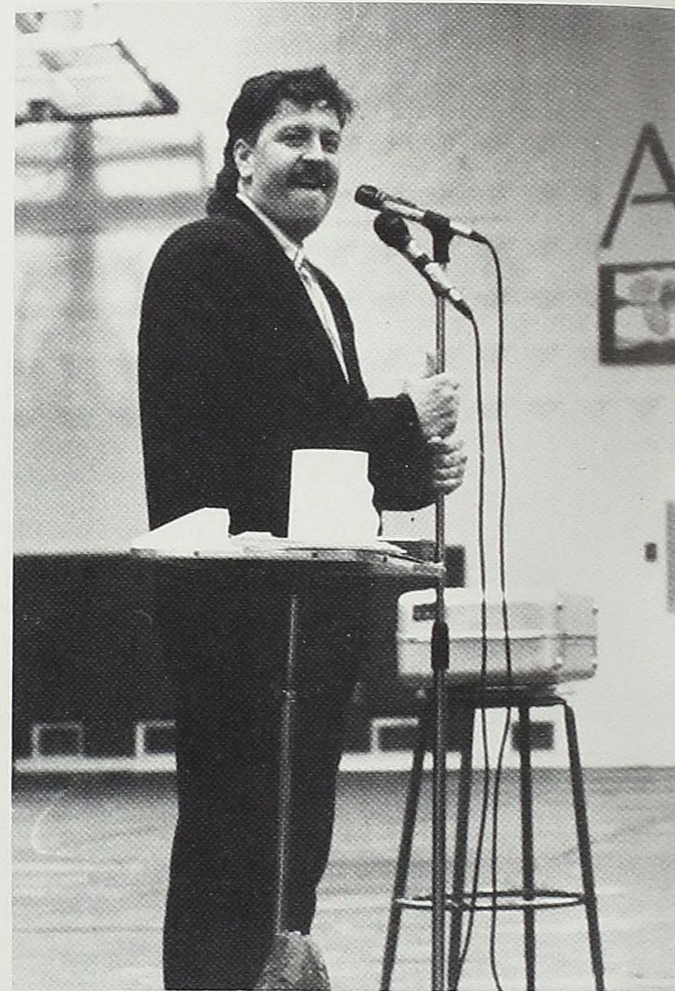

Every year around St. Patrick's Day, the Alma College Union Board organizes and sponsors a campus-wide dance known as, "Irish Pub." The event is always well attended by students not only because it is a good time but also because ACUB always hands out free Pub Mugs and serves green beer to everyone who is 21 and older. So if you are ever in need of an excellent time, you can always count on Irish Pub to chase those pre-spring blues away!

Clockwise from far right: 1) Cory and Christy toast to the occasion. 2) ACUB takes a breather for a moment before the crowds start pouring in. 3) Last minute preparations... 4) Having fun gals? 5) Whatcha thinking about, Jim? 6) Jenny, Carrie, Kay, and Tracy look like they are having a great time! 7) "Okay, Kristen, this is the story..." 8) Kelly, Sarah, Kelly and Mungo salute to Irish Pub. 9) Scott, get your mug out of the way!

ACUB EVENTS

Union Board Provides
Many Types Of Entertainment

In addition to Irish Pub, ACUB plans many other events to give life to the Alma College community during the weeknights and weekends. Some of these events included: Song-fest, College Bowl, The All-Nighter, Mock Rock, and various Coffee Houses. The group also sponsored year-round events such as comedians, movies, live entertainment, and other special activities.

THE RONALD O. KAPP LABORATORY CENTER

Alma College Gets A New Science Building

In honor of Dr. Kapp, the new science building (which is connected to the original Dow Science Building) was named after him. The laboratory center was under construction both fall and winter terms and is scheduled to be open for use next September.

THE TIME OF YOUR LIFE

Winter 1990 Play Proves To Be Dramatic

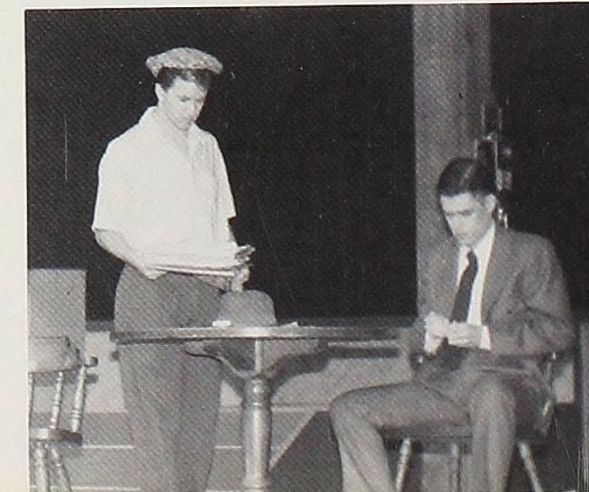

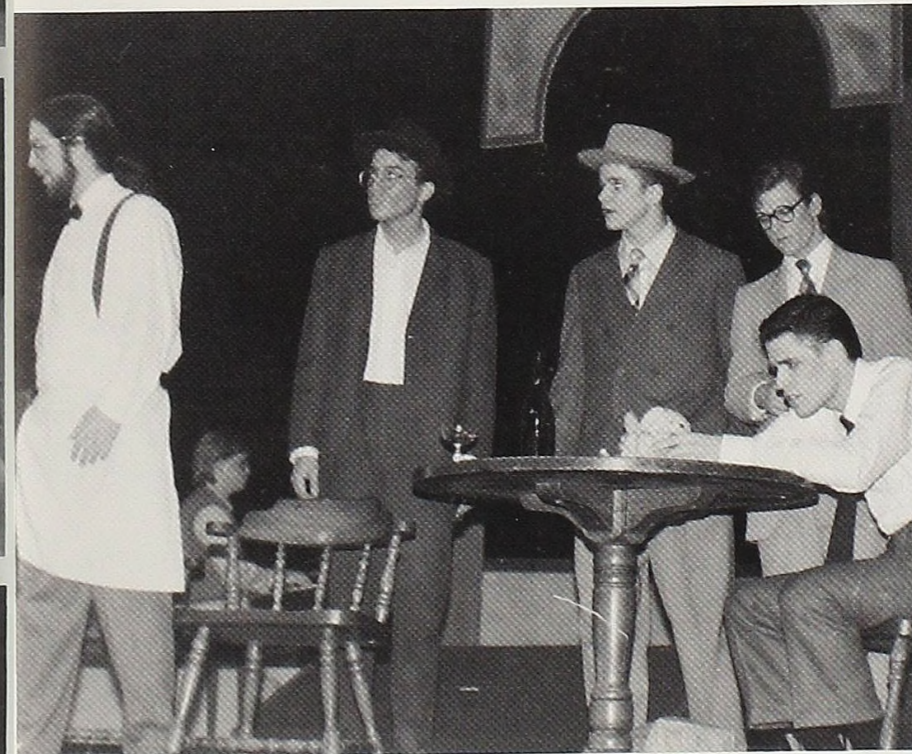

The Alma Players were busy with the preparation of "The Time of Your Life," a comedy-drama by William Saroyan, during January and February in anticipation of opening night on March 16. The play was set during the month of October 1939 in San Francisco at Nick's Pacific Street Saloon, a restaurant and entertainment place. The show didn't have a set plot but instead was kept alive by the intermixing of the most unique and interesting characters. Some of the personalities that were revealed on stage were: a slot machine addict, a man and his slumming society wife, a tap dancer, a story teller, a prostitute who wasn't happy with the life she led, an excited policeman, a kind bartender, and a boy who kept trying to call his girlfriend on the phone. The play was under the direction on Philip R. Griffiths, costumes were designed by Nancy Stark, set design and technical direction were overseen by Mark McDaniel, and Carol Fike arranged the choreography.

FALL & WINTER ORCHESIS

Semi-Annual Concerts Provide Entertainment

The 1989-90 school year saw Orchesis, Alma College's Dance Performance Group, grow in strength and variety as the dancers presented two very successful shows for the college and the Alma community. Dances varying from tap, jazz, and ballet all the way to avant garde were choreographed, practiced and performed at each concert. Overseeing the two productions from the director's chair was Carol Fike, professor of dance, and handling the technical direction was Mark McDaniel.

TALENT ABOUND AT SONGFEST

Everything Else Is Put On Hold For An Evening While Students Get The Chance To Perform

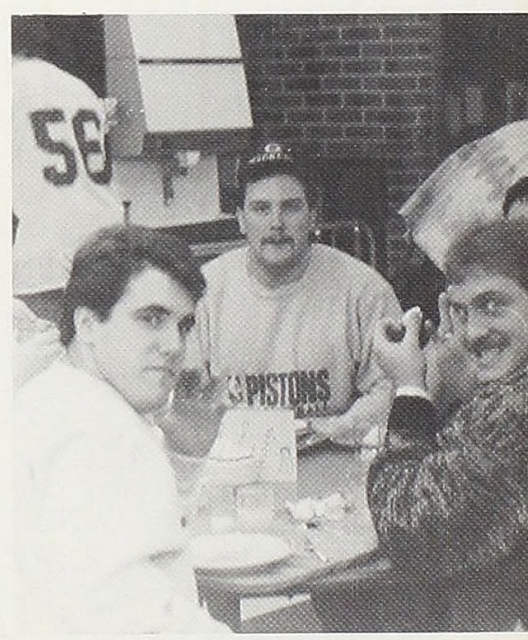

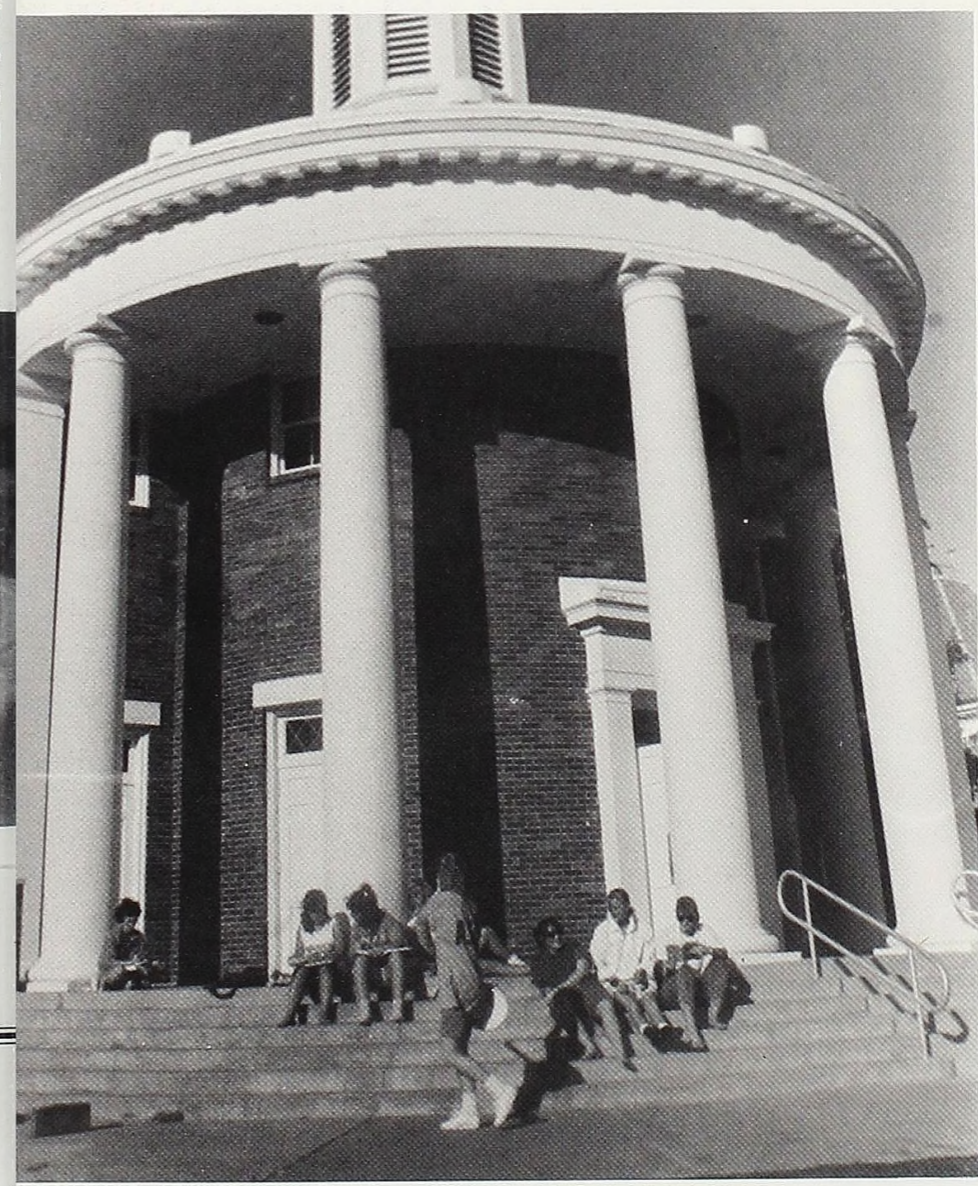

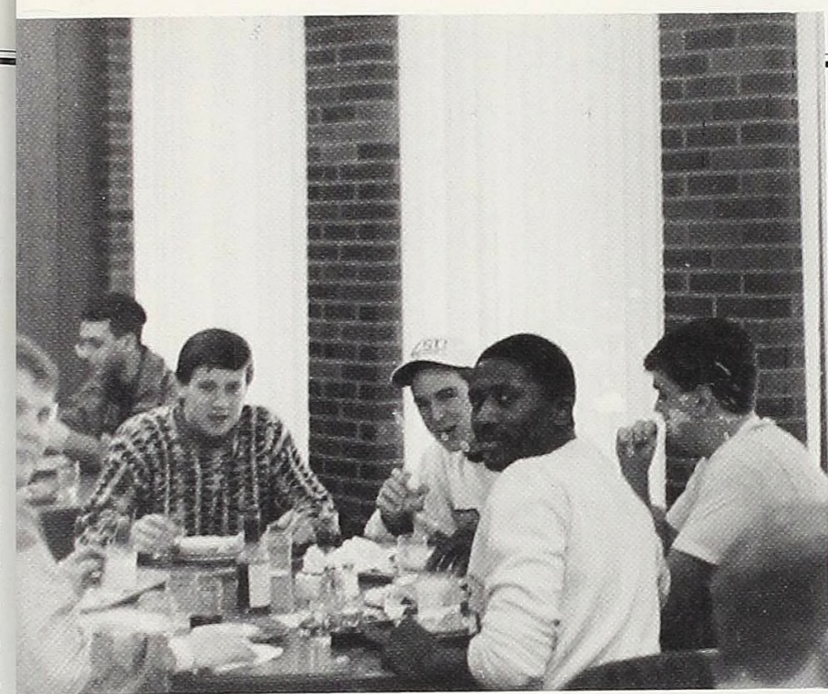

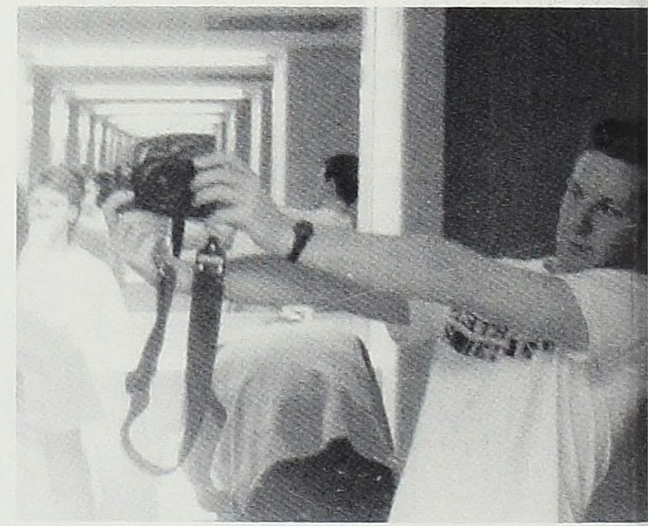

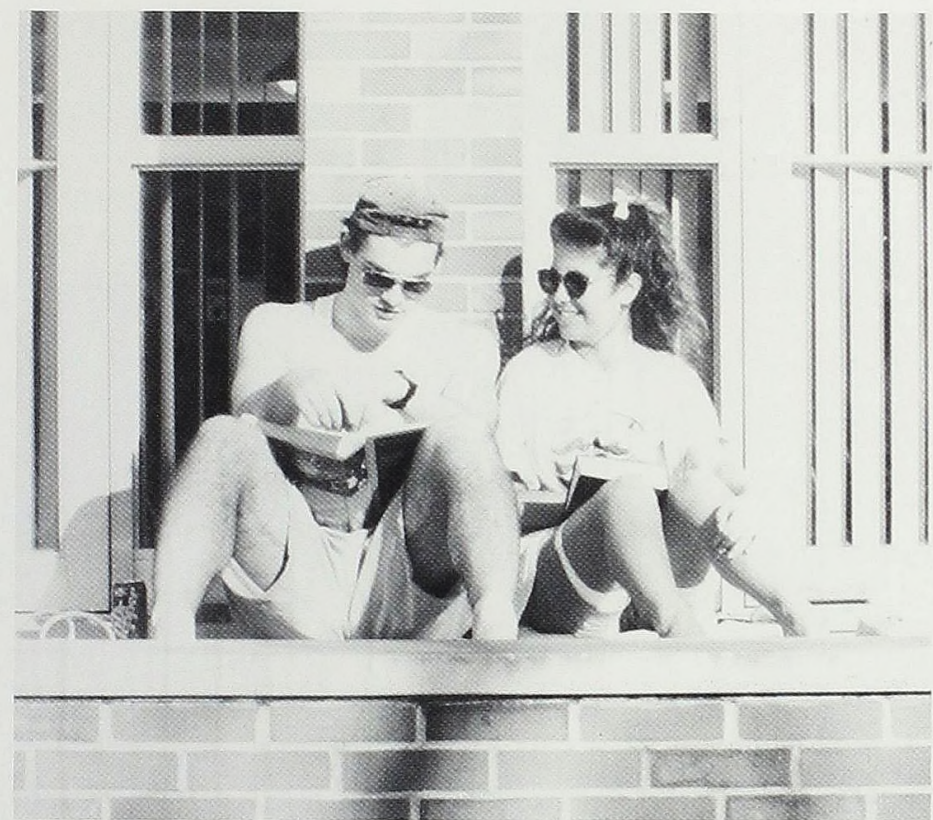

On March 25, the Chapel saw students from every corner of the campus assemble to pool their talent together in order to create an evening of entertainment for the college community. No one was disappointed as many talented artists took the microphone and sang some of their favorite songs. First place in the large group division was awarded to the Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority for their performance of "I Believe" while second place went to the Gamma Phi Beta Sorority, who sang, "Wind Beneath My Wings." In the small group division, a tie was awarded to two groups: the first consisting of Ruth Acton, Jenny Balten, Bill Eremia, Susan Garvey, Julie Kruse, and Cathy Pattengale who sang "Skye Boat Song;" and the other group including Becky Dine, Jeremy Evans, Neil Jorgensen and Andrew Kartsounes who sang, "Model of the Decorum and Tranquility." Jeremy Evan's "New York, New York" captured first place for the solo division and "Perfect Union," performed by Melanie Montello was awarded second. Songfest 1990 was organized by Tia Brandel and hosted by Dr. Doug Scripps.

CAMPUS CANDIDS

When the average person thinks of a small private college, one probably sketches a picture of students studying in the library, doing research in the science labs, and working diligently on projects. Granted, those types of things are done, but learning does not stop once the student is out of the classroom. Many extracurricular activities contribute to the well-rounded student's college career. Making up the majority of the student's fond memories are those times of just shooting the breeze, relieving stress, and taking it easy...we'll let the candid speak for themselves!

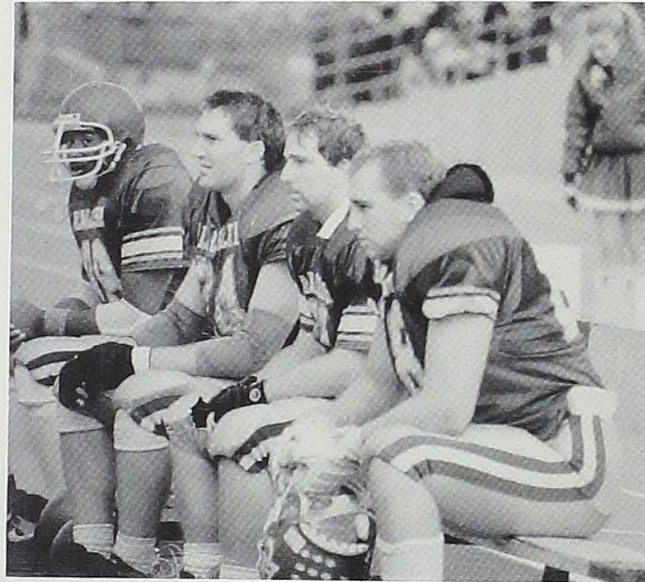

A Different Perspective From

FOOTBALL '89

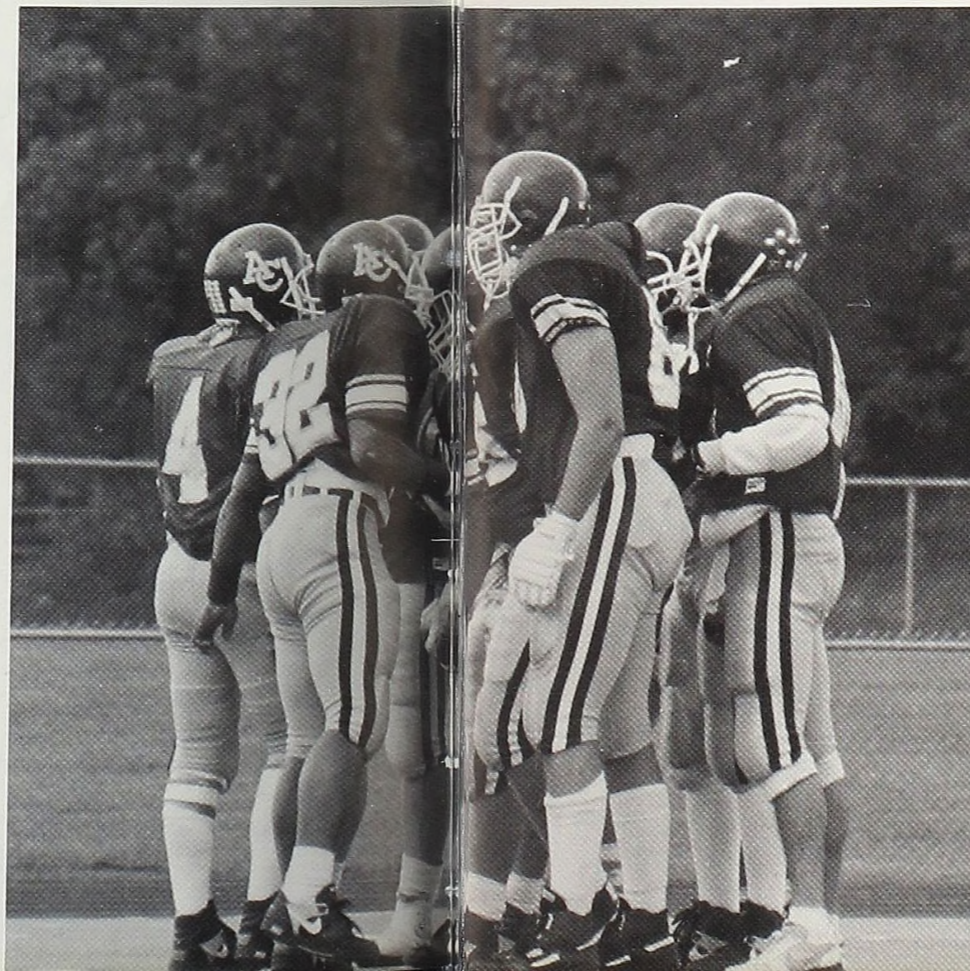

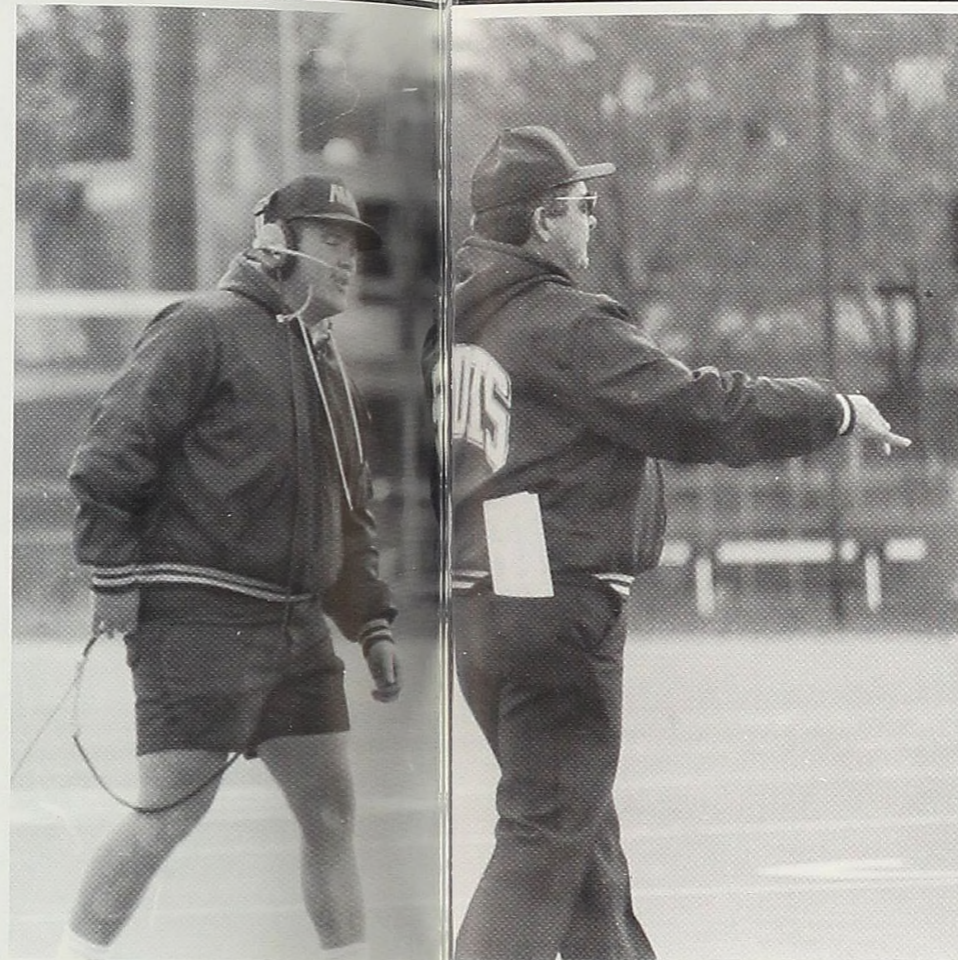

Seniors Lead the Way

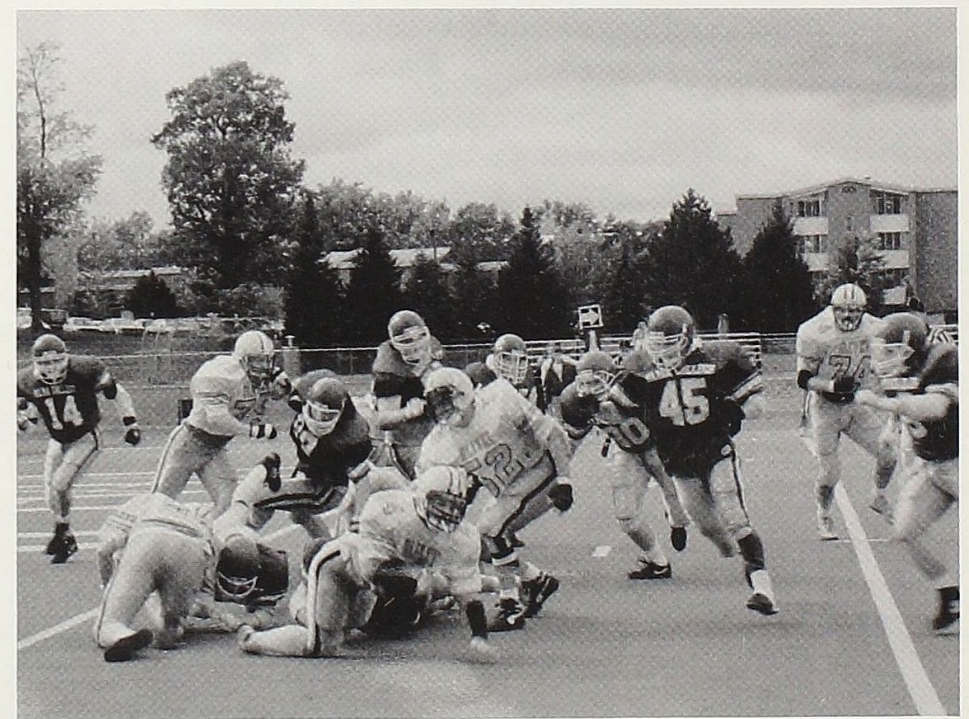

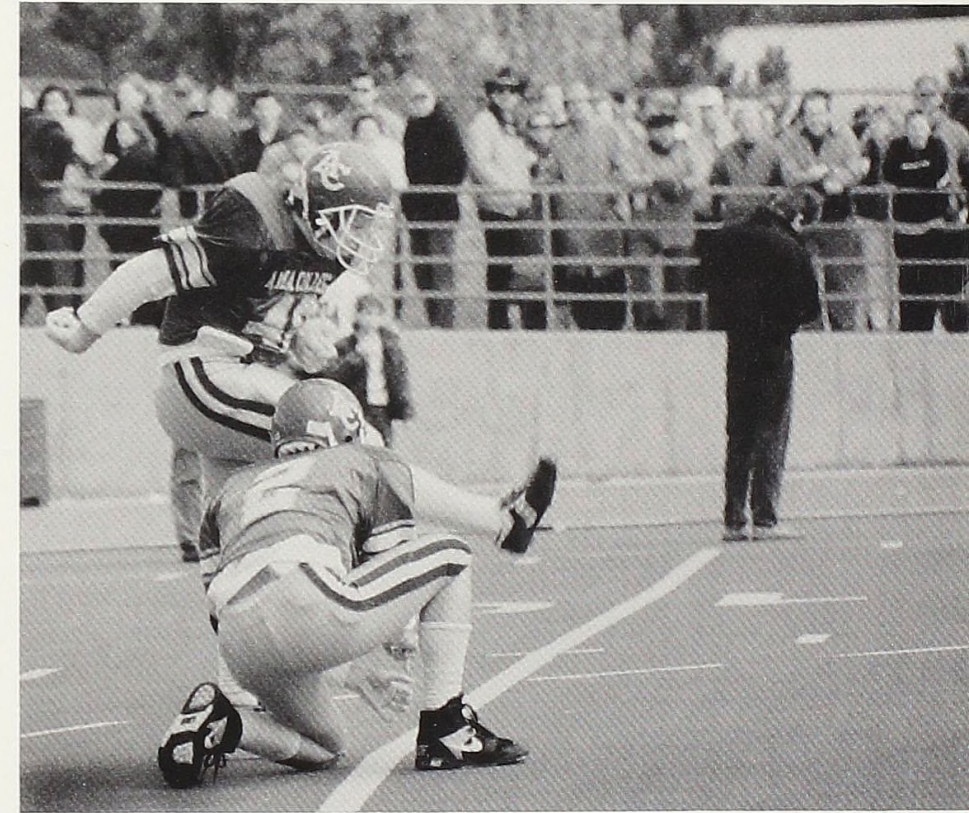

The 1989 Football team finished out the season with a record of 5 wins and 4 losses. The '89 squad placed 7th in the NCAA Division III with a total offense of 437.3 yards per game.

Individual honors included senior Aaron Fletcher as first team All-League for the second time and senior Aidan Lysaght as first team All-League for the second time. League leaders were junior Steve Kinne for total offense, senior Kevin Miller and senior Aaron Fletcher for pass receiving, sophomore Jay Vanduzen for kicking extra points, and junior Rob Hulverson for kick returns. The coaches for the '89 Scots were Head Coach Phil Brooks and assistants Jim Cole, Mike Cavanaugh, David Gierhart, Terry Hessbrook, Mike McClosky, Tracy Olrich, Mike Schanski, and Brian Zimmerman.

According to Head Coach Phil Brooks, "During their career, this year's seniors led the Scots to 21 victories and a league championship in 1988. They had four winning seasons in a row."

MEN'S SOCCER RECORD DOESN'T TELL THE STORY

The Scots Show a Lot of Heart

The 1989 Men's Soccer Team was a young and promising group, with plenty of potential. The team's overall record was 5-11-1 with a league record of 3-9. The captains of the '89 squad were senior Kirk

FIRST YEAR FOR WOMEN'S SOCCER

"We Will Succeed"

The first year for women's Soccer at Alma proved to be a good one. The Lady Scots finished out the season with 5 wins and 7 losses overall and 5 wins and 3 losses in Division III play. Individual honors for the Lady Scots included junior Michelle Wemple named as team MVP and first team All-League, junior Nancy McIntyre and junior Kathy Dunbar as second team All-

WOMEN'S CROSS COUNTRY FINISHES THIRD IN MIAA AND NCAA REGIONALS

Women Enjoy Another Good Year

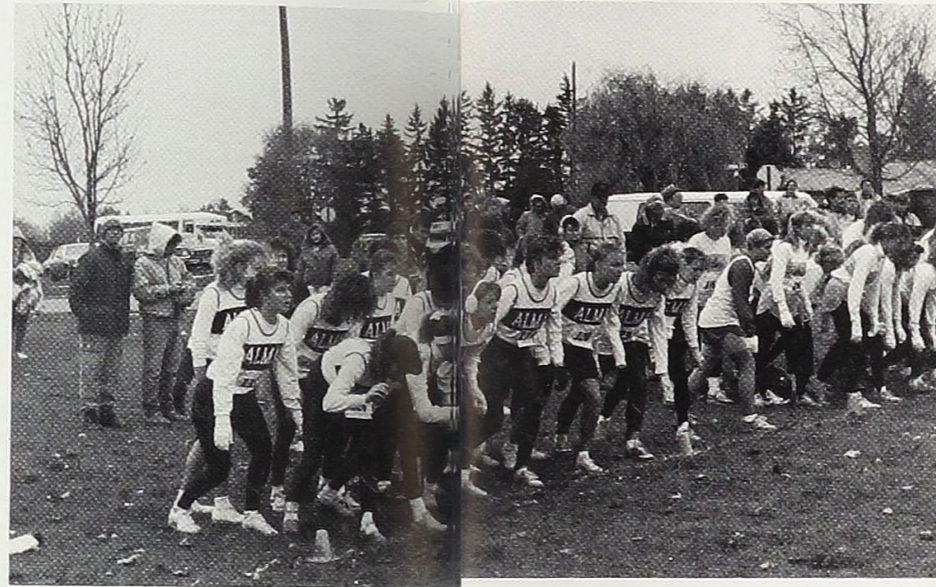

Although the 1989 Women's Cross Country team was unable to repeat its NCAA regional championship, the team was nationally ranked and had a fine season. The team's third place finishes in both the MIAA and the NCAA regionals highlighted the season.

Senior Kelly Chiba earned All-MIAA honors for the third time. Teammate Sarah Braunfeiter, a sophomore, also earned All-MIAA honors for the second time. Captain Amy Wolfgang, a senior, finished the season with All-MIAA recognition and also as the team's most valuable runner. Coach for the 1989 team was Charles Gray.

MEN'S CROSS COUNTRY SHINES

Men Take Third Place

The 1989 Men's Cross Country team enjoyed their highest NCAA regional finish, third place. The 1989 squad also placed third in the MIAA.

Junior Bill Arnold served as team captain and was selected as the team's most valuable runner. Senior Dana DeWitt was the team's most improved runner. The coach of the 1989 squad was Charles Gray. He looks forward to an even better finish next year. "With the four top runners returning, the 1990 squad should be even stronger."

VOLLEYBALL TAKES SECOND IN THE LEAGUE

Let's Have Some Fun

The 1989 Volleyball team managed to have some fun while they took second place in the league. The team's overall record was 18 wins and 12 losses. The highlight, and perhaps the turning point in the season, was a runner-up trophy at the Baldwin-Wallace Invitational in Berea, Ohio. The team captains were seniors Shannon Clement and Karla Steinke. Individual honors included junior Laura Holmes as team MVP and first team All-League, junior Shannon Nichols as team Most Improved Player and honorable mention All-League, and senior Shannon Clement as second team All-League.

The Junior Varsity also had some fun as they tied for first place in the league. Their overall record was 8 wins and 3 losses. The coaches for the Lady Scots were Head Coach John Chiodini and assistant Charlie Goffnett.

'89-'90

CHEERLEADERS

The 1989 Football Cheerleading Squad consisted of nine enthusiastic girls. Captain Carrie Skinner, a sophomore, commented that although at times it was frustrating trying to mesh cheering styles, the season was a lot of fun. "We all got along really well and had a lot of fun supporting the team," Skinner said.

The 1989-90 Basketball Cheerleading Squad consisted of ten girls. The captains were Sophomore Karen Foote and Freshman Amy Joesph. The squad managed to squeeze a one and a half hour practice every non-game day. Their hard work also paid off as they, too, enjoyed their season.

The 1989-90 Cheerleaders were Janean Carey, Carrie Skinner, Holly Fenwick, Peggy Dewey, Karen Foote, Tonya Frisbee, Renee George, Katie Kinne, Amy Joesph, Christine Perez, Nichole Biebuyck, and Heather Osterman.

POM PON

Although the 1990 Pom Pon Squad was plagued by a late start, they came on strong and finished out their season by performing at the last three home basketball games. The captains of the '90 squad were Michelle Snaddon and Lisa Duetsch. The squad worked hard practicing for an hour and a half every week night. They feel that with an early start the season should go a lot smoother.

The 1990 Squad consisted of seven girls. They were Michelle Snaddon, Lisa Duetsch, Hillary Hodge, Patty Westphal, Cathy Tloczynski, Michelle Judd, and Melinda Judd.

I.M. INVOLVED

Intramurals provide fun and exercise

The 1989-90 Intramurals proved to be as exciting and fun as any other year. The students came out in good numbers to get involved and were glad that they did. One participant commented that intramurals were a good way to meet new people and burn a few calories at the same time.

Flag football, volleyball, basketball, and softball are the intramural sports that are participated in on the Alma Campus. Each draws a little different type of person and, therefore, offers something for everyone. Although intramurals are supposed to be just for fun, many take the games very seriously. Each team would like to brag that it was the "I.M. Champion."

Whether on the court or field playing, sitting in the stands cheering, or refereeing, all who choose to participate earn the right to say "I.M. Involved. I.M. a winner."

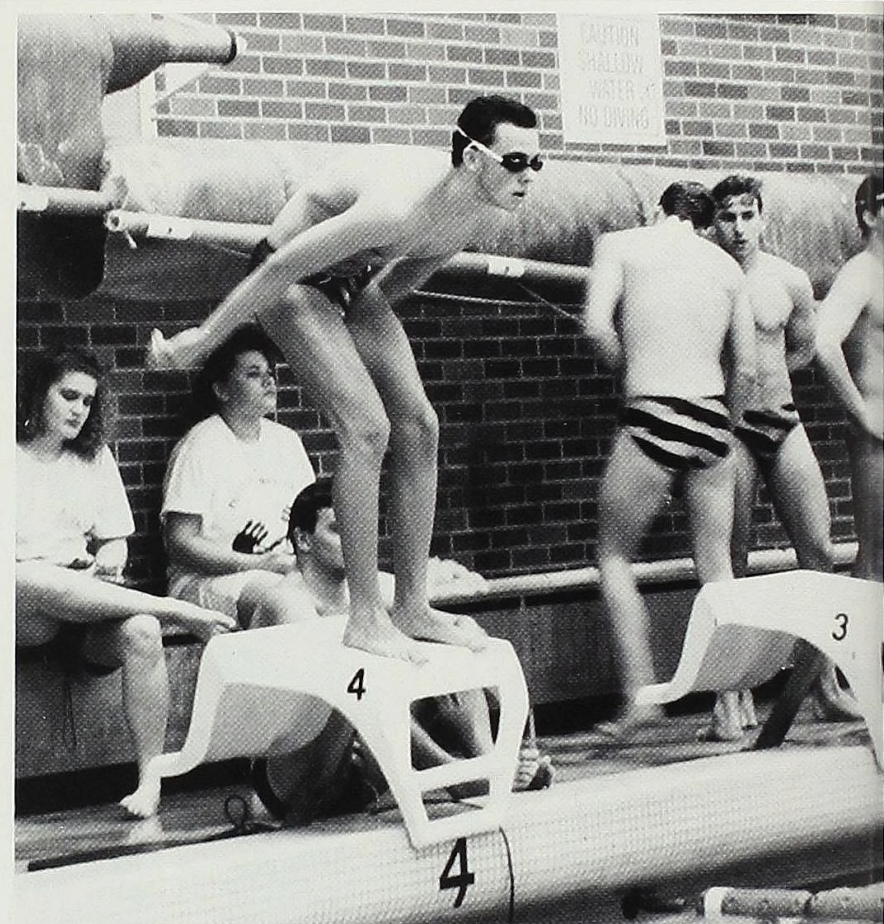

Basketball Intramurals provided fun and challenge as these participants can certainly attest to.

Swim Team Makes Big Splash

Hard Work Pays Off

Despite low numbers and a very young team, the 1989-90 Scots Swim Team had a promising season. The team consisted of four men and twelve women. There was only one woman diver and no men divers this season. Over Christmas break, the team traveled to Boca Raton, Florida to train at the Mission Bay Aquatic Center. The highlight of the season was the Conference Meet hosted by Alma. Many records were broken. Coach Kathy Davis spoke very highly of her 1989-90 team. "They are a very close team, definitely the hardest working team in the last five years."

The team captains were Charlene Bartley, Lise Eberly and Jim Ledyard.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL TEAM OVERCOMES ODDS

Hustle and determination, keys to success

It was a season of overcoming obstacles for the 1989-90 Women's Basketball team. Last year's league champions, the Lady Scots stepped onto the court much smaller this season. Head Coach Charlie Goffnett

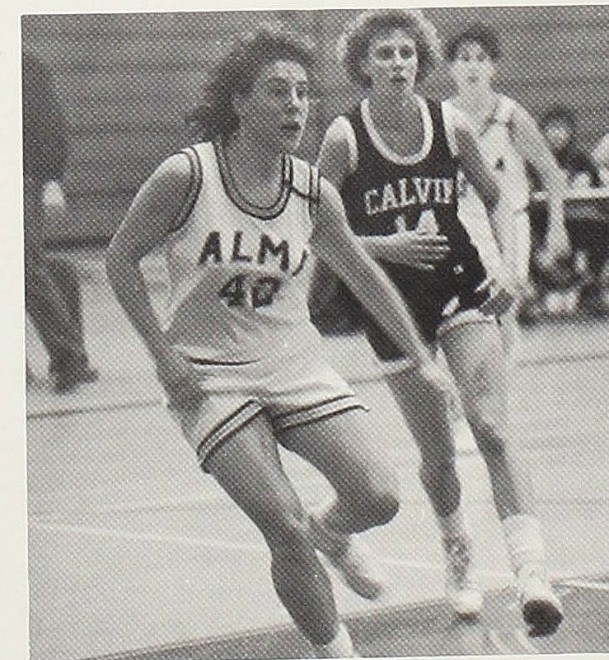

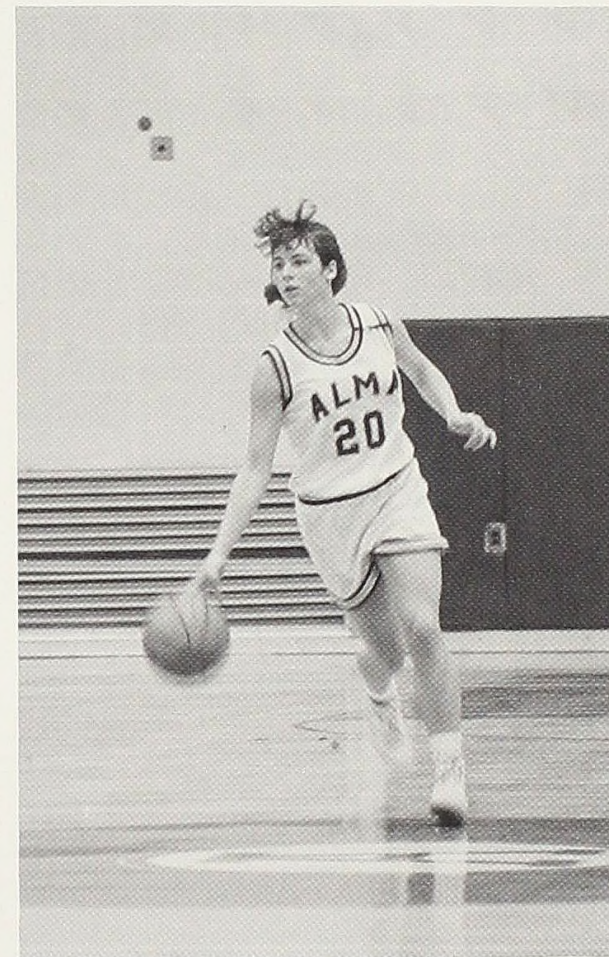

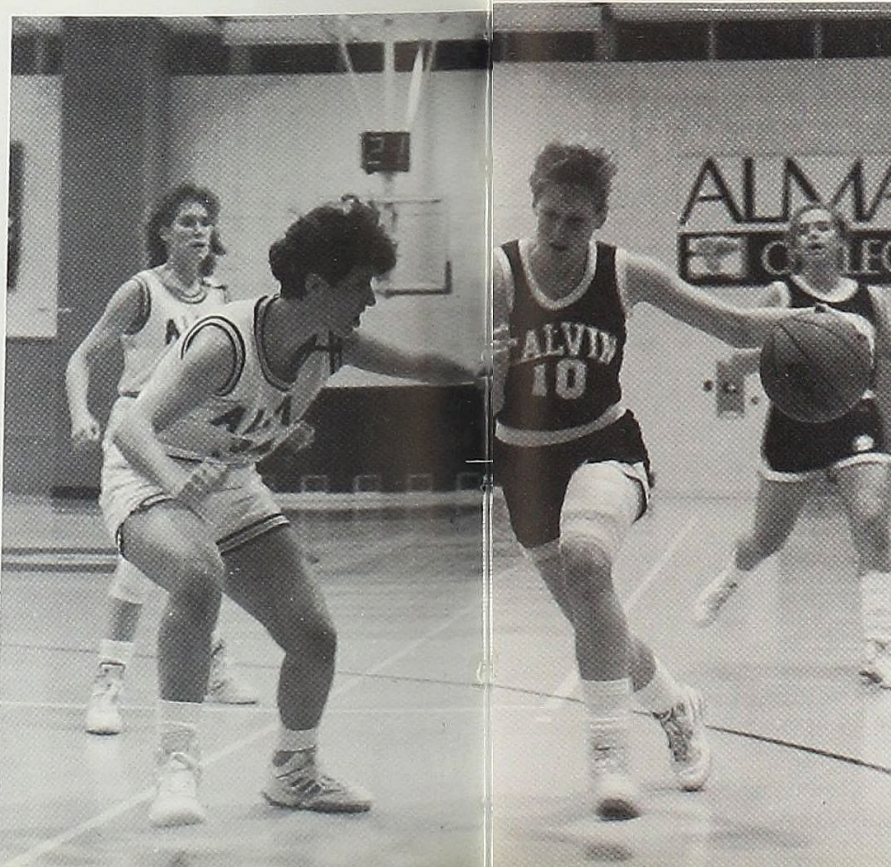

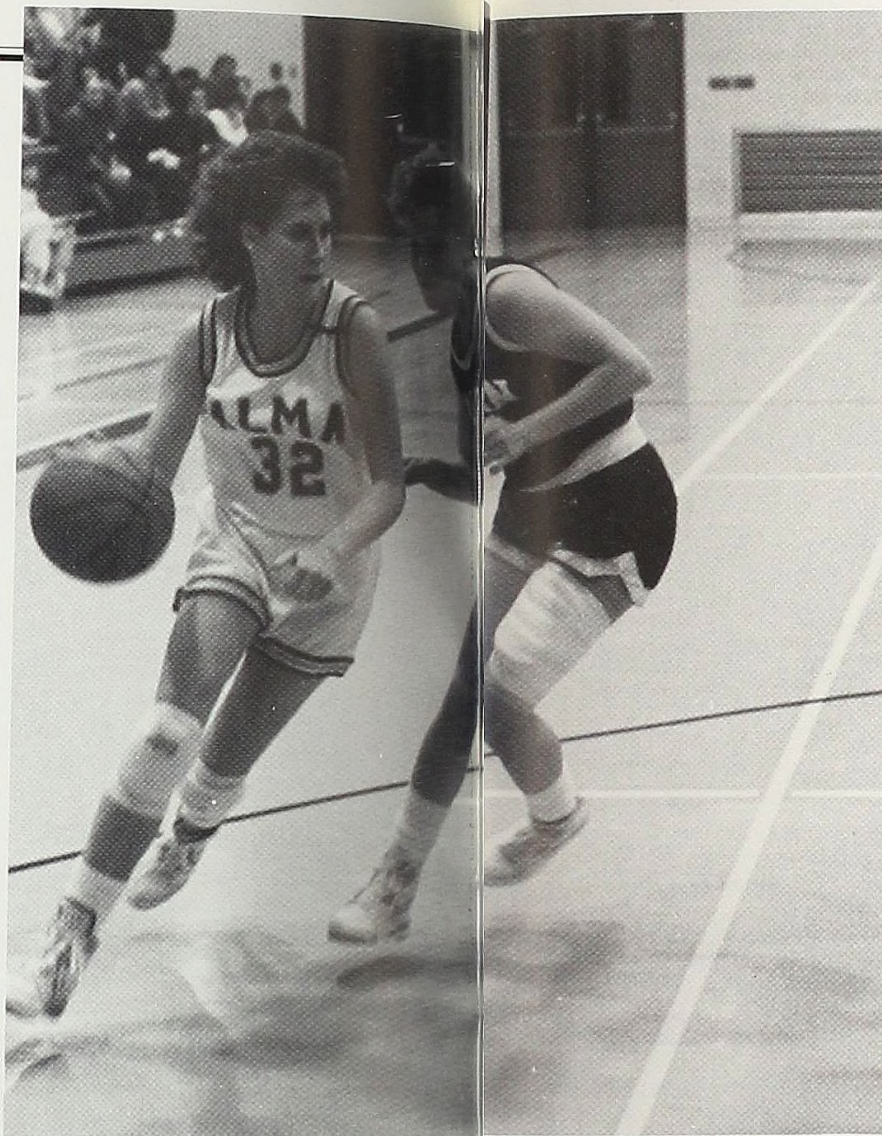

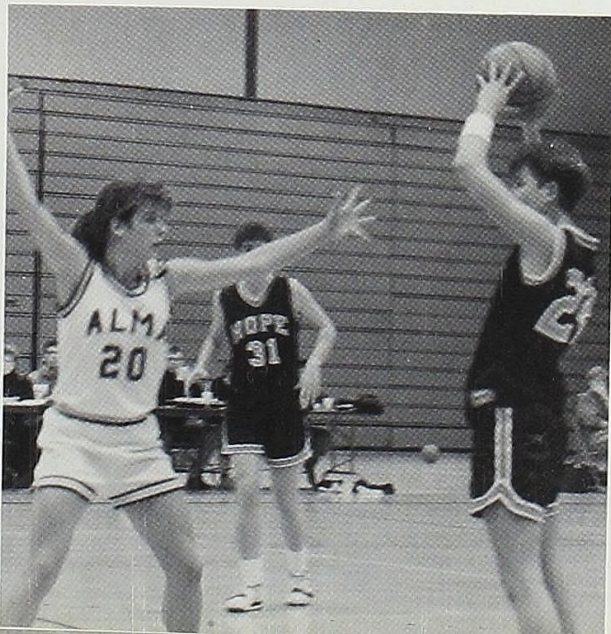

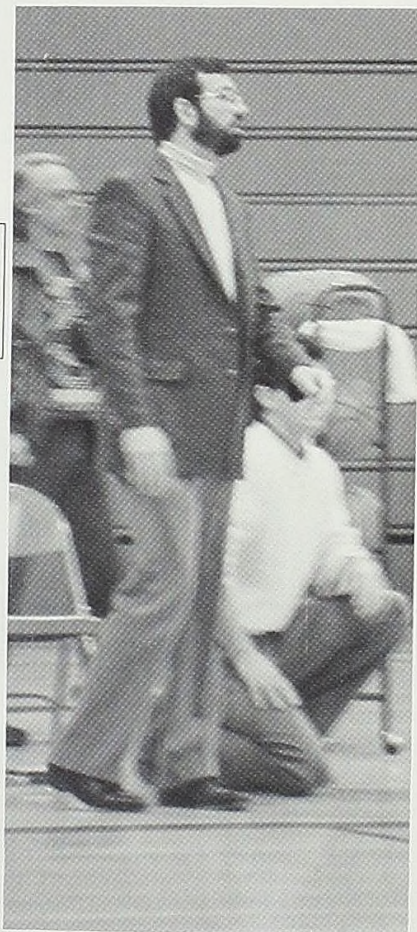

"They're gutsy. They've worked hard for everything they've gotten."

- Coach Goffnett

referred to the problem as the "David and Goliath" issue. He went on to say that even though the team was smaller and sometimes less experienced as opponents, they had the hustle and determination to come out on top. They had the necessary leadership that proved to be the best defense. The best defense literally as the Lady Scots were the best defensive team in the league. They held most opponents to under fifty points.

The captains, Chris Comtois and Kelly Spalding, were two of the six seniors on the team. Coach Goffnett was assisted by Mark Guyette.

The Junior Varsity team took the court with a very balanced scoring attack. Finishing the season right around the .500 mark, this young team came on strong the second half of the season. Junior Varsity coach Bill Klenk commented, "The key is improving each game and that's what we did."

Men's Basketball Builds For Future

"1-2-3 TEAM!"

Team unity was the key to the 1989-90 Men's Basketball season. The team finished out the season at the .500 mark. This was credited to a tough schedule and the adjustment to the new coach and player responsibilities. Through these adjustments, the team stuck together and should be much stronger next year. New Head Coach Bob Eldridge commented that his transistion was facilitated by the high quality of players on the team.

The highlight of the 1989-90 season was winning the Citrus Hill Tournament in Lake Wales, Florida. Coach Bob Eldridge was assisted by Rob Boden. The Junior Varsity was coached by Stan Schneider and Terry Hessbrook.

A BIG HIT

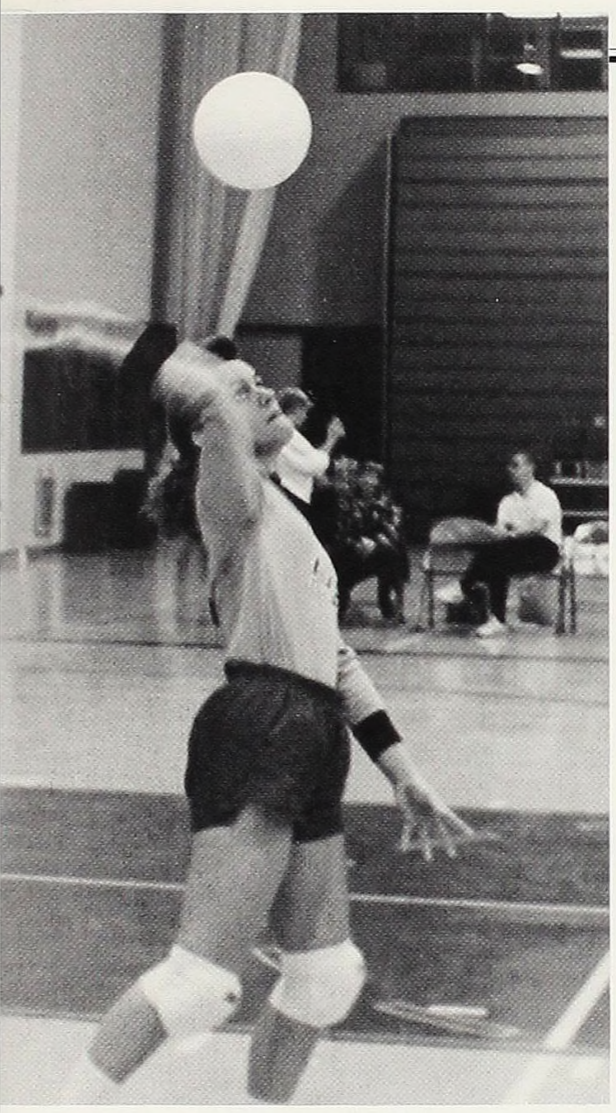

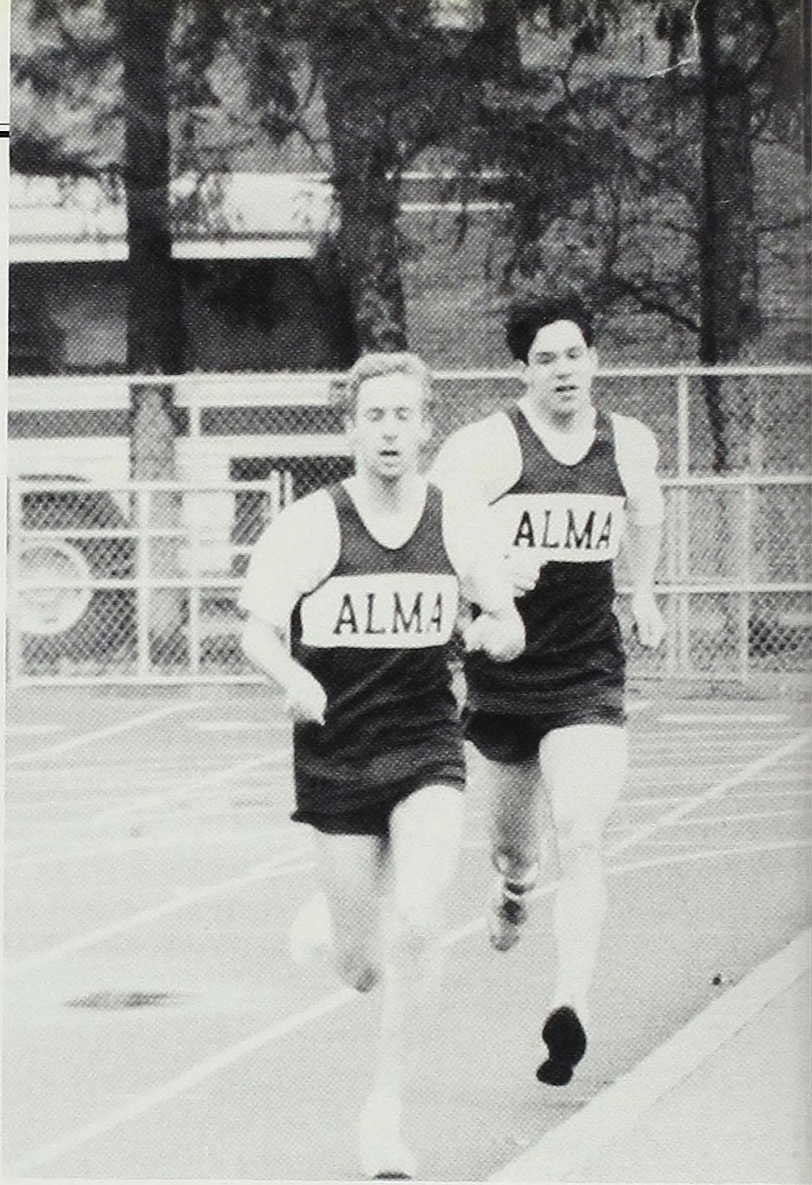

Softball record is impressive

With two all-MIAA and all-region performers anchoring the Scots, the 1990 Women's Softball Team figure to challenge for the 1990 MIAA league title. Eight of nine starters are returning to the team. Coach Denny Griffin is looking forward to another 20 win season.

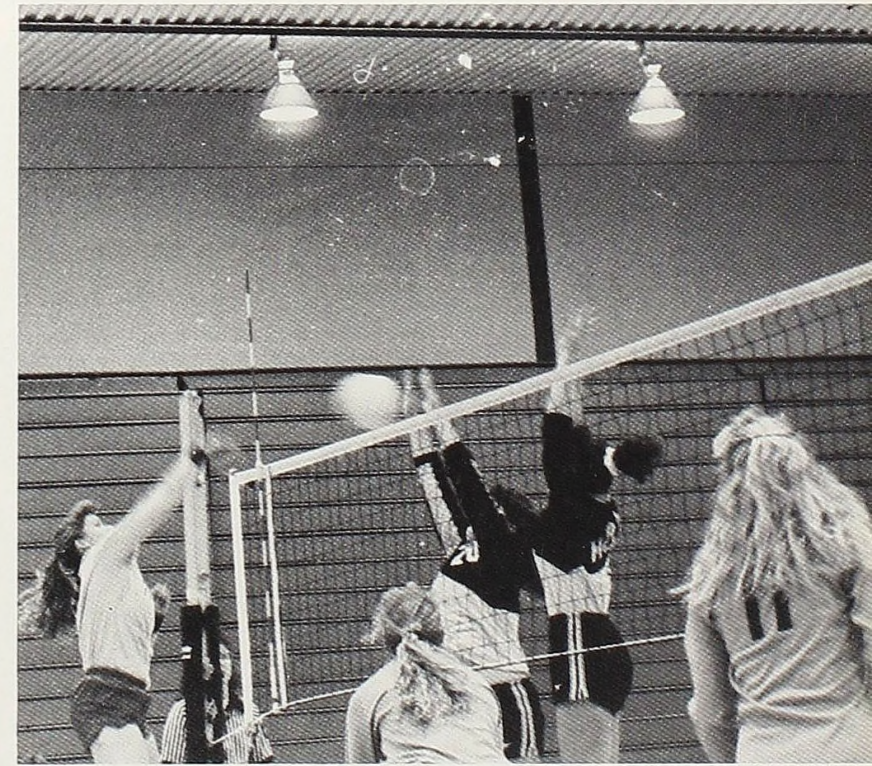

Seniors second baseman Stephanie Bailey, shortstop Kim Johnson, and third baseman Kim Geer lead the 1990 team. Bailey holds the league record for triples and several Alma College offensive records. Junior Treeter Johnson returns to the mound this season. She is joined by Junior Debbie Mertz and sophomore Meredith LaBrecque.

The Scots will host the First Alma Invitational, a six-team tournament. The Scots hope to keep the trophy in Alma as they face five teams during the two day tournament.

The Head Coach for the Scots is Denny Griffin.

The Scotsman Staff is very sorry, but the softball negatives were accidentally destroyed. We apologize for this tragic happening. The photographs shown on these two pages are simply sports candids.

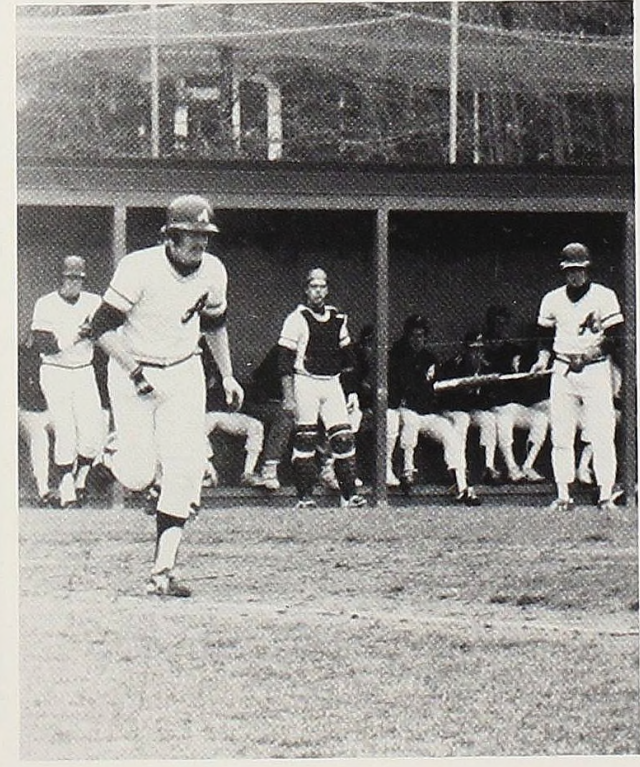

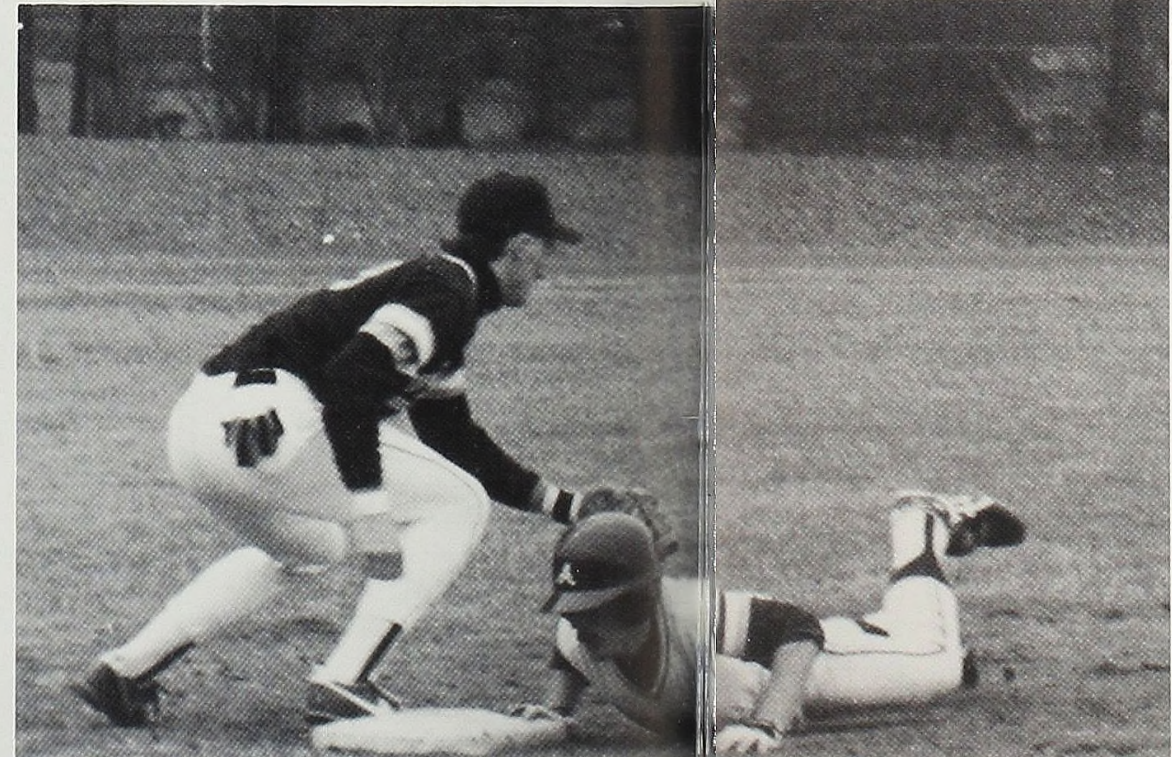

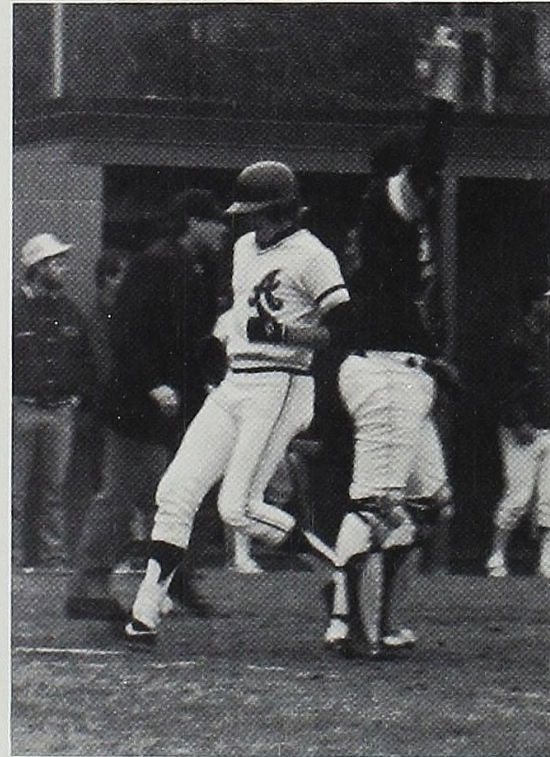

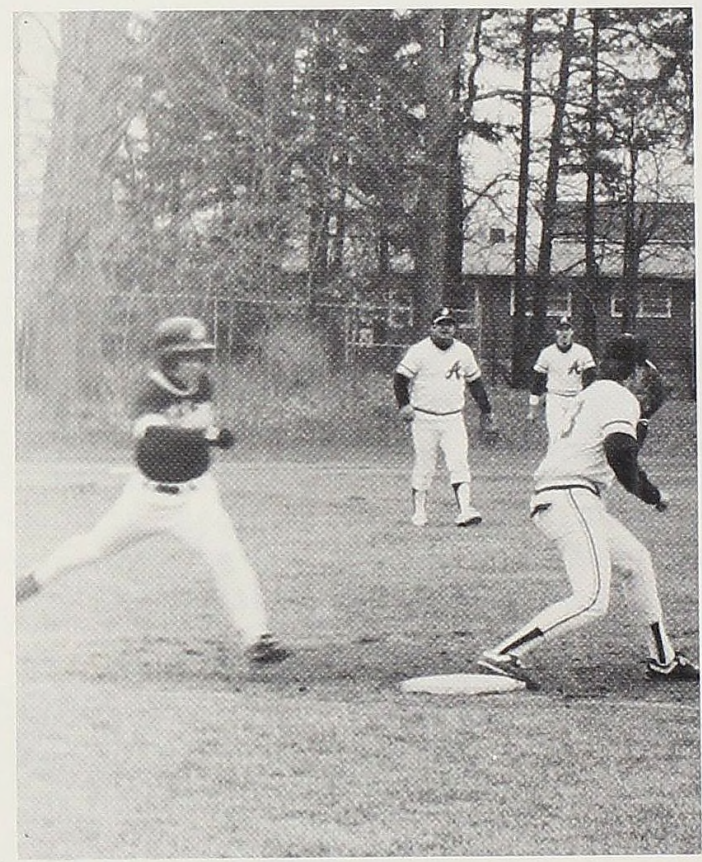

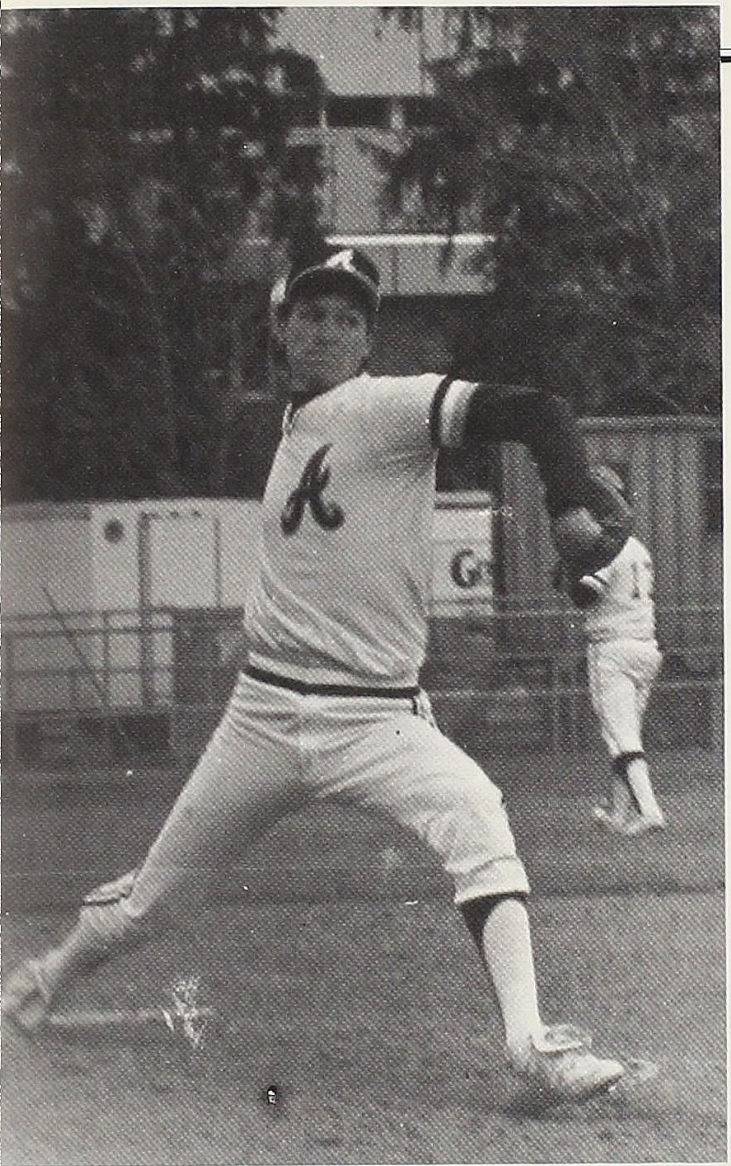

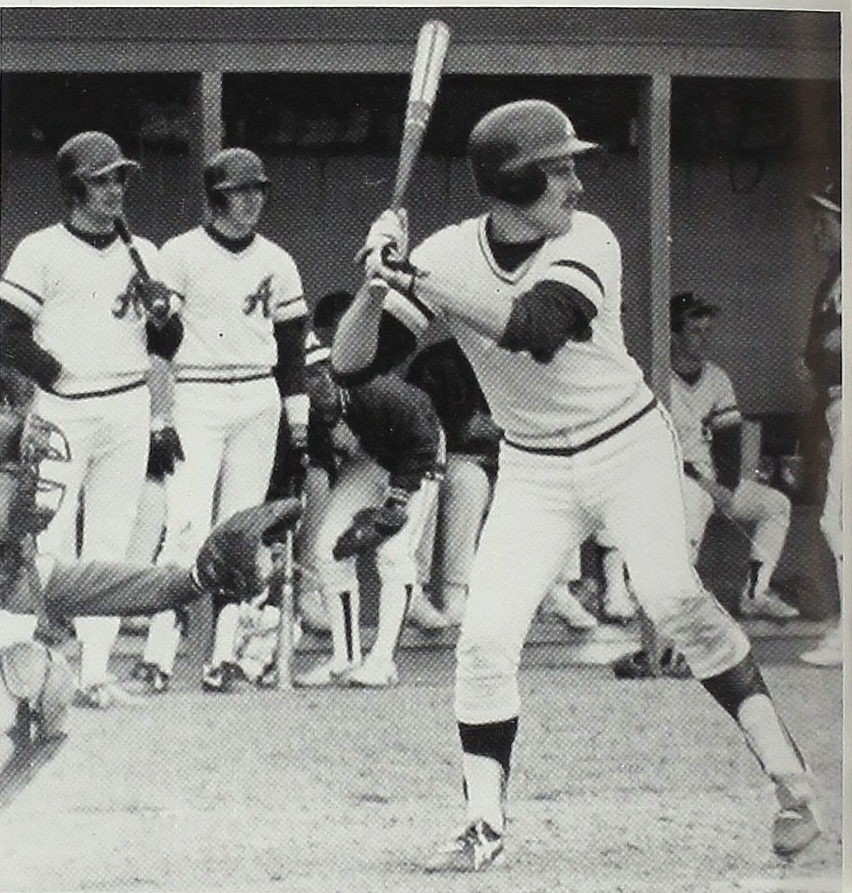

BASEBALL IS HOPEFUL

Scots rebuild

A veteran infield in front of a seasoned outfield make the 1990 Alma Baseball Team a confident contender for the league title. The team lost three key players, yet, is encouraged by the replacements.

Seniors pitcher Darby Wiler, outfielder Tom Rogala, outfielder Mike Johnstone, and outfielder/designated hitter Mike Nixon led the 1990 team. The returning pitching staff consists of senior Darby Wiler, junior Jamie Fought, and sophomore Tom Harris. Sophomore Kris Murphy is the starting catcher. The team looks forward to success from the revamped infield.

Wiler is the team captain for the 1990 team. The head coach is Bill Klenk. He is assisted by Bob Eldridge.

WOMEN'S TRACK ON TOP

"Get set for six!"

After five league championships in a row the Alma Women's Track Team does not plan on letting up. The team's motto this year is "get set for six," and evidently that is what they are planning on doing. The team traveled to Indiana for an Invitational (change!!) in April where they took first place. They show a lot of promise and are favored to win the league — again.

Amy Wolfgang, who qualified for the nationals last year, Jill Pope, a two-time league championship winner in the heptathlete, Deana Anderson, Teresa Wood, Dee Dee Grant, and Kelly Chura make up the Senior leadership of the 1990 team. The team consists of 36 athletes in all. The Head Coach of the Women's team is Jim Cole. He is assisted by Charlie Gray, Emerson Green, Jack Grant, Mike Schanski, and Carlos Torro.

CLIMBING TO THE TOP

Best team in eight years

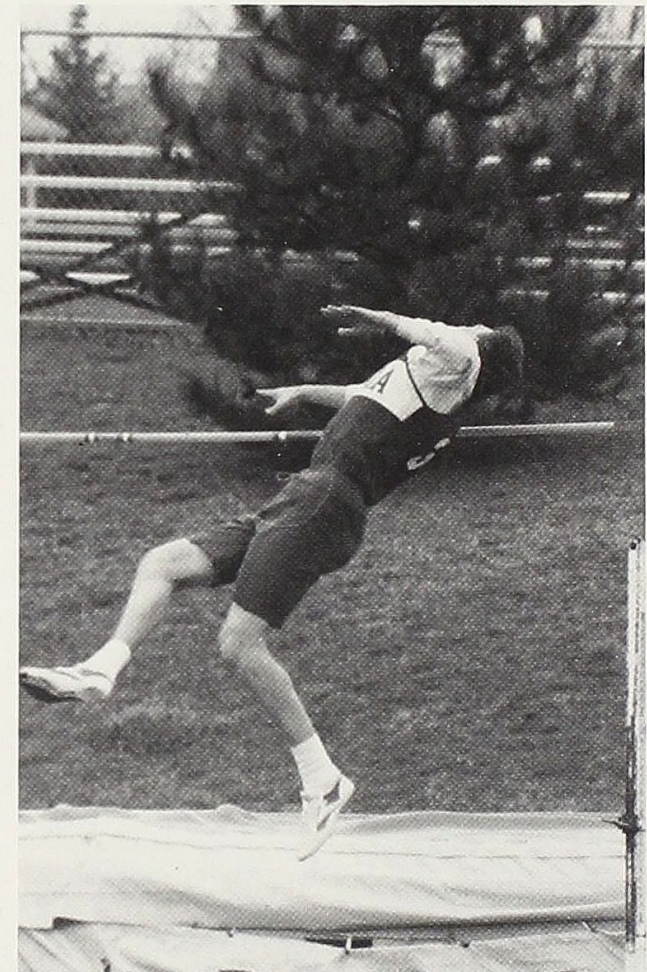

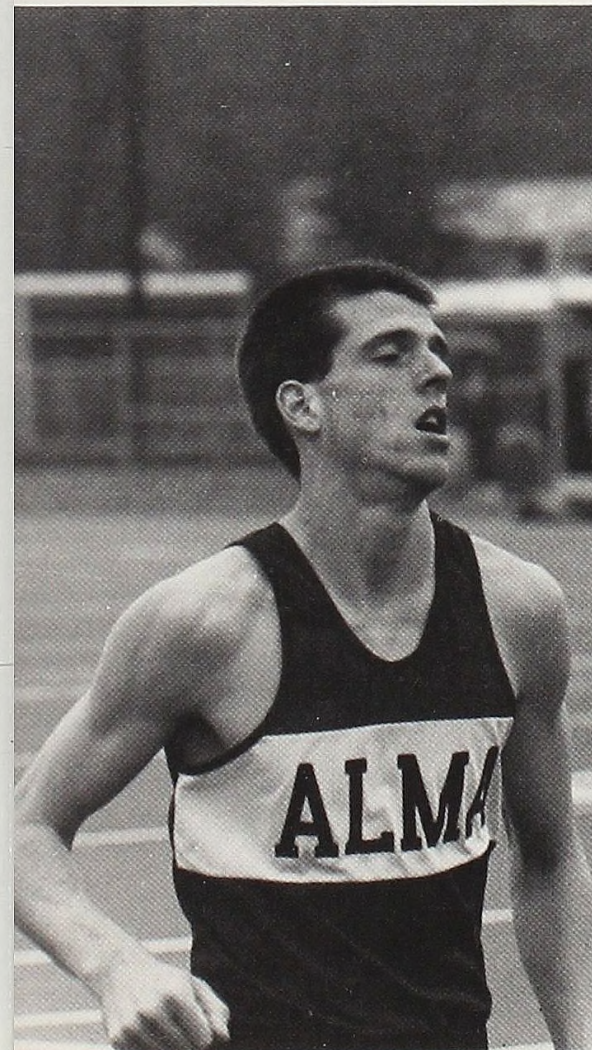

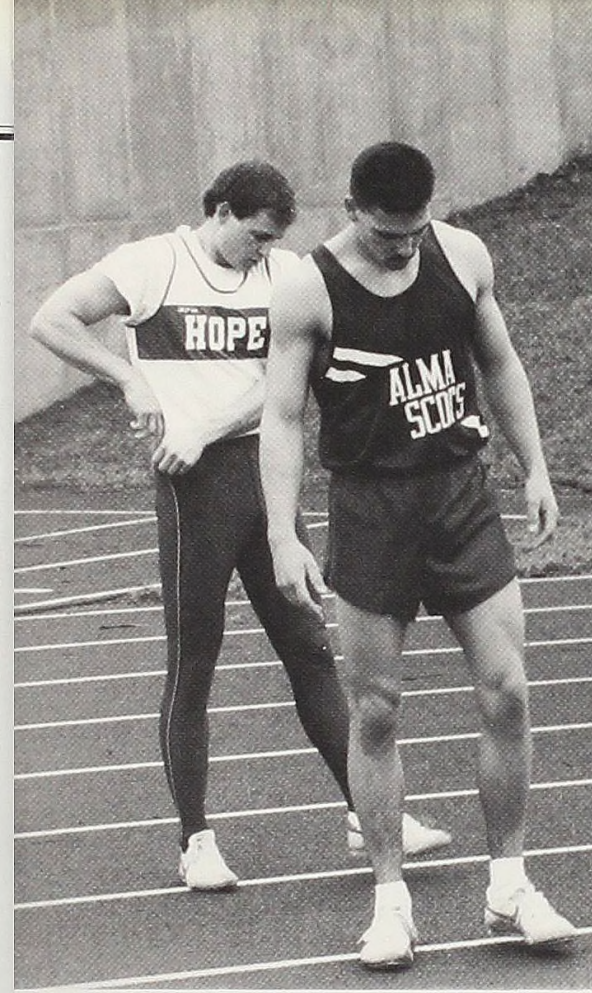

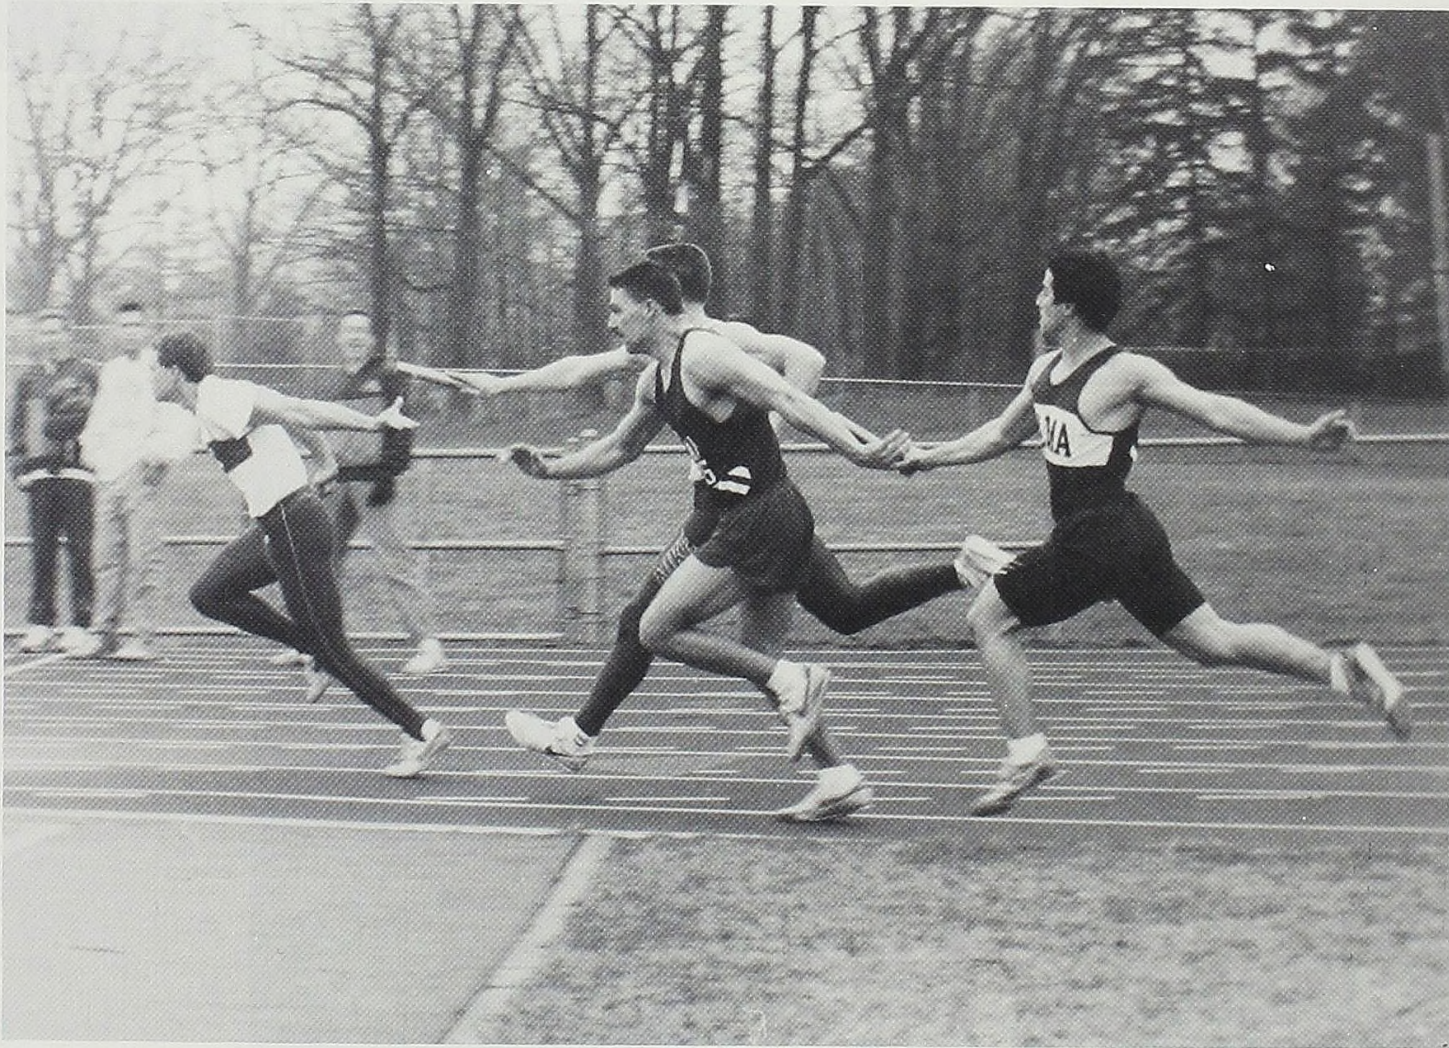

According to Head Coach Jim Cole, with hard work and steady improvement, the 1990 Men's Track Team may prove to be the best team Alma's had in the last eight years. The Men's team traveled to Indiana for where they finished quite excited about the talent that he will

WOMEN'S TENNIS '90

It's a smash!

The 1990 Alma Women's Tennis Team, though rather young, has gotten off to a good start. The team headed off to Florida this Spring Break for a tournament and some warm weather. Upon returning, Coach Mapes commented that the team had played some good tennis and the weather hadn't been all that bad either.

Returning Junior Mary Jeppesen is the number one singles player with Sophomore Adriana Rasche and Senior Karla Steinke number two and three respectively. The number four single is Freshman Carrie Roth. The number one doubles team consists of Junior Mary Jeppesen and Sophomore Adriana Rasche. Rounding out the team are Junior Jennifer Olschefski, Sophomores Jill Gray, Stacey Wright, and Freshmen Tracie Ripper and Sarah Slater. The coach for the 1990 Lady Scots Tennis Team is Deb Mapes.

Clockwise from top: 1) Adriana Rasche reaches out for the volley. 2) Carla Steinke smashes an overhead. 3) Good return! 4) Mary Jeppeson hopes her partner, Adriana, will ace their opponent. 5) Carla and Carrie discuss strategy.

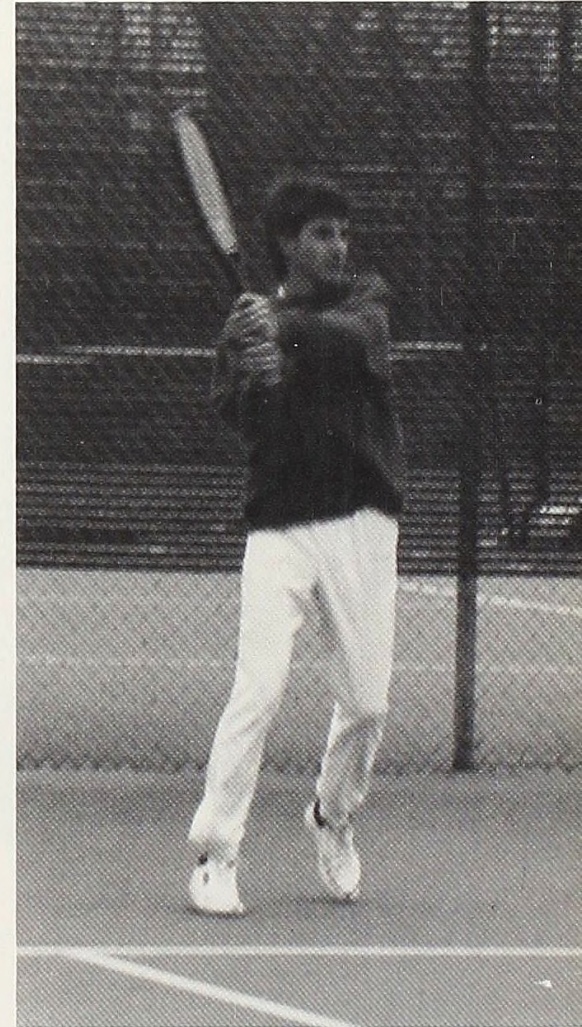

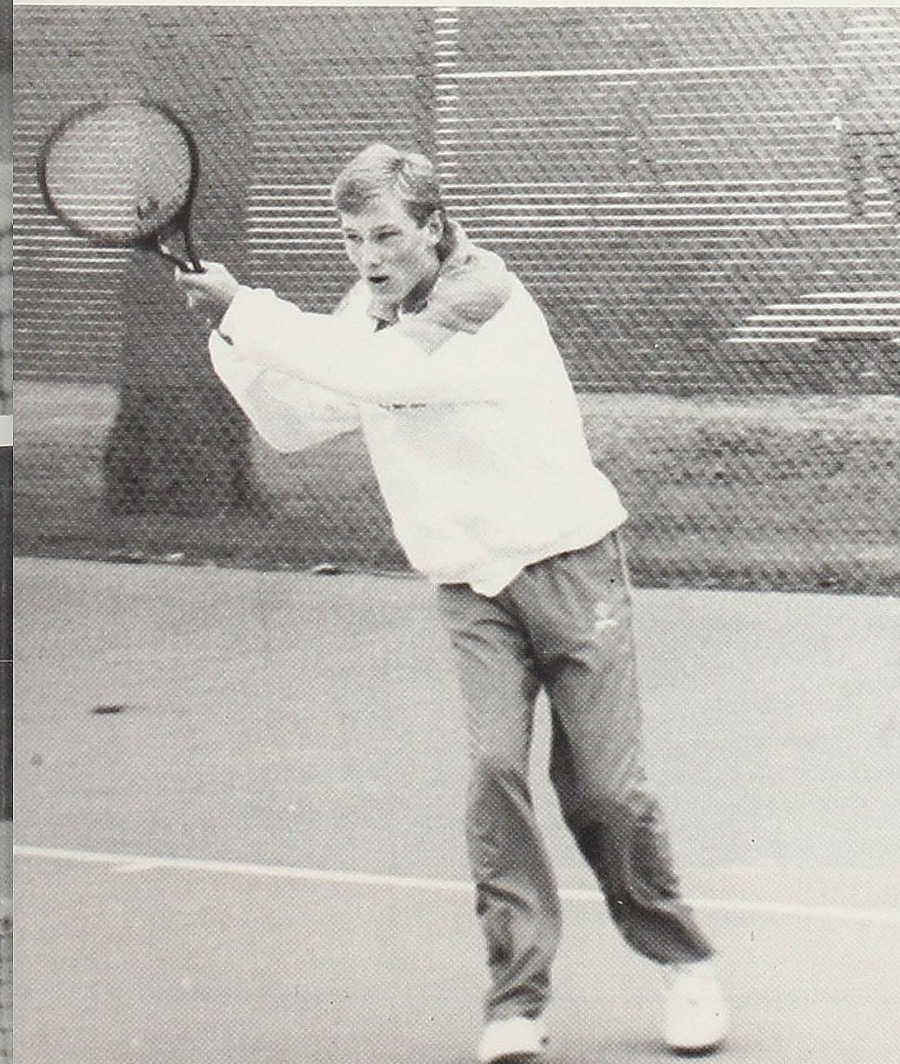

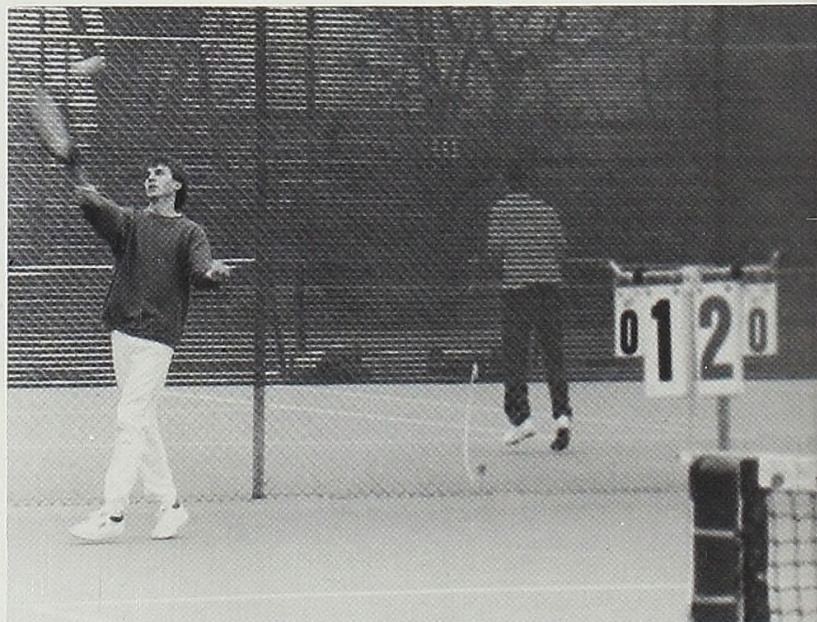

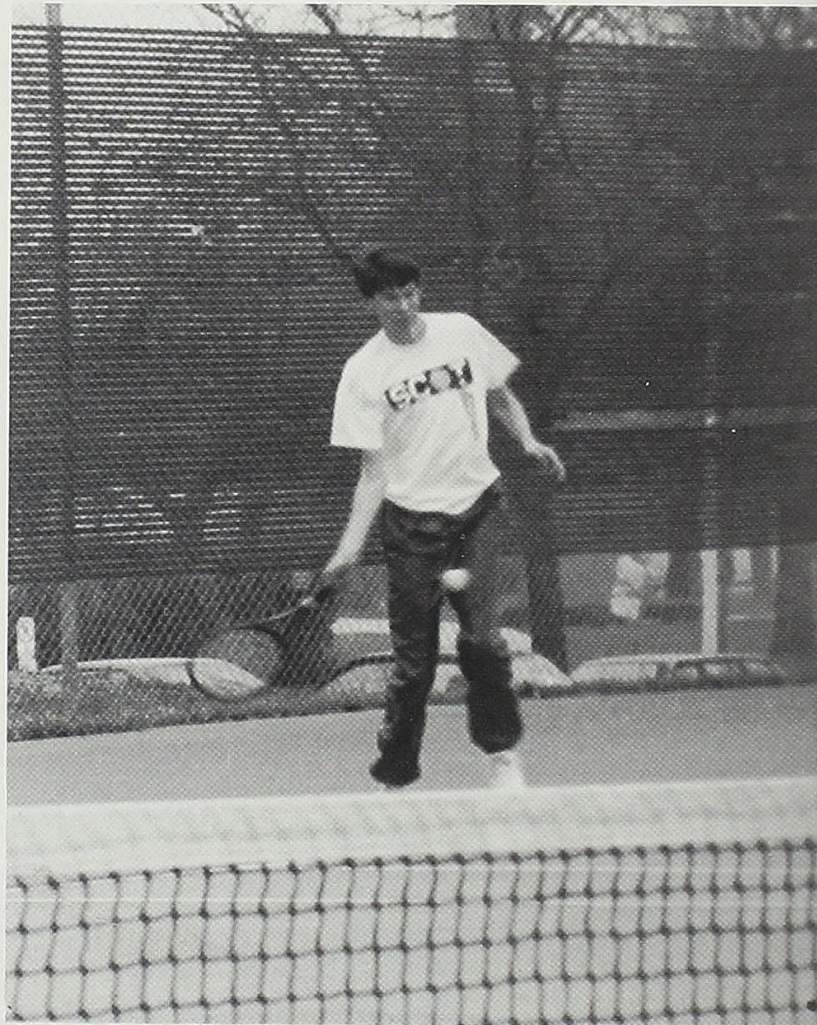

GAME-SET-MATCH

1990 Men's Tennis

The 1990 Men's Tennis Team is looking forward to MIAA competition. They are hopeful for recognition in the MIAA this year. First year coach Mike Cavanaugh speaks highly of his athletes. With senior leadership and dedication, the team should do well.

Senior Craig Peterfeso is the number one singles player. Junior Jeff Garlick and senior Kevin O'Shaughnessey are the number two and three singles players respectively. O'Shaughnessey is also a candidate for Academic All-American. Garlick and Freshman David Lee make up the number one doubles team. Rounding out the team is junior Jason Litwiller, sophomores Eric Cook and Dan Decker, and freshmen Keith Erwin and Ross Clay.

The coach for the 1990 team is Mike Cavanaugh.

Clockwise from top: 1) Going for the shot down the line. 2) Craig Peterfeso drives another killer backhand shot at his opponent. 3) David Lee follows through with an agonizing backhand. 4) Lob time! 5) "Should I try for cross-court or down the line?"

TEEING IT UP

'89 Golf team

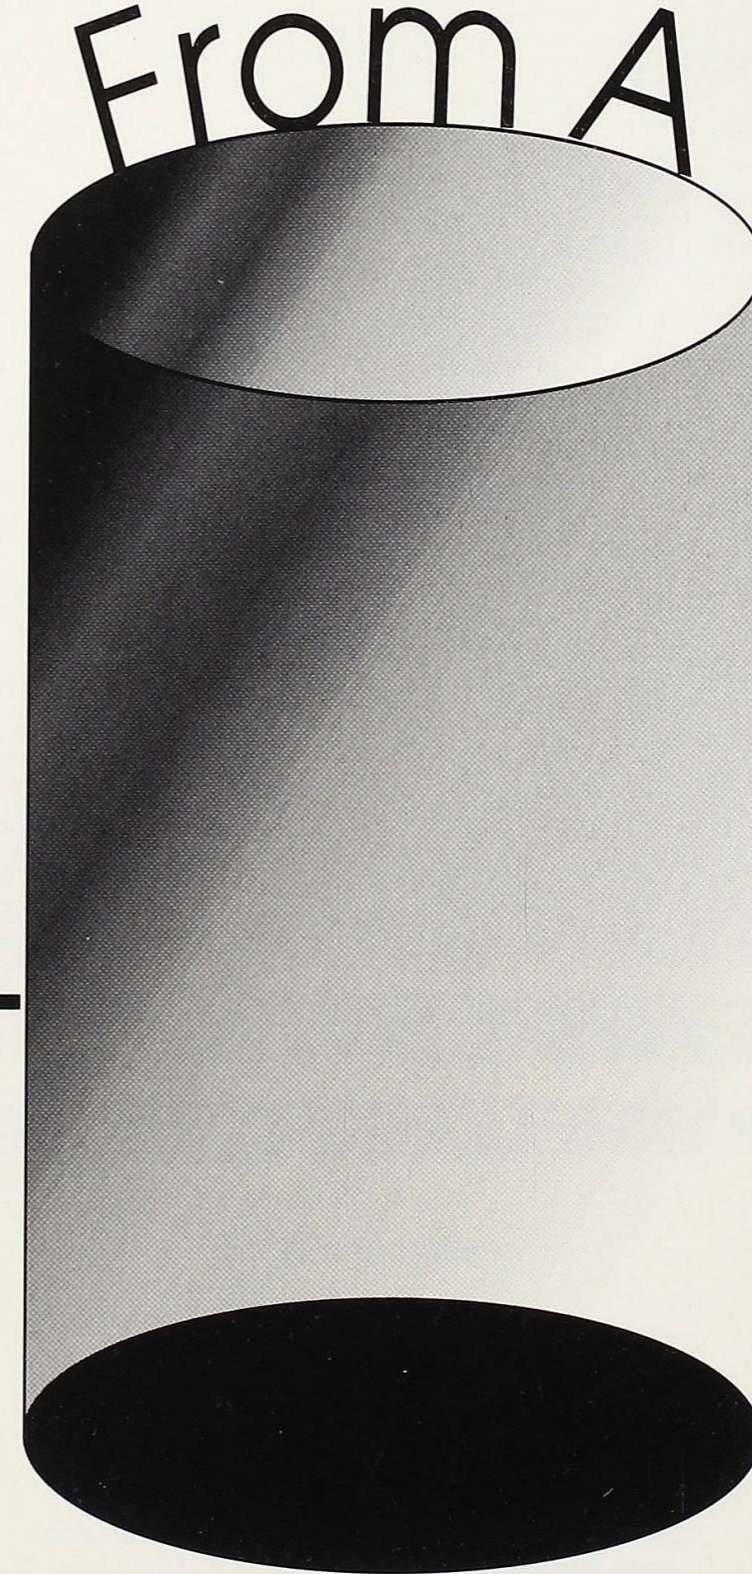

The 1989 Golf team turned in a respectable performance in four of the seven MIAA tournaments this year with three fourth place finishes and one second place finish. The second place finish was a one stroke loss to the conference champion. The team finished sixth in the final MIAA standings.

Seniors Dave Devine and Dooney Lewellen lead the 1989 team. Lewellen was an all-conference selection his sophomore and junior years. Devine earned the most valuable player award. The Head Coach was John Groteluschen.

Julie Kruse and the Alpha Gams wake up pledge Julie Powers.

GOOD MORNING!

Bids Day began as early as 5:00 a.m. for sorority members as they gathered at their houses to prepare for the day's festivities. The rest of campus needed no alarm clocks as they were awakened to sorority chants, pounding on doors, and excited screams at 8:00. All the sororities gathered for breakfast put on by the Panhellenic Council and each pledge received a certificate.

Alpha Gamma Delta took 18 new pledges. Alpha Xi Delta took quota with 32 pledges plus 3 open bids. Gamma Phi Beta welcomed 27 pledges and Kappa Iota received 5 new members.

The ΑΞΔ's acted out scenes from "Wizard of Oz", "The Little Rascals", and westerns to demonstrate the "Silver Screen" theme.

Alicia Tetzlaff, crowned Derby Days Queen, is serenaded as the "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi".

ΣΧ Presents

Silver Screen Derby Days

Derby Days, a week-long competition between the sororities to raise money for charity, was sponsored by the Sigma Chi fraternity Oct. 25th through the 28th.

"Make A Brother Smile Day" kicked off the events with the ΑΞΔ's collecting 46 smiles and 13 derbies to win. Other events included a volleyball game, a brother auction, and house decorating. Friday evening, each sorority put on a skit 5-15 minutes long incorporating the "Silver Screen" theme. The ΑΓΔ's took first in this event. During the week, a representative from each group was nominated for the "Queen of Derby Days". Voting was based on donations, and Alicia Tetzlaff, an ΑΓΔ, was announced as the winner Friday night following the skits. Derby Days concluded with field events on the chapel lawn Saturday morning with ΑΞΔ and ΓΦΒ tied for first. The ΑΞΔ's were pronounced overall Derby Days champs for the third year in a row.

All in all, the week was a great success, raising over $2,000 for Big Brothers/Big Sisters.

Incorporating their Batman theme, Gamma Phi Beta went "bats for EX" in house decorating.

Kristie Paulus and Jessica Kirbitz lip-sync "New York, New York" for the combined ΚΙ-ΓΣΣ skit. Buckwheat and Darla (a.k.a. Sarah Butler and Amy Minard) added humor to the ΑΞΔ skit.

Todd Slater, coach for the Alpha Gams, fires up his team for the next field event.

Gamma Phis decked out as "Jokers", "Batmen", and "Vicki Vales" danced to the "Batman" soundtrack for their skit.

BRUSKE AND GELSTON RESIDENT ASSISTANTS

The Bruske and Gelston Resident Assistant Staffs attempt to promote a well-suited environment for all of their residents. This year each Resident Assistant or group of R.A.'s sponsored programs which benefitted Alma College students. These programs were meant to entertain, inform, and educate residents. Each R.A. is also responsible for corridor or quad programming which provides fun and friendship for these individual residents.

Clockwise from top: 1) 1989-90 Bruske staff: Emily Perl (Head Resident), Bill Arnold, Curtis Bryant, Carol Childs, Matt Jenson, Sara Kapp, Amy King, Kristy Kittleson, Cheryl Learst, Tim Peraino, Jim Reis, and Laura Van Aelst. 2) 1989-90 Gelston Staff: Lisa Batterbee (Head Resident), Dave Devine, Lori Erskine, Melissa Hogan, Rhea Hogelin, Rick Lantz, Lesli Walsh, and Grant Walter. 3) What's shakin', Grant? 4) Sarah's trying out the new exercise equipment.

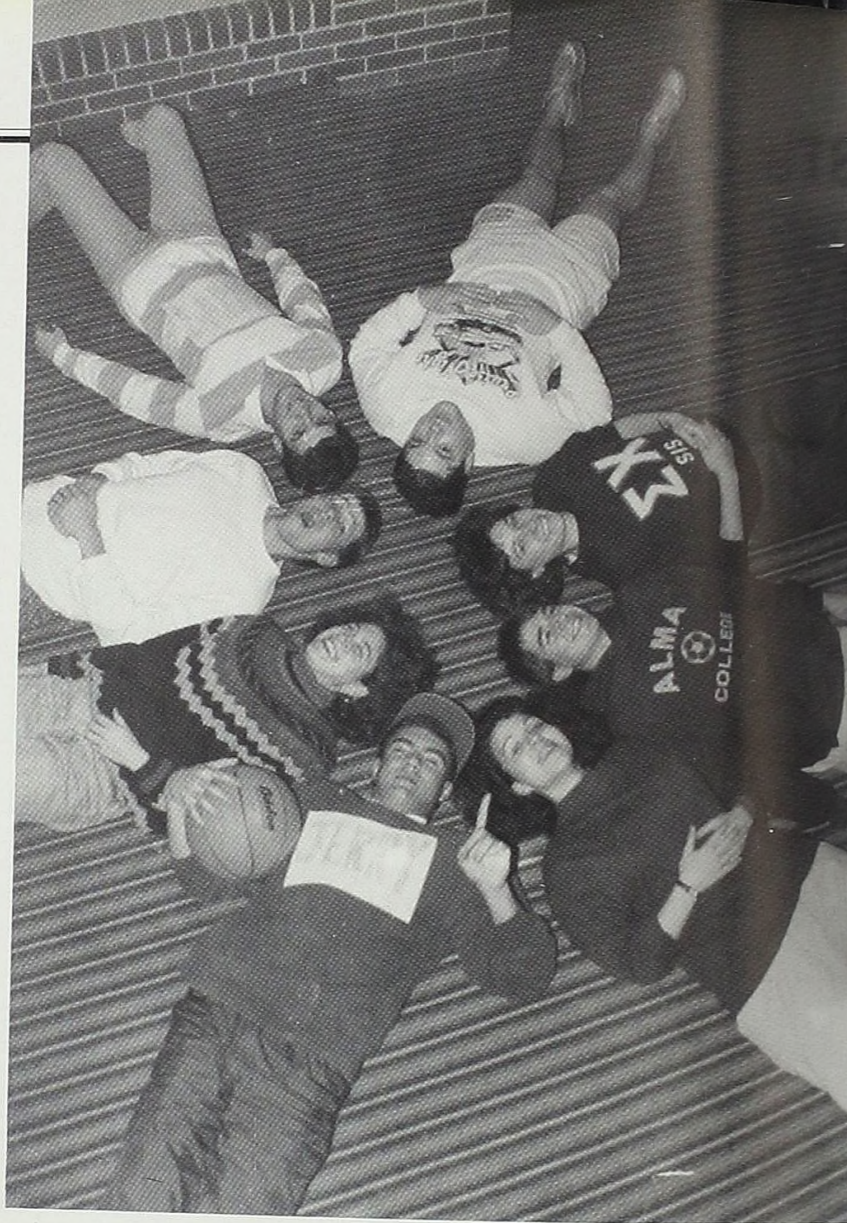

The Newberry and Mitchell Resident Assistants create an atmosphere suitable for both living and learning purposes. Both R.A. staffs take part in programming for their halls and the Newberry staff sponsors "Newberry Nights," which are programs dealing with issues important to college women. Each individual staff member works hard at enforcing the college's policies while also providing counseling, friendship, and fun activities for the residents.

STUDENT CONGRESS

1989-90 Student Congress Representatives: Sara Amell, Rob Bale, Leslee Bartrem, Pete Baumgartner, Cindy Birtwistle, Bev Brown, Lisa Buesing, Kelly Carter, J.C. Clarkson, Mike Collins, Alyson Crabtree, Scott Daley, John David, Pam Dhingra, Rich Dickinson, Tom Down, Kay Dunker, Sally Grimshaw, Phil Haar, Val Hitsman, Kim Johnson, Kim Kaczmarek, Rick Lantz, Scot Larson, Stacey Layle, David Lee, Karen McDonald, Kirk Miller, Tim Miller, Colleen Moore, Amy Neumeister, Steve Oole, Bryan Pope, Bob Rankin, Delton Reames, Amy Reis, Christy Richins, Carrie Roth, Teresa Ruiz, Emily Shaw, Reid Sisson, Todd Slater, Doug Smith, Theresa Smith, Cary Strickler, Karen Suber, Ted Suidgeest, Mary Sweet, Stu Tannehill, Emil Vos, Janet Walker, Lesli Walsh, Patti Westphal, Matt Wojack, Stacey Wright, and Dan Zettel.

Improving Student Life

The purpose of the Student Congress is to protect individual rights and express opinions and interests of Alma College students by serving as a means of effective and just communication between all members of the Alma Community. Accomplishments for this year include helping in the process of establishing a paper recycling program on campus, informing Student Congress Representatives about the Five-Year Plan and the Diversity issue, and organizing and planning a High School Leadership Day in April. Traditionally, the Congress also awards Certificates of Appreciation to one staff and one faculty member each term. The Student Congress is advised by the Dean of Students, Mr. Jim Kridler.

FIRST AND SECOND YEAR CLASS OFFICERS

Under the leadership of President J.C. Clarkson, the First Year Class Officers planned and organized all of their class activities. The accomplishments for the officers this year include the building of their float for Homecoming and winning the traditional tug-of-war with the sophomore class during halftime of the football game on Parents' Day.

1989-90 First Year Class Officers

President	J.C. Clarkson
Vice-President	Tom Downs
Secretary	Emily Shaw
Treasurer	Delton Reames

The Second Year Class officers, led by advisor Mr. Tim Sipka and Class President Kim Kaczmarek, felt their purpose this year was to sponsor and organize class activities in order to unite the Class of '92 in spirit and enthusiasm. The officers put time and effort toward making 1989-90 a rewarding year for all members of the Class of '92. Sophomore Sequence highlighted their activities, but they also built "The World's Largest Float"—a rootbeer float that is—for the Homecoming Parade, sponsored the First/Second Year Student tug-of-war on Parents' Day, and sold class T-shirts as a fund raiser.

1989-90 Second Year Class Officers

President	Kim Kaczmarek
Vice-President	Patti Westphal
Secretary	Dave Gilkey
Treasurer	Tim Miller

JUNIOR AND SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Alma's Class of 1991, under the leadership of advisor Dr. Mahmood Monshipouri and President Rich Dickinson, sponsored the traditional Leadership Banquet in April. Other activities this year included winning first place in the float competition of the Homecoming Parade and organizing the "Pizza Bust" for the entire Junior Class.

1989-90 Junior Class Officers

President	Rich Dickinson
Vice-President	Dave Kinsworthy
Secretary	Jeff Garlick
Treasurer	Tim Wiggins

1989-90 Senior Class Officers

President	Kirk Miller
Vice-President	G. Scott Campbell
Secretary	Lillian Korbus
Treasurer	Kevin O'Shaughnessey

The Senior Class traditionally presents a gift to the college, designates the recipients of the Outstanding Faculty Award and the Administration Appreciation Award and presents them at Honors Convocation. In addition, the officers plan and organize the Senior Class Party which is open to every member of the Senior Class and their guest. This year the Class of '90 was under the leadership of advisor Dr. Doug Seelbach and president Kirk Miller.

Well, if it ain't Scott and Kirk!

BRUSKE AND GELSTON HALL COUNCILS

1989-90 Bruske Hall Council: President—Marti Amundsen, Vice-President—Cindy Birtwistle, Secretary—Diane McCarthy, Pete Baumgartner, Beth Bergdolt, John Cracium, Fred Feleppa, Heidi Hase, Hillary Hodge, Amy King, Carrie Roth, Doug Smith, and Stacey Wright.

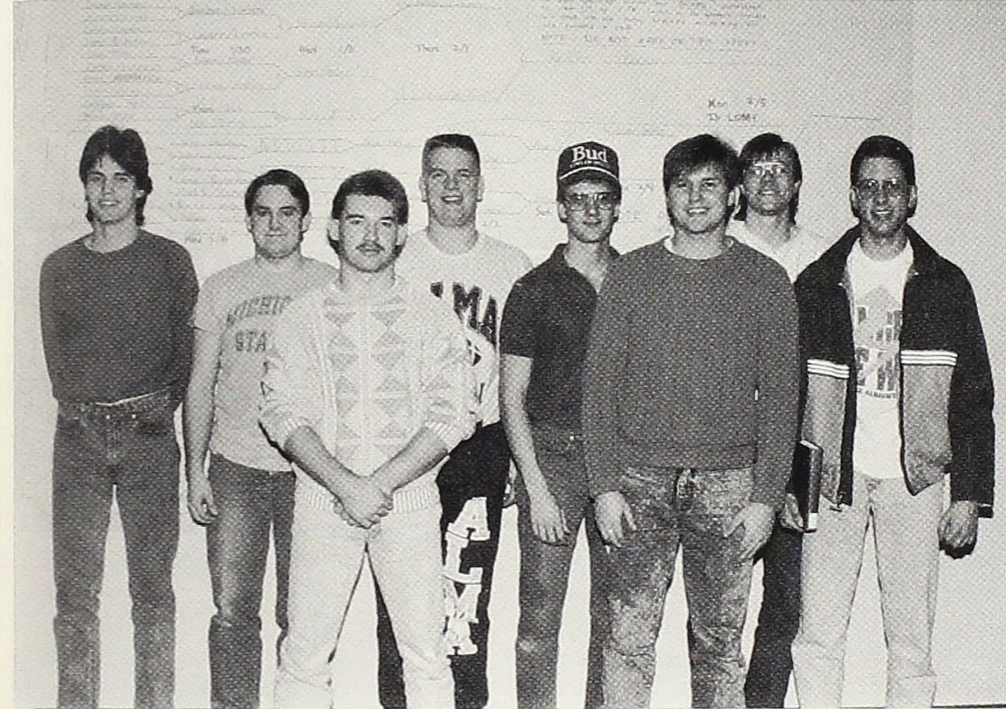

The purpose of the Bruske Hall Council is to keep their residents informed of campus happenings and to provide different activities for them. The Council has accomplished that by sponsoring study breaks, purchasing recreational equipment and being involved with both Parent's Day and Little Sibling's Weekend.

The Gelston Hall Council has served its residents by promoting a friendly, social atmosphere through educational and social programs. The Council has done this by providing snacks to be purchased at Gelston Switch, movie nights, and Gelston Hall T-shirts. The Council also sponsored a Euchre tournament and an assassination game. The group met every other Tuesday night at 9:30 under the guidance of Hall Director Lisa Batterbee.

MITCHELL AND NEWBERRY HALL COUNCILS

1989-90 Mitchell Hall Council: President—Dan Zettel, Vice-President—Scott Hoffman, Secretary—Jason Reed, Tim Bailey, Kevin Copes, Phil Haar, Tim Heckler, Steve Hicks, Mark Kirkpatrick, Jason Lagalo, Scott Larson, Karl Leas, Tim Miller, Brian Misner, Bob Norris, Mike O'Brien, Kurt Roeker, Reid Sisson, and Kurt Watkins.

This year the Mitchell Hall Council has tried to make many improvements in order to create a better environment for the residents. The council's motto was "We are here to please!" The group sponsored a "Fall-Out" all-campus dance, a winter fest, and several hall activities. The council's meetings were open forum for residents to express problems and concerns. This year the group was under the supervision of Alan Zoltowski, Mitchell Hall Director.

1989-90 Newberry Hall Council: President—Cathy Swender, Vice-President—Renai Stansfield, Secretary—Amanda Markstrom, Treasurer—Sara Slater, Laura Atkinson, Leslie Bartrem, Lisa Buesing, Amy Coles, Heather Cummings, Amy Neumeister, Cindy Pacini, Janet Reinowski, Emily Shaw, Theresa Smith, and Monica Tissue.

The Newberry Hall Council set their sights on promoting a friendly association, understanding, and personal growth among the residents. The Council worked on hall improvements and funds were raised through pop and candy sales at Newberry Switch. The Council also sponsored several study breaks and trick-or-treating through Newberry for faculty and staff members' children.

THE SCOTSMAN

The Staff Keeps Busy Capturing Memories

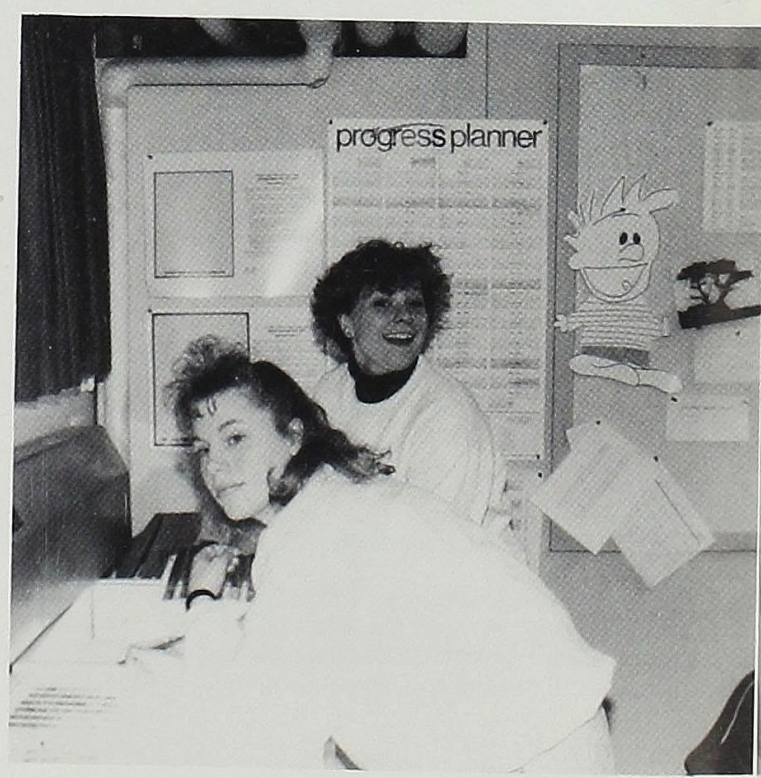

The Alma College yearbook, the Scotsman, is produced and distributed each year by the Scotsman staff. The staff is also responsible for the production of the student directory, the Facefinder (better known as the Pigbook). The Scotsman staff devotes many long hours to provide these services and was aided this year with the purchase of two brand new MacIntosh SE computers, a LaserWriter II, and a Scanner. The staff has also received money from the contingency fund to aid in the purchase of a camera for the photography staff and a passport camera to help with a quicker and better production of the Facefinder. Editor-In-Chief, Alicia Tetzlaff, sums up the purpose of the Scotsman as "capturing the 1989-90 school year between two covers."

Hot off the press...

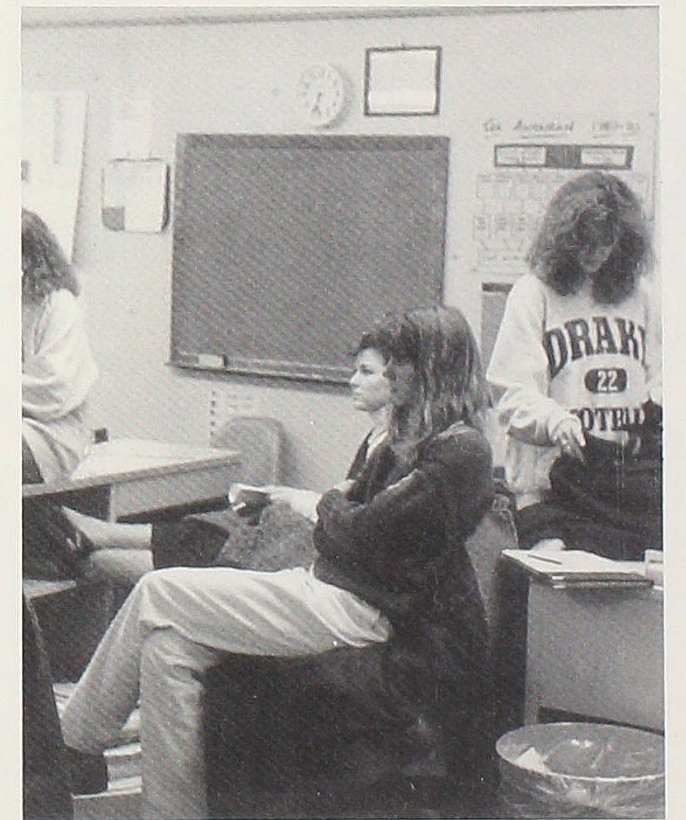

The Almanian provides the campus with information, entertainment, and comments on campus, local and national concerns. As a weekly newspaper, the Almanian accurately reports the latest in news, sports and special features as well. The staff strives to continually improve the paper. The purchase of new computer equipment has helped them to do so.

1989 Almanian staff: Elizabeth Burchill, Editor-in-Chief; Amy Reis, Kristine Lovasz, Sara Rowland, Karen Powlowicz, Karen McDonald, Tupper Lysaght, Shannon Nichols, Scott Alexander, James Reis, Scott Bouldrey, Stuart Tannehill, Jennifer Remenak, Jeff Dunnigan, Kathleen Darnell, Rick Warmbold, Andy Wheeler, and Dr. Eugene Pattison, Faculty Advisor

Karen Powlowicz listens intently to the latest breaking news.

Relax Stu! You still have an hour left before the deadline.

WABM

The Radio Station Has A Tough Year

WABM provides an entertainment alternative for the Alma College campus. The format created by the staff was composed of daily news, different styles of music, public service announcements, and information for the students. WABM is located on the dial at 600 a.m. This year the station had some problems and was not able to begin broadcasting until March. The radio station was under the advisement of Dr. R. Smith and General Manager Scott Daley.

General Manager Scott Daley and Disc Jockey Juli Burch pause long enough for the camera to catch them.

PINE RIVER ANTHOLOGY

Another Successful Publication For The Staff

The Pine River Anthology is the literary journal of Alma College. Appearing each year in the spring, the Pine River publishes short fiction, poetry, interviews, essays, photography, and artwork. The Pine River is dedicated to a representation of work from several disciplines in the liberal arts tradition. In March, the staff sponsored a reading and reception for all contributors and interested faculty and students. The staff was under the advisement of Carol Bender and Carrie Parks-Kirby.

Editor-In-Chief Louis Cubba
 Business Editor Kay Mathers
 Art Editor Beth Ann Short
 Poetry Editor Joanna Beals
 Prose Editor Mary Cain

1989-90 Pine River Anthology staff included:
 Poetry: Stacey Anderson, Missy Eveleth, Amanda Markstrom, Carrie Mason, Steve Moore, Will Shapton, Denise Shoup, Cathy Swender, and RJ Webber.
 Prose: Deb DeWitt, Susan Kroeg, Susan Marron, Robin Rummel.
 Art: Jennifer Auger, Nedret Avci, Mike Barnes, Francis Brown, Robin Crumbacher, and Amy Jeschawitz.

UNION BOARD

That's Entertainment!

Alma College Union Board is the college's main student programming body. This group is dedicated to offering the Alma College community with a variety of live entertainment, movies, special events, and various activities geared toward student participation. This year ACUB planned events such as Mock Rock, Songfest, Irish Pub, College Bowl, The All-Nighter, Night at the Races, and various Coffee Houses. The Board worked well together and was strong this year, which increased involvement on campus. The advisor for Union Board was Ms. Linda Harlston.

1989-90 Union Board: Alyson Crabtree, President; Jeff Hyames, Concert Chairperson; Tia Brandel, Major Events Coordinator; Michelle Kaufman, Special Events Coordinator (Fall); Lisa Thauvette, Special Events Coordinator (Winter); Missy Cross, Films Coordinator; Kay Mathers, Personnel and Public Relations Coordinator; Anne Warren, Publicity Co-Chairperson; Erika Soderholm, Publicity Co-Chairperson; Ron Carr, Technical Co-Chairperson; Dennis Polsgrove, Technical Co-Chairperson; and Mike Stargardt, Alpha Sign Programmer.

KILTIE BAND

What An Awesome Sound!!

The Alma College Kiltie Band, under the talented direction of 4-year Drum Major Ed Carr, traditionally marches at home football games and in several parades throughout the year. The band also plays at public concerts, gives performances in the chapel, in addition to performing at pep rallies, convocations, and graduation! This year the band is gearing up for their tour during winter break. The tour was kicked off with an awesome performance in Grayling, MI in early February.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

For Your Listening Enjoyment

The Alma Symphony Orchestra performs several concerts each year under the direction of Mr. Scripps. The orchestra consists of Alma students as well as members of the community. These talented musicians put a great deal of effort into making each performance the best that it can possibly be.

ALMA CHOIR

Perfection With Every Note

The Alma Choir, under the direction of Dr. Will Nichols, has accomplished much this year. In addition to other concerts on and off-campus throughout the year, the choir performed their annual Halloween concert as well as the Christmas concert of Handel's "Messiah."

The choir, under the direction of Dr. Nichols, performs for a full house in the Chapel.

The tenors hit every note perfectly in the "Messiah."

In costume, the choir adds a touch of flair to the Halloween concert.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

Putting Music In The Air

The Men's Glee Club, under the direction of Dr. Nichols, works together to prepare for both on and off-campus performances. Members have sung the National Anthem before the start of football games numerous times as well as performed during Alma Choir concerts. The Glee Club brings a variety of men together to blend varying skills to form a dynamic performing group.

Yeah! We know we're bad!

KILTIE DANCERS

Highland Dancing Rich in Tradition

1989-90 Kiltie Dancers: Heather Cummings, Robyn Grieve, Sue Johnson, Ann Kimball, Laurel Lee, Jennfier McCormick, Beth Piorkowski, Leigh Walker, Sally Wilhelm

The Kiltie Dancers perform with bagpipers in the 1989 Homecoming parade.

These lovely lasses take a second to pose for a picture before they perform.

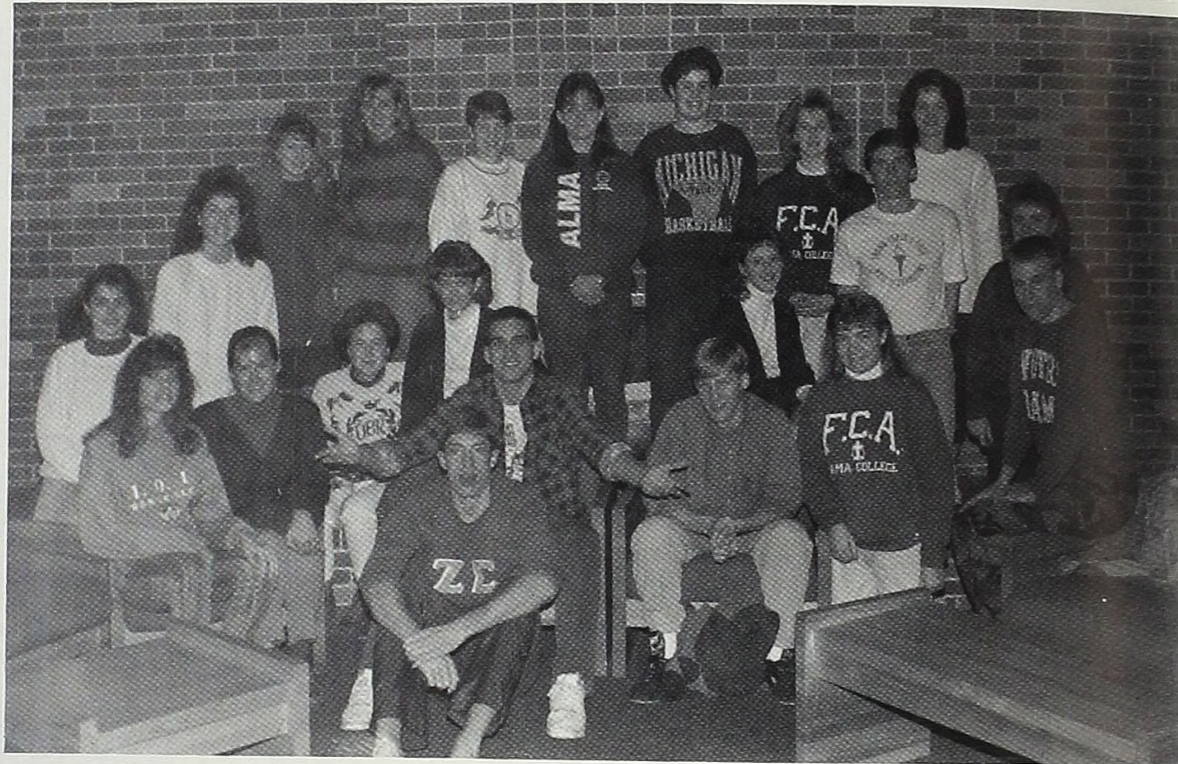

Sally Wilhelm and Beth Piorkowski in an Orchesis performance.

Ta-Dah!

Alma College's Kiltie Dancers are devoted to the preservation of the ancient Highland dances. Both the costumes and the dances of the group conform to the regulations of the Scottish Official Board of Highland Dancing. The Kiltie Dancers perform at Orchesis concerts, band concerts, football games, as well as appear in parades. The Dancers are accompanied at some performances by bagpipers.

F.C.A. PROVIDES FELLOWSHIP FOR ALL

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes is a local campus group emphasizing spiritual growth and development. The purpose of FCA is to present to athletes and all whom they influence the challenge and adventure of meeting Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord as well as serving Him in their relationships and in the fellowship of the church. FCA provides an informal spiritual outlet, open for all students. The group attempts to help students cope with stress and day-to-day challenges as well as to provide the chance for people to get to know one another. FCA's membership has increased this year, and their goal is to continue to grow and reach more people. FCA sponsored such activities as a bonfire, "Kiss the Pig" contest, special speakers, and kept up the tradition of holding a chapel service each term. Monday nights marked the time for FCA meetings which were, during the fall semester, under the leadership of President Mark Liebel and, during the winter, under President Jerry Czarnecki.

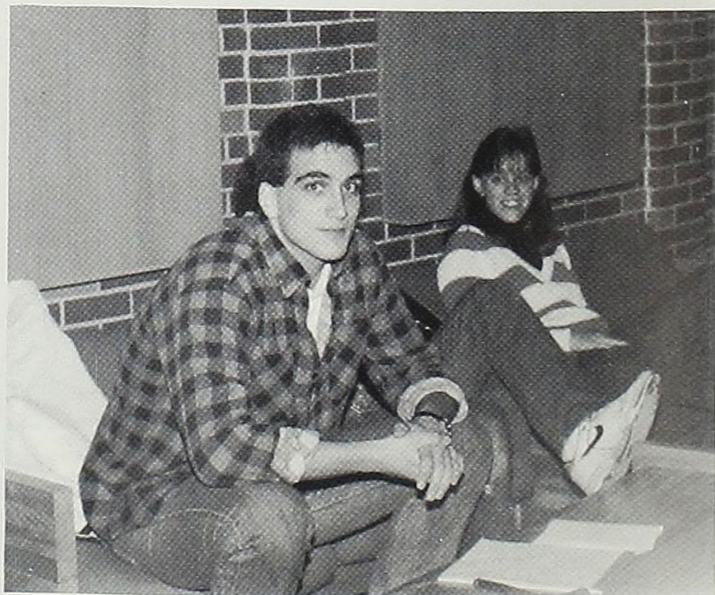

1989-90 FCA Officers:

Fall Term

- President Mark Liebel
- Vice-President Amy Neumeister
- Secretary Jerry Czarnecki
- Treasurers Gina Russel & Amy White
- Publicity Leanne Dorflinger
- Social Kirk Miller

Winter Term

- President Jerry Czarnecki
- Vice-President Amy Neumeister
- Secretary Bob Norris
- Treasurers Barb Swift & Kristin Koon
- Publicity Ann Worthington
- Social Lisa Gibson

Looks like Jerry is gearing up for another meeting.

VESPERS GROUP Fellowship With Friendship

Members of the Vespers Group enjoy themselves on a weekend retreat.

The Alma College Vespers Group is open to everyone and provides campus fellowship and Bible Study. The Vespers Group meets weekly and each meeting is led by a student. Additionally, the Vespers Group has organized or participated in several on and off campus volunteer activities.

Friends forever!

ASSOCIATION FOR INTERCULTURAL UNDERSTANDING

The purpose of A.I.U. is to eliminate ignorance of world affairs. They do this by enlightening students about different cultural ideologies and perspectives as well as teaching students how to communicate cross-culturally. A.I.U. promoted their organization by marching in the Homecoming Parade and sponsored an International Week open to the entire campus. Dr. Buschman was the advisor to A.I.U. and Emil Vos was the president. A.I.U. is a campus-wide organization and the group strives to invite and include the campus in all of their activities.

STUDENTS FOR PEACE AND NON-VIOLENCE

SPAN is an organization which operates to promote opportunity for all individuals to be exposed to, learn about, and express themselves on topics dealing with peace and non-violence. Under the advisement of Dr. Verne Bechill and President Kim Goodrich, SPAN has accomplished a great deal this past year. SPAN sponsored Oxfam Fast which was a campus fast where Marriot sent the money from the meals given up to a hunger organization. The group also did a fundraiser for the Red Cross and went on an environmental retreat. Members of SPAN also took part in the "Celebrating Peacemakers Among Us" program sponsored by local citizens.

Members: Everett Wiggins, Kerrie Kemperman, Delton Reames, Tracy Nance, Amy Hough, Chris Washburn, and Lisa Neddo.

AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL

Amnesty International is based on the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, adopted by the United Nations in 1948. It is a world-wide human rights organization that works for fair and prompt trials for all prisoners, an end to torture in all cases, and the release of prisoners of conscience as well as individuals imprisoned for their political and religious beliefs. Under the leadership of John Heinlein and Steve Gardner, Amnesty International held a four-band Amnesty concert and circulated petitions protesting the executions of individuals in foreign countries. They also wrote letters demanding the release of prisoners of conscience.

CIRCLE K

In conjunction with the Kiwanis Club of Alma, the goal of Circle K is to provide services to the campus and community. These services vary from providing recreational facilities for underprivileged youths to adopting a grandfather from the Masonic Home. Although this year has been devoted to reorganization, Circle K was able to successfully sponsor a "Swim Gym" for youths in the area.

ALUMNI STUDENT ASSOCIATION

A.S.A. Gets Maroon Sweatshirts This Year

Homecoming is the time of the year when Alma College Alumni return to their alma mater, and A.S.A. is always there to help with the festivities. The group aids in the success of such activities as the class reunion receptions, the 25- and 50-year (the latter is better known as the "Golden Thistle") breakfasts, Golden Thistle interviews, pom pon sales, elevator supervision, and mum sales. To motivate the group's members, they received 50 percent polyester/50 percent cotton, Made in the USA maroon sweatshirts (the logo was designed by Kelli Jean Nisonger) to wear to their various activities at Homecoming and throughout the year. Alumni Student Association's busiest time is Homecoming, but the group manages to remain busy all year long. The group delivers the on-campus birthday cakes, assembles and delivers exam treats, helps with the semi-annual telethon, participates in several community activities, and sponsors a child in Brazil. Alumni Student Association was led by advisor Chuck Fiebertz, President Jennifer Ball, Vice-President Kristie Kittleson, and Secretary/Treasurer Theresa Ruiz.

PRESIDENTIAL SERVICE GROUP

Service Is Their Name, Entertaining Is Their Game

A select number of students make up the Presidential Service Group, otherwise known as P.S.G. The students, who are usually very involved in all areas of the campus community, help host alumni receptions, open houses, and fund raisers at the president's house. Not only do the group members help these functions run smoothly, they are also available to the guests to answer any questions they might have about Alma College and the surrounding community.

FOOD SERVICE COMMITTEE

The People Behind The Scene

Ever wonder what happens to your suggestions and comments about the cafeteria food? Once every two weeks during the school year the Food Service Committee met and openly discussed any and all suggestions made about the food, service, and atmosphere of the cafeteria. Led by John "J.R." Reid, Director of Food Services, the committee was comprised of a representative from every residence hall, an IFC member, a Panhel member, an off-campus student, a French House representative and a vegetarian. These individuals were selected to represent their various organizations. The Food Committee discussed what went on during the past two weeks and what was planned to happen during the next two weeks; items the students liked and didn't like; and how the pace-changers (such as the cupcake and wok bars) went out in front. Some of the achievements this past year were Nutrition Month, the addition of a microwave in Van Dusen, and the removal of the celery.

Top: J.R. doesn't like the fact that someone is taking his picture while he is trying to eat his salad! Bottom: The Food Committee gets ready to feast.

ALPHA MU GAMMA

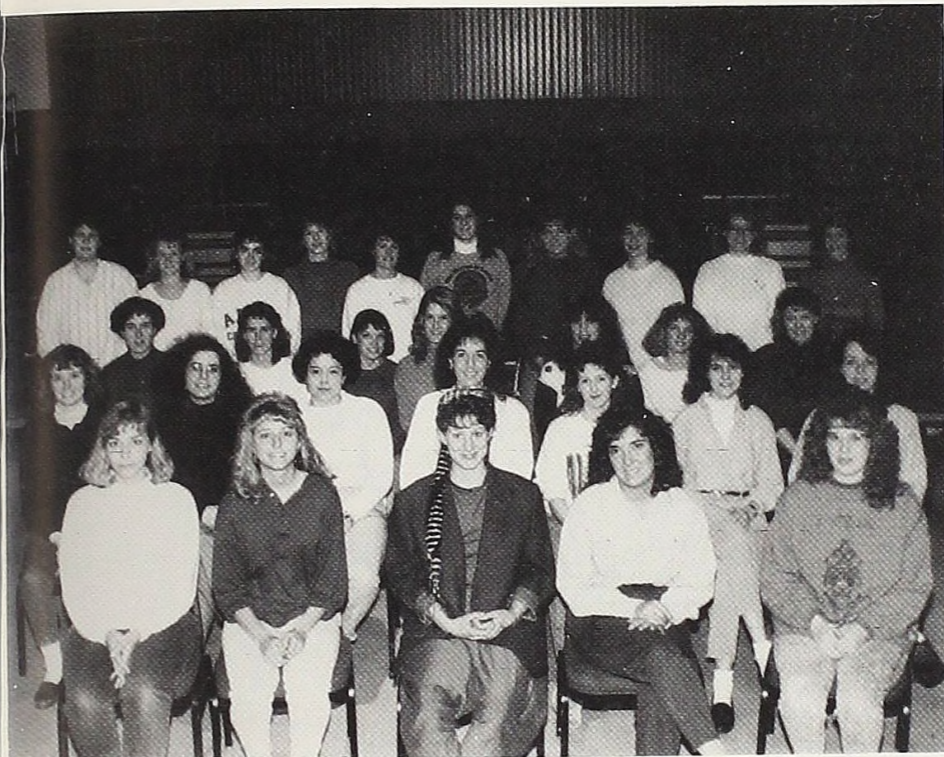

National Foreign Language Honor Society

Alpha Mu Gamma is Alma College's national foreign language honor society. This organization encourages an interest in the study of foreign languages, literature, and civilizations. AMΓ also strives to foster a sympathetic understanding of other people and international friendship. The group holds formal inductions both fall and winter semesters. The advisor this year for AMΓ was Mr. Carl Mentley.

GAMMA DELTA ALPHA

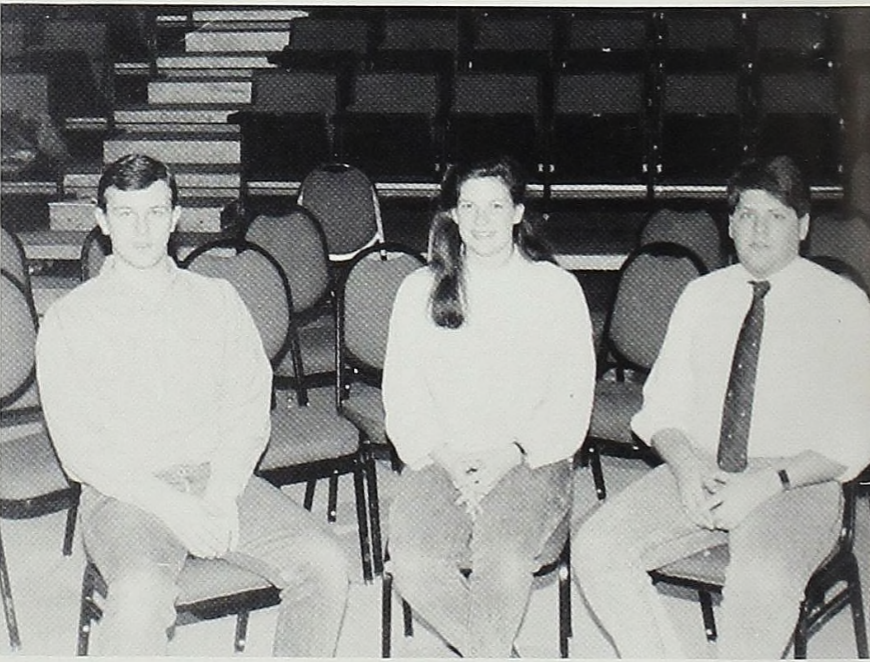

Women's Honor Society

Gamma Delta Alpha is a women's honor society which continues to promote college loyalty, advance the spirit of academic excellence, to maintain a high standard of scholarship, and to encourage leadership. So far this year, ΓΔΑ has done service projects for the Adopt-A-Family program and for the Alma Women's Shelter. The group continued its tradition of selling doughnuts at the Homecoming football game. Under the advise-ment of Elizabeth Cameron, Gamma Delta Alpha is an honor society which is based not only on scholarship but also on service. This year's officers were: President Lisa Duetsch, Vice-President Kim Driver, Treasurer Tia Brandel, and Secretary Colleen Moore.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

Local Theatre And Dance Honor Society

Alpha Psi Omega is Alma College's local theatre and dance honor society. The purpose of this group is to promote an interest in both the theatre and dance. ΑΨΩ provides an honor society for those doing a high standard of work in dramatics and dance. Alpha Psi Omega supports and promotes various theatrical and dance performances on campus. This year ΑΨΩ was under the guidance of Dr. Phil Griffiths.

1989-90 Membership: Ruth Acton, Sara Amell, Jane Baleja, Beth Bergdolt, Julie Berzins, Tia Brandel, Marie Breed (fall), Becky Carr, Chris Comtois, Alyson Crabtree, Chris Czerwienski, Laura DellaVecchia, Patti Dewey, Kim Driver (fall), Lisa Duetsch, Kay Dunker, Renee Edwards, Kim Goodrich, Susan Hoppe, Christine Johnson, Jessica Kirbitz, Sarah Mankowski, Melanie Martin, Heather McPhillips, Colleen Moore, Molly Morrison, Peggy Neilson, Christy Nobis, Theresa Nolf, Catherine Peters, Erika Powers, Amy Reis, Deborah Richey, Sandra Ries, Kirstin Rummel, Linda Shenton, Kelly Spalding, Michelle Stahl, Karen Suber, Laura VanAelst, Sarah Vogel, Lisa Volmering, Lesli Walsh, Anne Warren, and Katherine Washburn.

OMICRON DELTA EPSILON

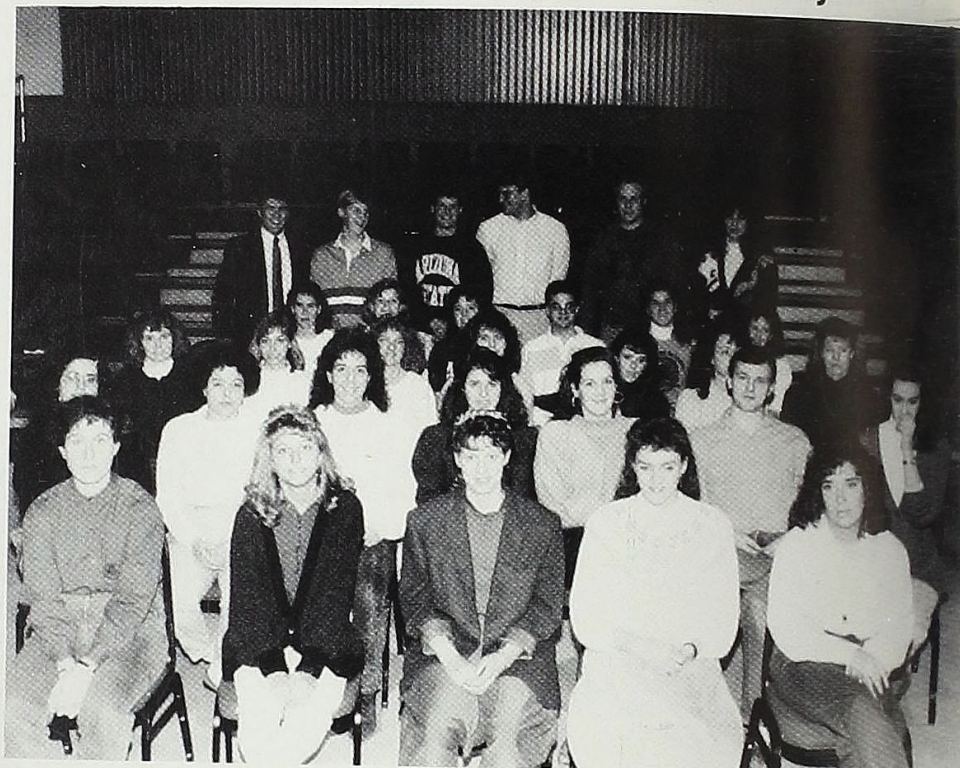

International Economics Honor Society

Omicron Delta Epsilon, which has been inactive since 1986, was reactivated this year under the guidance of Advisor Dr. George Choksy. ΟΔΕ is the international honor society in economics and its purpose is to confer distinction for high scholarship achievement in economics and to stimulate and promote student interest in all aspects of economics.

OMICRON DELTA KAPPA

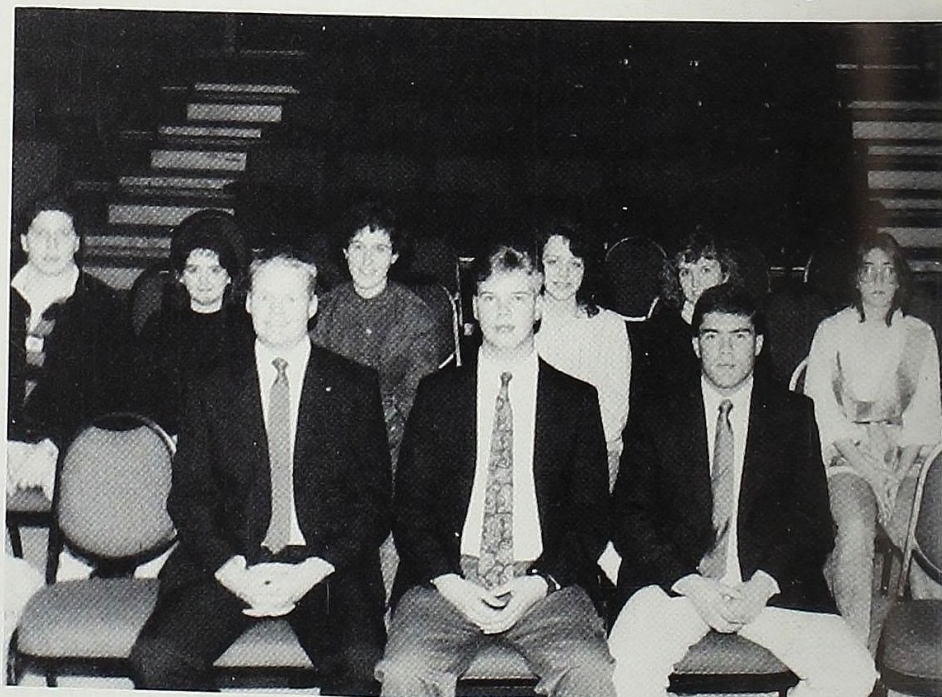

National Leadership Honor Society

Omicron Delta Kappa is a national leadership honor society which recognizes students for their accomplishments in the areas of scholarship, athletics, service, arts, and student government. This year OΔK sponsored a Common Hour about honor societies and what qualifications one must have to become a member. Traditionally, new members receive the Omicron Delta Kappa cane of knowledge at Honors Convocation each April. This year OΔK was under the leadership of President Tia Brandel, Vice-President G. Scott Campbell, and Secretary/Treasurer Michelle Stahl. Serving as the group's advisor this year was Dr. Joseph Walser.

PHI ALPHA THETA

International History Honor Society

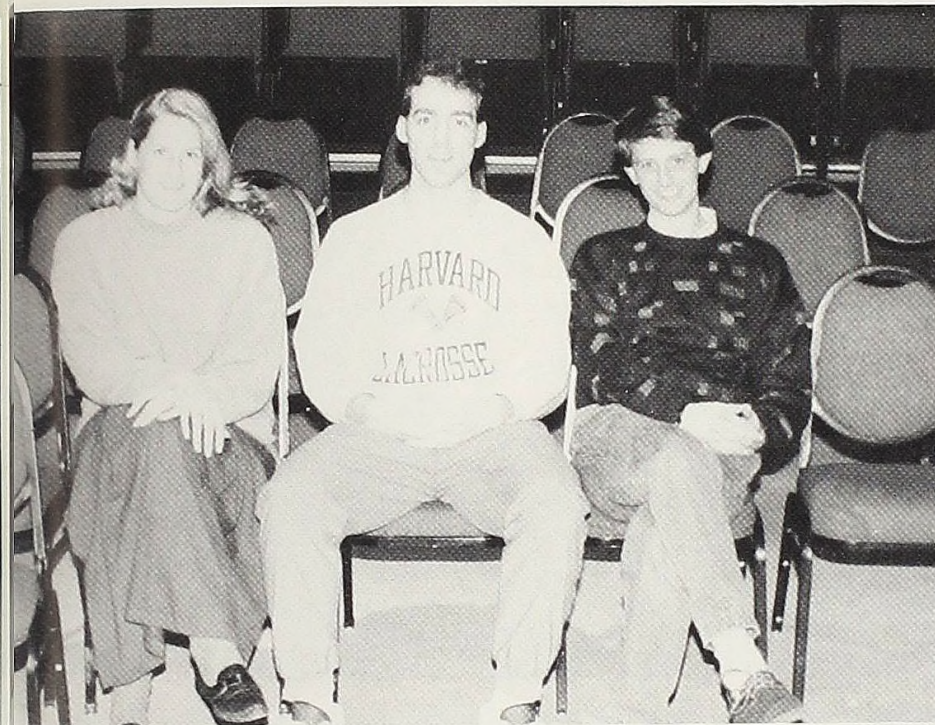

Phi Alpha Theta is Alma College's international honor society of history. The student members are recognized for their excellence in all academics, especially in the study of history. Traditionally, some ΦΑΘ students present papers at the annual state-wide Phi Alpha Theta Conference in the spring. This year's president was Jeff Appelt and the group was under the advisement of Dr. James Schmidke.

1989-90 Membership: Jeffrey Appelt, Joe Cuicci, Scott Schisler, Colleen Moore, David Devine, Kelly Spalding, Michelle Stahl, Mary Jo Thomas, Julie Berzins, Keith Brodie, Michael Collins, Matthew Jenson, Christy Licht, Chere Nickerson, Mary O'Leary, Timothy Peraino, Paula Ruppel and Emily Walker.

PSI CHI

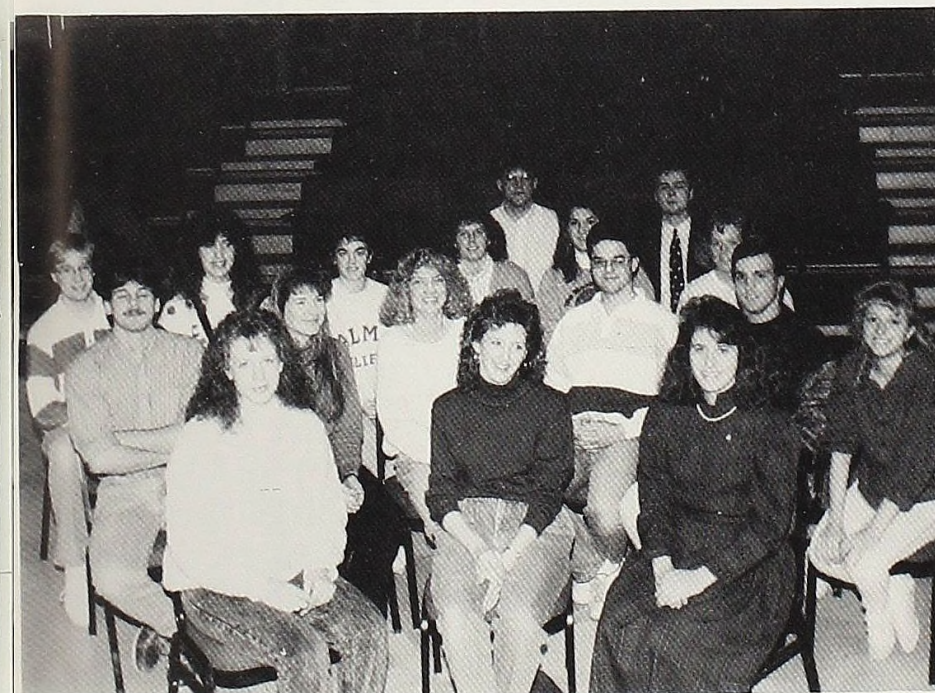

National Psychology Honor Society

The Psi Chi national honor society encourages, stimulates, and maintains excellence in scholarship of individual members in all fields, particularly psychology. Under the direction and guidance of President Tia Brandel, Vice-President Amy Reis, Secretary Renee Edwards, and Publicity Chairperson Becca Turner, this group advances the science of psychology on campus. Psi Chi is under the advisement of Dr. Walter Beagley.

RHO CHI EPSILON

Business Administration Honor Society

Rho Chi Epsilon recognizes and encourages academic excellence within the area of business administration. The purpose of PXE is to foster the intellectual growth of the Alma business student and to increase awareness among its members of the professional business world. Accomplishments this year include an Ernst and Young panel discussion, a 1979 and 1984 graduate panel entitled, "Life in the Real World," as well as one speaker per term. Rho Chi Epsilon was led this year by fall term President Lesli Walsh and winter term President Jason Pasko. The advisor for Rho Chi Epsilon this year was Mr. Michael Trebesh.

1989-90 Membership: Ruth Acton, Sara Amell, Rob Bale, Chris Czerwienski, Lisa Duetsch, Susan Garvey, Mike Johnstone, Jessica Kirbitz, Kirk Miller, Christy Nobis, Jason Pasko, Steve Scott, Michelle Stahl, Ted Suidgeest, John Trombley, Lesli Walsh, Alex Whitney, Deb Wroubel, Stephanie Bailey, Peter A. Wood, Rob Donovan, Jane Baleja, Kelly Carter, Tia Brandel, and Jolene Kanary.

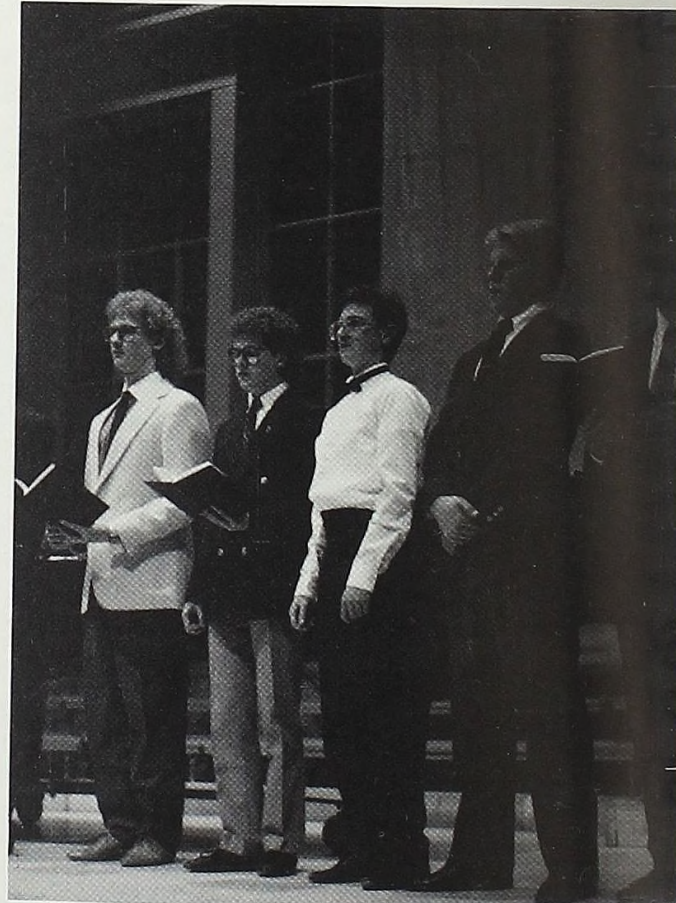

PHI MU ALPHA SINFONIA

Music In The Air!

Phi Mu Alpha is a group of students at Alma College who take a strong interest in promoting music on campus. They are a very active group which sponsored and planned many events this year including the Phi Mu Alpha Christmas Concert and a float for the Homecoming Parade. The group has sweethearts to the fraternity who help and support the brothers.

Clockwise from top: 1) The Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia and a few of their swweethearts. 2) Singing at the Christmas Concert. 3) The Phi Mu Alpha Homecoming float.

EXERCISE & HEALTH SCIENCE HONOR SOCIETY

The purpose of the Exercise & Health Science Honor Society is to recognize and encourage academic excellence, particularly in the area of exercise and health science; to foster the intellectual growth of the Alma EHS student; and to increase awareness among society members of the professional EHS climate. This year's accomplish-ments included an all-campus triathlon, bringing various speakers to campus, and several fund raisers. Traditionally, the EHS Honor Society has a pizza party for its new members and has a breakfast for the graduating EHS seniors. This year the EHS Honor Society was under the leadership of President Karen Horwood, Vice-President Kelli McKinley, and Treasurer/Secretary Beth Bergdolt. Serving as this group's advisor was Dr. John Davis.

PHI BETA KAPPA

The purpose of Phi Beta Kappa is to encourage excellence in a liberal arts education, one that includes the subjects designed principally for knowledge, understanding, or appreciation of the natural and social world in which we live. Alma College's chapter, known as Eta of Michigan, elects undergraduates as members, who are selected by resident members of the chapter, on the basis of their outstanding achievement in the traditional arts, sciences, and humanities. ΦBK is present on 228 college and university campuses and will not grant any new chapters without personal visits to assess the quality of faculty, library, and honors programs.

SOCIETY OF PHYSICS STUDENTS

Alma College's Society of Physics Students is an organization open to any student with an interest in physics. The purpose of this group is to promote interest in and an understanding of physics to the Alma College students. Dr. Eugene Deci is the advisor to this society.

BETA BETA BETA

Biology Honor Society

As the biology honor society, BBB strives to promote interest in the biological sciences as well as scholarship in the field. The group traditionally holds an apple cider sale at Homecoming and sponsors special speakers throughout the school year. Beta Beta Beta's newly initiated members must present research projects in order to gain active membership. This year's advisor for the honor society was Dr. Kay Grimnes.

SIGMA PI SIGMA

National Physics Honor Society

Sigma Pi Sigma is the national physics honor society at Alma College. The purpose of $\Sigma\Pi\Sigma$ is to serve as a means of awarding distinction to students who have demonstrated high scholarship and promise in physics. The organization also strives to promote student interest in research and advanced study, and to encourage a professional spirit among all physics students. To be eligible, a student must be a member of the Society of Physics Students. In addition, a student must have at least 20 credits in physics courses, and hold a B or better average in physics courses and in overall grade point average. Sigma Pi Sigma is under the advisement of Dr. Eugene Deci.

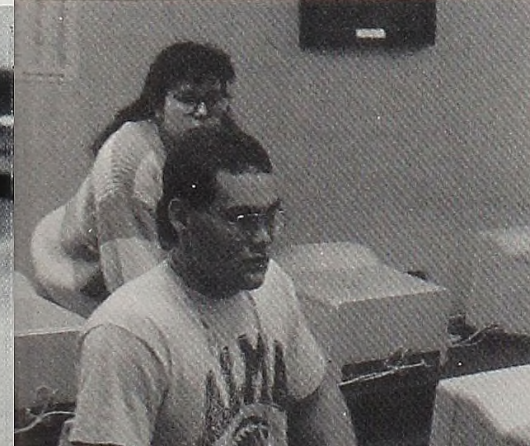

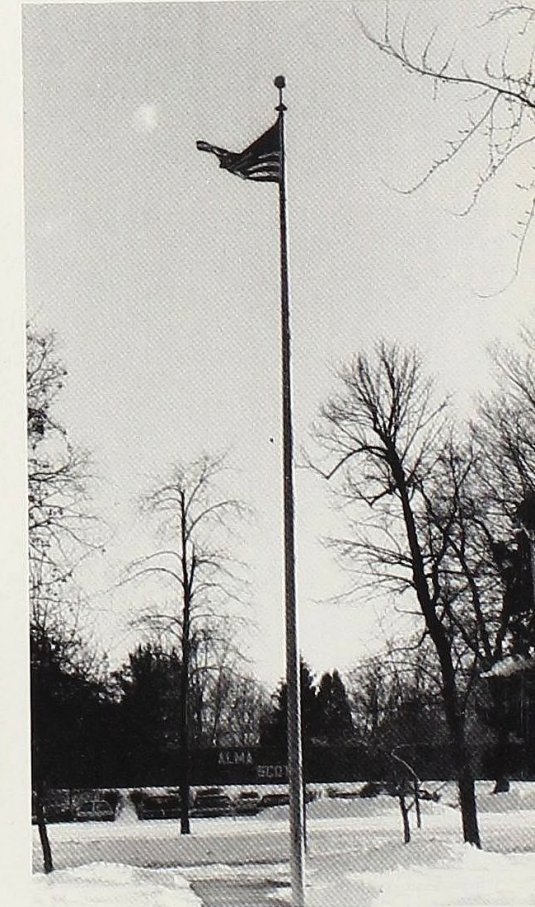

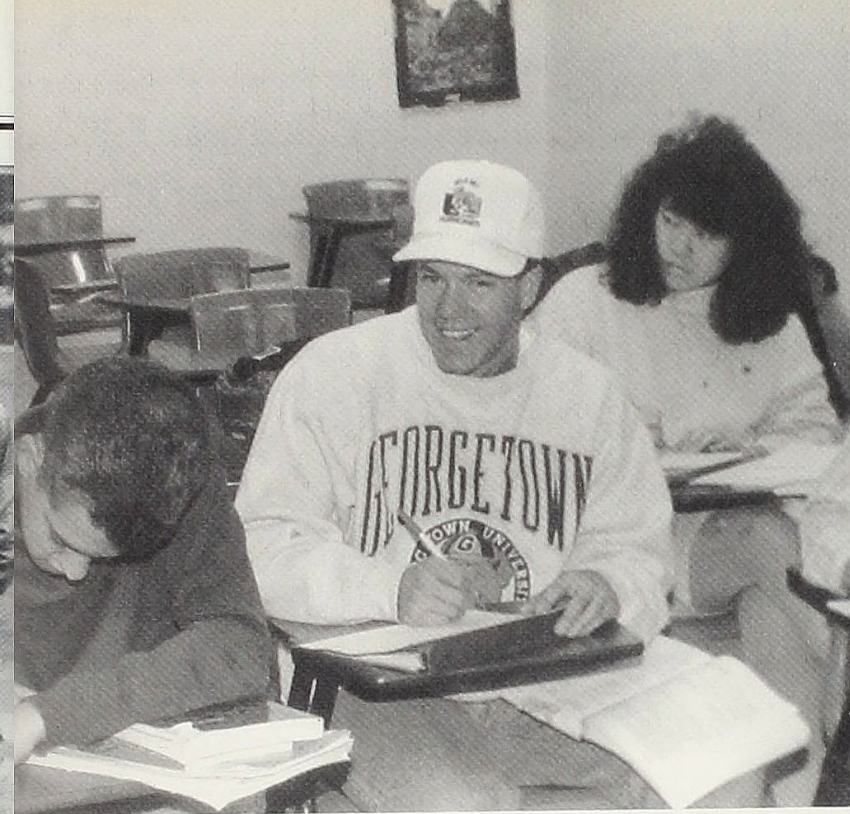

CHI EPSILON MU

Chemistry Honor Society

XEM is an honor society in which students are recognized for their outstanding achievements in chemistry. Besides promoting the study of chemistry, Chi Epsilon Mu sponsors speakers on the subject of chemistry and holds inductions each year for new members. This year Chi Epsilon Mu was under the advisement of Dr. Melissa Strait.

MARRIOTT OFFERS VARIETY

Clockwise from upper right: 1) Brad looks pleased with his selection, while Erika is eating light. 2) Alma College students enjoy their meals and catch up on the latest news. 3) "Which looks better to you, the turkey tetrazinni or the vegetarian quiche??" asks Kirk.

The Marriot Food Service goes above and beyond their duty to serve the Alma College students. They provide a wide variety of food everyday including several entrees, two soups, deli bar, salad bar and various specials throughout the week known as "Pace Changers." Marriott also works closely with students and campus organizations to provide such services as board exchanges and special dietary needs. "Meanwhile, for dinner back at Saga..." greets students when they call the "Saga Hotline" to find out what the menu du jour is.

LUNCH AT VAN DUSEN

Different Daily Menus Offer A Change Of Pace For Everyone

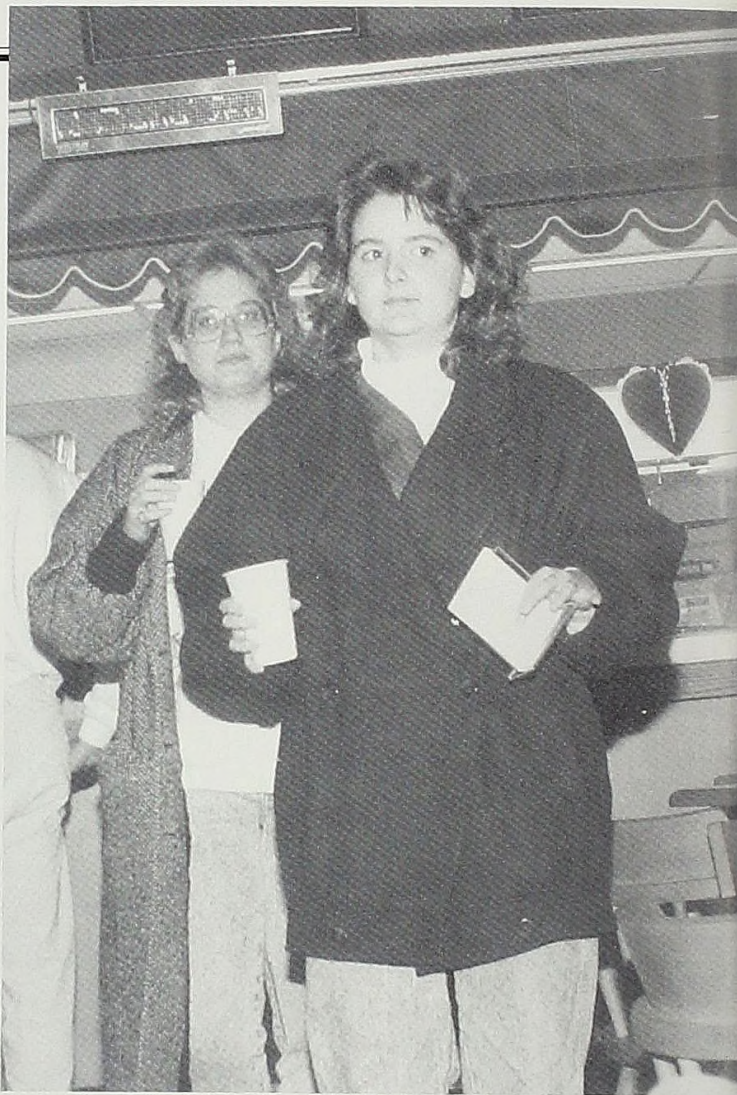

The overload of students for the midday meal served at Hamilton Commons led to the opening of Van Dusen in fall '88 for lunches Monday through Friday. Such menus as Italian, French, and Mexican are among those served but Taco Day (every Thursday) seems to be the favorite. Some improvements in Van Dusen this year have been a new pop machine, a microwave, stainless steel silverware replacing the previous plastic-ware, and the addition of trays in the food line.

From top to bottom: 1) Did I give you permission to take that picture? 2) See no evil, taste no evil?? 3) Students linger over lunch in Van Dusen as they watch Raiders of the Lost Ark.

RELAX AT JOE'S

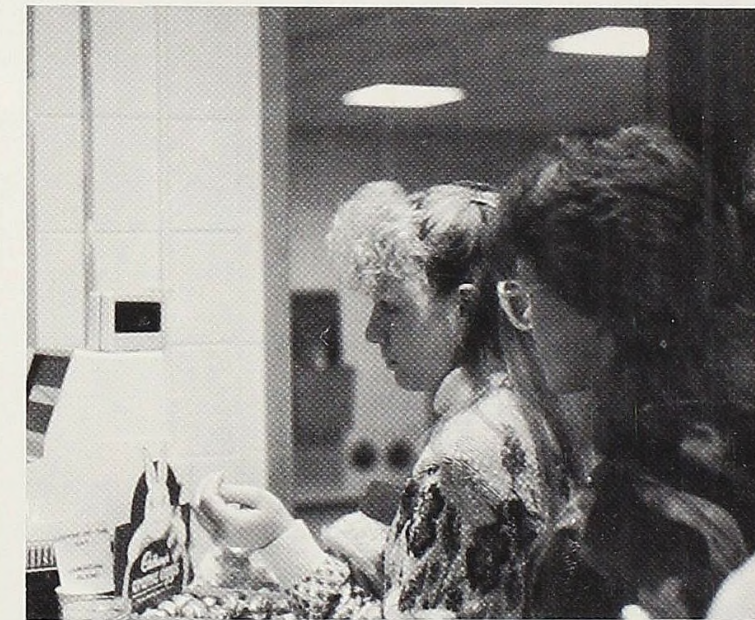

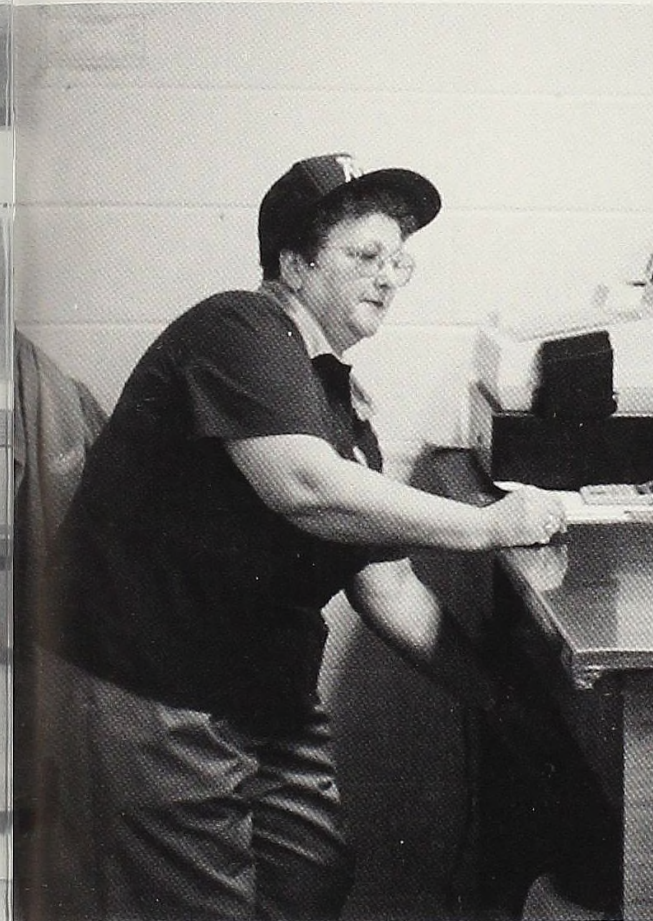

Clockwise from upper right: 1) Chere Nickerson says to herself, "I wonder how long it will take them to call our number this time." 2) Decisions, decisions... 3) Drew catches a bite to eat at Joe's Place. 4) Looks like we caught Steve Douglas taking a study (?) break!

WHAT TO BUY...

The Convenience Store may have changed its name to Scottie's, but it's still just as convenient to run down and purchase anything from Cokes to condoms on our Munch Money. The wide selection of snacks and other food as well as the friendly personnel have helped to make Scottie's grow popular among the students just 3 years after its introduction on campus.

THE LIFE OF A STUDENT

The library may be thought of as a large part of academic life of Alma College as it is a great place to get that needed homework done; however, many students also use it as a place to relax as they pick up their favorite newspaper or magazine and catch up on the latest. The library offers a number of services to the students and faculty of Alma College as well as to the Alma community. Video cassette recorders as well as VCR movies can be checked out overnight for no charge; new computer systems make it easy to look up sources for research and term papers; and the library staff is always willing to help anyone who cannot find what s/he is looking for. For a relatively small campus, one has to admit that the library offers a lot.

Clockwise from upper right: 1) The lounge area is a great place to kick back and do a little light reading. 2) Sally Grimshaw, Laura Reibel, and other students tackle Wordperfect as they try to get their papers done. 3) Jeff Sevener listens intently to his friend's story instead of doing his homework. 4) Kelly Barriger helps some poor soul to sign his life away to his studies.

The world, 1989 . . .

March 24
Dead animals washed up on the shore of Prince William Sound in Alaska after the Exxon Valdez leaked 11 million gallons of oil in one of the world's richest wildlife areas.

June 4
The people in Beijing who for 50 days clamored for a new China were bloodied into submission, a lesson to those who would come between the Communist Party and its wrath. And at Tiananmen Square, tanks and broken bodies shared the ghostly dawn after the massacre. Later, a general claimed, "The soldiers never fired directly on the people."

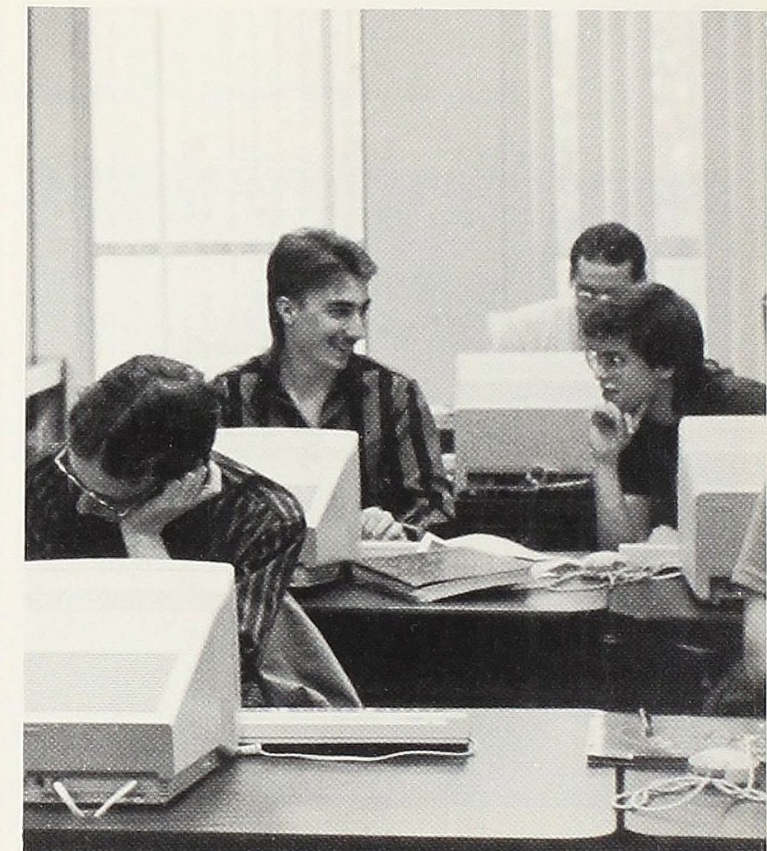

September 21
With 135-m.p.h. winds, Hurricane Hugo thrust itself onto the American mainland after assaulting the U.S. Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico. Total cost of its five-day rampage was at least $8 billion. Charleston, South Carolina was hit especially hard.

October 17
An earthquake in San Francisco struck at 5:04 p.m., measuring 7.1 on the Richter scale and killing 67 people. Damage left by the quake was estimated at $10 billion.

November 10
In Berlin, East Germans marched against their Communist masters until, astonishingly, the Wall came tumbling down.

- "Sorry about the hundreds of last minute pictures you need to develop, R.J."
- "The meeting's over already? We missed it again!"

But despite papers, major stress, numerous distractions, a staff which was mostly inexperienced, and a whole new computer system to figure out, we managed to put together an awesome yearbook for 1990. (At least we think so!)

ALMA

A Poem for Ron Kapp

After my first son was born
I found a red rose
in a glass vase
on my office desk
with a note from you.

One summer you led my class
to the bog west of town.
You showed us a 'Venus' flytrap:
white flowers with leaves
of two hinged blades
that snap shut to trap insects.
We gazed at the mystery
of how plant devours animal.

At the bog you taught us how to dig for history, how to cut a hole in spongy green moss, to push pieces of metal pipe down deep into the brown sway underneath,
how to pull it back
piece by piece
until at the end
we had a plug of thick wet earth.
You invited us to feel it.
It was cold
as our fingers dug through it.
We gazed at the mystery:
discovering bits of stone and bone
thousands of years old.

This year we have gazed
at the mystery
as a part of you
devoured the rest of you,
a rose in a glass vase
blossoming black.
We will never be the same.
When we dig down into the history of ourselves
we will always find you.
